ADMONITION.

THE Scriptures, in which are contained the revealed Myſteries of Divine Faith, are undoubtedly the moſt excellent of all writings; they were written by men divinely inſpired, and are not the Words of men, but the Word of God, which can ſave our ſouls, 1 Theſſ. ii. 13. and James i. 21.; but then they ought to be read, even by the learned, with the ſpirit of humility, and with a fear of miſtaking the true ſenſe, as many have done. This we learn from the Scripture itſelf; where St. Peter ſays, that in the Epiſtles of St. Paul there are ſome things hard to be underſtood, which the unlearned, and unſtable wreſt, as they do alſo the other Scriptures, to their own perdition. 2 Peter iii. 16.

To prevent and remedy this abuſe, and to guard againſt error, it was judged neceſſary to forbid the reading of the Scriptures in the vulgar languages, without the advice and permiſſion of the Paſtors and ſpiritual Guides* whom God has appointed to govern his Church, Acts xx. 28. Chriſt himſelf declaring: He that will not hear the church, let him be to thee as the heathen and the publican, Matt. xviii. 16.

Nor is this due Submiſſion to the Catholic Church (The pillar and ground of truth, 1 Tim iii. 15.) to be underſtood of the ignorant and unlearned only, but alſo of men accompliſhed in all kind of learning. The ignorant fall into errors for want of knowledge, and the learned through pride, and ſelf-ſufficiency.

Therefore let every reader of the Sacred Writings, who pretends to be a competent judge of the ſenſe, and of the truths revealed in them, reflect on the words, which he finds, in Iſaias chap. lv. 8, 9. My thoughts are not as your thoughts, neither are your ways, my ways, ſaith the Lord; for as the heavens are exalted above the earth, even ſo are my ways exalted above your ways, and my thoughts above your thoughts. How then ſhall any one, by his private reaſon, pretend to judge, to know, to demonſtrate, the incomprehenſible and unſearchable ways of God!

* The following Letter of His Holineſs PIUS THE SIXTH, to the Moſt Rev. ANTHONY MARTINI, now Archbiſhop of Florence, on his Tranſlation of the Holy Bible into Italian, ſhews the benefit which the faithful may reap from their having the Holy Scriptures in the Vulgar Tongue.

POPE PIUS THE SIXTH.

BELOVED SON, Health and Apoſtolical Benediction.

AT a time that a vaſt number of bad books, which moſt groſsly attack the Catholic Religion, are circulated, even among the unlearned, to the great deſtruction of ſouls, You judge exceedingly well, that the faithful ſhould be excited to the reading of the Holy Scriptures: For theſe are the moſt abundant ſources which ought to be left open to every one, to draw from them purity of morals and of doctrine, to eradicate the errors which are ſo widely diſſeminated in thoſe corrupt times: This you have ſeaſonably effected, as you declare, by publiſhing the Sacred Writings in the language of your country, ſuitable to every one's capacity; eſpecially when you ſhew and ſet forth, that you have added explanatory notes, which being extracted from the Holy Fathers, preclude every poſſible danger of abuſe: Thus you have not ſwerved either from the laws of the Congregation of the Index, or from the Conſtitution publiſhed on this ſubject by BENEDICT XIV. that immortal Pope, our predeceſſor in the Pontificate, and formerly when We held a place near his perſon, our excellent Maſter in Eccleſiaſtical learning; circumſtances which We mention as honourable to Us. We therefore applaud your eminent learning, joined with your extraordinary piety, and We return you our due acknowledgments for the books which you have tranſmitted to Us, and which, when convenient, We will read over. In the mean time as a token of our Pontifical benevolence, receive our Apoſtolical Benediction, which to you, beloved Son, We very affectionately impart. Given at Rome, on the Calends of April, 1778, the fourth year of our Pontificate.

PHILIP BUONAMICI,
LATIN SECRETARY.

To our Beloved Son,
Anthony Martini, at Turin.

[A TRANSLATION FROM THE LATIN ORIGINAL.]

A Prayer before the reading of any part of the Holy Scripture.

COME, O Holy Spirit, fill the hearts and minds of thy faithful ſervants, and inflame them with the fire of thy divine love.

LET US PRAY:

O GOD, who by the inſpiration of the Holy Ghoſt, didſt inſtruct the hearts of thy faithful ſervants; grant us in the ſame Spirit, to diſcern what is right, and enjoy his comfort for ever: Through our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, who liveth and reigneth one God, with thee and the ſame Spirit, world without end. Amen.

A TRANSLATION

OF THE

DECREE OF THE COUNCIL OF TRENT,

CONCERNING THE CANONICAL SCRIPTURES.

(SESS. IV.)

THE holy Oecumenick and general Council of Trent, in the Holy Ghoſt lawfully aſſembled, the three aforeſaid Legates of the Apoſtolic See preſiding therein, having always this in view, that all errors being taken away, the purity of the Goſpel ſhould be preſerved in the Church; that Goſpel, ‖ before promiſed by the Prophets in the Holy Scriptures, our Lord JESUS CHRIST, the Son of God, firſt promulgated with his own mouth; and afterwards commanded his Apoſtles to preach the ſame to all † nations, as the ſource of every ſaving Truth, and moral diſcipline: and the Synod clearly ſeeing that this Truth and diſcipline is contained in the Written Word, and in the unwritten Traditions, which the Apoſtles received from the mouth of Chriſt himſelf, or from the ‡ Apoſtles themſelves, being the dictate of the Holy Ghoſt to them, and delivered as it were from hand to hand, came down to us: following the examples of the Orthodox Fathers, with due veneration and piety receiving all the books as well of the Old as of the New Teſtament, ſeeing that God is the immediate Author of both, and alſo receiving theſe Traditions, appertaining to Faith and Morals, as coming from the mouth of Chriſt, or dictated by the Holy Ghoſt, and held in the Catholic Church by a continued ſucceſſion. The Synod therefore thought proper to annex to this decree a catalogue of the Sacred Books, leſt any doubt might ariſe concerning thoſe that were approved of. They are the following: Of the Old Teſtament, the five books of Moſes, that is, Geneſis, Exodus, Leviticus, Numbers, Deuteronomy; Joſue, Judges, Ruth, the four books of Kings, two of Paralipomenon, firſt and ſecond of Eſdras, which is called Nehemias, Tobias, Judith, Eſther, Job, the Pſalter of David, in number one hundred and fifty Pſalms, Proverbs, Eccleſiaſtes, the Canticle of Canticles, Wiſdom, Eccleſiaſticus, Iſaias, Jeremias, with Baruch, Ezechiel, Daniel, the twelve minor Prophets, that is, Oſee, Joel, Amos, Abdias, Jonas, Micheas, Nahum, Habacuc, Sophonias, Aggeus, Zacharias, Malachias, two books of the Machabees, firſt and ſecond. Of the New Teſtament, four Goſpels, according to Matthew, Mark, Luke and John, The Acts of the Apoſtles written by Luke the Evangeliſt: the fourteen Epiſtles of Paul the Apoſtle: to the Romans, two to the Corinthians, to the Galatians, to the Epheſians, to the Philippians, to the Coloſſians, two to the Theſſalonians, two to Timothy, to Titus, to Philemon, to the Hebrews: two Epiſtles of Peter the Apoſtle, three of John the Apoſtle, one of James the Apoſtle, one of Jude the Apoſtle, and the Apocalypſe of John the Apoſtle. Now if any one, reading over theſe books in all their parts, as they are uſually read in the Catholic Church, and being in the Latin Vulgat Edition, does not hold them for Sacred and Canonical, and knowing the aforeſaid traditions, does induſtriouſly contemn them, let him be Anathema.

VER. 16. Two great lights. God created on the firſt day light, which being moved from eaſt to weſt, by its riſing and ſetting made morning and evening. But on the fourth day he ordered and diſtributed this light, and made the ſun, moon and ſtars. The moon, though much leſs than the ſtars, is here called a great light, from its giving a far greater light to the earth than any of them.

VER. 26. Let us make man to our image. This image of God in man, is not in the body, but in the ſoul; which is a ſpiritual ſubſtance, endued with underſtanding and free-will. God ſpeaketh here in the plural number, to inſinuate the plurality of perſons in the Deity.

VER. 28. Increaſe and multiply. This is not a precept, as ſome proteſtant controvertiſts would have it, but a bleſſing, rendering them fruitful: for God had ſaid the ſame words to the fiſhes, and birds, (ver. 22.) who were incapable of receiving a precept.

CHAP. II. VER. 2. He reſted, &c. That is, he ceaſed to make or create any new kinds of things. Though, as our Lord tells us, John v. 17. He ſtill worketh, viz. by conſerving and governing all things, and creating ſouls.

10 And a river went out of the place of pleaſure to water paradiſe, which from thence is divided into four heads.

‖ Eccli. 24. 35. 11 ‖ The name of the one is Phiſon: that is it which compaſſeth all the land of Hevilath, where gold groweth.

12 And the gold of that land is very good: there is found bdellium, and the onyx ſtone.

13 And the name of the ſecond river is Gehon: the ſame is it that compaſſeth all the land of Ethiopia.

14 And the name of the third river is Tigris: the ſame paſſeth along by the Aſſyrians. And the fourth river is Euphrates.

15 And the Lord God took man, and put him into the paradiſe of pleaſure, to dreſs it and to keep it.

16 And he commanded him, ſaying: Of every tree of paradiſe thou ſhalt eat:

17 But of the tree of knowledge of good and evil thou ſhalt not eat. For in what day ſoever thou ſhalt eat of it, thou ſhalt die the death.

18 And the Lord God ſaid: It is not good for man to be alone: let us make him a help like unto himſelf.

19 And the Lord God having formed out of the ground all the beaſts of the earth, and all the fowls of the air, brought them to ‖ Pſ. 147. 4. Adam to ſee what he would call them: ‖ for whatſoever Adam called any living creature, the ſame is its name.

20 And Adam called all the beaſts by their names, and all the fowls of the air, and all the cattle of the field: but for Adam there was not found a helper like himſelf.

21 Then the Lord God caſt a deep ſleep upon Adam: and when he was faſt aſleep, he took one of his ribs, and filled up fleſh for it.

22 And the Lord God built the rib which he took from Adam into a woman: and brought her to Adam.

The ſerpent's craft. The fall of our firſt parents. Their puniſhment. The promiſe of a redeemer.

NOW the ſerpent was more ſubtle than any of the beaſts of the earth which the Lord God had made. And he ſaid to the woman: Why hath God commanded you, that you ſhould not eat of every tree of paradiſe?

2 And the woman anſwered him, ſaying: Of the fruit of the trees that are in paradiſe, we do eat:

3 But of the fruit of the tree which is in the midſt of paradiſe, God hath commanded us that we ſhould not eat: and that we ſhould not touch it, leſt perhaps we die.

4 And the ſerpent ſaid to the woman: ‖ No, you ſhall not die the death. ‖ 2 Cor. 11. 3.

5 For God doth know that in what day ſoever you ſhall eat thereof, your eyes ſhall be opened: and you ſhall be as gods, knowing good and evil.

6 And the woman ſaw that the tree was good to eat, and fair to the eyes, and delightful to behold: ‖ and ſhe took of the fruit thereof, and did eat, and gave to her huſband, who did eat. ‖ Eccli. 25. 33. 1 Tim. 2. 14.

7 And the eyes of them both were opened: and when they perceived themſelves to be naked, they ſewed together fig-leaves and made themſelves aprons.

8 And when they heard the voice of the Lord God walking in paradiſe at the afternoon air, Adam and his wife hid themſelves from the face of the Lord God, amidſt the trees of paradiſe.

9 And the Lord God called Adam, and ſaid to him: Where art thou?

10 And he ſaid: I heard thy voice in paradiſe; and I was afraid, becauſe I was naked, and I hid myſelf.

11 And he ſaid to him: And who hath told thee that thou waſt naked, but that thou haſt eaten of the tree whereof I commanded thee that thou ſhouldſt not eat?

12 And Adam ſaid: The woman, whom thou gaveſt me to be my companion, gave me of the tree, and I did eat.

Ibid. The tree of knowledge. To which the deceitful ſerpent falſely attributed the power of imparting a ſuperior kind of knowledge beyond that which God was pleaſed to give.

CHAP. III. VER. 7. And the eyes, &c. Not that they were blind before (for the woman ſaw that the tree was fair to the eyes, ver. 6.) nor yet that their eyes were opened to any more perfect knowledge of good; but only to the unhappy experience of having loſt the good of original grace and innocence, and incurred the dreadful evil of ſin. From whence followed a ſhame of their being naked; which they minded not before; becauſe being now ſtript of original grace, they quickly began to be ſubject to the ſhameful rebellions of the fleſh.

13 And the Lord God ſaid to the woman: Why haſt thou done this? And ſhe anſwered: The ſerpent deceived me, and I did eat.

14 And the Lord God ſaid to the ſerpent: Becauſe thou haſt done this thing, thou art curſed among all cattle, and beaſts of the earth: upon thy breaſt ſhalt thou go, ‖ and earth ſhalt thou eat all the days of thy life.

CHAP. VI. VER. 2. The sons of God. The descendants of Seth and Enos are here called sons of God from their religion and piety: whereas the ungodly race of Cain, who by their carnal affections lay grovelling upon the earth, are called the children of men. The unhappy consequence of the former marrying with the latter, ought to be a warning to Christians to be very circumspect in their marriages; and not to suffer themselves to be determined in choice by their carnal passion, to the prejudice of virtue or religion.

VER. 3. His days shall be, &c. The meaning is, that man's days, which before the flood were usually 900 years, should now be reduced to 120 years. Or rather, that God would allow men this term of 120 years, for their repentance and conversion, before he would send the deluge.

VER. 4. Giants. It is likely the generality of men before the flood were of a gigantic stature in comparison with what men now are. But these here spoken of are called giants, as being not only tall in stature, but violent and savage in their dispositions, and mere monsters of cruelty and lust.

VER. 6. It repented him, &c. God, who is unchangeable, is not capable of repentance, grief, or any other passion. But these expressions are used to declare the enormity of the sins of men, which was so provoking as to determine their Creator to destroy these his creatures, whom before he had so much favoured.

VER. 15. Three hundred cubits, &c. The ark, according to the dimensions here set down, contained four hundred and fifty thousand square cubits; which was more than enough to contain all the kinds of living creatures, with all necessary provisions: even supposing the cubits here spoken of to have been only a foot and a half each, which was the least kind of cubits.

4 For yet a while, and after seven days, I will rain upon the earth forty days and forty nights: and I will destroy every substance that I have made, from the face of the earth.

5 And Noe did all things which the Lord had commanded him.

10 And after the seven days were passed, the waters of the flood overflowed the earth.

12 And the rain fell upon the earth forty days and forty nights.

13 In the self-same day Noe, and Sem, and Cham, and Japheth his sons: his wife, and the three wives of his sons with them, went into the ark:

14 They and every beast according to its kind, and all the cattle in their kind, and every thing that moveth upon the earth according to its kind, and every fowl according to its kind, all birds, and all that fly,

15 Went in to Noe into the ark, two and two of all flesh, wherein was the breath of life.

16 And they that went in, went in male and female of all flesh, as God had commanded him: and the Lord shut him in on the outside.

17 And the flood was forty days upon the earth: and the waters increased, and lifted up the ark on high from the earth.

18 For they overflowed exceedingly: and filled all on the face of the earth: and the ark was carried upon the waters.

19 And the waters prevailed beyond measure upon the earth: and all the high mountains under the whole heaven were covered.

20 The water was fifteen cubits higher than the mountains which it covered.

21 ‖ And all flesh was destroyed that moved upon the earth, both of fowl, and of cattle, and of beasts, and of all creeping things that creep upon the earth: and all men. ‖ Wis. 10. 4. Eccli. 39. 28. 1 Pet. 3. 20.

22 And all things wherein there is the breath of life on the earth, died.

23 And he destroyed all the substance that was upon the earth, from man even to beast, and the creeping things and fowls of the air: and they were destroyed from the earth: and Noe only remained, and they that were with him in the ark.

24 And the waters prevailed upon the earth a hundred and fifty days.

CHAP. VII. VER. 2. Of all clean. The distinction of clean and unclean beasts appears to have been made before the law of Moses, which was not promulgated till the year of the world 2514.

CHAP. VIII.

The deluge ceaseth. Noe goeth out of the ark, and offereth a sacrifice. God's covenant to him.

AND God remembered Noe, and all the living creatures, and all the cattle which were with him in the ark, and brought a wind upon the earth, and the waters were abated.

2 The fountains also of the deep, and the flood gates of heaven, were shut up, and the rain from heaven was restrained.

3 And the waters returned from off the earth going and coming: and they began to be abated after a hundred and fifty days.

4 And the ark rested in the seventh month, the seven and twentieth day of the month, upon the mountains of Armenia.

5 And the waters were going and decreasing until the tenth month: for in the tenth month, the first day of the month, the tops of the mountains appeared.

6 And after that forty days were passed, Noe opening the window of the ark, which he had made, sent forth a raven:

7 Which went forth and did not return, till the waters were dried up upon the earth.

8 He sent forth also a dove after him, to see if the waters had now ceased upon the face of the earth.

9 But she not finding where her foot might rest, returned to him into the ark: for the waters were upon the whole earth: and he put forth his hand, and caught her and brought her into the ark.

10 And having waited yet seven other days, he again sent forth the dove out of the ark.

11 And she came to him in the evening carrying a bough of an olive tree, with green leaves, in her mouth. Noe therefore understood that the waters were ceased upon the earth.

12 And he stayed yet other seven days: and he sent forth the dove, which returned not any more unto him.

13 Therefore in the six hundredth and first year, the first month, the first day of the month, the waters were lessened upon the earth, and Noe opening the covering of the ark, looked, and saw that the face of the earth was dried.

14 In the second month, the seven and twentieth day of the month, the earth was dried.

15 And God spoke to Noe, saying:

16 Go out of the ark, thou and thy wife, thy sons and the wives of thy sons with thee.

17 All living things that are with thee of all flesh, as well in fowls as in beasts, and all creeping things that creep upon the earth, bring out with thee, and go ye upon the earth: ‖ increase and multiply upon it. ‖ Supra 1. 28.

18 So Noe went out, he and his sons: his wife, and the wives of his sons with him. Infra 9. 1.

19 And all living things, and cattle, and creeping things that creep upon the earth, according to their kinds, went out of the ark.

20 And Noe built an altar unto the Lord: and taking of all cattle and fowls that were clean, offered holocausts upon the altar.

21 And the Lord smelled a sweet savour, and said: I will no more curse the earth for the sake of man: ‖ for the imagination and thought of man's heart are prone to evil from his youth: therefore I will no more destroy every living soul as I have done. ‖ Supra 6. 5. Mat. 15. 19.

‖ Eccli. 43. 12. 14 ‖ And when I ſhall cover the ſky with clouds, my bow ſhall appear in the clouds:
15 And I will remember my covenant with you, and with every living ſoul that beareth fleſh: and there ſhall no more be waters of a flood to deſtroy all fleſh.
16 And the bow ſhall be in the clouds, and I ſhall ſee it, and ſhall remember the everlaſting covenant, that was made between God and every living ſoul of all fleſh which is upon the earth.
17 And God ſaid to Noe: This ſhall be the ſign of the covenant, which I have eſtabliſhed, between me and all fleſh upon the earth.
18 And the ſons of Noe, who came out of the ark, were Sem, Cham, and Japheth: and Cham is the father of Chanaan.
19 Theſe three are the ſons of Noe: and from theſe was all mankind ſpread over the whole earth.
20 And Noe a huſbandman began to till the ground, and planted a vineyard.
21 And drinking of the wine was made drunk, and was uncovered in his tent.
22 Which when Cham the father of Chanaan had ſeen, to wit, that his father's nakedneſs was uncovered, he told it to his two brethren without.
23 But Sem and Japheth put a cloak upon their ſhoulders, and going backward, covered the nakedneſs of their father: and their faces were turned away, and they ſaw not their father's nakedneſs.
24 And Noe awaking from the wine, when he had learned what his younger ſon had done to him,
25 He ſaid: Curſed be Chanaan, a ſervant of ſervants ſhall he be unto his brethren.
26 And he ſaid: Bleſſed be the Lord God of Sem, be Chanaan his ſervant.
27 May God enlarge Japheth, and may he dwell in the tents of Sem, and Chanaan be his ſervant.
28 And Noe lived after the flood three hundred and fifty years.
29 And all his days were in the whole nine hundred and fifty years: and he died.

CHAP. X.

The genealogy of the children of Noe, by whom the world was peopled after the flood.

THESE are the generations of the ſons of Noe; Sem, Cham, and Japheth: and unto them ſons were born after the flood. 1 Par. 3. 5.
2 The ſons of Japheth: Gomer, and Magog, and Madai, and Javan, and Thubal, and Moſoch, and Thiras.
3 And the ſons of Gomer: Aſcenez and Riphath and Thogorma.
4 And the ſons of Javan: Eliſa and Tharſis, Cetthim and Dodanim.
5 By theſe were divided the iſlands of the Gentiles in their lands, every one according to his tongue and their families in their nations.
6 And the ſons of Cham: Chus, and Meſraim, and Phuth, and Chanaan.
7 And the ſons of Chus: Saba, and Hevila, and Sabatha, and Regma, and Sabatacha. The ſons of Regma: Saba, and Dadan.
8 Now Chus begot Nemrod: he began to be mighty on the earth.
9 And he was a ſtout hunter before the CHAP. IX. VER. 21. Drunk. Noe by the judgment of the fathers was not guilty of ſin, in being overcome by wine; becauſe he knew not the ſtrength of it.

VER. 25. Curſed be Chanaan. The curſes, as well as the bleſſings, of the patriarchs were prophetical: And this in particular is here recorded by Moſes, for the children of Iſrael, who were to poſſeſs the land of Chanaan. But why ſhould Chanaan be curſed for his father's fault? The Hebrews anſwer that he being then a boy was the firſt that ſaw his grandfather's nakedneſs, and told his father Cham of it; and joined with him in laughing at it: which drew upon him, rather than upon the reſt of the children of Cham, this prophetical curſe.

CHAP. X. VER. 5. The iſlands. So the Hebrews called all the remote countries, to which they went by ſhips from Judea, as Greece, Italy, Spain, &c.

VER. 9. A ſtout hunter. Not of beaſts but of men; whom by violence and tyranny he brought under his dominion. And ſuch as he was, not only in the opinion of men, but before the Lord, that is, in his ſight who cannot be deceived.

Lord. Hence came a proverb: Even as Nemrod the ſtout hunter before the Lord.

10 And the beginning of his kingdom was Babylon, and Arach, and Achad, and Chalanne in the land of Sennaar.

11 Out of that land came forth Aſſur, and built Ninive, and the ſtreets of the city, and Chale.

12 Reſen alſo between Ninive and Chale: this is the great city.

13 And Meſraim begot Ludim, and Ananim and Laabim, Nephtuim,

14 And Phetruſim, and Chaſluim; of whom came forth the Philiſtines, and the Caphtorim.

15 And Chanaan begot Sidon his firſtborn, the Hethite,

16 And the Jebuſite, and the Amorrhite, and the Gergeſite,

17 The Hevite and Aracite: the Sinite,

18 And the Aradian, the Samarite, and the Hamathite: and afterwards the families of the Chananites were ſpread abroad.

19 And the limits of Chanaan were from Sidon as one comes to Gerara even to Gaza, until thou enter Sodom and Gomorrha, and Adama, and Seboim even to Leſa.

20 Theſe are the children of Cham in their kindreds and tongues, and generations and lands, and nations.

21 Of Sem alſo the father of all the children of Heber, the elder brother of Japheth, ſons were born.

‖ 1 Par. 1. 17. 22 The ſons of Sem: ‖ Elam and Aſſur, and Arphaxad, and Lud, and Aram.

23 The ſons of Aram: Us, and Hull, and Gether; and Mes.

24 But Arphaxad begot Sale, of whom was born Heber.

25 And to Heber were born two ſons: the name of the one was Phaleg, becauſe in his days was the earth divided: and his brother's name Jectan.

26 Which Jectan begot Elmodad, and Saleph, and Aſarmoth, Jare,

27 And Aduram, and Uzal, and Decla,

28 And Ebal, and Abimael, Saba,

29 And Ophir, and Hevila, and Jobab. All theſe were the ſons of Jectan.

30 And their dwelling was from Meſſa as we go on as far as Sephar, a mountain in the eaſt.

31 Theſe are the children of Sem according to their kindreds and tongues, and countries in their nations.

32 Theſe are the families of Noe, according to their people and nations. By theſe were the nations divided on the earth after the flood.

CHAP. XI.

The tower of Babel. The confuſion of tongues. The genealogy of Sem down to Abram.

AND the earth was of one tongue, and of the ſame ſpeech. Wiſ. 10. 5.

2 And when they removed from the eaſt, they found a plain in the land of Sennaar, and dwelt in it.

3 And each one ſaid to his neighbour: Come, let us make brick, and bake them with fire. And they had brick inſtead of ſtones, and ſlime inſtead of mortar:

4 And they ſaid: Come, let us make a city and a tower, the top whereof may reach to heaven: and let us make our names famous before we be ſcattered abroad into all lands.

5 And the Lord came down to ſee the city and the tower, which the children of Adam were building.

6 And he ſaid: Behold, it is one people, and all have one tongue: and they have begun to do this, neither will they leave off in their deſigns, till they accompliſh them in deed.

7 Come ye therefore, let us go down, and there confound their tongue, that they may not underſtand one another's ſpeech.

8 And ſo the Lord ſcattered them from that place into all lands, and they ceaſed to build the city.* * A. M. circiter 1800.

9 And therefore the name thereof was called Babel, becauſe there the language of the whole earth was confounded: and from thence the Lord ſcattered them abroad upon the face of all countries. & Ante C. 2204.

‖ 1 Par. 1. 17. 10 Theſe are the generations of Sem: ‖ Sem was a hundred years old when he begot Arphaxad, two years after the flood.

11 And Sem lived after he begot Arphaxad, five hundred years, and begot ſons and daughters.

12 And Arphaxad lived thirty five years, and begot Sale.

13 And Arphaxad lived after he begot Sale, three hundred and three years, and begot ſons and daughters.

14 Sale alſo lived thirty years, and begot Heber.

15 And Sale lived after he begot Heber, four hundred and three years: and begot ſons and daughters.

16 And Heber lived thirty four years, and begot Phaleg.

17 And Heber lived after he begot Phaleg, four hundred and thirty years: and begot ſons and daughters.

CHAP. XI. VER. 9. Babel. That is, confuſion.

18 Phaleg alſo lived thirty years, and begot Reu.

‖ 1 Par. 1. 19. 19 ‖ And Phaleg lived after he begot Reu, two hundred and nine years, and begot ſons and daughters.

20 And Reu lived thirty two years, and begot Sarug.

21 And Reu lived after he begot Sarug, two hundred and ſeven years: and begot ſons and daughters.

22 And Sarug lived thirty years, and begot Nachor.

23 And Sarug lived after he begot Nachor, two hundred years: and begot ſons and daughters.

24 And Nachor lived nine and twenty years, and begot Thare.

‖ 1 Par. 1. 26. 25 ‖ And Nachor lived after he begot Thare, a hundred and nineteen years: and begot ſons and daughters.

‡ Joſ. 24. 2. Neh. 9. 7. 26 ‡ And Thare lived ſeventy years, and begot Abram, and Nachor, and Aran.

27 And theſe are the generations of Thare: Thare begot Abram, Nachor, and Aran. And Aran begot Lot.

28 And Aran died before Thare his father, in the land of his nativity in Ur of the Chaldees.

29 And Abram and Nachor married wives: the name of Abram's wife was Sarai: and the name of Nachor's wife, Melcha the daughter of Aran father of Melcha, and father of Jeſcha.

30 And Sarai was barren, and had no children.

‖ Judith 5. 6. Acts 7. 2. 31 ‖ And Thare took Abram his ſon, and Lot the ſon of Aran, his ſon's ſon, and Sarai his daughter in law, the wife of Abram his ſon, and brought them out of Ur of the Chaldees, to go into the land of Chanaan: and they came as far as Haran, and dwelt there.

32 And the days of Thare were two hundred and five years, and he died in Haran.

CHAP. XII.

The call of Abram and the promiſe made to him. He ſojourneth in Chanaan, and then by occaſion of a famine goeth down to Egypt.

‖ Acts 7. 3. AND the Lord ſaid to Abram: ‖ Go forth out of thy country, and from thy kindred, and out of thy father's houſe, and come into the land which I ſhall ſhew thee.

2 And I will make of thee a great nation, and I will bleſs thee, and magnify thy name, and thou ſhalt be bleſſed.

3 I will bleſs them that bleſs thee, and curſe them that curſe thee, ‖ and IN THEE ſhall all the kindreds of the earth be bleſſed: ‖ Infra 18. 18. & 22. 18. & 26. 4. Gal. 3. 8. Heb. 11. 8.

4 So Abram went out as the Lord had commanded him, and Lot went with him: Abram was ſeventy five years old when he went forth from Haran.* * A. M. 2083. Ante C. 1921.

5 And he took Sarai his wife, and Lot his brother's ſon, and all the ſubſtance which they had gathered, and the ſouls which they had gotten in Haran: and they went out to go into the land of Chanaan. And when they were come into it,

6 Abram paſſed through the country unto the place of Sichem, as far as the noble vale: now the Chananite was at that time in the land.

7 And the Lord appeared to Abram, and ſaid to him: ‖ To thy ſeed will I give this land. And he built there an altar to the Lord, who had appeared to him. ‖ Gal. 3. 17. Infra 13. 14. & 15. 18. & 26. 2. Deut. 34. 4.

8 And paſſing on from thence to a mountain, that was on the eaſt ſide of Bethel, he there pitched his tent, having Bethel on the weſt, and Hai on the eaſt: he built there alſo an altar to the Lord, and called upon his name.

9 And Abraham went forward going, and proceeding on to the ſouth.

10 And there came a famine in the country:* and Abram went down into Egypt, to ſojourn there: for the famine was very grievous in the land. * A. M. 2084. Ante C. 1920.

11 And when he was near to enter into Egypt, he ſaid to Sarai his wife: I know that thou art a beautiful woman:

12 And that when the Egyptians ſhall ſee thee, they will ſay: She is his wife: and they will kill me, and keep thee.

13 ‖ Say therefore, I pray thee, that thou art my ſiſter: that I may be well uſed for thee, and that my ſoul may live for thy ſake. ‖ Infra 20. 11.

14 And when Abram was come into Egypt, the Egyptians ſaw the woman that ſhe was very beautiful.

15 And the princes told Pharao, and praiſed her before him: and the woman was taken into the houſe of Pharao.

16 And they uſed Abram well for her ſake. And he had ſheep and oxen and he-aſſes, and men-ſervants, and maid-ſervants, and ſhe-aſſes, and camels.

17 But the Lord ſcourged Pharao and his houſe with moſt grievous ſtripes for Sarai Abram's wife.

CHAP. XII. VER. 13. My ſiſter. This was no lye; becauſe ſhe was his niece, being daughter to his brother Aran, and therefore, in the ſtile of the Hebrews, ſhe might truly be called his ſiſter; as Lot is called Abraham's brother, Gen. xiv. 14. See Gen. xx. 12.

18 And Pharao called Abram, and ſaid to him: What is this that thou haſt done to me? Why didſt thou not tell me that ſhe was thy wife?

19 For what cauſe didſt thou ſay, ſhe was thy ſiſter, that I might take her to my wife? Now therefore there is thy wife, take her, and go thy way.

20 And Pharao gave his men orders concerning Abram: and they led him away and his wife, and all that he had.

CHAP. XIII.

Abram and Lot part from each other. God's promiſe to Abram.

AND Abram went up out of Egypt, he and his wife, and all that he had, and Lot with him into the ſouth.

2 And he was very rich in poſſeſſion of gold and ſilver.

3 And he returned by the way, that he came, from the ſouth to Bethel, to the place where before he had pitched his tent between Bethel and Hai:

‖ Supra 12. 7. 4 ‖ In the place of the altar which he had made before, and there he called upon the name of the Lord.

5 But Lot alſo who was with Abram, had flocks of ſheep, and herds of beaſts, and tents.

‖ Infra 36. 7. 6 Neither was the land able to bear them, that they might dwell together: ‖ for their ſubſtance was great, and they could not dwell together.

7 Whereupon alſo there aroſe a ſtrife between the herdſmen of Abram and of Lot. And at that time the Chananite and the Pherezite dwelled in that country.

8 Abram therefore ſaid to Lot: Let there be no quarrel, I beſeech thee, between me and thee, and between my herdſmen and thy herdſmen: for we are brethren.

9 Behold the whole land is before thee: depart from me, I pray thee: if thou wilt go to the left hand, I will take the right: if thou chooſe the right hand, I will paſs to the left.

10 And Lot lifting up his eyes, ſaw all the country about the Jordan, which was watered throughout before the Lord deſtroyed Sodom and Gomorrha as the paradiſe of the Lord, and like Egypt as one comes to Segor.

11 And Lot choſe to himſelf the country about the Jordan, and he departed from the eaſt: and they were ſeparated one brother from the other.

12 Abram dwelt in the land of Chanaan: and Lot abode in the towns, that were about the Jordan, and dwelt in Sodom.

13 And the men of Sodom were very wicked, and ſinners before the face of the Lord beyond meaſure.

14 And the Lord ſaid to Abram, after Lot was ſeparated from him: ‖ Lift up thy eyes, and look from the place, wherein thou now art, to the north and to the ſouth, to the eaſt and to the weſt. ‖ Supra 12. 7. Infra 15. 18. & 26. 4. Deut. 34. 4.

15 All the land, which thou ſeeſt, I will give to thee, and to thy ſeed for ever.

16 And I will make thy ſeed as the duſt of the earth: if any man be able to number the duſt of the earth, he ſhall be able to number thy ſeed alſo.

17 Ariſe and walk through the land in the length, and in the breadth thereof: for I will give it to thee.

18 So Abram removing his tent, came, and dwelt by the vale of Mambre, which is in Hebron: and he built there an altar to the Lord.

The expedition of the four kings: the victory of Abram; he is bleſſed by Melchiſedech.

AND it came to paſs at that time, that Amraphel king of Sennaar, and Arioch king of Pontus, and Chodorlahomor king of the Elamites, and Thadal king of nations,

2 Made war againſt Bara king of Sodom, and againſt Berſa king of Gomorrha, and againſt Sennaab king of Adama, and againſt Semeber king of Seboim, and againſt the king of Bala, which is Segor.

3 All theſe came together into the woodland vale, which now is the ſalt ſea. ‖ ‖ Infra 19. 24.

4 For they had ſerved Chodorlahomor twelve years, and in the thirteenth year they revolted from him.

5 And in the fourteenth year * came Chodorlahomor, and the kings that were with him: and they ſmote the Raphaim in Aſtarothcarnaim, and the Zuzim with them, and the Emim in Save of Cariathaim. * A. M. 2092. Ante C. 1912.

6 And the Chorreans in the mountains of Seir, even to the plains of Pharan, which is in the wilderneſs.

7 And they returned, and came to the fountain of Miſphat, the ſame is Cades: and they ſmote all the country of the Amalecites, and the Amorrhean that dwelt in Aſaſonthamar.

8 And the king of Sodom, and the king of Gomorrha, and the king of Adama, and the king of Seboim, and the king of Bala, which is Segor, went out: and they ſet themſelves againſt them in battle array in the woodland vale:

9 To wit, againſt Chodorlahomor king of the Elamites, and Thadal king of nations, and Amraphel king of Sennaar, and Arioch king of Pontus: four kings againſt five.

10 Now the wood-land vale had many pits of ſlime. And the king of Sodom, and the king of Gomorrha turned their backs and were overthrown there: and they that remained fled to the mountain.

11 And they took all the ſubſtance of the Sodomites, and Gomorrhites, and all their victuals, and went their way:

12 And Lot alſo, the ſon of Abram's brother, who dwelt in Sodom, and his ſubſtance.

13 And behold one, that had eſcaped, told Abram the Hebrew, who dwelt in the vale of Mambre the Amorrhite, the brother of Eſcol, and the brother of Aner: for theſe had made a league with Abram.

14 Which when Abram had heard, to wit, that his brother Lot was taken, he numbered of the ſervants born in his houſe, three hundred and eighteen well appointed: and purſued them to Dan.

15 And dividing his company, he ruſhed upon them in the night: and defeated them, and purſued them as far as Hoba, which is on the left hand of Damaſcus.

16 And he brought back all the ſubſtance, and Lot his brother with his ſubſtance, the women alſo and the people.

17 And the king of Sodom went out to meet him, after he returned from the ſlaughter of Chodorlahomor, and of the kings that were with him in the vale of Save, which is the king's vale.

‖ Heb. 7. 1. 18 ‖ But Melchiſedech the king of Salem, bringing forth bread and wine, for he was the Prieſt of the moſt high God,

20 And bleſſed be the moſt high God, by whoſe protection, the enemies are in thy hands. And he gave him the tithes of all.

21 And the king of Sodom ſaid to Abram: Give me the perſons, and the reſt take to thyſelf.

22 And he anſwered him: I lift up my hand to the Lord God the moſt high, the poſſeſſor of heaven and earth,

23 That from the very woof-thread unto the ſhoe latchet, I will not take of any things that are thine, leſt thou ſay: I have enriched Abram:

24 Except ſuch things, as the young men have eaten, and the ſhares of the men, that came with me, Aner, Eſcol, and Mambre: theſe ſhall take their ſhares.

God promiſeth ſeed to Abram. His faith, ſacrifice and viſion.

A. M. 2092. Ante C. 1912. NOW when theſe things were done, the word of the Lord came to Abram by a viſion, ſaying: Fear not Abram, I am thy protector, and thy reward exceeding great.

2 And Abraham ſaid: Lord God, what wilt thou give me? I ſhall go without children: and the ſon of the ſteward of my houſe is this Damaſcus Eliezer.

3 And Abram added: But to me thou haſt not given ſeed: and lo my ſervant born in my houſe, ſhall be my heir.

4 And immediately the word of the Lord came to him, ſaying: He ſhall not be thy heir: but he that ſhall come out of thy bowels, him ſhalt thou have for thy heir.

8 But he ſaid: Lord God, whereby may I know that I ſhall poſſeſs it?

9 And the Lord anſwered, and ſaid: Take me a cow of three years old, and a ſhe-goat of three years, and a ram of three years, a turtle alſo, and a pigeon.

9 And the Angel of the Lord ſaid to her: Return to thy miſtreſs, and humble thyſelf under her hand.

10 And again he ſaid: I will multiply thy ſeed exceedingly, and it ſhall not be numbered for multitude.

11 And again: Behold, ſaid he, thou art with child, and thou ſhalt bring forth a ſon: and thou ſhalt call his name Iſmael, becauſe the Lord hath heard thy affliction.

12 He ſhall be a wild man: his hand will be againſt all men, and all men's hands againſt him: and he ſhall pitch his tents over-againſt all his brethren.

15 God ſaid alſo to Abraham: Sarai thy wife thou ſhalt not call Sarai, but Sara.

16 And I will bleſs her, and of her I will give thee a ſon, whom I will bleſs, and he ſhall become nations, and kings of people ſhall ſpring from him.

17 Abraham fell upon his face, and laughed, ſaying in his heart: ſhall a ſon, thinkeſt thou, be born to him that is a hundred years old? and ſhall Sara that is ninety years old bring forth.

18 And he ſaid to God: O that Iſmael may live before thee.

‖ Infra 18. 10. & 21. 2. 19 And God ſaid to Abraham: ‖ Sara thy wife ſhall bear thee a ſon, and thou ſhalt call his name Iſaac, and I will eſtabliſh my covenant with him for a perpetual covenant, and with his ſeed after him.

20 And as for Iſmael I have alſo heard thee. Behold, I will bleſs him, and increaſe, and multiply him exceedingly: he ſhall beget twelve chiefs, and I will make him a great nation.

21 But my covenant I will eſtabliſh with Iſaac, whom Sara ſhall bring forth to thee at this time in the next year.

22 And when he had left off ſpeaking with him, God went up from Abraham.

23 And Abraham took Iſmael his ſon, and all that were born in his houſe: and all whom he had bought, every male among the men of his houſe: and he circumciſed the fleſh of their foreſkin forthwith the very ſame day, as God had commanded him.

24 Abraham was ninety and nine years old, when he circumciſed the fleſh of his foreſkin.

25 And Iſmael his ſon was full thirteen years old at the time of his circumciſion.

26 The ſelf ſame day was Abraham circumciſed and Iſmael his ſon.

27 And all the men of his houſe, as well they that were born in his houſe, as the bought ſervants and ſtrangers were circumciſed with him.

CHAP. XVIII.

Angels are entertained by Abraham. They foretell the birth of Iſaac. Abraham's prayer for the men of Sodom.

A. M. 2107. Ante C. 1897. Heb. 13. 2. AND the Lord appeared to him in the vale of Mambre as he was ſitting at the door of his tent, in the very heat of the day.

2 And when he had lifted up his eyes, there appeared to him three men ſtanding near him: and as ſoon as he ſaw them he ran to meet them from the door of his tent, and adored down to the ground.

3 And he ſaid: Lord, if I have found favour in thy ſight, paſs not away from thy ſervant:

4 But I will fetch a little water, and waſh ye your feet, and reſt ye under the tree.

5 And I will ſet a morſel of bread, and ſtrengthen ye your heart, afterwards you ſhall paſs on: for therefore are you come aſide to your ſervant. And they ſaid: Do as thou haſt ſpoken.

6 Abraham made haſte into the tent to Sara, and ſaid to her: make haſte, temper together three meaſures of flour, and make cakes upon the hearth.

7 And he himſelf ran to the herd, and took from thence a calf very tender and very good, and gave it to a young man: who made haſte and boiled it.

8 He took alſo butter and milk, and the calf which he had boiled, and ſet before them: but he ſtood by them under the tree.

9 And when they had eaten, they ſaid to him: Where is Sara thy wife? He anſwered: Lo ſhe is in the tent.

‖ Supra 17. 19. Infra 21. 1. Rom. 9. 9. 10 And he ſaid to him: ‖ I will return and come to thee at this time, life accompanying, and Sara thy wife ſhall have a ſon. Which when Sara heard, ſhe laughed behind the door of the tent.

11 Now they were both old, and far advanced in years, and it had ceaſed to be with Sara after the manner of women.

‖ 1 Peter 3. 6. 12 And ſhe laughed ſecretly, ſaying: After I am grown old, ‖ and my Lord is an old man, ſhall I give myſelf to pleaſure?

13 And the Lord ſaid to Abraham: Why did Sara laugh, ſaying: Shall I who am an old woman bear a child indeed?

14 Is there any thing hard to God? according to appointment I will return to thee at this ſame time, life accompanying, and Sara ſhall have a ſon.

15 Sara denied, ſaying: I did not laugh: for ſhe was afraid. But the Lord ſaid: Nay: but thou didſt laugh.

16 And when the men roſe up from thence, they turned their eyes toward Sodom: and Abraham walked with them, bringing them on the way.

17 And the Lord ſaid: Can I hide from Abraham what I am about to do:

Supra 12. 3. Infra 22. 18.

18 Seeing he ſhall become a great and mighty nation, and in him all the nations of the earth ſhall be bleſſed?

19 For I know that he will command his children, and his houſhold after him to keep the way of the Lord, and do judgment and juſtice: that for Abraham's ſake the Lord may bring to effect all the things he hath ſpoken unto him.

20 And the Lord ſaid: The cry of Sodom and Gomorrha is multiplied, and their ſin is become exceedingly grievous.

21 I will go down and ſee whether they have done according to the cry that is come to me: or whether it be not ſo, that I may know.

22 And they turned themſelves from thence, and went their way to Sodom: but Abraham as yet ſtood before the Lord.

23 And drawing nigh he ſaid: Wilt thou deſtroy the juſt with the wicked?

24 If there be fifty juſt men in the city, ſhall they periſh withal? and wilt thou not ſpare that place for the ſake of the fifty juſt, if they be therein?

25 Far be it from thee, to do this thing, and to ſlay the juſt with the wicked, and for the juſt to be in like caſe as the wicked, this is not beſeeming thee: thou who judgeſt all the earth, wilt not make this judgment.

26 And the Lord ſaid to him: If I find in Sodom fifty juſt within the city, I will ſpare the whole place for their ſake.

27 And Abraham anſwered, and ſaid: Seeing I have once begun, I will ſpeak to my Lord, whereas I am duſt and aſhes.

28 What if there be five leſs than fifty juſt perſons? wilt thou for five and forty deſtroy the whole city? And he ſaid: I will not deſtroy it, if I find five and forty.

29 And again he ſaid to him: But if forty be found there, what wilt thou do? He ſaid: I will not deſtroy it for the ſake of forty.

30 Lord, ſaith he, be not angry I beſeech thee, if I ſpeak: What if thirty ſhall be found there? He anſwered: I will not do it, if I find thirty there.

31 Seeing, ſaith he, I have once begun, I will ſpeak to my Lord: What if twenty be found there? He ſaid: I will not deſtroy it for the ſake of twenty.

32 I beſeech thee, ſaith he, be not angry Lord, if I ſpeak yet once more: What if ten ſhall be found there? And he ſaid: I will not deſtroy it for the ſake of ten.

33 And the Lord departed, after he had left ſpeaking to Abraham: and Abraham returned to his place.

CHAP. XIX.

Lot entertaining angels in his houſe, is delivered from Sodom, which is deſtroyed: his wife for looking back is turned into a ſtatue of ſalt.

AND the two angels came to Sodom in the evening, and Lot was ſitting in the gate of the city. And ſeeing them, he roſe up and went to meet them: and worſhipped proſtrate to the ground, A. M. 2107. Ante C. 1897. Heb. 13. 2.

2 And ſaid: I beſeech you, my lords, turn in to the houſe of your ſervant, and lodge there: waſh your feet, and in the morning you ſhall go on your way. And they ſaid: No, but we will abide in the ſtreet.

3 He preſſed them very much to turn in unto him: and when they were come in to his houſe, he made them a feaſt, and baked unleavened bread, and they ate:

4 But before they went to bed, the men of the city beſet the houſe both young and old, all the people together.

5 And they called Lot, and ſaid to him: Where are the men that came in to thee at night? bring them out hither that we may know them:

6 Lot went out to them, and ſhut the door after him, and ſaid:

7 Do not ſo, I beſeech you, my brethren, do not commit this evil.

8 I have two daughters who as yet have not known man: I will bring them out to you, and abuſe you them as it ſhall pleaſe you, ſo that you do no evil to theſe men, becauſe they are come in under the ſhadow of my roof.

CHAP. XVIII. VER. 21. I will go down, &c. The Lord here accommodates his diſcourſe to the way of ſpeaking and acting amongſt men: for he knoweth all things, and needeth not to go any where for information.

Note here, that two of the three angels went away immediately for Sodom; whilſt the third, who repreſented the Lord, remained with Abraham.

9 But they ſaid: Get thee back thither. And again: Thou cameſt in, ſaid they, as a ſtranger, was it to be a judge? therefore we will afflict thee more than them. ‖ And they preſſed very violently upon Lot: and they were even at the point of breaking open the doors.

‖ 2 Peter 2. 8.

10 And behold the men put out their hand, and drew in Lot unto them, and ſhut the door:

11 And them, that were without, ‖ they ſtruck with blindneſs from the leaſt to the greateſt, ſo that they could not find the door.

‖ Wiſ. 19. 16. 2 Kings 6. 18.

12 And they ſaid to Lot: Haſt thou here any of thine? ſon-in-law, or ſons, or daughters, all that are thine bring them out of this city:

13 For we will deſtroy this place, becauſe their cry is grown loud before the Lord, who hath ſent us to deſtroy them.

14 So Lot went out, and ſpoke to his ſons-in-law that were to have his daughters, and ſaid: Ariſe: get you out of this place, becauſe the Lord will deſtroy this city. And he ſeemed to them to ſpeak as it were in jeſt.

15 And when it was morning the angels preſſed him, ſaying: Ariſe, take thy wife, and the two daughters which thou haſt: leſt thou alſo periſh in the wickedneſs of the city.

16 And as he lingered, they took his hand, and the hand of his wife, and of his two daughters, becauſe the Lord ſpared him.

‖ Wiſ. 10. 6.

17 ‖ And they brought him forth, and ſet him without the city: and there they ſpoke to him, ſaying: Save thy life: look not back, neither ſtay thou in all the country about: but ſave thyſelf in the mountain, leſt thou be alſo conſumed.

18 And Lot ſaid to them: I beſeech thee my Lord,

19 Becauſe thy ſervant hath found grace before thee, and thou haſt magnified thy mercy, which thou haſt ſhewn to me, in ſaving my life, and I cannot eſcape to the mountain, leſt ſome evil ſeize me, and I die.

20 There is this city here at hand, to which I may flee, it is a little one, and I ſhall be ſaved in it: is it not a little one, and my ſoul ſhall live?

21 And he ſaid to him: Behold alſo in this, I have heard thy prayers, not to deſtroy the city for which thou haſt ſpoken.

‡ Wiſ. 10. 6.

22 ‖ Make haſte, and be ſaved there: becauſe I cannot do any thing till thou go in thither. Therefore the name of that city was called Segor.

‡ Supra 18. 1.

28 He looked towards Sodom and Gomorrha, and the whole land of that country: and he ſaw the aſhes riſe up from the earth as the ſmoke of a furnace.

29 Now when God deſtroyed the cities of that country, remembering Abraham, he delivered Lot out of the deſtruction of the cities wherein he had dwelt.

30 And Lot went up out of Segor, and abode in the mountain, and his two daughters with him (for he was afraid to ſtay in Segor) and he dwelt in a cave, he and his two daughters with him.

31 And the elder ſaid to the younger: Our father is old, and there is no man left on the earth, to come in unto us after the manner of the whole earth.

32 Come, let us make him drunk with wine, and let us lie with him, that we may preſerve ſeed of our father.

33 And they made their father drink wine that night: and the elder went in, and lay with her father: but he perceived not, neither when his daughter lay down, nor when ſhe roſe up.

34 And the next day the elder ſaid to the younger: Behold I lay laſt night with my father, let us make him drink wine alſo to night, and thou ſhalt lie with him, that we may ſave ſeed of our father.

35 They made their father drink wine that night alſo, and the younger daughter went in, and lay with him: and neither then did he perceive when ſhe lay down, nor when ſhe roſe up.

36 So the two daughters of Lot were with child by their father.

37 And the elder bore a ſon, and ſhe called his name Moab: he is the father of the Moabites unto this day.

CHAP. XX.

Abraham sojourneth in Gerara: Sara is taken into king Abimelech's house, but by God's commandment is restored untouched.

A. M. 2107. ABRAHAM removed from thence to the south country, and dwelt between Cades and Sur: and sojourned in Gerara.

2 And he said of Sara his wife: She is my sister. So Abimelech the king of Gerara sent, and took her.

3 And God came to Abimelech in a dream by night, and he said to him: Lo thou shalt die for the woman that thou hast taken: for she hath a husband.

4 Now Abimelech had not touched her, and he said: Lord, wilt thou slay a nation that is ignorant and just?

5 Did not he say to me: She is my sister: and she say, He is my brother? in the simplicity of my heart, and cleanness of my hands have I done this.

6 And God said to him: And I know that thou didst it with a sincere heart: and therefore I withheld thee from sinning against me, and I suffered thee not to touch her.

7 Now therefore restore the man his wife, for he is a prophet: and he shall pray for thee, and thou shalt live: but if thou wilt not restore her, know that thou shalt surely die, thou and all that are thine.

8 And Abimelech forthwith rising up in the night, called all his servants: and spoke all these words in their hearing, and all the men were exceedingly afraid.

9 And Abimelech called also for Abraham, and said to him: What hast thou done to us? what have we offended thee in, that thou hast brought upon me and upon my kingdom a great sin? thou hast done to us what thou oughtest not to do.

10 And again he expostulated with him, and said: What sawest thou, that thou hast done this?

11 Abraham answered: I thought with myself, saying: Perhaps there is not the fear of God in this place: and they will kill me for the sake of my wife:

12 Howbeit, otherwise also she is truly my sister, ‖ the daughter of my father, and not the daughter of my mother, and I took her to wife. ‖ Supra 12. 13. & 11. 29.

13 And after God brought me out of my father's house, I said to her: ‖ Thou shalt do me this kindness: In every place, to which we shall come, thou shalt say that I am thy brother. ‖ Infra 21. 23.

14 And Abimelech took sheep and oxen, and servants, and handmaids, and gave to Abraham: and restored to him Sara his wife,

15 And said: The land is before you, dwell wheresoever it shall please thee.

16 And to Sara he said: Behold I have given thy brother a thousand pieces of silver, this shall serve thee for a covering of thy eyes to all that are with thee, and whithersoever thou shalt go: and remember thou wast taken.

17 And when Abraham prayed, God healed Abimelech and his wife, and his handmaids, and they bore children:

18 For the Lord had closed up every womb of the house of Abimelech on account of Sara Abraham's wife.

AND the Lord visited ‖ Sara, as he had promised: and fulfilled what he had spoken. ‖ Supra 17. 19. & 18. 10.

2 † And she conceived and bore a son in her old age, at the time that God had foretold her. † Gal. 4. 23. Heb. 11. 11.

3 And Abraham called the name of his son, whom Sara bore him, Isaac. *

4 And he circumcised him the eighth day, ‡ as God had commanded him, * A. M. 2108. Ante C. 1896.

5 When he was a hundred years old: for at this age of his father, was Isaac born. ‡ Supra 17. 10. Mat. 1. 2.

6 And Sara said: God hath made a laughter for me: whosoever shall hear of it will laugh with me.

7 And again she said: Who would believe that Abraham should hear that Sara gave suck to a son, whom she bore to him in his old age?

8 And the child grew, and was weaned: and Abraham made a great feast on the day of his weaning.

9 And when Sara had seen the son of Agar the Egyptian playing with Isaac her son, she said to Abraham:

10 Cast out this bond-woman, and her son: for the son of the bond-woman shall not be heir with my son Isaac.

11 Abraham took this grievously for his son.

12 And God said to him: Let it not seem grievous to thee for the boy, and for thy bond-woman: in all that Sara hath said to thee, hearken to her voice: ‖ for in Isaac shall thy seed be called. ‖ Rom. 9. 7. Heb. 11. 18.

13 But I will make the son also of the

* A. M. 2113. Ante C. 1891.

15 And when the water in the bottle was ſpent, ſhe caſt the boy under one of the trees, that were there.

16 And ſhe went her way, and ſat over-againſt him a great way off as far as a bow can carry, for ſhe ſaid: I will not ſee the boy die: and ſitting over-againſt, ſhe lifted up her voice and wept.

17 And God heard the voice of the boy: and an Angel of God called to Agar from heaven, ſaying: What art thou doing Agar? fear not: for God hath heard the voice of the boy, from the place wherein he is.

18 Ariſe, take up the boy, and hold him by the hand: for I will make him a great nation.

19 And God opened her eyes: and ſhe ſaw a well of water, and went and filled the bottle, and gave the boy to drink.

20 And God was with him: and he grew, and dwelt in the wilderneſs, and became a young man an archer.

21 And he dwelt in the wilderneſs of Pharan, and his mother took a wife for him out of the land of Egypt.

22 At the ſame time Abimelech, and Phicol the general of his army ſaid to Abraham: God is with thee in all that thou doſt.

23 Swear therefore by God, that thou wilt not hurt me, nor my poſterity, nor my ſtock: but according to the kindneſs, ‖ that I have done to thee, thou ſhalt do to me, and to the land wherein thou haſt lived a ſtranger.

‖ Supra 20. 23.

24 And Abraham ſaid: I will ſwear.

25 And he reproved Abimelech for a well of water, which his ſervants had taken away by force.

26 And Abimelech anſwered: I knew not who did this thing: and thou didſt not tell me, and I heard not of it till to-day.

27 Then Abraham took ſheep and oxen, and gave them to Abimelech: and both of them made a league.

28 And Abraham ſet apart ſeven ewe-lambs of the flock.

29 And Abimelech ſaid to him: What mean theſe ſeven ewe-lambs which thou haſt ſet apart?

30 But he ſaid: Thou ſhalt take ſeven ewe-lambs at my hand: that they may be a teſtimony for me, that I dug this well.

31 Therefore that place was called Berſabee: becauſe there both of them did ſwear.

32 And they made a league for the well of oath.

33 And Abimelech, and Phicol the general of his army aroſe and returned to the land of the Paleſtines. But Abraham planted a grove in Berſabee, and there called upon the name of the Lord God eternal.

34 And he was a ſojourner in the land of the Paleſtines many days.

Sara's death and burial in the field bought of Ephron.

AND Sara lived a hundred and twenty seven years.

2 And she died * in the city of Arbee which is Hebron, in the land of Chanaan: and Abraham came to mourn, and weep for her. * A. M. 2145. Ante C. 1859.

3 And after he rose up from the funeral obsequies, he spoke to the children of Heth, saying:

4 I am a stranger and sojourner among you: give me the right of a burying place with you, that I may bury my dead.

5 The children of Heth answered, saying:

6 My lord hear us, thou art a prince of God among us: bury thy dead in our principal sepulchres: and no man shall have power to hinder thee from burying thy dead in his sepulchre.

7 Abraham rose up, and bowed down to the people of the land, to wit the children of Heth:

8 And said to them: If it please your soul that I should bury my dead, hear me, and intercede for me to Ephron the son of Seor.

9 That he may give me the double cave, which he hath in the end of his field: for as much money as it is worth he shall give it me before you, for a possession of a burying place.

10 Now Ephron dwelt in the midst of the children of Heth. And Ephron made answer to Abraham in the hearing of all that went in at the gate of the city, saying:

11 Let it not be so, my lord, but do thou rather hearken to what I say: The field I deliver to thee, and the cave that is therein, in the presence of the children of my people, bury thy dead.

12 Abraham bowed down before the people of the land.

13 And he spoke to Ephron, in the presence of the people: I beseech thee to hear me: I will give money for the field: take it, and so I will bury my dead in it.

14 And Ephron answered:

15 My lord, hear me. The ground which thou desirest, is worth four hundred sicles of silver: this is the price between me and thee: but what is this? bury thy dead.

16 And when Abraham had heard this, he weighed out the money, that Ephron had asked, in the hearing of the children of Heth, four hundred sicles of silver of common current money.

5 The ſervant anſwered: If the woman will not come with me into this land, muſt I bring thy ſon back again to the place, from whence thou cameſt out?

6 And Abraham ſaid: Beware thou never bring my ſon back again thither.

7 The Lord God of heaven, who took me out of my father's houſe, and out of my native country, who ſpoke to me, and ſwore to me, ſaying: || To thy ſeed will I give this land: he will ſend his Angel before thee, and thou ſhalt take from thence a wife for my ſon. ‡

8 But if the woman will not follow thee, thou ſhalt not be bound by the oath: only bring not my ſon back thither again.

9 The ſervant therefore put his hand under the thigh of Abraham his lord, and ſwore to him upon this word.

10 And he took ten camels of his maſter's herd, and departed, carrying ſomething of all his goods with him, and he ſet forward and went on to Meſopotamia to the city of Nachor.

11 And when he had made the camels lie down without the town near a well of water in the evening, at the time when women are wont to come out to draw water, he ſaid:

12 O Lord the God of my maſter Abraham, meet me to-day, I beſeech thee, and ſhew kindneſs to my maſter Abraham.

13 Behold I ſtand nigh the ſpring of water, and the daughters of the inhabitants of this city, will come out to draw water.

14 Now therefore the maid, to whom I ſhall ſay: Let down thy pitcher that I may drink: and ſhe ſhall anſwer, Drink, and I will give thy camels drink alſo: let it be the ſame whom thou haſt provided for thy ſervant Iſaac: and by this I ſhall underſtand, that thou haſt ſhewn kindneſs to my maſter.

15 He had not yet ended theſe words within himſelf, and behold Rebecca came out, the daughter of Bathuel, ſon of Melcha, wife to Nachor the brother of Abraham, having a pitcher on her ſhoulder: ||

|| Exod. 11. 16. Infra 29. 8.

16 An exceeding comely maid, and a moſt beautiful virgin, and not known to man: and ſhe went down to the ſpring, and filled her pitcher, and was coming back.

17 And the ſervant ran to meet her, and ſaid: Give me a little water to drink of thy pitcher.

18 And ſhe anſwered: Drink my lord. And quickly ſhe let down the pitcher upon her arm, and gave him drink.

19 And when he had drunk, ſhe ſaid: I will draw water for thy camels alſo, till they all drink.

20 And pouring out the pitcher into the troughs, ſhe ran back to the well to draw water: and having drawn ſhe gave to all the camels.

21 But he muſing beheld her with ſilence, deſirous to know whether the Lord had made his journey proſperous or not.

22 And after that the camels had drunk, the man took out golden ear-rings, weighing two ſicles: and as many bracelets of ten ſicles weight.

23 And he ſaid to her: Whoſe daughter art thou? tell me: is there any place in thy father's houſe to lodge?

24 And ſhe anſwered: I am the daughter of Bathuel, the ſon of Melcha, whom ſhe bore to Nachor.

25 And ſhe ſaid moreover to him: We have good ſtore of both ſtraw and hay, and a large place to lodge in.

26 The man bowed himſelf down, and adored the Lord,

27 Saying: Bleſſed be the Lord God of my maſter Abraham, who hath not taken away his mercy and truth from my maſter, and hath brought me the ſtraight way into the houſe of my maſter's brother.

28 Then the maid ran, and told in her mother's houſe all that ſhe had heard.

29 And Rebecca had a brother named Laban, who went out in haſte to the man, to the well.

30 And when he had ſeen the ear-rings and bracelets in his ſiſter's hands, and had heard all that ſhe related ſaying, Thus and thus the man ſpoke to me: he came to the man who ſtood by the camels, and near to the ſpring of water:

31 And ſaid to him: Come in, thou bleſſed of the Lord: why ſtandeſt thou without? I have prepared the houſe, and a place for the camels.

32 And he brought him in into his lodging: and he unharneſſed the camels, and gave ſtraw and hay, and water to waſh his feet, and the feet of the men that were come with him.

33 And bread was ſet before him. But he ſaid: I will not eat, till I tell my meſſage. He anſwered him: Speak.

34 And he ſaid: I am the ſervant of Abraham:

35 And the Lord hath bleſſed my maſter wonderfully, and he is become great: and he hath given him ſheep, and oxen, ſilver and gold, men ſervants and women ſervants, camels, and aſſes.

36 And Sara my maſter's wife hath born my maſter a ſon in her old age, and he hath given him all that he had.

37 And my maſter made me ſwear, ſaying: Thou ſhalt not take a wife for my ſon of the Chananites, in whoſe land I dwell:

38 But thou ſhalt go to my father's houſe, and ſhalt take a wife of my own kindred for my ſon:

39 But I anſwered my maſter: What if the woman will not come with me?

40 The Lord, ſaid he, in whoſe ſight I walk, will ſend his Angel with thee, and will direct thy way: and thou ſhalt take a wife for my ſon of my own kindred, and of my father's houſe.

41 But thou ſhalt be clear from my curſe, when thou ſhalt come to my kindred, if they will not give thee one.

42 And I came to-day to the well of water, and ſaid: O Lord God of my maſter Abraham, if thou haſt proſpered my way wherein I now walk,

43 Behold I ſtand by the well of water, and the virgin, that ſhall come out to draw water, who ſhall hear me ſay: Give me a little water to drink of thy pitcher:

44 And ſhall ſay to me: Both drink thou, and I will alſo draw for thy camels: let the ſame be the woman, whom the Lord hath prepared for my maſter's ſon.

45 And whilſt I pondered theſe things ſecretly with myſelf, Rebecca appeared coming with a pitcher, which ſhe carried on her ſhoulder: and ſhe went down to the well and drew water. And I ſaid to her: Give me a little to drink.

46 And ſhe ſpeedily let down the pitcher from her ſhoulder, and ſaid to me: Both drink thou, and to thy camels I will give drink. I drank, and ſhe watered the camels.

47 And I aſked her, and ſaid: Whoſe daughter art thou? And ſhe anſwered: I am the daughter of Bathuel, the ſon of Nachor, whom Melcha bore to him. So I put ear-rings on her to adorn her face, and I put bracelets on her hands.

48 And falling down I adored the Lord, bleſſing the Lord God of my maſter Abraham, who hath brought me the ſtraight way to take the daughter of my maſter's brother for his ſon.

49 Wherefore if you do according to mercy and truth with my maſter, tell me: but if it pleaſe you otherwiſe, tell me that alſo, that I may go to the right hand, or to the left.

50 And Laban and Bathuel anſwered: The word hath proceeded from the Lord: we cannot ſpeak any other thing to thee but his pleaſure.

51 Behold Rebecca is before thee, take her and go thy way, and let her be the wife of thy maſter's ſon, as the Lord hath ſpoken.

52 Which when Abraham's ſervant heard, falling down to the ground he adored the Lord.

53 And bringing forth veſſels of ſilver, and gold, and garments, he gave them to Rebecca for a preſent. He offered gifts alſo to her brothers, and to her mother.

54 And a banquet was made, and they ate and drank together and lodged there. And in the morning, the ſervant aroſe, and ſaid: Let me depart, that I may go to my maſter.

55 And her brother, and mother anſwered: Let the maid ſtay at leaſt ten days with us, and afterwards ſhe ſhall depart.

56 Stay me not, ſaid he, becauſe the Lord hath proſpered my way: ſend me away that I may go to my maſter.

57 And they ſaid: Let us call the maid, and aſk her will.

58 And they called her, and when ſhe was come, they aſked: Wilt thou go with this man? She ſaid: I will go.

59 So they ſent her away, and her nurſe, and Abraham's ſervant, and his company.

60 Wiſhing proſperity to their ſiſter, and ſaying: Thou art our ſiſter, mayſt thou increaſe to thouſands of thouſands, and may thy ſeed poſſeſs the gates of their enemies.

61 So Rebecca, and her maids being ſet upon camels followed the man: who with ſpeed returned to his maſter.

65 And ſaid to the ſervant: Who is that man who cometh towards us along the field? And he ſaid to her: That man is my maſter. But ſhe quickly took her cloak, and covered herſelf.

66 And the ſervant told Iſaac all that he had done.

5 Becauſe Abraham obeyed my voice, and kept my precepts and commandments, and obſerved my ceremonies and laws.

6 So Iſaac abode in Gerara.

7 And when he was aſked by the men of that place, concerning his wife, he anſwered: She is my ſiſter, for he was afraid to confeſs that ſhe was his wife, thinking leſt perhaps they would kill him becauſe of her beauty.

8 And when very many days were paſſed, and he abode there, Abimelech king of the Paleſtines looking out through a window, ſaw him playing with Rebecca his wife.

9 And calling for him, he ſaid: It is evident ſhe is thy wife: why didſt thou feign her to be thy ſiſter? He anſwered: I feared leſt I ſhould die for her ſake.

10 And Abimelech ſaid: Why haſt thou deceived us? Some man of the people might have lien with thy wife, and thou hadſt brought upon us a great ſin. And he commanded all the people, ſaying:

11 He that ſhall touch this man's wife, ſhall ſurely be put to death.

12 And Iſaac ſowed in that land, and he found that ſame year a hundred-fold: and the Lord bleſſed him.

13 And the man was enriched, and he went on proſpering and increaſing, till he became exceeding great:

14 And he had poſſeſſions of ſheep and of herds, and a very great family. Wherefore the Paleſtines envying him,

15 Stopped up at that time all the wells, that the ſervants of his father Abraham had digged, filling them up with earth:

16 Inſomuch that Abimelech himſelf ſaid to Iſaac: Depart from us, for thou art become much mightier than we.

17 So he departed, and came to the torrent of Gerara, to dwell there:

18 And he digged again other wells, which the ſervants of his father Abraham had digged, and which, after his death, the Philiſtines had of old ſtopped up: and he called them by the ſame names, by which his father before had called them.

19 And they digged in the torrent, and found living water:

20 But there alſo the herdſmen of Gerara ſtrove againſt the herdſmen of Iſaac, ſaying: It is our water. Wherefore he called the name of the well, on occaſion of that which had happened, Calumny.

21 And they digged alſo another; and for that they quarrelled likewiſe, and he called the name of it, Enmity.

23 And he went up from that place to Bersabee,

24 Where the Lord appeared to him that same night, saying: I am the God of Abraham thy father, do not fear, for I am with thee: I will bless thee, and multiply thy seed for my servant Abraham's sake.

25 And he built there an altar: and called upon the name of the Lord, and pitched his tent: and commanded his servants to dig a well.

27 Isaac said to them: Why are ye come to me a man whom you hate, and have thrust out from you?

29 That thou do us no harm, as we on our part have touched nothing of thine, nor have done any thing to hurt thee: but with peace have sent thee away increased with the blessing of the Lord.

30 And he made them a feast, and after they had eaten and drunk:

31 Arising in the morning, they swore one to another: and Isaac sent them away peaceably to their own home.

32 And behold the same day the servants of Isaac came, telling him of a well which they had digged, and saying: We have found water.

CHAP. XXVII.

Jacob, by his mother's counsel, obtaineth his father's blessing instead of Esau. And by her is advised to fly to his uncle Laban.

A. M. 2245. Ante C. 1759. NOW Isaac was old, and his eyes were dim, and he could not see: and he called Esau his elder son, and said to him: My son? And he answered: Here I am.

2 And his father said to him: Thou seest that I am old, and know not the day of my death.

3 Take thy arms, thy quiver, and bow, and go abroad: and when thou hast taken some thing by hunting,

4 Make me savoury meat thereof, as thou knowest I like, and bring it that I may eat: and my soul may bless thee before I die.

5 And when Rebecca had heard this, and he was gone into the field to fulfil his father's commandment,

6 She said to her son Jacob: I heard thy father talking with Esau thy brother, and saying to him:

7 Bring me of thy hunting, and make me meats that I may eat, and bless thee in the sight of the Lord, before I die.

8 Now therefore, my son, follow my counsel:

9 And go thy way to the flock, bring me two kids of the best, that I may make of them meat for thy father, such as he gladly eateth:

10 Which when thou hast brought in, and he hath eaten, he may bless thee before he die.

11 And he answered her: Thou knowest that Esau my brother is a hairy man, and I am smooth:

12 If my father shall feel me, and perceive it, I fear lest he will think I would have mocked him, and I shall bring upon me a curse instead of a blessing.

13 And his mother said to him: Upon me be this curse, my son: only hear thou my voice, and go, fetch me the things which I have said.

14 He went, and brought, and gave them to his mother. She dressed meats, such as she knew his father liked.

15 And she put on him very good garments of Esau, which she had at home with her:

16 And the little skins of the kids she put about his hands and covered the bare of his neck.

17 And she gave him the savoury meat, and delivered him bread that she had baked.

18 Which when he had carried in, he said: My father? But he answered: I hear. Who art thou my son?

VER. 22. Latitude. That is, wideness, or room.

19 And Jacob ſaid: I am Eſau thy firſt-born: I have done as thou didſt command me: ariſe, ſit, and eat of my veniſon, that thy ſoul may bleſs me.

20 And Iſaac ſaid to his ſon: How couldſt thou find it ſo quickly, my ſon? He anſwered: It was the will of God that what I ſought came quickly in my way:

21 And Iſaac ſaid: Come hither, that I may feel thee my ſon, and may prove whether thou be my ſon Eſau, or no.

22 He came near to his father, and when he had felt him, Iſaac ſaid: The voice indeed is the voice of Jacob; but the hands, are the hands of Eſau.

23 And he knew him not, becauſe his hairy hands made him like to the elder. Then bleſſing him, 24 He ſaid: Art thou my ſon Eſau? He anſwered: I am.

25 Then he ſaid: Bring me the meats of thy hunting, my ſon, that my ſoul may bleſs thee. And when they were brought and he had eaten, he offered him wine alſo, which after he had drunk,

26 He ſaid to him: Come near me, and give me a kiſs, my ſon.

27 He came near, and kiſſed him. And immediately as he ſmelled the fragrant ſmell of his garments, bleſſing him, he ſaid: Behold the ſmell of my ſon is as the ſmell of a plentiful field, which the Lord hath bleſſed.

28 God give thee of the dew of heaven, and of the fatneſs of the earth, abundance of corn and wine.

29 And let peoples ſerve thee, and tribes worſhip thee: be thou lord of thy brethren, and let thy mother's children bow down before thee. Curſed be he that curſeth thee: and let him that bleſſeth thee be filled with bleſſings.

30 Iſaac had ſcarce ended his words, when Jacob being now gone out abroad, Eſau came,

31 And brought in to his father meats made of what he had taken in hunting, ſaying: Ariſe, my father, and eat of thy ſon's veniſon; that thy ſoul may bleſs me.

32 And Iſaac ſaid to him: Why! who art thou? He anſwered: I am thy firſt-born ſon Eſau.

33 Iſaac was ſtruck with fear, and aſtoniſhed exceedingly: and wondering beyond what can be believed, ſaid: Who is he then that even now brought me veniſon that he had taken, and I ate of all before thou cameſt? and I have bleſſed him, and he ſhall be bleſſed.

34 Eſau having heard his father's words, roared out with a great cry: and being in a conſternation, ſaid: Bleſs me alſo, my father.

35 And he ſaid: Thy brother came deceitfully and got thy bleſſing.

36 But he ſaid again: Rightly is his name called Jacob: for he hath ſupplanted me lo this ſecond time: ‖ my firſt birth-right he took away before, and now this ſecond time he hath ſtolen away my bleſſing. And again he ſaid to his father: Haſt thou not reſerved me alſo a bleſſing? ‖ Supra 25. 34.

37 Iſaac anſwered: I have appointed him thy lord, and have made all his brethren his ſervants: I have eſtabliſhed him with corn and wine, and after this, what ſhall I do more for thee, my ſon?

38 And Eſau ſaid to him: Haſt thou only one bleſſing, father? I beſeech thee bleſs me alſo. And when he wept with a loud cry, ‖ ‖ Heb. 11. 20.

39 Iſaac being moved, ſaid to him: In the fat of the earth, and in the dew of heaven from above,

40 Shall thy bleſſing be. Thou ſhalt live by the ſword and ſhalt ſerve thy brother: and the time ſhall come, when thou ſhalt ſhake off, and looſe his yoke from thy neck.

41 Eſau therefore always hated Jacob for the bleſſing wherewith his father had bleſſed him: and he ſaid in his heart: ‖ The days will come of the mourning for my father, and I will kill my brother Jacob. ‖ Abd. 1. 10.

42 Theſe things were told to Rebecca: and ſhe ſent and called Jacob her ſon, and ſaid to him: Behold Eſau thy brother threateneth to kill thee.

43 Now therefore, my ſon, hear my voice, ariſe and flee to Laban my brother to Haran:

44 And thou ſhalt dwell with him a few days, till the wrath of thy brother be aſſwaged,

12 And he ſaw in his ſleep a ladder ſtanding upon the earth, and the top thereof touching heaven: the Angels alſo of God aſcending and deſcending by it.

‖ Infra 35. 1. & 48. 3. 13 And the Lord leaning upon the ladder ſaying to him: ‖ I am the Lord God of Abraham thy father, and the God of Isaac: The land, wherein thou ſleepeſt, I will give to thee and to thy ſeed.

14 And thy ſeed ſhall be as the duſt of the earth: † thou ſhalt ſpread abroad to the weſt, and to the eaſt, and to the north, and to the ſouth: and IN THEE and thy ſeed all the tribes of the earth SHALL BE BLESSED. † Deut. 12. 20. & 19. 8. Supra 26. 4.

15 And I will be thy keeper whither ſoever thou goeſt, and will bring thee back into this land: neither will I leave thee, till I ſhall have accompliſhed all that I have ſaid.

16 And when Jacob awaked out of ſleep, he ſaid: Indeed the Lord is in this place, and I knew it not.

17 And trembling he ſaid: How terrible is this place! this is no other but the houſe of God, and the gate of heaven.

18 And Jacob ariſing in the morning, took the ſtone, which he had laid under his head, and ſet it up for a title, pouring oil upon the top of it. ‖ ‖ Infra 31. 13.

19 And he called the name of the city Bethel, which before was called Luza.

20 And he made a vow, ſaying: If God ſhall be with me, and ſhall keep me in the way, by which I walk, and ſhall give me bread to eat, and raiment to put on,

21 And I ſhall return proſperouſly to my father's houſe: the Lord ſhall be my God:

22 And this ſtone, which I have ſet up for a title, ſhall be called the houſe of God: and of all things that thou ſhalt give to me, I will offer tithes to thee.

CHAP. XXIX.

Jacob ſerveth Laban ſeven years for Rachel: but is deceived with Lia: he afterwards marrieth Rachel. Lia bears him four ſons.

A. M. 2245. THEN Jacob went on in his journey, and came into the eaſt country.

2 And he ſaw a well in the field, and three flocks of ſheep lying by it: for the beaſts were watered out of it and the mouth thereof was cloſed with a great ſtone.

3 And the cuſtom was, when all the ſheep were gathered together, to roll away the ſtone, and after the ſheep were watered, to put it on the mouth of the well again.

4 And he ſaid to the ſhepherds: Brethren, whence are you? They anſwered: Of Haran.

5 And he aſked them, ſaying: Know you Laban the ſon of Nachor? They ſaid: We know him.

6 He ſaid: Is he in health? He is in health,

VER. 19. Bethel. This name ſignifies the houſe of God.

say they: and behold Rachel his daughter cometh with his flock.

7 And Jacob said: There is yet much day remaining, neither is it time to bring the flocks into the folds again: first give the sheep drink, and so lead them back to feed.

8 They answered: We cannot, till all the cattle be gathered together, and we remove the stone from the well's mouth, that we may water the flocks.

9 They were yet speaking, and behold Rachel came with her father's sheep: for she fed the flock.

10 And when Jacob saw her, and knew her to be his cousin german, and that they were the sheep of Laban his uncle: he removed the stone wherewith the well was closed.

11 And having watered the flock, he kissed her: and lifting up his voice wept,

12 And he told her that he was her father's brother, and the son of Rebecca: but she went in haste and told her father.

13 Who, when he heard that Jacob his sister's son was come, ran forth to meet him: and embracing him, and heartily kissing him, brought him into his house. And when he had heard the causes of his journey,

14 He answered: Thou art my bone and my flesh. And after the days of one month were expired,

15 He said to him: Because thou art my brother, shalt thou serve me without wages? Tell me what wages thou wilt have.

16 Now he had two daughters, the name of the elder was Lia: and the younger was called Rachel.

17 But Lia was blear-eyed: Rachel was well favoured, and of a beautiful countenance.

18 And Jacob being in love with her, said: I will serve thee seven years for Rachel thy younger daughter.

19 Laban answered: It is better that I give her to thee than to another man, stay with me.

20 So Jacob served seven years for Rachel: and they seemed but a few days because of the greatness of his love. *

* A. M. 2252. Ante C. 1752.

21 And he said to Laban: Give me my wife; for now the time is fulfilled, that I may go in unto her.

22 And he, having invited a great number of his friends to the feast, made the marriage.

23 And at night he brought in Lia his daughter to him,

24 Giving his daughter a handmaid, named Zelpha. Now when Jacob had gone in to her according to custom, when morning was come he saw it was Lia:

25 And he said to his father-in-law: What is it that thou didst mean to do? did not I serve thee for Rachel? why hast thou deceived me?

26 Laban answered: It is not the custom in this place, to give the younger in marriage first.

27 Make up the week of days of this match: and I will give thee her also, for the service that thou shalt render me other seven years.

28 He yielded to his pleasure: and after the week was past, he married Rachel:

29 To whom her father gave Bala for her servant.

30 And having at length obtained the marriage he wished for, he preferred the love of the latter before the former, and served with him other seven years.

31 And the Lord seeing that he despised Lia, opened her womb, but her sister remained barren.

32 And she conceived and bore a son, * and called his name Ruben, saying: The Lord saw my affliction: now my husband will love me.

* A. M. 2253. Ante C. 1751.

33 And again she conceived and bore a son, * and said: Because the Lord heard that I was despised, he hath given this also to me: and she called his name Simeon.

* A. M. 2254.

34 And she conceived the third time, and bore another son: * and said: Now also my husband will be joined to me, because I have born him three sons: and therefore she called his name Levi.

* A. M. 2256.

35 The fourth time she conceived and bore a son, and said: Now will I praise the Lord: and for this she called him Juda. ‖ And she left bearing. ‖ Mat. 12.

CHAP. XXX.

Rachel being barren, delivereth her handmaid to Jacob, she beareth two sons. Lia ceasing to bear giveth also her handmaid, and she beareth two more. Then Lia beareth two other sons and one daughter. Rachel beareth Joseph. Jacob desirous to return home, is hired to stay for a certain part of the stock's increase, whereby he becometh exceeding rich.

AND Rachel seeing herself without children, envied her sister, and said to her husband: Give me children, otherwise I shall die.

2 And Jacob being angry with her, answered: Am I as God, who hath deprived thee of the fruit of thy womb?

3 But she said: I have here my servant Bala: go in unto her, that she may bear upon my knees, and I may have children by her.

4 And she gave him Bala in marriage: who,
5 When her husband had gone in unto her, conceived and bore a son.
6 And Rachel said: The Lord hath judged for me, and hath heard my voice, giving me a son, and therefore she called his name Dan.
7 And again Bala conceived and bore another,
8 For whom Rachel said: God hath compared me with my sister, and I have prevailed: and she called him Nephtali.
9 Lia perceiving that she had left off bearing, gave Zelpha her handmaid to her husband.
10 And when she had conceived and brought forth a son,
11 She said: Happily. And therefore called his name Gad.
12 Zelpha also bore another.
13 And Lia said: This is for my happiness: for women will call me blessed. Therefore she called him Aser.
14 And Ruben going out in the time of the wheat harvest into the field, found mandrakes: which he brought to his mother Lia. And Rachel said: Give me part of thy son's mandrakes.
15 She answered: Dost thou think it a small matter, that thou hast taken my husband from me, unless thou take also my son's mandrakes? Rachel said: He shall sleep with thee this night, for thy son's mandrakes.
16 And when Jacob returned at even from the field, Lia went out to meet him, and said: Thou shalt come in unto me, because I have hired thee for my son's mandrakes. And he slept with her that night.
17 And God heard her prayers: and she conceived and bore the fifth son,
18 And said: God hath given me a reward, because I gave my handmaid to my husband, And she called his name Issachar.
19 And Lia conceived again, and bore the sixth son,
20 And said: God hath endowed me with a good dowry: this turn also my husband will be with me, because I have born him six sons: and therefore she called his name Zabulon.
21 After whom she bore a daughter, named Dina.
22 The Lord also remembering Rachel, heard her, and opened her womb.
* A. M. 2259. Ante C. 1745. 23 And she conceived, and bore a son, * saying: God hath taken away my reproach.
24 And she called his name Joseph: saying: The Lord give me also another son.
25 And when Joseph was born, Jacob said to his father-in-law: Send me away that I may return into my country, and to my land.
26 Give me my wives, and my children, for whom I have served thee, that I may depart: thou knowest the service that I have rendered thee.
27 Laban said to him: Let me find favour in thy sight: I have learned by experience, that God hath blessed me for thy sake:
28 Appoint thy wages which I shall give thee.
29 But he answered: Thou knowest how I have served thee, and how great thy possession hath been in my hands.
30 Thou hadst but little before I came to thee, and now thou art become rich: and the Lord hath blessed thee at my coming. It is reasonable therefore that I should now provide also for my own house.
31 And Laban said: What shall I give thee? But he said: I require nothing: but if thou wilt do what I demand, I will feed, and keep thy sheep again.
32 Go round through all thy flocks, and separate all the sheep of divers colours, and speckled: and all that is brown and spotted, and of divers colours, as well among the sheep, as among the goats shall be my wages.
33 And my justice shall answer for me tomorrow before thee when the time of the bargain shall come: and all that is not of divers colours, and spotted, and brown, as well among the sheep as among the goats, shall accuse me of theft.
34 And Laban said: I like well what thou demandest.
35 And he separated the same day the she-goats, and the sheep, and the he-goats, and the rams of divers colours, and spotted: and all the flock of one colour, that is, of white and black fleece, he delivered into the hands of his sons.
36 And he set the space of three days journey betwixt himself and his son-in-law, who fed the rest of his flock.
37 And Jacob took green rods of poplar, and of almond, and of plane-trees, and pilled them in part: so when the bark was taken off, in the parts that were pilled, there appeared whiteness: but the parts that were whole, remained green: and by this means the colour was divers.
38 And he put them in the troughs, where the water was poured out: that when the flocks should come to drink, they might have the rods before their eyes, and in the sight of them might conceive.
39 And it came to pass that in the very heat of coition, the sheep beheld the rods, and brought forth ſpotted, and of divers colours, and ſpeckled.

40 And Jacob ſeparated the flock, and put the rods in the troughs before the eyes of the rams: and all the white and the black were Laban's: and the reſt were Jacob's, when the flocks were ſeparated one from the other.

41 So when the ewes went firſt to ram, Jacob put the rods in the troughs of water before the eyes of the rams, and of the ewes, that they might conceive while they were looking upon them:

42 But when the later coming was, and the laſt conceiving, he did not put them. And thoſe that were lateward, became Laban's: and they of the firſt time, Jacob's.

43 And the man was enriched exceedingly, and he had many flocks, maid-ſervants and men-ſervants, camels and aſſes.

CHAP. XXXI.

Jacob's departure: he is purſued and overtaken by Laban. They make a covenant.

BUT after that he heard the words of the ſons of Laban, ſaying: Jacob hath taken away all that was our father's, and being enriched by his ſubſtance is become great:

2 And perceiving alſo that Laban's countenance was not towards him as yeſterday and the other day.

3 Eſpecially the Lord ſaying to him: Return into the land of thy fathers and to thy kindred, and I will be with thee.

* A. M. 2265. Ante C. 1739. 4 He ſent,* and called Rachel and Lia into the field, where he fed the flocks,

5 And ſaid to them: I ſee your father's countenance is not towards me as yeſterday and the other day: but the God of my father hath been with me.

6 And you know that I have ſerved your father to the uttermoſt of my power.

7 Yea your father alſo hath over-reached me, and hath changed my wages ten times: and yet God hath not ſuffered him to hurt me.

8 If at any time he ſaid: The ſpeckled ſhall be thy wages: all the ſheep brought forth ſpeckled: but when he ſaid on the contrary: Thou ſhalt take all the white ones for thy wages: all the flocks brought forth white ones.

9 And God hath taken your father's ſubſtance, and given it to me.

10 For after the time came of the ewes conceiving, I lifted up my eyes, and ſaw in my ſleep that the males which leaped upon the females were of divers colours, and ſpotted, and ſpeckled.

11 And the Angel of God ſaid to me in my ſleep: Jacob? And I anſwered: Here I am.

12 And he ſaid: Lift up thy eyes, and ſee that all the males leaping upon the females, are of divers colours, ſpotted and ſpeckled. For I have ſeen all that Laban hath done to thee.

13 I am the God of Bethel, ‖ where thou didſt anoint the ſtone, and make a vow to me. Now therefore ariſe, and go out of this land, and return into thy native country. ‖ Supra 28. 18.

14 And Rachel and Lia anſwered: Have we any thing left among the goods and inheritance of our father's houſe?

15 Hath he not counted us as ſtrangers, and ſold us, and eaten up the price of us?

16 But God hath taken our father's riches, and delivered them to us, and to our children: wherefore do all that God hath commanded thee.

17 Then Jacob roſe up, and having ſet his children, and wives upon camels, went his way.

18 And he took all his ſubſtance, and flocks, and whatſoever he had gotten in Meſopotamia, and went forward to Iſaac his father to the land of Chaanan.

19 At that time Laban was gone to ſhear his ſheep, and Rachel ſtole away her father's idols.

20 And Jacob would not confeſs to his father-in-law that he was flying away.

21 And when he was gone, together with all that belonged to him, and having paſſed the river was going on towards mount Galaad, 22 It was told Laban on the third day that Jacob fled.

23 And he took his brethren with him, and purſued after him ſeven days: and overtook him in the mount of Galaad.

24 And he ſaw in a dream God ſaying to him: Take heed thou ſpeak not any thing harſhly againſt Jacob.

25 Now Jacob had pitched his tent in the mountain: and when he with his brethren had overtaken him, he pitched his tent in the ſame mount of Galaad.

26 And he ſaid to Jacob: Why haſt thou done thus, to carry away, without my knowledge, my daughters, as captives taken with the ſword?

CHAP. XXXI. VER. 19. Her father's idols. By this it appears, that Laban was an idolater: and ſome of the fathers are of opinion, that Rachel ſtole away theſe idols to withdraw him from idolatry, by removing the occaſion of his ſin.

27 Why wouldst thou run away privately, and not acquaint me, that I might have brought thee on the way with joy, and with songs, and with timbrels, and with harps?

28 Thou hast not suffered me to kiss my sons and daughters: thou hast done foolishly: and now indeed,

29 It is in my power to return thee evil: but the God of your father said to me yesterday: ‖ Take heed thou speak not any thing harshly against Jacob.

‖ Infra 48. 16.

30 Suppose, thou didst desire to go to thy friends, and hadst a longing after thy father's house: why hast thou stolen away my Gods?

31 Jacob answered: That I departed unknown thee, it was for fear lest thou wouldst take away thy daughters by force.

32 But whereas thou chargest me with theft: with whomsoever thou shalt find thy gods, let him be slain before our brethren. Search, and if thou find any of thy things with me, take them away. Now when he said this, he knew not that Rachel had stolen the idols.

33 So Laban went into the tent of Jacob, and of Lia, and of both the handmaids, and found them not. And when he was entered into Rachel's tent,

34 She in haste hid the idols under the camel's furniture, and sat upon them: and when he had searched all the tent, and found nothing,

35 She said: Let not my lord be angry that I cannot rise up before thee, because it has now happened to me according to the custom of women. So his careful search was in vain.

36 And Jacob being angry, said in a chiding manner: For what fault of mine, and for what offence on my part hast thou so hotly pursued me,

37 And searched all my household-stuff? What hast thou found of all the substance of thy house? lay it here before my brethren, and thy brethren, and let them judge between me and thee.

38 Have I therefore been with thee twenty years? thy ewes and goats were not barren, the rams of thy flocks I did not eat:

39 Neither did I shew thee that which the beast had torn, I made good all the damage: whatsoever was lost by theft, thou didst exact it of me:

40 Day and night was I parched with heat, and with frost, and sleep departed from my eyes.

41 And in this manner have I served thee in thy house twenty years, fourteen for thy daughters, and six for thy flocks: thou hast changed also my wages ten times,

42 Unless the God of my father Abraham, and the fear of Isaac had stood by me, peradventure now thou hadst sent me away naked: God beheld my affliction and the labour of my hands, and rebuked thee yesterday.

43 Laban answered him: The daughters are mine and the children, and thy flocks, and all things that thou seest are mine: what can I do to my children, and grandchildren?

44 Come therefore, let us enter in a league: that it may be for a testimony between me and thee.

45 And Jacob took a stone, and set it up for a title:

46 And he said to his brethren: Bring hither stones. And they, gathering stones together, made a heap, and they ate upon it.

47 And Laban called it The witness heap: and Jacob, The hillock of testimony; each of them according to the propriety of his language.

48 And Laban said: This heap shall be a witness between me and thee this day, and therefore the name thereof was called Galaad, that is, the witness heap.

49 The Lord behold and judge between us when we shall be gone one from the other.

50 If thou afflict my daughters, and if thou bring in other wives over them: none is witness of our speech but God, who is present and beholdeth.

51 And he said again to Jacob: Behold this heap, and the stone which I have set up between me and thee,

52 Shall be a witness: this heap, I say, and the stone be they for a testimony, if either I shall pass beyond it going towards thee, or thou shalt pass beyond it, thinking harm to me.

53 The God of Abraham, and the God of Nachor, the God of their father, judge between us. And Jacob swore by the fear of his father Isaac:

54 And after he had offered sacrifices in the mountain, he called his brethren to eat bread. And when they had eaten, they lodged there:

55 But Laban arose in the night, and kissed his sons, and daughters, and blessed them: and returned to his place.

Jacob's vision of Angels; his message and presents to Esau: his wrestling with an Angel.

JACOB ¶ also went on the Journey he had begun: and the Angels of God met him. *

‖ Infra 48. 16.

* A. M. 3265.

2 And when he ſaw them, he ſaid: Theſe are the camps of God, and he called the name of that place Mahanaim, that is, Camps.

3 And he ſent meſſengers before him to Eſau his brother to the land of Seir, to the country of Edom:

4 And he commanded them, ſaying: Thus ſhall ye ſpeak to my lord Eſau: Thus ſaith thy brother Jacob: I have ſojourneth with Laban and have been with him until this day.

5 I have oxen, and aſſes, and ſheep, and men-ſervants, and women-ſervants: and now I ſend a meſſage to my lord, that I may find favour in thy ſight.

6 And the meſſengers returned to Jacob, ſaying: We came to Eſau thy brother, and behold he cometh with ſpeed to meet thee with four hundred men.

7 Then Jacob was greatly afraid; and in his fear divided the people that was with him, and the flocks, and the ſheep, and the oxen, and the camels, into two companies,

8 Saying: If Eſau come to one company, and deſtroy it, the other company that is left, ſhall eſcape.

9 And Jacob ſaid: O God of my father Abraham, and God of my father Iſaac: O Lord who ſaidſt to me: Return to thy land, and to the place of thy birth, and I will do well for thee.

10 I am not worthy of the leaſt of all thy mercies, and of thy truth which thou haſt fulfilled to thy ſervant. With my ſtaff I paſſed over this Jordan: and now I return with two companies.

11 Deliver me from the hand of my brother Eſau, for I am greatly afraid of him: leſt perhaps he come, and kill the mother with the children.

12 Thou didſt ſay that thou wouldſt do well by me, and multiply my ſeed like the ſand of the ſea, which cannot be numbered for multitude.

13 And when he had ſlept there that night, he ſet apart, of the things which he had, preſents for his brother Eſau,

14 Two hundred ſhe-goats, twenty he-goats, two hundred ewes, and twenty rams,

15 Thirty milch camels with their colts, forty kine, and twenty bulls, twenty ſhe-aſſes, and ten of their foals.

16 And he ſent them by the hands of his ſervants, every drove by itſelf, and he ſaid to his ſervants: Go before me, and let there be a ſpace between drove and drove.

17 And he commanded the firſt, ſaying: If thou meet my brother Eſau, and he aſk thee: Whoſe art thou? or whither goeſt thou? or whoſe are theſe before thee?

18 Thou ſhalt anſwer: Thy ſervant Jacob's: he hath ſent them as a preſent to my lord Eſau: and he cometh after us.

19 In like manner he commanded the ſecond, and the third, and all that followed the droves, ſaying: Speak ye the ſame words to Eſau, when ye find him.

20 And ye ſhall add: Thy ſervant Jacob himſelf alſo followeth after us; for he ſaid: I will appeaſe him with the preſents that go before, and afterwards I will ſee him, perhaps he will be gracious to me.

21 So the preſents went before him, but himſelf lodged that night in the camp.

22 And riſing early he took his two wives, and his two handmaids, with his eleven ſons, and paſſed over the ford of Jaboc.

23 And when all things were brought over that belonged to him,

24 He remained alone: and behold a man wreſtled with him till morning.

25 And when he ſaw that he could not overcome him, he touched the ſinew of his thigh, and forthwith it ſhrank.

26 And he ſaid to him: Let me go for it is break of day. He anſwered: I will not let thee go, except thou bleſs me.

27 And he ſaid: What is thy name? He anſwered: Jacob.

28 But he ſaid: Thy name ſhall not be called Jacob, but Iſrael: for if thou haſt been ſtrong againſt God, how much more ſhalt thou prevail againſt men?

29 Jacob aſked him: Tell me by what name art thou called? He anſwered: Why doſt thou aſk my name? And he bleſſed him in the ſame place.

30 And Jacob called the name of the place Phanuel, ſaying: I have ſeen God face to face, and my ſoul has been ſaved.

31 And immediately the ſun roſe upon him, after he was paſt Phanuel; but he halted on his foot.

32 Therefore the children of Iſrael, unto this day, eat not the ſinew, that ſhrank in Jacob's thigh: becauſe he touched the ſinew of his thigh and it ſhrank.

CHAP. XXXII. VER. 24. A man, &c. This was an Angel in human ſhape, as we learn from Oſee, xii. 4. He is called God, v. 28. and 30. becauſe he repreſented the perſon of the Son of God. This wreſtling, in which Jacob aſſiſted by God, was a match for an Angel, was ſo ordered (v. 28.) that he might learn by this experiment of the divine aſſiſtance, that neither Eſau, nor any other man, ſhould have power to hurt him. It was alſo ſpiritual, as appeareth by his earneſt prayer, urging and at laſt obtaining the Angel's bleſſing.

CHAP. XXXIII.

Jacob and Esau meet: Jacob goeth to Salem, where he raiseth an altar.

A. M. 2265- AND Jacob lifting up his eyes, saw Esau coming, and with him four hundred men: and he divided the children of Lia and of Rachel, and of the two handmaids:

2 And he put both the handmaids and their children foremost: and Lia and her children in the second place: and Rachel, and Joseph last.

3 And he went forward and bowed down with his face to the ground seven times, until his brother came near.

4 Then Esau ran to meet his brother, and embraced him: and clasping him fast about the neck, and kissing him wept.

5 And lifting up his eyes, he saw the women and their children, and said: What mean these? And do they belong to thee? He answered: They are the children which God hath given to me thy servant.

6 Then the handmaids and their children came near, and bowed themselves.

7 Lia also with her children came near, and bowed down in like manner, and last of all Joseph and Rachel bowed down.

8 And Esau said: What are the droves that I met? He answered: That I might find favour before my lord.

9 But he said: I have plenty, my brother, keep what is thine for thyself.

10 And Jacob said: Do not so I beseech thee, but if I have found favour in thy eyes, receive a little present at my hands: for I have seen thy face, as if I should have seen the countenance of God: be gracious to me,

11 And take the blessing, which I have brought thee, and which God hath given me, who giveth all things. He took it with much ado at his brother's earnest pressing him, 12 And said: Let us go on together, and I will accompany thee in thy journey.

13 And Jacob said: My lord, thou knowest that I have with me tender children, and sheep, and kine with young: which if I should cause to be over-driven, in one day all the flocks will die.

14 May it please my lord to go before his servant: and I will follow softly after him, as I shall see my children to be able, until I come to my lord in Seir.

15 Esau answered: I beseech thee, that some of the people at least, who are with me, may stay to accompany thee in the way. And he said: There is no necessity: I want nothing else but only to find favour, my lord, in thy sight.

16 So Esau returned, that day, the way that he came, to Seir.

17 And Jacob came to Socoth: where having built a house, and pitched tents, he called the name of the place Socoth, that is, Tents.

18 And he passed over to Salem a city of the Sichimites, which is in the land of Chanaan, after he returned from Mesopotamia of Syria: and he dwelt by the town.

19 And he bought that part of the field, in which he pitched his tents, of the children of Hemor, the father of Sichem for a hundred lambs.

20 And raising an altar there, he invoked upon it the most mighty God of Israel.

CHAP. XXXIV.

Dina is ravished, for which the Sichimites are destroyed.

AND Dina the daughter of Lia went out to see the women of that country. A. M. circiter 2273. Ante C. 1731.

2 And when Sichem the son of Hemor the Hevite, the prince of that land, saw her, he was in love with her: and took her away, and lay with her, ravishing the virgin.

3 And his soul was fast knit unto her, and whereas she was sad, he comforted her with sweet words.

4 And going to Hemor his father, he said: Get me this damsel to wife.

5 But when Jacob had heard this, his sons being absent, and employed in feeding the cattle, he held his peace till they came back.

6 And when Hemor the father of Sichem was come out to speak to Jacob,

7 Behold his sons came from the field: and hearing what had passed, they were exceeding angry, because he had done a foul thing in Israel, and committed an unlawful act, in ravishing Jacob's daughter.

8 And Hemor spoke to them: The soul of my son Sichem has a longing for your daughter: give her him to wife:

9 And let us contract marriages one with another: give us your daughters, and take you our daughters.

10 And dwell with us: the land is at your command, till, trade, and possess it.

11 Sichem also said to her father and to her brethren: Let me find favour in your sight: and whatsoever you shall appoint I will give:

12 Raise the dowry, and ask gifts, and I will gladly give what you shall demand: only give me this damsel to wife.

13 The ſons of Jacob anſwered Sichem and his father deceitfully, being enraged at the deflowering of their ſiſter:

14 We cannot do what you demand, nor give our ſiſter to one that is uncircumciſed: which with us is unlawful and abominable.

15 But in this we may be allied with you, if you will be like us, and all the male ſex among you be circumciſed:

16 Then will we mutually give and take your daughters, and ours: and we will dwell with you, and will be one people:

17 But if you will not be circumciſed, we will take our daughter and depart:

18 Their offer pleaſed Hemor, and Sichem his ſon:

19 And the young man made no delay, but forthwith fulfilled what was required: for he loved the damſel exceedingly, and he was the greateſt man in all his father's houſe.

20 And going into the gate of the city, they ſpoke to the people:

21 Theſe men are peaceable, and are willing to dwell with us: let them trade in the land, and till it, which being large and wide wanteth men to till it: we ſhall take their daughters for wives, and we will give them ours.

22 One thing there is for which ſo great a good is deferred: We muſt circumciſe every male among us, following the manner of the nation.

23 And their ſubſtance, and cattle, and all that they poſſeſs, ſhall be ours: only in this let us condeſcend, and by dwelling together, we ſhall make one people.

24 And they all agreed, and circumciſed all the males.

25 And behold the third day, when the pain of the wound was greateſt: two of the ſons of Jacob, Simeon and Levi the brothers of Dina, taking their ſwords, entered boldly into the city, and ſlew all the men: ‖

‖ Infra 49. 6.

26 And they killed alſo Hemor and Sichem, and took away their ſiſter Dina, out of Sichem's houſe.

27 And when they were gone out, the other ſons of Jacob came upon the ſlain; and plundered the city in revenge of the rape.

28 And they took their ſheep and their herds and their aſſes, waſting all they had in their houſes and in the fields.

29 And their children, and wives they took captive.

30 And when they had boldly perpetrated theſe things, Jacob ſaid to Simeon and Levi: You have troubled me, and made me hateful to the Chananites, and Pherezites the inhabitants of this land. We are few: they will gather themſelves together and kill me; and both I, and my houſe ſhall be deſtroyed.

31 They anſwered: Should they abuſe our ſiſter as a ſtrumpet?

CHAP. XXXV.

Jacob purgeth his family from idols: goeth by God's commandment to Bethel, and there buildeth an altar. God appearing again to Jacob bleſſeth him, and changeth his name into Iſrael. Rachel dieth in child-birth. Iſaac alſo dieth.

IN the mean time God ſaid to Jacob: Ariſe, and go up to Bethel, and dwell there, and make there an altar to God, ‖ who appeared to thee when thou didſt flee from Eſau thy brother. A. M. 2273. ‖ Supra 28. 13.

2 And Jacob having called together all his houſhold, ſaid: Caſt away the ſtrange gods that are among you, and be cleanſed and change your garments.

3 Ariſe, and let us go up to Bethel, that we may make there an altar to God: who heard me in the day of my affliction, and accompanied me in my journey.

4 So they gave him all the ſtrange gods they had, and the ear-rings which were in their ears: ‖ and he buried them under the turpentine-tree, that is behind the city of Sichem. ‖ Exod. 32. 20. 2 Kings 18. 4.

5 And when they were departed, the terror of God fell upon all the cities round about, and they durſt not purſue after them as they went away.

6 And Jacob came to Luza, which is in the land of Chanaan, ſurnamed Bethel: he and all the people that were with him.

7 And he built there an altar, and called the name of that place, The houſe of God: ‖ for there God appeared to him when he fled from his brother. ‖ Supra 28. 18.

8 At the ſame time Debora the nurſe of Rebecca died, and was buried at the foot of Bethel under an oak: and the name of that place was called, The oak of weeping.

9 And God appeared again to Jacob after he returned from Meſopotamia of Syria, and he bleſſed him,

10 Saying: ‖ Thou ſhalt not be called any more Jacob, but Iſrael ſhall be thy name. And he called him Iſrael. ‖ Supra 32. 28.

CHAP. XXXIV. VER. 13. Deceitfully. The ſons of Jacob, on this occaſion, were guilty of a grievous ſin, as well by falſly pretending religion, as by exceſs of their revenge. Though, otherwiſe their zeal againſt ſo foul a crime was commendable.

CHAP. XXXV. VER. 10. Iſrael. This name ſignifieth one that prevaileth with God.

11 And ſaid to him: I am God almighty, increaſe thou and be multiplied. Nations and peoples of nations ſhall be from thee, and kings ſhall come out of thy loins.

12 And the land which I gave to Abraham and Iſaac, I will give to thee, and to thy ſeed after thee.

13 And he departed from him.

14 But he ſet up a monument of ſtone, in the place where God had ſpoken to him: pouring drink-offerings upon it, and pouring oil thereon:

15 And calling the name of that place Bethel.

* A. M. 2274. Ante C. 1730. 16 *And going forth from thence, he came in the ſpring time to the land which leadeth to Ephrata: wherein when Rachel was in travail, 17 By reaſon of her hard labour, ſhe began to be in danger, and the midwife ſaid to her: Fear not, for thou ſhalt have this ſon alſo.

18 And when her ſoul was departing for pain, and death was now at hand, ſhe called the name of her ſon Benoni, that is, the ſon of my pain: but his father called him Benjamin, that is, the ſon of the right hand.

19 So Rachel died, and was buried in the highway that leadeth to Ephrata, this is Bethlehem.

20 And Jacob erected a pillar over her ‖ Infra 48. 7. ſepulchre: ‖ this is the pillar of Rachel's monument, to this day.

21 Departing thence, he pitched his tent beyond the Flock tower.

‖ Infra 49. 4. 22 ‖ And when he dwelt in that country: Ruben went, and ſlept with Bala the concubine of his father: which he was not ignorant of. Now the ſons of Jacob were twelve.

23 The ſons of Lia: Ruben the firſt-born, and Simeon, and Levi, and Juda, and Iſſachar, and Zabulon.

24 The ſons of Rachel, Joſeph and Benjamin.

25 The ſons of Bala, Rachel's handmaid: Dan and Nephtali.

26 The ſons of Zelpha, Lia's handmaid: Gad and Aſer: theſe are the ſons of Jacob, that were born to him in Meſopotamia of Syria.

* A. M. 2275. Ante C. 1729. 27 *And he came to Iſaac his father in Mambre, the city of Arbee, this is Hebron: wherein Abraham and Iſaac ſojourned.

28 And the days of Iſaac were a hundred and eighty years.

29 *And being ſpent with age he died, and was gathered to his people, being old and full of days: and his ſons Eſau and Jacob buried him. * A. M. 2288.

Joseph's dreams: he is sold by his brethren, and carried into Egypt.

AND Jacob dwelt in the land of Chanaan, wherein his father sojourned. A. M. 2276. Ante C. 1728.
2 And these are his generations: ‖ Joseph, when he was sixteen years old, was feeding the flock with his brethren, being but a boy: and he was with the sons of Bala and of Zelpha his father's wives: and he accused his brethren to his father of a most wicked crime. ‖ Supra 37.
3 Now Israel loved Joseph above all his sons, because he had him in his old age: and he made him a coat of divers colours.
4 And his brethren seeing that he was loved by his father, more than all his sons, hated him, and could not speak peaceably to him.
5 Now it fell out also that he told his brethren a dream, that he had dreamed: which occasioned them to hate him the more.
6 And he said to them: Hear my dream which I dreamed.
7 I thought we were binding sheaves in the field: and my sheaf arose as it were,

CHAP. XXXVII. VER. 5. A dream. These dreams of Joseph were prophetical, and sent from God; as were also those which he interpreted, Gen. xl. and xli. otherwise generally speaking, the observing of dreams is condemned in the scripture, as superstitious and sinful. See Deut. xviii. 10. and Ecclesiasticus xxxiv. 2, 3.

and ſtood, and your ſheaves ſtanding about bowed down before my ſheaf.

8 His brethren anſwered: Shalt thou be our king? or ſhall we be ſubject to thy dominion? Therefore this matter of his dreams and words miniſtered nouriſhment to their envy and hatred.

9 He dreamed alſo another dream, which he told his brethren, ſaying: I ſaw in a dream, as it were the ſun, and the moon, and eleven ſtars worſhipping me.

10 And when he had told this to his father, and brethren, his father rebuked him and ſaid: What meaneth this dream that thou haſt dreamed? ſhall I and thy mother, and thy brethren worſhip thee upon the earth.

11 His brethren therefore envied him: but his father conſidered the thing with himſelf.

12 And when his brethren abode in Sichem, feeding their father's flocks,

13 Iſrael ſaid to him: Thy brethren feed the ſheep in Sichem: come, I will ſend thee to them. And when he anſwered:

14 I am ready: he ſaid to him: Go, and ſee if all things be well with thy brethren, and the cattle: and bring me word again what is doing. So being ſent from the vale of Hebron, he came to Sichem:

15 And a man found him there wandering in the field, and aſked what he ſought.

16 But he anſwered: I ſeek my brethren, tell me where they feed the flocks.

17 And the man ſaid to him: They are departed from this place: for I heard them ſay: Let us go to Dothain. And Joſeph went forward after his brethren, and found them in Dothain.

18 And when they ſaw him a-far off, before he came nigh them, they thought to kill him:

19 And ſaid one to another: Behold the dreamer cometh.

20 Come, let us kill him, and caſt him into ſome old pit: and we will ſay: Some evil beaſt hath devoured him: and then it ſhall appear what his dreams avail him.

‖ Infra 42. 22. 21 ‖ And Ruben hearing this, endeavoured to deliver him out of their hands, and ſaid:

22 Do not take away his life, nor ſhed his blood: but caſt him into this pit, that is in the wilderneſs, and keep your hands harmleſs: now he ſaid this, being deſirous to deliver him out of their hands and to reſtore him to his father.

23 And as ſoon as he came to his brethren, they forthwith ſtript him of his outſide coat, that was of divers colours:

24 And caſt him into an old pit where there was no water.

25 And ſitting down to eat bread, they ſaw ſome Iſmaelites on their way coming from Galaad, with their camels, carrying ſpices, and balm, and myrrh to Egypt.

26 And Juda ſaid to his brethren: What will it profit us to kill our brother, and conceal his blood?

27 It is better that he be ſold to the Iſmaelites, and that our hands be not defiled: for he is our brother and our fleſh. His brethren agreed to his words.

28 ‖ And when the Madianite merchants paſſed by, they drew him out of the pit, and ſold him to the Iſmaelites, for twenty pieces of ſilver: and they led him into Egypt.* ‖ Wiſ. 10. 13.

29 And Ruben returning to the pit, found not the boy: * A. M. 2276. Ante C. 1728.

30 And rending his garments he went to his brethren, and ſaid: The boy doth not appear, and whither ſhall I go?

31 And they took his coat, and dipped it in the blood of a kid, which they had killed:

32 Sending ſome to carry it to their father, and to ſay: This we have found: ſee whether it be thy ſon's coat, or no.

33 And the father acknowledging it, ſaid: It is my ſon's coat, an evil wild beaſt hath eaten him, a beaſt hath devoured Joſeph.

34 And tearing his garments, he put on ſackcloth, mourning for his ſon a long time.

35 And all his children being gathered together to comfort their father in his ſorrow, he would not receive comfort, but ſaid: I will go down to my ſon into hell, mourning. And whilſt he continued weeping, 36 The Madianites ſold Joſeph in Egypt to Putiphar an eunuch of Pharao, captain of the ſoldiers.

VER. 10. Worſhip. This word is not uſed here to ſignify divine worſhip, but an inferior veneration, expreſſed by the bowing of the body, and that according to the manner of the eaſtern nations, down to the ground.

VER. 35. Into hell. That is, into limbo, the place where the ſouls of the juſt were received before the death of our Redeemer. For allowing that the word hell ſometimes is taken for the grave, it cannot be ſo taken in this place; ſince Jacob did not believe his ſon to be in the grave, (whom he ſuppoſed to be devoured by a wild beaſt) and therefore could not mean to go down to him thither: but certainly meant the place of reſt, where he believed his ſoul to be.

VER. 36. An eunuch. This word ſometimes ſignifies a chamberlain, courtier, or officer of the king: and ſo it is taken in this place.

CHAP. XXXVIII.

The ſons of Juda: the death of Her and Onan: the birth of Pharcs and Zara.

AT that time Juda went down from his brethren, and turned in to a certain Odollamite, named Hiras.

‖ 1 Par. 2. 1. 2 ‖ And he ſaw there the daughter of a man of Chanaan, called Sue: and taking her to wife, he went in unto her.

3 And ſhe conceived, and bore a ſon, and called his name Her.

‖ Num. 26. 19. 4 ‖ And conceiving again, ſhe bore a ſon, and called him Onan.

5 She bore alſo a third: whom ſhe called Sela. After whoſe birth, ſhe ceaſed to bear any more.

6 And Juda took a wife for Her his firſt born, whoſe name was Thamar.

‖ Num. 26. 19. 7 ‖ And Her the firſt born of Juda, was wicked in the ſight of the Lord: and was ſlain by him.

8 Juda therefore ſaid to Onan his ſon: Go in to thy brother's wife and marry her, that thou mayſt raiſe ſeed to thy brother.

9 He knowing that the children ſhould not be his, when he went in to his brother's wife, he ſpilled his ſeed upon the ground, leſt children ſhould be born in his brother's name.

10 And therefore the Lord ſlew him, becauſe he did a deteſtable thing.

11 Wherefore Juda ſaid to Thamar his daughter-in-law: Remain a widow in thy father's houſe, till Sela my ſon grow up: for he was afraid leſt he alſo might die, as his brethren did. She went her way and dwelt in her father's houſe.

12 And after many days were paſt: the daughter of Sue the wife of Juda died: and when he had taken comfort after his mourning, he went up to Thamnas, to the ſhearers of his ſheep, he and Hiras the Odollamite the ſhepherd of his flock.

13 And it was told Thamar that her father-in-law was come up to Thamnas to ſhear his ſheep.

14 And ſhe put off the garments of her widowhood, and took a veil: and changing her dreſs, ſat in the croſs way, that leadeth to Thamnas: becauſe Sela was grown up, and ſhe had not been married to him.

15 When Juda ſaw her, he thought ſhe was a harlot: for ſhe had covered her face, leſt ſhe ſhould be known.

16 And going to her, he ſaid: Suffer me to lie with thee: for he knew her not to be his daughter-in-law. And ſhe anſwered: What wilt thou give me to enjoy my company?

17 He ſaid: I will ſend thee a kid out of the flock. And when ſhe ſaid again: I will ſuffer what thou wilt, if thou give me a pledge, till thou ſend what thou promiſeſt.

18 Juda ſaid: What wilt thou have for a pledge? She anſwered: Thy ring and bracelet, and the ſtaff which thou holdeſt in thy hand. The woman therefore at one copulation conceived.

19 And ſhe aroſe and went her way: and putting off the apparel which ſhe had taken, put on the garments of her widowhood.

20 And Juda ſent a kid by his ſhepherd, the Odollamite, that he might receive the pledge again, which he had given to the woman: but he, not finding her,

21 Aſked the men of that place: Where is the woman that ſat in the croſs way? And when they all made anſwer: There was no harlot in this place.

22 He returned to Juda, and ſaid to him: I have not found her, moreover the men of that place ſaid to me, that there never ſat a harlot there.

23 Juda ſaid: Let her take it to herſelf, ſurely ſhe cannot charge us with a lie, I ſent the kid which I promiſed: and thou didſt not find her.

24 And behold after three months they told Juda, ſaying: Thamar thy daughter-in-law hath played the harlot, and ſhe appeareth to have a big belly. And Juda ſaid: Bring her out that ſhe may be burnt.

25 But when ſhe was led to execution, ſhe ſent to her father-in-law, ſaying: By the man, to whom theſe things belong, I am with child. See whoſe ring, and bracelet, and ſtaff this is.

26 But he acknowledging the gifts, ſaid: She is juſter than I: becauſe I did not give her to Sela my ſon. However he knew her no more.

‖ Mat 1. 3. 27 ‖ And when ſhe was ready to be brought to bed, there appeared twins in her womb: and in the very delivery of the infants, one put forth a hand, whereon the midwife tied a ſcarlet thread, ſaying:

28 This ſhall come forth the firſt.

29 But he drawing back his hand, the other came forth: and the woman ſaid: Why is the partition divided for thee? and therefore called his name Phares.

‖ 1 Par. 2. 4. 30 ‖ Afterwards his brother came out, on whoſe hand was the ſcarlet thread: and ſhe called him Zara.

CHAP. XXXVIII. VER. 29. Pharcs. That is, a breach or diviſion.

CHAP. XXXIX.

Joseph hath charge of his master's house: rejecteth his mistress's solicitations: is falsely accused by her, and cast into prison, where he hath the charge of all the prisoners.

AND Joseph was brought into Egypt, and Putiphar an eunuch of Pharao, chief captain of the army, an Egyptian, bought him of the Ismaelites, by whom he was brought.

2 And the Lord was with him, and he was a prosperous man in all things: and he dwelt in his master's house:

3 Who knew very well that the Lord was with him, and made all that he did, to prosper in his hand.

4 And Joseph found favour in the sight of his master, and ministered to him: and being set over all by him, he governed the house committed to him, and all things that were delivered to him:

5 And the Lord blessed the house of the Egyptian for Joseph's sake, and multiplied all his substance, both at home, and in the fields.

6 Neither knew he any other thing, but the bread which he ate. And Joseph was of a beautiful countenance, and comely to behold.

* A. M. circiter 2286. Ante C. 1718. 7 *And after many days his mistress cast her eyes on Joseph, and said: Lie with me.

8 But he in no wise consenting to that wicked act, said to her: Behold, my master hath delivered all things to me, and knoweth not what he hath in his own house:

9 Neither is there any thing which is not in my power, or that he hath not delivered to me, but thee, who art his wife: how then can I do this wicked thing, and sin against my God?

10 With such words as these day by day, both the woman was importunate with the young man, and he refused the adultery.

11 Now it happened on a certain day, that Joseph went into the house, and was doing some business without any man with him:

12 And she catching the skirt of his garment, said: Lie with me. But he leaving the garment in her hand, fled, and went out.

13 And when the woman saw the garment in her hands, and herself disregarded,

14 She called to her the men of her house, and said to them: See, he hath brought in a Hebrew, to abuse us: he came in to me, to lie with me: and when I cried out,

15 And he heard my voice, he left the garment that I held, and got him out.

16 For a proof therefore of her fidelity, she kept the garment, and shewed it to her husband when he returned home:

17 And said: the Hebrew servant, whom thou hast brought, came to me to abuse me.

18 And when he heard me cry, he left the garment which I held, and fled out.

19 His master hearing these things, and giving too much credit to his wife's words, was very angry,

20 ‖ And cast Joseph into the prison, where the king's prisoners were kept, and he was there shut up. ‖ Ps. 104. 18.

21 But the Lord was with Joseph, and having mercy upon him gave him favour in the sight of the chief keeper of the prison:

22 Who delivered into his hand all the prisoners that were kept in custody: and whatsoever was done, was under him.

23 Neither did he himself know any thing, having committed all things to him: for the Lord was with him, and made all that he did to prosper.

CHAP. XL.

Joseph interpreteth the dreams of two of Pharao's servants in prison: the event declareth the interpretations to be true, but Joseph is forgotten.

AFTER this, it came to pass, that two eunuchs, the butler and the baker of the king of Egypt, offended their lord. A. M. 2287. Ante C. 1717.

2 And Pharao being angry with them (now the one was chief butler, the other chief baker)

3 He sent them to the prison of the commander of the soldiers, in which Joseph also was prisoner.

4 But the keeper of the prison delivered them to Joseph, and he served them. Some little time passed, and they were kept in custody.

5 And they both dreamed a dream the same night, according to the interpretation agreeing to themselves:

6 And when Joseph was come in to them in the morning, and saw them sad,

7 He asked them, saying: Why is your countenance sadder to-day than usual?

8 They answered: We have dreamed a dream, and there is nobody to interpret it to us. And Joseph said to them: Doth not interpretation belong to God? Tell me what you have dreamed?

CHAP. XXXIX. VER. 16. A proof of her fidelity: or an argument to gain credit, argumentum fidei.

CHAP. XL. VER. 8. Doth not interpretation belong to God. When dreams are from God, as these were,

9 The chief butler firſt told his dream: I ſaw before me a vine,

10 On which were three branches, which by little and little ſent out buds, and after the bloſſoms brought forth ripe grapes:

11 And the cup of Pharao was in my hand: and I took the grapes, and preſſed them into the cup which I held, and I gave the cup to Pharao.

12 Joſeph anſwered: This is the interpretation of the dream: The three branches, are yet three days:

13 After which Pharao will remember thy ſervice, and will reſtore thee to thy former place: and thou ſhalt preſent him the cup according to thy office, as before thou waſt wont to do.

14 Only remember me, when it ſhall be well with thee, and do me this kindneſs: to put Pharao in mind to take me out of this priſon:

15 For I was ſtolen away out of the land of the Hebrews, and here without any fault was caſt into the dungeon.

16 The chief baker ſeeing that he had wiſely interpreted the dream, ſaid: I alſo dreamed a dream, That I had three baſkets of meal upon my head:

17 And that in one baſket which was uppermoſt, I carried all meats that are made by the art of baking, and that the birds ate out of it.

18 Joſeph anſwered: This is the interpretation of the dream: The three baſkets, are yet three days:

19 After which Pharao will take thy head from thee, and hang thee on a croſs, and the birds ſhall tear thy fleſh.

20 The third day after this was the birth-day of Pharao: and he made a great feaſt for his ſervants, and at the banquet remembered the chief butler, and the chief baker.

21 And he reſtored the one to his place, to preſent him the cup:

22 The other he hanged on a gibbet, that the truth of the interpreter might be ſhewn.

23 But the chief butler, when things proſpered with him, forgot his interpreter.

CHAP. XLI.

Joſeph interpreteth the two dreams of Pharao: he is made ruler over all Egypt.

AFTER two years Pharao had a dream. A. M. 2289. Ante C. 1715.
He thought he ſtood by the river,

2 Out of which came up ſeven kine, very beautiful and fat: and they fed in marſhy places.

3 Other ſeven alſo came up out of the river, ill-favoured, and lean fleſhed: and they fed on the very bank of the river, in green places:

4 And they devoured them, whoſe bodies were very beautiful and well conditioned. So Pharao awoke.

5 He ſlept again, and dreamed another dream: Seven ears of corn came up upon one ſtalk full and fair:

6 Then ſeven other ears ſprung up thin and blaſted,

7 And devoured all the beauty of the former. Pharao awaked after his reſt:

8 And when morning was come, being ſtruck with fear, he ſent to all the interpreters of Egypt, and to all the wiſe men: and they being called for, he told them his dream, and there was not any one that could interpret it.

9 Then at length the chief butler remembering, ſaid: I confeſs my ſin:

10 The king being angry with his ſervants, commanded me and the chief baker to be caſt into the priſon of the captain of the ſoldiers:

11 Where in one night both of us dreamed a dream foreboding things to come.

12 There was there a young man a Hebrew, ſervant to the ſame captain of the ſoldiers: to whom we told our dreams,

13 And we heard what afterwards the event of the thing proved to be ſo. For I was reſtored to my office: and he was hanged upon a gibbet.

14 Forthwith at the king's command, Joſeph was brought out of the priſon, and they ſhaved him; and changing his apparel, brought him in to him.

15 And he ſaid to him: I have dreamed dreams, and there is no one that can ex-

the interpretation of them is a gift of God. But the generality of dreams are not of this ſort; but either proceed from the natural complexions and diſpoſitions of perſons, or the roving of their imaginations in the day on ſuch objects as they are much affected with, or from their mind being diſturbed with cares and troubles, and oppreſſed with bodily infirmities: or they are ſuggeſted by evil ſpirits, to flatter, or to terrify weak minds; in order to gain belief, and ſo draw them into error or ſuperſtition; or at leaſt to trouble them in their ſleep, whom they cannot move when they are awake: ſo that the general rule, with regard to dreams, is not to obſerve them, nor to give any credit to them.

pound them: Now I have heard that thou art very wise at interpreting them.

‖ Mat. 10. 20. 16 Joseph answered: Without me, ‖ God shall give Pharao a prosperous answer.

17 So Pharao told what he had dreamed: Methought I stood upon the bank of the river,

18 And seven kine came up out of the river, exceeding beautiful and full of flesh: and they grazed on green places in a marshy pasture.

19 And behold, there followed these, other seven kine, so very ill-favoured and lean, that I never saw the like in the land of Egypt:

20 And they devoured and consumed the former,

21 And yet gave no mark of their being full: but were as lean and ill-favoured as before. I awoke, and then fell asleep again,

22 And dreamed a dream: Seven ears of corn grew up upon one stalk, full and very fair.

23 Other seven also thin and blasted, sprung of the stalk:

24 And they devoured the beauty of the former: I told this dream to the conjecturers, and there is no man that can expound it.

25 Joseph answered: The king's dream is one: God hath shewn to Pharao what he is about to do.

26 The seven beautiful kine, and the seven full ears, are seven years of plenty: and both contain the same meaning of the dream.

27 And the seven lean and thin kine that came up after them, and the seven thin ears that were blasted with the burning wind, are seven years of famine to come:

28 Which shall be fulfilled in this order.

29 Behold, there shall come seven years of great plenty in the whole land of Egypt:

30 After which shall follow other seven years of so great scarcity, that all the abundance before shall be forgotten: for the famine shall consume all the land,

31 And the greatness of the scarcity, shall destroy the greatness of the plenty.

32 And for that thou didst see the second time a dream pertaining to the same thing: it is a token of the certainty, and that the word of God cometh to pass, and is fulfilled speedily.

33 Now therefore let the king provide a wise and industrious man, and make him ruler over the land of Egypt:

34 That he may appoint overseers over all the countries: and gather into barns the fifth part of the fruits, during the seven fruitful years,

35 That shall now presently ensue: and let all the corn be laid up, under Pharao's hands, and be reserved in the cities.

36 And let it be readiness, against the famine of seven years to come, which shall oppress Egypt, and the land shall not be consumed with scarcity.

37 The counsel pleased Pharao, and all his servants.

38 And he said to them: Can we find such another man, that is full of the spirit of God?

39 He said therefore to Joseph: Seeing God hath shewn thee all that thou hast said, can I find one wiser and one like unto thee?

‖ Psal. 104. 21. 1 Mac. 2. 53. Acts 7. 10. 40 ‖ Thou shalt be over my house, and at the commandment of thy mouth all the people shall obey: only in the kingly throne will I be above thee.

41 And again Pharao said to Joseph: Behold, I have appointed thee over the whole land of Egypt.

42 And he took his ring from his own hand, and gave it into his hand: and he put upon him a robe of silk, and put a chain of gold about his neck.

43 And he made him go up into his second chariot, the crier proclaiming that all should bow their knee before him, and that they should know he was made governor over the whole land of Egypt.

44 And the king said to Joseph: I am Pharao; without thy commandment no man shall move hand or foot in all the land of Egypt.

45 And he turned his name, and called him in the Egyptian tongue the Saviour of the world. And he gave him to wife Aseneth the daughter of Putiphare priest of Heliopolis. Then Joseph went out to the land of Egypt:

46 (Now he was thirty years old when he stood before king Pharao) and he went round all the countries of Egypt.

47 And the fruitfulness of the seven years came: and the corn being bound up into sheaves was gathered together into the barns of Egypt.

48 And all the abundance of grain was laid up in every city.

49 And there was so great abundance of wheat, that it was equal to the sand of the sea, and the plenty exceeded measure.

‖ Infra 46. 20. & 48. 20. 50 ‖ And before the famine came, Joseph had two sons born: whom Aseneth the daughter of Putiphare priest of Heliopolis bore unto him.

52 And he named the ſecond Ephraim, ſaying: God hath made me to grow in the land of my poverty.

53 Now when the ſeven years of the plenty that had been in Egypt were paſt:

A. M. 2296. Ante C. 1708. * 54 The ſeven years of ſcarcity, which Joſeph had foretold, began to come: and the famine prevailed in the whole world, but there was bread in all the land of Egypt.

55 And when there alſo they began to be famiſhed, the people cried to Pharao, for food. And he ſaid to them: Go to Joſeph: and do all that he ſhall ſay to you.

56 And the famine increaſed daily in all the land: and Joſeph opened all the barns, and ſold to the Egyptians: for the famine had oppreſſed them alſo.

57 And all provinces came into Egypt, to buy food, and to ſeek ſome relief of their want.

CHAP. XLII.

Jacob ſendeth his ten ſons to buy corn in Egypt. Their treatment by Joſeph.

A. M. 2297. Ante C. 1707. AND Jacob hearing that food was ſold in Egypt, ſaid to his ſons: Why are ye careleſs?

2 I have heard that wheat is ſold in Egypt: Go ye down, and buy us neceſſaries, that we may live, and not be conſumed with want.

3 So the ten brethren of Joſeph went down, to buy corn in Egypt:

4 Whilſt Benjamin was kept at home by Jacob, who ſaid to his brethren: Leſt perhaps he take any harm in the journey.

5 And they entered into the land of Egypt with others that went to buy. For the famine was in the land of Chanaan.

6 And Joſeph was governor in the land of Egypt, and corn was ſold by his direction to the people. And when his brethren had bowed down to him,

7 And he knew them, he ſpoke as it were to ſtrangers ſomewhat roughly, aſking them: Whence came you? They anſwered: From the land of Chanaan, to buy neceſſaries of life.

8 And though he knew his brethren, he was not known by them.

9 And remembering the dreams, which formerly he had dreamed, he ſaid to them: You are ſpies: You are come to view the weaker parts of the land.

10 But they ſaid: It is not ſo, my lord, but thy ſervants are come to buy food.

11 We are all the ſons of one man: we are come as peaceable men, neither do thy ſervants go about any evil.

12 And he anſwered them: It is otherwiſe: you are come to conſider the unfenced parts of this land.

13 But they ſaid: We thy ſervants are twelve brethren, the ſons of one man in the land of Chanaan: the youngeſt is with our father, the other is not living.

14 He ſaith, This is it that I ſaid: You are ſpies.

15 I ſhall now preſently try what you are: by the health of Pharao you ſhall not depart hence, until your youngeſt brother come.

16 Send one of you to fetch him: and you ſhall be in priſon, till what you have ſaid be proved, whether it be true or falſe: or elſe by the health of Pharao you are ſpies.

17 So he put them in priſon three days.

18 And the third day he brought them out of priſon, and ſaid: Do as I have ſaid, and you ſhall live: for I fear God.

19 If you be peaceable men, let one of your brethren be bound in priſon: and go ye your ways, and carry the corn that you have bought, unto your houſes,

‖ Infra 43. 3. & 5. 20 ‖ And bring your youngeſt brother to me, that I may find your words to be true, and you may not die. They did as he had ſaid.

21 And they talked one to another: We deſerve to ſuffer theſe things, becauſe we have ſinned againſt our brother, ſeeing the anguiſh of his ſoul, when he beſought us, and we would not hear: therefore is this affliction come upon us.

‖ Supra 37. 21. 22 And Ruben, one of them ſaid: Did not I ſay to you: ‖ Do not ſin againſt the boy: and you would not hear me? Behold his blood is required.

23 And they knew not that Joſeph underſtood, becauſe he ſpoke to them by an interpreter.

24 And he turned himſelf away a little while, and wept: and returning he ſpoke to them.

25 And taking Simeon, and binding him in their preſence, he commanded his ſervants to fill their ſacks with wheat, and to put every man's money again in their ſacks, and to give them beſides proviſions for the way: and they did ſo.

26 But they having loaded their aſſes with the corn, went their way.

27 And one of them opening his ſack, to give his beaſt provender in the inn, ſaw the money in the ſack's mouth.

28 And ſaid to his brethren: My money is given me again, behold it is in the ſack. And they were aſtoniſhed, and troubled, and ſaid to one another: What is this, that God hath done unto us?

29 And they came to Jacob their father in the land of Chanaan, and they told him all things that had befallen them, ſaying:

30 The lord of the land ſpoke roughly to us, and took us to be ſpies of the country.

31 And we anſwered him: We are peaceable men, and we mean no plot.

32 We are twelve brethren born of one father: one is not living, the youngeſt is with our father in the land of Chanaan.

33 And he ſaid to us: Hereby ſhall I know that you are peaceable men: Leave one of your brethren with me, and take ye neceſſary proviſion for your houſes, and go your ways,

34 And bring your youngeſt brother to me, that I may know you are not ſpies: and you may receive this man again, that is kept in priſon: and afterwards may have leave to buy what you will.

35 When they had told this, they poured out their corn, and every man found his money tied in the mouth of his ſack: and all being aſtoniſhed together,

36 Their father Jacob ſaid: You have made me to be without children: Joſeph is not living, Simeon is kept in bonds, and Benjamin you will take away: all theſe evils are fallen upon me.

37 And Ruben anſwered him: Kill my two ſons, if I bring him not again to thee: deliver him into my hand, and I will reſtore him to thee.

38 But he ſaid: My ſon ſhall not go down with you: his brother is dead, and he is left alone: if any miſchief befall him in the land to which you go, you will bring down my grey hairs with ſorrow to hell.

CHAP. XLIII.

The ſons of Jacob go again into Egypt with Benjamin. They are entertained by Joſeph.

A. M. 2298. Ante C. 1706.

IN the mean time the famine was heavy upon all the land.

2 And when they had eaten up all the corn, which they had brought out of Egypt, Jacob ſaid to his ſons: Go again, and buy us a little food.

3 Juda anſwered: The man declared unto us with the atteſtation of an oath, ſaying: You ſhall not ſee my face, unleſs you bring your youngeſt brother with you.

4 If therefore thou wilt ſend him with us, we will ſet out together, and will buy neceſſaries for thee.

5 But if thou wilt not, we will not go: for the man, as we have often ſaid, declared unto us, ſaying: ‖ You ſhall not ſee my face without your youngeſt brother. ‖ Supra 42. 20.

6 Iſrael ſaid to them: You have done this for my miſery, in that you told him you had alſo another brother.

7 But they anſwered: The man aſked us in order concerning our kindred: if our father lived: if we had a brother: and we anſwered him regularly, according to what he demanded: could we know that he would ſay: Bring hither your brother with you?

8 And Juda ſaid to his father: Send the boy with me, that we may ſet forward, and may live: leſt both we and our children periſh.

9 ‖ I take the boy upon me, require him at my hand: unleſs I bring him again, and reſtore him to thee, I will be guilty of ſin againſt thee for ever. ‖ Infra 44. 32.

10 If delay had not been made, we had been here again the ſecond time.

11 Then Iſrael ſaid to them: If it muſt needs be ſo, do what you will: take of the beſt fruits of the land in your veſſels, and carry down preſents to the man, a little balm, and honey, and ſtorax, myrrh, turpentine, and almonds.

12 And take with you double money, and carry back what you found in your ſacks, leſt perhaps it was done by miſtake.

13 And take alſo your brother, and go to the man.

14 And may my almighty God make him favourable to you: and ſend back with you your brother, whom he keepeth, and this

Benjamin: and as for me I ſhall be deſolate without children.

15 So the men took the preſents, and double money, and Benjamin: and went down into Egypt, and ſtood before Joſeph.

16 And when he had ſeen them, and Benjamin with them, he commanded the ſteward of his houſe, ſaying: Bring in the men into the houſe, and kill victims, and prepare a feaſt: becauſe they ſhall eat with me at noon.

17 He did as he was commanded, and brought the men into the houſe.

18 And they being much afraid, ſaid there one to another: Becauſe of the money, which we carried back the firſt time in our ſacks, we are brought in: that he may bring upon us a falſe accuſation, and by violence make ſlaves of us and our aſſes.

19 Wherefore going up to the ſteward of the houſe, at the door,

20 They ſaid: Sir, we deſire thee to hear
‖ Supra 42. 3. us. ‖ We came down once before to buy food:

21 And when we had bought, and were come to the inn, we opened our ſacks, and found our money in the mouths of the ſacks: which we have now brought again in the ſame weight.

22 And we have brought other money beſides, to buy what we want: we cannot tell, who put it in our bags.

23 But he anſwered: Peace be with you, fear not: your God, and the God of your father hath given you treaſure in your ſacks. For the money, which you gave me, I have for good. And he brought Simeon out to them.

24 And having brought them into the houſe, he fetched water, and they waſhed their feet, and he gave provender to their aſſes.

25 But they made ready the preſents, againſt Joſeph came at noon: for they had heard that they ſhould eat bread there.

26 Then Joſeph came in to his houſe, and they offered him the preſents holding them in their hands, and they bowed down with their face to the ground.

27 But he courteouſly ſaluting them again, aſked them, ſaying: Is the old man your father in health of whom you told me? Is he yet living?

28 And they anſwered: Thy ſervant our father is in health, he is yet living. And bowing themſelves, they made obeiſance to him.

29 And Joſeph lifting up his eyes, ſaw Benjamin his brother, by the ſame mother, and ſaid: Is this your young brother, of whom you told me? And he ſaid: God be gracious to thee my ſon.

30 And he made haſte becauſe his heart was moved upon his brother, and tears guſhed out: and going into his chamber he wept.

31 And when he had waſhed his face, coming out again, he refrained himſelf, and ſaid: Set bread on the table.

32 And when it was ſet on, for Joſeph a part, and for his brethren a part, for the Egyptians alſo that ate with him, a part (for it is unlawful for the Egyptians to eat with the Hebrews, and they think ſuch a feaſt prophane):

33 They ſat before him, the firſt-born according to his birth-right, and the youngeſt according to his age. And they wondered very much:

34 Taking the meſſes which they received of him: and the greater meſs came to Benjamin, ſo that it exceeded by five parts. And they drank, and were merry with him.

CHAP. XLIV.

Joſeph's contrivance to ſtop his brethren. The humble ſupplication of Juda.

AND Joſeph commanded the ſteward of his houſe, ſaying: Fill their ſacks with corn, as much as they can hold: and put the money of every one in the top of his ſack.

2 And in the mouth of the younger's ſack put my ſilver cup, and the price which he gave for the wheat. And it was ſo done.

3 And when the morning aroſe, they were ſent away with their aſſes.

4 And when they were now departed out of the city, and had gone forward a little way: Joſeph ſending for the ſteward of his houſe, ſaid: Ariſe, and purſue after the men: and when thou haſt overtaken them ſay to them: Why have you returned evil for good?

5 The cup which you have ſtolen, is that in which my lord drinketh, and in which he is wont to divine: you have done a very evil thing.

6 He did as he had commanded him. And having overtaken them, he ſpoke to them the ſame words.

7 And they anſwered: Why doth our lord ſpeak ſo, as though thy ſervants had committed ſo heinous a fact?

CHAP. XLIV. VER. 5. To divine. This was ſpoken by Joſeph to his ſteward in jeſt; alluding to the notion of the people, who took him to be a diviner.

8 The money, that we found in the top of our ſacks, we brought back to thee from the land of Chanaan: how then ſhould it be that we ſhould ſteal out of thy lord's houſe, gold or ſilver?

9 With whomſoever of thy ſervants ſhall be found that which thou ſeekeſt, let him die, and we will be the bondmen of my lord.

10 And he ſaid to them: Let it be according to your ſentence: with whomſoever it ſhall be found, let him be my ſervant, and you ſhall be blameleſs.

11 Then they ſpeedily took down their ſacks to the ground, and every man opened his ſack.

12 Which when he had ſearched, beginning at the eldeſt and ending at the youngeſt, he found the cup in Benjamin's ſack.

13 Then they rent their garments, and loading their aſſes again, returned into the town.

14 And Juda at the head of his brethren went in to Joſeph (for he was not yet gone out of the place) and they all together fell down before him on the ground.

15 And he ſaid to them: Why would you do ſo? know you not that there is no one like me in the ſcience of divining.

16 And Juda ſaid to him: What ſhall we anſwer my lord? or what ſhall we ſay, or be able juſtly to allege? God hath found out the iniquity of thy ſervants: behold, we are all bondmen to my lord, both we, and he with whom the cup was found.

17 Joſeph anſwered: God forbid that I ſhould do ſo: he that ſtole the cup, he ſhall be my bondman: and go you away free to your father.

18 Then Juda coming nearer, ſaid boldly: I beſeech thee, my lord, let thy ſervant ſpeak a word in thy ears, and be not angry with thy ſervant: for after Pharao thou art

‖ Supra 42. 43. 19 My lord. ‖ Thou didſt aſk thy ſervants the firſt time: Have you a father or a brother?

20 And we anſwered thee my lord: We have a father an old man, and a young boy, that was born in his old age; whoſe brother by the mother is dead; and he alone is left of his mother, and his father loveth him tenderly.

21 And thou ſaidſt to thy ſervants: Bring him hither to me, and I will ſet my eyes on him.

22 We ſuggeſted to my lord: The boy cannot leave his father: for if he leave him, he will die.

23 ‖ And thou ſaidſt to thy ſervants: Except your youngeſt brother come with you, you ſhall ſee my face no more. ‖ Supra 43. 3. & 5.

24 Therefore when we were gone up to thy ſervant our father, we told him all that my lord had ſaid.

25 And our father ſaid: Go again, and buy us a little wheat.

26 And we ſaid to him: We cannot go: if our youngeſt brother go down with us, we will ſet out together: otherwiſe, without him we dare not ſee the man's face.

27 Whereunto he anſwered: You know that my wife bore me two.

28 One went out, and you ſaid: ‖ A beaſt devoured him: and hitherto he appeareth not. ‖ Supra 37. 20. & 33.

29 If you take this alſo, and any thing befall him in the way, you will bring down my grey hairs with ſorrow unto hell.

30 Therefore if I ſhall go to thy ſervant our father, and the boy be wanting (whereas his life dependeth upon the life of him);

31 And he ſhall ſee that he is not with us, he will die, and thy ſervants ſhall bring down his grey hairs with ſorrow unto hell.

32 Let me be thy proper ſervant, who took him into my truſt and promiſed ſaying: ‖ If I bring him not again, I will be guilty of ſin againſt my father for ever. ‖ Supra 43. 9.

33 Therefore I thy ſervant will ſtay inſtead of the boy in the ſervice of my lord, and let the boy go up with his brethren.

34 For I cannot return to my father without the boy, leſt I be a witneſs of the calamity that will oppreſs my father.

Joſeph maketh himſelf known to his brethren: and ſendeth for his father.

JOSEPH could no longer refrain himſelf before many that ſtood by: whereupon he commanded that all ſhould go out, and no ſtranger be preſent at their knowing one another.

2 And he lifted up his voice with weeping, which the Egyptians, and all the houſe of Pharao heard.

VER. 15. The ſcience of divining. He ſpeaks of himſelf according to what he was eſteemed in that kingdom. And indeed, he being truly a prophet, knew more without compariſon than any of the Egyptian ſorcerers.

VER. 31. His grey hairs. That is, his perſon, now far advanced in years. With ſorrow unto hell: the Hebrew word for hell is here Sheol, the Greek Hades: it is not taken for the hell of the damned; but for that place of ſouls below where the ſervants of God were kept before the coming of Chriſt. Which place, both in the ſcripture and in the creed, is named hell.

3 And he said to his brethren: I am Joseph: is my father yet living? His brethren could not answer him, being struck with exceeding great fear.

4 And he said mildly to them: Come nearer to me. And when they were come near him, he said: ‖ I am Joseph, your brother, whom you sold into Egypt.

‖ Acts 7. 13.

5 Be not afraid, and let it not seem to you a hard case that you sold me into these countries: ‖ for God sent me before you into Egypt for your preservation.

‖ Infra 50. 20.

6 For it is two years since the famine began to be upon the land, and five years more remain, wherein there can be neither plowing nor reaping.

7 And God sent me before, that you may be preserved upon the earth, and may have food to live.

8 Not by your counsel was I sent hither, but by the will of God: who hath made me as it were a father to Pharao, and lord of his whole house, and governor in all the land of Egypt.

9 Make haste, and go ye up to my father, and say to him: Thus saith thy son Joseph: God hath made me lord of the whole land of Egypt: come down to me, linger not.

10 And thou shalt dwell in the land of Gessen: and thou shalt be near me, thou and thy sons, and thy sons sons, thy sheep, and thy herds, and all things that thou hast.

11 And there I will feed thee (for there are yet five years of famine remaining) lest both thou perish, and thy house, and all things that thou hast.

12 Behold, your eyes, and the eyes of my brother Benjamin see that it is my mouth that speaketh to you.

13 You shall tell my father of all my glory, and all things that you have seen in Egypt: make haste and bring him to me.

14 And falling upon the neck of his brother Benjamin, he embraced him and wept: and Benjamin in like manner wept also on his neck.

15 And Joseph kissed all his brethren, and wept upon every one of them: after which they were emboldened to speak to him.

16 And it was heard, and the fame was abroad in the king's court: The brethren of Joseph are come: and Pharao with all his family was glad.

17 And he spoke to Joseph that he should give orders to his brethren, saying: Load your beasts, and go into the land of Chanaan,

18 And bring away from thence your father and kindred, and come to me: and I will give you all the good things of Egypt, that you may eat the marrow of the land.

19 Give orders also that they take waggons out of the land of Egypt, for the carriage of their children and their wives: and say: Take up your father, and make haste to come with all speed:

20 And leave nothing of your household-stuff: for all the riches of Egypt shall be yours.

21 And the sons of Israel did as they were bid. And Joseph gave them waggons according to Pharao's commandment: and provisions for the way.

22 He ordered also to be brought out for every one of them two robes: but to Benjamin he gave three hundred pieces of silver with five robes of the best:

23 Sending to his father as much money and raiment, adding besides ten he-asses to carry off all the riches of Egypt, and as many she-asses, carrying wheat and bread for the journey.

24 So he sent away his brethren, and at their departing said to them: Be not angry in the way.

25 And they went up out of Egypt, and came into the land of Chanaan to their father Jacob.

26 And they told him, saying: Joseph thy son is living: and he is ruler in all the land of Egypt. Which when Jacob heard, he awaked as it were out of a deep sleep, yet did not believe them.

27 They on the other side told the whole order of the thing. And when he saw the waggons and all that he had sent, his spirit revived,

28 And he said: It is enough for me, if Joseph my son be yet living: I will go, and see him before I die.

CHAP. XLVI.

Israel warranted by a vision from God, goeth down into Egypt with all his family.

AND Israel taking his journey, with all that he had, came to the well of the oath, and killing victims there to the God of his father Isaac, A. M. 2298 Ante C. 1706

2 He heard him by a vision in the night calling him, and saying to him: Jacob, Jacob. And he answered him: Lo, here I am.

3 God said to him: I am the most mighty God of thy father: fear not, go down into Egypt, for I will make a great nation of thee there.

CHAP. XLVI. VER. 1. The well of the oath. Bersabee.

4 I will go down with thee thither, and will bring thee back again from thence: Joseph also shall put his hands upon thy eyes.

30 And the father said to Joseph: Now shall I die with joy, because I have seen thy face, and leave thee alive.

31 And Joseph said to his brethren, and to all his father's house: I will go up, and will tell Pharao, and will say to him: My brethren, and my father's house, that were in the land of Chanaan, are come to me:

32 And the men are shepherds, and their occupation is to feed cattle: their flocks, and herds, and all they have, they have brought with them.

33 And when he shall call you, and shall say: What is your occupation?

34 You shall answer: We thy servants are shepherds, from our infancy until now, both we and our fathers. And this you shall say, that you may dwell in the land of Gessen, because the Egyptians have all shepherds in abomination.

CHAP. XLVII.

Jacob and his sons are presented before Pharao: he giveth them the land of Gessen. The famine forceth the Egyptians to sell all their possessions to the king.

THEN Joseph went in and told Pharao, saying: My father and brethren, their sheep and their herds, and all that they possess, are come out of the land of Chanaan: and behold they stay in the land of Gessen.

2 Five men also the last of his brethren, he presented before the king:

3 And he asked them: What is your occu-

CHAP. XLVII. VER. 2. The last. Extremos. Some interpret this word of the chiefest, and most sightly: but Joseph seems rather to have chosen out such as had the meanest appearance, that Pharao might not think of employing them at court, with danger of their morals and religion.

pation? They answered: We thy servants are shepherds, both we, and our fathers.

4 We are come to sojourn in thy land, because there is no grass for the flocks of thy servants, the famine being very grievous in the land of Chanaan: and we pray thee to give orders that we thy servants may be in the land of Gessen.

5 The king therefore said to Joseph: Thy father and thy brethren are come to thee.

6 The land of Egypt is before thee: make them dwell in the best place, and give them the land of Gessen. And if thou knowest that there are industrious men among them, make them rulers over my cattle.

7 After this Joseph brought in his father to the king, and presented him before him: and he blessed him.

8 And being asked by him: How many are the days of the years of thy life?

9 He answered: The days of my pilgrimage are a hundred and thirty years, few, and evil, and they are not come up to the days of the pilgrimage of my fathers.

10 And blessing the king, he went out.

11 But Joseph gave a possession to his father and his brethren in Egypt, in the best place of the land, in Rameses, as Pharao had commanded.

12 And he nourished them, and all his father's house, allowing food to every one.

13 For in the whole world there was want of bread, and a famine had oppressed the land, more especially of Egypt and Chanaan.

14 Out of which he gathered up all the money for the corn which they bought, and brought it in to the king's treasure.

15 And when the buyers wanted money, all Egypt came to Joseph, saying: * Give us bread: why should we die in thy presence, having now no money?

* A. M. 2300. Ante C. 1704.

16 And he answered them: Bring me your cattle, and for them I will give you food, if you have no money.

17 And when they had brought them, he gave them food in exchange for their horses, and sheep, and oxen, and asses: and he maintained them that year for the exchange of their cattle.

18 And they came the second year, and said to him: We will not hide from our lord, how that our money is spent, and our cattle also are gone: neither art thou ignorant, that we have nothing now left but our bodies and our lands.

19 Why therefore shall we die before thy eyes? we will be thine, both we and our lands: buy us to be the king's servants, and give us seed, lest for want of tillers the land be turned into a wilderness.

20 So Joseph bought all the land of Egypt, every man selling his possessions, because of the greatness of the famine. And he brought it into Pharao's hands:

21 And all its people from one end of the borders of Egypt, even to the other end thereof,

22 Except the land of the priests, which had been given them by the king: to whom also a certain allowance of food was given out of the public stores, and therefore they were not forced to sell their possessions.

23 Then Joseph said to the people: Behold, as you see, both you and your lands belong to Pharao: take seed, and sow the fields,

24 That you may have corn. The fifth part you shall give to the king: the other four you shall have for seed, and for food for your families and children.

25 And they answered: Our life is in thy hand: only let my lord look favourably upon us, and we will gladly serve the king.

26 From that time unto this day, in the whole land of Egypt, the fifth part is paid to the kings, and it is become as a law, except the land of the priests, which was free from this covenant.

27 So Israel dwelt in Egypt, that is, in the land of Gessen, and possessed it: and grew, and was multiplied exceedingly.

28 And he lived in it seventeen years: and all the days of his life came to a hundred and forty seven years.

29 * And when he saw that the day of his death drew nigh, he called his son Joseph, and said to him: If I have found favour in thy sight, ‖ put thy hand under my thigh; and thou shalt shew me this kindness and truth, not to bury me in Egypt:

* A. M. 2315. Ante C. 1689.

‖ Supra 24. 2.

30 But I will sleep with my fathers and thou shalt take me away out of this land, and bury me in the burying place of my ancestors. ‖ And Joseph answered him: I will do what thou hast commanded.

‖ Supra 47. 17.

31 And he said: Swear then to me. And as he was swearing, Israel adored God, turning to the bed's head.

VER. 31. To the bed's head. St. Paul, Heb. xi. 21. following the Greek translation of the Septuagint, reads adored the top of his rod. Where note, that the same word in the Hebrew, according to the different pointing of it, signifies both a bed and a rod. And to verify both these sentences, we must understand that Jacob leaning on Joseph's rod adored, turning towards the head of his bed: which adoration, inasmuch as it was referred to God, was an absolute, and sovereign worship: but inasmuch as it was referred to the rod of Joseph, as a figure of the sceptre, that is, of the royal dignity of Christ, was only an inferior and relative honour.

CHAP. XLVIII.

Joseph visited his father in his sickness, who adopteth his two sons Manasses and Ephraim, and blesseth them, preferring the younger before the elder.

A. M. 2315. AFTER these things, it was told Joseph that his father was sick: and he set out to go to him, taking his two sons Manasses and Ephraim.

2 And it was told the old man: Behold thy son Joseph cometh to thee. And being strengthened he sat on his bed.

3 And when Joseph was come in to him, ¶ Supra 28. 13. he said: ‖ God almighty appeared to me at Luza, which is in the land of Chanaan: and he blessed me,

4 And said: I will cause thee to increase and multiply, and I will make of thee a multitude of people: and I will give this land to thee, and to thy seed after thee for an everlasting possession.

¶ Supra 41. 50. 5 ‖ So thy two sons who were born to thee in the land of Egypt before I came hither to thee, shall be mine: † Ephraim and Manasses, † Jos. 13. 7. & 29. shall be reputed to me as Ruben and Simeon.

6 But the rest whom thou shalt have after them, shall be thine, and shall be called by the name of their brethren in their possessions.

7 For, when I came out of Mesopotamia, ‖ Supra 35. 19. ‖ Rachel died from me in the land of Chanaan in the very journey, and it was spring time: and I was going to Ephrata, and I buried her near the way of Ephrata, which by another name is called Bethlehem.

8 Then seeing his sons he said to him: Who are these?

9 He answered: They are my sons, whom God hath given me in this place. And he said: Bring them to me, that I may bless them.

10 For Israel's eyes were dim by reason of his great age, and he could not see clearly. And when they were brought to him, he kissed and embraced them,

11 And said to his son: I am not deprived of seeing thee: moreover God hath shewn me thy seed.

12 And when Joseph had taken them from his father's lap, he bowed down with his face to the ground.

13 And he set Ephraim on his right hand, that is, towards the left hand of Israel: but Manasses on his left hand, to wit, towards his father's right hand, and brought them near to him.

14 But he stretching forth his right hand, put it upon the head of Ephraim the younger brother: and the left upon the head of Manasses who was the elder, changing his hands.

15 ‖ And Jacob blessed the sons of Joseph, ‖ Heb. 11. 21. and said: God, in whose sight my fathers Abraham and Isaac walked, God that feedeth me from my youth until this day:

17 And Joseph seeing that his father had put his right hand upon the head of Ephraim, was much displeased: and taking his father's hand he tried to lift it from Ephraim's head, and to remove it to the head of Manasses.

18 And he said to his father: It should not be so, my father: for this is the first-born, put thy right hand upon his head.

19 But he refusing, said: I know my son, I know: and this also shall become a people, and shall be multiplied: but his younger brother shall be greater than he: and his seed shall grow into nations.

20 And he blessed them at that time, saying: In thee shall Israel be blessed, and it shall be said: God do to thee as to Ephraim, and as to Manasses. And he set Ephraim before Manasses.

21 And he said to Joseph his son: Behold I die, and God will be with you, and will bring you back into the land of your fathers.

VER. 4. Grow thou not. This was not meant by way of a curſe or imprecation: but by way of a prophecy, foretelling that the tribe of Ruben ſhould not inherit the pre-eminences uſually annexed to the firſt birth-right, viz. the double portion, the being prince or lord over the other brethren, and the prieſthood: of which the double portion was given to Joſeph, the princely office to Juda, and the prieſthood to Levi.

VER. 6. Slew a man, viz. Sichem the ſon of Hemor, with all his people, Gen. xxxiv. myſtically and prophetically it alludes to Chriſt, whom their poſterity, viz. the prieſts and the ſcribes, put to death.

VER. 9. A lion's whelp, &c. This bleſſing of Juda foretelleth the ſtrength of his tribe, the fertility of his inheritance; and principally that the ſcepter, and legiſlative power ſhould not be utterly taken away from his race till about the time of the coming of Chriſt: as in effect it never was: which is a demonſtration againſt the modern Jews, that the Meſſiah is long ſince come; for the ſcepter has long ſince been utterly taken away from Juda.

VER. 16. Dan ſhall judge, &c. This was verified in Samſon, who was of the tribe of Dan, and began to deliver Iſrael, Judges xiii. 5. But as this deliverance was but temporal and very imperfect: the holy patriarch (v. 18.) aſpires after another kind of a deliverer, ſaying: I will look for thy ſalvation, O Lord.

VER. 19. Gad being girded, &c. It ſeems to allude to the tribe of Gad; when after they had received for their lot the land of Galaad, they marched in arms before the reſt of the Iſraelites, to the conqueſt of the land of Chanaan: from whence they afterwards returned loaded with ſpoils. See Joſue i. and xxii.

VER. 22. Run to and fro, &c. To behold his beauty; whilſt his envious brethren turned their darts againſt him, &c.

VER. 24. His bow reſted upon the ſtrong, &c. That is, upon God, who was his ſtrength: who alſo looſed his bands, and brought him out of priſon to be the paſtor, that is, the feeder and ruler of Egypt, and the ſtone, that is, the rock and ſupport of Iſrael.

VER. 26. The bleſſings of thy father, &c. That is, thy father's bleſſings are made more prevalent and effectual in thy regard, by the additional ſtrength they receive from his inheriting the bleſſings of his progenitors Abraham and Iſaac.

Ibid. The deſire of the everlaſting hills, &c. Theſe bleſſings all looked forward towards Chriſt, called the deſire of the everlaſting hills, as being longed for, as it were, by the whole creation. Myſtically the patriarchs and prophets are called the everlaſting hills, by reaſon of the eminence of their wiſdom and holineſs.

Ibid. The Nazarite. This word ſignifies one ſeparated: and agrees to Joſeph, as being ſeparated from, and more eminent than, his brethren. As the ancient Nazarites were ſo called from their being ſet aſide for God, and vowed to him.

CHAP. L.

The mourning for Jacob, and his interment. Joseph's kindness towards his brethren. His death.

AND when Joseph saw this, he fell upon his father's face weeping and kissing him.

2 And he commanded his servants the physicians, to embalm his father.

3 And while they were fulfilling his commands, there passed forty days: for this was the manner with bodies that were embalmed, and Egypt mourned for him seventy days.

4 And the time of the mourning being expired, Joseph spoke to the family of Pharao: If I have found favour in your sight, speak in the ears of Pharao:

5 For my father made me swear to him, saying: Behold I die: thou shalt bury me in my sepulchre † which I have digged for myself in the land of Chanaan. So I will go up and bury my father, and return. † Supra 47. 29.

6 And Pharao said to him: Go up and bury thy father according as he made thee swear.

7 So he went up, and there went with him all the ancients of Pharao's house, and all the elders of the land of Egypt.

8 And the house of Joseph with his brethren, except their children, and their flocks and herds, which they left in the land of Gessen.

9 He had also in his train chariots and horsemen: and it was a great company.

10 And they came to the threshing floor of Atad, which is situated beyond the Jordan: where celebrating the exequies with a great and vehement lamentation, they spent full seven days.

11 And when the inhabitants of Chanaan saw this, they said: This is a great mourning to the Egyptians. And therefore the name of that place was called, The mourning of Egypt.

12 So the sons of Jacob did as he had commanded them.

13 And carrying him into the land of Chanaan, ‖ they buried him in the double cave, which Abraham had bought together with the field for a possession of a burying place, of Ephron the Hethite over-against Mambre. ‖ Acts 7. 16. Supra 25. 17.

14 And Joseph returned into Egypt with his brethren, and all that were in his company, after he had buried his father.

15 Now he being dead, his brethren were afraid, and talked one with another: Lest perhaps he should remember the wrong he suffered, and requite us all the evil that we did to him.

16 And they sent a message to him, saying: Thy father commanded us before he died,

17 That we should say thus much to thee from him: I beseech thee to forget the wickedness of thy brethren, and the sin and malice they practised against thee: we also pray thee, to forgive the servants of the God of thy father this wickedness. And when Joseph heard this, he wept.

18 And his brethren came to him: and worshipping prostrate on the ground they said: We are thy servants.

19 And he answered them: Fear not: can we resist the will of God?

CHAP. I.

The Israelites are multiplied in Egypt. They are oppressed by a new king, who commandeth all their male children to be killed.

Gen. 46. 8. THESE are the names of the children of Israel, that went into Egypt with Jacob: they went in every man with his household:

2 Ruben, Simeon, Levi, Juda,
3 Issachar, Zabulon, and Benjamin,
4 Dan, and Nephtali, Gad and Aser.

5 And all the souls that came out of Jacob's thigh, were seventy: ‖ but Joseph was in Egypt. ‖ Gen. 46. 27.

6 After he was dead, and all his brethren, and all that generation,

‡ Acts 7. 17. 7 † The children of Israel increased, and sprung up into multitudes, and growing exceedingly strong they filled the land.

8 In the mean time there arose a new king over Egypt, that knew not Joseph:

9 And he said to his people: Behold the people of the children of Israel are numerous and stronger than we.

10 Come let us wisely oppress them, lest they multiply: and if any war shall rise against us, join with our enemies, and having overcome us, depart out of the land.

11 Therefore he set over them masters of the works, to afflict them with burdens: and they built for Pharao cities of tabernacles, Phithom, and Rameses.

12 But the more they oppressed them, the more they were multiplied, and increased:

13 And the Egyptians hated the children of Israel, and afflicted them and mocked them:

14 And they made their life bitter with hard works in clay, and brick, and with all manner of service, wherewith they were overcharged in the works of the earth.

15 And the king of Egypt spoke to the midwives of the Hebrews: of whom one was called Sephora, the other Phua,

16 Commanding them: When you shall do the office of midwives to the Hebrew women, and the time of delivery is come: if it be a man child, kill it: if a woman, keep it alive.

17 But the midwives feared God, and did not do as the king of Egypt had commanded, but saved the men children.

18 And the king called for them and said: What is it that you meant to do, that you would save the men children?

19 They answered: The Hebrew women are not as the Egyptian women: for they themselves are skilful in the office of a midwife; and they are delivered before we come to them.

20 Therefore God dealt well with the midwives: and the people multiplied and grew exceedingly strong.

21 And because the midwives feared God, he built them houses.

22 Pharao therefore charged all his people, saying: Whatsoever shall be born of the male sex, ye shall cast into the river: whatsoever of the female, ye shall save alive.

|| Infra 6. 20.

AFTER this there went a man of the house of Levi; || and took a wife of his own kindred.

‡ Heb. 11. 23.

2 And she conceived, and bore a son: ‡ and seeing him a goodly child, hid him three months. *

* A. M. 2433. Ante C. 1571.

3 And when she could hide him no longer, she took a basket made of bulrushes, and daubed it with slime and pitch: and put the little babe therein, and laid him in the sedges by the river's brink,

4 His sister standing afar off, and taking notice what would be done.

5 And behold the daughter of Pharao came down to wash herself in the river: and her maids walked by the river's brink. And when she saw the basket in the sedges, she sent one of her maids for it: and when it was brought,

6 She opened it, and seeing within it an infant crying, having compassion on it she said: This is one of the babes of the Hebrews.

7 And the child's sister said to her: Shall I go, and call to thee a Hebrew woman, to nurse the babe?

8 She answered: Go. The maid went and called her mother.

9 And Pharao's daughter said to her: take this child, and nurse him for me: I will give thee thy wages. The woman took, and nursed the child: and when he was grown up she delivered him to Pharao's daughter.

10 And she adopted him for a son, and called him Moses, saying: Because I took him out of the water.

* A. M. 1473. Ante C. 1531.

11 * In those days after Moses was grown up, || he went out to his brethren: and saw their affliction, and an Egyptian striking one of the Hebrews his brethren.

12 And when he had looked about this way and that way, and saw no one there, he slew the Egyptian and hid him in the sand.

13 And going out the next day, he saw two Hebrews quarrelling: and he said to him that did the wrong: Why strikest thou thy neighbour?

14 But he answered: Who hath appointed thee prince and judge over us? wilt thou kill me, as thou didst yesterday kill the Egyptian? Moses feared, and said: How is this come to be known?

15 And Pharao heard of this word, and sought to kill Moses: but he fled from his sight, and abode in the land of Madian, and he sat down by a well.

16 And the priest of Madian had seven daughters, who came to draw water: and when the troughs were filled, desired to water their father's flocks.

17 And the shepherds came and drove them away: and Moses arose, and defending the maids, watered their sheep.

18 And when they returned to Raguel their father, he said to them: Why are ye come sooner than usual?

VER. 21. Because the midwives feared God, &c. The midwives were rewarded, not for their lye, which was a venial sin; but for their fear of God, and their humanity: But this reward was only temporal, in building them houses, that is, in establishing and enriching their families.

CHAP. II. VER. 10. Moses, or Moyses, in the Egyptian tongue, signifies one taken or saved out of the water.

VER. 12. He slew the Egyptian. This he did by a particular inspiration of God; as a prelude to his delivering the people from their oppression and bondage. He thought, says St. Stephen, Acts vii. 25. that his brethren understood that God by his hand would save them. But such particular and extraordinary examples are not to be imitated.

VER. 15. Madian. A city and country of Arabia, which took its name from Madian the son of Abraham, by Cetura, and was peopled by his posterity.

VER. 18. Raguel. He had two names, being also called Jethro, as appears from the first verse of the following chapter.

19 They answered: A man of Egypt delivered us from the hands of the shepherds: and he drew water also with us, and gave the sheep to drink.

20 But he said: Where is he? why have you let the man go? call him that he may eat bread.

21 And Moses swore that he would dwell with him. ‖ And he took Sephora his daughter to wife:

‖ Infra 18. 2. & 3. 2 Par. 23. 15.

22 And she bore him a son, whom he called Gersam, saying: I have been a stranger in a foreign country. And she bore another, whom he called Eliezer, saying: for the God of my father my helper hath delivered me out of the hand of Pharao.

23 Now after a long time the king of Egypt died: and the children of Israel groaning, cried out because of the works: and their cry went up unto God from the works.

24 And he heard their groaning, and remembered the covenant which he made with Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob.

25 And the Lord looked upon the children of Israel and he knew them.

CHAP. III.

God appeareth to Moses in a bush, and sendeth him to deliver Israel.

A. M. 2513. Ante C. 1491. NOW Moses fed the sheep of Jethro his father-in-law, the priest of Madian: and he drove the flock to the inner parts of the desart, and came to the mountain of God, Horeb.

‖ Acts 7. 30. 2 ‖ And the Lord appeared to him in a flame of fire out of the midst of a bush: and he saw that the bush was on fire, and was not burnt.

3 And Moses said: I will go, and see this great sight, why the bush is not burnt.

4 And when the Lord saw that he went forward to see, he called to him out of the midst of the bush, and said: Moses, Moses. And he answered: Here I am.

5 And he said: Come not nigh hither, put off the shoes from thy feet: for the place, whereon thou standest, is holy ground.

‖ Mat. 22. 32. Mark 12. 26. Luke 20. 37. 6 And he said: ‖ I am the God of thy father, the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob. Moses hid his face: for he durst not look at God.

7 And the Lord said to him: I have seen the affliction of my people in Egypt, and I have heard their cry because of the rigour of them that are over the works:

8 And knowing their sorrow, I am come down to deliver them out of the hands of the Egyptians, and to bring them out of that land into a good and spacious land, into a land that floweth with milk and honey, to the places of the Chananite, and Hethite, and Amorrhite, and Pherezite, and Hevite, and Jebusite.

9 For the cry of the children of Israel is come unto me: and I have seen their affliction, wherewith they are oppressed by the Egyptians.

10 But come, and I will send thee to Pharao, that thou mayst bring forth my people, the children of Israel out of Egypt.

11 And Moses said to God: Who am I that I should go to Pharao, and should bring forth the children of Israel out of Egypt?

12 And he said to him: I will be with thee: and this thou shalt have for a sign, that I have sent thee: When thou shalt have brought my people out of Egypt, thou shalt offer sacrifice to God upon this mountain.

13 Moses said to God: Lo I shall go to the children of Israel, and say to them: The God of your fathers hath sent me to you. If they shall say to me: What is his name? What shall I say to them.

14 God said to Moses: I AM WHO AM. He said: Thus shalt thou say to the children of Israel: HE WHO IS, hath sent me to you.

15 And God said again to Moses: Thus shalt you say to the children of Israel: The Lord God of your fathers, the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob hath sent me to you: this is my name for ever, and this is my memorial unto all generations.

16 Go, and gather together the ancients of Israel, and thou shalt say to them: The Lord God of your fathers, the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob, hath appeared to me, saying: Visiting I have visited you: and I have seen all that hath befallen you in Egypt.

17 And I have said the word to bring you forth out of the affliction of Egypt, into the land of the Chananite, and Hethite, and Amorrhite, and Pherezite, and Hevite, and

18 And they ſhall hear thy voice: and thou ſhalt go in, thou and the ancients of Iſrael to the king of Egypt, and thou ſhalt ſay to him: The Lord God of the Hebrews hath called us: we will go three days journey into the wilderneſs, to ſacrifice unto the Lord our God.

19 But I know that the king of Egypt will not let you go, but by a mighty hand.

20 For I will ſtretch forth my hand, and will ſtrike Egypt with all my wonders which I will do in the midſt of them: after theſe he will let you go.

21 And I will give favour to this people, in the ſight of the Egyptians: ‖ and when you go forth, you ſhall not depart empty: ‖ Infra 11. 2. & 12. 35.

22 But every woman ſhall aſk of her neighbour and of her that is in her houſe, veſſels of ſilver and of gold, and raiment: and you ſhall put them on your ſons and daughters, and ſhall ſpoil Egypt.

CHAP. IV.

Moſes is empowered to confirm his miſſion with miracles: his brother Aaron is appointed to aſſiſt him.

MOSES anſwered and ſaid: They will not believe me, nor hear my voice, but they will ſay: The Lord hath not appeared to thee.

2 Then he ſaid to him: What is that thou holdeſt in thy hand? He anſwered: A rod.

3 And the Lord ſaid: Caſt it down upon the ground. He caſt it down, and it was turned into a ſerpent, ſo that Moſes fled from it.

4 And the Lord ſaid: Put out thy hand, and take it by the tail. He put forth his hand, and took hold of it, and it was turned into a rod.

5 That they may believe, ſaith he, that the Lord God of their fathers, the God of Abraham, the God of Iſaac, and the God of Jacob, hath appeared to thee.

6 And the Lord ſaid again: Put thy hand into thy boſom. And when he had put it into his boſom, he brought it forth leprous as ſnow.

7 And he ſaid: Put back thy hand into thy boſom. He put it back, and brought it out again, and it was like the other fleſh.

8 If they will not believe thee, ſaith he, nor hear the voice of the former ſign, they will believe the word of the latter ſign.

9 But if they will not even believe theſe two ſigns, nor hear thy voice: take of the river water, and pour it out upon the dry land, and whatſoever thou draweſt out of the river, ſhall be turned into blood.

10 Moſes ſaid: I beſeech thee Lord, I am not eloquent from yeſterday and the day before: and ſince thou haſt ſpoken to thy ſervant, I have more impediment and ſlowneſs of tongue.

11 The Lord ſaid to him. Who made man's mouth? or who made the dumb and the deaf, the ſeeing and the blind? did not I?

12 Go therefore, ‖ and I will be in thy mouth: and I will teach thee what thou ſhalt ſpeak. ‖ Mat. 10. 20.

13 But he ſaid: I beſeech thee, Lord ſend whom thou wilt ſend.

14 The Lord being angry at Moſes, ſaid: Aaron the Levite is thy brother, I know that he is eloquent: behold he cometh forth to meet thee, and ſeeing thee ſhall be glad at heart.

15 Speak to him, and put my words in his mouth: and I will be in thy mouth, and in his mouth, ‖ and will ſhew you what you muſt do.

16 He ſhall ſpeak in thy ſtead to the people, and ſhall be thy mouth: but thou ſhalt be to him in thoſe things that pertain to God. ‖ Infra 7. 2.

17 And take this rod in thy hand, wherewith thou ſhalt do the ſigns.

18 Moſes went his way, and returned to Jethro his father-in-law, and ſaid to him: I will go and return to my brethren into Egypt, that I may ſee if they be yet alive. And Jethro ſaid to him: Go in peace.

19 And the Lord ſaid to Moſes, in Madian: Go, and return into Egypt: for they are all dead that ſought thy life.

20 Moſes therefore took his wife, and his ſons, and ſet them upon an aſs: and returned into Egypt, carrying the rod of God in his hand.

21 And the Lord ſaid to him as he was returning into Egypt: See that thou do all the wonders before Pharao, which I have put in thy hand: I ſhall harden his heart, and he will not let the people go.

VER. 22. Shall ſpoil, &c. That is, you ſhall ſtrip, and take away the goods of the Egyptians. This was not authoriſing theft or injuſtice: but was a juſt diſpoſal made by him, who is the great Lord and maſter of all things; in order to pay the children of Iſrael ſome part of what was due to them from the Egyptians for their labours.

CHAP. IV. VER. 21. I ſhall harden, &c. not by being the efficient cauſe of his ſin: but by withdrawing from him, for his juſt puniſhment, the dew of grace, that might have ſoftened his heart; and ſo ſuffering him to grow harder and harder.

22 And thou ſhalt ſay to him: Thus ſaith the Lord: Iſrael is my ſon my firſt-born.

23 I have ſaid to thee: Let my ſon go, that he may ſerve me, and thou wouldſt not let him go: behold I will kill thy ſon thy firſt-born.

24 And when he was in his journey, in the inn, the Lord met him, and would have killed him.

25 Immediately Sephora took a very ſharp ſtone, and circumciſed the foreſkin of her ſon, and touched his feet, and ſaid: A bloody ſpouſe art thou to me.

26 And he let him go after ſhe had ſaid: A bloody ſpouſe art thou to me, becauſe of the circumciſion.

27 And the Lord ſaid to Aaron: Go into the deſart to meet Moſes. And he went forth to meet him in the mountain of God, and kiſſed him.

28 And Moſes told Aaron all the words of the Lord, by which he had ſent him, and the ſigns that he had commanded.

29 And they came together, and they aſſembled all the ancients of the children of Iſrael.

30 And Aaron ſpoke all the words which the Lord had ſaid to Moſes: and he wrought the ſigns before the people, 31 And the people believed. And they heard that the Lord had viſited the children of Iſrael, and that he had looked upon their affliction: and falling down they adored.

CHAP. V.

Pharao refuſeth to let the people go. They are more oppreſſed.

A. M. 2513. Ante C. 1491. AFTER theſe things Moſes and Aaron went in, and ſaid to Pharao: Thus ſaith the Lord God of Iſrael: Let my people go that they may ſacrifice to me in the deſart.

2 But he anſwered: Who is the Lord, that I ſhould hear his voice, and let Iſrael go? I know not the Lord, neither will I let Iſrael go.

3 And they ſaid: The God of the Hebrews hath called us, to go three days journey into the wilderneſs and to ſacrifice to the Lord our God: leſt a peſtilence or the ſword fall upon us.

4 The king of Egypt ſaid to them: Why do you Moſes and Aaron draw off the people from their works? Get you gone to your burdens.

5 And Pharao ſaid: The people of the land is numerous: you ſee that the multitude is increaſed: how much more if you give them reſt from their works?

6 Therefore he commanded the ſame day the overſeers of the works and the taſk-maſters of the people, ſaying:

7 You ſhall give ſtraw no more to the people to make brick, as before: but let them go and gather ſtraw.

8 And you ſhall lay upon them the taſk of bricks, which they did before, neither ſhall you diminiſh any thing thereof: for they are idle, and therefore they cry, ſaying: Let us go and ſacrifice to our God.

9 Let them be oppreſſed, with works, and let them fulfil them: that they may not regard lying words.

10 And the overſeers of the works and the taſk-maſters went out and ſaid to the people: Thus ſaith Pharao: I allow you no ſtraw:

11 Go, and gather it where you can find it: neither ſhall any thing of your work be diminiſhed.

12 And the people was ſcattered through all the land of Egypt to gather ſtraw.

13 And the overſeers of the works preſſed them, ſaying: Fulfil your work every day as before you were wont to do when ſtraw was given you.

14 And they that were over the works of the children of Iſrael were ſcourged by Pharao's taſk-maſters, ſaying: Why have you not made up the taſk of bricks both yeſterday, and to-day, as before?

15 And the officers of the children of Iſrael came, and cried out to Pharao, ſaying: Why dealeſt thou ſo with thy ſervants?

16 Straw is not given us, and bricks are required of us as before: behold we thy ſervants are beaten with whips, and thy people is unjuſtly dealt withal.

17 And he ſaid: You are idle, and therefore you ſay: Let us go and ſacrifice to the Lord.

18 Go therefore, and work: ſtraw ſhall not be given you, and you ſhall deliver the accuſtomed number of bricks.

19 And the officers of the children of Iſrael ſaw that they were in evil caſe, becauſe it was ſaid to them: There ſhall not a whit be diminiſhed of the bricks for every day.

20 And they met Moſes and Aaron, who ſtood over-againſt them as they came out from Pharao:

VER. 24. The Lord met him, and would have killed him. This was an Angel repreſenting the Lord, who treated Moſes in this manner, for having neglected the circumciſion of his younger ſon: which his wife underſtanding, circumciſed her child upon the ſpot, upon which the Angel let Moſes go.

21 And they ſaid to them: The Lord ſee and judge, becauſe you have made our ſavour to ſtink before Pharao and his ſervants, and you have given him a ſword, to kill us.

22 And Moſes returned to the Lord, and ſaid: Lord why haſt thou afflicted this people? wherefore haſt thou ſent me?

23 For ſince the time that I went in to Pharao to ſpeak in thy name, he hath afflicted thy people: and thou haſt not delivered them.

God reneweth his promiſe. The genealogies of Ruben, Simeon and Levi, down to Moſes and Aaron.

A. M. 2513. AND the Lord ſaid to Moſes: now thou ſhalt ſee what I will do to Pharao: for by a mighty hand ſhall he let them go, and with a ſtrong hand ſhall he caſt them out of his land.

2 And the Lord ſpoke to Moſes, ſaying: I am the Lord

3 That appeared to Abraham, to Iſaac and to Jacob, by the name of God Almighty: and my name ADONAI I did not ſhew them.

4 And I made a covenant with them, to give them the land of Chanaan, the land of their pilgrimage wherein they were ſtrangers.

5 I have heard the groaning of the children of Iſrael, wherewith the Egyptians have oppreſſed them: and I have remembered my covenant.

6 Therefore ſay to the children of Iſrael: I am the Lord who will bring you out from the work-priſon of the Egyptians, and will deliver you from bondage: and redeem you with a high arm, and great judgments.

7 And I will take you to myſelf for my people, I will be your God: and you ſhall know that I am the Lord your God, who brought you out from the work-priſon of the Egyptians:

8 And brought you into the land, concerning which I lifted up my hand to give it to Abraham, Iſaac, and Jacob: and I will give it you to poſſeſs, I am the Lord.

9 And Moſes told all this to the children of Iſrael: but they did not hearken to him, for anguiſh of ſpirit, and moſt painful work.

10 And the Lord ſpoke to Moſes, ſaying:

11 Go in, and ſpeak to Pharao king of Egypt, that he let the children of Iſrael go out of his land.

12 Moſes anſwered before the Lord: Behold the children of Iſrael do not hearken to me: and how will Pharao hear me, eſpecially as I am of uncircumciſed lips?

13 And the Lord ſpoke to Moſes and Aaron, and he gave them a charge unto the children of Iſrael, and unto Pharao the king of Egypt, that they ſhould bring forth the children of Iſrael out of the land of Egypt.

VER. 3. My name Adonai. The name which is in the Hebrew text, is that moſt proper name of God, which ſignifieth his eternal ſelf-exiſtent being. Exod. iii. 14: which the Jews out of reverence never pronounce; but inſtead of it, wherever it occurs in the bible, they read Adonai, which ſignifies the Lord: and therefore they put the points or vowels, which belong to the name Adonai, to the four letters of that other ineffable name Jod, He, Vau, He. Hence ſome moderns have framed the name Jehovah: unknown to all the ancients, whether Jews or Chriſtians: for the true pronunciation of the name, which is in the Hebrew text, by long diſuſe, is now quite loſt.

27 These are they that speak to Pharao king of Egypt, in order to bring out the children of Israel from Egypt: these are that Moses and Aaron, 28 In the day when the Lord spoke to Moses in the land of Egypt.

29 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying: I am the Lord: speak thou to Pharao king of Egypt, all that I say to thee.

30 And Moses said before the Lord: Lo I am of uncircumcised lips, how will Pharao hear me?

CHAP. VII.

Moses and Aaron go in to Pharao: they turn the rod into a serpent; and the waters of Egypt into blood, which was the first plague. The magicians do the like, and Pharao's heart is hardened.

A. M. 2513. AND the Lord said to Moses: Behold I have appointed thee the God of Pharao: and Aaron thy brother shall be thy prophet.

‖ Supra 4. 15. 2 ‖ Thou shalt speak to him all that I command thee: and he shall speak to Pharao, that he let the children of Israel go out of his land.

3 But I shall harden his heart, and shall multiply my signs and wonders in the land of Egypt,

4 And he will not hear you: and I will lay my hand upon Egypt, and will bring forth my army and my people the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt, by very great judgments.

5 And the Egyptians shall know that I am the Lord, who have stretched forth my hand upon Egypt, and have brought forth the children of Israel out of the midst of them.

6 And Moses and Aaron did as the Lord had commanded: so did they.

7 And Moses was eighty years old, and Aaron eighty three, when they spoke to Pharao.

8 And the Lord said to Moses and Aaron:

9 When Pharao shall say to you, Shew signs: thou shalt say to Aaron: Take thy rod, and cast it down before Pharao, and it shall be turned into a serpent.

10 So Moses and Aaron went in unto Pharao, and did as the Lord had commanded. And Aaron took the rod before Pharao and his servants, and it was turned into a serpent.

‖ 2 Tim 3. 11 ‖ And Pharao called the wise men and the magicians: and they also by Egyptian inchantments and certain secrets did in like manner.

12 And they every one cast down their rods, and they were turned into serpents: but Aaron's rod devoured their rods.

13 And Pharao's heart was hardened, and he did not hearken to them, as the Lord had commanded.

14 And the Lord said to Moses: Pharao's heart is hardened, he will not let the people go.

15 Go to him in the morning, behold he will go out to the waters: and thou shalt stand to meet him on the bank of the river: and thou shalt take in thy hand the rod that was turned into a serpent.

16 And thou shalt say to him: The Lord God of the Hebrews sent me to thee, saying: Let my people go to sacrifice to me in the desart: and hitherto thou wouldst not hear.

17 Thus therefore saith the Lord: In this thou shalt know that I am the Lord: behold I will strike with the rod, that is in my hand, the water of the river, and it shall be turned into blood.

18 And the fishes that are in the river, shall die, and the waters shall be corrupted, and the Egyptians shall be afflicted when they drink the water of the river.

19 The Lord also said to Moses: Say to Aaron, Take thy rod, and stretch forth thy hand upon the waters of Egypt, and upon their rivers, and streams and pools, and all the ponds of waters, that they may be turned into blood: and let blood be in all the land of Egypt, both in vessels of wood and of stone.

‖ Infra 17. 5. Ps 77. 44 20 And Moses and Aaron did as the Lord had commanded: ‖ and lifting up the rod he struck the water of the river before Pharao and his servants: and it was turned into blood.

21 And the fishes, that were in the river, died: and the river corrupted, and the Egyptians could not drink the water of the river, and there was blood in all the land of Egypt.

CHAP. VII. VER. 1. The God of Pharao, viz. to be his Judge; and to exercise a divine power, as God's instrument, over him and his people.

VER. 3. I shall harden, &c. not by being the efficient cause of his hardness of heart; but by permitting it; and by withdrawing grace from him, in punishment of his malice; which alone was the proper cause of his being hardened.

VER. 11. Magicians. Jannes and Mambres or Jambres, 2 Tim. iii. 8.

|| Wisd. 17. 7. 22 || And the magicians of the Egyptians with their inchantments did in like manner: and Pharao's heart was hardened, neither did he hear them, as the Lord had commanded.

23 And he turned himself away and went into his house, neither did he set his heart to it this time also.

24 And all the Egyptians dug round about the river for water to drink: for they could not drink of the water of the river.

25 And seven days were fully ended, after that the Lord struck the river.

CHAP. VIII.

The second plague is of frogs: Pharao promiseth to let the Israelites go, but breaks his promise. The third plague is of sciniphs. The fourth is of flies. Pharao again promiseth to dismiss the people, but doth it not.

AND the Lord said to Moses: Go in to Pharao, and thou shalt say to him: Thus saith the Lord: Let my people go to sacrifice to me.

2 But if thou wilt not let them go, behold I will strike all thy coasts with frogs.

3 And the river shall bring forth an abundance of frogs: which shall come up, and enter into thy house, and thy bed-chamber, and upon thy bed, and into the houses of thy servants, and to thy people, and into thy ovens, and into the remains of thy meats:

4 And the frogs shall come in to thee, and to thy people, and to all thy servants.

5 And the Lord said to Moses: Say to Aaron: Stretch forth thy hand upon the streams and upon the rivers and the pools, and bring forth frogs upon the land of Egypt.

6 And Aaron stretched forth his hand upon the waters of Egypt, and the frogs came up, and covered the land of Egypt.

7 And the magicians also by their inchantments did in like manner, and they brought forth frogs upon the land of Egypt.

8 But Pharao called Moses and Aaron, and said to them: Pray ye to the Lord to take away the frogs from me and from my people: and I will let the people go to sacrifice to the Lord.

9 And Moses said to Pharao: Set me a time when I shall pray for thee, and for thy servants, and for thy people, that the frogs may be driven away from thee and from thy house, and from thy servants, and from thy people: and may remain only in the river.

10 And he answered: To-morrow. But he said: I will do according to thy word: that thou mayst know that there is none like to the Lord our God.

11 And the frogs shall depart from thee, and from thy house, and from thy servants, and from thy people: and shall remain only in the river.

12 And Moses and Aaron went forth from Pharao: and Moses cried to the Lord for the promise, which he had made to Pharao concerning the frogs.

13 And the Lord did according to the word of Moses: and the frogs died out of the houses, and out of the villages, and out of the fields:

14 And they gathered them together into immense heaps, and the land was corrupted.

15 And Pharao seeing that rest was given, hardened his own heart, and did not hear them, as the Lord had commanded.

16 And the Lord said to Moses: Say to Aaron: Stretch forth thy rod, and strike the dust of the earth: and may there be sciniphs in all the land of Egypt.

17 And they did so. And Aaron stretched forth his hand, holding the rod: and he struck the dust of the earth, and there came sciniphs on men and on beasts: all the dust of the earth was turned into sciniphs through all the land of Egypt.

18 And the magicians with their inchantments practised in like manner, to bring forth sciniphs, and they could not: and there were sciniphs as well on men as on beasts.

19 And the magicians said to Pharao: this is the finger of God. And Pharao's heart was hardened, and he hearkened not unto them as the Lord had commanded.

20 The Lord also said to Moses: Arise early, and stand before Pharao: for he will go forth to the waters: and thou shalt say to him: Thus saith the Lord: Let my people go to sacrifice to me.

21 But if thou wilt not let them go, behold I will send in upon thee, and upon thy servants, and upon thy houses all kind of flies: and the houses of the Egyptians shall

CHAP. VIII. VER. 8. Pray ye to the Lord, &c. By this it appears, that though the magicians, by the help of the devil, could bring frogs, yet they could not take them away: God being pleased to abridge in this the power of satan. So we see they could not afterwards produce the lesser insects; and in this restraint of the power of the devil, were forced to acknowledge the finger of God.

VER. 15. Pharao hardened his own heart. By this we see that Pharao was himself the efficient cause of his heart being hardened, and not God. See the same repeated in ver. 32. Pharao hardened his heart at this time also: likewise chap. ix. 7, 35, and chap. xiii. 15.

be filled with flies of divers kinds, and the whole land wherein they ſhall be.

22 And I will make the land of Geſſen wonderful in that day, ſo that flies ſhall not be there: and thou ſhalt know that I am the Lord in the midſt of the earth.

23 And I will put a diviſion between my people and thy people: to-morrow ſhall this ſign be.

‖ Wiſd. 16. 9. 24 And the Lord did ſo. ‖ And there came a very grievous ſwarm of flies into the houſes of Pharao and of his ſervants, and into all the land of Egypt: and the land was corrupted by this kind of flies.

25 And Pharao called Moſes and Aaron, and ſaid to them: Go, and ſacrifice to your God in this land.

26 And Moſes ſaid: It cannot be ſo: for we ſhall ſacrifice the abominations of the Egyptians to the Lord our God: now if we kill thoſe things which the Egyptians worſhip, in their preſence, they will ſtone us.

27 We will go three days journey into the wilderneſs: and we will ſacrifice to the Lord ‖ Supra 3. 18. our God, ‖ as he hath commanded us.

28 And Pharao ſaid: I will let you go to ſacrifice to the Lord your God in the wilderneſs: but go no farther: pray for me.

29 And Moſes ſaid: I will go out from thee, and will pray to the Lord: and the flies ſhall depart from Pharao, and from his ſervants, and from his people to-morrow: but do not deceive any more, in not letting the people go to ſacrifice to the Lord.

30 So Moſes went out from Pharao, and prayed to the Lord.

31 And he did according to his word: and he took away the flies from Pharao, and from his ſervants, and from his people: there was not left ſo much as one.

32 And Pharao's heart was hardened, ſo that neither this time would he let the people go.

CHAP. IX.

The fifth plague is a murrain among the cattle. The ſixth, of boils in men and beaſts. The ſeventh, of hail. Pharao promiſeth again to let the people go, and breaketh his word.

AND the Lord ſaid to Moſes: Go in to Pharao, and ſpeak to him: Thus ſaith the Lord God of the Hebrews: Let my people go to ſacrifice to me.

2 But if thou refuſe, and withhold them ſtill:

3 Behold my hand ſhall be upon thy fields: and a very grievous murrain upon thy horſes, and aſſes, and camels, and oxen, and ſheep.

4 And the Lord will make a wonderful difference between the poſſeſſions of Iſrael and the poſſeſſions of the Egyptians, that nothing at all ſhall die of thoſe things that belong to the children of Iſrael.

5 And the Lord appointed a time ſaying: To-morrow will the Lord do this thing in the land.

6 The Lord therefore did this thing the next day: and all the beaſts of the Egyptians died, but of the beaſts of the children of Iſrael there died not one.

7 And Pharao ſent to ſee: and there was not any thing dead of that which Iſrael poſſeſſed. And Pharao's heart was hardened, and he did not let the people go.

8 And the Lord ſaid to Moſes, and Aaron: Take to you handfuls of aſhes out of the chimney, and let Moſes ſprinkle it in the air in the preſence of Pharao.

9 And be there duſt upon all the land of Egypt: for there ſhall be boils and ſwelling blains both in men and beaſts, in the whole land of Egypt.

10 And they took aſhes out of the chimney, and ſtood before Pharao, and Moſes ſprinkled it in the air: and there came boils with ſwelling blains in men and beaſts.

11 Neither could the magicians ſtand before Moſes for the boils that were upon them, and in all the land of Egypt.

12 And the Lord hardened Pharao's heart, and he hearkened not unto them, as the Lord had ſpoken to Moſes.

13 And the Lord ſaid to Moſes: Ariſe in the morning, and ſtand before Pharao, and thou ſhalt ſay to him: Thus ſaith the Lord the God of the Hebrews: Let my people go to ſacrifice to me.

14 For I will at this time ſend all my plagues upon thy heart, and upon thy ſervants, and upon thy people: that thou mayſt know there is none like me in all the earth.

15 For now I will ſtretch out my hand to ſtrike thee, and thy people with peſtilence, and thou ſhalt periſh from the earth.

my name may be ſpoken of throughout all the earth.

17 Doſt thou yet hold back my people: and wilt thou not let them go?

18 Behold I will cauſe it to rain to-morrow at this ſame hour, an exceeding great hail: ſuch as hath not been in Egypt from the day that it was founded, until this preſent time.

19 Send therefore now preſently, and gather together thy cattle, and all that thou haſt in the field: for men and beaſts, and all things that ſhall be found abroad, and not gathered together out of the fields, which the hail ſhall fall upon, ſhall die.

20 He that feared the word of the Lord among Pharao's ſervants, made his ſervants and his cattle flee into houſes:

21 But he that regarded not the word of the Lord, left his ſervants, and his cattle in the fields.

22 And the Lord ſaid to Moſes: Stretch forth thy hand towards heaven, that there may be hail in the whole land of Egypt upon men, and upon beaſts, and upon every herb of the field in the land of Egypt.

‖ Wiſ. 16. 16. & 19. 19.

23 ‖ And Moſes ſtretched forth his rod towards heaven, and the Lord ſent thunder and hail, and lightnings running along the ground: and the Lord rained hail upon the land of Egypt.

24 And the hail and fire mixt with it drove on together: and it was of ſo great bigneſs, as never before was ſeen in the whole land of Egypt ſince that nation was founded.

25 And the hail deſtroyed through all the land of Egypt all things that were in the fields, both man and beaſt: and the hail ſmote every herb of the field and it broke every tree of the country.

26 Only in the land of Geſſen, where the children of Iſrael were, the hail fell not.

27 And Pharao ſent and called Moſes and Aaron, ſaying to them: I have ſinned this time alſo, the Lord is juſt: I and my people, are wicked.

28 Pray ye to the Lord that the thunderings of God and the hail may ceaſe: that I may let you go, and that ye may ſtay here no longer.

29 Moſes ſaid: As ſoon as I am gone out of the city, I will ſtretch forth my hands to the Lord, and the thunders ſhall ceaſe, and the hail ſhall be no more: that thou mayſt know that the earth is the Lord's:

30 But I know that neither thou, nor thy ſervants do yet fear the Lord God.

31 The flax therefore, and the barley were hurt, becauſe the barley was green, and the flax was now bolled?

32 But the wheat, and other winter corn were not hurt, becauſe they were lateward.

33 And when Moſes was gone from Pharao out of the city, he ſtretched forth his hands to the Lord: and the thunders and the hail ceaſed, neither did there drop any more rain upon the earth.

34 And Pharao ſeeing that the rain, and the hail, and the thunders were ceaſed, increaſed his ſin;

35 And his heart was hardened, and the heart of his ſervants, and it was made exceeding hard: neither did he let the children of Iſrael go, as the Lord had commanded by the hand of Moſes.

CHAP. X.

The eighth plague of the locuſts. The ninth, of darkneſs: Pharao is ſtill hardened.

AND the Lord ſaid to Moſes: Go in to Pharao; for I have hardened his heart, and the heart of his ſervants: that I may work theſe my ſigns in him,

2 And thou mayſt tell in the ears of thy ſons, and of thy grandſons, how often I have plagued the Egyptians, and wrought my ſigns amongſt them: and you may know that I am the Lord:

3 Therefore Moſes and Aaron went in to Pharao, and ſaid to him: Thus ſaith the Lord God of the Hebrews: How long refuſeſt thou to ſubmit to me? let my people go, to ſacrifice to me.

4 ‖ But if thou reſiſt, and wilt not let them go, behold I will bring in to-morrow the locuſt into thy coaſts: ‖ Wiſ. 16. 9.

5 To cover the face of the earth, that nothing thereof may appear, but that which the hail hath left may be eaten: for they ſhall feed upon all the trees that ſpring in the fields.

6 And they ſhall fill thy houſes, and the houſes of thy ſervants, and of all the Egyptians: ſuch a number as thy fathers have not ſeen, nor thy grandfathers, from the time they were firſt upon the earth, until this preſent day. And he turned himſelf away, and went forth from Pharao.

7 And Pharao's ſervants ſaid to him: How long ſhall we endure this ſcandal? let the men go to ſacrifice to the Lord their God. Doſt thou not ſee that Egypt is undone?

8 And they called back Moſes, and Aaron to Pharao: and he ſaid to them: Go, ſacrifice to the Lord your God: who are they that ſhall go?

9 Moſes ſaid: We will go with our young and old, with our ſons and daughters, with our ſheep and herds: for it is the ſolemnity of the Lord our God.

10 And Pharao answered: So be the Lord with you, as I shall let you and your children go: who can doubt but that you intend some great evil?

11 It shall not be so: but go ye men only, and sacrifice to the Lord: for this yourselves also desired. And immediately they were cast out from Pharao's presence.

12 And the Lord said to Moses: Stretch forth thy hand upon the land of Egypt unto the locust, that it come upon it, and devour every herb that is left after the hail.

13 And Moses stretched forth his rod upon the land of Egypt: and the Lord brought a burning wind all that day, and night: and when it was morning, the burning wind raised the locusts:

14 And they came up over the whole land of Egypt: and rested in all the coasts of the Egyptians innumerable, the like as had not been before that time, nor shall be hereafter.

15 And they covered the whole face of the earth, wasting all things. And the grass of the earth was devoured, and what fruits soever were on the trees, which the hail had left: and there remained not any thing that was green on the trees, or in the herbs of the earth in all Egypt.

16 Wherefore Pharao in haste called Moses and Aaron, and said to them: I have sinned against the Lord your God, and against you.

17 But now forgive me my sin this time also, and pray to the Lord your God, that he take away from me this death.

18 And Moses going forth from the presence of Pharao, prayed to the Lord:

19 And he made a very strong wind to blow from the west, and it took the locusts and cast them into the Red Sea: there remained not so much as one in all the coasts of Egypt.

20 And the Lord hardened Pharao's heart, neither did he let the children of Israel go.

21 And the Lord said to Moses: Stretch out thy hand towards heaven: and may there be darkness upon the land of Egypt so thick that it may be felt.

22 And Moses stretched forth his hand towards heaven: and there came horrible darkness in all the land of Egypt for three days.

23 ‖ No man saw his brother, nor moved himself out of the place where he was: † but wheresoever the children of Israel dwelt, there was light.

24 And Pharao called Moses and Aaron, and said to them: Go, sacrifice to the Lord: let your sheep only, and herds remain, let your children go with you.

25 Moses said: Thou shalt give us also sacrifices and burnt-offerings, to the Lord our God.

26 All the flocks shall go with us: there shall not a hoof remain of them: for they are necessary for the service of the Lord our God: especially as we know not what must be offered, till we come to the very place.

27 And the Lord hardened Pharao's heart, and he would not let them go.

28 And Pharao said to Moses: Get thee from me, and beware thou see not my face any more: in what day soever thou shalt come in my sight, thou shalt die.

29 Moses answered: So shall it be as thou hast spoken, I will not see thy face any more.

CHAP. XI.

Pharao and his people are threatened with the death of their first-born.

AND the Lord said to Moses: Yet one plague more will I bring upon Pharao and Egypt, and after that he shall let you go and thrust you out.

3 And the Lord will give favour to his people in the sight of the Egyptians. ‡ And Moses was a very great man in the land of Egypt, in the sight of Pharao's servants, and of all the people.

4 And he said: Thus saith the Lord: At midnight I will enter into Egypt:

5 And every first-born in the land of the Egyptians shall die, from the first-born of Pharao who sitteth on his throne, even to the first-born of the handmaid that is at the mill, and all the first-born of beasts.

6 And there shall be a great cry in all the land of Egypt, such as neither hath been before, nor shall be hereafter.

7 But with all the children of Israel there shall not a dog make the least noise, from man even to beast: that you may know how wonderful a difference the Lord maketh between the Egyptians and Israel.

8 And all these thy servants shall come down to me, and shall worship me, saying: Go forth thou, and all the people that is under thee: after that we will go out.

angry. But the Lord ſaid to Moſes: Pharao will not hear you, that many ſigns may be done in the land of Egypt.

CHAP. XII.

The manner of preparing, and eating the paſchal lamb: the firſt-born of Egypt are all ſlain: the Iſraelites depart.

AND the Lord ſaid to Moſes and Aaron in the land of Egypt:

2 This month ſhall be to you the beginning of months: it ſhall be the firſt in the months of the year.

3 Speak ye to the whole aſſembly of the children of Iſrael, and ſay to them: On the tenth day of this month let every man take a lamb by their families and houſes.

4 But if the number be leſs than may ſuffice to eat the lamb, he ſhall take unto him his neighbour that joineth to his houſe, according to the number of ſouls which may be enough to eat the lamb.

5 And it ſhall be a lamb without blemiſh, a male, of one year: according to which rite alſo you ſhall take a kid.

6 And you ſhall keep it until the fourteenth day of this month: and the whole multitude of the children of Iſrael ſhall ſacrifice it in the evening.

7 And they ſhall take of the blood thereof, and put it upon both the ſide poſts, and on the upper door-poſts of the houſes, wherein they ſhall eat it.

8 And they ſhall eat the fleſh that night roaſted at the fire, and unleavened bread with wild lettuce.

9 You ſhall not eat thereof any thing raw, nor boiled in water, but only roaſted at the fire: you ſhall eat the head with the feet and entrails thereof.

10 Neither ſhall there remain any thing of it until morning. † If there be any thing left, you ſhall burn it with fire. † Levit. 7. 15.

11 And thus you ſhall eat it: you ſhall gird your reins, and you ſhall have ſhoes on your feet holding ſtaves in your hands, and you ſhall eat in haſte: for it is the Phaſe (that is the Paſſage) of the Lord.

12 And I will paſs through the land of Egypt that night, and will kill every firſt-born in the land of Egypt both man and beaſt: and againſt all the gods of Egypt I will execute judgments, I am the Lord.

13 And the blood ſhall be unto you for a ſign in the houſes where you ſhall be: and I ſhall ſee the blood, and ſhall paſs over you: and the plague ſhall not be upon you to deſtroy you, when I ſhall ſtrike the land of Egypt.

14 And this day ſhall be for a memorial to you: and you ſhall keep it a feaſt to the Lord in your generations with an everlaſting obſervance.

15 Seven days ſhall you eat unleavened bread: in the firſt day there ſhall be no leaven in your houſes: whoſoever ſhall eat any thing leavened, from the firſt day until the ſeventh day, that ſoul ſhall periſh out of Iſrael.

16 The firſt day ſhall be holy and ſolemn, and the ſeventh day ſhall be kept with the like ſolemnity: you ſhall do no work in them, except thoſe things that belong to eating.

17 And you ſhall obſerve the feaſt of the unleavened bread: for in this ſame day I will bring forth your army out of the land of Egypt, and you ſhall keep this day in your generations by a perpetual obſervance.

18 ‖ The firſt month, the fourteenth day of the month in the evening, you ſhall eat unleavened bread, until the one and twentieth day of the ſame month in the evening. ‖ Levit. 23. 5. Num. 28. 16.

19 Seven days there ſhall not be found any leaven in your houſes: he that ſhall eat leavened bread, his ſoul ſhall periſh out of the aſſembly of Iſrael, whether he be a ſtranger or born in the land.

20 You ſhall not eat any thing leavened: in all your habitations you ſhall eat unleavened bread.

21 And Moſes called all the ancients of the children of Iſrael, and ſaid to them: Go take a lamb by your families, and ſacrifice the Phaſe.

22 ‖ And dip a bunch of hyſſop in the blood that is at the door, and ſprinkle the tranſom of the door therewith, and both the door cheeks: let none of you go out of the door of his houſe till morning. ‖ Heb 11. 28.

CHAP. XI. VER. 10. The Lord hardened, &c. See the annotations above, chap. iv. 21. and chap. vii. 3.

CHAP. XII. VER. 5. A kid. The phaſe might be performed, either with a lamb or with a kid: and all the ſame rites and ceremonies were to be uſed with the one as with the other.

VER. 18. Unleavened bread. By this it appears, that our Saviour made uſe of unleavened bread, in the inſtitution of the bleſſed ſacrament, which was on the evening of the paſchal ſolemnity, at which time there was no leavened bread to be found in Iſrael.

VER. 22. Sprinkle, &c. This ſprinkling the doors of the Iſraelites with the blood of the paſchal lamb, in order to their being delivered from the ſword of the deſtroying angel, was a lively figure of our redemption by the blood of Chriſt.

23 For the Lord will pass through striking the Egyptians: and when he shall see the blood on the transom, and on both the posts, he will pass over the door of the house, and not suffer the destroyer to come into your houses and to hurt you.

24 Thou shalt keep this thing as a law for thee and thy children for ever.

25 And when you have entered into the land which the Lord will give you as he hath promised, you shall observe these ceremonies.

26 And when your children shall say to you: What is the meaning of this service?

27 You shall say to them: It is the victim of the passage of the Lord, when he passed over the houses of the children of Israel in Egypt, striking the Egyptians, and saving our houses. And the people bowing themselves adored.

28 And the children of Israel going forth did as the Lord had commanded Moses and Aaron.

‖ Supra 11. 5. † Wis. 18. 5.

30 And Pharao arose in the night, and all his servants, and all Egypt: and there arose a great cry in Egypt: for there was not a house wherein there lay not one dead.

31 And Pharao calling Moses and Aaron, in the night, said: Arise and go forth from among my people, you and the children of Israel: go, sacrifice to the Lord as you say.

32 Your sheep and herds take along with you, as you demanded, and departing bless me.

33 And the Egyptians pressed the people to go forth out of the land speedily, saying: We shall all die.

35 ‖ And the children of Israel did as Moses had commanded: and they asked of the Egyptians vessels of silver and gold, and very much raiment.

36 And the Lord gave favour to the people in the sight of the Egyptians, so that they lent unto them: and they stripped the Egyptians.

* A. M. 2513. Ante C. 1491.

37 * And the children of Israel set forward from Ramesse to Socoth, being about six hundred thousand men on foot, beside children.

38 And a mixed multitude without number went up also with them, sheep and herds and beasts of divers kinds exceeding many.

39 And they baked the meal, which a little before they had brought out of Egypt in dough: and they made hearth-cakes unleavened: for it could not be leavened, the Egyptians pressing them to depart, and not suffering them to make any stay: neither did they think of preparing any meat.

40 And the abode of the children of Israel that they made in Egypt, was four hundred and thirty years.

41 Which being expired, the same day all the army of the Lord went forth out of the land of Egypt.

42 This is the observable night of the Lord, when he brought them forth out of the land of Egypt: this night all the children of Israel must observe in their generations.

43 And the Lord said to Moses and Aaron: This is the service of the Phase: No foreigner shall eat of it.

44 But every bought servant shall be circumcised, and so shall eat.

45 The stranger and the hireling shall not eat thereof.

‖ Num. 9. 12. John 19. 36.

46 ‖ In one house shall it be eaten, neither shall you carry forth of the flesh thereof out of the house, neither shall you break a bone thereof.

47 All the assembly of the children of Israel shall keep it.

48 And if any stranger be willing to dwell among you, and to keep the Phase of the Lord, all his males shall first be circumcised, and then shall he celebrate it according to the manner: and he shall be as he that is born in the land: but if any man be uncircumcised, he shall not eat thereof.

49 The same law shall be to him that is born in the land, and to the proselyte that sojourneth with you.

50 And all the children of Israel did as the Lord had commanded Moses and Aaron.

51 And the same day the Lord brought forth the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt by their companies.

CHAP. XIII.

The paschal solemnity is to be observed; and the first-born are to be consecrated to God. The people are conducted through the desert by a pillar of fire in the night, and a cloud in the day.

AND the Lord spoke to Moses, saying:

2 ‖ Sanctify unto me every first-born that openeth the womb among the children of Israel, as well of men as of beasts: for they are all mine. ‖ Infra 34. 19. Levit. 27. 26. Num. 8. 16. Luke 2. 23.

3 And Moses said to the people: Remember this day in which you came forth out of Egypt, and out of the house of bondage, for with a strong hand hath the Lord brought you forth out of this place: that you eat no leavened bread.

4 This day you go forth in the month of new corn.

5 And when the Lord shall have brought thee into the land of the Chananite and the Hethite and the Amorrhite and the Hevite and the Jebusite, which he swore to thy fathers that he would give thee, a land that floweth with milk and honey, thou shalt celebrate this manner of sacred rites in this month.

6 Seven days shalt thou eat unleavened bread: and on the seventh day shall be the solemnity of the Lord.

7 Unleavened bread shall you eat seven days: there shall not be seen any thing leavened with thee, nor in all thy coasts.

8 And thou shalt tell thy son in that day, saying: This is what the Lord did to me when I came forth out of Egypt.

9 And it shall be as a sign in thy hand, and as a memorial before thy eyes: and that the law of the Lord be always in thy mouth, for with a strong hand the Lord hath brought thee out of the land of Egypt.

10 Thou shalt keep this observance at the set time from days to days.

11 And when the Lord shall have brought thee into the land of the Chananite, as he swore to thee and thy fathers, and shall give it thee:

12 ‖ Thou shalt set apart all that openeth the womb for the Lord, and all that is first brought forth of thy cattle: whatsoever thou shalt have of the male sex, thou shalt consecrate to the Lord. ‖ Infra 22. 29. & 34. 19. Ezec. 44. 30.

13 The first born of an ass thou shalt change for a sheep: and if thou do not redeem it, thou shalt kill it. And every first-born of men thou shalt redeem with a price.

14 And when thy son shall ask thee to-morrow, saying: What is this? thou shalt answer him: With a strong hand did the Lord bring us forth out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage.

15 For when Pharao was hardened, and would not let us go, the Lord slew every first-born in the land of Egypt, from the first-born of man to the first-born of beasts: therefore I sacrifice to the Lord all that openeth the womb of the male sex, and all the first-born of my sons I redeem.

16 ‖ And it shall be as a sign in thy hand, and as a thing hung between thy eyes, for a remembrance: because the Lord hath brought us forth out of Egypt by a strong hand. ‖ Deut. 6. 8.

17 And when Pharao had sent out the people, the Lord led them not by the way of the land of the Philistines which is near: thinking lest perhaps they would repent, if they should see wars arise against them, and would return into Egypt.

18 But he led them about by the way of the desart, which is by the Red Sea: and the children of Israel went up armed out of the land of Egypt.

19 And Moses took Joseph's bones with him: because he had adjured the children of Israel, saying: ‖ God shall visit you, carry out my bones from hence with you. ‖ Gen. 50. 24.

20 And marching from Socoth they encamped in Etham in the utmost coasts of the wilderness.

21 ‖ And the Lord went before them to shew the way by day in a pillar of a cloud, and by night in a pillar of fire: that he might be the guide of their journey at both times. ‖ Num. 14. 14. 2 Esdr. 9. 12. & 19. 1 Cor. 10. 1.

22 There never failed the pillar of the cloud by day, nor the pillar of fire by night, before the people.

CHAP. XIV.

Pharao pursueth the children of Israel. They murmur against Moses, but are encouraged by him, and pass through the Red Sea. Pharao and his army following them are drowned.

AND the Lord spoke to Moses, saying:

2 Speak to the children of Israel: Let them turn and encamp over against Phihahiroth which is between Magdal and the sea over-against Beelsephon: you shall encamp before it upon the sea.

3 And Pharao will say of the children of Israel: They are straitened in the land, the desart hath shut them in.

4 And I shall harden his heart, and he will pursue you: and I shall be glorified in Pharao, and in all his army: and the Egyptians shall know that I am the Lord. And they did so.

5 And it was told the king of the Egyptians that the people was fled: and the heart of Pharao and of his servants was changed with regard to the people, and they said: What meant we to do, that we let Israel go from serving us?

6 So he made ready his chariot, and took all his people with him.

7 And he took six hundred chosen chariots, and all the chariots that were in Egypt: and the captains of the whole army.

8 And the Lord hardened the heart of Pharao king of Egypt, and he pursued the children of Israel: but they were gone forth in a mighty hand.

‖ Jos. 24. 6. 1 Mac. 4. 9.

9 ‖ And when the Egyptians followed the steps of them who were gone before, they found them encamped at the sea side: all Pharao's horse and chariots, and the whole army were in Phihahiroth before Beelsephon.

10 And when Pharao drew near, the children of Israel lifting up their eyes, saw the Egyptians behind them: and they feared exceedingly, and cried to the Lord,

11 And they said to Moses: Perhaps there were no graves in Egypt, therefore thou hast brought us to die in the wilderness: why wouldst thou do this, to lead us out of Egypt?

12 Is not this the word that we spoke to thee in Egypt, saying: Depart from us, that we may serve the Egyptians? for it was much better to serve them, than to die in the wilderness.

13 And Moses said to the people: Fear not: stand, and see the great wonders of the Lord, which he will do this day: for the Egyptians, whom you see now, you shall see no more for ever.

14 The Lord will fight for you, and you shall hold your peace.

15 And the Lord said to Moses: Why criest thou to me? Speak to the children of Israel to go forward.

16 But lift thou up thy rod, and stretch forth thy hand over the sea, and divide it: that the children of Israel may go through the midst of the sea on dry ground.

17 And I will harden the heart of the Egyptians to pursue you: and I will be glorified in Pharao, and in all his host, and in his chariots and in his horsemen.

18 And the Egyptians shall know that I am the Lord, when I shall be glorified in Pharao, and in his chariots and in his horsemen.

19 And the Angel of God, who went before the camp of Israel, removing, went behind them: and together with him the pillar of the cloud, leaving the fore-part,

20 Stood behind, between the Egyptians camp and the camp of Israel: and it was a dark cloud, and enlightening the night, so that they could not come at one another all the night.

‖ Ps. 77. 13. & 104. 37. & 113. 3. Heb. 11. 29.

21 ‖ And when Moses had stretched forth his hand over the sea, the Lord took it away by a strong and burning wind blowing all the night, and turned it into dry ground: and the water was divided.

22 And the children of Israel went in through the midst of the sea dried up: for the water was as a wall on their right hand and on their left.

23 And the Egyptians pursuing went in after them, and all Pharao's horses, his chariots and horsemen thro' the midst of the sea.

§ Wisd. 18. 15.

24 And now the morning watch was come, ‖ and behold the Lord looking upon the Egyptian army through the pillar of fire and of the cloud, slew their host.

25 And overthrew the wheels of the chariots, and they were carried into the deep. And the Egyptians said: Let us flee from Israel: for the Lord fighteth for them against us.

26 And the Lord said to Moses: Stretch forth thy hand over the sea, that the waters may come again upon the Egyptians, upon their chariots and horsemen.

27 And when Moses had stretched forth his hand towards the sea, it returned at the first break of day to the former place: and as the Egyptians were fleeing away, the waters came upon them, and the Lord shut them up in the middle of the waves.

28 And the waters returned, and covered the chariots and the horsemen of all the army of Pharao, who had come into the sea after them, neither did there so much as one of them remain.

29 But the children of Israel marched through the midst of the sea upon dry land, and the waters were to them as a wall on the right hand and on the left:

30 And the Lord delivered Israel in that day out of the hands of the Egyptians.

31 And they saw the Egyptians dead upon the sea shore, and the mighty hand that the Lord had used against them: and the people feared the Lord, and they believed the Lord, and Moses his servant.

The canticle of Moſes. The bitter waters of Mara are made ſweet.

‖ Wiſd. 10. 20. THEN ‖ Moſes and the children of Iſrael ſung this canticle to the Lord, and ſaid: Let us ſing to the Lord: for he is glorioufly magnified, the horſe and the rider he hath thrown into the ſea.

‖ Pſ. 117. 14. Iſai. 12. 2. 2 ‖ The Lord is my ſtrength and my praiſe, and he is become ſalvation to me: he is my God, and I will glorify him: the God of my father, and I will exalt him.

3 The Lord is as a man of war, Almighty is his name.

4 Pharao's chariots and his army he hath caſt into the ſea: his choſen captains are drowned in the Red Sea.

5 The depths have covered them, they are ſunk to the bottom like a ſtone.

6 Thy right hand, O Lord, is magnified in ſtrength: thy right hand, O Lord, hath ſlain the enemy.

7 And in the multitude of thy glory thou haſt put down thy adverſaries: thou haſt ſent thy wrath, which hath devoured them like ſtubble.

8 And with the blaſt of thy anger the waters were gathered together: the flowing water ſtood, the depths were gathered together in the midſt of the ſea.

9 The enemy ſaid: I will purſue and overtake, I will divide the ſpoils, my ſoul ſhall have its fill: I will draw my ſword, my hand ſhall ſlay them.

10 Thy wind blew and the ſea covered them: they ſunk as lead in the mighty waters.

11 Who is like to thee, among the ſtrong, O Lord? who is like to thee, glorious in holineſs, terrible and praiſe-worthy, doing wonders?

12 Thou ſtretcheſt forth thy hand, and the earth ſwallowed them.

13 In thy mercy thou haſt been a leader to the people which thou haſt redeemed: and in thy ſtrength thou haſt carried them to thy holy habitation.

14 Nations roſe up, and were angry: ſorrows took hold on the inhabitants of Philiſthiim.

15 Then were the princes of Edom troubled, trembling ſeized on the ſtout men of Moab: all the inhabitants of Chanaan became ſtiff.

16 Let fear and dread fall upon them, in the greatneſs of thy arm: let them become unmoveable as a ſtone, until thy people, O Lord, paſs by: until this thy people paſs by, which thou haſt poſſeſſed.

17 Thou ſhalt bring them in, and plant them in the mountain of thy inheritance, in thy moſt firm habitation, which thou haſt made, O Lord: thy ſanctuary, O Lord, which thy hands have eſtabliſhed.

18 The Lord ſhall reign for ever and ever.

19 For Pharao went in on horſeback with his chariots and horſemen into the ſea: and the Lord brought back upon them the waters of the ſea: but the children of Iſrael walked on dry ground in the midſt thereof.

20 So Mary the propheteſs, the ſiſter of Aaron, took a timbrel in her hand: and all the women went forth after her with timbrels and with dances:

21 And ſhe began the ſong to them, ſaying: Let us ſing to the Lord, for he is glorioufly magnified, the horſe and his rider he hath thrown into the ſea.

22 And Moſes brought Iſrael from the Red Sea, and they went forth into the wilderneſs of Sur: and they marched three days through the wilderneſs, and found no water.

23 And they came into Mara, and they could not drink the waters of Mara, becauſe they were bitter: whereupon he gave a name alſo agreeable to the place, calling it Mara, that is, bitterneſs.

24 And the people murmured againſt Moſes, ſaying: What ſhall we drink?

25 But he cried to the Lord, and he ſhewed him a tree, ‖ which when he had caſt into the waters, they were turned into ſweetneſs. There he appointed him ordinances, and judgments, and there he proved him, ‖ Judith 5. 15. Eccli. 38. 5.

26 Saying: If thou wilt hear the voice of the Lord thy God, and do what is right before him, and obey his commandments, and keep all his precepts, none of the evils that I laid upon Egypt, will I bring upon thee: for I am the Lord thy healer.

27 ‖ And the children of Iſrael came into Elim, where there were twelve fountains of water, and ſeventy palm trees: and they encamped by the waters. ‖ Num. 33. 9.

CHAP. XVI.

The people murmur for want of meat: God giveth them quails and manna.

AND they ſet forward from Elim, and all the multitude of the children of Iſrael came into the deſart of Sin, which is between Elim and Sinai: the fifteenth day of the ſecond month, after they came out of the land of Egypt.* Wiſd. 11. 2. * A. M. 2513.

2 And all the congregation of the children of Iſrael murmured againſt Moſes and Aaron in the wilderneſs.

3 And the children of Iſrael ſaid to them: Would to God we had died by the hand of the Lord in the land of Egypt, when we ſat over the fleſhpots, and ate bread to the full: Why have you brought us into this deſart, that you might deſtroy all the multitude with famine?

4 And the Lord ſaid to Moſes: Behold I will rain bread from heaven for you: let the people go forth, and gather what is ſufficient for every day: that I may prove them whether they will walk in my law, or no.

5 But the ſixth day let them provide for to bring in: and let it be double to that they were wont to gather every day.

6 And Moſes and Aaron ſaid to the children of Iſrael: In the evening you ſhall know that the Lord hath brought you forth out of the land of Egypt:

7 And in the morning you ſhall ſee the glory of the Lord: for he hath heard your murmuring againſt the Lord: but as for us, what are we, that you mutter againſt us?

8 And Moſes ſaid: In the evening the Lord will give you fleſh to eat, and in the morning bread to the full: for he hath heard your murmurings, with which you have murmured againſt him, for what are we? your murmuring is not againſt us, but againſt the Lord.

9 Moſes alſo ſaid to Aaron: Say to the whole congregation of the children of Iſrael: Come before the Lord: for he hath heard your murmuring.

10 And when Aaron ſpoke to all the aſſembly of the children of Iſrael, they looked towards the wilderneſs: ‖ and behold the glory of the Lord appeared in a cloud.

‖ Eccli. 45. 3.

11 And the Lord ſpoke to Moſes, ſaying:

12 I have heard the murmuring of the children of Iſrael, ſay to them: In the evening you ſhall eat fleſh, and in the morning you ſhall have your fill of bread: and you ſhall know that I am the Lord your God.

‖ Num. 11. 31.

13 So it came to paſs in the evening, ‖ that quails coming up, covered the camp: and in the morning a dew lay round about the camp.

14 And when it had covered the face of the earth, † it appeared in the wilderneſs ſmall, and as it were beaten with a peſtle, like unto the hoar-froſt on the ground.

15 And when the children of Iſrael ſaw it, they ſaid one to another: Manhu! which ſignifieth: What is this! for they knew not what it was. And Moſes ſaid to them: ‖ This is the bread, which the Lord hath given you to eat.

‖ 1 Cor. 10. 3.

16 This is the word, that the Lord hath commanded: Let every one gather of it as much as is enough to eat: a gomor for every man, according to the number of your ſouls that dwell in a tent, ſo ſhall you take of it.

17 And the children of Iſrael did ſo: and they gathered, one more, another leſs.

18 And they meaſured by the meaſure of a gomor: ‖ neither had he more that had gathered more: nor did he find leſs that had provided leſs: but every one had gathered, according to what they were able to eat.

‖ 2 Cor. 8. 15.

19 And Moſes ſaid to them: Let no man leave thereof till the morning.

20 And they hearkened not to him, ut ſome of them left until the morning, and it began to be full of worms, and it putrified, and Moſes was angry with them.

21 Now every one of them gathered in the morning, as much as might ſuffice to eat: and after the ſun grew hot, it melted.

22 But on the ſixth day they gathered twice as much, that is, two gomors every man: and all the rulers of the multitude came, and told Moſes.

23 And he ſaid to them: This is what the Lord hath ſpoken: To-morrow is the reſt of the ſabbath ſanctified to the Lord. Whatſoever work is to be done, do it: and the meats that are to be dreſſed, dreſs them: and whatſoever ſhall remain, lay it up until the morning.

24 And they did ſo as Moſes had commanded, and it did not putrify, neither was there worm found in it.

25 And Moſes ſaid: Eat it to-day, becauſe it is the ſabbath of the Lord: to-day it ſhall not be found in the field.

26 Gather it ſix days: but on the ſeventh day is the ſabbath of the Lord, therefore it ſhall not be found.

27 And the ſeventh day came: and ſome of the people going forth to gather, found none.

28 And the Lord ſaid to Moſes: How long will you refuſe to keep my commandments, and my law?

29 See that the Lord hath given you the ſabbath, and for this reaſon on the ſixth day he giveth you a double proviſion: let each man ſtay at home, and let none go forth out of his place the ſeventh day.

30 And the people kept the ſabbath on the ſeventh day.

33 And Moſes ſaid to Aaron: Take a veſſel, and put manna into it, as much as a gomor can hold: and lay it up before the Lord to keep unto your generations,

The people murmur again for want of drink, the Lord giveth them water out of a rock. Moſes lifting up his hand in prayer, Amalec is overcome.

A. M. 2513. THEN all the multitude of the children of Iſrael ſetting forward from the deſart of Sin, by their manſions, according to the word of the Lord, encamped in Raphidim, where there was no water for the people to drink.

‖ Num. 20. 41.

2 ‖ And they chode with Moſes, and ſaid: Give us water, that we may drink. And Moſes anſwered them: Why chide you with me? Wherefore do you tempt the Lord?

3 So the people were thirſty there for want of water, and murmured againſt Moſes, ſaying: Why didſt thou make us go forth out of Egypt, to kill us and our children, and our beaſts with thirſt?

4 And Moſes cried to the Lord, ſaying: What ſhall I do to this people? Yet a little more and they will ſtone me.

5 And the Lord ſaid to Moſes: Go before the people, and take with thee of the ancients of Iſrael: and take in thy hand the rod

6 Behold I will ſtand there before thee, upon the rock Horeb: and thou ſhalt ſtrike the rock, and water ſhall come out of it that the people may drink. Moſes did ſo before the ancients of Iſrael:

7 And he called the name of that place Temptation, becauſe of the chiding of the children of Iſrael, and for that they tempted the Lord, ſaying: Is the Lord amongſt us or not?

8 ‖ And Amalec came, and fought againſt Iſrael in Raphidim.

‖ Deut. 25. 17. Judith 4. 13. Wiſd. 11. 3.

9 And Moſes ſaid to Joſue: Chuſe out men: and go out and fight againſt Amalec: to-morrow I will ſtand on the top of the hill having the rod of God in my hand.

10 Joſue did as Moſes had ſpoken, and he fought againſt Amalec: but Moſes and Aaron and Hur went up upon the top of the hill.

11 And when Moſes lifted up his hands, Iſrael overcame: but if he let them down a little, Amalec overcame.

12 And Moſes's hands were heavy: ſo they took a ſtone, and put under him, and he ſat on it: and Aaron and Hur ſtayed up his hands on both ſides. And it came to paſs that his hands were not weary until ſunſet.

13 And Joſue put Amalec and his people to flight, by the edge of the ſword.

14 And the Lord ſaid to Moſes: Write this for a memorial in a book, and deliver it to the ears of Joſue: for I will deſtroy the memory of Amalec from under heaven.

15 And Moſes built an altar: and called the name thereof, The Lord my exaltation, ſaying:

of my father, ſaid he, is my helper, and hath delivered me from the ſword of Pharao.

5 And Jethro the kinſman of Moſes came with his ſons, and his wife to Moſes into the deſart, where he was camped by the mountain of God.

6 And he ſent word to Moſes, ſaying: I Jethro thy kinſman come to thee, and thy wife, and thy two ſons with her.

7 And he went out to meet his kinſman and worſhipped and kiſſed him: and they ſaluted one another with words of peace. And when he was come into the tent,

8 Moſes told his kinſman all that the Lord had done to Pharao, and the Egyptians in favour of Iſrael: and all the labour which had befallen them in the journey, and that the Lord had delivered them.

9 And Jethro rejoiced for all the good things that the Lord had done to Iſrael, becauſe he had delivered them out of the hands of the Egyptians.

10 And he ſaid: Bleſſed is the Lord, who hath delivered his people out of the hand of Egypt.

11 Now I know, that the Lord is great above all gods: ‖ becauſe they dealt proudly againſt them.

‖ Supra 1. 14. & 5. 7. & 10. 10. & 14. 8.

12 So Jethro the kinſman of Moſes offered holocauſts and ſacrifices to God: and Aaron and all the ancients of Iſrael came, to eat bread with him before God.

13 And the next day Moſes ſat to judge the people, who ſtood by Moſes from morning until night.

14 And when his kinſman had ſeen all things that he did among the people, he ſaid: What is it that thou doſt among the people? Why ſitteſt thou alone, and all the people wait from morning till night?

15 And Moſes anſwered him: The people come to me to ſeek the judgment of God.

16 And when any controverſy falleth out among them, they come to me to judge between them, and to ſhew the precepts of God, and his laws.

17 But he ſaid: The thing thou doſt is not good.

18 Thou art ſpent with fooliſh labour, both thou, and this people that is with thee: the buſineſs is above thy ſtrength, ‖ thou alone canſt not bear it.

‖ Deut. 1. 12.

19 But hear my words and counſels, and God ſhall be with thee. Be thou to the people in thoſe things that pertain to God, to bring their words to him:

20 And to ſhew the people the ceremonies and the manner of worſhipping, and the way wherein they ought to walk, and the work that they ought to do.

21 And provide out of all the people able men ſuch as fear God, in whom there is truth, and that hate avarice, and appoint of them rulers of thouſands, and of hundreds, and of fifties and of tens,

22 Who may judge the people at all times: and when any great matter ſoever ſhall fall out, let them refer it to thee, and let them judge the leſſer matters only: that ſo it may be lighter for thee, the burden being ſhared out unto others.

23 If thou doſt this, thou ſhalt fulfil the commandment of God, and ſhalt be able to bear his precepts: and all this people ſhall return to their places with peace.

24 And when Moſes heard this, he did all things that he had ſuggeſted unto him.

25 And chooſing able men out of all Iſrael, he appointed them rulers of the people, rulers over thouſands, and over hundreds, and over fifties, and over tens.

26 And they judged the people at all times: and whatſoever was of greater difficulty they referred to him, and they judged the eaſier caſes only.

27 And he let his kinſman depart: and he returned and went into his own country. ‖ ‖ Num. 10. 29.

They come to Sinai: the people are commanded to be ſanctified. The Lord coming in thunder and lightning ſpeaketh with Moſes.

IN the third month of the departure of Iſrael out of the land of Egypt, on this day they came into the wilderneſs of Sinai: Num. 33. 15.

2 For departing out of Raphidim, and coming to the deſart of Sinai, they camped in the ſame place, and there Iſrael pitched their tents over-againſt the mountain.

CHAP. XIX. VER. 3. And Moſes went up to God. Moſes went up to Mount Sinai where God ſpoke to him.

7 Moſes came: and calling together the elders of the people, he declared all the words which the Lord had commanded.

8 And all the people anſwered together: All that the Lord hath ſpoken, we will do. And when Moſes had related the people's words to the Lord,

9 The Lord ſaid to him: Lo now will I come to thee in the darkneſs of a cloud, that the people may hear me ſpeaking to thee, and may believe thee for ever. And Moſes told the words of the people to the Lord.

10 And he ſaid to him: Go to the people, and ſanctify them to-day, and to-morrow, and let them waſh their garments.

11 And let them be ready againſt the third day: for on the third day the Lord will come down in the ſight of all the people upon mount Sinai.

12 And thou ſhalt appoint certain limits to the people round about, and thou ſhalt ſay to them: ‖ Take heed ye go not up into the mount, and that ye touch not the borders thereof: every one that toucheth the mount, dying he ſhall die. ‖ Heb. 12. 18.

13 No hands ſhall touch him, but he ſhall be ſtoned to death, or ſhall be ſhot through with arrows: whether it be beaſt, or man, he ſhall not live. When the trumpet ſhall begin to ſound, then let them go up into the mount.

14 And Moſes came down from the mount to the people, and ſanctified them. And when they had waſhed their garments, 15 He ſaid to them: Be ready againſt the third day, and come not near your wives.

16 And now the third day was come, and the morning appeared: and behold thunders began to be heard, and lightning to flaſh, and a very thick cloud to cover the mount, and the noiſe of the trumpet ſounded exceeding loud: and the people that was in the camp, feared.

17 And when Moſes had brought them forth to meet God from the place of the camp, they ſtood at the bottom of the mount.

18 ‖ And all mount Sinai was on a ſmoke: becauſe the Lord was come down upon it in fire, and the ſmoke aroſe from it as out of a furnace: and all the mount was terrible. ‖ Deut. 4. 11.

19 And the ſound of the trumpet grew by degrees louder and louder, and was drawn out to a greater length: Moſes ſpoke, and God anſwered him.

20 And the Lord came down upon mount Sinai, in the very top of the mount, and he called Moſes unto the top thereof. And when he was gone up thither,

21 He ſaid unto him: Go down, and charge the people: leſt they ſhould have a mind to paſs the limits to ſee the Lord, and a very great multitude of them ſhould periſh.

22 The prieſts alſo that come to the Lord, let them be ſanctified, leſt he ſtrike them.

23 And Moſes ſaid to the Lord: The people cannot come up to mount Sinai: for thou didſt charge, and command, ſaying: Set limits about the mount, and ſanctify it.

24 And the Lord ſaid to him: Go, get thee down: and thou ſhalt come up, thou and Aaron with thee: but let not the prieſts and the people paſs the limits, nor come up to the Lord, leſt he kill them.

25 And Moſes went down to the people and told them all.

19 Saying to Moſes: Speak thou to us, and we will hear: let not the Lord ſpeak to us, leſt we die.

THESE are the judgments which thou ſhalt ſet before them.

2 || If thou buy a Hebrew ſervant, ſix years ſhall he ſerve thee: in the ſeventh he ſhall go out free for nothing. || Deut. 15. 12. Jer. 34. 14.

3 With what raiment he came in, with the like let him go out: if having a wife, his wife alſo ſhall go out with him.

4 But if his maſter gave him a wife, and ſhe hath born ſons and daughters: the woman and her children ſhall be her maſter's: but he himſelf ſhall go out with his raiment.

5 And if the ſervant ſhall ſay: I love my maſter and my wife and children, I will not go out free:

6 His maſter ſhall bring him to the gods, and he ſhall be ſet to the door and the poſts, and he ſhall bore his ear through with an awl: and he ſhall be his ſervant for ever.

7 If any man ſell his daughter to be a ſervant, ſhe ſhall not go out as bond-women are wont to go out.

8 If ſhe diſpleaſe the eyes of her maſter to whom ſhe was delivered, he ſhall let her go: but he ſhall have no power to ſell her to a foreign nation, if he deſpiſe her.

9 But if he have betrothed her to his ſon, he ſhall deal with her after the manner of daughters.

10 And if he take another wife for him, he ſhall provide her a marriage, and raiment, neither ſhall he refuſe the price of her chaſtity.

11 If he do not theſe three things, ſhe ſhall go out free without money.

12 || He that ſtriketh a man with a will to kill him, ſhall be put to death. || Lev. 24. 17.

15 He that ſtriketh his father or mother, ſhall be put to death.

16 He that ſhall ſteal a man, and ſell him, being convicted of the guilt, ſhall be put to death.

17 || He that curſeth his father, or mother, ſhall die the death. || Lev. 20. 9. Prov. 20. 20. Mat. 15. 4. Mark 7. 10.

18 If men quarrel, and the one ſtrike his neighbour with a ſtone or with his fiſt, and he die not, but keepeth his bed:

19 If he riſe again and walk abroad upon his ſtaff, he that ſtruck him ſhall be quit, yet ſo that he make reſtitution for his work, and for his expences upon the phyſicians.

20 He that ſtriketh his bond-man or bond-woman with a rod, and they die under his hands, ſhall be guilty of the crime.

26 If any man ſtrike the eye of his man-ſervant or maid-ſervant, and leave them but one eye, he ſhall let them go free for the eye which he put out.

27 Alſo if he ſtrike out a tooth of his man-ſervant, or maid-ſervant, he ſhall in like manner make them free.

28 If an ox gore a man or a woman, and they die, he ſhall be ſtoned: and his fleſh ſhall not be eaten, but the owner of the ox ſhall be quit.

29 But if the ox was wont to puſh with his horn yeſterday and the day before, and they warned his maſter, and he did not ſhut him up, and he ſhall kill a man or a woman: then the ox ſhall be ſtoned, and his owner alſo ſhall be put to death.

30 And if they ſet a price upon him, he ſhall give for his life whatſoever is laid upon him.

31 If he have gored a ſon, or a daughter, he ſhall fall under the like ſentence.

32 If he aſſault a bond-man or bond-woman, he ſhall give thirty ſicles of ſilver to their maſter, and the ox ſhall be ſtoned.

33 If a man open a pit, and dig one, and cover it not, and an ox or an aſs fall into it,

CHAP. XXIV.

Moſes writeth his law; and after offering ſacrifices, ſprinkleth the blood of the teſtament upon the people: then goeth up the mountain which God covereth with a fiery cloud.

AND he ſaid to Moſes: Come up to the Lord, thou, and Aaron, Nadab and Abiu, and ſeventy of the ancients of Iſrael, and you ſhall adore afar off.

2 And Moſes alone ſhall come up to the Lord, but they ſhall not come nigh: neither ſhall the people come up with him.

3 So Moſes came and told the people all the words of the Lord, and all the judgments: and all the people anſwered with one voice: We will do all the words of the Lord, which he hath ſpoken.

4 And Moſes wrote all the words of the Lord: and riſing in the morning he built an altar at the foot of the mount, and twelve titles according to the twelve tribes of Iſrael.

5 And he ſent young men of the children of Iſrael, and they offered holocauſts, and ſacrificed pacific victims of calves to the Lord.

6 Then Moſes took half of the blood, and put it into bowls: and the reſt he poured upon the altar.

7 And taking the book of the covenant, he read it in the hearing of the people: and they ſaid: All things that the Lord hath ſpoken, we will do, we will be obedient.

8 And he took the blood and ſprinkled it upon the people, and he ſaid: || This is the blood of the covenant which the Lord hath made with you concerning all theſe words. || Heb. 9. 20.

9 Then Moſes and Aaron, Nadab and Abiu, and ſeventy of the ancients of Iſrael went up:

10 And they ſaw the God of Iſrael: and under his feet as it were a work of ſapphire ſtone, and as the heaven, when clear.

11 Neither did he lay his hand upon thoſe of the children of Iſrael, that retired afar off, and they ſaw God, and they did eat and drink.

12 And the Lord ſaid to Moſes: Come up to me into the mount, and be there: and I will give thee tables of ſtone, and the law, and the commandments which I have written: that thou mayeſt teach them.

13 Moſes roſe up, and his miniſter Joſue: And Moſes going up into the mount of God,

14 Said to the ancients: Wait ye here till we return to you. You have Aaron and Hur with you: if any queſtion ſhall ariſe, you ſhall refer it to them.

15 And when Moſes was gone up, a cloud covered the mount.

16 And the glory of the Lord dwelt upon Sinai, covering it with a cloud ſix days: and the ſeventh day he called him out of the midſt of the cloud.

17 And the ſight of the glory of the Lord was like a burning fire upon the top of the mount, in the eyes of the children of Iſrael.

5 And ram ſkins dyed red, and violet ſkins, and ſetim-wood:

6 Oil to make lights: ſpices for ointment, and for ſweet-ſmelling incenſe:

7 Onyx ſtones, and precious ſtones to adorn the ephod, and the rational.

8 And they ſhall make me a ſanctuary, and I will dwell in the midſt of them:

‡ Heb. 9. 2. 9 ‖ According to all the likeneſs of the tabernacle which I will ſhew thee, and of all the veſſels for the ſervice thereof: and thus you ſhall make it:

10 Frame an ark of ſetim-wood, the length whereof ſhall be of two cubits and a half: the breadth, a cubit and a half: the height, likewiſe a cubit and a half.

16 And thou ſhalt put in the ark the teſtimony which I will give thee.

17 Thou ſhalt make alſo a propitiatory of the pureſt gold: the length thereof ſhall be two cubits and a half, and the breadth a cubit and a half.

18 Thou ſhalt make alſo two cherubims of beaten gold, on the two ſides of the oracle.

19 Let one cherub be on the one ſide, and the other on the other.

20 Let them cover both ſides of the propitiatory, ſpreading their wings, and covering the oracle, and let them look one towards the other, their faces being turned towards the propitiatory wherewith the ark is to be covered.

21 In which thou ſhalt put the teſtimony that I will give thee.

22 Thence will I give orders, and will ſpeak to thee over the propitiatory, and from the midſt of the two cherubims, which ſhall be upon the ark of the teſtimony, all things which I will command the children of Iſrael by thee.

23 Thou ſhalt make a table alſo of ſetim-wood, of two cubits in length, and a cubit in breadth, and a cubit and a half in height.

VER. 17. A propitiatory: a covering for the ark; called a propitiatory, or mercy ſeat, becauſe the Lord, who was ſuppoſed to ſit there upon the wings of the cherubims, with the ark for his foot-ſtool, from thence ſhewed mercy. It is alſo called the oracle, ver. 18 and 20, becauſe, from thence, God gave his orders and his anſwers.

VER. 23. A table: on which were to be placed the twelve loaves of propoſition; or, as they are called in the Hebrew the face-bread, becauſe they were always to ſtand before the face of the Lord in his temple: as a figure of the euchariſtic ſacrifice and ſacrament, in the church of Chriſt.

VER. 29. Libations. That is, drink-offerings.

10 Thou ſhalt make alſo fifty loops in the edge of one curtain, that it may be joined with the other: and fifty loops in the edge of the other curtain, that it may be coupled with its fellow.

11 Thou ſhalt make alſo fifty buckles of braſs, wherewith the loops may be joined, that of all there may be made one covering.

12 And that which ſhall remain of the curtains, that are prepared for the roof, to wit, one curtain that is over and above, with the half thereof thou ſhalt cover the back parts of the tabernacle.

13 And there ſhall hang down a cubit on the one ſide, and another on the other ſide, which is over and above in the length of the curtains, fencing both ſides of the tabernacle.

14 Thou ſhalt make alſo another cover to the roof of rams ſkins dyed red: and over that again another cover of violet-coloured ſkins.

15 Thou ſhalt make alſo the boards of the tabernacle ſtanding upright of ſetim-wood.

16 Let every one of them be ten cubits in length, and in breadth one cubit and a half.

17 In the ſides of the boards, ſhall be made two mortiſes, whereby one board may be joined to another board: and after this manner ſhall all the boards be prepared.

18 Of which twenty ſhall be in the ſouth ſide ſouthward.

19 For which thou ſhalt caſt forty ſockets of ſilver, that under every board may be put two ſockets at the two corners.

20 In the ſecond ſide alſo of the tabernacle that looketh to the north, there ſhall be twenty boards,

VER. 31. A candleſtick. This candleſtick, with its ſeven lamps, which was always to give light in the houſe of God, was a figure of the light of the Holy Ghoſt, and his ſevenfold grace, in the ſanctuary of the church of Chriſt.

21 Having forty ſockets of ſilver, two ſockets ſhall be put under each board.

22 But on the weſt ſide of the tabernacle thou ſhalt make ſix boards.

23 And again other two which ſhall be erected in the corners at the back of the tabernacle.

24 And they ſhall be joined together from beneath unto the top, and one joint ſhall hold them all. The like joining ſhall be obſerved for the two boards alſo that are to be put in the corners.

25 And they ſhall be in all eight boards, and their ſilver ſockets ſixteen, reckoning two ſockets for each board.

26 Thou ſhalt make alſo five bars of ſetim-wood, to hold together the boards on one ſide of the tabernacle,

27 And five others on the other ſide, and as many at the weſt ſide:

28 And they ſhall be put along by the midſt of the boards from one end to the other.

29 The boards alſo themſelves thou ſhalt overlay with gold, and ſhalt caſt rings of gold to be ſet upon them, for places for the bars to hold together the board-work: which bars thou ſhalt cover with plates of gold.

30 And thou ſhalt rear up the tabernacle according to the pattern that was ‖ ſhewn thee in the mount. ‖ Supra 25. 40.

31 Thou ſhalt make alſo a veil of violet, and purple, and ſcarlet twice dyed, and fine twiſted linen, wrought with embroidered work and goodly variety:

32 And thou ſhalt hang it up before four pillars of ſetim-wood, which themſelves alſo ſhall be overlaid with gold, and ſhall have heads of gold, but ſockets of ſilver.

33 And the veil ſhall be hanged on with rings, and within it thou ſhalt put the ark of the teſtimony, and the ſanctuary and the holy of the holies ſhall be divided with it.

34 And thou ſhalt ſet the propitiatory upon the ark of the teſtimony in the holy of holies.

35 And the table without the veil and over-againſt the table the candleſtick in the ſouth ſide of the tabernacle: for the table ſhall ſtand in the north ſide.

36 Thou ſhalt make alſo a hanging in the entrance of the tabernacle of violet, and purple, and ſcarlet twice dyed, and fine twiſted linen with embroidered work.

37 And thou ſhalt overlay with gold five pillars of ſetim-wood, before which the hanging ſhall be drawn: their heads ſhall be of gold, and the ſockets of braſs.

CHAP. XXVII.

The altar: and the court of the tabernacle with its hangings and pillars. Proviſion of oil for lamps.

THOU ſhalt make alſo an altar of ſetim-wood, which ſhall be five cubits long, and as many broad, that is four-ſquare, and three cubits high. Infra 38. 6.

2 And there ſhall be horns at the four corners of the ſame: and thou ſhalt cover it with braſs.

3 And thou ſhalt make for the uſes thereof pans to receive the aſhes, and tongs and fleſh-hooks, and fire-pans: all its veſſels thou ſhalt make of braſs.

4 And a grate of braſs in manner of a net: at the four corners of which ſhall be four rings of braſs,

5 Which thou ſhalt put under the hearth of the altar: and the grate ſhall be even to the midſt of the altar.

6 Thou ſhalt make alſo two bars for the altar of ſetim-wood, which thou ſhalt cover with plates of braſs:

7 And thou ſhalt draw them through rings, and they ſhall be on both ſides of the altar to carry it.

8 ‖ Thou ſhalt not make it ſolid, but empty and hollow in the inſide, as it was ſhewn thee in the mount. ‖ Supra 20. 24.

9 Thou ſhalt make alſo the court of the tabernacle, in the ſouth ſide whereof ſouthward there ſhall be hangings of fine twiſted linen of a hundred cubits long for one ſide.

10 And twenty pillars with as many ſockets of braſs, the heads of which with their engraving ſhall be of ſilver.

11 In like manner alſo on the north ſide there ſhall be hangings of a hundred cubits long, twenty pillars, and as many ſockets of braſs, and their heads with their engraving of ſilver.

12 But in the breadth of the court, that looketh to the weſt, there ſhall be hangings of fifty cubits, and ten pillars, and as many ſockets.

13 In that breadth alſo of the court, which looketh to the eaſt, there ſhall be fifty cubits.

CHAP. XXVI. VER. 33. The ſanctuary, &c. That part of the tabernacle, which was without the veil, into which the prieſts daily entered, is here called the ſanctuary, or holy place; that part which was within the veil, into which no one but the high-prieſt ever went in, and he but once a year, is called the holy of holies (literally, the ſanctuaries of the ſanctuary), as being the moſt holy of all holy places.

hangings of fifteen cubits, and three pillars and as many ſockets.

15 And in the other ſide there ſhall be hangings of fifteen cubits, with three pillars and as many ſockets.

16 And in the entrance of the court there ſhall be made a hanging of twenty cubits of violet and purple, and ſcarlet twice dyed, and fine twiſted linen, with embroidered work: it ſhall have four pillars, with as many ſockets.

17 All the pillars of the court round about ſhall be garniſhed with plates of ſilver, ſilver heads and ſockets of braſs.

18 In length the court ſhall take up a hundred cubits, in breadth fifty, the height ſhall be of five cubits, and it ſhall be made of fine twiſted linen, and ſhall have ſockets of braſs.

19 All the veſſels of the tabernacle for all uſes and ceremonies, and the pins both of it, and of the court, thou ſhalt make of braſs.

20 Command the children of Iſrael that they bring thee the pureſt oil of the olives, and beaten with a peſtle: that a lamp may burn always.

21 In the tabernacle of the teſtimony, without the veil that hangs before the teſtimony. And Aaron and his ſons ſhall order it, that it may give light before the Lord until the morning. It ſhall be a perpetual obſervance throughout their ſucceſſions among the children of Iſrael.

CHAP. XXVIII.

The holy veſtments for Aaron and his ſons.

TAKE unto thee alſo Aaron thy brother with his ſons, from among the children of Iſrael, that they may miniſter to me in the prieſt's office: Aaron, Nadab, and Abiu, Eleazar, and Ithamar.

2 And thou ſhalt make a holy veſture for Aaron thy brother for glory and for beauty.

3 And thou ſhalt ſpeak to all the wiſe of heart, whom I have filled with the ſpirit of wiſdom, that they may make Aaron's veſtments, in which he being conſecrated may miniſter to me.

4 And theſe ſhall be the veſtments that they ſhall make: A rational and an ephod, a tunick and a ſtrait linen garment, a mitre and a girdle. They ſhall make the holy veſtments for thy brother Aaron and his ſons, that they may do the office of prieſthood unto me.

5 And they ſhall take gold, and violet, and purple, and ſcarlet twice dyed, and fine linen.

6 And they ſhall make the ephod of gold, and violet, and purple, and ſcarlet twice dyed, and fine twiſted linen, embroidered with divers colours.

7 It ſhall have the two edges joined in the top on both ſides, that they may be cloſed together.

8 The very workmanſhip alſo and all the variety of the work ſhall be of gold, and violet, and purple, and ſcarlet twice dyed, and fine twiſted linen.

9 And thou ſhalt take two onyx ſtones, and ſhalt grave on them the names of the children of Iſrael:

10 Six names on one ſtone, and the other ſix on the other, according to the order of their birth.

11 With the work of an engraver and the graving of a jeweller, thou ſhalt engrave them with the names of the children of Iſrael, ſet in gold and compaſſed about:

12 And thou ſhalt put them in both ſides of the ephod, a memorial for the children of Iſrael. And Aaron ſhall bear their names before the Lord upon both ſhoulders, for a remembrance.

13 Thou ſhalt make alſo hooks of gold.

14 And two little chains of the pureſt gold linked one to another, which thou ſhalt put into the hooks.

15 And thou ſhalt make the rational of judgment with embroidered work of divers colours, according to the workmanſhip of the ephod, of gold, violet, and purple, and ſcarlet twice dyed, and fine twiſted linen.

16 It ſhall be four-ſquare and doubled: it ſhall be the meaſure of a ſpan both in length and in breadth.

17 And thou ſhalt ſet in it four rows of ſtones: In the firſt row ſhall be a ſardius ſtone, and a topaz, and an emerald:

18 In the ſecond a carbuncle, a ſapphire, and a jaſper:

19 In the third a ligurius, an agate, and an amethyſt:

20 In the fourth a chryſolite, an onyx and a beryl. They ſhall be ſet in gold by their rows.

21 And they ſhall have the names of the children of Iſrael: with twelve names ſhall they be engraved, each ſtone with the name of one according to the twelve tribes.

CHAP. XXVIII. VER. 15. The rational of judgment. This part of the high-prieſt's attire, which he wore at his breaſt, was called the rational of judgment; partly becauſe it admoniſhed both prieſt and people of their duty to God; by carrying the names of all their tribes in his preſence; and by the Urim and Thummim, that is doctrine and truth, which were written upon it: and partly becauſe it gave divine anſwers and oracles, as if it were rational and endowed with judgment.

22 And thou ſhalt make on the rational chains linked one to another of the pureſt gold:

23 And two rings of gold, which thou ſhalt put in the two ends at the top of the rational.

24 And the golden chains thou ſhalt join to the rings, that are in the ends thereof:

25 And the ends of the chains themſelves thou ſhalt join together with two hooks on both ſides of the ephod, which is towards the rational.

26 Thou ſhalt make alſo two rings of gold which thou ſhalt put in the top parts of the rational, in the borders that are over-againſt the ephod, and look towards the back parts thereof.

27 Moreover alſo other two rings of gold, which are to be ſet on each ſide of the ephod beneath, that looketh towards the nether joining, that the rational may be fitted with the ephod,

28 And may be faſtened by the rings thereof unto the rings of the ephod with a violet fillet, that the joining artificially wrought may continue, and the rational and the ephod may not be looſed one from the other.

29 And Aaron ſhall bear the names of the children of Iſrael in the rational of judgment upon his breaſt, when he ſhall enter into the ſanctuary, a memorial before the Lord for ever.

30 And thou ſhalt put in the rational of judgment Doctrine and Truth, which ſhall be on Aaron's breaſt, when he ſhall go in before the Lord: and he ſhall bear the judgment of the children of Iſrael on his breaſt, in the ſight of the Lord always.

31 And thou ſhalt make the tunick of the ephod all of violet,

32 In the midſt whereof above ſhall be a hole for the head, and a border round about it woven, as is wont to be made in the outmoſt parts of garments, that it may not eaſily be broken.

33 And beneath at the feet of the ſame tunick, round about, thou ſhalt make as it were pomegranates, of violet, and purple, and ſcarlet twice dyed, with little bells ſet between:

34 So that there ſhall be a golden bell and a pomegranate, and again another golden bell and a pomegranate.

35 ‖ And Aaron ſhall be veſted with it in the office of his miniſtry, that the ſound may be heard, when he goeth in and cometh out of the ſanctuary, in the ſight of the Lord, and that he may not die. ‖ Eccli. 45. 11.

36 Thou ſhalt make alſo a plate of the pureſt gold: wherein thou ſhalt grave with engraver's work, Holy to the Lord.

37 And thou ſhalt tie it with a violet fillet, and it ſhall be upon the mitre,

38 Hanging over the forehead of the high-prieſt. And Aaron ſhall bear the iniquities of thoſe things, which the children of Iſrael have offered and ſanctified, in all their gifts and offerings. And the plate ſhall be always on his forehead, that the Lord may be well pleaſed with them.

39 And thou ſhalt gird the tunick with fine linen, and thou ſhalt make a fine linen mitre, and a girdle of embroidered work.

40 Moreover for the ſons of Aaron thou ſhalt prepare linen tunicks, and girdles and mitres for glory and beauty:

41 And with all theſe things thou ſhalt veſt Aaron thy brother, and his ſons with him. And thou ſhalt conſecrate the hands of them all, and ſhalt ſanctify them, that they may do the office of prieſthood unto me.

42 Thou ſhalt make alſo linen breeches, to cover the fleſh of their nakedneſs from the reins to the thighs:

43 And Aaron and his ſons ſhall uſe them when they ſhall go in to the tabernacle of the teſtimony, or when they approach to the altar to miniſter in the ſanctuary, leſt being guilty of iniquity they die. It ſhall be a law for ever to Aaron, and to his ſeed after him.

CHAP. XXIX.

The manner of conſecrating Aaron and other prieſts; the inſtitution of the daily ſacrifice of two lambs, one in the morning, the other at evening.

AND thou ſhalt alſo do this, that they may be conſecrated to me in prieſthood. ‖ Take a calf from the herd, and two rams without blemiſh, ‖ Lev. 9. 2.

2 And unleavened bread, and a cake without leaven, tempered with oil, wafers alſo unleavened anointed with oil: thou ſhalt make them all of wheaten flour.

3 And thou ſhalt put them in a baſket and offer them: and the calf and the two rams.

4 And thou ſhalt bring Aaron and his ſons

VER. 30. Doctrine and Truth. Hebrew, Urim and Thummim: illuminations and perfections. Theſe words written on the rational, ſeem to ſignify the light of doctrine and the integrity of life, with which the prieſts of God ought to approach to him.

to the door of the tabernacle of the teſtimony. And when thou haſt waſhed the father and his ſons with water,

5 Thou ſhalt clothe Aaron with his veſtments, that is, with the linen garment and the tunick, and the ephod and the rational, which thou ſhalt gird with the girdle.

6 And thou ſhalt put the mitre upon his head, and the holy plate upon the mitre,

7 And thou ſhalt pour the oil of unction upon his head: and by this rite ſhall he be conſecrated.

8 Thou ſhalt bring his ſons alſo, and ſhalt put on them the linen tunicks, and gird them with a girdle:

9 To wit, Aaron and his children, and thou ſhalt put mitres upon them: and they ſhall be prieſts to me by a perpetual ordinance. After thou ſhalt have conſecrated their hands,

‖ Lev. 1. 3. 10 ‖ Thou ſhalt preſent alſo the calf before the tabernacle of the teſtimony. And Aaron and his ſons ſhall lay their hands upon his head,

11 And thou ſhalt kill him in the ſight of the Lord, beſide the door of the tabernacle of the teſtimony.

12 And taking ſome of the blood of the calf, thou ſhalt put it upon the horns of the altar with thy finger, and the reſt of the blood thou ſhalt pour at the bottom thereof.

‡ Lev. 3. 3. 13 ‖ Thou ſhalt take alſo all the fat that covereth the entrails, and the caul of the liver, and the two kidneys, and the fat that is upon them, and ſhalt offer a burnt-offering upon the altar:

14 But the fleſh of the calf and the hide and the dung, thou ſhalt burn abroad, without the camp, becauſe it is for ſin.

15 Thou ſhalt take alſo one ram, upon the head whereof Aaron and his ſons ſhall lay their hands.

16 And when thou haſt killed him, thou ſhalt take of the blood thereof, and pour round about the altar.

17 And thou ſhalt cut the ram in pieces, and having waſhed his entrails and feet, thou ſhalt put them upon the fleſh that is cut in pieces, and upon his head.

18 And thou ſhalt offer the whole ram for a burnt-offering upon the altar: it is an oblation to the Lord, a moſt ſweet ſavour of the victim of the Lord.

19 Thou ſhalt take alſo the other ram, upon whoſe head Aaron and his ſons ſhall lay their hands.

20 And when thou haſt ſacrificed him, thou ſhalt take of his blood, and put upon the tip of the right ear of Aaron and of his ſons, and upon the thumbs and great toes of their right hand and foot, and thou ſhalt pour the blood upon the altar round about.

21 And when thou haſt taken of the blood that is upon the altar, and of the oil of unction, thou ſhalt ſprinkle Aaron and his veſture, his ſons and their veſtments. And after they and their veſtments are conſecrated,

22 Thou ſhalt take the fat of the ram, and the rump, and the fat that covereth the lungs, and the caul of the liver, and the two kidneys, and the fat that is upon them, and the right ſhoulder, becauſe it is the ram of conſecration:

23 And one roll of bread, a cake tempered with oil, a wafer out of the baſket of unleaved bread, which is ſet in the ſight of the Lord:

24 And thou ſhalt put all upon the hands of Aaron and of his ſons, and ſhalt ſanctify them elevating before the Lord.

25 And thou ſhalt take all from their hands: and ſhalt burn them upon the altar for a holocauſt, a moſt ſweet ſavour in the ſight of the Lord, becauſe it is his oblation.

26 Thou ſhalt take alſo the breaſt of the ram, wherewith Aaron was conſecrated, and elevating it thou ſhalt ſanctify it before the Lord, and it ſhall fall to thy ſhare.

27 And thou ſhalt ſanctify both the conſecrated breaſt, and the ſhoulder that thou didſt ſeparate of the ram,

28 Wherewith Aaron was conſecrated and his ſons, and they ſhall fall to Aaron's ſhare and his ſons by a perpetual right from the children of Iſrael: becauſe they are the choiceſt and the beginnings of their peace-victims which they offer to the Lord.

29 And the holy veſture, which Aaron ſhall uſe, his ſons ſhall have after him, that they may be anointed, and their hands conſecrated in it.

30 He of his ſons that ſhall be appointed high-prieſt in his ſtead, and that ſhall enter into the tabernacle of the teſtimony to miniſter in the ſanctuary, ſhall wear it ſeven days.

31 And thou ſhalt take the ram of the conſecration, and ſhalt boil the fleſh thereof in the holy place:

32 And Aaron and his ſons ſhall eat it. ‖ The loaves alſo, that are in the baſket, they ſhall eat in the entry of the tabernacle of the teſtimony, ‖ Lev. 8. 31. & 24. 9. Mat. 12. 4.

33 That it may be an atoning ſacrifice, and the hands of the offerers may be ſanctified. A ſtranger ſhall not eat of them, becauſe they are holy.

34 And if there remain of the conſecrated fleſh, or of the bread till the morning, thou ſhalt burn the remainder with fire: they ſhall not be eaten, becauſe they are ſanctified.

35 All that I have commanded thee, thou ſhalt do unto Aaron and his ſons. Seven days ſhalt thou conſecrate their hands:

36 And thou ſhalt offer a calf for ſin every day for expiation. And thou ſhalt cleanſe the altar when thou haſt offered the victim of expiation, and ſhalt anoint it to ſanctify it.

37 Seven days ſhalt thou expiate the altar and ſanctify it, and it ſhall be moſt holy. Every one, that ſhall touch it, ſhall be holy.

38 This is what thou ſhalt ſacrifice upon the altar: Two lambs of a year old every day continually, 39 One lamb in the morning, and another in the evening.

40 With one lamb a tenth part of flour tempered with beaten oil, of the fourth part of a hin, and wine for libation of the ſame meaſure.

41 And the other lamb thou ſhalt offer in the evening, according to the rite of the morning oblation, and according to what we have ſaid, for a ſavour of ſweetneſs:

42 It is a ſacrifice to the Lord, by perpetual oblation unto your generations, at the door of the tabernacle of the teſtimony before the Lord, where I will appoint to ſpeak unto thee.

43 And there will I command the children of Iſrael, and the altar ſhall be ſanctified by my glory.

44 I will ſanctify alſo the tabernacle of the teſtimony with the altar, and Aaron with his ſons, to do the office of prieſthood unto me.

45 And I will dwell in the midſt of the children of Iſrael, and will be their God:

46 And they ſhall know that I am the Lord their God, who have brought them out of the land of Egypt, that I might abide among them, I the Lord their God.

CHAP. XXX.

The altar of incenſe: money to be gathered for the uſe of the tabernacle: the brazen laver: the holy oil of unction, and the compoſition of the perfume.

THOU ſhalt make alſo an altar to burn incenſe, of ſetim-wood,

2 It ſhall be a cubit in length, and another in breadth, that is, four ſquare, and two in height. Horns ſhall go out of the ſame.

3 And thou ſhalt over-lay it with the pureſt gold, as well the grate thereof, as the walls round about, and the horns. And thou ſhalt make to it a crown of gold round about,

4 And two golden rings under the crown on either ſide, that the bars may be put into them, and the altar be carried.

5 And thou ſhalt make the bars alſo of ſetim-wood, and ſhalt over-lay them with gold.

6 And thou ſhalt ſet the altar over-againſt the veil, that hangeth before the ark of the teſtimony before the propitiatory wherewith the teſtimony is covered, where I will ſpeak to thee.

7 And Aaron ſhall burn ſweet ſmelling incenſe upon it, in the morning. When he ſhall dreſs the lamps, he ſhall burn it:

8 And when he ſhall place them in the evening, he ſhall burn an everlaſting incenſe before the Lord throughout your generations.

9 You ſhall not offer upon it incenſe of another compoſition, nor oblation, and victim, neither ſhall you offer libations.

10 And Aaron ſhall pray upon the horns thereof once a year, with the blood of that which was offered for ſin, and ſhall make atonement upon it in your generations. It ſhall be moſt holy to the Lord.

11 And the Lord ſpoke to Moſes, ſaying:

12 ‖ When thou ſhalt take the ſum of the children of Iſrael according to their number, every one of them ſhall give a price for their ſouls to the Lord, and there ſhall be no ſcourge among them, when they ſhall be reckoned. ‖ Num. 1. 2.

13 And this ſhall every one give that paſſeth at the naming, half a ſicle according to the ſtandard of the temple. ‖ A ſicle hath twenty obols. Half a ſicle ſhall be offered to the Lord. ‖ Lev. 27. 25. Num. 3. 47. Ezec. 45. 12.

14 He that is counted in the number from twenty years and upwards, ſhall give the price.

15 The rich man ſhall not add to half a ſicle, and the poor man ſhall diminiſh nothing.

16 And the money received, which was contributed by the children of Iſrael, thou ſhalt deliver unto the uſes of the tabernacle

CHAP. XXX. VER. 1. An altar to burn incenſe. This burning of incenſe was an emblem of prayer, aſcending to God from an inflamed heart. See Pſalm cxl. 2. Apocalypſe v. 8. and viii. 4.

VER. 13. Half a ſicle. A ſicle or ſhekel of ſilver, (which was alſo called a ſtater) according to the ſtandard or weight of the ſanctuary, which was the moſt juſt and exact, was half an ounce of ſilver, that is about half a crown of Engliſh money. The obol or gerah was about three halfpence.

of the teſtimony, that it may be a memorial of them before the Lord, and he may be merciful to their ſouls.

17 And the Lord ſpoke to Moſes, ſaying:

18 Thou ſhalt make alſo a brazen laver with its foot, to waſh in: and thou ſhalt ſet it between the tabernacle of the teſtimony and the altar. And water being put into it:

19 Aaron and his ſons ſhall waſh their hands and feet in it:

20 When they are going into the tabernacle of the teſtimony, and when they are to come to the altar, to offer on it incenſe to the Lord,

21 Leſt perhaps they die. It ſhall be an everlaſting law to him, and to his ſeed by ſucceſſions.

22 And the Lord ſpoke to Moſes,

23 Saying: Take ſpices, of principal and choſen myrrh five hundred ſicles, and of cinnamon half ſo much, that is, two hundred and fifty ſicles, of calamus in like manner two hundred and fifty,

24 And of caſſia five hundred ſicles by the the weight of the ſanctuary, of oil of olives the meaſure hin:

25 And thou ſhalt make the holy oil of unction, an ointment compounded after the art of the perfumer,

26 And therewith thou ſhalt anoint the tabernacle of the teſtimony, and the ark of the teſtament,

27 And the table with the veſſels thereof, the candleſtick and furniture thereof, the altars of incenſe,

28 And of holocauſt, and all the furniture that belongeth to the ſervice of them.

29 And thou ſhalt ſanctify all, and they ſhall be moſt holy: he that ſhall touch them ſhall be ſanctified.

30 Thou ſhalt anoint Aaron and his ſons, and ſhalt ſanctify them, that they may do the office of prieſthood unto me.

31 And thou ſhalt ſay to the children of Iſrael: This oil of unction ſhall be holy unto me throughout your generations.

32 The fleſh of man ſhall not be anointed therewith, and you ſhall make none other of the ſame compoſition, becauſe it is ſanctified, and ſhall be holy unto you.

33 What man ſoever ſhall compound ſuch, and ſhall give thereof to a ſtranger, he ſhall be cut off from his people.

34 And the Lord ſaid to Moſes: Take unto thee ſpices, ſtacte, and onycha, galbanum of ſweet ſavour, and the cleareſt frankincenſe, all ſhall be of equal weight.

35 And thou ſhalt make incenſe compounded by the work of the perfumer, well tempered together, and pure, and moſt worthy of ſanctification.

36 And when thou haſt beaten all into very ſmall powder, thou ſhalt ſet of it before the tabernacle of the teſtimony, in the place where I will appear to thee. Moſt holy ſhall this incenſe be unto you.

37 You ſhall not make ſuch a compoſition for your own uſes, becauſe it is holy to the Lord.

38 What man ſoever ſhall make the like, to enjoy the ſmell thereof, he ſhall periſh out of his people.

CHAP. XXXI.

Beſeleël and Ooliab are appointed by the Lord to make the tabernacle, and the things belonging thereto. The obſervation of the ſabbath day is again commanded. And the Lord delivereth to Moſes two tables written with the finger of God.

AND the Lord ſpoke to Moſes, ſaying:

2 Behold, I have called by name Beſeleel the ſon of Uri the ſon of Hur of the tribe of Juda,

3 And I have filled him with the ſpirit of God, with wiſdom and underſtanding, and knowledge in all manner of work,

4 To deviſe whatſoever may be artificially made of gold, and ſilver, and braſs,

5 Of marble, and precious ſtones, and variety of wood.

6 And I have given him for his companion Ooliab the ſon of Achiſamech of the tribe of Dan. And I have put wiſdom in the heart of every ſkilful man, that they may make all things which I have commanded thee,

7 The tabernacle of the covenant, and the ark of the teſtimony, and the propitiatory, that is over it, and all the veſſels of the tabernacle,

8 And the table and the veſſels thereof, the moſt pure candleſtick with the veſſels thereof, and the altars of incenſe,

9 And of holocauſt, and all their veſſels, the laver with its foot,

10 The holy veſtments in the miniſtry for Aaron the prieſt, and for his ſons, that they may execute their office, about the ſacred things:

11 The oil of unction, and the incenſe of ſpices in the ſanctuary, all things which I have commanded thee, ſhall they make.

12 And the Lord ſpoke to Moſes, ſaying:

13 Speak to the children of Iſrael, and thou ſhalt ſay to them: ‖ See that you keep my ſabbath: becauſe it is a ſign between me ‖ Supra 20. 8. Ezec. 20. 12.

and you in your generations: that you may know that I am the Lord, who ſanctify you.

14 Keep you my ſabbath: for it is holy unto you: he that ſhall profane it, ſhall be put to death: he that ſhall do any work in it, his ſoul ſhall periſh out of the midſt of his people.

15 Six days ſhall you do work: in the ſeventh day is the ſabbath, the reſt holy to the Lord. Every one that ſhall do any work on this day, ſhall die.

16 Let the children of Iſrael keep the ſabbath, and celebrate it in their generations. It is an everlaſting covenant

17 Between me and the children of Iſrael, and a perpetual ſign. ‖ For in ſix days the Lord made heaven and earth, and in the ſeventh he ceaſed from work.

18 And the Lord, when he had ended theſe words in mount Sinai, ‖ gave to Moſes two ſtone-tables of teſtimony, written with the finger of God.

‡ Deut. 9. 10.

CHAP. XXXII.

The people fall into idolatry. Moſes prayeth for them. He breaketh the tables: deſtroyeth the idol: blameth Aaron, and cauſeth many of the idolaters to be ſlain.

A. M. 2513. AND the people ſeeing that Moſes delayed to come down from the mount, gathering together againſt Aaron, ſaid: ‖ Ariſe, make us gods, that may go before us: For as to this Moſes, the man that brought us out of the land of Egypt, we know not what has befallen him.

‖ Acts 7. 40.

2 And Aaron ſaid to them: Take the golden ear-rings from the ears of your wives, and your ſons and daughters, and bring them to me.

3 And the people did what he had commanded, bringing the ear-rings to Aaron.

‖ Pſ. 105. 19.

4 ‖ And when he had received them, he faſhioned them by founders work, and made of them a molten calf. And they ſaid: Theſe are thy gods, O Iſrael, that have brought thee out of the land of Egypt.

5 And when Aaron ſaw this, he built an altar before it and made proclamation by a cryer's voice, ſaying: To-morrow is the ſolemnity of the Lord.

6 And riſing in the morning, they offered

‖ 1 Cor. 10. 7. holocauſts, and peace-victims, ‖ and the people ſat down to eat, and drink, and they roſe up to play.

7 And the Lord ſpoke to Moſes, ſaying:

† Deut. 9. 12. † Go, get thee down: thy people, which thou haſt brought out of the land of Egypt, hath ſinned.

8 They have quickly ſtrayed from the way which thou didſt ſhew them: and they have made to themſelves a molten calf, and have adored it, and ſacrificing victims to it, have ſaid: ‖ Theſe are thy gods, O Iſrael, that have brought thee out of the land of Egypt.

‖ 3 Kings 12. 28.

9 And again the Lord ſaid to Moſes: † I ſee that this people is ſtiff-necked:

† Infra 33. 3. Deut. 9. 13.

10 Let me alone, that my wrath may be kindled againſt them, and that I may deſtroy them, and I will make of thee a great nation.

11 But Moſes beſought the Lord his God, ſaying: ‖ Why, O Lord, is thy indignation enkindled againſt thy people, whom thou haſt brought out of the land of Egypt, with great power, and with a mighty hand?

‖ Num. 14. 13. Pſ. 105. 23.

12 Let not the Egyptians ſay, I beſeech thee: He craftily brought them out, that he might kill them in the mountains, and deſtroy them from the earth: let thy anger ceaſe, and be appeaſed upon the wickedneſs of thy people.

13 Remember Abraham, Iſaac, and Iſrael thy ſervants, to whom thou ſworeſt by thy own ſelf, ſaying: ‖ I will multiply your ſeed as the ſtars of heaven: and this whole land that I have ſpoken of, I will give to your ſeed, and you ſhall poſſeſs it for ever.

‖ Gen. 12. 7. & 15. 7. & 48. 16.

14 And the Lord was appeaſed from doing the evil which he had ſpoken againſt his people.

15 And Moſes returned from the mount, carrying the two tables of the teſtimony in his hand, written on both ſides,

16 And made by the work of God: the writing alſo of God was graven in the tables.

17 And Joſue hearing the noiſe of the people ſhouting, ſaid to Moſes: the noiſe of battle is heard in the camp.

18 But he anſwered: It is not the cry of men encouraging to fight, nor the ſhout of men compelling to flee: but I hear the voice of ſingers.

19 And when he came nigh to the camp, he ſaw the calf, and the dances: and being very angry, he threw the tables out of his hand, and broke them at the foot of the mount:

20 And laying hold of the calf which they had made, he burnt it, † and beat it to powder, which he ſtrowed into water, and gave thereof to the children of Iſrael to drink.

† Deut. 9. 21.

21 And he ſaid to Aaron: What has this people done to thee, that thou ſhouldſt bring upon them a moſt heinous ſin?

22 And he anſwered him: Let not my lord be offended: for thou knoweſt this people, ‖ that they are prone to evil.

‖ 1 John 5. 19.

23 They ſaid to me: Make us gods, that may go before us: for as to this Moſes, who brought us forth out of the land of Egypt, we know not what is befallen him.

24 And I ſaid to them: Which of you hath any gold? and they took and brought it to me: and I caſt it into the fire, and this calf came out.

25 And when Moſes ſaw that the people were naked (for Aaron had ſtripped them by occaſion of the ſhame of the filth, and had ſet them naked among their enemies)

26 Then ſtanding in the gate of the camp, he ſaid: If any man be on the Lord's ſide let him join with me. And all the ſons of Levi gathered themſelves together unto him:

27 And he ſaid to them: Thus ſaith the Lord God of Iſrael: Put every man his ſword upon his thigh: go, and return from gate to gate through the midſt of the camp, and let every man kill his brother, ‖ and friend, and neighbour.

‖ Deut. 33. 9.

28 And the ſons of Levi did according to the words of Moſes, and there were ſlain that day about three and twenty thouſand men.

29 And Moſes ſaid: You have conſecrated your hands this day to the Lord, every man in his ſon and in his brother, that a bleſſing may be given to you.

30 And when the next day was come, Moſes ſpoke to the people: You have ſinned a very great ſin: I will go up to the Lord, if by any means I may be able to entreat him for your crime.

31 And returning to the Lord, he ſaid: I beſeech thee: this people hath ſinned a heinous ſin, and they have made to themſelves gods of gold: either forgive them this treſpaſs, 32 Or if thou do not, ſtrike me out of the book that thou haſt written.

33 And the Lord anſwered him: He that hath ſinned againſt me, him will I ſtrike out of my book:

34 But go thou, and lead this people whither I have told thee: my Angel ſhall go before thee. And I in the day of revenge will viſit this ſin alſo of theirs.

35 The Lord therefore ſtruck the people for the guilt on occaſion of the calf which Aaron had made.

CHAP. XXXIII.

The people mourn for their ſin. Moſes pitcheth the tabernacle without the camp. He converſeth familiarly with God. Deſireth to ſee his glory.

AND the Lord ſpoke to Moſes, ſaying: Go, get thee up from this place, thou and thy people which thou haſt brought out of the land of Egypt, into the land concerning which I ſwore to Abraham, Iſaac, and Jacob, ſaying: ‖ To thy ſeed I will give it:

‖ Gen. 12. 7.

2 † And I will ſend an Angel before thee, that I may caſt out the ‖ Chananite, and the Amorrhite, and the Hethite, and the Pherezite, and the Hevite, and the Jebuſite,

† Supra 32. 34.

‖ Deut. 7. 22. Joſ. 24. 11.

3 That thou mayſt enter into the land that floweth with milk and honey. For I will not go up with thee, ‖ becauſe thou art a ſtiff-necked people: leſt I deſtroy thee in the way.

‖ Supra 32. 9. Deut. 9. 13.

4 And the people hearing theſe very bad tidings, mourned: and no man put on his ornaments according to cuſtom.

5 And the Lord ſaid to Moſes: Say to the children of Iſrael: Thou art a ſtiff-necked people, once I ſhall come up in the midſt of thee, and ſhall deſtroy thee. Now preſently lay aſide thy ornaments, that I may know what to do to thee.

6 So the children of Iſrael laid aſide their ornaments by mount Horeb.

7 Moſes alſo taking the tabernacle, pitched it without the camp afar off, and called the name thereof, The tabernacle of the covenant. And all the people, that had any queſtion, went forth to the tabernacle of the covenant, without the camp.

8 And when Moſes went forth to the tabernacle, all the people roſe up, and every one ſtood in the door of his pavilion, and they beheld the back of Moſes, till he went into the tabernacle.

9 And when he was gone into the tabernacle of the covenant, the pillar of the cloud came down, and ſtood at the door, and he ſpoke with Moſes.

10 And all ſaw that the pillar of the cloud ſtood at the door of the tabernacle. And they ſtood, and worſhipped at the doors of their tents.

CHAP. XXXII. VER. 25. Naked. Having loſt not only their gold, and their honour, but what was worſt of all, being ſtripped alſo of the grace of God, and having loſt him.

Ibid. The ſhame of the filth. That is, of the idol, which they had taken for their god. It is the uſual phraſe of the ſcripture to call idols filth, and abominations.

11 And the Lord ſpoke to Moſes face to face, as a man is wont to ſpeak to his friend. And when he returned into the camp, his ſervant Joſue the ſon of Nun, a young man, departed not from the tabernacle.

12 And Moſes ſaid to the Lord: Thou commandeſt me to lead forth this people: and thou doſt not let me know whom thou wilt ſend with me, eſpecially whereas thou haſt ſaid: I know thee by name, and thou haſt found favour in my ſight.

13 If therefore I have found favour in thy ſight, ſhew me thy face, that I may know thee, and may find grace before thy eyes: look upon thy people this nation.

14 And the Lord ſaid: My face ſhall go before thee, and I will give thee reſt.

15 And Moſes ſaid: If thou thyſelf doſt not go before, bring us not out of this place.

16 For how ſhall we be able to know I and thy people, that we have found grace in thy ſight, unleſs thou walk with us, that we may be glorified by all people that dwell upon the earth?

17 And the Lord ſaid to Moſes: This word alſo, which thou haſt ſpoken, will I do: for thou haſt found grace before me, and thee I have known by name.

18 And he ſaid: Shew me thy glory.

19 He anſwered: I will ſhew thee all good, and I will proclaim in the name of the Lord before thee: ‖ and I will have mercy on whom I will, and I will be merciful to whom it ſhall pleaſe me. ‖ Rom. 9. 15.

20 And again he ſaid: Thou canſt not ſee my face: for man ſhall not ſee me, and live.

21 And again he ſaid: Behold there is a place with me, and thou ſhalt ſtand upon the rock.

22 And when my glory ſhall paſs, I will ſet thee in a hole of the rock, and protect thee with my right hand, till I paſs:

23 And I will take away my hand, and thou ſhalt ſee my back parts: but my face thou canſt not ſee.

CHAP. XXXIV.

The tables are renewed: all ſociety with the Chananites is forbid: ſome precepts concerning the firſt-born, the ſabbath, and other feaſts: After forty days faſt, Moſes returneth to the people with the commandments, and his face appearing horned with rays of light, he covereth it, whenſoever he ſpeaketh to the people.

AND after this he ſaid: Hew thee two tables of ſtone like unto the former, and I will write upon them the words, which were in the tables, which thou brokeſt. Deut. 10. 1.

2 Be ready in the morning, that thou mayſt forthwith go up into mount Sinai, and thou ſhalt ſtand with me upon the top of the mount.

3 Let no man go up with thee, and let not any man be ſeen throughout all the mount: neither let the oxen nor the ſheep feed over-againſt it.

4 Then he cut out two tables of ſtone, ſuch as had been before: and riſing very early he went up into the mount Sinai, as the Lord had commanded him, carrying with him the tables.

5 And when the Lord was come down in a cloud, Moſes ſtood with him, calling upon the name of the Lord.

6 And when he paſſed before him, he ſaid: O the Lord, the Lord God, merciful and gracious, patient and of much compaſſion, and true,

7 ‖ Who keepeſt mercy unto thouſands: who takeſt away iniquity, and wickedneſs, and ſin, † and no man of himſelf is innocent before thee. ‡ Who rendereſt the iniquity of the fathers to the children, and to the grand-children unto the third and fourth generation. ‖ Deut. 5. 10. Jer. 32. 18. † Pſ. 142. 2. ‡ Deut. 5. 9. Jer. 32. 18.

8 And Moſes making haſte, bowed down proſtrate unto the earth, and adoring,

9 Said: If I have found grace in thy ſight, O Lord, I beſeech thee that thou wilt go with us (for it is a ſtiff-necked people)

CHAP. XXXIII. VER. 11. Face to face. That is, in a moſt familiar manner. Though as we learn from this very chapter, Moſes could not ſee the face of the Lord.

VER. 12. I know thee by name. In the language of the ſcriptures, God is ſaid to know ſuch as he approves and loves: and to know by name, thoſe whom he favours in a moſt ſingular manner, as he did his ſervant Moſes.

VER. 23. See my back parts. The Lord, by his Angel, uſually ſpoke to Moſes in the pillar of the cloud, ſo that he could not ſee the glory of him that ſpoke familiarly with him. In the viſion here mentioned, he was allowed to ſee ſomething of him, in an aſſumed corporeal form: not in the face, the rays of which were too bright for mortal eye to bear, but to view him as it were behind, when his face was turned from him.

and take away our iniquities and sin, and possess us.

‖ Deut. 5. 2. Jer. 32. 40.

10 The Lord answered: ‖ I will make a covenant in the sight of all, I will do signs such as were never seen upon the earth, nor in any nations: that this people, in the midst of whom thou art, may see the terrible work of the Lord which I will do.

11 Observe all things which this day I command thee: I myself will drive out before thy face the Amorrhite, and the Chananite, and the Hethite, and the Pherezite and the Hevite, and the Jebusite.

12 Beware thou never join in friendship with the inhabitants of that land, which may be thy ruin:

13 But destroy their altars, break their statues, and cut down their groves:

‖ Supra 23. 32. Deut. 7. 2.

20 The firstling of an ass thou shalt redeem with a sheep: but if thou wilt not give a price for it, it shall be slain. The first-born of thy sons thou shalt redeem: neither shalt thou appear before me empty.

21 Six days shalt thou work, the seventh day thou shalt cease to plough, and to reap.

23 ‖ Three times in the year all thy males shall appear in the sight of the Almighty Lord the God of Israel.

24 For when I shall have taken away the nations from thy face, and shall have enlarged thy borders, no man shall lie in wait against thy land when thou shalt go up, and appear in the sight of the Lord thy God thrice in a year.

‖ Supra 23. 18. & 19.

25 ‖ Thou shalt not offer the blood of my sacrifice upon leaven: neither shall there remain in the morning any thing of the victim of the solemnity of the Phase.

26 The first of the fruits of thy ground thou shalt offer in the house of the Lord thy God. ‖ Thou shalt not boil a kid in the milk of his dam.

‖ Deut. 4. 13.

29 And when Moses came down from the mount Sinai, he held the two tables of the testimony, and he knew not that his face was horned from the conversation of the Lord.

30 And Aaron and the children of Israel seeing the face of Moses horned, were afraid to come near.

31 And being called by him, they returned, both Aaron and the rulers of the congregation. And after that he spoke to them,

32 And all the children of Israel came to him: and he gave them in commandment all that he had heard of the Lord in mount Sinai.

‖ 2 Cor. 3. 13.

33 And having done speaking, ‖ he put a veil upon his face.

34 But when he went in to the Lord, and spoke with him, he took it away until he came forth, and then he spoke to the children of Israel all things that had been commanded him.

35 And they saw that the face of Moses when he came out was horned, but he covered his face again, if at any time he spoke to them.

CHAP. XXXV.

The Sabbath. Offerings for making the tabernacle. Beseleel and Ooliab are called to the work.

A. M. 2513.

AND all the multitude of the children of Israel being gathered together, he said to them: These are the things which the Lord hath commanded to be done.

CHAP. XXXIV. VER. 29. Horned. That is, shining, and sending forth rays of light like horns.

2 Six days you ſhall do work: the ſeventh day ſhall be holy unto you, the ſabbath and the reſt of the Lord: he that ſhall do any work on it, ſhall be put to death.

3 You ſhall kindle no fire in any of your habitations on the ſabbath day.

4 And Moſes ſaid to all the aſſembly of the children of Iſrael: This is the word the Lord hath commanded, ſaying:

5 Set aſide with you firſt-fruits to the Lord. ‖ Let every one that is willing and hath a ready heart, offer them to the Lord: gold, and ſilver, and braſs, ‖ Supra 25. 2.

6 Violet and purple, and ſcarlet twice dyed, and fine linen, goats hair,

7 And rams ſkins dyed red, and violet coloured ſkins, ſetim-wood,

8 And oil to maintain lights, and to make ointment, and moſt ſweet incenſe,

9 Onyx ſtones, and precious ſtones, for the adorning of the ephod and the rational.

10 Whoſoever of you is wiſe, let him come, and make that which the Lord hath commanded:

11 To wit, the tabernacle, and the roof thereof, and the cover, the rings, and the board-work with the bars, the pillars and the ſockets:

12 The ark and the ſtaves, the propitiatory, and the veil that is drawn before it:

13 The table with the bars and the veſſels, and the loaves of propoſition:

14 The candleſtick to bear up the lights, the veſſels thereof and the lamps, and the oil for the nouriſhing of fires:

15 The altar of incenſe, and the bars, and the oil of unction and the incenſe of ſpices: the hanging at the door of the tabernacle:

16 The altar of holocauſt, and its grate of braſs, with the bars and veſſels thereof: the laver and its foot:

17 The curtains of the court with the pillars and the ſockets, the hanging in the doors of the entry,

18 The pins of the tabernacle and of the court with their little cords:

19 The veſtments that are to be uſed in the miniſtry of the ſanctuary, the veſture of Aaron the high-prieſt, and of his ſons, to do the office of prieſthood to me.

20 And all the multitude of the children of Iſrael going out from the preſence of Moſes,

21 Offered firſt-fruits to the Lord with a moſt ready and devout mind, to make the work of the tabernacle of the teſtimony. Whatſoever was neceſſary to the ſervice and to the holy veſtments,

22 Both men and women gave bracelets and ear-rings, rings and tablets: every veſſel of gold was ſet aſide to be offered to the Lord.

23 If any man had violet, and purple, and ſcarlet twice dyed, red, and violet coloured ſkins,

24 Metal of ſilver and braſs, they offered it to the Lord, and ſetim-wood for divers uſes.

25 The ſkilful women alſo gave ſuch things as they had ſpun, violet, purple, and ſcarlet, and fine linen, 26 And goats hair, giving all of their own accord.

27 But the princes offered onyx ſtones, and precious ſtones, for the ephod and the rational,

28 And ſpices and oil for the lights, and for the preparing of ointment, and to make the incenſe of moſt ſweet ſavour.

29 All both men and women with devout mind offered gifts, that the works might be done which the Lord had commanded by the hand of Moſes. All the children of Iſrael dedicated voluntary offerings to the Lord.

30 And Moſes ſaid to the children of Iſrael: ‖ Behold, the Lord hath called by name Beſeleel the ſon of Uri the ſon of Hur of the tribe of Juda. ‖ Supra 31. 2.

31 And hath filled him with the ſpirit of God, with wiſdom and underſtanding and knowledge and all learning.

32 To deviſe and to work in gold and ſilver, and braſs,

33 And in engraving ſtones, and in carpenters work. Whatſoever can be deviſed artificially,

34 He hath given in his heart: Ooliab alſo the ſon of Achiſamech of the tribe of Dan:

35 Both of them hath he inſtructed with wiſdom, to do carpenters work, and tapeſtry, and embroidery in blue and purple, and ſcarlet twice dyed, and fine linen, and to weave all things, and to invent all new things.

CHAP. XXXVI.

The offerings are delivered to the workmen: the curtains, coverings, boards, bars, veil, pillars, and hanging are made.

BESELEEL therefore, and Ooliab, ‖ and every wiſe man, to whom the Lord gave wiſdom and underſtanding, to know how to work artificially, made the things that are neceſſary for the uſes of the ſanctuary, and which the Lord commanded. A. M. 2514. ‖ Supra 26. 1.

2 And when Moſes had called them, and every ſkilful man, to whom the Lord had given wiſdom, and ſuch as of their own accord had offered themſelves to the making of the work, 1 Par. 21. 29.

3 He delivered all the offerings of the children of Iſrael unto them. And while they were earneſt about the work, the people daily in the morning offered their vows.

4 Whereupon the workmen being conſtrained to come,

5 Said to Moſes: the people offereth more than is neceſſary.

6 Moſes therefore commanded proclamation to be made by the crier's voice: Let neither man nor woman offer any more for the work of the ſanctuary. And ſo they ceaſed from offering gifts,

7 Becauſe the things that were offered did ſuffice and were too much.

8 And all the men that were wiſe of heart, to accompliſh the work of the tabernacle, made ten curtains of twiſted fine linen, and violet, and purple, and ſcarlet twice dyed, with varied work, and the art of embroidering:

9 The length of one curtain was twenty-eight cubits, and the breadth four: all the curtains were of the ſame ſize.

10 And he joined five curtains, one to another, and the other five he coupled one to another.

11 He made alſo loops of violet in the edge of one curtain on both ſides, and in the edge of the other curtain in like manner,

12 That the loops might meet one againſt another, and might be joined each with the other.

13 Whereupon alſo he caſt fifty rings of gold that might catch the loops of the curtains, and they might be made one tabernacle.

14 He made alſo eleven curtains of goats-hair to cover the roof of the tabernacle:

15 One curtain was thirty cubits long and four cubits broad: all the curtains were of one meaſure.

16 Five of which he joined apart, and the other ſix apart.

17 And he made fifty loops in the edge of one curtain, and fifty in the edge of another curtain, that they might be joined one to another.

18 And fifty buckles of braſs wherewith the roof might be knit together, that of all the curtains there might be made one covering.

19 He made alſo a cover for the tabernacle of rams ſkins dyed red: and another cover over that of violet ſkins.

20 He made alſo the boards of the tabernacle of ſetim-wood ſtanding.

21 The length of one board was ten cubits: and the breadth was one cubit and a half.

22 There were two mortiſes throughout every board, that one might be joined to the other. And in this manner he made for all the boards of the tabernacle.

23 Of which twenty were at the ſouth-ſide ſouthward,

24 With forty ſockets of ſilver. Two ſockets were put under one board on the two ſides of the corners, where the mortiſes of the ſides end in the corners.

25 At that ſide alſo of the tabernacle, that looketh towards the north, he made twenty boards,

26 With forty ſockets of ſilver, two ſockets for every board.

27 But againſt the weſt, to wit, at that ſide of the tabernacle, which looketh to the ſea, he made ſix boards,

28 And two others at each corner of the tabernacle behind:

29 Which were alſo joined from beneath unto the top, and went together into one joint. Thus he did on both ſides at the corners:

30 So there were in all eight boards, and they had ſixteen ſockets of ſilver, to wit, two ſockets under every board.

31 He made alſo bars of ſetim-wood, five to hold together the boards of one ſide of the tabernacle,

32 And five others to join together the boards of the other ſide: and beſides theſe, five other bars at the weſt ſide of the tabernacle towards the ſea.

33 He made alſo another bar, that might come by the midſt of the boards from corner to corner.

34 And the board-work itſelf he overlaid with gold. And their rings he made of gold, through which the bars might be drawn: and he covered the bars themſelves with plates of gold.

35 He made alſo a veil of violet, and purple, ſcarlet, and fine twiſted linen, varied and diſtinguiſhed with embroidery:

36 And four pillars of ſetim-wood, which with their heads he overlaid with gold, caſting for them ſockets of ſilver.

37 He made alſo a hanging in the entry of the tabernacle of violet, purple, ſcarlet, and fine twiſted linen, with the work of an embroiderer.

38 And five pillars with their heads, which he covered with gold, and their ſockets he caſt of braſs.

CHAP. XXXVII.

Beſelcel maketh the ark: the propitiatory, and cherubims, the table, the candleſtick, the lamps, and the altar of incenſe, and compoundeth the incenſe.

A. M. 2514. Ante C. 1490. AND Beſelcel made alſo, the ark of ſetim-wood: it was two cubits and a half in length, and a cubit and a half in breadth, and the height was of one cubit and a half: and he overlaid it with the pureſt gold within and without.

2 And he made to it a crown of gold round about,

3 Caſting four rings of gold at the four corners thereof: two rings in one ſide, and two in the other.

4 And he made bars of ſetim-wood, which he overlaid with gold,

5 And he put them into the rings that were at the ſides of the ark to carry it.

6 He made alſo the propitiatory, that is, the oracle, of the pureſt gold, two cubits and a half in length, and a cubit and a half in breadth.

7 Two cherubims alſo of beaten gold, which he ſet on the two ſides of the propitiatory:

8 One cherub in the top of one ſide, and the other cherub in the top of the other ſide: two cherubims at the two ends of the propitiatory,

9 Spreading their wings, and covering the propitiatory, and looking one towards the other and towards it.

10 He made alſo the table of ſetim-wood, in length two cubits, and in breadth one cubit, and in height it was a cubit and a half.

11 And he overlaid it with the fineſt gold, and he made to it a golden ledge round about,

12 And to the ledge itſelf he made a poliſhed crown of gold of four fingers breadth, and upon the ſame another golden crown.

13 And he caſt four rings of gold which he put in the four corners at each foot of the table, 14 Over-againſt the crown: and he put the bars into them, that the table might be carried.

15 And the bars alſo themſelves he made of ſetim-wood, and overlaid them with gold.

16 And the veſſels for the divers uſes of the table, diſhes, bowls, and cups, and cenſers of pure gold, wherein the libations are to be offered.

17 He made alſo the candleſtick of beaten work of the fineſt gold. From the ſhaft whereof its branches, its cups, and bowls and lilies came out:

18 Six on the two ſides: three branches on one ſide, and three on the other.

19 Three cups in manner of a nut on each branch, and bowls withal and lilies: and three cups of the faſhion of a nut in another branch, and bowls withal and lilies. The work of the ſix branches, that went out from the ſhaft of the candleſtick was equal.

20 And in the ſhaft itſelf were four cups after the manner of a nut, and bowls withal at every one and lilies:

21 And bowls under two branches in three places, which together make ſix branches going out from one ſhaft.

22 So both the bowls, and the branches were of the ſame, all beaten work of the pureſt gold.

23 He made alſo the ſeven lamps with their ſnuffers, and the veſſels where the ſnuffings were to be put out, of the pureſt gold.

24 The candleſtick with all the veſſels thereof weighed a talent of gold.

25 He made alſo the altar of incenſe of ſetim-wood, being a cubit on every ſide four-ſquare, and in height two cubits: from the corners of which went out horns.

26 And he overlaid it with the pureſt gold, with its grate and the ſides and the horns.

27 And he made to it a crown of gold round about, and two golden rings under the crown at each ſide, that the bars might be put into them, and the altar be carried.

28 And the bars themſelves he made alſo of ſetim-wood, and overlaid them with plates of gold.

29 He compounded alſo the oil for the ointment of ſanctification, and incenſe of the pureſt ſpices according to the work of a perfumer.

CHAP. XXXVIII.

He maketh the altar of holocauſt. The brazen laver. The court with its pillars and hangings. The ſum of what the people offered.

HE made alſo the altar of holocauſt of ſetim-wood, five cubits ſquare, and three in height: A. M. 2514. 2 Par. 1. 5.

2 The horns whereof went out from the corners, and he overlaid it with plates of braſs.

3 And for the uſes thereof he prepared divers veſſels of braſs, cauldrons, tongs, fleſh-hooks, pot-hooks, and fire-pans.

4 And he made the grate thereof of braſs in manner of a net, and under it in the midſt of the altar a hearth,

5 Caſting four rings at the four ends of the net at the top, to put in bars to carry it:

6 And he made the bars of ſetim-wood, and overlaid them with plates of braſs:

7 And he drew them through the rings that ſtood out in the ſides of the altar. || And the altar itſelf was not ſolid, but hollow, of boards, and empty within. || Supra 27. 8.

8 He made alſo the laver of braſs, with the foot thereof, of the mirrors of the women that watched at the door of the tabernacle.

9 He made alſo the court, in the ſouth ſide whereof were hangings of fine twiſted linen of a hundred cubits,

10 Twenty pillars of braſs with their ſockets, the heads of the pillars, and the whole graving of the work, of ſilver.

11 In like manner at the north ſide the hangings, the pillars, and the ſockets and heads of the pillars were of the ſame meaſure, and work and metal.

12 But on that ſide that looketh to the weſt, there were hangings of fifty cubits, ten pillars of braſs with their ſockets, and the heads of the pillars, and all the graving of the work, of ſilver.

13 Moreover towards the eaſt he prepared hangings of fifty cubits:

14 Fifteen cubits of which, were on one ſide with three pillars, and their ſockets:

15 And on the other ſide (for between the two he made the entry of the tabernacle) there were hangings equally of fifteen cubits, and three pillars, and as many ſockets.

16 All the hangings of the court were woven with twiſted linen.

17 The ſockets of the pillars were of braſs, and their heads with all their gravings of ſilver: and he overlaid the pillars of the court alſo with ſilver.

18 And he made in the entry thereof an embroidered hanging of violet, purple, ſcarlet, and fine twiſted linen, that was twenty cubits long, and five cubits high according to the meaſure of all the hangings of the court.

19 And the pillars in the entry were four with ſockets of braſs, and their heads and gravings of ſilver.

20 The pins alſo of the tabernacle and of the court round about he made of braſs.

21 Theſe are the inſtruments of the tabernacle of the teſtimony, which were counted according to the commandment of Moſes, in the ceremonies of the Levites, by the hand of Ithamar ſon of Aaron the prieſt:

22 Which Beſeleel the ſon of Uri the ſon of Hur of the tribe of Juda had made, as the Lord commanded by Moſes,

23 Having for his companion Ooliab the ſon of Achiſamech of the tribe of Dan: who alſo was an excellent artificer in wood, and worker in tapeſtry and embroidery in violet, purple, ſcarlet, and fine linen.

24 All the gold that was ſpent in the work of the ſanctuary, and that was offered in gifts, was nine and twenty talents, and ſeven hundred and thirty ſicles according to the ſtandard of the ſanctuary.

25 And it was offered by them that went to be numbered, from twenty years old and upwards, of ſix hundred and three thouſand five hundred and fifty men able to bear arms.

26 There were moreover a hundred talents of ſilver, whereof were caſt the ſockets of the ſanctuary, and of the entry where the veil hangeth.

27 A hundred ſockets were made of a hundred talents, one talent being reckoned for every ſocket.

28 And of the thouſand ſeven hundred and ſeventy five he made the heads of the pillars, which alſo he overlaid with ſilver.

29 And there were offered of braſs alſo ſeventy two thouſand talents, and four hundred ſicles beſides,

30 Of which were caſt the ſockets in the entry of the tabernacle of the teſtimony, and the altar of braſs with the grate thereof, and all the veſſels that belong to the uſe thereof.

31 And the ſockets of the court as well round about as in the entry thereof, and the pins of the tabernacle and of the court round about.

CHAP. XXXIX.

All the ornaments of Aaron and his ſons are made. And the whole work of the tabernacle is finiſhed.

AND he made, of violet and purple, ſcarlet and fine linen, the veſtments for Aaron to wear when he miniſtered in the holy places, as the Lord commanded Moſes. A. M. 2514. Supra 28. 6.

2 So he made an ephod of gold, violet, and purple, and ſcarlet twice dyed, and fine twiſted linen,

3 With embroidered work, and he cut thin plates of gold, and drew them ſmall into threads, that they might be twiſted with the woof of the foreſaid colours,

4 And two borders coupled one to the other in the top on either ſide,

5 And a girdle of the ſame colours, as the Lord had commanded Moſes.

6 He prepared alſo two onyx ſtones, faſt ſet and cloſed in gold, and graven, by the art of a lapidary, with the names of the children of Iſrael:

7 And he ſet them in the ſides of the ephod for a memorial of the children of Iſrael, as the Lord had commanded Moſes.

8 He made alſo a rational with embroidered work according to the work of the ephod, of gold, violet, purple, and ſcarlet twice dyed, and fine twiſted linen:

9 Four-ſquare, double, of the meaſure of a ſpan.

10 And he ſet four rows of precious ſtones in it. In the firſt row was a ſardius, a topaz, an emerald.

11 In the ſecond, a carbuncle, a ſapphire, and a jaſper.

12 In the third, a ligurius, an agate, and an amethyſt.

13 In the fourth a chryſolite, an onyx, and a beryl ſet and encloſed in gold by their rows.

14 And the twelve ſtones, were engraved with the names of the twelve tribes of Iſrael, each one with its ſeveral name.

15 They made alſo in the rational little chains linked one to another of the pureſt gold,

16 And two hooks, and as many rings of gold. And they ſet the rings on either ſide of the rational,

17 On which rings the two golden chains ſhould hang, which they put into the hooks that ſtood out in the corners of the ephod.

18 Theſe both before and behind ſo anſwered one another, that the ephod and the rational were bound together,

19 Being faſtened to the girdle and ſtrongly coupled with rings, which a violet fillet joined, leſt they ſhould flag looſe, and be moved one from the other, as the Lord commanded Moſes.

20 They made alſo the tunick of the ephod all of violet,

21 And a hole for the head in the upper part at the middle, and a woven border round about the hole:

22 And beneath at the feet pomegranates of violet, purple, ſcarlet, and fine twiſted linen:

23 And little bells of the pureſt gold, which they put between the pomegranates at the bottom of the tunick round about:

24 To wit, a bell of gold, and a pomegranate, wherewith the high-prieſt went adorned, when he diſcharged his miniſtry, as the Lord had commanded Moſes.

25 They made alſo fine linen tunicks with woven work for Aaron and his ſons:

26 And mitres with their little crowns of fine linen:

27 And linen breeches of fine linen:

28 And a girdle of fine twiſted linen, violet, purple, and ſcarlet twice dyed, of embroidery-work, as the Lord had commanded Moſes.

29 They made alſo the plate of ſacred veneration of the pureſt gold, and they wrote on it with the engraving of a lapidary: The Holy of the Lord:

30 And they faſtened it to the mitre with a violet fillet, as the Lord had commanded Moſes.

31 So all the work of the tabernacle and of the roof of the teſtimony was finiſhed: and the children of Iſrael did all things which the Lord had commanded Moſes.

32 And they offered the tabernacle and the roof and the whole furniture, the rings, the boards, the bars, the pillars and their ſockets,

33 The cover of rams ſkins dyed red, and the other cover of violet ſkins,

34 The veil, the ark, the bars, the propitiatory,

35 The table with the veſſels thereof, and the loaves of propoſition:

36 The candleſtick, the lamps, and the furniture of them with the oil:

37 The altar of gold, and the ointment, and the incenſe of ſpices:

38 And the hanging in the entry of the tabernacle:

39 The altar of braſs, the grate, the bars, and all the veſſels thereof: the laver with the foot thereof: the hangings of the court, and the pillars with their ſockets:

40 The hanging in the entry of the court, and the little cords, and the pins thereof. Nothing was wanting of the veſſels, that were commanded to be made for the miniſtry of the tabernacle, and for the roof of the covenant.

41 The veſtments alſo, which the prieſts, to wit, Aaron and his ſons, uſe in the ſanctuary.

42 The children of Iſrael offered, as the Lord had commanded.

43 And when Moſes ſaw all things finiſhed, he bleſſed them.

CHAP. XL.

The tabernacle is commanded to be set up and anointed. God filleth it with his majesty.

AND the Lord spoke to Moses, saying:

2 The first month, the first day of the month, thou shalt set up the tabernacle of the testimony,

3 And shalt put the ark in it, and shalt let down the veil before it:

4 And thou shalt bring in the table, and set upon it the things that are commanded according to the rite. The candlestick shall stand with its lamps,

5 And the altar of gold whereon the incense is burnt, before the ark of the testimony. Thou shalt put the hanging in the entry of the tabernacle,

6 And before it the altar of holocaust:

7 The laver between the altar and the tabernacle, and thou shalt fill it with water.

8 And thou shalt encompass the court with hangings, and the entry thereof.

9 And thou shalt take the oil of unction and anoint the tabernacle with its vessels, that they may be sanctified:

10 The altar of holocaust and all its vessels:

11 The laver with its foot: thou shalt consecrate all with the oil of unction, that they may be most holy.

12 And thou shalt bring Aaron and his sons to the door of the tabernacle of the testimony, and having washed them with water, ‖ Supra 25. 35. Lev. 8. 2.

13 ‖ Thou shalt put on them the holy vestments, that they may minister to me, and that the unction of them may prosper to an everlasting priesthood.

14 And Moses did all that the Lord had commanded.

* A. M. 2514.

15 So in the first month of the second year,* the first day of the month, the tabernacle was set up.

‖ Num. 7. 1.

16 ‖ And Moses reared it up, and placed the boards and the sockets and the bars, and set up the pillars,

17 And spread the roof over the tabernacle, putting over it a cover, as the Lord had commanded.

18 And he put the testimony in the ark, thrusting bars underneath, and the oracle above.

19 And when he had brought the ark into the tabernacle, he drew the veil before it to fulfil the commandment of the Lord.

20 And he set the table in the tabernacle of the testimony at the north side without the veil,

21 Setting there in order the loaves of proposition, as the Lord had commanded Moses.

22 He set the candlestick also in the tabernacle of the testimony over-against the table on the south side,

23 Placing the lamps in order, according to the precept of the Lord.

24 He set also the altar of gold under the roof of the testimony over-against the veil,

25 And burnt upon it the incense of spices, as the Lord had commanded Moses.

26 And he put also the hanging in the entry of the tabernacle of the testimony,

27 And the altar of holocaust of the entry of the testimony, offering the holocaust, and the sacrifices upon it, as the Lord had commanded.

28 And he set the laver between the tabernacle of the testimony and the altar, filling it with water.

29 And Moses and Aaron, and his sons washed their hands and feet,

30 When they went into the tabernacle of the covenant, and went to the altar, as the Lord had commanded Moses.

31 He set up also the court round about the tabernacle and the altar, drawing the hanging in the entry thereof. After all things were perfected, 32 ‖ The cloud covered the tabernacle of the testimony, and the glory of the Lord filled it.

‖ Num. 9. 15. 3 Kings 8. 10.

33 Neither could Moses go into the tabernacle of the covenant, the cloud covering all things, and the majesty of the Lord shining, for the cloud had covered all.

34 If at any time the cloud removed from the tabernacle, the children of Israel went forward by their troops:

35 If it hung over, they remained in the same place.

36 For the cloud of the Lord hung over the tabernacle by day, and a fire by night, in the sight of all the children of Israel throughout all their mansions.

THE BOOK OF LEVITICUS.

This book is called LEVITICUS: because it treats of the offices, ministries, rites and ceremonies of the priests and levites. The Hebrews call it VAICRA, from the word with which it begins.

CHAP. I.

Of holocausts or burnt-offerings.

A. M. 2514. Ante C. 1490. AND the Lord called Moses, and spoke to him from the tabernacle of the testimony, saying:

2 Speak to the children of Israel, and thou shalt say to them: The man among you that shall offer to the Lord a sacrifice of the cattle, that is, offering victims of oxen and sheep,

‖ Exod. 29. 10. 3 ‖ If his offering be a holocaust, and of the herd, he shall offer a male without blemish, at the door of the testimony, to make the Lord favourable to him:

4 And he shall put his hand upon the head of the victim, and it shall be acceptable, and help to its expiation.

5 And he shall immolate the calf before the Lord, and the priests the sons of Aaron shall offer the blood thereof, pouring it round about the altar, which is before the door of the tabernacle,

6 And when they have flayed the victim, they shall cut the joints into pieces,

7 And shall put fire on the altar, having before laid in order a pile of wood:

8 And they shall lay the parts that are cut out in order thereupon, to wit, the head, and all things that cleave to the liver,

9 The entrails and feet being washed with water: and the priest shall burn them upon the altar for a holocaust, and a sweet savour to the Lord.

10 And if the offering be of the flocks, a holocaust of sheep or of goats, he shall offer a male without blemish:

11 And he shall immolate it at the side of the altar that looketh to the north, before the Lord: but the sons of Aaron shall pour the blood thereof upon the altar round about:

12 And they shall divide the joints, the head, and all that cleave to the liver: and shall lay them upon the wood, under which the fire is to be put:

13 But the entrails and the feet they shall wash with water. And the priest shall offer it all and burn it all upon the altar for a holocaust, and most sweet savour to the Lord.

CHAP. I. VER. 3. A holocaust, that is, a whole burnt-offering ὁλοκαυτὸν, so called, because the whole victim was consumed with fire; and given in such manner to God as wholly to evaporate, as it were, for his honour and glory; without having any part of it reserved for the use of man. The other sacrifices of the Old Testament were either offerings for sin, or peace-offerings: and these latter again were either offered in thanksgiving for blessings received; or by way of prayer for new favours or graces. So that sacrifices were then offered to God for four different ends or intentions, answerable to the different obligations which man has to God: 1. By way of adoration, homage, praise and glory due to his divine Majesty. 2. By way of thanksgiving for all benefits received from him. 3. By way of confessing and craving pardon for sins. 4. By way of prayer and petition for grace and relief in all necessities. In the New Law we have but one sacrifice, viz. that of the body and blood of Christ: but this one sacrifice of the New Testament perfectly answers all these four ends; and both priest and people, as often as it is celebrated, ought to join in offering it up for these four ends.

14 But if the oblation of a holocauſt to the Lord be of birds, of turtles or of young pigeons,

15 The prieſt ſhall offer it at the altar: and twiſting back the neck, and breaking the place of the wound, he ſhall make the blood run down upon the brim of the altar.

16 But the crop of the throat, and the feathers he ſhall caſt beſide the altar at the eaſt ſide, in the place where the aſhes are wont to be poured out,

17 And he ſhall break the pinions thereof, and ſhall not cut, nor divide it with a knife, and ſhall burn it upon the altar, putting fire under the wood. It is a holocauſt and oblation of moſt ſweet ſavour to the Lord.

CHAP. II.

Of offerings of flour, and firſt-fruits.

A. M. 2514. WHEN any one ſhall offer an oblation of ſacrifice to the Lord, his offering ſhall be of fine flour, and he ſhall pour oil upon it, and put frankincenſe,

2 And ſhall bring it to the ſons of Aaron the prieſts: and one of them ſhall take a handful of the flour and oil, and all the frankincenſe, and ſhall put it a memorial upon the altar for a moſt ſweet ſavour to the Lord.

‖ Eccli. 7. 34. 3 ‖ And the remnant of the ſacrifice ſhall be Aaron's, and his ſons, holy of holies of the offerings of the Lord.

4 But when thou offereſt a ſacrifice baked in the oven of flour, to wit, loaves without leaven, tempered with oil, and unleavened wafers anointed with oil:

5 If thy oblation be from the frying-pan, of flour tempered with oil, and without leaven,

6 Thou ſhalt divide it into little pieces, and ſhalt pour oil upon it.

7 And if the ſacrifice be from the gridiron, in like manner the flour ſhall be tempered with oil:

8 And when thou offereſt it to the Lord, thou ſhalt deliver it to the hands of the prieſt.

9 And when he hath offered it, he ſhall take a memorial out of the ſacrifice, and burn it upon the altar for a ſweet ſavour to the Lord.

10 And whatſoever is left, ſhall be Aaron's, and his ſons, holy of holies of the offerings of the Lord.

11 Every oblation, that is offered to the Lord, ſhall be made without leaven, neither ſhall any leaven or honey be burnt in the ſacrifice to the Lord.

12 You ſhall offer only the firſt-fruits of them and gifts: but they ſhall not be put upon the altar, for a ſavour of ſweetneſs.

13 Whatſoever ſacrifice thou offereſt, ‖ thou ſhalt ſeaſon it with ſalt, neither ſhalt thou take away the ſalt of the covenant of thy God from thy ſacrifice. In all thy oblations thou ſhalt offer ſalt. ‖ Mark 9. 48.

14 But if thou offer a gift of the firſt-fruits of thy corn to the Lord, of the ears yet green, thou ſhalt dry it at the fire, and break it ſmall like meal, and ſo ſhalt thou offer thy firſt-fruits to the Lord,

15 Pouring oil upon it, and putting on frankincenſe, becauſe it is the oblation of the Lord.

16 Whereof the prieſt ſhall burn for a memorial of the gift, part of the corn broken ſmall and of the oil, and all the frankincenſe.

CHAP. III.

Of peace-offerings.

A. M. 2514. AND if his oblation be a ſacrifice of peace-offerings, and he will offer of the herd, whether male or female, he ſhall offer them without blemiſh before the Lord.

2 And he ſhall lay his hand upon the head of his victim, which ſhall be ſlain in the entry of the tabernacle of the teſtimony, and the ſons of Aaron the prieſts ſhall pour the blood round about upon the altar.

3 And they ſhall offer of the ſacrifice of peace-offerings, for an oblation to the Lord, ‖ the fat that covereth the entrails, and all the fat that is within. ‖ Exod. 29. 13.

4 The two kidnies with the fat wherewith the flanks are covered, and the caul of the liver with the two little kidneys.

CHAP. II. VER. 3. Holy of holies, that is, moſt holy: as being dedicated to God, and ſet aſide by his ordinance for the uſe of his prieſts.

VER. 11. Without leaven or honey. No leaven nor honey was to be uſed in the ſacrifice offered to God: to ſignify that we are to exclude from the pure worſhip of the goſpel, all double-dealing and affection to carnal pleaſures.

VER. 13. Salt. In every ſacrifice ſalt was to be uſed, which is an emblem of wiſdom and diſcretion, without which none of our performances are agreeable to God.

CHAP. III. VER. 1. Peace-offerings. Peace, in the ſcripture language, ſignifies happineſs, welfare or proſperity; in a word, all kind of bleſſings. Such ſacrifices therefore as were offered either on occaſion of bleſſings received, or to obtain new favours, were called pacific or peace-offerings. In theſe ſome part of the victim was conſumed with fire on the altar of God: other parts were eaten by the prieſts, and by the perſons for whom the ſacrifice was offered;

5 And they ſhall burn them upon the altar, for a holocauſt, putting fire under the wood: for an oblation of moſt ſweet ſavour to the Lord.

6 But if his oblation, and the ſacrifice of peace-offering be of the flock, whether he offer male or female, they ſhall be without blemiſh.

7 If he offer a lamb before the Lord,

8 He ſhall put his hand upon the head of his victim: and it ſhall be ſlain in the entry of the tabernacle of teſtimony: and the ſons of Aaron ſhall pour the blood thereof round about upon the altar.

9 And they ſhall offer of the victim of peace-offerings a ſacrifice to the Lord: the fat and the whole rump,

10 With the kidneys, and the fat that covereth the belly and all the vitals and both the little kidneys, with the fat that is about the flanks, and the caul of the liver with the little kidneys.

11 And the prieſt ſhall burn them upon the altar, for the food of the fire, and of the oblation of the Lord.

12 If his offering be a goat, and he offer it to the Lord,

13 He ſhall put his hand upon the head thereof: and ſhall immolate it in the entry of the tabernacle of the teſtimony. And the ſons of Aaron ſhall pour the blood thereof round about upon the altar.

14 And they ſhall take of it for the food of the Lord's fire, the fat that covereth the belly, and that covereth all the vital parts:

15 The two little kidneys with the caul that is upon them which is by the flanks, and the fat of the liver with the little kidneys:

16 And the prieſt ſhall burn them upon the altar, for the food of the fire, and of a moſt ſweet ſavour. All the fat ſhall be the Lord's.

17 By a perpetual law for your generations, and in all your habitations: neither blood nor fat ſhall you eat at all.

CHAP. IV.

Of offerings for ſins of ignorance.

A. M. 2514. AND the Lord ſpoke to Moſes, ſaying:

2 Say to the children of Iſrael: The ſoul that ſinneth through ignorance, and doth any thing concerning any of the commandments of the Lord, which he commanded not to be done:

3 If the prieſt that is anointed ſhall ſin, making the people to offend, he ſhall offer to the Lord for his ſin, a calf without blemiſh.

4 And he ſhall bring it to the door of the teſtimony before the Lord, and ſhall put his hand upon the head thereof, and ſhall ſacrifice it to the Lord.

5 He ſhall take alſo of the blood of the calf, and carry it into the tabernacle of the teſtimony.

6 And having dipped his finger in the blood, he ſhall ſprinkle with it ſeven times before the Lord, before the veil of the ſanctuary.

7 And he ſhall put ſome of the ſame blood upon the horns of the altar of the ſweet incenſe moſt acceptable to the Lord, which is in the tabernacle of the teſtimony. And he ſhall pour all the reſt of the blood at the foot of the altar of holocauſt in the entry of the tabernacle.

8 And he ſhall take off the fat of the calf for the ſin-offering, as well that which covereth the entrails, as all the inwards:

9 The two little kidneys, and the caul that is upon them which is by the flanks, and the fat of the liver with the little kidneys,

10 As it is taken off from the calf of the ſacrifice of peace-offerings, and he ſhall burn them upon the altar of holocauſt.

11 But the ſkin and all the fleſh with the head and the feet and the bowels and the dung,

12 And the reſt of the body he ſhall carry forth without the camp into a clean place, where the aſhes are wont to be poured out: and he ſhall burn them upon a pile of wood, they ſhall be burnt in the place where the aſhes are poured out.

13 And if all the multitude of Iſrael ſhall be ignorant, and through ignorance ſhall do that which is againſt the commandment of the Lord,

14 And afterwards ſhall underſtand their ſin, they ſhall offer for their ſin a calf, and ſhall bring it to the door of the tabernacle.

15 And the ancients of the people ſhall put their hands upon the head thereof before

---

VER. 17. Fat. It is meant of the fat, which by the preſcription of the law was to be offered on God's altar: not of the fat of meat, ſuch as we commonly eat.

CHAP. IV. VER. 2. Ignorance. To be ignorant of what we are bound to know is ſinful: and for ſuch culpable ignorance, theſe ſacrifices, preſcribed in this and the following chapter, were appointed.

VER. 5. The blood. As the figure of the blood of Chriſt ſhed for the remiſſion of our ſins; and carried by him into the ſanctuary of heaven.

the Lord. And the calf being immolated in the ſight of the Lord,

16 The prieſt that is anointed, ſhall carry of the blood into the tabernacle of the teſtimony,

17 And ſhall dip his finger in it, and ſprinkle it ſeven times before the veil.

18 And he ſhall put of the ſame blood on the horns of the altar that is before the Lord, in the tabernacle of the teſtimony: and the reſt of the blood, he ſhall pour at the foot of the altar of holocauſt, which is at the door of the tabernacle of the teſtimony.

19 And all the fat thereof he ſhall take off, and ſhall burn it upon the altar:

20 Doing ſo with this calf, as he did alſo with that before: and the prieſt praying for them, the Lord will be merciful unto them.

21 But the calf itſelf he ſhall carry forth without the camp, and ſhall burn it as he did the former calf: becauſe it is for the ſin of the multitude.

22 If a prince ſhall ſin, and through ignorance do any one of the things that the law of the Lord forbiddeth,

23 And afterwards ſhall come to know his ſin, he ſhall offer a buck-goat without blemiſh, a ſacrifice to the Lord.

24 And he ſhall put his hand upon the head thereof: and when he hath immolated it in the place where the holocauſt is wont to be ſlain before the Lord, becauſe it is for ſin,

25 The prieſt ſhall dip his finger in the blood of the victim for ſin, touching therewith the horns of the altar of holocauſt, and pouring out the reſt at the foot thereof.

26 But the fat he ſhall burn upon it, as is wont to be done with the victims of peace-offerings: and the prieſt ſhall pray for him, and for his ſin, and it ſhall be forgiven him.

27 And if any one of the people of the land ſhall ſin through ignorance, doing any of thoſe things that by the law of the Lord are forbidden, and offending,

28 And ſhall come to know his ſin, he ſhall offer a ſhe-goat without blemiſh.

29 And he ſhall put his hand upon the head of the victim that is for ſin, and ſhall immolate it in the place of the holocauſt.

30 And the prieſt ſhall take of the blood with his finger, and ſhall touch the horns of the altar of holocauſt, and ſhall pour out the reſt at the foot thereof.

31 But taking off all the fat, as is wont to be taken away of the victims of peace-offerings, he ſhall burn it upon the altar, for a ſweet ſavour to the Lord: and he ſhall pray for him, and it ſhall be forgiven him.

32 But if he offer of the flock a victim for his ſin, to wit, an ewe without blemiſh:

33 He ſhall put his hand upon the head thereof, and ſhall immolate it in the place where the victims of holocauſts are wont to be ſlain.

34 And the prieſt ſhall take of the blood thereof with his finger, and ſhall touch the horns of the altar of holocauſt, and the reſt he ſhall pour out at the foot thereof.

35 All the fat alſo he ſhall take off, as the fat of the ram that is offered for peace-offerings is wont to be taken away: and ſhall burn it upon the altar, for a burnt-ſacrifice of the Lord: and he ſhall pray for him and for his ſin, and it ſhall be forgiven him.

CHAP. V.

Of other ſacrifices for ſins.

IF any one ſin, and hear the voice of one ſwearing, and is a witneſs either becauſe he himſelf hath ſeen, or is privy to it: if he do not utter it, he ſhall bear his iniquity. A. M. 2514.

2 Whoſoever toucheth any unclean thing, either that which has been killed by a beaſt, or died of itſelf, or any other creeping thing: and forgetteth his uncleanneſs, he is guilty, and hath offended:

3 And if he touch any thing of the uncleanneſs of man, according to any uncleanneſs wherewith he is wont to be defiled, and having forgotten it, come afterwards to know it, he ſhall be guilty of an offence.

4 The perſon that ſweareth, and uttereth with his lips, that he would do either evil or good, and bindeth the ſame with an oath, and his word, and having forgotten it afterwards underſtandeth his offence,

5 Let him do penance for his ſin,

6 And offer of the flocks an ewe-lamb, or a ſhe-goat, and the prieſt ſhall pray for him and for his ſin:

7 But if he be not able to offer a beaſt, let him offer two turtles, ‖ or two young pigeons to the Lord, one for ſin, and the other for a holocauſt, ‖ Infra 12. 8. Luke 2. 14.

8 And he ſhall give them to the prieſt: who ſhall offer the firſt for ſin, and twiſt back the head of it to the little pinions, ſo that it ſtick to the neck, and be not altogether broken off.

9 And of its blood he ſhall ſprinkle the ſide of the altar, and whatſoever is left, he ſhall let it drop at the bottom thereof, becauſe it is for ſin.

10 And the other he ſhall burn for a holocauſt, as is wont to be done: and the prieſt ſhall pray for him, and for his ſin, and it ſhall be forgiven him.

11 And if his hand be not able to offer two turtles, or two young pigeons, he ſhall offer for his ſin, the tenth part of an ephi of flour. He ſhall not put oil upon it, nor put any frankincenſe thereon, becauſe it is for ſin:

12 And he ſhall deliver it to the prieſt: who ſhall take a handful thereof and ſhall burn it upon the altar for a memorial of him that offered it:

13 Praying for him and making atonement: but the part that is left, he himſelf ſhall have for a gift.

14 And the Lord ſpoke to Moſes, ſaying:

15 If any one ſhall ſin through miſtake, tranſgreſſing the ceremonies in thoſe things that are ſacrificed to the Lord, he ſhall offer for his offence a ram without blemiſh out of the flocks, that may be bought for two ſicles, according to the weight of the ſanctuary:

16 And he ſhall make good the damage itſelf which he hath done, and ſhall add the fifth part beſides, delivering it to the prieſt, who ſhall pray for him, offering the ram, and it ſhall be forgiven him.

17 If any one ſin through ignorance, and do one of thoſe things which by the law of the Lord are forbidden, and being guilty of ſin, underſtand his iniquity,

18 He ſhall offer of the flocks a ram without blemiſh to the prieſt, according to the meaſure, and eſtimation of the ſin: and the prieſt ſhall pray for him, becauſe he did it ignorantly: and it ſhall be forgiven him,

19 Becauſe by miſtake he treſpaſſed againſt the Lord.

CHAP. VI.

Oblation for ſins of injuſtice: ordinances concerning the holocauſts and the perpetual fire: the ſacrifices of the prieſts, and the ſin-offerings.

A. M. 2514. THE Lord ſpoke to Moſes, ſaying:

2 Whoſoever ſhall ſin, and deſpiſing the Lord, ſhall deny to his neighbour the thing delivered to his keeping, which was committed to his truſt; or ſhall by force extort any thing, or commit oppreſſion,

3 Or ſhall find a thing loſt, and denying it, ſhall alſo ſwear falſly, or ſhall do any other of the many things, wherein men are wont to ſin,

4 Being convicted of the offence, he ſhall reſtore

5 All that he would have gotten by fraud, in the principal, ‖ and the fifth part beſides to the owner, whom he wronged. ‖ Num. 5. 7.

6 Moreover for his ſin he ſhall offer a ram without blemiſh out of the flock, and ſhall give it to the prieſt, according to the eſtimation and meaſure of the offence:

7 And he ſhall pray for him before the Lord, and he ſhall have forgiveneſs for every thing in doing of which he hath ſinned.

8 And the Lord ſpoke to Moſes, ſaying:

9 Command Aaron and his ſons: This is the law of a holocauſt: It ſhall be burnt upon the altar, all night until morning: the fire ſhall be of the ſame altar.

10 The prieſt ſhall be veſted with the tunick and the linen breeches: and he ſhall take up the aſhes of that which the devouring fire hath burnt, and putting them beſide the altar,

11 Shall put off his former veſtments, and being clothed with others, ſhall carry them forth without the camp, and ſhall cauſe them to be conſumed to duſt in a very clean place.

12 And the fire on the altar ſhall always burn, and the prieſt ſhall feed it, putting wood on it every day in the morning, and laying on the holocauſt, ſhall burn thereupon the fat of the peace-offerings.

13 This is the perpetual fire which ſhall never go out on the altar.

14 This is the law of the ſacrifice and libations, which the children of Aaron ſhall offer before the Lord, and before the altar.

15 The prieſt ſhall take a handful of the flour that is tempered with oil, and all the frankincenſe that is put upon the flour: and he ſhall burn it on the altar for a memorial of moſt ſweet odour to the Lord:

16 And the part of the flour that is left, Aaron and his ſons ſhall eat, without leaven: and he ſhall eat it in the holy place of the court of the tabernacle.

17 And therefore it ſhall not be leavened, becauſe part thereof is offered for the burnt-ſacrifice of the Lord. It ſhall be moſt holy, as that which is offered for ſin and for treſpaſs.

18 The males only of the race of Aaron ſhall eat it. It ſhall be an ordinance everlaſting in your generations concerning the ſacrifices of the Lord: Every one that toucheth them ſhall be ſanctified.

CHAP. VI. VER. 13. The perpetual fire. This fire came from heaven, (infra chap. ix. 24.) and was always kept burning on the altar: as a figure of the heavenly fire of divine love, which ought to be always burning in the heart of a chriſtian.

19 And the Lord ſpoke to Moſes, ſaying:
20 This is the oblation of Aaron, and of his ſons, which they muſt offer to the Lord, in the day of their anointing: They ſhall offer the tenth part of an ephi of flour for a perpetual ſacrifice, half of it in the morning and half of it in the evening:
21 It ſhall be tempered with oil, and ſhall be fried in a frying-pan.
22 And the prieſt that rightfully ſucceedeth his father, ſhall offer it hot, for a moſt ſweet odour to the Lord, and it ſhall be wholly burnt on the altar.
23 For every ſacrifice of the prieſt ſhall be conſumed with fire, neither ſhall any man eat thereof.
24 And the Lord ſpoke to Moſes, ſaying:
25 Say to Aaron and his ſons: This is the law of the victim for ſin: In the place where the holocauſt is offered, it ſhall be immolated before the Lord. It is holy of holies.
26 The prieſt that offereth it, ſhall eat it in a holy place, in the court of the tabernacle.
27 Whatſoever ſhall touch the fleſh thereof, ſhall be ſanctified. If a garment be ſprinkled with the blood thereof, it ſhall be waſhed in a holy place.
28 And the earthen veſſel, wherein it was ſodden, ſhall be broken, but if the veſſel be of braſs, it ſhall be ſcoured, and waſhed with water.
29 Every male of the prieſtly race ſhall eat of the fleſh thereof, becauſe it is holy of holies.
30 For the victim that is ſlain for ſin, || the blood of which is carried into the tabernacle of the teſtimony to make atonement in the ſanctuary, ſhall not be eaten, but ſhall be burnt with fire.

|| Supra 4. Heb. 13.11.

CHAP. VII.

Of ſacrifices for treſpaſſes and thanks-offerings. No fat nor blood is to be eaten.

A. M. 2514. THIS alſo is the law of the ſacrifice for a treſpaſs, it is moſt holy:
2 And where the holocauſt is immolated, the victim alſo for a treſpaſs ſhall be ſlain: the blood thereof ſhall be poured round about the altar.
3 They ſhall offer thereof the rump and the fat that covereth the entrails:
4 The two little kidneys, and the fat which is by the flanks, and the caul of the liver with the little kidneys.
5 And the prieſt ſhall burn them upon the altar: it is the burnt-ſacrifice of the Lord for a treſpaſs.
6 Every male of the prieſtly race, ſhall eat this fleſh in a holy place, becauſe it is moſt holy.
7 As the ſacrifice for ſin is offered, ſo is alſo that for a treſpaſs: the ſame ſhall be the law of both theſe ſacrifices: it ſhall belong to the prieſt that offereth it.
8 The prieſt that offereth the victim of holocauſt, ſhall have the ſkin thereof.
9 And every ſacrifice of flour that is baked in the oven, and whatſoever is dreſſed on the gridiron, or in the frying-pan, ſhall be the prieſt's that offereth it:
10 Whether they be tempered with oil, or dry, all the ſons of Aaron ſhall have one as much as another.
11 This is the law of the ſacrifice of peace-offerings that is offered to the Lord.
12 If the oblation be for thankſgiving, they ſhall offer loaves without leaven tempered with oil, and unleavened wafers anointed with oil, and fine flour fried, and cakes tempered and mingled with oil:
13 Moreover loaves of leavened bread with the ſacrifice of thanks, which is offered for peace-offerings:
14 Of which one ſhall be offered to the Lord for firſt-fruits, and ſhall be the prieſt's that ſhall pour out the blood of the victim.
15 And the fleſh of it ſhall be eaten the ſame day, neither ſhall any of it remain until the morning.
16 If any man by vow, or of his own accord offer a ſacrifice, it ſhall in like manner be eaten the ſame day: and if any of it remain until the morrow, it is lawful to eat it:
17 But whatſoever ſhall be found on the third day ſhall be conſumed with fire.
18 If any man eat of the fleſh of the victim of peace-offerings on the third day, the oblation ſhall be of no effect, neither ſhall it profit the offerer: yea rather whatſoever ſoul ſhall defile itſelf with ſuch meat, ſhall be guilty of tranſgreſſion.
19 The fleſh that hath touched any unclean thing, ſhall not be eaten, but ſhall be burnt with fire: he that is clean ſhall eat of it.
20 If any one that is defiled ſhall eat of the fleſh of the ſacrifice of peace-offerings, which is offered to the Lord, he ſhall be cut off from his people.
21 And he that hath touched the unclean-

CHAP. VII. VER. 1. Treſpaſs. Treſpaſſes, for which theſe offerings were to be made, were leſſer offences, than thoſe for which the ſin offerings were appointed.

ness of man, or of beast, or of any thing that can defile, and shall eat of such kind of flesh, shall be cut off from his people.

22 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying:

23 Say to the children of Israel: The fat of a sheep, and of an ox, and of a goat you shall not eat.

24 The fat of a carcass that hath died of itself, and of a beast that was caught by another beast, you shall have for divers uses.

25 If any man eat the fat that should be offered for the burnt-sacrifice of the Lord, he shall perish out of his people.

26 Moreover you shall not eat the blood of any creature whatsoever, whether of birds or beasts.

27 Every one that eateth blood, shall perish from among the people.

28 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying:

29 Speak to the children of Israel, saying: He that offereth a victim of peace-offerings to the Lord, let him offer therewith a sacrifice also, that is, the libations thereof.

30 He shall hold in his hands the fat of the victim, and the breast: and when he hath offered and consecrated both to the Lord, he shall deliver them to the priest,

31 Who shall burn the fat upon the altar, but the breast shall be Aaron's, and his sons.

32 The right shoulder also of the victims of peace-offerings shall fall to the priest for first-fruits.

33 He among the sons of Aaron, that offereth the blood, and the fat, he shall have the right shoulder also for his portion.

34 For the breast that is elevated and the shoulder that is separated I have taken of the children of Israel, from off their victims of peace-offerings, and have given them to Aaron the priest, and to his sons, by a law for ever, from all the people of Israel.

35 This is the anointing of Aaron and his sons, in the ceremonies of the Lord, in the day when Moses offered them, that they might do the office of priesthood,

36 And the things that the Lord commanded to be given them by the children of Israel, by a perpetual observance in their generations.

37 This is the law of holocaust, and of the sacrifice for sin, and for trespass, and for consecration, and the victims of peace-offerings:

38 Which the Lord appointed to Moses in mount Sinai, when he commanded the children of Israel, that they should offer their oblations to the Lord in the desart of Sinai.

CHAP. VIII.

Moses consecrateth Aaron and his sons.

AND the Lord spoke to Moses, saying: A. M. 2514. Ante C. 1490.

2 ‖ Take Aaron with his sons, their vestments, and the oil of unction, a calf for sin, two rams, a basket with unleavened bread, ‖ Exod. 29. 35. & 40. 13.

3 And thou shalt gather together all the congregation to the door of the tabernacle.

4 And Moses did as the Lord had commanded. And all the multitude being gathered together before the door of the tabernacle,

5 He said: This is the word that the Lord hath commanded to be done.

6 And immediately he offered Aaron and his sons: and when he had washed them,

7 He vested the high-priest with the strait linen garment, girding him with the girdle, and putting on him the violet tunick, and over it he put the ephod,

8 And binding it with the girdle, he fitted it to the rational, on which was Doctrine and Truth.

9 He put also the mitre upon his head: and upon the mitre over the forehead, he put the plate of gold consecrated with sanctification, as the Lord had commanded him.

10 He took also the oil of unction, with which he anointed the tabernacle, with all the furniture thereof.

11 And when he had sanctified and sprinkled the altar seven times, he anointed it, and all the vessels thereof, and the laver with the foot thereof he sanctified with the oil.

12 ‖ And he poured it upon Aaron's head, and he anointed, and consecrated him: ‖ Eccli. 45. 18.

13 And after he had offered his sons, he vested them with linen tunicks, and girded them with girdles, and put mitres on them, as the Lord had commanded.

14 He offered also the calf for sin: and when Aaron and his sons had put their hands upon the head thereof,

15 He immolated it: and took the blood, and dipping his finger in it, he touched the horns of the altar round about. Which being expiated, and sanctified, he poured the rest of the blood at the bottom thereof.

16 But the fat that was upon the entrails, and the caul of the liver, and the two little kidneys, with their fat, he burnt upon the altar:

17 And the calf with the skin, and the flesh, and the dung, he burnt without the camp, as the Lord had commanded.

18 He offered also a ram for a holocaust:

and when Aaron and his ſons had put their hands upon its head,

19 He immolated it, and poured the blood thereof round about upon the altar.

20 And cutting the ram into pieces, the head thereof, and the joints, and the fat he burnt in the fire,

21 Having firſt waſhed the entrails, and the feet, and the whole ram together he burnt upon the altar, becauſe it was a holocauſt of moſt ſweet odour to the Lord, as he had commanded him.

22 He offered alſo the ſecond ram, in the conſecration of prieſts: and Aaron, and his ſons put their hands upon the head thereof:

23 And when Moſes had immolated it, he took of the blood thereof, and touched the tip of Aaron's right ear, and the thumb of his right hand, and in like manner alſo the great toe of his right foot.

24 He offered alſo the ſons of Aaron: and when with the blood of the ram that was immolated, he had touched the tip of the right ear of every one of them, and the thumbs of their right hands, and the great toes of their right feet, the reſt he poured on the altar round about:

25 But the fat, and the rump, and all the fat that covereth the entrails, and the caul of the liver, and the two kidneys with their fat, and with the right ſhoulder, he ſeparated.

26 And taking out of the baſket of unleavened bread, which was before the Lord, a loaf without leaven, and a cake tempered with oil, and a wafer, he put them upon the fat, and the right ſhoulder,

27 Delivering all to Aaron, and to his ſons: Who having lifted them up before the Lord,

28 He took them again from their hands, and burnt them upon the altar of holocauſt, becauſe it was the oblation of conſecration, for a ſweet odour of ſacrifice to the Lord.

29 And he took of the ram of conſecration, the breaſt for his portion, elevating it before the Lord, as the Lord had commanded him.

30 And taking the ointment, and the blood that was upon the altar, he ſprinkled Aaron, and his veſtments, and his ſons and their veſtments with it.

31 And when he had ſanctified them in their veſtments, he commanded them, ſaying: Boil the fleſh before the door of the tabernacle, and there eat it. Eat ye alſo the loaves of conſecration, that are laid in the baſket, as the Lord commanded me, ſaying:

‖ Exod. 29. 31. & 30. 22. & 40. 9. Infra 24. 9.

32 And whatſoever ſhall be left of the fleſh and the loaves, ſhall be conſumed with fire.

33 And you ſhall not go out of the door of the tabernacle for ſeven days, until the day wherein the time of your conſecration ſhall be expired. For in ſeven days the conſecration is finiſhed:

34 As at this preſent it hath been done, that the rite of the ſacrifice might be accompliſhed.

35 Day and night ſhall you remain in the tabernacle obſerving the watches of the Lord, leſt you die: for ſo it hath been commanded me.

36 And Aaron and his ſons did all things which the Lord ſpoke by the hand of Moſes.

CHAP. IX.

Aaron offereth ſacrifice for himſelf and the people. Fire cometh from the Lord upon the altar.

AND when the eighth day was come, Moſes called Aaron and his ſons, and the ancients of Iſrael, and ſaid to Aaron: A. M. 2514. Exod. 29. 1.

2 Take of the herd a calf for ſin, and a ram for a holocauſt, both without blemiſh, and offer them before the Lord.

3 And to the children of Iſrael thou ſhalt ſay: Take ye a he-goat for ſin, and a calf, and a lamb, both of a year old, and without blemiſh for a holocauſt,

4 Alſo a bullock and a ram for peace-offerings: and immolate them before the Lord, offering for the ſacrifice of every one of them flour tempered with oil; for to-day the Lord will appear to you.

5 They brought therefore all things that Moſes had commanded before the door of the tabernacle: where when all the the multitude ſtood,

6 Moſes ſaid: This is the word, which the Lord hath commanded: do it, and his glory will appear to you.

7 And he ſaid to Aaron: Approach to the altar, and offer ſacrifice for thy ſin: offer the holocauſt, and pray for thyſelf and for the people: and when thou haſt ſlain the people's victim, pray for them, as the Lord hath commanded.

8 And forthwith Aaron approaching to the altar, immolated the calf for his ſin:

9 And his ſons brought him the blood of it: and he dipped his finger therein, and touched the horns of the altar, and poured the reſt at the foot thereof.

10 And the fat, and the little kidneys, and the caul of the liver, which are for ſin, he burnt upon the altar, as the Lord had commanded Moſes:

11 But the fleſh and ſkins thereof he burnt with fire without the camp.

12 He immolated alſo the victim of holo-

cauſt: and his ſons brought him the blood thereof, which he poured round about on the altar.

13 And the victim being cut into pieces, they brought to him the head and all the members, all which he burnt with fire upon the altar,

14 Having firſt waſhed the entrails and the feet with water.

15 Then offering for the ſin of the people, he ſlew the he-goat: and expiating the altar,

16 He offered the holocauſt:

17 Adding in the ſacrifice the libations, which are offered withal, and burning them upon the altar, beſides the ceremonies of the morning holocauſt.

18 He immolated alſo the bullock and the ram, the peace-offerings of the people: and his ſons brought him the blood, which he poured upon the altar round about.

19 The fat alſo of the bullock, and the rump of the ram, and the two little kidneys, with their fat, and the caul of the liver,

20 They put upon the breaſts. And after the fat was burnt upon the altar,

21 Aaron ſeparated their breaſts, and the right ſhoulders, elevating them before the Lord, as Moſes had commanded.

22 And ſtretching forth his hands to the people, he bleſſed them. And ſo the victims for ſin, and the holocauſts, and the peace-offerings being finiſhed, he came down.

23 And Moſes and Aaron went into the tabernacle of the teſtimony, and afterwards came forth and bleſſed the people. ‖ And the glory of the Lord appeared to all the multitude:

‖ Mac. 2. 10.

24 And behold a fire coming forth from the Lord, devoured the holocauſt, and the fat that was upon the altar: which when the multitude ſaw, they praiſed the Lord, falling on their faces.

CHAP. X.

Nadab and Abiu for offering ſtrange fire, are burnt by fire. Prieſts are forbidden to drink wine, when they enter into the tabernacle. The law of eating the holy things.

A. M. 2514. Num. 3. 4. & 26. 61. 1 Par. 24. 2.

AND Nadab and Abiu, the ſons of Aaron, taking their cenſers, put fire therein, and incenſe on it, offering before the Lord ſtrange fire: which was not commanded them.

2 And fire coming out from the Lord deſtroyed them, and they died before the Lord.

3 And Moſes ſaid to Aaron: This is what the Lord hath ſpoken: I will be ſanctified in them that approach to me, and I will be glorified in the ſight of all the people. And when Aaron heard this, he held his peace.

4 And Moſes called Miſael and Eliſaphan, the ſons of Oziel, the uncle of Aaron, and ſaid to them: Go and take away your brethren from before the ſanctuary, and carry them without the camp.

5 And they went forthwith and took them as they lay, veſted with linen tunicks, and caſt them forth, as had been commanded them.

6 And Moſes ſaid to Aaron, and to Eleazar and Ithamar, his ſons: Uncover not your heads, and rend not your garments, leſt perhaps you die, and indignation come upon all the congregation. Let your brethren, and all the houſe of Iſrael, bewail the burning which the Lord has kindled:

7 But you ſhall not go out of the door of the tabernacle, otherwiſe you ſhall periſh: for the oil of the holy unction is on you. And they did all things according to the precept of Moſes.

8 The Lord alſo ſaid to Aaron:

9 You ſhall not drink wine nor any thing that may make drunk, thou nor thy ſons, when you enter into the tabernacle of the teſtimony, leſt you die: becauſe it is an everlaſting precept through your generations:

10 And that you may have knowledge to diſcern between holy and unholy, between unclean and clean:

11 And may teach the children of Iſrael all my ordinances which the Lord hath ſpoken to them by the hand of Moſes.

12 And Moſes ſpoke to Aaron, and to Eleazar and Ithamar, his ſons, that were left: Take the ſacrifice that is remaining of the oblation of the Lord, and eat it without leaven beſide the altar, becauſe it is holy of holies.

13 And you ſhall eat it in a holy place: which is given to thee and thy ſons of the oblations of the Lord, as it hath been commanded me.

14 The breaſt alſo that is offered, and the ſhoulder that is ſeparated, you ſhall eat in a moſt clean place thou and thy ſons, and thy daughters with thee. For they are ſet aſide for thee and thy children, of the victims of peace-offerings of the children of Iſrael:

15 Becauſe they have elevated before the Lord the ſhoulder and the breaſt, and the fat that is burnt on the altar, and they belong to thee and to thy ſons by a perpetual law, as the Lord hath commanded.

16 ‖ While theſe things were a doing, when Moſes ſought for the buck-goat, that had been offered for ſin, he found it burnt:

‖ 2 Mac. 2. 11.

and being angry with Eleazar and Ithamar, the ſons of Aaron that were left, he ſaid:

17 Why did you not eat in the holy place the ſacrifice for ſin, which is moſt holy, and given to you, that you may bear the iniquity of the people, and may pray for them in the ſight of the Lord,

18 Eſpecially whereas none of the blood thereof hath been carried within the holy places, and you ought to have eaten it in the ſanctuary, as was commanded me?

19 Aaron anſwered: This day hath been offered the victim for ſin, and the holocauſt before the Lord: and to me what thou ſeeſt has happened: how could I eat it, or pleaſe the Lord in the ceremonies, having a ſorrowful heart?

20 Which when Moſes had heard he was ſatisfied.

CHAP. XI.

The diſtinction of clean and unclean animals.

A. M. 2514. Ante C. 1490. AND the Lord ſpoke to Moſes and Aaron, ſaying:

2 Say to the children of Iſrael: ‖ Theſe are the animals which you are to eat of all the living things of the earth. ‖ Deut. 14. 3.

3 Whatſoever hath the hoof divided, and cheweth the cud among the beaſts, you ſhall eat.

4 But whatſoever cheweth indeed the cud, and hath a hoof, but divideth it not, as the camel, and others, that you ſhall not eat, but ſhall reckon it among the unclean.

5 The cherogrillus which cheweth the cud, but divideth not the hoof, is unclean.

6 The hare alſo: for that too cheweth the cud, but divideth not the hoof.

‖ 2 Mac. 6. 18. 7 ‖ And the ſwine, which, though it divideth the hoof, cheweth not the cud.

8 The fleſh of theſe you ſhall not eat, nor ſhall you touch their carcaſes, becauſe they are unclean to you.

9 Theſe are the things that breed in the waters, and which it is lawful to eat. All that hath fins, and ſcales, as well in the ſea, as in the rivers, and the pools, you ſhall eat.

10 But whatſoever hath not fins and ſcales, of thoſe things that move and live in the waters, ſhall be an abomination unto you,

11 And deteſtable: their fleſh you ſhall not eat, and their carcaſes you ſhall void.

12 All that have not fins and ſcales, in the waters, ſhall be unclean.

13 Of birds theſe are they which you muſt not eat, and which are to be avoided by you: The eagle, and the griffon, and the oſprey.

14 And the kite, and the vulture, according to their kind.

15 And all that is of the raven kind, according to their likeneſs.

16 The oſtrich, and the owl, and the larus, and the hawk according to its kind.

17 The ſcreech-owl, and the cormorant, and the ibis,

18 And the ſwan, and the bittern, and the porphyrion,

19 The heron, and the charadrion according to its kind, the houp alſo, and the bat.

20 Of things that fly, whatſoever goeth upon four feet, ſhall be abominable to you.

21 But whatſoever walketh upon four feet, but hath the legs behind longer, wherewith it hoppeth upon the earth,

22 That you ſhall eat, as the bruchus in its kind, the attacus, and the ophiomachus and the locuſt, every one according to their kind.

23 But of flying things whatſoever hath four feet only, ſhall be an abomination to you:

24 And whoſoever ſhall touch the carcaſes of them, ſhall be defiled, and ſhall be unclean until the evening:

25 And if it be neceſſary that he carry any of theſe things when they are dead, he ſhall waſh his cloaths, and ſhall be unclean until the ſun ſet.

26 Every beaſt that hath a hoof, but divideth it not, nor cheweth the cud, ſhall be unclean: and he that toucheth it, ſhall be defiled.

27 That which walketh upon hands, of all animals which go on all four, ſhall be

CHAP. XI. VER. 2. Animals which you are to eat, &c. The prohibition of ſo many kinds of beaſts, birds and fiſhes in the law, was ordered, 1ſt. to exerciſe the people in obedience, and temperance; 2dly, to reſtrain them from the vices of which theſe animals were ſymbols; 3dly, becauſe the things here forbidden were for the moſt part unwholeſome, and not proper to be eat; 4thly, that the people of God by being obliged to abſtain from things corporally unclean, might be trained up to ſeek a ſpiritual cleanneſs.

VER. 3. Hoof divided, and cheweth the cud. The dividing the hoof, and chewing the cud, ſignify diſcretion between good and evil, and meditating on the law of God: and where either of theſe is wanting, a man is unclean. In like manner fiſhes were reputed unclean that had not fins and ſcales: that is, ſouls that did not raiſe themſelves up by prayer, and cover themſelves with the ſcales of virtues.

VER. 5. The cherogrillus. Some ſuppoſe it to be the rabbit, others the hedge-hog: St. Jerom intimates that it is another kind of animal common in Paleſtine, which lives in the holes of rocks or in the earth. We chuſe here, as alſo in the names of ſeveral other creatures that follow (which are little known in this part of the world), to keep the Greek or Latin names.

VER. 13. The griffon. Not the monſter which the painters repreſent; which hath no being upon earth: but a bird of the eagle kind larger than the common.

unclean: he that ſhall touch their carcaſes ſhall be defiled until evening.

28 And he that ſhall carry ſuch carcaſes, ſhall waſh his cloaths, and ſhall be unclean until evening: becauſe all theſe things are unclean to you.

29 Theſe alſo ſhall be reckoned among unclean things, of all that move upon the earth, the weaſel and the mouſe and the crocodile, every one according to their kind:

30 The ſhrew, and the chameleon, and the ſtello, and the lizard, and the mole:

31 All theſe are unclean. He that toucheth their carcaſes ſhall be unclean until the evening.

32 And upon what thing ſoever any of their carcaſes ſhall fall, it ſhall be defiled, whether it be a veſſel of wood, or a garment, or ſkins or hair-cloths; or any thing in which work is done, they ſhall be dipped in water, and ſhall be unclean until the evening, and ſo afterwards ſhall be clean.

33 But an earthen veſſel, into which any of theſe ſhall fall, ſhall be defiled, and therefore is to be broken.

34 Any meat which you eat, if water from ſuch a veſſel be poured upon it, ſhall be unclean; and every liquor that is drunk out of any ſuch veſſel, ſhall be unclean.

35 And upon whatſoever thing any of theſe dead beaſts ſhall fall, it ſhall be unclean: whether it be oven or pots with feet, they ſhall be deſtroyed and ſhall be unclean.

36 But fountains and ciſterns, and all gatherings together of waters ſhall be clean. He that toucheth their carcaſes ſhall be defiled.

37 If it fall upon ſeed-corn, it ſhall not defile it.

38 But if any man pour water upon the ſeed, and afterwards it be touched by the carcaſes, it ſhall be forthwith defiled.

39 If any beaſt die, of which it is lawful for you to eat, he that toucheth the carcaſe thereof, ſhall be unclean until the evening:

40 And he that eateth or carrieth any thing thereof, ſhall waſh his clothes, and ſhall be unclean until the evening.

41 All that creepeth upon the earth ſhall be abominable, neither ſhall it be taken for meat.

42 Whatſoever goeth upon the breaſt on four feet, or hath many feet, or traileth on the earth, you ſhall not eat, becauſe it is abominable.

43 Do not defile your ſouls, nor touch ought thereof, leſt you be unclean.

‖ 1 Pet. 1. 16. 44 For I am the Lord your God: ‖ be holy, becauſe I am holy. Defile not your ſouls by any creeping thing, that moveth upon the earth.

45 For I am the Lord, who brought you out of the land of Egypt, that I might be your God.

46 You ſhall be holy, becauſe I am holy. This is the law of beaſts and fowls, and of every living creature that moveth in the waters, and creepeth on the earth.

47 That you may know the differences of the clean, and unclean, and know what you ought to eat, and what to refuſe.

CHAP. XII.

The purification of women after child-birth.

AND the Lord ſpoke to Moſes, ſaying: A. M. 2514.

2 Speak to the children of Iſrael, and thou ſhalt ſay to them: ‖ If a woman having received ſeed ſhall bear a man-child, ſhe ſhall be unclean ſeven days, according to the days of the ſeparation of her flowers. ‖ Luke 2. 22.

3 ‖ And on the eighth day the infant ſhall be circumciſed: ‖ John 7. 22.

4 But ſhe ſhall remain three and thirty days in the blood of her purification. She ſhall touch no holy thing, neither ſhall ſhe enter into the ſanctuary, until the days of her purification be fulfilled.

5 But if ſhe ſhall bear a maid-child, ſhe ſhall be unclean two weeks, according to the cuſtom of her monthly courſes, and ſhe ſhall remain in the blood of her purification ſixty-ſix days.

6 And when the days of her purification are expired, for a ſon, or for a daughter, ſhe ſhall bring to the door of the tabernacle of the teſtimony, a lamb of a year old for a holocauſt, and a young pigeon or a turtle for ſin, and ſhall deliver them to the prieſt:

7 Who ſhall offer them before the Lord, and ſhall pray for her, and ſo ſhe ſhall be cleanſed from the iſſue of her blood. This is the law for her that beareth a man-child or a maid-child.

8 And if her hand find not ſufficiency, and ſhe is not able to offer a lamb, ſhe ſhall take two turtles, ‖ or two young pigeons, one for a holocauſt, and another for ſin: and the prieſt ſhall pray for her, and ſo ſhe ſhall be cleanſed. ‖ Supra 5. 7. & 11. Luke 2. 24.

CHAP. XIII.

The law concerning leproſy in men, and in garments.

AND the Lord ſpoke to Moſes and Aaron, ſaying: A. M. 2514.

2 The man, in whoſe ſkin or fleſh ſhall ariſe a different colour or a bliſter, or as it were ſomething ſhining, that is, the ſtroke of the leproſy, ſhall be brought to Aaron the prieſt, or any one of his ſons.

3 And if he ſee the leproſy in his ſkin, and the hair turned white, and the place where the leproſy appears lower than the ſkin and the reſt of the fleſh: it is the ſtroke of the leproſy, and upon his judgment he ſhall be ſeparated.

4 But if there be a ſhining whiteneſs in the ſkin, and not lower than the other fleſh, and the hair be of the former colour, the prieſt ſhall ſhut him up ſeven days.

5 And the ſeventh day he ſhall look on him: and if the leproſy be grown no farther, and hath not ſpread itſelf in the ſkin, he ſhall ſhut him up again other ſeven days.

6 And on the ſeventh day he ſhall look on him: if the leproſy be ſomewhat obſcure, and not ſpread in the ſkin, he ſhall declare him clean, becauſe it is but a ſcab: and the man ſhall waſh his clothes, and ſhall be clean.

7 But if the leproſy grow again, after he was ſeen by the prieſt and reſtored to cleanneſs, he ſhall be brought to him,

8 And ſhall be condemned of uncleanneſs.

9 If the ſtroke of the leproſy be in a man, he ſhall be brought to the prieſt,

10 And he ſhall view him. And when there ſhall be a white colour in the ſkin, and it ſhall have changed the look of the hair, and the living fleſh itſelf ſhall appear:

11 It ſhall be judged an inveterate leproſy, and grown into the ſkin. The prieſt therefore ſhall declare him unclean, and ſhall not ſhut him up, becauſe he is evidently unclean.

12 But if the leproſy ſpring out running about in the ſkin, and cover all the ſkin from the head to the feet, whatſoever falleth under the ſight of the eyes,

13 The prieſt ſhall view him, and ſhall judge that the leproſy which he has is very clean: becauſe it is all turned into whiteneſs, and therefore the man ſhall be clean.

14 But when the live fleſh ſhall appear in him,

15 Then by the judgment of the prieſt he ſhall be defiled, and ſhall be reckoned among the unclean: for live fleſh, if it be ſpotted with leproſy, is unclean.

16 And if again it be turned into whiteneſs, and cover all the man,

17 The prieſt ſhall view him, and ſhall judge him to be clean.

18 When alſo there has been an ulcer in the fleſh and the ſkin, and it has been healed,

19 And in the place of the ulcer, there appeareth a white ſcar, or ſomewhat red, the man ſhall be brought to the prieſt:

20 And when he ſhall ſee the place of the leproſy lower than the other fleſh, and the hair turned white, he ſhall declare him unclean: for the plague of leproſy is broken out in the ulcer.

21 But if the hair be of the former colour, and the ſcar ſomewhat obſcure, and be not lower than the fleſh that is near it, he ſhall ſhut him up ſeven days.

22 And if it ſpread, he ſhall judge him to have the leproſy:

23 But if it ſtay in its place, it is but the ſcar of an ulcer, and the man ſhall be clean.

24 The fleſh alſo and ſkin that hath been burnt, and after it is healed hath a white or a red ſcar,

25 The prieſt ſhall view it, and if he ſee it turned white, and the place thereof is lower than the other ſkin: he ſhall declare him unclean, becauſe the evil of leproſy is broken out in the ſcar.

26 But if the colour of the hair be not changed, nor the blemiſh lower than the other fleſh, and the appearance of the leproſy be ſomewhat obſcure, he ſhall ſhut him up ſeven days,

27 And on the ſeventh day he ſhall view him: if the leproſy be grown farther in the ſkin, he ſhall declare him unclean.

28 But if the whiteneſs ſtay in its place, and be not very clear, it is the ſore of a burning, and therefore he ſhall be cleanſed, becauſe it is only the ſcar of a burning.

29 If the leproſy break out in the head or the beard of a man or a woman, the prieſt ſhall ſee them.

30 And if the place be lower than the other fleſh, and the hair yellow, and thinner than uſual: he ſhall declare them unclean, becauſe it is the leproſy of the head and the beard.

31 But if he perceive the place of the ſpot is equal with the fleſh that is near it, and the hair black: he ſhall ſhut him up ſeven days,

32 And on the ſeventh day he ſhall look upon it. If the ſpot be not grown, and the hair keep its colour, and the place of the blemiſh be even with the other fleſh:

CHAP. XIII. VER. 2. Leproſy. The leproſy was a figure of ſin: and the obſervances preſcribed in this and the following chapter, intimate what ought ſpiritually to be done, in order to be delivered from ſo great an evil, or preſerved from it.

33 The man ſhall be ſhaven all but the place of the ſpot, and he ſhall be ſhut up other ſeven days.

34 If on the ſeventh day the evil ſeem to have ſtaid in its place, and not lower than the other fleſh, he ſhall cleanſe him, and his clothes being waſhed he ſhall be clean.

35 But if after his cleanſing the ſpot ſpread again in the ſkin,

36 He ſhall ſeek no more whether the hair be turned yellow, becauſe he is evidently unclean.

37 But if the ſpot be ſtaid, and the hair be black, let him know that the man is healed, and let him confidently pronounce him clean.

38 If a whiteneſs appear in the ſkin of a man or a woman,

39 The prieſt ſhall view them. If he find that a darkiſh whiteneſs ſhineth in the ſkin, let him know that it is not the leproſy, but a white blemiſh, and that the man is clean.

40 The man whoſe hair falleth off from his head, he is bald and clean:

41 And if the hair fall from his forehead, he is bald before and clean.

42 But if in the bald head or in the bald forehead there be riſen a white or reddiſh colour,

43 And the prieſt perceive this, he ſhall condemn him undoubtedly of leproſy, which is riſen in the bald part.

44 Now whoſoever ſhall be defiled with the leproſy and is ſeparated by the judgment of the prieſt, 45 Shall have his clothes hanging looſe, his head bare, his mouth covered with a cloth, and he ſhall cry out that he is defiled and unclean.

46 All the time that he is a leper and unclean, he ſhall dwell alone without the camp.

47 A woollen or linen garment that ſhall have the leproſy

48 In the warp, and the woof, or a ſkin, or whatſoever is made of a ſkin,

49 If it be infected with a white or red ſpot, it ſhall be accounted the leproſy, and ſhall be ſhewn to the prieſt.

50 And he ſhall look upon it and ſhall ſhut it up ſeven days:

51 And on the ſeventh day when he looketh on it again if he find that it is grown, it is a fixed leproſy: he ſhall judge the garment unclean, and every thing wherein it ſhall be found:

52 And therefore it ſhall be burnt with fire.

53 But if he ſee that it is not grown,

54 He ſhall give orders, and they ſhall waſh that part wherein the leproſy is, and he ſhall ſhut it up other ſeven days.

55 And when he ſhall ſee that the former colour is not returned, nor yet the leproſy ſpread, he ſhall judge it unclean, and ſhall burn it with fire, for the leproſy has taken hold of the outſide of the garment, or through the whole.

56 But if the place of the leproſy be ſomewhat dark, after the garment is waſhed, he ſhall tear it off, and divide it from that which is found.

57 And if after this there appear in thoſe places that before were without ſpot, a flying and wandering leproſy: it muſt be burnt with fire.

58 If it ceaſe, he ſhall waſh with water the parts that are pure, the ſecond time, and they ſhall be clean.

59 This is the law touching the leproſy of any woollen or linen garment, either in the warp or woof, or any thing of ſkins, how it ought to be cleanſed, or pronounced unclean.

CHAP. XIV.

The rites or ſacrifices in cleanſing the leproſy. Leproſy in houſes.

A. M. 2514. AND the Lord ſpoke to Moſes, ſaying:

2 This is the rite of a leper, when he is to be cleanſed: He ſhall be brought to the prieſt:

|| Mat. 8. 4. 3 || Who going out of the camp, when he ſhall find that the leproſy is cleanſed,

|| Mark 1. 44. Luke 5. 14. 4 || Shall command him, that is to be purified, to offer for himſelf two living ſparrows, which it is lawful to eat, and cedar-wood, and ſcarlet and hyſſop.

5 And he ſhall command one of the ſparrows to be immolated in an earthen veſſel over living waters:

6 But the other that is alive he ſhall dip, with the cedar-wood, and the ſcarlet and the hyſſop, in the blood of the ſparrow that is immolated:

7 Wherewith he ſhall ſprinkle him that is to be cleanſed ſeven times, that he may be rightly purified: and he ſhall let go the living ſparrow, that it may fly into the field.

8 And when the man hath waſhed his clothes, he ſhall ſhave all the hair of his body, and ſhall be waſhed with water: and being purified he ſhall enter into the camp, yet ſo that he tarry without his own tent ſeven days:

9 And on the ſeventh day he ſhall ſhave the hair of his head, and his beard and his eye-brows, and the hair of all his body. And having waſhed again his clothes, and his body,

10 On the eighth day he ſhall take two lambs without blemiſh, and an ewe of a year old without blemiſh, and three tenths of flour tempered with oil for a ſacrifice, and a ſextary of oil apart.

11 And when the prieſt that purifieth the man, hath preſented him, and all theſe things before the Lord at the door of the tabernacle of the teſtimony,

12 He ſhall take a lamb, and offer it for a treſpaſs-offering with the ſextary of oil: and having offered all before the Lord,

13 He ſhall immolate the lamb, where the victim for ſin is wont to be immolated, and the holocauſt, that is, in the holy place: for as that which is for ſin, ſo alſo the victim for a treſpaſs-offering pertaineth to the prieſt: it is holy of holies.

14 And the prieſt taking of the blood of the victim that was immolated for treſpaſs, ſhall put it upon the tip of the right ear of him that is cleanſed, and upon the thumb of his right hand and the great toe of his right foot:

15 And he ſhall pour of the ſextary of oil into his own left hand,

16 And ſhall dip his right finger in it, and ſprinkle it before the Lord ſeven times.

17 And the reſt of the oil in his left hand, he ſhall pour upon the tip of the right ear of him that is cleanſed, and upon the thumb of his right hand and the great toe of his right foot, and upon the blood that was ſhed for treſpaſs,

18 And upon his head.

19 And he ſhall pray for him before the Lord, and ſhall offer the ſacrifice for ſin: then ſhall he immolate the holocauſt,

20 And put it on the altar with the libations thereof, and the man ſhall be rightly cleanſed.

21 But if he be poor, and his hand cannot find the things aforeſaid: he ſhall take a lamb for an offering for treſpaſs, that the prieſt may pray for him, and a tenth part of flour tempered with oil for a ſacrifice, and a ſextary of oil,

22 || And two turtles or two young pigeons, of which one may be for ſin, and the other for a holocauſt: || Supra 5. 7. 11. & 12. 8. Luke 2. 24.

23 And he ſhall offer them on the eighth day of his purification to the prieſt, at the door of the tabernacle of the teſtimony before the Lord.

24 And the prieſt receiving the lamb for treſpaſs, and the ſextary of oil, ſhall elevate them together.

25 And the lamb being immolated, he ſhall put of the blood thereof upon the tip of the right ear of him that is cleanſed, and upon the thumb of his right hand and the great toe of his right foot:

26 But he ſhall pour part of the oil into his own left hand,

27 And dipping the finger of his right hand in it, he ſhall ſprinkle it ſeven times before the Lord:

28 And he ſhall touch the tip of the right ear of him that is cleanſed, and the thumb of his right hand and the great toe of his right foot, in the place of the blood that was ſhed for treſpaſs.

29 And the other part of the oil that is in his left hand, he ſhall pour upon the head of the purified perſon, that he may appeaſe the Lord for him.

30 And he ſhall offer a turtle, or young pigeon,

31 One for treſpaſs, and the other for a holocauſt, with their libations.

32 This is the ſacrifice of a leper, that is not able to have all things that appertain to his cleanſing.

VER. 10. A ſextary, Hebr. log: a meaſure of liquids, which was the twelfth part of a hin; and held about as much as ſix eggs.

VER. 14. Taking of the blood, &c. Theſe ceremonies, uſed in the cleanſing of a leper, were myſterious and very ſignificative. The ſprinkling ſeven times with the blood of the little bird, the waſhing himſelf and his clothes, the ſhaving his hair and his beard, ſignify the means which are to be uſed in the reconciliation of a ſinner, and the ſteps by which he is to return to God, viz. by the repeated application of the blood of Chriſt; the waſhing his conſcience with the waters of compunction; and retrenching all vanities and ſuperfluities, by employing all that is over and above what is neceſſary in alms-deeds. The ſin-offering and the holocauſt or burnt-offering, which he was to offer at his cleanſing, ſignify the ſacrifice of a contrite and humble heart, and that of adoration in ſpirit and truth, with gratitude and thankfulneſs, for the forgiveneſs of ſins, with which we are ever to appear before the Almighty. The touching the right ear, the thumb of the right hand, and the great toe of the right foot, firſt with the blood of the victim, and then with the remainder of the oil, which had been ſprinkled ſeven times before the Lord, ſignify the application of the blood of Chriſt, and the unction of the ſevenfold grace of the Holy Ghoſt to the ſinner's right ear, that he may duly hearken to and obey the law of God; and to his right hand and foot, that the works of his hands, and all the ſteps or affections of his ſoul, ſignified by the feet, may be rightly directed to God.

33 And the Lord ſpoke to Moſes and Aaron, ſaying:

34 When you ſhall be come into the land of Chanaan, which I will give you for a poſſeſſion, if there be the plague of leproſy in a houſe,

35 He whoſe houſe it is, ſhall go and tell the prieſt, ſaying: It ſeemeth to me, that there is the plague of leproſy in my houſe.

36 And he ſhall command, that they carry forth all things out of the houſe, before he go into it, and ſee whether it have the leproſy, leſt all things become unclean that are in the houſe. And afterwards he ſhall go in to view the leproſy of the houſe.

37 And if he ſee in the walls thereof as it were little dints, disfigured with paleneſs or redneſs, and lower than all the reſt,

38 He ſhall go out of the door of the houſe, and forthwith ſhut it up ſeven days.

39 And returning on the ſeventh day, he ſhall look upon it. If he find that the leproſy is ſpread,

40 He ſhall command, that the ſtones wherein the leproſy is, be taken out, and caſt without the city into an unclean place:

41 And that the houſe be ſcraped on the inſide round about, and the duſt of the ſcraping be ſcattered without the city into an unclean place:

42 And that other ſtones be laid in the place of them that were taken away, and the houſe be plaſtered with other mortar.

43 But if, after the ſtones be taken out, and the duſt ſcraped off, and it be plaſtered with other earth,

44 The prieſt going in perceive that the leproſy is returned, and the walls full of ſpots, it is a laſting leproſy, and the houſe is unclean:

45 And they ſhall deſtroy it forthwith, and ſhall caſt the ſtones and timber thereof, and all the duſt, without the town into an unclean place.

46 He that entereth into the houſe when it is ſhut, ſhall be unclean until evening.

47 And he that ſleepeth in it, and eateth any thing, ſhall waſh his clothes.

48 But if the prieſt going in perceive that the leproſy is not ſpread in the houſe, after it was plaſtered again, he ſhall purify it, it being cured.

49 And for the purification thereof he ſhall take two ſparrows, and cedar-wood, and ſcarlet and hyſſop:

50 And having immolated one ſparrow in an earthen veſſel over living waters,

51 He ſhall take the cedar-wood, and the hyſſop, and the ſcarlet, and the living ſparrow, and ſhall dip all in the blood of the ſparrow that is immolated, and in the living water, and he ſhall ſprinkle the houſe ſeven times:

52 And ſhall purify it as well with the blood of the ſparrow, as with the living water, and with the living ſparrow, and with the cedar-wood and the hyſſop and the ſcarlet.

53 And when he hath let go the ſparrow to fly freely away into the field, he ſhall pray for the houſe, and it ſhall be rightly cleanſed.

54 This is the law of every kind of leproſy and ſtroke,

55 Of the leproſy of garments and houſes,

56 Of a ſcar and of bliſters breaking out, of a ſhining ſpot, and when the colours are diverſely changed:

57 That it may be known when a thing is clean, or unclean.

CHAP. XV.

Other legal uncleanneſſes.

AND the Lord ſpoke to Moſes and Aaron, ſaying: A. M. 2514.

2 Speak to the children of Iſrael, and ſay to them: The man that hath an iſſue of ſeed, ſhall be unclean.

3 And then ſhall he be judged ſubject to this evil, when a filthy humour, at every moment, cleaveth to his fleſh, and gathereth there.

4 Every bed on which he ſleepeth, ſhall be unclean, and every place on which he ſitteth.

5 If any man touch his bed, he ſhall waſh his clothes: and being waſhed with water, he ſhall be unclean until the evening.

6 If a man ſit where that man hath ſitten, he alſo ſhall waſh his clothes: and being waſhed with water, ſhall be unclean until the evening.

7 He that toucheth his fleſh, ſhall waſh his clothes: and being himſelf waſhed with water ſhall be unclean until the evening.

8 If ſuch a man caſt his ſpittle upon him that is clean, he ſhall waſh his clothes: and being waſhed with water, he ſhall be unclean until the evening.

CHAP. XV. VER. 2. Iſſue of ſeed ſhall be unclean. Theſe legal uncleanneſſes were inſtituted in order to give the people a horror of carnal impurities.

9 The ſaddle on which he hath ſitten ſhall be unclean:

10 And whatſoever has been under him that hath the iſſue of ſeed, ſhall be unclean until the evening. He that carrieth any of theſe things, ſhall waſh his clothes: and being waſhed with water, he ſhall be unclean until the evening.

11 Every perſon whom ſuch a one ſhall touch, not having waſhed his hands before, ſhall waſh his clothes: and being waſhed with water, ſhall be unclean until the evening.

12 If he touch a veſſel of earth, it ſhall be broken: but if a veſſel of wood, it ſhall be waſhed with water.

13 If he who ſuffereth this diſeaſe be healed, he ſhall number ſeven days after his cleanſing, and having waſhed his clothes, and all his body in living water, he ſhall be clean.

14 And on the eighth day he ſhall take two turtles, or two young pigeons, and he ſhall come before the Lord, to the door of tabernacle of the teſtimony, and ſhall give them to the prieſt:

15 Who ſhall offer one for ſin, and the other for a holocauſt: and he ſhall pray for him before the Lord, that he may be cleanſed of the iſſue of his ſeed.

16 The man from whom the ſeed of copulation goeth out, ſhall waſh all his body with water: and he ſhall be unclean until the evening.

17 The garment or ſkin that he weareth, he ſhall waſh with water, and it ſhall be unclean until the evening.

18 The woman, with whom he copulateth, ſhall be waſhed with water and ſhall be unclean until the evening.

19 The woman, who at the return of the month hath her iſſue of blood, ſhall be ſeparated ſeven days.

20 Every one that toucheth her, ſhall be unclean until the evening.

21 And every thing that ſhe ſleepeth on or that ſhe ſitteth on in the days of her ſeparation, ſhall be defiled.

22 He that toucheth her bed ſhall waſh his clothes: and being himſelf waſhed with water, ſhall be unclean until the evening.

23 Whoſoever ſhall touch any veſſel on which ſhe ſitteth, ſhall waſh his clothes: and himſelf being waſhed with water, ſhall be defiled until the evening.

24 If a man copulateth with her in the time of her flowers, he ſhall be unclean ſeven days: and every bed, on which he ſhall ſleep, ſhall be defiled.

25 The woman that hath an iſſue of blood many days out of her ordinary time, or that ceaſeth not to flow after the monthly courſes, as long as ſhe is ſubject to this diſeaſe, ſhall be unclean, in the ſame manner as if ſhe were in her flowers.

26 Every bed on which ſhe ſleepeth, and every veſſel on which ſhe ſitteth, ſhall be defiled.

27 Whoſoever toucheth them ſhall waſh his clothes: and himſelf being waſhed with water, ſhall be unclean until the evening.

28 If the blood ſtop and ceaſe to run, ſhe ſhall count ſeven days of her purification:

29 And on the eighth day ſhe ſhall offer for herſelf to the prieſt, two turtles, or two young pigeons, at the door of the tabernacle of the teſtimony:

30 And he ſhall offer one for ſin, and the other for a holocauſt, and he ſhall pray for her before the Lord, and for the iſſue of her uncleanneſs.

31 You ſhall teach therefore the children of Iſrael, to take heed of uncleanneſs, that they may not die in their filth, when they ſhall have defiled my tabernacle that is among them.

32 This is the law of him that hath the iſſue of ſeed and that is defiled by copulation.

33 And of the woman that is ſeparated in her monthly times, or that hath a continual iſſue of blood, and of the man that ſleepeth with her.

CHAP. XVI. VER. 2. Enter not. No one but the high-prieſt, and he but once a year, could enter into the ſanctuary: to ſignify that no one could enter into the ſanctuary of heaven till Chriſt our high-prieſt opened it by his paſſion. Heb. x. 8.

his head: for theſe are holy veſtments: all which he ſhall put on, after he is waſhed.

5 And he ſhall receive from the whole multitude of the children of Iſrael two buck-goats for ſin, and one ram for a holocauſt.

6 And when he hath offered the calf, and prayed for himſelf, and for his own houſe,

7 He ſhall make the two buck-goats to ſtand before the Lord in the door of the tabernacle of the teſtimony:

8 And caſting lots upon them both, one to be offered to the Lord, and the other to be the emiſſary-goat:

9 That whoſe lot fell to be offered to the Lord, he ſhall offer for ſin:

10 But that whoſe lot was to be the emiſſary-goat, he ſhall preſent alive before the Lord, that he may pour out prayers upon him, and let him go into the wilderneſs.

11 After theſe things are duly celebrated, he ſhall offer the calf, and praying for himſelf and for his own houſe, he ſhall immolate it:

12 And taking the cenſer, which he hath filled with the burning coals of the altar, and taking up with his hand the compounded perfume for incenſe, he ſhall go in within the veil into the holy place:

13 That when the perfumes are put upon the fire, the cloud and vapour thereof may cover the oracle, which is over the teſtimony, and he may not die.

14 He ſhall take alſo of the blood of the calf, and ſprinkle with his finger ſeven times towards the propitiatory to the eaſt.

15 And when he hath killed the buck-goat for the ſin of the people, he ſhall carry in the blood thereof within the veil, as he was commanded to do with the blood of the calf, that he may ſprinkle it over-againſt the oracle,

16 And may expiate the ſanctuary from the uncleanneſs of the children of Iſrael, and from their tranſgreſſions, and all their ſins. According to this rite ſhall he do to the tabernacle of the teſtimony, which is fixed among them in the midſt of the filth of their habitation.

‖ Luke 1. 10. 17 ‖ Let no man be in the tabernacle when the high-prieſt goeth into the ſanctuary, to pray for himſelf and his houſe, and for the whole congregation of Iſrael, until he come out.

18 And when he is come out to the altar that is before the Lord, let him pray for himſelf, and taking the blood of the calf, and of the buck-goat, let him pour it upon the horns thereof round about:

19 And ſprinkling with his finger ſeven times, let him expiate, and ſanctify it from the uncleanneſs of the children of Iſrael.

20 After he hath cleanſed the ſanctuary, and the tabernacle, and the altar, then let him offer the living goat:

21 And putting both hands upon his head, let him confeſs all the iniquities of the children of Iſrael, and all their offences and ſins: and praying that they may light on his head, he ſhall turn him out by a man ready for it, into the deſart.

22 And when the goat hath carried all their iniquities into an uninhabited land, and ſhall be let go into the deſart,

23 Aaron ſhall return into the tabernacle of the teſtimony, and putting off the veſtments, which he had on him before when he entered into the ſanctuary, and leaving them there,

24 He ſhall waſh his fleſh in the holy place, and ſhall put on his own garments. And after that he is come out and hath offered his own holocauſt, and that of the people, he ſhall pray both for himſelf, and for the people:

25 And the fat that is offered for ſins, he ſhall burn upon the altar.

26 But he that hath let go the emiſſary-goat, ſhall waſh his clothes, and his body with water, and ſo ſhall enter into the camp.

27 But the calf and the buck-goat, that were ſacrificed for ſin, and whoſe blood was carried into the ſanctuary, to accompliſh the atonement, they ſhall carry forth without the camp, ‖ and ſhall burn with fire, their ſkins and their fleſh, and their dung: ‖ Heb. 13. 11.

28 And whoſoever burneth them, ſhall waſh his clothes, and fleſh with water, and ſo ſhall enter into the camp.

29 And this ſhall be to you an everlaſting ordinance: ‖ The ſeventh month, the tenth day of the month, you ſhall afflict your ſouls, and ſhall do no work, whether it be ‖ Infra 23. 27. & 28.

VER. 8. The emiſſary-goat: caper emiſſarius, in Greek ἀποπομπαῖος, in Hebrew Azazel. The goat to go off, or as ſome tranſlate it, the ſcape-goat. This goat, on whoſe head the high-prieſt was ordered to pour forth prayers, and to make a general confeſſion of the ſins of the people, laying them all, as it were, on his head; and after that to ſend him away into the wilderneſs, to be devoured by wild beaſts, was a figure of our Saviour, charged with all our ſins, in his paſſion.

VER. 13, 14. The cloud,—The blood, &c. This is to teach us, that if we would go into the ſanctuary of God, we muſt take with us the incenſe of prayer, and the blood, that is, the paſſion of Chriſt. Where alſo note, that the high-prieſt, before he went in to the Holy of Holies, was to waſh his whole body; and then to put on white linen garments; to ſignify the purity and chaſtity with which we are to approach to God.

one of your own country, or a ſtranger that ſojourneth among you.

30 Upon this day ſhall be the expiation for you, and the cleanſing from all your ſins: you ſhall be cleanſed before the Lord.

31 For it is a ſabbath of reſt, and you ſhall afflict your ſouls by a perpetual religion.

32 And the prieſt that is anointed, and whoſe hands are conſecrated to do the office of the prieſthood in his father's ſtead, ſhall make atonement: and he ſhall be veſted with the linen robe and the holy veſtments,

33 And he ſhall expiate the ſanctuary and the tabernacle of the teſtimony and the altar, the prieſts alſo and all the people.

34 And this ſhall be an ordinance for ever, that you pray for the children of Iſrael, and for all their ſins once in a year. He did therefore as the Lord had commanded Moſes.

CHAP. XVII.

No ſacrifices to be offered but at the door of the tabernacle: a prohibition of blood.

A. M. 2514. AND the Lord ſpoke to Moſes, ſaying:

2 Speak to Aaron and his ſons, and to all the children of Iſrael, ſaying to them: This is the word, which the Lord hath commanded, ſaying:

3 Any man whoſoever of the houſe of Iſrael, if he kill an ox, or a ſheep, or a goat, in the camp or without the camp,

4 And offer it not at the door of the tabernacle an oblation to the Lord, ſhall be guilty of blood: as if he had ſhed blood, ſo ſhall he periſh from the midſt of his people.

5 Therefore the children of Iſrael ſhall bring to the prieſt their victims, which they kill in the field, that they may be ſanctified to the Lord before the door of the tabernacle of the teſtimony, and they may ſacrifice them for peace-offerings to the Lord.

6 And the prieſt ſhall pour the blood upon the altar of the Lord, at the door of the tabernacle of the teſtimony, and ſhall burn the fat for a ſweet odour to the Lord.

7 And they ſhall no more ſacrifice their victims to devils, with whom they have committed fornication. It ſhall be an ordinance for ever to them and to their poſterity.

8 And thou ſhalt ſay to them: The man of the houſe of Iſrael, and of the ſtrangers who ſojourn among you, that offereth a holocauſt or a victim,

9 And bringeth it not to the door of the tabernacle of the teſtimony, that it may be offered to the Lord, ſhall periſh from among his people.

10 If any man whoſoever of the houſe of Iſrael, and of the ſtrangers that ſojourn among them, eat blood, I will ſet my face againſt his ſoul, and will cut him off from among his people:

11 Becauſe the life of the fleſh is in the blood: and I have given it to you, that you may make atonement with it upon the altar for your ſouls, and the blood may be for an expiation of the ſoul.

12 Therefore I have ſaid to the children of Iſrael: No ſoul of you, nor of the ſtrangers that ſojourn among you, ſhall eat blood.

13 Any man whoſoever of the children of Iſrael, and of the ſtrangers that ſojourn among you, if by hunting or fowling, he take a wild beaſt or a bird, which is lawful to eat, let him pour out its blood, and cover it with earth.

14 || For the life of all fleſh is in the blood: therefore I ſaid to the children of Iſrael: You ſhall not eat the blood of any fleſh at all, becauſe the life of the fleſh is in the blood, and whoſoever eateth it, ſhall be cut off. || Gen. 9. 4. Supra 7. 26.

15 The ſoul that eateth that which died of itſelf, or has been caught by a beaſt, whether he be one of your own country or a ſtranger, ſhall waſh his clothes and himſelf with water, and ſhall be defiled until the evening: and in this manner he ſhall be made clean.

16 But if he do not waſh his clothes, and his body, he ſhall bear his iniquity.

CHAP. XVIII.

Marriage is prohibited in certain degrees of kindred: and all unnatural luſts.

AND the Lord ſpoke to Moſes, ſaying: A. M. 2514.

2 Speak to the children of Iſrael, and thou ſhalt ſay to them: I am the Lord your God.

3 You ſhall not do according to the cuſtom of the land of Egypt, in which you dwelt:

CHAP. XVII. VER. 3. If he kill, &c. That is, in order to ſacrifice. The law of God forbids ſacrifices to be offered in any other place but at the tabernacle or temple of the Lord: to ſignify that no ſacrifice would be acceptable to God, out of his true temple, the one, holy, catholic, apoſtolic church.

VER. 10. Eat blood. To eat blood was forbidden in the law; partly becauſe God reſerved it to himſelf, to be offered in ſacrifices on the altar, as to the Lord of life and death; and as a figure of the blood of Chriſt; and partly to give men a horror of ſhedding blood. Gen. ix. 4, 5, 6.

neither ſhall you act according to the manner of the country of Chanaan, into which I will bring you, nor ſhall you walk in their ordinances.

4 You ſhall do my judgments, and ſhall obſerve my precepts, and ſhall walk in them. I am the Lord your God.

‖ Ezec. 20. 11. Rom. 10. 5. Gal. 3. 12.

5 ‖ Keep my laws and my judgments, which if a man do, he ſhall live in them. I am the Lord.

6 No man ſhall approach to her that is near of kin to him, to uncover her nakedneſs. I am the Lord.

7 Thou ſhalt not uncover the nakedneſs of thy father, or the nakedneſs of thy mother: ſhe is thy mother, thou ſhalt not uncover her nakedneſs.

8 Thou ſhalt not uncover the nakedneſs of thy father's wife: for it is the nakedneſs of thy father.

9 Thou ſhalt not uncover the nakedneſs of thy ſiſter by father or by mother, whether born at home or abroad.

10 Thou ſhalt not uncover the nakedneſs of thy ſon's daughter, or thy daughter's daughter: becauſe it is thy own nakedneſs.

11 Thou ſhalt not uncover the nakedneſs of thy father's wife's daughter, whom ſhe bore to thy father, and who is thy ſiſter.

12 Thou ſhalt not uncover the nakedneſs of thy father's ſiſter: becauſe ſhe is the fleſh of thy father.

13 Thou ſhalt not uncover the nakedneſs of thy mother's ſiſter: becauſe ſhe is thy mother's fleſh.

14 Thou ſhalt not uncover the nakedneſs of thy father's brother: neither ſhalt thou approach to his wife, who is joined to thee by affinity.

15 Thou ſhalt not uncover the nakedneſs of thy daughter-in-law: becauſe ſhe is thy ſon's wife, neither ſhalt thou diſcover her ſhame.

16 Thou ſhalt not uncover the nakedneſs of thy brother's wife: becauſe it is the nakedneſs of thy brother.

17 Thou ſhalt not uncover the nakedneſs of thy wife, and her daughter. Thou ſhalt not take her ſon's daughter or her daughter's daughter, to diſcover her ſhame: becauſe they are her fleſh, and ſuch copulation is inceſt.

18 Thou ſhalt not take thy wife's ſiſter for a harlot, to rival her, neither ſhalt thou diſcover her nakedneſs, while ſhe is yet living.

19 Thou ſhalt not approach to a woman having her flowers, neither ſhalt thou uncover her nakedneſs.

20 Thou ſhalt not lie with thy neighbour's wife, nor be defiled with mingling of ſeed.

21 ‖ Thou ſhalt not give any of thy ſeed to be conſecrated to the idol Moloch, nor defile the name of thy God: I am the Lord.

‖ Infra 20. 2.

22 Thou ſhalt not lie with mankind as with womankind, becauſe it is an abomination.

23 Thou ſhalt not copulate with any beaſt, neither ſhalt thou be defiled with it. ‖ A woman ſhall not lie down to a beaſt, nor copulate with it: becauſe it is a heinous crime.

‖ Infra 20. 16.

24 Defile not yourſelves with any of theſe things with which all the nations have been defiled, which I will caſt out before you,

25 And with which the land is defiled: the abominations of which I will viſit, that it may vomit out its inhabitants.

26 Keep ye my ordinances and my judgments, and do not any of theſe abominations: neither any of your own nation, nor any ſtranger that ſojourneth among you.

27 For all theſe deteſtable things, the inhabitants of the land have done that were before you, and have defiled it.

28 Beware then leſt in like manner, it vomit you alſo out, if you do the like things, as it vomited out the nation that was before you.

29 Every ſoul that ſhall commit any of theſe abominations, ſhall periſh from the midſt of his people.

30 Keep my commandments. Do not the things which they have done, that have been before you, and be not defiled therein. I am the Lord your God.

CHAP. XIX.

Divers ordinances, partly moral, partly ceremonial or judicial.

3 Let every one fear his father, and his mother. Keep my ſabbaths. I am the Lord your God.

CHAP. XVIII. VER. 23. Becauſe it is a heinous crime. In Hebrew this word heinous crime is expreſſed by the word confuſion, ſignifying the ſhamefulneſs and baſeneſs of this abominable ſin.

5 If ye offer in ſacrifice a peace-offering to the Lord, that he may be favourable,

6 You ſhall eat it on the ſame day it was offered, and the next day: and whatſoever ſhall be left until the third day, you ſhall burn with fire.

21 And for his treſpaſs he ſhall offer a ram to the Lord, at the door of the tabernacle of the teſtimony:

22 And the prieſt ſhall pray for him and for his ſin before the Lord, and he ſhall have mercy on him, and the ſin ſhall be forgiven.

23 When you ſhall be come into the land, and ſhall have planted in it fruit-trees, you ſhall take away the firſt-fruits of them: the fruit that comes forth ſhall be unclean to you, neither ſhall you eat of them.

24 But in the fourth year, all their fruit ſhall be ſanctified, to the praiſe of the Lord.

25 And in the fifth year you ſhall eat the fruits thereof, gathering the increaſe thereof. I am the Lord your God.

26 You ſhall not eat with blood. You ſhall not divine nor obſerve dreams.

Ordinances relating to the prieſts.

A. M. 2514. THE Lord ſaid alſo to Moſes: Speak to the prieſts the ſons of Aaron, and thou ſhalt ſay to them: Let not a prieſt incur an uncleanneſs at the death of his citizens:

2 But only for his kin, ſuch as are near in blood, that is to ſay, for his father and for his mother, and for his ſon, and for his daughter, for his brother alſo,

‖ Supra 19. 29. 7 ‖ They ſhall not take to wife a harlot or a vile proſtitute, nor one that has been put away from her huſband: becauſe they are conſecrated to their God,

9 If the daughter of a prieſt be taken in whoredom, and diſhonour the name of her father, ſhe ſhall be burnt with fire.

10 The high-prieſt, that is to ſay, the prieſt is the greateſt among his brethren, upon whoſe head the oil of unction hath been poured, and whoſe hands have been conſecrated for the prieſthood, and who hath been veſted with the holy veſtments, ſhall not uncover his head, he ſhall not rend his garments:

16 And the Lord ſpoke to Moſes, ſaying:

17 Say to Aaron: Whoſoever of thy ſeed throughout their families, hath a blemiſh, he ſhall not offer bread to his God,

18 Neither ſhall he approach to miniſter to him: If he be blind, if he be lame, if he have a little, or a great, or a crooked noſe,

CHAP. XXI. VER. 1. An uncleanneſs, viz. ſuch as was contracted in laying out the dead body, or touching it; or in going into the houſe, or aſſiſting at the funeral, &c.

VER. 17. A blemiſh. Theſe corporal defects or deformities, which diſqualified the prieſts from officiating in the Old Law, were figures of the vices which prieſts are to beware of in the New Law. St. Gregory, Cura paſtorum.

thoſe things that are conſecrated, and which the children of Iſrael have offered to the Lord, in whom there is uncleanneſs, ſhall periſh before the Lord. I am the Lord.

4 The man of the ſeed of Aaron, that is a leper, or that ſuffereth a running of the ſeed, ſhall not eat of thoſe things that are ſanctified to me, until he be healed. He that toucheth any thing unclean by occaſion of the dead, and he whoſe ſeed goeth from him as in generation,

5 And he that toucheth a creeping thing, or any unclean thing, the touching of which is defiling,

6 Shall be unclean until the evening, and ſhall not eat thoſe things that are ſanctified: but when he hath waſhed his fleſh with water,

7 And the ſun is down, then being purified he ſhall eat of the ſanctified things, becauſe it is his meat.

‖ Supra 17. 5. Exod. 22. 31. Deut. 14. 21. Ezec. 44. 13.

8 ‖ That which dieth of itſelf, and that which was taken by a beaſt, they ſhall not eat, nor be defiled therewith. I am the Lord.

9 Let them keep my precepts, that they may not fall into ſin, and die in the ſanctuary, when they ſhall have defiled it. I am the Lord who ſanctify them.

10 No ſtranger ſhall eat of the ſanctified things: a ſojourner of the prieſts, or a hired ſervant, ſhall not eat of them.

11 But he whom the prieſt hath bought, and he that is his ſervant, born in his houſe, theſe ſhall eat of them.

12 If the daughter of a prieſt be married to any of the people, ſhe ſhall not eat of thoſe things that are ſanctified, nor of the firſt-fruits.

13 But if ſhe be a widow, or divorced, and having no children return to her father's houſe, ſhe ſhall eat of her father's meats, as ſhe was wont to do when ſhe was a maid, no ſtranger hath leave to eat of them.

14 He that eateth of the ſanctified things through ignorance, ſhall add the fifth part with that which he ate, and ſhall give it to the prieſt into the ſanctuary.

15 And they ſhall not profane the ſanctified things of the children of Iſrael, which they offer to the Lord:

16 Leſt perhaps they bear the iniquity of their treſpaſs, when they ſhall have eaten the ſanctified things. I am the Lord who ſanctify them.

17 And the Lord ſpoke to Moſes, ſaying:

18 Speak to Aaron, and to his ſons, and to all the children of Iſrael, and thou ſhalt ſay to them: The man of the houſe of Iſrael, and of the ſtrangers who dwell with you, that offereth his oblation, either paying his vows, or offering of his own accord, whatſoever it be which he preſenteth for a holocauſt of the Lord,

19 To be offered by you, it ſhall be a male without blemiſh of the beeves, or of the ſheep, or of the goats.

20 If it have a blemiſh you ſhall not offer it, neither ſhall it be acceptable.

21 ‖ The man that offereth a victim of peace-offerings to the Lord, either paying his vows, or offering of his own accord, whether of beeves or of ſheep, ſhall offer it without blemiſh, that it may be acceptable: there ſhall be no blemiſh in it.

‖ Deut. 15. 21. Eccli. 35. 14.

22 If it be blind, or broken, or have a ſcar or bliſters, or a ſcab, or a dry ſcurf: you ſhall not offer them to the Lord, nor burn any thing of them upon the Lord's altar.

23 An ox or a ſheep, that hath the ear and the tail cut off, thou mayſt offer voluntarily: but a vow may not be paid with them.

24 You ſhall not offer to the Lord any beaſt that hath the teſticles bruiſed, or cruſhed, or cut and taken away: neither ſhall you do any ſuch thing in your land.

25 You ſhall not offer bread to your God, from the hand of a ſtranger, nor any other thing that he would give: becauſe they are all corrupted, and defiled: you ſhall not receive them.

26 And the Lord ſpoke to Moſes, ſaying:

27 When a bullock, or a ſheep, or a goat, is brought forth, they ſhall be ſeven days under the udder of their dam: but the eighth day, and thenceforth they may be offered to the Lord.

28 Whether it be a cow, or a ſheep, they ſhall not be ſacrificed the ſame day with their young ones.

29 If you immolate a victim for thankſgiving to the Lord, that he may be favourable,

30 You ſhall eat it the ſame day, there ſhall not any of it remain until the morning of the next day. I am the Lord.

31 Keep my commandments, and do them. I am the Lord.

32 Profane not my holy name, that I may be ſanctified in the midſt of the children of Iſrael. I am the Lord who ſanctify you,

33 And who brought you out of the land of Egypt, that I might be your God: I am the Lord.

VER. 19. Without blemiſh. To teach us to aim at perfection in all our offerings and performances.

CHAP. XXIII.

Holy-days to be kept.

A. M. 2514. AND the Lord ſpoke to Moſes, ſaying:

2 Speak to the children of Iſrael, and thou ſhalt ſay to them: Theſe are the feaſts of the Lord, which you ſhall call holy.

3 Six days ſhall ye do work: the ſeventh day becauſe it is the reſt of the ſabbath, ſhall be called holy. You ſhall do no work on that day: it is the ſabbath of the Lord in all your habitations.

4 Theſe alſo are the holy-days of the Lord, which you muſt celebrate in their ſeaſons.

‖ Exod. 12. 18. Num. 28. 16. 5 ‖ The firſt month, the fourteenth day of the month at evening, is the phaſe of the Lord:

6 And the fifteenth day of the ſame month is the ſolemnity of the unleavened bread of the Lord. Seven days ſhall you eat unleavened bread.

7 The firſt day ſhall be moſt ſolemn unto you, and holy: you ſhall do no ſervile work therein:

8 But you ſhall offer ſacrifice in fire to the Lord ſeven days. And the ſeventh day ſhall be more ſolemn, and more holy: and you ſhall do no ſervile work therein.

9 And the Lord ſpoke to Moſes, ſaying:

10 Speak to the children of Iſrael, and thou ſhalt ſay to them: When you ſhall have entered into the land which I will give you, and ſhall reap your corn, you ſhall bring ſheaves of ears, the firſt-fruits of your harveſt, to the prieſt:

11 Who ſhall lift up the ſheaf before the Lord, the next day after the ſabbath, that it may be acceptable for you, and ſhall ſanctify it.

12 And on the ſame day that the ſheaf is conſecrated, a lamb without blemiſh of the firſt year ſhall be killed for a holocauſt of the Lord.

13 And the libations ſhall be offered with it, two tenths of flour tempered with oil, for a burnt-offering of the Lord, and a moſt ſweet odour: libations alſo of wine, the fourth part of a hin.

14 You ſhall not eat either bread, or parched corn, or frumenty of the harveſt, until the day that you ſhall offer thereof to your God. It is a precept for ever throughout your generations, and all your dwellings.

‖ Deut. 16. 9. 15 ‖ You ſhall count therefore from the morrow after the ſabbath, wherein you offered the ſheaf of the firſt-fruits, ſeven full weeks,

16 Even unto the morrow after the ſeventh week be expired, that is to ſay, fifty days, and ſo you ſhall offer a new ſacrifice to the Lord.

17 Out of all your dwellings, two loaves of the firſt-fruits, of two tenths of flour leavened, which you ſhall bake for the firſt-fruits of the Lord.

18 And you ſhall offer with the loaves ſeven lambs without blemiſh of the firſt year, and one calf from the herd, and two rams, and they ſhall be for a holocauſt with their libations, for a moſt ſweet odour to the Lord.

19 You ſhall offer alſo a buck-goat for ſin, and two lambs of the firſt year for ſacrifices of peace-offerings.

20 And when the prieſt hath lifted them up with the loaves of the firſt-fruits before the Lord, they ſhall fall to his uſe.

21 And you ſhall call this day moſt ſolemn, and moſt holy. You ſhall do no ſervile work therein. It ſhall be an everlaſting ordinance in all your dwellings and generations.

‖ Supra 19. 9. 22 ‖ And when you reap the corn of your land, you ſhall not cut it to the very ground: neither ſhall you gather the ears that remain: but you ſhall leave them for the poor and for the ſtrangers. I am the Lord your God.

23 And the Lord ſpoke to Moſes, ſaying:

‖ Num. 29. 1. 24 ‖ Say to the children of Iſrael: The ſeventh month, on the firſt day of the month, you ſhall keep a ſabbath, a memorial, with the ſound of trumpets, and it ſhall be called holy.

25 You ſhall do no ſervile work therein, and you ſhall offer a holocauſt to the Lord.

26 And the Lord ſpoke to Moſes, ſaying:

‖ Supra 16. 29. Num. 29. 7. 27 ‖ Upon the tenth day of this ſeventh month ſhall be the day of atonement, it ſhall be moſt ſolemn, and ſhall be called holy: and you ſhall afflict your ſouls on that day, and ſhall offer a holocauſt to the Lord.

28 You ſhall do no ſervile work in the time of this day: becauſe it is a day of propitiation, that the Lord your God may be merciful unto you.

29 Every ſoul that is not afflicted on this day, ſhall periſh from among his people:

30 And every ſoul that ſhall do any work, the ſame will I deſtroy from among his people.

31 You ſhall do no work therefore on that day: it ſhall be an everlaſting ordinance unto you in all your generations, and dwellings.

32 It is a ſabbath of reſt, and you ſhall afflict your ſouls beginning on the ninth day of the month: from evening until evening you ſhall celebrate your ſabbaths.

33 And the Lord ſpoke to Moſes, ſaying:
34 Say to the children of Iſrael: From the fifteenth day of this ſame ſeventh month, ſhall be kept the feaſt of tabernacles ſeven days to the Lord.
‖ John 7. 37. 35 ‖ The firſt day ſhall be called moſt ſolemn and moſt holy: you ſhall do no ſervile work therein. And ſeven days you ſhall offer holocauſts to the Lord.
36 The eighth day alſo ſhall be moſt ſolemn and moſt holy, and you ſhall offer holocauſts to the Lord: for it is the day of aſſembly and congregation: you ſhall do no ſervile work therein.
37 Theſe are the feaſts of the Lord, which you ſhall call moſt ſolemn and moſt holy, and ſhall offer on them oblations to the Lord, holocauſts and libations according to the rite of every day.
38 Beſides the ſabbaths of the Lord, and your gifts, and thoſe things that you ſhall offer by vow, or which you ſhall give to the Lord voluntarily.
39 So from the fifteenth day of the ſeventh month, when you ſhall have gathered in all the fruits of your land, you ſhall celebrate the feaſt of the Lord ſeven days: on the firſt day and the eighth ſhall be a ſabbath, that is a day of reſt.
40 And you ſhall take to you on the firſt day the fruits of the faireſt tree, and branches of palm trees, and boughs of thick trees, and willows of the brook, and you ſhall rejoice before the Lord your God.
41 And you ſhall keep the ſolemnity thereof ſeven days in the year. It ſhall be an everlaſting ordinance in your generations. In the ſeventh month ſhall you celebrate this feaſt,
42 And you ſhall dwell in bowers ſeven days: every one that is of the race of Iſrael, ſhall dwell in tabernacles:
43 That your poſterity may know, that I made the children of Iſrael to dwell in tabernacles, when I brought them out of the land of Egypt. I am the Lord your God.
44 And Moſes ſpoke concerning the feaſts of the Lord to the children of Iſrael.

CHAP. XXIV.

The oil for the lamps. The loaves of propoſition. The puniſhment of blaſphemy.

A. M. 2514. AND the Lord ſpoke to Moſes, ſaying:
2 Command the children of Iſrael, that they bring unto thee the fineſt and cleareſt oil of olives, to furniſh the lamps continually,
3 Without the veil of the teſtimony in the tabernacle of the covenant. And Aaron ſhall ſet them from evening until morning before the Lord, by a perpetual ſervice and rite in your generations.
4 They ſhall be ſet upon the moſt pure candleſtick before the Lord continually.
5 Thou ſhalt take alſo fine flour, and ſhalt bake twelve loaves thereof, two tenths ſhall be in every loaf:
6 And thou ſhalt ſet them ſix and ſix one againſt another upon the moſt clean table before the Lord:
7 And thou ſhalt put upon them the cleareſt frankincenſe, that the bread may be for a memorial of the oblation of the Lord.
8 Every ſabbath they ſhall be changed before the Lord, being received of the children of Iſrael by an everlaſting covenant:
9 And they ſhall be Aaron's and his ſons, that they may eat them in the holy place: becauſe it is moſt holy of the ſacrifices of the Lord by a perpetual right.
10 And behold there went out the ſon of a woman of Iſrael, whom ſhe had of an Egyptian, among the children of Iſrael, and fell at words in the camp with a man of Iſrael.
11 And when he had blaſphemed the Name, and had curſed it, he was brought to Moſes: (now his mother was called Salumith, the daughter of Dabri of the tribe of Dan:)
12 And they put him into priſon, till they might know what the Lord would command.
13 And the Lord ſpoke to Moſes,
14 Saying: Bring forth the blaſphemer without the camp, and let them that heard him, put their hands upon his head, and let all the people ſtone him.
15 And thou ſhalt ſpeak to the children of Iſrael: The man that curſeth his God, ſhall bear his ſin:
16 And he that blaſphemeth the name of the Lord, dying let him die: all the multitude ſhall ſtone him, whether he be a native or a ſtranger. He that blaſphemeth the name of the Lord, dying let him die.
‖ Exod. 21. 12. 17 ‖ He that ſtriketh, and killeth a man, dying let him die.
18 He that killeth a beaſt, ſhall make it good, that is to ſay, ſhall give beaſt for beaſt.
19 He that giveth a blemiſh to any of his neighbours: as he hath done, ſo ſhall it be done to him:
‖ Exod. 21. 24. Deut. 19. 21. Mat. 5. 38. 20 ‖ Breach for breach, eye for eye, tooth for tooth ſhall he reſtore. What blemiſh he gave, the like ſhall he be compelled to ſuffer.
21 He that ſtriketh a beaſt, ſhall render another. He that ſtriketh a man, ſhall be puniſhed.

22 Let there be equal judgment among you, whether he be a ſtranger, or a native that offends: becauſe I am the Lord your God.

23 And Moſes ſpoke to the children of Iſrael: and they brought forth him that had blaſphemed, without the camp, and they ſtoned him. And the children of Iſrael did as the Lord had commanded Moſes.

CHAP. XXV.

The law of the ſeventh and of the fiftieth year of jubilee.

A. M. 2514. AND the Lord ſpoke to Moſes in mount Sinai, ſaying:

2 Speak to the children of Iſrael, and thou ſhalt ſay to them: When you ſhall have entered into the land which I will give you, obſerve the reſt of the ſabbath to the Lord.

‖ Exod. 23. 10. 3 ‖ Six years thou ſhalt ſow thy field, and ſix years thou ſhalt prune thy vineyard, and ſhalt gather the fruits thereof:

4 But in the ſeventh year there ſhall be a ſabbath to the land, of the reſting of the Lord: thou ſhalt not ſow thy field, nor prune thy vineyard.

5 What the ground ſhall bring forth of itſelf, thou ſhalt not reap: neither ſhalt thou gather the grapes of the firſt-fruits as a vintage: for it is a year of reſt to the land:

6 But they ſhall be unto you for meat, to thee and to thy man-ſervant, to thy maid-ſervant and thy hireling, and to the ſtrangers that ſojourn with thee:

7 All things that grow ſhall be meat to thy beaſts and to thy cattle.

8 Thou ſhalt alſo number to thee ſeven weeks of years, that is to ſay, ſeven times ſeven, which together make forty nine years:

9 And thou ſhalt ſound the trumpet in the ſeventh month, the tenth day of the month, in the time of the expiation in all your land.

10 And thou ſhalt ſanctify the fiftieth year, and ſhalt proclaim remiſſion to all the inhabitants of thy land: for it is the year of jubilee. Every man ſhall return to his poſſeſſion, and every one ſhall go back to his former family:

11 Becauſe it is the jubilee and the fiftieth year. You ſhall not ſow, nor reap the things that grow in the field of their own accord, neither ſhall you gather the firſt-fruits of the vines,

12 Becauſe of the ſanctification of the jubilee: but as they grow you ſhall preſently eat them.

13 In the year of the jubilee all ſhall return to their poſſeſſions.

14 When thou ſhalt ſell any thing to thy neighbour, or ſhalt buy of him, grieve not thy brother: but thou ſhalt buy of him according to the number of years from the jubilee.

15 And he ſhall ſell to thee according to the computation of the fruits.

16 The more years remain after the jubilee, the more ſhall the price increaſe: and the leſs time is counted, ſo much the leſs ſhall the purchaſe coſt. For he ſhall ſell to thee the time of the fruits.

17 Do not afflict your countrymen, but let every one fear his God: becauſe I am the Lord your God.

18 Do my precepts, and keep my judgments, and fulfil them: that you may dwell in the land without any fear,

19 And the ground may yield you its fruits, of which you may eat your fill, fearing no man's invaſion.

20 But if you ſay: What ſhall we eat the ſeventh year, if we ſow not, nor gather our fruits?

21 I will give you my bleſſing the ſixth year, and it ſhall yield the fruits of three years:

22 And the eighth year you ſhall ſow, and ſhall eat of the old fruits, until the ninth year: till new grow up, you ſhall eat the old ſtore.

23 The land alſo ſhall not be ſold for ever: becauſe it is mine, and you are ſtrangers and ſojourners with me.

24 For which cauſe all the country of your poſſeſſion ſhall be under the condition of redemption.

25 If thy brother being impoveriſhed ſell his little poſſeſſion, and his kinſman will, he may redeem what he had ſold.

26 But if he have no kinſman, and he himſelf can find the price to redeem it:

27 The value of the fruits ſhall be counted from that time when he ſold it: and the overplus he ſhall reſtore to the buyer, and ſo ſhall receive his poſſeſſion again.

28 But if his hands find not the means to repay the price, the buyer ſhall have what he bought, until the year of the jubilee. For in that year all that is ſold ſhall return to the owner, and to the ancient poſſeſſor.

CHAP. XXV. VER. 10. Remiſſion. That is, a general releaſe and diſcharge from debts and bondage, and a reinſtating of every man in his former poſſeſſions.

29 He that ſelleth a houſe within the walls of a city, ſhall have the liberty to redeem it, until one year be expired:

30 If he redeem it not, and the whole year be fully out, the buyer ſhall poſſeſs it, and his poſterity for ever, and it cannot be redeemed, not even in the jubilee.

31 But if the houſe be in a village, that hath no walls, it ſhall be ſold according to the ſame law as the fields: if it be not redeemed before, in the jubilee it ſhall return to the owner.

32 The houſes of Levites, which are in cities, may always be redeemed:

33 If they be not redeemed, in the jubilee they ſhall all return to the owners, becauſe the houſes of the cities of the Levites are for their poſſeſſions among the children of Iſrael.

34 But let not their ſuburbs be ſold, becauſe it is a perpetual poſſeſſion.

35 If thy brother be impoveriſhed, and weak of hand, and thou receive him as a ſtranger and ſojourner, and he live with thee,

36 Take not uſury of him nor more than thou gaveſt: fear thy God, that thy brother may live with thee.

37 Thou ſhalt not give him thy money upon uſury, nor exact of him any increaſe of fruits.

38 I am the Lord your God who brought you out of the land of Egypt, that I might give you the land of Chanaan, and might be your God.

39 If thy brother conſtrained by poverty, ſell himſelf to thee, thou ſhalt not oppreſs him with the ſervice of bond-ſervants:

40 But he ſhall be as a hireling, and a ſojourner: he ſhall work with thee until the year of the jubilee,

41 And afterwards he ſhall go out with his children, and ſhall return to his kindred and to the poſſeſſion of his fathers.

42 For they are my ſervants, and I brought them out of the land of Egypt: let them not be ſold as bond-men:

43 Afflict him not by might, but fear thy God.

44 Let your bond-men, and your bond-women, be of the nations that are round about you.

45 And of the ſtrangers that ſojourn among you, or that were born of them in your land, theſe you ſhall have for ſervants:

46 And by right of inheritance ſhall leave them to your poſterity, and ſhall poſſeſs them for ever. But oppreſs not your brethren the children of Iſrael by might.

47 If the hand of a ſtranger or a ſojourner grow ſtrong among you, and thy brother being impoveriſhed ſell himſelf to him, or to any of his race:

48 After the ſale he may be redeemed. He that will of his brethren ſhall redeem him:

49 Either his uncle, or his uncle's ſon, or his kinſman, by blood, or by affinity. But if he himſelf be able alſo, he ſhall redeem himſelf,

50 Counting only the years from the time of his ſelling unto the year of the jubilee: and counting the money, that he was ſold for, according to the number of the years and the reckoning of a hired ſervant.

51 If there be many years that remain until the jubilee, according to them ſhall he alſo repay the price.

52 If few he ſhall make the reckoning with him according to the number of the years, and ſhall repay to the buyer of what remaineth of the years,

53 His wages being allowed for which he ſerved before: he ſhall not afflict him violently in thy ſight.

54 And if by theſe means he cannot be redeemed, in the year of the jubilee he ſhall go out with his children.

55 For the children of Iſrael are my ſervants, whom I brought forth out of the land of Egypt.

CHAP. XXVI.

God's promiſes to them that keep his commandments. And the many puniſhments with which he threatens tranſgreſſors.

I AM the Lord your God: || you ſhall not make to yourſelves any idol or graven thing, neither ſhall you erect pillars, nor ſet up a remarkable ſtone in your land, to adore it: for I am the Lord your God. A. M. 2514. || Exod. 20. 4. Deut. 5. 8. Pſ. 96. 7.

2 Keep my ſabbaths, and reverence my ſanctuary: I am the Lord.

3 † If you walk in my precepts, and keep my commandments, and do them, I will give you rain in due ſeaſons, † Deut. 28. 1.

4 And the ground ſhall bring forth its increaſe, and the trees ſhall be filled with fruit.

5 The threſhing of your harveſt ſhall reach unto the vintage, and the vintage ſhall reach unto the ſowing-time: and you ſhall eat your bread to the full, and dwell in your land without fear.

6 I will give peace in your coaſts: you

ſhall ſleep, and there ſhall be none to make you afraid. I will take away evil beaſts: and the ſword ſhall not paſs through your quarters.

7 You ſhall purſue your enemies, and they ſhall fall before you.

8 Five of yours ſhall purſue a hundred others, and a hundred of you ten thouſand: your enemies ſhall fall before you by the ſword.

9 I will look on you, and make you increaſe: you ſhall be multiplied, and I will eſtabliſh my covenant with you.

10 You ſhall eat the oldeſt of the old ſtore, and, new coming on, you ſhall caſt away the old.

11 I will ſet my tabernacle in the midſt of you, and my ſoul ſhall not caſt you off.

§ 2 Cor. 6. 16. 12 § I will walk among you, and will be your God, and you ſhall be my people.

13 I am the Lord your God: who have brought you out of the land of the Egyptians, that you ſhould not ſerve them, and who have broken the chains of your necks, that you might go upright.

‖ Deut. 28. 15. Malac. 2. 2. 14 ‖ But if you will not hear me, nor do all my commandments,

15 If you deſpiſe my laws, and contemn my judgments ſo as not to do thoſe things which are appointed by me, and to make void my covenant:

16 I alſo will do theſe things to you: I will quickly viſit you with poverty, and burning heat, which ſhall waſte your eyes, and conſume your lives. You ſhall ſow your ſeed in vain, which ſhall be devoured by your enemies.

17 I will ſet my face againſt you, and you ſhall fall down before your enemies, and ſhall be made ſubject to them that hate you, you ſhall flee when no man purſueth you.

18 But if you will not yet for all this obey me, I will chaſtiſe you ſeven times more for your ſins,

19 And I will break the pride of your ſtubbornneſs, and I will make to you the heaven above as iron, and the earth as braſs:

20 Your labour ſhall be ſpent in vain, the ground ſhall not bring forth her increaſe, nor the trees yield their fruit.

21 If you walk contrary to me, and will not hearken to me, I will bring ſeven times more plagues upon you for your ſins:

22 And I will ſend in upon you the beaſts of the field, to deſtroy you, and your cattle, and make you few in number, and that your highways may be deſolate.

23 And if even ſo you will not amend, but will walk contrary to me:

24 I alſo will walk contrary to you, and will ſtrike you ſeven times for your ſins.

25 And I will bring in upon you the ſword that ſhall avenge my covenant. And when you ſhall flee into the cities, I will ſend the peſtilence in the midſt of you, and you ſhall be delivered into the hands of your enemies,

26 After I ſhall have broken the ſtaff of your bread: ſo that ten women ſhall bake your bread in one oven, and give it out by weight: and you ſhall eat, and ſhall not be filled.

27 But if you will not for all this hearken to me, but will walk againſt me:

28 I will alſo go againſt you with oppoſite fury, and I will chaſtiſe you with ſeven plagues for your ſins,

29 So that you ſhall eat the fleſh of your ſons and of your daughters.

30 I will deſtroy your high places, and break your idols. You ſhall fall among the ruins of your idols, and my ſoul ſhall abhor you,

31 Inſomuch that I will bring your cities to be a wilderneſs, and I will make your ſanctuaries deſolate, and will receive no more your ſweet odours.

32 And I will deſtroy your land, and your enemies ſhall be aſtoniſhed at it, when they ſhall be the inhabitants thereof.

33 And I will ſcatter you among the gentiles, and I will draw out the ſword after you, and your land ſhall be deſart, and your cities deſtroyed.

34 Then ſhall the land enjoy her ſabbaths all the days of her deſolation: when you ſhall be 35 In the enemies land, ſhe ſhall keep a ſabbath, and reſt in the ſabbaths of her deſolation, becauſe ſhe did not reſt in your ſabbaths when you dwelt therein.

36 And as to them that ſhall remain of you, I will ſend fear in their hearts in the countries of their enemies, the ſound of a flying leaf ſhall terrify them, and they ſhall flee as it were from the ſword: they ſhall fall, when no man purſueth them,

37 And they ſhall every one fall upon their brethren, as fleeing from wars, none of you ſhall dare to reſiſt your enemies.

38 You ſhall periſh among the gentiles, and an enemy's land ſhall conſume you.

39 And if of them alſo ſome remain, they ſhall pine away in their iniquities, in the land of their enemies, and they ſhall be afflicted for the ſins of their fathers, and their own:

40 Until they confeſs their iniquities and the iniquities of their anceſtors, whereby they have tranſgreſſed againſt me, and walked contrary unto me.

41 Therefore I alſo will walk againſt them, and bring them into their enemies land, until their uncircumciſed mind be aſhamed: then ſhall they pray for their ſins.

42 And I will remember my covenant, that I made with Jacob, and Iſaac, and Abraham. I will remember alſo the land:

43 Which when ſhe ſhall be left by them, ſhall enjoy her ſabbaths, being deſolate for them. But they ſhall pray for their ſins, becauſe they rejected my judgments, and deſpiſed my laws.

44 And yet for all that when they were in the land of their enemies, I did not caſt them off altogether, neither did I ſo deſpiſe them that they ſhould be quite conſumed, and I ſhould make void my covenant with them. For I am the Lord their God.

45 And I will remember my former covenant, when I brought them out of the land of Egypt, in the ſight of the gentiles, to be their God. I am the Lord. Theſe are the judgments, and precepts, and laws, which the Lord gave between him and the children of Iſrael in mount Sinai by the hand of Moſes.

CHAP. XXVII.

Of vows, and tithes.

A. M. 2514. AND the Lord ſpoke to Moſes, ſaying:

2 Speak to the children of Iſrael, and thou ſhalt ſay to them: The man that ſhall have made a vow, and promiſed his ſoul to God, ſhall give the price according to eſtimation.

3 If it be a man from twenty years old unto ſixty years old, he ſhall give fifty ſicles of ſilver, after the weight of the ſanctuary:

4 If a woman, thirty.

5 But from the fifth year until the twentieth, a man ſhall give twenty ſicles: a woman ten.

6 From one month until the fifth year, for a male ſhall be given five ſicles: for a female three.

7 A man that is ſixty years old or upwards, ſhall give fifteen ſicles: a woman ten.

8 If he be poor, and not able to pay the eſtimation, he ſhall ſtand before the prieſt: and as much as he ſhall value him at, and ſee him able to pay, ſo much ſhall he give.

9 But a beaſt, that may be ſacrificed to the Lord, if any one ſhall vow, ſhall be holy,

10 And cannot be changed, that is to ſay, neither a better for a worſe, nor a worſe for a better. And if he ſhall change it: both that which was changed, and that for which it was changed, ſhall be conſecrated to the Lord.

11 An unclean beaſt, which cannot be ſacrificed to the Lord, if any man ſhall vow, ſhall be brought before the prieſt:

12 Who judging whether it be good or bad, ſhall ſet the price:

13 Which if he that offereth it will give, he ſhall add above the eſtimation the fifth part.

14 If a man ſhall vow his houſe, and ſanctify it to the Lord, the prieſt ſhall conſider it, whether it be good or bad, and it ſhall be ſold according to the price, which he ſhall appoint.

15 But if he that vowed, will redeem it, he ſhall give the fifth part of the eſtimation over and above, and ſhall have the houſe.

16 And if he vow the field of his poſſeſſion, and conſecrate it to the Lord, the price ſhall be rated according to the meaſure of the ſeed. If the ground be ſowed with thirty buſhels of barley, let it be ſold for fifty ſicles of ſilver.

17 If he vow his field immediately from the year of jubilee that is beginning, as much as it may be worth, at ſo much it ſhall be rated.

18 But if ſome time after: the prieſt ſhall reckon the money according to the number of years that remain until the jubilee, and the price ſhall be abated.

19 And if he that had vowed, will redeem his field, he ſhall add the fifth part of the money of the eſtimation, and ſhall poſſeſs it.

20 And if he will not redeem it, but it be ſold to any other man, he that vowed it, may not redeem it any more:

21 For when the day of jubilee cometh, it ſhall be ſanctified to the Lord, and as a poſſeſſion conſecrated pertaineth to the right of the prieſts.

22 If a field that was bought, and not of a man's anceſtors poſſeſſion, be ſanctified to the Lord,

23 The prieſt ſhall reckon the price according to the number of years: unto the jubilee: and he that had vowed, ſhall give that to the Lord.

24 But in the jubilee, it ſhall return to the former owner, who had ſold it, and had it in the lot of his poſſeſſion.

25 All eſtimation ſhall be made according to the ſicle of the ſanctuary. ‖ A ſicle hath twenty obols. ‖ Exod. 30. 13. Num. 3. 47. Ezech. 45. 12.

26 The firſt-born, which belong to the Lord, no man may ſanctify and vow: whether it be bullock, or ſheep, they are the Lord's.

27 And if it be an unclean beaſt, he that offereth it ſhall redeem it, according to thy eſtimation, and ſhall add the fifth part of the price. If he will not redeem it, it ſhall be ſold to another for how much ſoever it was eſtimated by thee.

‖ Joſ. 6. 17. & 25. 28 ‖ Any thing that is devoted to the Lord, whether it be man, or beaſt, or field, ſhall not be ſold, neither may it be redeemed. Whatſoever is once conſecrated ſhall be holy of holies to the Lord.

29 And any conſecration that is offered by man, ſhall not be redeemed, but dying ſhall die.

30 All tithes of the land, whether of corn, or of the fruits of trees, are the Lord's, and are ſanctified to him.

31 And if any man will redeem his tithes, he ſhall add the fifth part of them.

32 Of all the tithes of oxen, and ſheep, and goats, that paſs under the ſhepherd's rod, every tenth that cometh ſhall be ſanctified to the Lord.

33 It ſhall not be choſen neither good nor bad, neither ſhall it be changed for another. If any man change it: both that which was changed, and that for which it was changed, ſhall be ſanctified to the Lord, and ſhall not be redeemed.

34 Theſe are the precepts which the Lord commanded Moſes for the children of Iſrael in mount Sinai.

THE BOOK OF NUMBERS.

This fourth book of Moſes is called NUMBERS, becauſe it begins with the numbering of the people. The Hebrews from its firſt words call it VAIEDABBER. It contains the tranſactions of the Iſraelites from the ſecond month of the ſecond year after their going out of Egypt, until the beginning of the eleventh month of the fortieth year, that is a hiſtory almoſt of thirty-nine years.

18 And aſſembled them on the firſt day of the ſecond month, reckoning them up by the kindreds, and houſes, and families, and heads, and names of every one from twenty years old and upward,

19 As the Lord had commanded Moſes. And they were numbered in the deſart of Sinai.

20 Of Ruben the eldeſt ſon of Iſrael, by their generations and families and houſes, and names of every head, all that were of the male ſex, from twenty years old and upward, that were able to go forth to war,

21 Were forty ſix thouſand five hundred.

22 Of the ſons of Simeon by their generations and families, and houſes of their kindreds, were reckoned up by the names and heads of every one, all that were of the male ſex, from twenty years old and upward, that were able to go forth to war,

43 Fifty three thouſand four hundred.

44 Theſe are they who were numbered by Moſes and Aaron, and the twelve princes of Iſrael, every one by the houſes of their kindreds.

45 And the whole number of the children of Iſrael by their houſes and families, from twenty years old and upward, that were able to go to war,

46 Were ſix hundred and three thouſand five hundred and fifty men.

47 But the Levites in the tribes of their families were not numbered with them.

48 And the Lord ſpoke to Moſes, ſaying:

49 Number not the tribe of Levi, neither ſhalt thou put down the ſum of them with the children of Iſrael:

50 But appoint them over the tabernacle of the teſtimony, and all the veſſels thereof, and whatſoever pertaineth to the ceremonies. They ſhall carry the tabernacle and all the furniture thereof: and they ſhall miniſter, and ſhall encamp round about the tabernacle.

51 When you are to go forward, the Levites ſhall take down the tabernacle: when you are to camp, they ſhall ſet it up. What ſtranger ſoever cometh to it, ſhall be ſlain.

52 And the children of Iſrael ſhall camp every man by his troops and bands and army.

53 But the Levites ſhall pitch their tents round about the tabernacle, leſt there come indignation upon the multitude of the children of Iſrael, and they ſhall keep watch, and guard the tabernacle of the teſtimony.

54 And the children of Iſrael did according to all things which the Lord had commanded Moſes.

CHAP. II.

The order of the tribes in their camp.

A. M. 2514. Ante C. 1490. AND the Lord ſpoke to Moſes and Aaron, ſaying:

2 All the children of Iſrael ſhall camp by their troops, enſigns, and ſtandards, and the houſes of their kindreds, round about the tabernacle of the covenant.

3 On the eaſt Juda ſhall pitch his tents by the bands of his army: and the prince of his ſons ſhall be Nahaſſon the ſon of Aminadab.

4 And the whole ſum of the fighting men of his ſtock, were ſeventy four thouſand ſix hundred.

5 Next unto him they of the tribe of Iſſachar encamped, whoſe prince was Nathanael, the ſon of Suar.

6 And the whole number of his fighting men were fifty four thouſand four hundred.

17 And the tabernacle of the teſtimony ſhall be carried by the offices of the Levites and their troops. As it ſhall be ſet up, ſo ſhall it be taken down. Every one ſhall march according to their places, and ranks.

18 On the weſt ſide ſhall be the camp of the ſons of Ephraim, whoſe prince was Eliſama the ſon of Ammiud.

19 The whole army of his fighting men, that were numbered, were forty thouſand five hundred.

20 And with them the tribe of the ſons of Manaſſes, whoſe prince was Gamaliel the ſon of Phadaſſur.

21 And the whole army of his fighting men, that were numbered, were thirty two thouſand two hundred.

22 In the tribe of the ſons of Benjamin the prince was Abidan the ſon of Gedeon.

24 All that were numbered in the camp of Ephraim, were a hundred and eight thouſand one hundred by their troops: they ſhall march in the third place.

32 This is the number of the children of Iſrael, of their army divided according to the houſes of their kindreds and their troops, ſix hundred and three thouſand five hundred and fifty.

33 And the Levites were not numbered among the children of Iſrael: for ſo the Lord had commanded Moſes.

34 And the children of Iſrael did according to all things that the Lord had commanded. They camped by their troops, and marched by the families and houſes of their fathers.

CHAP. III.

The Levites are numbered and their offices diſtinguiſhed. They are taken in the place of the firſt-born of the children of Iſrael.

THESE are the generations of Aaron and Moſes in the day that the Lord ſpoke to Moſes in mount Sinai.

‖ Exod. 6. 23. 2 ‖ And theſe the names of the ſons of Aaron: his firſt-born Nadab, then Abiu, and Eleazar, and Ithamar.

3 Theſe the names of the ſons of Aaron the prieſts that were anointed, and whoſe hands were filled and conſecrated, to do the functions of prieſthood.

‖ Lev. 10. 1 & 2. 1 Par. 24. 2. 4 ‖ Now Nadab and Abiu died, without children, when they offered ſtrange fire before the Lord, in the deſart of Sinai: and Eleazar and Ithamar performed the prieſtly office in the preſence of Aaron their father.

5 And the Lord ſpoke to Moſes, ſaying:

6 Bring the tribe of Levi, and make them ſtand in the ſight of Aaron the prieſt to miniſter to him, and let them watch,

7 And obſerve whatſoever appertaineth to the ſervice of the multitude before the tabernacle of the teſtimony,

8 And let them keep the veſſels of the tabernacle, ſerving in the miniſtry thereof.

9 And thou ſhalt give the Levites for a gift,

10 To Aaron and to his ſons, to whom they are delivered by the children of Iſrael. But thou ſhalt appoint Aaron and his ſons over the ſervice of prieſthood. The ſtranger that approacheth to miniſter, ſhall be put to death.

11 And the Lord ſpoke to Moſes, ſaying:

12 I have taken the Levites from the children of Iſrael, for every firſt-born that openeth the womb among the children of Iſrael, and the Levites ſhall be mine.

‖ Exod. 13. 2. Infra 8. 16. 13 ‖ For every firſt-born is mine: ſince I ſtruck the firſt-born in the land of Egypt: I have ſanctified to myſelf whatſoever is firſt-born in Iſrael both of man and beaſt, they are mine: I am the Lord.

14 And the Lord ſpoke to Moſes in the deſart of Sinai, ſaying:

15 Number the ſons of Levi by the houſes of their fathers and their families, every male from one month and upward.

16 Moſes numbered them as the Lord had commanded.

17 ‖ And there were found ſons of Levi by their names, Gerſon and Caath and Merari. ‖ Exod. 6 16.

18 The ſons of Gerſon: Lebni and Semei.

19 The ſons of Caath: Amram, and Jeſaar, Hebron and Oziel:

20 The ſons of Merari: Moholi and Muſi.

21 Of Gerſon were two families, the Lebnites, and the Semeites:

22 Of which were numbered, people of the male ſex from one month and upward, ſeven thouſand five hundred.

23 Theſe ſhall pitch behind the tabernacle on the weſt,

24 Under their prince Eliaſaph the ſon of Lael.

25 And their charge ſhall be in the tabernacle of the covenant:

26 The tabernacle itſelf and the cover thereof, the hanging that is drawn before the doors of the tabernacle of the covenant, and the curtains of the court: the hanging alſo that is hanged in the entry of the court of the tabernacle, and whatſoever belongeth to the rite of the altar, the cords of the tabernacle, and all the furniture thereof.

27 Of the kindred of Caath come the families of the Amramites and Jeſaarites and Hebronites and Ozielites. Theſe are the families of the Caathites reckoned up by their names:

28 All of the male ſex from one month and upward, eight thouſand ſix hundred: they ſhall have the guard of the ſanctuary,

29 And ſhall camp on the ſouth ſide.

30 And their prince ſhall be Eliſaphan the ſon of Oziel:

31 And they ſhall keep the ark, and the table and the candleſtick, the altars, and the veſſels of the ſanctuary, wherewith they miniſter, and the veil, and all the furniture of this kind.

32 And the prince of the princes of the Levites, Eleazar, the ſon of Aaron the prieſt, ſhall be over them that watch for the guard of the ſanctuary.

33 And of Merari are the families of the Moholites, and Muſites, reckoned up by their names:

34 All of the male kind from one month and upward, ſix thouſand two hundred.

35 Their prince Suriel the ſon of Abihaiel: they ſhall camp on the north ſide.

36 Under their cuſtody ſhall be the boards of the tabernacle, and the bars, and the pillars and their ſockets, and all things that pertain to this kind of ſervice:

37 And the pillars of the court round about with their ſockets, and the pins with their cords.

38 Before the tabernacle of the covenant, that is to say, on the east side, shall Moses and Aaron camp, with their sons, having the custody of the sanctuary, in the midst of the children of Israel. What stranger soever cometh unto it, shall be put to death.

* A. M. 2514. Ante C. 1490. 39 All the Levites, that * Moses and Aaron numbered according to the precept of the Lord, by their families, of the male kind from one month and upward, were twenty two thousand.

40 And the Lord said to Moses: Number the first-born of the male sex of the children of Israel, from one month and upward, and thou shalt take the sum of them.

41 And thou shalt take the Levites to me for all the first-born of the children of Israel, I am the Lord: and their cattle for all the first-born of the cattle of the children of Israel:

42 Moses reckoned up, as the Lord had commanded, the first-born of the children of Israel:

43 And the males by their names, from one month and upward, were twenty two thousand two hundred and seventy three.

44 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying:

45 Take the Levites for the first-born of the children of Israel, and the cattle of the Levites for their cattle, and the Levites shall be mine. I am the Lord.

46 But for the price of the two hundred and seventy three, of the first-born of the children of Israel, that exceed the number of the Levites, 47 Thou shalt take five sicles for every head, according to the weight of the sanctuary. ‖ A sicle hath twenty obols.

‖ Exod. 30. 13. Levit. 27. 25.

48 And thou shalt give the money to Aaron and his sons, the price of them that are above.

‖ Infra 18. 16. Ezec. 45. 12.

49 Moses therefore took the money of them that were above, and whom they had redeemed from the Levites,

50 For the first-born of the children of Israel, one thousand three hundred and sixty five sicles, according to the weight of the sanctuary, 51 And gave it to Aaron and his sons, according to the word that the Lord had commanded him.

CHAP. IV.

The age and time of the Levites service: their offices and burdens.

A. M. 2514. AND the Lord spoke to Moses, and Aaron, saying:

2 Take the sum of the sons of Caath from the midst of the Levites, by their houses and families.

3 From thirty years old and upward, to fifty years old, of all that go in to stand and to minister in the tabernacle of the covenant.

4 This is the service of the sons of Caath:

5 When the camp is to set forward, Aaron and his sons shall go into the tabernacle of the covenant, and the holy of holies, and shall take down the veil that hangeth before the door, and shall wrap up the ark of the testimony in it,

6 And shall cover it again with a cover of violet skins, and shall spread over it a cloth all of violet, and shall put in the bars.

7 They shall wrap up also the table of proposition in a cloth of violet, and shall put with it the censers and little mortars, the cups and bowls to pour out the libations: the loaves shall be always on it:

8 And they shall spread over it a cloth of scarlet, which again they shall cover with a covering of violet skins, and shalt put in the bars.

9 They shall take also a cloth of violet wherewith they shall cover the candlestick with the lamps and tongs thereof and the snuffers and all the oil vessels, which are necessary for the dressing of the lamps:

10 And over all they shall put a cover of violet skins and put in the bars.

11 And they shall wrap up the golden altar also in a cloth of violet, and shall spread over it a cover of violet skins, and put in the bars.

12 All the vessels wherewith they minister in the sanctuary, they shall wrap up in a cloth of violet, and shall spread over it a cover of violet skins, and put in the bars.

13 They shall cleanse the altar also from the ashes, and shall wrap it up in a purple cloth,

14 And shall put it with all the vessels that they use in the ministry thereof, that is to say, fire-pans, flesh-hooks and forks, pot-hooks and shovels. They shall cover all the vessels of the altar together with a covering of violet skins, and shall put in the bars.

15 And when Aaron and his sons have wrapped up the sanctuary and the vessels thereof at the removing of the camp, then shall the ‖ sons of Caath enter in to carry the things wrapped up: and they shall not touch the vessels of the sanctuary, lest they die. These are the burdens of the sons of Caath: in the tabernacle of the covenant:

‖ 1 Par. 25. 15.

16 And over them shall be Eleazar the son of Aaron the priest, to whose charge pertaineth the oil to dress the lamps, and the sweet incense, and the sacrifice, that is always offered, and the oil of unction, and whatsoever pertaineth to the service of the tabernacle, and of all the vessels that are in the sanctuary.

17 And the Lord spoke to Moses and Aaron, saying:

18 Destroy not the people of Caath from the midst of the Levites:

19 But do this to them, that they may live, and not die, by touching the holies of holies. Aaron and his sons shall go in, and they shall appoint every man his work, and shall divide the burdens that every man is to carry.

20 Let not others by any curiosity see the things that are in the sanctuary before they be wrapped up, otherwise they shall die.

21 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying:

22 Take the sum of the sons of Gerson also by their houses and families and kindreds,

23 From thirty years old and upward, unto fifty years old. Number them all that go in and minister in the tabernacle of the covenant.

24 This is the office of the family of the Gersonites:

25 To carry the curtains of the tabernacle, and the roof of the covenant the other covering, and the violet covering over all, and the hanging that hangeth in the entry of the tabernacle of the covenant,

26 The curtains of the court, and the veil in the entry that is before the tabernacle. All things that pertain to the altar, the cords, and the vessels of the ministry,

27 The sons of Gerson shall carry, by the commandment of Aaron and his sons: and each man shall know to what burden he must be assigned.

28 This is the service of the family of the Gersonites in the tabernacle of the covenant, and they shall be under the hand of Ithamar the son of Aaron the priest.

29 Thou shalt reckon up the sons of Merari also by the families and houses of their fathers,

30 From thirty years old and upward, unto fifty years old, all that go in to the office of their ministry, and to the service of the covenant of the testimony.

31 These are their burdens: They shall carry the boards of the tabernacle and the bars thereof, the pillars and their sockets,

32 The pillars also of the court round about, with their sockets and pins and cords. They shall receive by account all the vessels and furniture, and so shall carry them.

33 This is the office of the family of the Merarites, and their ministry in the tabernacle of the covenant: and they shall be under the hand of Ithamar the son of Aaron the priest.

34 So Moses and Aaron and the princes of the synagogue reckoned up the sons of Caath by their kindreds and the houses of their fathers,

35 From thirty years old and upward, unto fifty years old, all that go in to the ministry of the tabernacle of the covenant:

36 And they were found two thousand seven hundred and fifty.

37 This is the number of the people of Caath that go in to the tabernacle of the covenant: these did Moses and Aaron number according to the word of the Lord by the hand of Moses.

38 The sons of Gerson also were numbered by the kindreds and houses of their fathers,

39 From thirty years old and upward, unto fifty years old, all that go in to minister in the tabernacle of the covenant:

40 And they were found two thousand six hundred and thirty.

41 This is the people of the Gersonites, whom Moses and Aaron numbered according to the word of the Lord.

42 The sons of Merari also were numbered by the kindreds and houses of their fathers,

43 From thirty years old and upward, unto fifty years old, all that go in to fulfil the rites of the tabernacle of the covenant:

44 And they were found three thousand two hundred.

45 This is the number of the sons of Merari, whom Moses and Aaron reckoned up according to the commandment of the Lord by the hand of Moses.

46 All that were reckoned up of the Levites, and whom Moses and Aaron and the princes of Israel took by name, by the kindreds and houses of their fathers,

47 From thirty years old and upward, unto fifty years old, that go in to the ministry of the tabernacle, and to carry the burdens,

48 Were in all eight thousand five hundred and eighty.

49 Moses reckoned them up according to the word of the Lord, every one according to their office and burdens, as the Lord had commanded him.

CHAP. V.

The unclean are removed out of the camp: confession of sins, and satisfaction: first-fruits and oblations belong to the priests: trial of jealousy.

AND the Lord spoke to Moses, saying: A. M. 2514.

2 Command the children of Iſrael, that they caſt out of the camp every leper, and whoſoever hath an iſſue of ſeed, or is defiled by the dead:

3 Whether it be man or woman, caſt ye them out of the camp, leſt they defile it when I ſhall dwell with you.

4 And the children of Iſrael did ſo, and they caſt them forth without the camp, as the Lord had ſpoken to Moſes.

5 And the Lord ſpoke to Moſes, ſaying:

6 Say to the children of Iſrael: When a man or woman ſhall have committed any of all the ſins that men are wont to commit, and by negligence ſhall have tranſgreſſed the commandment of the Lord, and offended,

7 They ſhall confeſs their ſin, and reſtore the principal itſelf, and the fifth part over and above, to him againſt whom they have ſinned.

8 But if there be no one to receive it, they ſhall give it to the Lord, and it ſhall be the prieſt's, beſides the ram that is offered for expiation, to be an atoning ſacrifice.

9 All the firſt-fruits alſo, which the children of Iſrael offer, belong to the prieſt:

10 And whatſoever is offered into the ſanctuary by every one, and is delivered into the hands of the prieſt, it ſhall be his.

11 And the Lord ſpoke to Moſes, ſaying:

12 Speak to the children of Iſrael, and thou ſhalt ſay to them: The man whoſe wife ſhall have gone aſtray, and contemning her huſband,

13 Shall have ſlept with another man, and her huſband cannot diſcover it, but the adultery is ſecret, and cannot be proved by witneſſes, becauſe ſhe was not found in the adultery:

14 If the ſpirit of jealouſy ſtir up the huſband againſt his wife, who either is defiled, or is charged with falſe ſuſpicion,

15 He ſhall bring her to the prieſt, and ſhall offer an oblation for her, the tenth part of a meaſure of barley meal: he ſhall not pour oil thereon, nor put frankincenſe upon it: becauſe it is a ſacrifice of jealouſy, and an oblation ſearching out adultery.

16 The prieſt therefore ſhall offer it, and ſet it before the Lord.

17 And he ſhall take holy water in an earthen veſſel, and he ſhall caſt a little earth of the pavement of the tabernacle into it.

18 And when the woman ſhall ſtand before the Lord, he ſhall uncover her head, and ſhall put on her hands the ſacrifice of remembrance, and the oblation of jealouſy: and he himſelf ſhall hold the moſt bitter waters, whereon he hath heaped curſes with execration.

19 And he ſhall adjure her, and ſhall ſay: If another man hath not ſlept with thee, and if thou be not defiled by forſaking thy huſband's bed, theſe moſt bitter waters, on which I have heaped curſes, ſhall not hurt thee.

20 But if thou haſt gone aſide from thy huſband, and art defiled, and haſt lien with another man:

21 Theſe curſes ſhall light upon thee: The Lord make thee a curſe, and an example for all among his people: may he make thy thigh to rot, and may thy belly ſwell and burſt aſunder.

22 Let the curſed waters enter into thy belly, and may thy womb ſwell and thy thigh rot. And the woman ſhall anſwer, Amen, amen.

23 And the prieſt ſhall write theſe curſes in a book, and ſhall waſh them out with the moſt bitter waters, upon which he hath heaped the curſes,

24 And he ſhall give them her to drink. And when ſhe hath drunk them up,

25 The prieſt ſhall take from her hand the ſacrifice of jealouſy, and ſhall elevate it before the Lord, and ſhall put it upon the altar: yet ſo as firſt,

26 To take a handful of the ſacrifice of that which is offered, and burn it upon the altar: and ſo give the moſt bitter waters to the woman to drink.

27 And when ſhe hath drunk them, if ſhe be defiled, and having deſpiſed her huſband be guilty of adultery, the malediction ſhall go through her, and her belly ſwelling, her thigh ſhall rot: and the woman ſhall be a curſe, and an example to all the people.

28 But if ſhe be not defiled, ſhe ſhall not be hurt, and ſhall bear children.

29 This is the law of jealouſy. If a woman hath gone aſide from her huſband, and be defiled,

30 And the huſband ſtirred up by the ſpirit of jealouſy bring her before the Lord, and the prieſt do to her according to all things that are here written:

31 The huſband ſhall be blameleſs, and ſhe ſhall bear her iniquity.

CHAP. V. VER. 7. Shall confeſs. This confeſſion and ſatisfaction, ordained in the Old Law, was a figure of the ſacrament of penance.

VER. 14. The ſpirit of jealouſy, &c. This ordinance was deſigned to clear the innocent, and to prevent jealous huſbands from doing miſchief to their wives: as likewiſe to give all a horror of adultery, by puniſhing it in ſo remarkable a manner.

CHAP. VI.

The law of the Nazarites: the form of bleſſing the people.

A. M. 2514. AND the Lord ſpoke to Moſes, ſaying:

2 Speak to the children of Iſrael, and thou ſhalt ſay to them: When a man, or woman, ſhall make a vow to be ſanctified, and will conſecrate themſelves to the Lord:

3 They ſhall abſtain from wine, and from every thing that may make a man drunk. They ſhall not drink vinegar of wine, or of any other drink, nor any thing that is preſſed out of the grape: nor ſhall they eat grapes either freſh or dried.

4 All the days that they are conſecrated to the Lord by vow: they ſhall eat nothing that cometh of the vineyard, from the raiſin even to the kernel.

‖ Judges 13. 5. 5 All the time of his ſeparation ‖ no razor ſhall paſs over his head until the day be fulfilled of his conſecration to the Lord. He ſhall be holy, and ſhall let the hair of his head grow.

6 All the time of his conſecration he ſhall not go in to any dead,

7 Neither ſhall he make himſelf unclean, even for his father, or for his mother, or for his brother, or for his ſiſter, when they die, becauſe the conſecration of his God is upon his head.

8 All the days of his ſeparation he ſhall be holy to the Lord.

9 But if any man die ſuddenly before him, the head of his conſecration ſhall be defiled: and he ſhall ſhave it forthwith on the ſame day of his purification, and again the ſeventh day.

10 And on the eighth day he ſhall bring two turtles, or two young pigeons to the prieſt in the entry of the covenant of the teſtimony,

11 And the prieſt ſhall offer one for ſin, and the other for a holocauſt, and ſhall pray for him, for that he hath ſinned by the dead: and he ſhall ſanctify his head that day:

12 And ſhall conſecrate to the Lord the days of his ſeparation, offering a lamb of one year for ſin: yet ſo that the former days be made void, becauſe his ſanctification was profaned.

13 This is the law of conſecration. When the days which he had determined by vow ſhall be expired, he ſhall bring him to the door of the tabernacle of the covenant,

14 And ſhall offer his oblation to the Lord: one he-lamb of a year old without blemiſh for a holocauſt, and one ewe-lamb of a year old without blemiſh for a ſin-offering, and one ram without blemiſh for a victim of peace-offering,

15 A baſket alſo of unleavened bread, tempered with oil, and wafers without leaven anointed with oil, and the libations of each:

16 And the prieſt ſhall preſent them before the Lord, and ſhall offer both the ſin-offering and the holocauſt.

17 But the ram he ſhall immolate for a ſacrifice of peace-offering to the Lord, offering at the ſame time the baſket of unleavened bread, and the libations that are due by cuſtom.

18 ‖ Then ſhall the hair of the conſecration of the Nazarite, be ſhaved off before the door of the tabernacle of the covenant: and he ſhall take his hair, and lay it upon the fire, which is under the ſacrifice of the peace-offerings. ‖ Acts 21. 24.

19 And ſhall take the boiled ſhoulder of the ram, and one unleavened cake out of the baſket, and one unleavened wafer, and he ſhall deliver them into the hands of the Nazarite, after his head is ſhaven.

20 And receiving them again from him, he ſhall elevate them in the ſight of the Lord: and they being ſanctified ſhall belong to the prieſt, as the breaſt, which was commanded to be ſeparated, and the ſhoulder. After this the Nazarite may drink wine.

21 This is the law of the Nazarite, when he hath vowed his oblation to the Lord in the time of his conſecration, beſides thoſe things which his hand ſhall find, according to that which he had vowed in his mind, ſo ſhall he do for the fulfilling of his ſanctification.

22 And the Lord ſpoke to Moſes, ſaying:

23 Say to Aaron and his ſons: Thus ſhall you bleſs the children of Iſrael, and you ſhall ſay to them:

24 ‖ The Lord bleſs thee, and keep thee. ‖ Eccli. 36. 19.

25 The Lord ſhew his face to thee, and have mercy on thee.

26 The Lord turn his countenance to thee, and give thee peace.

27 And they ſhall invoke my name upon the children of Iſrael, and I will bleſs them.

CHAP. VII.

The offerings of the princes at the dedication of the tabernacle: God ſpeaketh to Moſes from the propitiatory.

AND it came to paſs in the day that Moſes had finiſhed the tabernacle, and ſet it up, and had anointed and ſanctified it with all its veſſels, the altar likewiſe and all the veſſels thereof, Exod. 40. 16.

7 Two waggons and four oxen he gave to the sons of Gerson, according to their necessity.

8 The other four waggons, and eight oxen he gave to the sons of Merari, according to their offices and service, under the hand of Ithamar the son of Aaron the priest.

CHAP. VIII.

The ſeven lamps are placed on the golden candleſtick, to ſhine towards the loaves of propoſition: the ordination of the Levites: and at what age they ſhall ſerve in the tabernacle.

A. M. 2514. Ante C. 1490. AND the Lord ſpoke to Moſes, ſaying:

2 Speak to Aaron, and thou ſhalt ſay to him: When thou ſhalt place the ſeven lamps, let the candleſtick be ſet up on the ſouth ſide. Give orders therefore that the lamps look over-againſt the north, towards the table of the loaves of propoſition, over-againſt that part ſhall they give light, towards which the candleſtick looketh.

3 And Aaron did ſo, and he put the lamps upon the candleſtick, as the Lord had commanded Moſes.

4 Now this was the work of the candleſtick, it was of beaten gold, both the ſhaft in the middle, and all that came out of both ſides of the branches: according to the pattern which the Lord had ſhewn to Moſes, ſo he made the candleſtick.

5 And the Lord ſpoke to Moſes, ſaying:

6 Take the Levites out of the midſt of the children of Iſrael, and thou ſhalt purify them,

7 According to this rite: Let them be ſprinkled with the water of purification, and let them ſhave all the hairs of their fleſh. And when they ſhall have waſhed their garments, and are cleanſed,

8 They ſhall take an ox of the herd, and for the offering thereof fine flour tempered with oil: and thou ſhalt take another ox of the herd for a ſin-offering:

9 And thou ſhalt bring the Levites before the tabernacle of the covenant, calling together all the multitude of the children of Iſrael:

10 And when the Levites are before the Lord, the children of Iſrael ſhall put their hands upon them:

11 And Aaron ſhall offer the Levites, as a gift in the ſight of the Lord from the children of Iſrael, that they may ſerve in his miniſtry.

12 The Levites alſo ſhall put their hands upon the heads of the oxen, of which thou ſhalt ſacrifice one for ſin, and the other for a holocauſt of the Lord, to pray for them.

13 And thou ſhalt ſet the Levites in the ſight of Aaron and of his ſons, and ſhalt conſecrate them being offered to the Lord,

14 And ſhalt ſeparate them from the midſt of the children of Iſrael, to be mine.

15 And afterwards they ſhall enter into the tabernacle of the covenant, to ſerve me. And thus ſhalt thou purify and conſecrate them for an oblation of the Lord: for as a gift they were given me by the children of Iſrael.

16 ‖ I have taken them inſtead of the firſt-born that open every womb in Iſrael, ‖ Exod. 13. 2. Supra 3. 13. Luke 2. 23.

17 For all the firſt-born of the children of Iſrael, both of men and of beaſts, are mine. From the day that I ſlew every firſt-born in the land of Egypt, have I ſanctified them to myſelf:

18 And I have taken the Levites for all the firſt-born of the children of Iſrael:

19 And have delivered them for a gift to Aaron and his ſons out of the midſt of the people, to ſerve me for Iſrael in the tabernacle of the covenant, and to pray for them, leſt there ſhould be a plague among the people, if they ſhould preſume to approach unto my ſanctuary.

20 And Moſes and Aaron and all the multitude of the children of Iſrael did with the Levites all that the Lord had commanded Moſes:

21 And they were purified, and waſhed their garments. And Aaron lifted them up in the ſight of the Lord, and prayed for them,

CHAP. VIII. VER. 7. Let them be ſprinkled with the water of purification. This was the holy water, mixed with the aſhes of the red cow, Numb. xix. appointed for purifying all that were unclean. It was a figure of the blood of Chriſt applied to our ſouls by his holy ſacraments.

22 That being purified they might go into the tabernacle of the covenant to do their ſervices before Aaron and his ſons. As the Lord had commanded Moſes touching the Levites, ſo was it done.

23 And the Lord ſpoke to Moſes, ſaying:

24 This is the law of the Levites: From twenty five years old and upwards, they ſhall go in to miniſter in the tabernacle of the covenant.

25 And when they ſhall have accompliſhed the fiftieth year of their age, they ſhall ceaſe to ſerve:

26 And they ſhall be the miniſters of their brethren in the tabernacle of the covenant, to keep the things that are committed to their care, but not to do the works. Thus ſhalt thou order the Levites touching their charge.

CHAP. IX.

The precept of the paſch is renewed: the unclean and travellers are to obſerve it the ſecond month: the camp is guided by the pillar of the cloud.

A. M. 2514. Ante C. 1490. THE Lord ſpoke to Moſes in the deſart of Sinai, the ſecond year after they were come out of the land of Egypt, in the firſt month, ſaying:

‖ Exod. 12. 3. 2 ‖ Let the children of Iſrael make the phaſe in its due time,

3 The fourteenth day of this month in the evening, according to all the ceremonies and juſtifications thereof.

4 And Moſes commanded the children of Iſrael that they ſhould make the phaſe.

5 And they made it in its proper time: the fourteenth day of the month at evening, in mount Sinai. The children of Iſrael did according to all things that the Lord had commanded Moſes.

6 But behold ſome who were unclean by occaſion of the ſoul of a man, who could not make the phaſe on that day, coming to Moſes and Aaron,

7 Said to them: We are unclean by occaſion of the ſoul of a man. Why are we kept back that we may not offer in its ſeaſon the offering to the Lord among the children of Iſrael?

8 And Moſes anſwered them: Stay that I may conſult the Lord what he will ordain concerning you.

9 And the Lord ſpoke to Moſes, ſaying:

10 Say to the children of Iſrael: The man that ſhall be unclean by occaſion of one that is dead, or ſhall be in a journey afar off in your nation, let him make the phaſe to the Lord.

11 In the ſecond month, on the fourteenth day of the month in the evening, they ſhall eat it with unleavened bread and wild lettuce:

12 They ſhall not leave any thing thereof until morning, ‖ nor break a bone thereof, they ſhall obſerve all the ceremonies of the phaſe. ‖ Exod. 12. 46. John 19. 36.

13 But if any man is clean, and was not on a journey, and did not make the phaſe, that ſoul ſhall be cut off from among his people, becauſe he offered not ſacrifice to the Lord in due ſeaſon: he ſhall bear his ſin.

14 The ſojourner alſo and the ſtranger if they be among you, ſhall make the phaſe to the Lord according to the ceremonies and juſtifications thereof. The ſame ordinance ſhall be with you both for the ſtranger, and for him that was born in the land.

15 ‖ Now on the day that the tabernacle was reared up, a cloud covered it. But from the evening there was over the tabernacle as it were the appearance of fire until the morning. ‖ Exod. 40. 16. Supra 7. 1.

16 So it was always: by day the cloud covered it, and by night as it were the appearance of fire.

17 And when the cloud that covered the tabernacle was taken up, then the children of Iſrael marched forward: and in the place where the cloud ſtood ſtill, there they camped.

18 At the commandment of the Lord they marched, and at his commandment they pitched the tabernacle. ‖ All the days that the cloud abode over the tabernacle, they remained in the ſame place: ‖ 1 Cor. 10. 1.

19 And if it was ſo that it continued over it a long time, the children of Iſrael kept the watches of the Lord, and marched not,

20 For as many days ſoever as the cloud ſtaid over the tabernacle. At the commandment of the Lord they pitched their tents, and at his commandment they took them down.

21 If the cloud tarried from evening until morning, and immediately at break of day left the tabernacle, they marched forward: and if it departed after a day and a night, they took down their tents.

22 But if it remained over the tabernacle for two days or a month or a longer time, the children of Iſrael remained in the ſame place, and marched not: but immediately as soon as it departed, they removed the camp.

CHAP. X.

The silver trumpets and their use. They march from Sinai.

A. M. 2514. AND the Lord spoke to Moses, saying:

2 Make thee two trumpets of beaten silver, wherewith thou mayst call together the multitude when the camp is to be removed.

3 And when thou shalt sound the trumpets, all the multitude shall gather unto thee to the door of the tabernacle of the covenant.

4 If thou sound but once, the princes and the heads of the multitude of Israel shall come to thee.

5 But if the sound of the trumpets be longer and with interruptions, they that are on the east side, shall first go forward.

6 And at the second sounding and like noise of the trumpet, they who lie on the south side shall take up their tents. And after this manner shall the rest do, when the trumpets shall sound for a march.

7 But when the people is to be gathered together, the sound of the trumpets shall be plain, and they shall not make a broken sound.

8 And the sons of Aaron the priests shall sound the trumpets: and this shall be an ordinance for ever in your generations.

9 If you go forth to war out of your land against the enemies that fight against you, you shall sound aloud with the trumpets, and there shall be a remembrance of you before the Lord your God, that you may be delivered out of the hands of your enemies.

10 If at any time you shall have a banquet, and on your festival days, and on the first days of your months, you shall sound the trumpets over the holocausts, and the sacrifices of peace-offerings, that they may be to you for a remembrance of your God. I am the Lord your God.

11 The second year, in the second month, the twentieth day of the month, the cloud was taken up from the tabernacle of the covenant.

12 And the children of Israel marched by their troops from the desart of Sinai, and the cloud rested in the wilderness of Pharan.

13 And the first went forward according to the commandment of the Lord by the hand of Moses.

14 ‖ The sons of Juda by their troops: whose prince was Nahasson the son of Aminadab. ‖ Supra 1. 7.

15 In the tribe of the sons of Issachar, the prince was Nathanael the son of Suar.

16 In the tribe of Zabulon, the prince was Eliab the son of Helon.

17 And the tabernacle was taken down, and the sons of Gerson and Merari set forward, bearing it.

18 And the sons of Ruben also marched, by their troops and ranks, whose prince was Helisur the son of Sedeur.

19 And in the tribe of Simeon, the prince was Salamiel the son of Surisaddai.

20 And in the tribe of Gad, the prince was Eliasaph the son of Duel.

21 Then the Caathites also marched carrying the sanctuary. So long was the tabernacle carried, till they came to the place of setting it up.

22 The sons of Ephraim also moved their camp by their troops, in whose army the prince was Elisama the son of Ammiud.

23 And in the tribe of the sons of Manasses, the prince was Gamaliel the son of Phadassur.

24 And in the tribe of Benjamin, the prince was Abidan the son of Gedeon.

25 The last of all the camp marched the sons of Dan by their troops, in whose army the prince was Ahiezer the son of Ammisaddai.

26 And in the tribe of the sons of Aser, the prince was Phegiel the son of Ochran.

27 And in the tribe of the sons of Nephtali, the prince was Ahira the son of Enan.

28 This was the order of the camps, and marches of the children of Israel by their troops, when they set forward.

29 And Moses said to Hobab the son of Raguel the Madianite, his kinsman: We are going towards the place which the Lord will give us: come with us, that we may do thee good: for the Lord hath promised good things to Israel.

30 But he answered him: I will not go with thee, but I will return to my ‖ country, wherein I was born. ‖ Exod. 18. 27.

31 And he said: Do not leave us: for thou knowest in what places we should encamp in the wilderness, and thou shalt be our guide.

32 And if thou comest with us, we will give thee what is the best of the riches, which the Lord shall deliver to us.

33 So they marched from the mount of the Lord three days journey, and the ark of the covenant of the Lord went before them, for three days providing a place for the camp.

34 The cloud also of the Lord was over them by day when they marched.

35 And when the ark was lifted up, Moses
‖ Ps. 67. 2. said: ‖ Arise, O Lord, and let thy enemies be scattered, and let them that hate thee, flee from before thy face.

36 And when it was set down, he said: Return, O Lord, to the multitude of the host of Israel.

CHAP. XI.

The people murmur, and are punished with fire. God appointeth seventy ancients for assistants to Moses. They prophesy. The people have their fill of flesh, but forthwith many die of the plague.

A. M. 2514. IN the mean time there arose a ‖ murmuring of the people against the Lord, as it ‖ Infra 33. 16. were repining at their fatigue. And when
Ps. 77. 19. the Lord heard it he was angry. † And the 1 Cor. 10. 10. fire of the Lord being kindled against them,
† Ps. 77. 21. devoured them that were at the uttermost part of the camp.

2 And when the people cried to Moses, Moses prayed to the Lord, and the fire was swallowed up.

3 And he called the name of that place, The burning: for that the fire of the Lord had been kindled against them.

4 For a mixt multitude of people, that came up with them, burned with desire, sitting and weeping, the children of Israel
‖ 1 Cor. 10. 3. also being joined with them, and said: ‖ Who shall give us flesh to eat?

5 We remember the fish that we ate in Egypt free-cost: the cucumbers come into our mind, and the melons, and the leeks, and the onions, and the garlic.

6 Our soul is dry, our eyes behold nothing else but manna.

‖ Exod. 16. 14. Ps. 77. 24. Wisd. 16. 20. John 6. 31. 7 ‖ Now the manna was like coriander-seed, of the colour of bdellium.

8 And the people went about, and gathering it, ground it in a mill, or beat it in a mortar, and boiled it in a pot, and made cakes thereof of the taste of bread tempered with oil.

9 And when the dew fell in the night upon the camp, the manna also fell with it.

10 Now Moses heard the people weeping by their families, every one at the door of his tent. And the wrath of the Lord was exceedingly enkindled: to Moses also the thing seemed insupportable.

11 And he said to the Lord: Why hast thou afflicted thy servant? wherefore do I not find favour before thee? and why hast thou laid the weight of all this people upon me?

12 Have I conceived all this multitude, or begotten them, that thou shouldst say to me: Carry them in thy bosom as the nurse is wont to carry the little infant, and bear them into the land, for which thou hast sworn to their fathers?

13 Whence should I have flesh to give to so great a multitude? they weep against me, saying: Give us flesh that we may eat.

14 I am not able alone to bear all this people, because it is too heavy for me.

15 But if it seem unto thee otherwise, I beseech thee to kill me, and let me find grace in thy eyes, that I be not afflicted with so great evils.

16 And the Lord said to Moses: Gather unto me seventy men of the ancients of Israel, whom thou knowest to be ancients and masters of the people: and thou shalt bring them to the door of the tabernacle of the covenant, and shalt make them stand there with thee,

17 That I may come down and speak with thee: and I will take of thy spirit, and will give to them, that they may bear with thee the burden of the people, and thou mayst not be burthened alone.

18 And thou shalt say to the people: Be ye sanctified: to-morrow you shall eat flesh: for I have heard you say: Who will give us flesh to eat? it was well with us in Egypt. That the Lord may give you flesh, and you may eat:

19 Not for one day, nor two, nor five, nor ten, no nor for twenty.

20 But even for a month of days, till it come out at your nostrils, and become loathsome to you, because you have cast off the Lord, who is in the midst of you, and have wept before him, saying: Why came we out of Egypt?

21 And Moses said: There are six hundred thousand footmen of this people, and sayest thou: I will give them flesh to eat a whole month?

CHAP. XI. VER. 3. The burning. Hebrew Taberah.

VER. 4. A mixt multitude. These were people that came with them out of Egypt, who were not of the race of Israel: who, by their murmuring, drew also the children of Israel to murmur: this should teach us the danger of associating ourselves with the children of Egypt, that is, with the lovers and admirers of this wicked world.

VER. 7. Bdellium. Bdellium, according to Pliny, l. 21. c. 9. was of the colour of a man's nail, white and bright.

VER. 16. Seventy men. This was the first institution of the council or senate, called the Sanhedrim, consisting of seventy or seventy-two senators or counsellors.

‖ John 6. 10. 22 ‖ Shall then a multitude of ſheep and oxen be killed, that it may ſuffice for their food? or ſhall the fiſhes of the ſea be gathered together to fill them?

‖ Iſai. 59. 1. 23 And the Lord anſwered him: ‖ Is the hand of the Lord unable? Thou ſhalt preſently ſee whether my word ſhall come to paſs or no.

24 Moſes therefore came, and told the people the words of the Lord, and aſſembled ſeventy men of the ancients of Iſrael, and made them to ſtand about the tabernacle.

25 And the Lord came down in a cloud, and ſpoke to him, taking away of the ſpirit that was in Moſes, and giving to the ſeventy men. And when the ſpirit had reſted on them they propheſied, nor did they ceaſe afterwards.

26 Now there remained in the camp two of the men, of whom one was called Eldad, and the other Medad, upon whom the ſpirit reſted; for they alſo had been enrolled, but were not gone forth to the tabernacle.

27 And when they propheſied in the camp, there ran a young man, and told Moſes, ſaying: Eldad and Medad propheſy in the camp.

28 Forthwith Joſue the ſon of Nun, the miniſter of Moſes, and choſen out of many, ſaid: My lord Moſes, forbid them.

29 But he ſaid: Why haſt thou emulation for me? O that all the people might propheſy, and that the Lord would give them his ſpirit?

30 And Moſes returned, with the ancients of Iſrael, into the camp.

‖ Pſ. 77. 26. & 27. 31 ‖ And a wind going out from the Lord, taking quails up beyond the ſea brought them, and caſt them into the camp for the ſpace of one day's journey, on every ſide of the camp round about, and they flew in the air two cubits high above the ground.

32 The people therefore riſing up all that day, and night, and the next day, gathered together of quails, he that did leaſt, ten cores: and they dried them round about the camp.

‖ Pſ. 77. 30. 33 ‖ As yet the fleſh was between their teeth, neither had that kind of meat failed: when behold the wrath of the Lord being provoked againſt the people, ſtruck them with an exceeding great plague.

34 And that place was called The graves of luſt: for there they buried the people that had luſted. And departing from the graves of luſt, they came unto Haſeroth, and abode there.

CHAP. XII.

Mary and Aaron murmur againſt Moſes, whom God praiſeth above other prophets. Mary being ſtruck with leproſy, Aaron confeſſeth his fault. Moſes prayeth for her, and after ſeven days ſeparation from the camp, ſhe is reſtored.

AND Mary and Aaron ſpoke againſt Moſes, becauſe of his wife the Ethiopian, A. M. 2514.

2 And they ſaid: Hath the Lord ſpoken by Moſes only? hath he not alſo ſpoken to us in like manner? And when the Lord heard this,

3 (For Moſes was a man exceeding meek above all men that dwelt upon earth)

4 Immediately he ſpoke to him, and to Aaron and Mary: Come out you three only to the tabernacle of the covenant. And when they were come out,

5 The Lord came down in the pillar of the cloud, and ſtood in the entry of the tabernacle calling to Aaron and Mary. And when they were come,

6 He ſaid to them: Hear my words: If there be among you a prophet of the Lord, I will appear to him in a viſion, or I will ſpeak to him in a dream.

7 But it is not ſo with my ſervant Moſes, ‖ who is moſt faithful in all my houſe: ‖ Heb. 3. 2.

† Exod. 33. 11. 8 † For I ſpeak to him mouth to mouth: and plainly, and not by riddles and figures; doth he ſee the Lord. Why then were you not afraid to ſpeak ill of my ſervant Moſes?

9 And being angry with them he went away:

10 The cloud alſo that was over the tabernacle departed: ‖ and behold Mary appeared white as ſnow with a leproſy. And when Aaron had looked on her, and ſaw her all covered with leproſy, ‖ Deut. 24. 9.

11 He ſaid to Moſes: I beſeech thee my lord, lay not upon us this ſin, which we have fooliſhly committed:

12 Let her not be as one dead, and as an abortive that is caſt forth from the mother's womb. Lo now one half of her fleſh is conſumed with the leproſy.

VER. 34. The graves of luſt; or the ſepulchres of concupiſcence: ſo called from their irregular deſire of fleſh. In Hebrew Kibroth Hattaavah.

CHAP. XII. VER. 1. Ethiopian. Sephora the wife of Moſes was of Madian, which bordered upon the land of Chus or Ethiopia: and therefore ſhe is called an Ethiopian: where note, that the Ethiopia here ſpoken of is not that of Africa but that of Arabia.

VER. 3. Exceeding meek. Moſes being the meekeſt of men, would not contend for himſelf; therefore God inſpired him to write here his own defence: and the Holy Spirit, whoſe dictate he wrote, obliged him to declare the truth, though it was ſo much to his own praiſe.

13 And Moſes cried to the Lord, ſaying: O God, I beſeech thee heal her.

14 And the Lord anſwered him: If her father had ſpitten upon her face, ought ſhe not to have been aſhamed for ſeven days at leaſt? Let her be ſeparated ſeven days without the camp, and afterwards ſhe ſhall be called again.

15 Mary therefore was put out of the camp ſeven days: and the people moved not from that place until Mary was called again.

CHAP. XIII.

The twelve ſpies are ſent to view the land. The relation they make of it.

A. M. 2514. AND the people marched from Haſeroth, and pitched their tents in the deſart of Pharan.

2 And there the Lord ſpoke to Moſes, ſaying:

3 Send men to view the land of Chanaan, which I will give to the children of Iſrael, one of every tribe, of the rulers.

4 Moſes did what the Lord had commanded, ſending from the deſart of Pharan, principal men, whoſe names are theſe:

5 Of the tribe of Ruben, Sammua the ſon of Zechur.

6 Of the tribe of Simeon, Saphat the ſon of Huri.

7 Of the tribe of Juda, Caleb the ſon of Jephone.

8 Of the tribe of Iſſachar, Igal the ſon of Joſeph.

9 Of the tribe of Ephraim, Oſee the ſon of Nun.

10 Of the tribe of Benjamin, Phalti the ſon of Raphu.

11 Of the tribe of Zabulon, Geddiel the ſon of Sodi.

12 Of the tribe of Joſeph, of the ſcepter of Manaſſes, Gaddi the ſon of Suſi.

13 Of the tribe of Dan, Ammiel the ſon of Gemalli.

14 Of the tribe of Aſer, Sthur the ſon of Michael.

15 Of the tribe of Nephtali, Nahabi the ſon of Vapſi.

16 Of the tribe of Gad, Guel the ſon of Machi.

17 Theſe are the names of the men, whom Moſes ſent to view the land: and he called Oſee the ſon of Nun, Joſue. ‖ ‖ Acts 7. 45. & Heb. 4. 8.

18 And Moſes ſent them to view the land of Chanaan, and ſaid to them: Go you up by the ſouth ſide. And when you ſhall come to the mountains,

19 View the land, of what ſort it is: and the people that are the inhabitants thereof, whether they be ſtrong or weak: few in number or many:

20 The land itſelf, whether it be good or bad: what manner of cities, walled or without walls:

21 The ground, fat or barren, woody or without trees. Be of good courage, and bring us of the fruits of the land. Now it was the time when the firſt ripe grapes are fit to be eaten.

22 And when they were gone up, they viewed the land from the deſart of Sin, unto Rohob as you enter into Emath.

23 And they went up at the ſouth ſide, and came to Hebron, where were ‖ Achiman and Siſai and Tholmai the ſons of Enac. For Hebron was built ſeven years before Tanis the city of Egypt. ‖ Joſ. 15. 14.

24 ‖ And going forward as far as the torrent of the cluſter of grapes, they cut off a branch with its cluſter of grapes, which two men carried upon a leaver. They took alſo of the pomegranates and of the figs of that place: ‖ Deut. 1. 24.

25 Which was called Neheleſcol, that is to ſay, the torrent of the cluſter of grapes, becauſe from thence the children of Iſrael had carried a cluſter of grapes.

26 And they that went to ſpy out the land returned after forty days, having gone round all the country,

27 And came to Moſes and Aaron and to all the aſſembly of the children of Iſrael to the deſart of Pharan, which is in Cades. And ſpeaking to them and to all the multitude, they ſhewed them the fruits of the land:

28 And they related and ſaid: We came into the land to which thou ſenteſt us, which in very deed floweth with milk and honey, as may be known by theſe fruits:

29 But it hath very ſtrong inhabitants, and the cities are great and walled. We ſaw there the race of Enac.

30 Amalec dwelleth in the ſouth, the Hethite and the Jebuſite and the Amorrhite in the mountains: but the Chananite abideth by the ſea and near the ſtreams of the Jordan.

31 In the mean time Caleb, to ſtill the murmuring of the people that roſe againſt Moſes, ſaid: Let us go up and poſſeſs the land, for we ſhall be able to conquer it.

32 But the others, that had been with him, ſaid: No, we are not able to go up to this people, becauſe they are ſtronger than we.

33 And they ſpoke ill of the land, which they had viewed, before the children of CHAP. XIII. VER. 33. Spoke ill, &c. Theſe men, who by their miſrepreſentations of the land of promiſe, diſcouraged the Iſraelites from attempting the conqueſt of it, were a figure of worldlings, who, by decrying or 34 There we saw certain monsters of the sons of Enac, of the giant-kind: in comparison of whom, we seemed like locusts.

CHAP. XIV.

The people murmur. God threatenth to destroy them. He is appeased by Moses, yet so as to exclude the murmurers from entering the promised land. The authors of the sedition are struck dead. The rest going to fight against the will of God are beaten.

THEREFORE the whole multitude crying wept that night.

2 And all the children of Israel murmured against Moses and Aaron, saying:

3 Would God that we had died in Egypt: and would God we may die in this vast wilderness, and that the Lord may not bring us into this land, lest we fall by the sword, and our wives and children be led away captives. Is it not better to return into Egypt?

4 And they said one to another: Let us appoint a captain, and let us return into Egypt.

5 And when Moses and Aaron heard this, they fell down flat upon the ground before the multitude of the children of Israel.

‖ Eccli. 46. 9. 1 Mac. 2. 55. & 56.

6 ‖ But Josue the son of Nun, and Caleb the son of Jephone, who themselves also had viewed the land, rent their garments,

7 And said to all the multitude of the children of Israel: The land which we have gone round is very good:

8 If the Lord be favourable, he will bring us into it, and give us a land flowing with milk and honey.

9 Be not rebellious against the Lord: and fear ye not the people of this land, for we are able to eat them up as bread. All aid is gone from them: the Lord is with us, fear ye not.

10 And when all the multitude cried out, and would have stoned them, the glory of the Lord appeared over the tabernacle of the covenant to all the children of Israel.

11 And the Lord said to Moses: How long will this people detract me? how long will they not believe me for all the signs that I have wrought before them?

12 I will strike them therefore with pestilence, and will consume them: but thee I will make a ruler over a great nation, and a mightier than this is.

13 And Moses said to the Lord: That the Egyptians, from the midst of whom thou hast brought forth this people,

14 And the inhabitants of this land, (who have heard that thou, O Lord, art among this people, and art seen face to face, ‖ and thy cloud protecteth them, and thou goest before them in a pillar of a cloud by day, and in a pillar of fire by night,)

16 He could not bring the people into the land for which he had sworn, ‖ therefore did he kill them in the wilderness.

‖ Exod. 32. 28.

17 Let then the strength of the Lord be magnified, as thou hast sworn, saying:

18 † The Lord is patient and full of mercy, ‡ taking away iniquity and wickedness, and leaving no man clear, ‖ who visitest the sins of the fathers upon the children unto the third and fourth generation.

† Ps. 102. 8. ‡ Exod. 34. 7. ‖ Exod. 20. 5.

19 Forgive, I beseech thee, the sins of this people, according to the greatness of thy mercy, as thou hast been merciful to them from their going out of Egypt unto this place.

20 And the Lord said: I have forgiven according to thy word.

21 As I live: and the whole earth shall be filled with the glory of the Lord.

22 But yet all the men that have seen my majesty, and the signs that I have done in Egypt, and in the wilderness, and have tempted me now ten times, and have not obeyed my voice,

23 ‖ Shall not see the land for which I swore to their fathers, neither shall any one of them that hath detracted me, behold it.

‖ Deut. 1. 35.

24 † My servant Caleb, who being full of another spirit hath followed me, I will bring into this land which he hath gone round: and his seed shall possess it.

† Jos. 14. 6.

25 For the Amalecite and the Chananite dwell in the valleys. To-morrow remove the camp, and return into the wilderness by the way of the Red Sea.

26 And the Lord spoke to Moses and Aaron, saying:

27 How long doth this wicked multitude murmur against me? I have heard the murmurings of the children of Israel.

28 Say therefore to them: As I live, saith the Lord: According as you have spoken in my hearing, so will I do to you.

39 And Moſes ſpoke all theſe words to all the children of Iſrael, and the people mourned exceedingly.

40 And behold riſing up very early in the morning they went up to the top of the mountain, and ſaid: We are ready to go up to the place, of which the Lord hath ſpoken: for we have ſinned.

41 And Moſes ſaid to them: Why tranſgreſs you the word of the Lord, which ſhall not ſucceed proſperouſly with you?

44 But they being blinded went up to the top of the mountain. But the ark of the teſtament of the Lord and Moſes departed not from the camp.

45 And the Amalecite came down, and the Chananite that dwelt in the mountain: and ſmiting and ſlaying them purſued them as far as Horma.

CHAP. XV.

Certain laws concerning ſacrifices. Sabbath-breaking is puniſhed with death. The law of fringes on their garments.

AND the Lord ſpoke to Moſes, ſaying:

2 Speak to the children of Iſrael, and thou ſhalt ſay to them: When you ſhall be come into the land of your habitation, which I will give you,

3 And ſhall make an offering to the Lord for a holocauſt, or a victim, paying your vows, or voluntarily offering gifts, or in your ſolemnities burning a ſweet ſavour unto the Lord, of oxen or of ſheep:

4 Whoſoever immolateth the victim, ſhall offer a ſacrifice of fine flour, the tenth part of an ephi, tempered with the fourth part of a hin of oil:

5 And he ſhall give the ſame meaſure of wine to pour out in libations for the holocauſt or for the victim. For every lamb,

6 And for every ram there ſhall be a ſacrifice of flour of two tenths, which ſhall be tempered with the third part of a hin of oil:

7 And he ſhall offer the third part of the ſame meaſure of wine for the libation, for a ſweet ſavour to the Lord.

8 But when thou offereſt a holocauſt or ſacrifice of oxen, to fulfil thy vow, or for victims of peace-offerings,

9 Thou ſhalt give for every ox three tenths of flour tempered with half a hin of oil,

10 And wine for libations of the ſame meaſure, for an offering of moſt ſweet ſavour to the Lord.

11 Thus ſhalt thou do

12 For every ox and ram and lamb and kid.

13 Both they that are born in the land, and the ſtrangers

14 Shall offer ſacrifices after the ſame rite.

15 There ſhall be all one law and judgment both for you and for them who are ſtrangers in the land.

CHAP. XIV. VER. 33. Shall bear your fornication. That is, ſhall bear the puniſhment of your diſloyalty to God, which in the ſcripture language is here called a fornication, in a ſpiritual ſenſe.

16 And the Lord ſpoke to Moſes, ſaying:
17 Speak to the children of Iſrael, and thou ſhalt ſay to them:
18 When you are come into the land which I will give you,
19 And ſhall eat of the bread of that country, you ſhall ſeparate firſt-fruits to the Lord,
20 Of the things you eat. As you ſeparate firſt-fruits of your barn-floors:
21 So alſo ſhall you give firſt-fruits of your dough to the Lord.
22 And if through ignorance you omit any of theſe things, which the Lord hath ſpoken to Moſes,
23 And by him hath commanded you, from the day that he began to command and thence forward,
24 And the multitude have forgotten to do it: they ſhall offer a calf out of the herd, a holocauſt for a moſt ſweet ſavour to the Lord, and the ſacrifice and libations thereof, as the ceremonies require, and a buck-goat for ſin:
25 And the prieſt ſhall pray for all the multitude of the children of Iſrael: and it ſhall be forgiven them, becauſe they ſinned ignorantly, offering notwithſtanding a burnt-offering to the Lord for themſelves and for their ſin and their ignorance:
26 And it ſhall be forgiven all the people of the children of Iſrael: and the ſtrangers that ſojourn among them: becauſe it is the fault of all the people through ignorance.
27 But if one ſoul ſhall ſin ignorantly, he ſhall offer a ſhe-goat of a year old for his ſin:
28 And the prieſt ſhall pray for him, becauſe he ſinned ignorantly before the Lord: and he ſhall obtain his pardon, and it ſhall be forgiven him.
29 The ſame law ſhall be for all that ſin by ignorance, whether they be natives or ſtrangers.
30 But the ſoul that committeth any thing through pride, whether he be born in the land or a ſtranger, (becauſe he hath been rebellious againſt the Lord) ſhall be cut off from among his people:
31 For he hath contemned the word of the Lord, and made void his precept: therefore ſhall he be deſtroyed, and ſhall bear his iniquity.
32 And it came to paſs, when the children of Iſrael were in the wilderneſs, and had found a man gathering ſticks on the ſabbath day,
33 That they brought him to Moſes and Aaron and the whole multitude.
34 And they put him into priſon, not knowing what they ſhould do with him.
35 And the Lord ſaid to Moſes: Let that man die, let all the multitude ſtone him without the camp.
36 And when they had brought him out, they ſtoned him, and he died as the Lord had commanded.

AND behold Core the ſon of Iſaar, the ſon of Caath, the ſon of Levi, and Dathan and Abiron the ſons of Eliab, and Hon the ſon of Pheleth of the children of Ruben,
2 Roſe up againſt Moſes, and with them two hundred and fifty others of the children of Iſrael, leading men of the ſynagogue, and who in the time of aſſembly were called by name.
3 ‖ And when they had ſtood up againſt Moſes and Aaron, they ſaid: Let it be enough for you, that all the multitude conſiſteth of holy ones, and the Lord is among them: why lift you up yourſelves above the people of the Lord? ‖ Eccli 45. 22. 1 Cor. 10. 10. Jude 1. 12.
4 When Moſes heard this, he fell flat on his face:
5 And ſpeaking to Core and all the multitude, he ſaid: In the morning the Lord will make known who belong to him, and

CHAP. XVI. VER. 2. Roſe up. The crime of theſe men, which was puniſhed in ſo remarkable a manner, was that of ſchiſm, and of rebellion againſt the authority eſtabliſhed by God in the church; and their pretending to the prieſthood without being lawfully called and ſent: the ſame is the caſe of all modern ſectaries.

the holy he will join to himself: and whom he shall choose, they shall approach to him.

6 Do this therefore: Take every man of you your censers, thou Core, and all thy company.

7 And putting fire in them to-morrow, put incense upon it before the Lord: and whomsoever he shall choose, the same shall be holy: you take too much upon you, ye sons of Levi.

8 And he said again to Core: Hear, ye sons of Levi:

9 Is it a small thing unto you, that the God of Israel hath spared you from all the people, and joined you to himself, that you should serve him in the service of the tabernacle, and should stand before the congregation of the people, and should minister to him?

10 Did he therefore make thee and all thy brethren the sons of Levi to approach unto him, that you should challenge to yourselves the priesthood also,

11 And that all thy company should stand against the Lord? for what is Aaron that you murmur against him?

12 Then Moses sent to call Dathan and Abiron the sons of Eliab. But they answered: We will not come.

13 Is it a small matter to thee, that thou hast brought us out of a land that flowed with milk and honey, to kill us in the desart, except thou rule also like a lord over us?

14 Thou hast brought us indeed into a land that floweth with rivers of milk and honey, and hast given us possessions of fields and vineyards; wilt thou also pull out our eyes? We will not come.

15 Moses therefore being very angry, said to the Lord: Respect not their sacrifices: thou knowest that I have not taken of them so much as a young ass at any time, nor have injured any of them.

16 And he said to Core: Do thou and thy congregation stand apart before the Lord to-morrow, and Aaron apart.

17 Take every one of you censers, and put incense upon them, offering to the Lord two hundred and fifty censers: let Aaron also hold his censer.

18 When they had done this, Moses and Aaron standing,

19 And had drawn up all the multitude against them to the door of the tabernacle, the glory of the Lord appeared to them all.

20 And the Lord speaking to Moses and Aaron, said:

21 Separate yourselves from among this congregation, that I may presently destroy them.

22 They fell flat on their face, and said: O most mighty, the God of the spirits of all flesh, for one man's sin shall thy wrath rage against all?

23 And the Lord said to Moses:

24 Command the whole people to separate themselves from the tents of Core and Dathan and Abiron.

25 And Moses arose, and went to Dathan and Abiron: and the ancients of Israel following him,

26 He said to the multitude: Depart from the tents of these wicked men, and touch nothing of theirs, lest you be involved in their sins.

27 And when they were departed from their tents round about, Dathan and Abiron coming out stood in the entry of their pavilions with their wives and children, and all the people.

28 And Moses said: By this you shall know that the Lord hath sent me to do all things that you see, and that I have not forged them of my own head:

29 If these men die the common death of men, and if they be visited with a plague, wherewith others also are wont to be visited, the Lord did not send me:

30 But if the Lord do a new thing, and the earth opening her mouth swallow them down, and all things that belong to them, and they go down alive into hell, you shall know that they have blasphemed the Lord.

31 ‖ And immediately as he had made an end of speaking, the earth broke asunder under their feet: ‖ Deut. 11. 6. Ps. 105. 17. & 18.

32 And opening her mouth, devoured them with their tents and all their substance.

33 And they went down alive into hell, the ground closing upon them, and they perished from among the people.

34 But all Israel, that was standing round about, fled at the cry of them that were perishing, saying: Lest perhaps the earth swallow us up also.

35 And a fire coming out from the Lord, destroyed the two hundred and fifty men that offered the incense.

36 And the Lord spoke to Moses, saying:

37 Command Eleazar the son of Aaron the priest to take up the censers that lie in the burning, and to ſcatter the fire of one ſide and the other: becauſe they are ſanctified.

38 In the deaths of the ſinners: and let him beat them into plates, and faſten them to the altar, becauſe incenſe hath been offered in them to the Lord, and they are ſanctified, that the children of Iſrael may ſee them for a ſign and a memorial.

39 Then Eleazar the prieſt took the brazen cenſers, wherein they had offered, whom the burning fire had devoured, and beat them into plates, faſtening them to the altar:

40 That the children of Iſrael might have for the time to come wherewith they ſhould be admoniſhed, that no ſtranger or any one that is not of the ſeed of Aaron ſhould come near to offer incenſe to the Lord, leſt he ſhould ſuffer as Core ſuffered, and all his congregation, according as the Lord ſpoke to Moſes.

41 The following day all the multitude of the children of Iſrael murmured againſt Moſes and Aaron, ſaying: You have killed the people of the Lord.

42 And when there aroſe a ſedition, and the tumult increaſed,

43 Moſes and Aaron fled to the tabernacle of the covenant. And when they were gone into it, the cloud covered it, and the glory of the Lord appeared.

44 And the Lord ſaid to Moſes:

45 Get you out from the midſt of this multitude, this moment will I deſtroy them. And as they were lying on the ground,

46 Moſes ſaid to Aaron: Take the cenſer, and putting fire in it from the altar, put incenſe upon it, and go quickly to the people to pray for them: for already wrath is gone out from the Lord, and the plague rageth.

47 When Aaron had done this, and had run to the midſt of the multitude which the burning fire was now deſtroying, he offered the incenſe:

48 And ſtanding between the dead and the living, he prayed for the people, and the plague ceaſed.

49 And the number of them that were ſlain was fourteen thouſand and ſeven hundred men, beſides them that had periſhed in the ſedition of Core.

50 And Aaron returned to Moſes to the door of the tabernacle of the covenant after the deſtruction was over.

CHAP. XVII.

The prieſthood is confirmed to Aaron by the miracle of the blooming of his rod, which is kept for a monument in the tabernacle.

AND the Lord ſpoke to Moſes, ſaying:

2 Speak to the children of Iſrael, and take of every one of them a rod by their kindreds, of all the princes of the tribes, twelve rods, and write the name of every man upon his rod.

3 And the name of Aaron ſhall be for the tribe of Levi, and one rod ſhall contain all their families:

4 And thou ſhalt lay them up in the tabernacle of the covenant before the teſtimony, where I will ſpeak to thee.

5 Whomſoever of theſe I ſhall chooſe, his rod ſhall bloſſom: and I will make to ceaſe from me the murmurings of the children of Iſrael, wherewith they murmur againſt you.

6 And Moſes ſpoke to the children of Iſrael: and all the princes gave him rods one for every tribe: and there were twelve rods beſides the rod of Aaron.

7 And when Moſes had laid them up before the Lord in the tabernacle of the teſtimony:

8 He returned on the following day, and found that the rod of Aaron for the houſe of Levi, was budded: and that the buds ſwelling it had bloomed bloſſoms, which ſpreading the leaves, were formed into almonds.

9 Moſes therefore brought out all the rods from before the Lord to all the children of Iſrael: and they ſaw and every one received their rods.

10 And the Lord ſaid to Moſes: Carry back the rod of Aaron into the tabernacle of the teſtimony, ‖ that it may be kept there for a token of the rebellious children of Iſrael, and that their complaints may ceaſe from me leſt they die. ‖ Heb. 9. 4.

11 And Moſes did as the Lord had commanded.

12 And the children of Iſrael ſaid to Moſes: Behold we are conſumed, we all periſh.

13 Whoſoever approacheth to the tabernacle of the Lord, he dieth. Are we all to a man to be utterly deſtroyed?

CHAP. XVII. VER. 8. The rod of Aaron for the houſe of Levi, was budded, &c. This rod of Aaron which thus miraculouſly brought forth fruit, was a figure of the bleſſed virgin conceiving and bringing forth her ſon without any prejudice to her virginity.

CHAP. XVIII.

The charge of the prieſts, and of the Levites, and their portion.

AND the Lord ſaid to Aaron: Thou, and thy ſons, and thy father's houſe with thee ſhall bear the iniquity of the ſanctuary: and thou and thy ſons with thee ſhall bear the ſins of your prieſthood.

2 And take with thee thy brethren alſo of the tribe of Levi, and the ſcepter of thy father, and let them be ready at hand, and miniſter to thee: but thou and thy ſons ſhall miniſter in the tabernacle of the teſtimony.

3 And the Levites ſhall watch to do thy commands, and about all the works of the tabernacle: only they ſhall not come nigh the veſſels of the ſanctuary nor the altar, leſt both they die, and you alſo periſh with them.

4 But let them be with thee, and watch in the charge of the tabernacle, and in all the ceremonies thereof. A ſtranger ſhall not join himſelf with you.

5 Watch ye in the charge of the ſanctuary, and in the miniſtry of the altar: leſt indignation riſe upon the children of Iſrael.

6 I have given you your brethren the Levites from among the children of Iſrael, and have delivered them for a gift to the Lord, to ſerve in the miniſtries of the tabernacle.

7 But thou and thy ſons look ye to the prieſthood: and all things that pertain to the ſervice of the altar, and that are within the veil, ſhall be executed by the prieſts. If any ſtranger ſhall approach, he ſhall be ſlain.

8 And the Lord ſaid to Aaron: Behold I have given thee the charge of my firſt-fruits. All things that are ſanctified by the children of Iſrael, I have delivered to thee and to thy ſons for the prieſtly office, by everlaſting ordinances.

9 Theſe therefore ſhalt thou take of the things, that are ſanctified, and are offered to the Lord. Every offering, and ſacrifice, and whatſoever is rendered to me for ſin and for treſpaſs, and becometh holy of holies, ſhall be for thee and thy ſons.

10 Thou ſhalt eat it in the ſanctuary: the males only ſhall eat thereof, becauſe it is a conſecrated thing.

11 But the firſt-fruits, which the children of Iſrael ſhall vow and offer, I have given to thee, and to thy ſons, and to thy daughters, by a perpetual law. He that is clean in thy houſe, ſhall eat them.

12 All the beſt of the oil, and of the wine, and of the corn, whatſoever firſt-fruits they offer to the Lord, I have given them to thee.

13 All the firſt ripe of the fruits, that the ground bringeth forth, and which are brought to the Lord, ſhall be for thy uſe: he that is clean in thy houſe, ſhall eat them.

14 Every thing that the children of Iſrael ſhall give by vow, ſhall be thine.

15 Whatſoever is firſt-born of all fleſh, which they offer to the Lord, whether it be of men, or of beaſts, ſhall belong to thee: only for the firſt-born of man thou ſhalt take a price, and every beaſt that is unclean thou ſhalt cauſe to be redeemed,

16 And the redemption of it ſhall be after one month, for five ſicles of ſilver, by the weight of the ſanctuary. || A ſicle hath twenty obols. || Exod. 30. 13. Levit. 27. 25.

17 But the firſtling of a cow and of a ſheep and of a goat thou ſhalt not cauſe to be redeemed, becauſe they are ſanctified to the Lord. Their blood only thou ſhalt pour upon the altar, and their fat thou ſhalt burn for a moſt ſweet odour to the Lord. || Supra 3. 47. Ezec. 45. 12.

18 But the fleſh ſhall fall to thy uſe, as the conſecrated breaſt, and the right ſhoulder, ſhall be thine.

19 All the firſt-fruits of the ſanctuary which the children of Iſrael offer to the Lord, I have given to thee and to thy ſons and daughters, by a perpetual ordinance. It is a covenant of ſalt for ever before the Lord, to thee and to thy ſons.

20 And the Lord ſaid to Aaron: You ſhall poſſeſs nothing in their land, neither ſhall you have a portion among them: I am thy portion and inheritance in the midſt of the children of Iſrael.

21 And I have given to the ſons of Levi all the tithes of Iſrael for a poſſeſſion, for the miniſtry wherewith they ſerve me in the tabernacle of the covenant:

22 That the children of Iſrael may not approach any more to the tabernacle, nor commit deadly ſin,

23 But only the ſons of Levi may ſerve me in the tabernacle, and bear the ſins of the people. It ſhall be an everlaſting ordinance in your generations, || They ſhall not poſſeſs any other thing, || Deut. 18. 1.

24 But be content with the oblation or tithes, which I have ſeparated for their uſes and neceſſities.

25 And the Lord ſpoke to Moſes, ſaying:

26 Command the Levites, and declare unto them: When you ſhall receive of the children of Iſrael the tithes, which I have given you, offer the firſt-fruits of them to the Lord, that is to ſay, the tenth part of the tenth:

27 That it may be reckoned to you as an oblation of firſt-fruits, as well of the barn-floors as of the wine-preſſes:

28 And of all the things of which you receive tithes, offer the firſt-fruits to the Lord, and give them to Aaron the prieſt.

29 All the things that you ſhall offer of the tithes, and ſhall ſeparate for the gifts of the Lord, ſhall be the beſt and choiceſt things.

30 And thou ſhalt ſay to them: If you offer all the goodly and the better things of the tithes, it ſhall be reckoned to you as if you had given the firſt-fruits of the barn-floor and the wine-preſs:

31 And you ſhall eat them in all your places, both you and your families: becauſe it is your reward for the miniſtry, wherewith you ſerve in the tabernacle of the teſtimony.

32 And you ſhall not ſin in this point, by reſerving the choiceſt and fat things to yourſelves, leſt you profane the oblations of the children of Iſrael, and die.

CHAP. XIX.

The law of the ſacrifice of the red cow, and the water of expiation.

AND the Lord ſpoke to Moſes and Aaron, ſaying:

2 This is the obſervance of the victim, which the Lord hath ordained. Command the children of Iſrael, that they bring unto thee a red cow of full age, in which there is no blemiſh, and which hath not carried the yoke:

3 And you ſhall deliver her to Eleazar the prieſt, ‖ who ſhall bring her forth without the camp, and ſhall immolate her in the ſight of all:

‖ Heb. 13. 11.

4 And dipping his finger in her blood, ſhall ſprinkle it over-againſt the door of the tabernacle ſeven times,

5 And ſhall burn her in the ſight of all, delivering up to the fire her ſkin, and her fleſh, and her blood, and her dung.

6 The prieſt ſhall alſo take cedar-wood, and hyſſop, and ſcarlet twice dyed, and caſt it into the flame, with which the cow is conſumed.

7 And then after waſhing his garments, and body, he ſhall enter into the camp, and ſhall be unclean until the evening.

8 He alſo that hath burned her, ſhall waſh his garments and his body, and ſhall be unclean until the evening.

9 And a man that is clean ſhall gather up the aſhes of the cow, and ſhall pour them forth without the camp in a moſt clean place, that they may be reſerved for the multitude of the children of Iſrael, and for a water of aſperſion: becauſe the cow was burnt for ſin.

10 And when he that carried the aſhes of the cow, hath waſhed his garments, he ſhall be unclean until the evening. The children of Iſrael, and the ſtrangers that dwell among them, ſhall obſerve this for a holy thing by a perpetual ordinance.

11 He that toucheth the corpſe of a man, and is therefore unclean ſeven days,

12 Shall be ſprinkled with this water on the third day, and on the ſeventh, and ſo ſhall be cleanſed. If he were not ſprinkled on the third day, he cannot be cleanſed on the ſeventh.

13 Every one that toucheth the corpſe of a man, and is not ſprinkled with this mixture, ſhall profane the tabernacle of the Lord, and ſhall periſh out of Iſrael: becauſe he was not ſprinkled with the water of expiation, he ſhall be unclean, and his uncleanneſs ſhall remain upon him.

14 This is the law of a man that dieth in a tent: All that go into his tent, and all the veſſels that are there, ſhall be unclean ſeven days.

15 The veſſel that hath no cover, nor binding over it, ſhall be unclean.

16 If any man in the field touch the corpſe of a man that was ſlain, or that died of himſelf, or his bone, or his grave, he ſhall be unclean ſeven days.

17 And they ſhall take of the aſhes of the burning and of the ſin-offering, and ſhall pour living waters upon them into a veſſel.

18 And a man that is clean ſhall dip hyſſop in them, and ſhall ſprinkle therewith all the tent, and all the furniture, and the men that are defiled with touching any ſuch thing:

19 And in this manner he that is clean

CHAP. XIX. ſhall purify the unclean on the third and on the ſeventh day. And being expiated the ſeventh day, he ſhall waſh both himſelf and his garments, and be unclean until the evening.

20 If any man be not expiated after this rite, his ſoul ſhall periſh out of the midſt of the church: becauſe he hath profaned the ſanctuary of the Lord, and was not ſprinkled with the water of purification.

21 This precept ſhall be an ordinance for ever. He alſo that ſprinkled the water, ſhall waſh his garments. Every one that ſhall touch the waters of expiation, ſhall be unclean until the evening.

22 Whatſoever a perſon toucheth who is unclean, he ſhall make it unclean: and the perſon that toucheth any of theſe things, ſhall be unclean until the evening.

The death of Mary the ſiſter of Moſes. The people murmur for want of water: God giveth it them from the rock. The death of Aaron.

A. M. 2552. Ante C. 1452. AND the children of Iſrael, and all the multitude came into the deſart of Sin, in the firſt month: and the people abode in Cades. And Mary died there, and was buried in the ſame place.

2 And the people wanting water, came together againſt Moſes and Aaron:

3 And making a ſedition, they ſaid: Would God we had periſhed among our brethren before the Lord.

‖ Exod. 17. 3. 4 ‖ Why have you brought out the church of the Lord into the wilderneſs, that both we and our cattle ſhould die?

5 Why have you made us come up out of Egypt, and have brought us into this wretched place which cannot be ſowed, nor bringeth forth figs, nor vines, nor pomegranates, neither is there any water to drink?

6 And Moſes and Aaron, leaving the multitude, went into the tabernacle of the covenant, and fell flat upon the ground, and cried to the Lord, and ſaid: O Lord God hear the cry of this people, and open to them thy treaſure a fountain of living water, that being ſatisfied, they may ceaſe to murmur. And the glory of the Lord appeared over them.

7 And the Lord ſpoke to Moſes, ſaying:

8 Take the rod, and aſſemble the people together, thou and Aaron thy brother, and ſpeak to the rock before them, and it ſhall yield waters. And when thou haſt brought forth water out of the rock, all the multitude and their cattle ſhall drink.

‖ Exod. 5. & 6. Wiſ. 11. 9 ‖ Moſes therefore took the rod, which was before the Lord, as he had commanded him,

11 And when Moſes had lifted up his hand, and ſtruck the rock twice with the rod, there came forth water in great abundance, ſo that the people and their cattle drank.

‖ Deut. 1. 37. 12 And the Lord ſaid to Moſes and Aaron: ‖ Becauſe you have not believed me, to ſanctify me before the children of Iſrael, you ſhall not bring theſe people into the land, which I will give them.

13 This is the Water of contradiction, where the children of Iſrael ſtrove with words againſt the Lord, and he was ſanctified in them.

14 In the mean time Moſes ſent meſſengers from Cades to the king of Edom, to ſay: Thus ſaith thy brother Iſrael: Thou knoweſt all the labour that hath come upon us:

15 In what manner our fathers went down into Egypt, and there we dwelt a long time, and the Egyptians afflicted us, and our fathers:

16 And how we cried to the Lord, and he heard us, and ſent an angel, who hath brought us out of Egypt. Lo we are now in the city of Cades, which is in the uttermoſt of thy borders,

17 And we beſeech thee that we may have leave to paſs through thy country. We will not go through the fields, nor through the vineyards, we will not drink the waters of thy wells, but we will go by the common highway, neither turning aſide to the right hand, nor to the left, till we are paſt thy borders.

18 And Edom anſwered them: Thou ſhalt not paſs by me, if thou doſt I will come out armed againſt thee.

19 And the children of Iſrael ſaid: We

20 But he anſwered: Thou ſhalt not paſs. And immediately he came forth to meet them with an infinite multitude, and a ſtrong hand,

21 Neither would he condeſcend to their deſire to grant them paſſage through his borders. Wherefore Iſrael turned another way from him.

22 And when they had removed the camp from Cades, they came to mount Hor, which is in the borders of the land of Edom:

King Arad is overcome. The people murmur and are puniſhed with fiery ſerpents: they are healed by the brazen ſerpent. They conquer the kings Sehon and Og.

4 And they marched from mount Hor, by the way that leadeth to the Red Sea, to compaſs the land of Edom. And the people began to be weary of their journey and labour:

11 And departing thence they pitched their tents in Jeabarim, in the wilderneſs, that faceth Moab toward the eaſt.

‖ Deut. 2. 26. Judges 11. 19. 21 ‖ And Israel sent messengers to Sehon king of the Amorrhites, saying:

22 I beseech thee that I may have leave to pass through thy land: we will not go aside into the fields or the vineyards, we will not drink waters of the wells, we will go the king's highway, till we be past thy borders.

23 And he would not grant that Israel should pass by his borders: but rather gathering an army, went forth to meet them in the desart, and came to Jasa, and fought against them.

‖ Ps. 134. 11. Amos 2. 9. 24 ‖ And he was slain by them with the edge of the sword, and they possessed his land from the Arnon unto the Jeboc, and to the confines of the children of Ammon: for the borders of the Ammonites were kept with a strong garrison.

25 So Israel took all his cities, and dwelt in the cities of the Amorrhite, to wit, in Hesebon, and in the villages thereof.

26 Hesebon was the city of Sehon the king of the Amorrhites, who fought against the king of Moab: and took all the land, that had been of his dominions, as far as the Arnon.

27 Therefore it is said in the proverb: Come into Hesebon, let the city of Sehon be built and set up:

28 A fire is gone out of Hesebon, a flame from the city of Sehon, and hath consumed Ar of the Moabites, and the inhabitants of the high places of the Arnon.

‖ Judges 11. 24. 3. Kings 11. 7. 29 ‖ Woe to thee Moab: thou art undone, O people of Chamos. He hath given his sons to flight, and his daughters into captivity to Sehon the king of the Amorrhites.

30 Their yoke is perished from Hesebon unto Dibon, they came weary to Nophe, and unto Medaba.

31 So Israel dwelt in the land of the Amorrhite.

32 And Moses sent some to take a view of Jazer: and they took the villages of it, and conquered the inhabitants.

‖ Deut. 3. 3. & 29. 7. 33 ‖ And they turned themselves, and went up by the way of Basan, and * Og the king of Basan came against them with all his people, to fight in Edrai. * A. M. 2553.

34 And the Lord said to Moses: Fear him not, for I have delivered him and all his people, and his country into thy hand: and thou shalt do to him as thou didst to Sehon the king of the Amorrhites, the inhabitant of Hesebon.

35 So they slew him also with his sons, and all his people, not letting any one escape, and they possessed his land.

CHAP. XXII.

Balac king of Moab, sendeth twice for Balaam to curse Israel. In his way Balaam is rebuked by an angel.

A. M. 2553. Ante C. 1451. AND they went forward and encamped in the plains of Moab, over-against where Jericho is situate beyond the Jordan.

2 And Balac the son of Sephor seeing all that Israel had done to the Amorrhite,

3 And that the Moabites were in great fear of him, and were not able to sustain his assault,

4 He said to the elders of Madian: So will this people destroy all that dwell in our borders, as the ox is wont to eat the grass to the very roots. Now he was at that time king in Moab.

‖ Jos. 24. 9. 5 ‖ He sent therefore messengers to Balaam the son of Beor, a soothsayer, who dwelt by the river of the land of the children of Ammon, to call him, and to say: Behold a people is come out of Egypt, that hath covered the face of the earth, sitting over-against me.

6 Come therefore, and curse this people, because it is mightier than I: if by any means I may beat them and drive them out of my land: for I know that he whom thou shalt bless is blessed, and he whom thou shalt curse is cursed.

7 And the ancients of Moab, and the elders of Madian, went with the price of divination in their hands. And when they were come to Balaam, and had told him all the words of Balac:

8 He answered: Tarry here this night, and I will answer whatsoever the Lord shall say to me. And while they stayed with Balaam, God came and said to him:

9 What mean these men that are with thee?

10 He answered: Balac the son of Sephor king of the Moabites hath sent to me,

11 Saying: Behold a people that is come out of Egypt, hath covered the face of the land: come and curſe them, if by any means I may fight with them and drive them away.

12 And God ſaid to Balaam: Thou ſhalt not go with them, nor ſhalt thou curſe the people: becauſe it is bleſſed.

13 And he roſe in the morning and ſaid to the princes: Go into your country, becauſe the Lord hath forbid me to come with you.

14 The princes returning, ſaid to Balac: Balaam would not come with us.

15 Then he ſent many more and more noble than he had ſent before:

16 Who, when they were come to Balaam, ſaid: Thus ſaith Balac the ſon of Sephor: Delay not to come to me:

17 For I am ready to honour thee, and will give thee whatſoever thou wilt: come and curſe this people.

|| Infra 24. 23. 18 Balaam anſwered: || If Balac would give me his houſe full of ſilver and gold, I cannot alter the word of the Lord my God, to ſpeak either more or leſs.

19 I pray you to ſtay here this night alſo, that I may know what the Lord will anſwer me once more.

20 God therefore came to Balaam in the night, and ſaid to him: If theſe men be come to call thee, ariſe and go with them: yet ſo, that thou do what I ſhall command thee.

21 Balaam aroſe in the morning, and ſaddling his aſs went with them.

|| 2 Pet. 2. 15. 22 || And God was angry. And an Angel of the Lord ſtood in the way againſt Balaam, who ſat on the aſs, and had two ſervants with him.

23 The aſs ſeeing the Angel ſtanding in the way, with a drawn ſword, turned herſelf out of the way, and went into the field. And when Balaam beat her, and had a mind to bring her again to the way, 24 The Angel ſtood in a narrow place between two walls, wherewith the vineyards were incloſed.

25 And the aſs ſeeing him, thruſt herſelf cloſe to the wall, and bruiſed the foot of the rider. But he beat her again:

26 And nevertheleſs the Angel going on to a narrow place, where there was no way to turn aſide either to the right hand or to the left, ſtood to meet him.

27 And when the aſs ſaw the Angel ſtanding, ſhe fell under the feet of the rider: who being angry, beat her ſides more vehemently with a ſtaff.

28 And the Lord opened the mouth of the aſs, and ſhe ſaid: What have I done to thee? why ſtrikeſt thou me? lo now this third time?

29 Balaam anſwered: Becauſe thou haſt deſerved it, and haſt ſerved me ill: I would I had a ſword that I might kill thee.

30 The aſs ſaid: Am not I thy beaſt, on which thou haſt been always accuſtomed to ride until this preſent day? tell me if I ever did the like thing to thee. But he ſaid: Never.

31 Forthwith the Lord opened the eyes of Balaam, and he ſaw the Angel ſtanding in the way with a drawn ſword, and he worſhipped him falling flat on the ground.

32 And the Angel ſaid to him: Why beateſt thou thy aſs theſe three times? I am come to withſtand thee, becauſe thy way is perverſe, and contrary to me:

33 And unleſs the aſs had turned out of the way, giving place to me who ſtood againſt thee, I had ſlain thee, and ſhe ſhould have lived.

34 Balaam ſaid: I have ſinned, not knowing that thou didſt ſtand againſt me: and now if it diſpleaſe thee that I go, I will return.

35 The Angel ſaid: Go with theſe men, and ſee thou ſpeak no other thing than what I ſhall command thee. He went therefore with the princes.

36 And when Balac heard it, he came forth to meet him in a town of the Moabites, that is ſituate in the uttermoſt borders of Arnon.

37 And he ſaid to Balaam: I ſent meſſengers to call thee, why didſt thou not come immediately to me? was it becauſe I am not able to reward thy coming?

38 He anſwered him: Lo here I am: ſhall I have power to ſpeak any other thing but that which God ſhall put in my mouth?

39 So they went on together, and came

CHAP. XXII. VER. 19. To ſtay. His deſiring them to ſtay, after he had been fully informed already that it was not God's will he ſhould go, came from the inclination he had to gratify Balac for the ſake of worldly gain. And this perverſe diſpoſition God puniſhed by permitting him to go (though not to curſe the people as he would willingly have done) and ſuffering him to fall ſtill deeper and deeper into ſin, till he came at laſt to give that abominable counſel againſt the people of God, which ended in his own deſtruction. So ſad a thing it is to indulge a paſſion for money.

VER. 28. Opened the mouth, &c. The Angel moved the tongue of the aſs, to utter theſe ſpeeches, to rebuke, by the mouth of a brute beaſt, the brutal fury and folly of Balaam.

VER. 32. Perverſe. Becauſe thy inclinations are wicked, in being willing for the ſake of gain to curſe the people of whom I am the guardian.

into a city, that was in the uttermoſt borders of his kingdom.

40 And when Balac had killed oxen and ſheep, he ſent preſents to Balaam, and to the princes that were with him.

41 And when morning was come, he brought him to the high places of Baal, and he beheld the uttermoſt part of the people.

CHAP. XXIII.

Balaam inſtead of curſing Iſrael, is obliged to bleſs them, and propheſy good things of them.

AND Balaam ſaid to Balac: Build me here ſeven altars, and prepare as many calves, and the ſame number of rams.

2 And when he had done according to the word of Balaam, they laid together a calf and a ram upon every altar.

3 And Balaam ſaid to Balac: Stand a while by thy burnt-offering, until I go, to ſee if perhaps the Lord will meet me, and whatſoever he ſhall command, I will ſpeak to thee.

4 And when he was gone with ſpeed, God met him. And Balaam ſpeaking to him, ſaid: I have erected ſeven altars, and have laid on every one a calf and a ram.

5 And the Lord put the word in his mouth, and ſaid: Return to Balac, and thus ſhalt thou ſpeak.

6 Returning he found Balac ſtanding by his burnt-offering, with all the princes of the Moabites:

7 And taking up his parable, he ſaid: Balac king of the Moabites hath brought me from Aram, from the mountains of the eaſt: Come, ſaid he, and curſe Jacob: make haſte and deteſt Iſrael.

8 How ſhall I curſe him, whom God hath not curſed? By what means ſhould I deteſt him, whom the Lord deteſteth not?

9 I ſhall ſee him from the tops of the rocks, and ſhall conſider him from the hills. This people ſhall dwell alone, and ſhall not be reckoned among the nations.

10 Who can count the duſt of Jacob, and know the number of the ſtock of Iſrael? Let my ſoul die the death of the juſt, and my laſt end be like to them.

11 And Balac ſaid to Balaam: What is this that thou doſt? I ſent for thee to curſe my enemies: and thou contrariwiſe bleſſeſt them.

12 He anſwered him: Can I ſpeak any thing elſe but what the Lord commandeth?

13 Balac therefore ſaid: Come with me to another place from whence thou mayſt ſee part of Iſrael, and canſt not ſee them all: curſe them from thence.

14 And when he had brought him to a high place, upon the top of mount Phaſga, Balaam built ſeven altars, and laying on every one a calf and a ram,

15 He ſaid to Balac: Stand here by thy burnt-offering while I go to meet him.

16 And when the Lord had met him, and had put the word in his mouth, he ſaid: Return to Balac, and thus ſhalt thou ſay to him.

17 Returning he found him ſtanding by his burnt-ſacrifice, and the princes of the Moabites with him. And Balac ſaid to him: What hath the Lord ſpoken?

18 But he taking up his parable, ſaid: Stand, O Balac, and give ear: hear, thou ſon of Sephor:

19 God is not as a man, that he ſhould lie, nor as the ſon of man, that he ſhould be changed. Hath he ſaid then, and will he not do? hath he ſpoken, and will he not fulfil?

20 I was brought to bleſs, the bleſſing I am not able to hinder.

21 There is no idol in Jacob, neither is there an image-god to be ſeen in Iſrael. The Lord his God is with him, and the ſound of the victory of the king in him.

22 ‖ God hath brought him out of Egypt, whoſe ſtrength is like to the rhinoceros. ‖ Infra 24. 8.

23 There is no ſoothſaying in Jacob, nor divination in Iſrael. In their times it ſhall be told to Jacob and to Iſrael what God hath wrought.

24 Behold the people ſhall riſe up as a lioneſs, and ſhall lift itſelf up as a lion: it ſhall not lie down till it devour the prey, and drink the blood of the ſlain.

25 And Balac ſaid to Balaam: Neither curſe, nor bleſs him.

26 And he ſaid: Did I not tell thee, that whatſoever God ſhould command me, that I would do?

27 And Balac ſaid to him: Come and I will bring thee to another place; if peradventure it pleaſe God that thou mayſt curſe them from thence.

28 And when he had brought him upon the top of mount Phogor, which looketh towards the wilderneſs,

29 Balaam ſaid to him: Build me here ſeven altars, and prepare as many calves, and the ſame number of rams.

30 Balac did as Balaam had ſaid: and he laid on every altar, a calf and a ram.

CHAP. XXIV.

Balaam ſtill continues to propheſy good things in favour of Iſrael.

AND when Balaam ſaw that it pleaſed the Lord that he ſhould bleſs Iſrael, he went not as he had gone before, to ſeek divination: but ſetting his face towards the deſart,

2 And lifting up his eyes, he ſaw Iſrael abiding in their tents by their tribes: and the ſpirit of God ruſhing upon him,

3 He took up his parable and ſaid: Balaam the ſon of Beor hath ſaid: The man hath ſaid, whoſe eye is ſtopped up:

4 The hearer of the words of God hath ſaid, he that hath beheld the viſion of the Almighty, he that falleth, and ſo his eyes are opened:

5 How beautiful are thy tabernacles O Jacob, and thy tents O Iſrael!

6 As woody valleys, as watered gardens near the rivers, as tabernacles which the Lord hath pitched, as cedars by the water-ſide.

7 Water ſhall flow out of his bucket, and his ſeed ſhall be into many waters. For Agag ſhall his king be removed, and his kingdom ſhall be taken away.

8 God hath brought him out of Egypt, ‖ whoſe ſtrength is like to the rhinoceros. They ſhall devour the nations that are his enemies, and break their bones, and pierce them with arrows. ‖ Supra 23. 22.

9 Lying down he hath ſlept as a lion, and as a lioneſs, whom none ſhall dare to rouſe. He that bleſſeth thee, ſhall alſo himſelf be bleſſed: he that curſeth thee, ſhall be reckoned accurſed.

10 And Balac being angry againſt Balaam, clapped his hands together and ſaid: I called thee to curſe my enemies, and thou on the contrary haſt bleſſed them three times.

11 Return to thy place. I had determined indeed greatly to honour thee, but the Lord hath deprived thee of the honour deſigned for thee.

12 Balaam made anſwer to Balac: Did I not ſay to thy meſſengers, whom thou ſenteſt to me:

13 ‖ If Balac would give me his houſe full of ſilver and gold, I cannot go beyond the word of the Lord my God, to utter any thing of my own head either good, or evil: but whatſoever the Lord ſhall ſay, that I will ſpeak? Supra 22. 8.

14 But yet going to my people, I will give thee counſel, what thy people ſhall do to this people in the latter days.

15 Therefore taking up his parable, again he ſaid: Balaam the ſon of Beor hath ſaid: The man whoſe eye is ſtopped up, hath ſaid:

16 The hearer of the words of God hath ſaid, who knoweth the doctrine of the Higheſt, and ſeeth the viſions of the Almighty, who falling hath his eyes opened:

17 I ſhall ſee him, but not now: I ſhall behold him, but not near. ‖ A STAR SHALL RISE out of Jacob, and a ſcepter ſhall ſpring up from Iſrael: and ſhall ſtrike the chiefs of Moab, and ſhall waſte all the children of Seth. ‖ Matt. 2. 2.

18 And he ſhall poſſeſs Idumea: the inheritance of Seir ſhall come to their enemies: but Iſrael ſhall do manfully.

19 Out of Jacob ſhall he come that ſhall rule, and ſhall deſtroy the remains of the city.

20 And when he ſaw Amalec, he took up his parable, and ſaid: Amalec the beginning of nations, whoſe latter ends ſhall be deſtroyed.

21 He ſaw alſo the Cinite: and took up his parable, and ſaid: Thy habitation indeed is ſtrong: but though thou build thy neſt in a rock, 22 And thou be choſen of the ſtock of Cin, how long ſhalt thou be able to continue? For Aſſur ſhall take thee captive.

23 And taking up his parable, again he ſaid: Alas, who ſhall live when God ſhall do theſe things?

24 ‖ They ſhall come in galleys from Italy, they ſhall overcome the Aſſyrians, and ſhall waſte the Hebrews, and at the laſt they themſelves alſo ſhall periſh. ‖ Dan. 11. 30.

25 And Balaam roſe, and returned to his place: Balac alſo returned the way that he came.

9 And there were ſlain four and twenty thouſand men.

10 And the Lord ſaid to Moſes:

62 And all that were numbered, were twenty three thousand males from one month old and upward: for they were not reckoned up among the children of Israel, neither was a possession given to them with the rest.

63 This is the number of the children of Israel, that were enrolled by Moses and Eleazar the priest, in the plains of Moab upon the Jordan over-against Jericho.

‖ 1 Cor. 10. 5. 64 ‖ Among whom there was not one of them that were numbered before by Moses and Aaron in the desart of Sinai.

† Supra 14. 23. & 24. 65 † For the Lord had foretold that they should all die in the wilderness. And none remained of them, but Caleb the son of Jephone, and Josue the son of Nun.

CHAP. XXVII.

The law of inheritance. Josue is appointed to succeed Moses.

A. M. 2553. ‖ THEN came the daughters of Salphaad, the son of Hepher, the son of Galaad, the son of Machir, the son of Manasses, who was the son of Joseph: and their names are, Maala, and Noa, and Hegla, and Melcha, and Thersa.

‖ Supra 26. 32. & 33. Infra 36. 1. Jos. 17. 1.

2 And they stood before Moses and Eleazar the priest, and all the princes of the people at the door of the tabernacle of the covenant, and said:

3 Our father died in the desart, and was not in the sedition, † Supra 16. that was raised against the Lord under Core, but he died in his own sin: and he had no male children. Why is his name taken away out of his family, because he had no son? Give us a possession among the kinsmen of our father.

4 And Moses referred their cause to the judgment of the Lord.

5 And the Lord said to him:

6 The daughters of Salphaad demand a just thing: give them a possession among their father's kindred, and let them succeed him in his inheritance.

7 And to the children of Israel thou shalt speak these things:

8 When a man dieth without a son, his inheritance shall pass to his daughter.

9 If he have no daughter, his brethren shall succeed him.

10 And if he have no brethren, you shall give the inheritance to his father's brethren.

11 But if he have no uncles by the father, the inheritance shall be given to them that are the next a-kin. And this shall be to the children of Israel sacred by a perpetual law, as the Lord hath commanded Moses.

12 * The Lord also said to Moses: ‖ Go up into this mountain Abarim, and view from thence the land which I will give to the children of Israel. * A. M. 2553. ‖ Deut. 32. 49.

13 And when thou shalt have seen it, thou also shalt go to thy people, as thy brother Aaron is gone:

‖ Supra 20. 12. Deut. 32. 51. 14 ‖ Because you offended me in the desart of Sin in the contradiction of the multitude, neither would you sanctify me before them at the waters. These are the waters of contradiction in Cades of the desart of Sin.

15 And Moses answered him:

16 May the Lord the God of the spirits of all flesh provide a man, that may be over this multitude:

17 And may go out and in before them, and may lead them out, or bring them in: lest the people of the Lord be as sheep without a shepherd.

‖ Deut. 3. 21. 18 And the Lord said to him: ‖ Take Josue the son of Nun, a man in whom is the Spirit, and put thy hand upon him.

19 And he shall stand before Eleazar the priest and all the multitude:

20 And thou shalt give him precepts in the sight of all, and part of thy glory, that all the congregation of the children of Israel may hear him.

21 If any thing be to be done, Eleazar the priest shall consult the Lord for him. He and all the children of Israel with him, and the rest of the multitude shall go out and go in at his word.

22 Moses did as the Lord had commanded. And when he had taken Josue, he set him before Eleazar the priest, and all the assembly of the people,

23 And laying his hands on his head, he repeated all things that the Lord had commanded.

CHAP. XXVIII.

Sacrifices are appointed as well for every day as for ſabbaths, and other feſtivals.

THE Lord alſo ſaid to Moſes:
2 Command the children of Iſrael, and thou ſhalt ſay to them: Offer ye my oblation and my bread, and burnt-ſacrifice of moſt ſweet odour, in their due ſeaſons.
3 Theſe are the ſacrifices which you ſhall offer: ‖ Two lambs of a year old without blemiſh every day for the perpetual holocauſt:
‖ Exod. 29. 38.
4 One you ſhall offer in the morning, and the other in the evening:
5 And the tenth part of an ephi of flour, which ſhall be tempered with the pureſt oil, of the meaſure of the fourth part of a hin.
6 It is the continual holocauſt which you offered in mount Sinai for a moſt ſweet odour of a ſacrifice by fire to the Lord.
7 And for a libation you ſhall offer of wine the fourth part of a hin for every lamb in the ſanctuary of the Lord.
8 And you ſhall offer the other lamb in like manner in the evening according to all the rites of the morning ſacrifice, and of the libations thereof, an oblation of moſt ſweet odour to the Lord.
‖ Mat. 12. 5.
9 ‖ And on the ſabbath day, you ſhall offer two lambs of a year old without blemiſh, and two tenths of flour tempered with oil in ſacrifice, and the libations
10 Which regularly are poured out every ſabbath for the perpetual holocauſt.
11 And on the firſt day of the month you ſhall offer a holocauſt to the Lord, two calves of the herd, one ram, and ſeven lambs, of a year old, without blemiſh,
12 And three tenths of flour tempered with in ſacrifice oil for every calf: and two tenths of flour tempered with oil for every ram:
13 And the tenth of a tenth of flour tempered with oil in ſacrifice for every lamb. It is a holocauſt of moſt ſweet odour and an offering by fire to the Lord.
14 And theſe ſhall be the libations of wine that are to be poured out for every victim: Half a hin for every calf, a third for a ram, and a fourth for a lamb. This ſhall be the holocauſt for every month, as they ſucceed one another in the courſe of the year.
15 A buck-goat alſo ſhall be offered to the Lord for a ſin-offering over and above the perpetual holocauſt with its libations.
‖ Exod. 12. 18. Levit. 23. 5.
16 ‖ And in the firſt month, on the fourteenth day of the month ſhall be the phaſe of the Lord,
17 And on the fifteenth day the ſolemn feaſt: ſeven days ſhall they eat unleavened bread.
18 And the firſt day of them ſhall be venerable and holy: you ſhall not do any ſervile work therein.
19 And you ſhall offer a burnt-ſacrifice a holocauſt to the Lord, two calves of the herd, one ram, ſeven lambs of a year old, without blemiſh:
20 And for the ſacrifices of every one three tenths of flour which ſhall be tempered with oil, to every calf, and two tenths to every ram,
21 And the tenth of a tenth, to every lamb, that is to ſay, to all the ſeven lambs:
22 And one buck-goat for ſin, to make atonement for you,
23 Beſides the morning holocauſt which you ſhall always offer.
24 So ſhall you do every day of the ſeven days for the food of the fire, and for a moſt ſweet odour to the Lord, which ſhall riſe from the holocauſt, and from the libations of each.
25 The ſeventh day alſo ſhall be moſt ſolemn and holy unto you: you ſhall do no ſervile work therein.
26 The day alſo of firſt-fruits, when after the weeks are accompliſhed, you ſhall offer new fruits to the Lord, ſhall be venerable and holy: you ſhall do no ſervile work therein.
27 And you ſhall offer a holocauſt for a moſt ſweet odour to the Lord, two calves of the herd, one ram, and ſeven lambs of a year old, without blemiſh:
28 And in the ſacrifices of them three tenths of flour tempered with oil to every calf, two to every ram,
29 The tenth of a tenth to every lamb, which in all are ſeven lambs: a goat alſo
30 Which is ſlain for expiation: beſide the perpetual holocauſt and the libations thereof.
31 You ſhall offer them all without blemiſh with their libations.

CHAP. XXIX.

39 These things shall you offer to the Lord in your solemnities: besides your vows and voluntary oblations for holocaust, for sacrifice, for libation, and for victims of peace-offerings.

CHAP. XXX.

Of vows and oaths: and their obligation.

AND Moses told the children of Israel all that the Lord had commanded him:

2 And he said to the princes of the tribes of the children of Israel: This is the word that the Lord hath commanded:

3 If any man make a vow to the Lord, or bind himself by an oath: he shall not make his word void, but shall fulfil all that he promised.

4 If a woman vow any thing, and bind herself with an oath, being in her father's house, and but yet a girl in age: if her father knew the vow that she hath promised, and the oath wherewith she hath bound her soul, and held his peace, she shall be bound by the vow:

5 Whatsoever she promised and swore, she shall fulfil in deed.

6 But if her father, immediately as soon as he heard it, gain-said it, both her vows and her oaths shall be void, neither shall she be bound to what she promised, because her father hath gain-said it.

7 If she have a husband, and shall vow any thing, and the word once going out of her mouth shall bind her soul by an oath:

8 The day that her husband shall hear it, and not gain-say it, she shall be bound to the vow, and shall give whatsoever she promised.

9 But if as soon as he heareth he gain-say it, and make her promises and the words wherewith she had bound her soul of no effect: the Lord will forgive her.

10 The widow, and she that is divorced, shall fulfil whatsoever they vow.

11 If the wife in the house of her husband, hath bound herself by vow and by oath,

12 If her husband hear, and hold his peace, and doth not disallow the promise, she shall accomplish whatsoever she had promised.

13 But if forthwith he gain-say it, she shall not be bound by the promise: because her husband gain-said it, and the Lord will be merciful to her.

14 If she vow and bind herself by oath, to afflict her soul by fasting, or abstinence from other things, it shall depend on the will of her husband, whether she shall do it, or not do it.

15 But if the husband hearing it hold his peace, and defer the declaring his mind till another day: whatsoever she had vowed and promised, she shall fulfil: because immediately as he heard it, he held his peace.

16 But if he gain-say it after that he knew it, he shall bear her iniquity.

17 These are the laws, which the Lord appointed to Moses between the husband and the wife, between the father and the daughter that is as yet but a girl in age, or that abideth in her father's house.

CHAP. XXXI.

The Madianites are slain for having drawn the people of Israel into sin. The dividing of the booty.

AND the Lord spoke to Moses, saying: A. M. 2553. Ante C. 1451.

2 Revenge first the children of Israel on the Madianites, and so thou shalt be gathered to thy people.

3 And Moses forthwith said: || Arm of you men to fight, who may take the revenge of the Lord on the Madianites. || Supra 25. 17.

4 Let a thousand men be chosen out of every tribe of Israel to be sent to the war.

5 And they gave a thousand of every tribe, that is to say, twelve thousand men well appointed for battle:

6 And Moses sent them with Phinees the son of Eleazar the priest, and he delivered to him the holy vessels, and the trumpets to sound.

7 And when they had fought against the Madianites and had overcome them, they slew all the men.

8 || And their kings Evi, and Recem, and Sur, and Hur, and Rebe, five princes of the nation: Balaam also the son of Beor they killed with the sword. || Jos. 13. 21.

9 And they took their women, and their children captives, and all their cattle, and all their goods: and all their possessions they plundered:

10 And all their cities, and their villages, and castles, they burned.

11 And they carried away the booty, and all that they had taken both of men and of beasts.

12 And they brought them to Moses, and Eleazar the priest, and to all the multitude of the children of Israel. But the rest of the things for use they carried to the camp on the plains of Moab, beside the Jordan over-against Jericho.

13 And Moses and Eleazar the priest, and all the princes of the ſynagogue went forth to meet them without the camp.

14 And Moſes being angry with the chief officers of the army, the tribunes, and the centurions that were come from the battle,

15 Said: Why have you ſaved the women?

‖ Supra 25. 18. 16 ‖ Are not theſe they, that deceived the children of Iſrael by the counſel of Balaam, and made you tranſgreſs againſt the Lord by the ſin of Phogor, for which alſo the people was puniſhed.

‖ Judges 21. 11. 17 ‖ Therefore kill all that are of the male ſex, even of the children: and put to death the women, that have carnally known men.

18 But the girls, and all the women that are virgins ſave for yourſelves:

19 And ſtay without the camp ſeven days. He that hath killed a man, or touched one that is killed, ſhall be purified the third day and the ſeventh day.

20 And of all the ſpoil, every garment, or veſſel, or any thing made for uſe, of the ſkins, or hair of goats, or of wood, ſhall be purified.

21 Eleazar alſo the prieſt ſpoke to the men of the army, that had fought, in this manner: This is the ordinance of the law, ‖ which the Lord hath commanded Moſes:

‖ Levit. 6. 28. & 11. 33. & 15. 11.

22 Gold, and ſilver, and braſs, and iron, and lead, and tin,

23 And all that may paſs through the fire, ſhall be purified by fire, but whatſoever cannot abide the fire, ſhall be ſanctified with the water of expiation:

24 And you ſhall waſh your garments the ſeventh day, and being purified, you ſhall afterwards enter into the camp.

25 And the Lord ſaid to Moſes:

26 Take the ſum of the things that were taken both of man and beaſt, thou and Eleazar the prieſt and the princes of the multitude:

27 And thou ſhalt divide the ſpoil equally, between them that fought and went out to the war, and between the reſt of the multitude.

28 And thou ſhalt ſeparate a portion to the Lord from them that fought and were in the battle, one ſoul of five hundred as well of perſons as of oxen and aſſes and ſheep,

29 And thou ſhalt give it to Eleazar the prieſt, becauſe they are the firſt-fruits of the Lord.

30 Out of the moiety alſo of the children of Iſrael thou ſhalt take the fiftieth head of perſons, and of oxen, and aſſes, and ſheep, and of all beaſts, and thou ſhalt give them to the Levites that watch in the charge of the tabernacle of the Lord.

31 And Moſes and Eleazar did as the Lord had commanded.

32 And the ſpoil which the army had taken, was ſix hundred ſeventy five thouſand ſheep,

33 Seventy two thouſand oxen,

34 Sixty one thouſand aſſes:

35 And thirty two thouſand perſons of the female ſex, that had not known men.

36 And one half was given to them that had been in the battle, to wit, three hundred thirty ſeven thouſand five hundred ſheep:

37 Out of which, for the portion of the Lord, were reckoned ſix hundred ſeventy five ſheep.

38 And out of the thirty ſix thouſand oxen, ſeventy two oxen:

39 Out of the thirty thouſand aſſes, ſixty one aſſes:

40 Out of the ſixteen thouſand perſons, there fell to the portion of the Lord thirty two ſouls.

41 And Moſes delivered the number of the firſt-fruits of the Lord to Eleazar the prieſt, as had been commanded him,

42 Out of the half of the children of Iſrael, which he had ſeparated for them that had been in the battle.

43 But out of the half that fell to the reſt of the multitude, that is to ſay, out of the three hundred thirty ſeven thouſand five hundred ſheep,

44 And out of the thirty ſix thouſand oxen,

45 And out of the thirty thouſand five hundred aſſes,

46 And out of the ſixteen thouſand perſons,

47 Moſes took the fiftieth head, and gave it to the Levites that watched in the tabernacle of the Lord, as the Lord had commanded.

48 And when the commanders of the army, and the tribunes, and centurions were come to Moſes, they ſaid:

49 We thy ſervants have reckoned up the number of the fighting men, whom we had under our hand: and not ſo much as one was wanting.

CHAP. XXXI. VER. 16. The ſin of Phogor. The ſin committed in the worſhip of Beelphegor.

VER. 17. Of children. Women and children, ordinarily ſpeaking, were not to be killed in war, Deut. xx. 14. But the great Lord of life and death was pleaſed to order it otherwiſe in the preſent caſe, in deteſtation of the wickedneſs of this people, who by the counſel of Balaam, had ſent their women among the Iſraelites on purpoſe to draw them from God.

50 Therefore we offer as gifts to the Lord what gold every one of us could find in the booty, in garters and tablets, rings and bracelets, and chains, that thou mayſt pray to the Lord for us.

51 And Moſes and Eleazar the prieſt received all the gold in divers kinds, 52 In weight ſixteen thouſand ſeven hundred and fifty ſicles, from the tribunes and from the centurions.

53 For that which every one had taken in the booty, was his own.

54 And that which was received they brought into the tabernacle of the teſtimony, for a memorial of the children of Iſrael before the Lord.

CHAP. XXXII.

The tribes of Ruben and Gad, and half of the tribe of Manaſſes, receive their inheritance on the eaſt ſide of Jordan, upon conditions approved of by Moſes.

Deut. 3. 12. AND the ſons of Ruben and Gad had many flocks of cattle, and their ſubſtance in beaſts was infinite. And when they ſaw the lands of Jazer and Galaad fit for feeding cattle,

† A. M. 2553. 2 † They came to Moſes and Eleazar the prieſt, and the princes of the multitude, and ſaid:

3 Ataroth, and Dibon, and Jazer, and Nemra, Heſebon, and Eleale, and Saban, and Nebo, and Beon,

4 The land, which the Lord hath conquered in the ſight of the children of Iſrael, is a very fertile ſoil for the feeding of beaſts: and we thy ſervants have very much cattle:

5 And we pray thee, if we have found favour in thy ſight, that thou give it to us thy ſervants in poſſeſſion, and make us not paſs over the Jordan.

6 And Moſes anſwered them: What, ſhall your brethren go to fight, and will you ſit here?

7 Why do ye overturn the minds of the children of Iſrael, that they may not dare to paſs into the place which the Lord hath given them?

8 Was it not thus your fathers did, when I ſent from Cadeſbarne to view the land?

‖ Supra 13. 24. 9 ‖ And when they were come as far as the valley of the cluſter, having viewed all the country, they overturned the hearts of the children of Iſrael, that they ſhould not enter into the coaſts, which the Lord gave them.

‖ Supra 14. 29. 10 ‖ And he ſwore in his anger, ſaying:

11 If theſe men, that came up out of Egypt, from twenty years old and upward, ſhall ſee the land, which I promiſed with an oath to Abraham, Iſaac, and Jacob: becauſe they would not follow me,

12 Except Caleb the ſon of Jephone the Cenezite, and Joſue the ſon of Nun: theſe have fulfilled my will.

13 And the Lord being angry againſt Iſrael, led them about through the deſart forty years, until the whole generation, that had done evil in his ſight, was conſumed.

14 And behold, ſaid he, you are riſen up inſtead of your fathers, the increaſe and offspring of ſinful men, to augment the fury of the Lord againſt Iſrael.

15 For if you will not follow him, he will leave the people in the wilderneſs, and you ſhall be the cauſe of the deſtruction of all.

16 But they coming near, ſaid: We will make ſheep-folds, and ſtalls for our cattle, and ſtrong cities for our children:

17 And we ourſelves will go armed and ready for battle before the children of Iſrael, until we bring them in unto their places. Our little ones and all we have, ſhall be in walled cities, for fear of the ambuſhes of the inhabitants.

18 We will not return into our houſes, until the children of Iſrael poſſeſs their inheritance:

19 Neither will we ſeek any thing beyond the Jordan, becauſe we have already our poſſeſſion on the eaſt ſide thereof.

20 And Moſes ſaid to them: ‖ If you do what you promiſe, go on well appointed for war before the Lord: ‖ Joſ. 1. 14.

21 And let every fighting man paſs over the Jordan, until the Lord overthrow his enemies,

22 And all the land be brought under him: then ſhall you be blameleſs before the Lord and before Iſrael, and you ſhall obtain the countries that you deſire, before the Lord.

23 But if you do not what you ſay, no man can doubt but you ſin againſt God: and know ye that your ſin ſhall overtake you.

24 Build therefore cities for your children, and folds and ſtalls for your ſheep and beaſts: and accompliſh what you have promiſed.

25 ‖ And the children of Gad and Ruben ſaid to Moſes: We are thy ſervants, we will do what my lord commandeth. ‖ Joſ. 4. 12.

26 We will leave our children, and our wives, and ſheep, and cattle, in the cities of Galaad:

27 And we thy ſervants all well appointed will march on to the war, as thou my lord ſpeakeſt.

28 Moſes therefore commanded Eleazar the prieſt, and Joſue the ſon of Nun, and the princes of the families of all the tribes of Iſrael, and ſaid to them:

‖ Deut. 3. 12. Joſ. 13. 8. & 22. 4.

29 ‖ If the children of Gad, and the children of Ruben paſs with you over the Jordan all armed for war before the Lord, and the land be made ſubject to you: give them Galaad in poſſeſſion.

30 But if they will not paſs armed with you into the land of Chanaan, let them receive places to dwell in among you.

31 And the children of Gad, and the children of Ruben anſwered: As the lord hath ſpoken to his ſervants, ſo will we do:

32 We will go armed before the Lord into the land of Chanaan, and we confeſs that we have already received our poſſeſſion beyond the Jordan.

33 Moſes therefore gave to the children of Gad and of Ruben, and to the half tribe of Manaſſes the ſon of Joſeph, the kingdom of Sehon king of the Amorrhites, and the kingdom of Og king of Baſan, and their land and the cities thereof round about.

34 And the ſons of Gad built Dibon, and Ataroth, and Aroer,

35 And Etroth, and Sophan, and Jazer, and Jegbaa,

36 And Bethnemra, and Betharan, fenced cities, and folds for their cattle.

37 But the children of Ruben built Heſebon, and Eleale, and Cariathaim, 38 And Nabo, and Baalmeon (their names being changed) and Sabama: giving names to the cities which they had built.

‖ Gen. 50. 22.

39 ‖ Moreover the children of Machir, the ſon of Manaſſes, went into Galaad, and waſted it cutting off the Amorrhites the inhabitants thereof.

40 And Moſes gave the land of Galaad to Machir the ſon of Manaſſes, and he dwelt in it.

41 And Jair the ſon of Manaſſes went, and took the villages thereof, and he called them Havoth Jair, that is to ſay, the villages of Jair.

42 Nobe alſo went, and took Canath with the villages thereof: and he called it by his own name Nobe.

CHAP. XXXIII.

The manſions or journeys of the children of Iſrael towards the land of promiſe.

THESE are the manſions of the children of Iſrael, who went out of Egypt by their troops under the conduct of Moſes and Aaron,

2 Which Moſes wrote down according to the places of their encamping, which they changed by the commandment of the Lord.

3 Now the children of Iſrael departed from Rameſſes the firſt month, on the fifteenth day of the firſt month, the day after the phaſe, with a mighty hand, in the ſight of all the Egyptians,

4 Who were burying their firſt-born, whom the Lord had ſlain (upon their gods alſo he had executed vengeance), Exod. 12. 12.

5 And they camped in Soccoth.

6 And from Soccoth they came into Etham, which is in the uttermoſt borders of the wilderneſs.

7 ‖ Departing from thence they came over-againſt Phihahiroth, which looketh towards Beelſephon, and they camped before Magdalum. ‖ Exod. 14. 2.

8 And departing from Phihahiroth, they paſſed through the midſt of the ſea into the wilderneſs: ‖ and having marched three days through the deſart of Etham, they camped in Mara. ‖ Exod. 15 22.

9 † And departing from Mara, they came into Elim, where there were twelve fountains of waters, and ſeventy palm trees: and there they camped. ‖ Exod. 15. 27.

10 But departing from thence alſo, they pitched their tents by the Red Sea. And departing from the Red Sea, 11 They camped in the deſart of Sin.

12 And they removed from thence, and came to Daphca.

13 And departing from Daphca, they camped in Alus.

14 And departing from Alus, they pitched their tents in Raphidim, ‖ where the people wanted water to drink. ‖ Exod. 17 1.

15 And departing from Raphidim, they camped in the deſart of Sinai.

16 But departing alſo from the deſart ‖ of Sinai, they came to the graves of luſt. ‖ Exod. 19 2. Supra 11. 34.

17 And departing from the graves of luſt, they camped in Haſeroth.

CHAP. XXXIII. VER. 1. The manſions. Theſe manſions, or journeys of the children of Iſrael from Egypt to the land of promiſe, were figures, according to the fathers, of the ſteps and degrees by which chriſtians leaving ſin are to advance from virtue to virtue till they come to the heavenly manſions, after this life, to ſee and enjoy God.

† Supra 13. 1. 18 † And from Haseroth they came to Rethma.

19 And departing from Rethma, they camped in Remmomphares.

20 And they departed from thence and came to Lebna.

21 Removing from Lebna they camped in Ressa.

22 And departing from Ressa, they came to Ceelatha.

23 And they removed from thence and camped in the mountain Sepher.

24 Departing from the mountain Sepher, they came to Arada.

25 From thence they went and camped in Maceloth.

26 And departing from Maceloth, they came to Thahath.

27 Removing from Thahath they camped in Thare.

28 And they departed from thence, and pitched their tents in Methca.

29 And removing from Methca, they camped in Hesmona.

30 And departing from Hesmona, they came to Moseroth.

31 And removing from Moseroth, they camped in Benejaacan.

‖ Deut. 10. 7. 32 ‖ And departing from Benejaacan, they came to mount Gadgad.

33 From thence they went and camped in Jetebatha.

34 And from Jetebatha they came to Hebrona.

35 And departing from Hebrona, they camped in Asiongaber.

‖ Supra 20. 1. 36 ‖ They removed from thence and came into the desart of Sin, which is Cades.

37 And departing from Cades, they camped in mount Hor, in the uttermost borders of the land of Edom.

‖ Supra 20. 25. Deut. 32. 50. 38 ‖ And Aaron the priest went up into mount Hor at the commandment of the Lord: and there he died in the fortieth year of the coming forth of the children of Israel out of Egypt, * the fifth month, the first day of the month,

* A. M. 2552. Ante C. 1452. 39 When he was a hundred and twenty three years old.

40 And king Arad the Chananite, who dwelt towards the south, heard that the children of Israel were come to the land of Chanaan.

41 And they departed from mount Hor, and camped in Salmona.

42 From whence they removed and came to Phunon.

43 And departing from Phunon, they camped in Oboth.

44 And from Oboth they came to Ijeabarim, which is in the borders of the Moabites.

45 And departing from Ijeabarim they pitched their tents in Dibongab.

46 From thence they went and camped in Helmondeblathaim.

47 And departing from Helmondeblathaim, they came to the mountains of Abarim over-against Nabo.

48 And departing from the mountains of Abarim, they passed to the plains of Moab, by the Jordan, over-against Jericho.

49 And there they camped from Bethsimoth even to Abelsatim in the plains of the Moabites.

* A. M. 2553. 50 Where the Lord said to Moses: *

51 Command the children of Israel, and say to them: When you shall have passed over the Jordan, entering into the land of Chanaan,

‖ Deut. 7. 5. Judges 2. 2. 52 Destroy all the inhabitants of that land: ‖ beat down their pillars, and break in pieces their statues, and waste all their high places,

53 Cleansing the land, and dwelling in it. For I have given it you for a possession.

54 And you shall divide it among you by lot. To the more you shall give a larger part, and to the fewer a lesser. To every one as the lot shall fall, so shall the inheritance be given. The possession shall be divided by the tribes and the families.

55 But if you will not kill the inhabitants of the land: they that remain, shall be unto you as nails in your eyes, and spears in your sides, and they shall be your adversaries in the land of your habitation.

56 And whatsoever I had thought to do to them, I will do to you.

CHAP. XXXIV.

The limits of Chanaan; with the names of the men that shall make the division of it.

AND the Lord spoke to Moses, saying:

A. M. 2553. 2 Command the children of Israel, and thou shalt say to them: When you are entered into the land of Chanaan, and it shall be fallen unto your possession by lot, it shall be bounded by these limits:

‖ Jos. 15. 2. 3 ‖ The south-side shall begin from the wilderness of Sin, which is by Edom: and shall have the most salt sea for its furthest limits eastward:

CHAP. XXXIV. VER. 3. The most salt sea. The lake of Sodom, otherwise called the Dead sea.

4 Which limits ſhall go round on the ſouth ſide by the aſcent of the Scorpion, and ſo into Senna, and reach toward the ſouth as far as Cadeſbarne, from whence the frontiers ſhall go out to the town called Adar, and ſhall reach as far as Aſemona.

5 And the limits ſhall fetch a compaſs from Aſemona to the torrent of Egypt, and ſhall end in the ſhore of the great ſea.

6 And the weſt ſide ſhall begin from the great ſea, and the ſame ſhall be the end thereof.

7 But toward the north ſide the borders ſhall begin from the great ſea, reaching to the moſt high mountain,

8 From which they ſhall come to Emath as far as the borders of Sedada:

9 And the limits ſhall go as far as Zephrona, and the village of Enan. Theſe ſhall be the borders on the north ſide.

10 From thence they ſhall mark out the bounds towards the eaſt ſide from the village of Enan unto Sephama,

11 And from Sephama the bounds ſhall go down to Rebla over-againſt the fountain of Daphnis: from thence they ſhall come eaſtward to the ſea of Cenereth,

12 And ſhall reach as far as the Jordan, and at the laſt ſhall be cloſed in by the moſt ſalt ſea. This ſhall be your land with its borders round about.

13 And Moſes commanded the children of Iſrael, ſaying: This ſhall be the land which you ſhall poſſeſs by lot, and which the Lord hath commanded to be given to the nine tribes, and to the half tribe.

14 For the tribe of the children of Ruben by their families, and the tribe of the children of Gad according to the number of their kindreds, and half of the tribe of Manaſſes,

15 That is two tribes and a half, have received their portion beyond the Jordan over-againſt Jericho at the eaſt ſide.

16 And the Lord ſaid to Moſes:

‖ Joſ. 14. 1. & 2. 17 ‖ Theſe are the names of the men, that ſhall divide the land unto you Eleazar: the prieſt, and Joſue the ſon of Nun,

18 And one prince of every tribe,

19 Whoſe names are theſe: Of the tribe of Juda, Caleb the ſon of Jephone.

20 Of the tribe of Simeon, Samuel the ſon of Ammiud.

21 Of the tribe of Benjamin, Elidad the ſon of Chaſelon.

22 Of the tribe of the children of Dan, Bocci the ſon of Jogli.

23 Of the children of Joſeph of the tribe of Manaſſes, Hanniel the ſon of Ephod.

24 Of the tribe of Ephraim, Camuel the ſon of Sephthan.

25 Of the tribe of Zabulon, Eliſaphan the ſon of Pharnach.

26 Of the tribe of Iſſachar, Phaltiel the prince the ſon of Ozan.

27 Of the tribe of Aſer, Ahiud the ſon of Salomi.

28 Of the tribe of Nephtali: Phedael the ſon of Ammiud.

29 Theſe are they whom the Lord hath commanded to divide the land of Chanaan to the children of Iſrael.

CHAP. XXXV.

Cities are appointed for the Levites. Of which ſix are to be the cities of refuge.

AND the Lord ſpoke theſe things alſo to Moſes in the plains of Moab by the Jordan, over-againſt Jericho: A. M. 2553.

‖ Joſ. 21. 2 ‖ 2 Command the children of Iſrael that they give to the Levites out of their poſſeſſions,

3 Cities to dwell in, and their ſuburbs round about: that they may abide in the towns, and the ſuburbs may be for their cattle and beaſts:

4 Which ſuburbs ſhall reach from the walls of the cities outward, a thouſand paces on every ſide:

5 Toward the eaſt ſhall be two thouſand cubits: and toward the ſouth in like manner ſhall be two thouſand cubits: toward the ſea alſo, which looketh to the weſt, ſhall be the ſame extent: and the north ſide ſhall be bounded with the like limits. And the cities ſhall be in the midſt, and the ſuburbs without.

‖ Deut. 19. Joſ. 20. 2 6 ‖ And among the cities, which you ſhall give to the Levites, ſix ſhall be ſeparated for refuge to fugitives, that he who hath ſhed blood may flee to them: and beſides theſe there ſhall be other forty two cities,

7 That is, in all forty eight with their ſuburbs.

8 And of theſe cities which ſhall be given out of the poſſeſſions of the children of Iſrael, from them that have more, more ſhall be taken: and from them that have leſs, fewer. Each ſhall give towns to the Levites according to the extent of their inheritance.

9 The Lord ſaid to Moſes:

VER. 4. The Scorpion. A mountain ſo called from having a great number of ſcorpions.

VER. 5. The great ſea. The Mediterranean.

VER. 7. The moſt high mountain. Libanus.

VER. 11. Sea of Cenereth. This is the ſea of Galilee, illuſtrated by the miracles of our Lord.

10 Speak to the children of Israel, and thou shalt say to them: When you shall have passed over the Jordan into the land of Chanaan, 11 Determine what cities shall be for the refuge of fugitives, who have shed blood against their will.

12 And when the fugitive shall be in them, the kinsman of him that is slain may not have power to kill him, until he stand before the multitude, and his cause be judged.

13 ‖ And of those cities, that are separated for the refuge of fugitives, ‖ Deut. 4. 41. Jos. 20. 7. & 8.

14 Three shall be beyond the Jordan, and three in the land of Chanaan,

15 As well for the children of Israel as for strangers and sojourners, that he may flee to them, who hath shed blood against his will.

16 If any man strike with iron, and he die that was struck: he shall be guilty of murder, and he himself shall die.

17 If he throw a stone, and he that is struck die: he shall be punished in the same manner.

18 If he that is struck with wood die: he shall be revenged by the blood of him that struck him.

19 The kinsman of him that was slain, shall kill the murderer: as soon as he apprehendeth him, he shall kill him.

20 ‖ If through hatred any one push a man, or fling any thing at him with ill design: ‖ Deut. 19. 11.

21 Or being his enemy, strike him with his hand, and he die: the striker shall be guilty of murder: the kinsman of him that was slain as soon as he findeth him, shall kill him.

22 But if by chance-medley, and without hatred,

23 And enmity, he do any of these things,

24 And this be proved in the hearing of the people, and the cause be debated between him that struck, and the next of kin:

25 The innocent shall be delivered from the hand of the revenger, and shall be brought back by sentence into the city, to which he had fled, and he shall abide there until the death of the high-priest, that is anointed with the holy oil.

26 If the murderer be found without the limits of the cities that are appointed for the banished,

27 And be struck by him that is the avenger of blood: he shall not be guilty that killed him.

28 For the fugitive ought to have stayed in the city until the death of the high-priest: And after he is dead, then shall the manslayer return to his own country.

29 These things shall be perpetual, and for an ordinance in all your dwellings.

30 The murderer shall be punished by witnesses: none shall be condemned upon the evidence of one man.

31 You shall not take money of him, that is guilty of blood, but he shall die forthwith.

32 The banished and fugitives before the death of the high-priest may by no means return into their own cities.

33 Defile not the land of your habitation, which is stained with the blood of the innocent: neither can it otherwise be expiated, but by his blood that hath shed the blood of another.

34 And thus shall your possession be cleansed, myself abiding with you. For I am the Lord that dwell among the children of Israel.

CHAP. XXXVI.

That the inheritances may not be alienated from one tribe to another, all are to marry within their own tribes.

AND the princes of the families of Galaad, the son of Machir, the son of Manasses of the stock of the children of Joseph came: and spoke to Moses before the princes of Israel, and said: Supra 27. 1.

2 The Lord hath commanded thee, my lord, that thou shouldst divide the land by lot to the children of Israel, and that thou shouldst give to the daughters of Salphaad our brother the possession due to their father:

3 Now if men of another tribe take them to wives, their possession will follow them, and being transferred to another tribe, will be a diminishing of our inheritance.

4 And so it shall come to pass, that when the jubilee, that is the fiftieth year of remission is come, the distribution made by the lots shall be confounded, and the possession of the one shall pass to the others.

5 Moses answered the children of Israel, and said by the command of the Lord: The tribe of the children of Joseph hath spoken rightly.

6 And this is the law promulgated by the Lord touching the daughters of Salphaad: ‖ Let them marry to whom they will, only so that it be to men of their own tribe: ‖ Tobias 7. 14.

7 Lest the possession of the children of Israel be mingled from tribe to tribe. For all men ſhall marry wives of their own tribe and kindred:

8 And all women ſhall take huſbands of the ſame tribe: that the inheritance may remain in the families,

9 And that the tribes be not mingled one with another, but remain ſo

10 As they were ſeparated by the Lord. And the daughters of Salphaad did as was commanded:

11 And Maala, and Therſa, and Hegla, and Melcha, and Noa were married to the ſons of their uncle by their father

12 Of the family of Manaſſes, who was the ſon of Joſeph: and the poſſeſſion that had been allotted to them, remained in the tribe and family of their father.

13 Theſe are the commandments and judgments, which the Lord commanded by the hand of Moſes to the children of Iſrael, in the plains of Moab upon the Jordan over-againſt Jericho.

THE BOOK OF DEUTERONOMY.

This book is called DEUTERONOMY, which ſignifies a SECOND LAW, becauſe it repeats and inculcates the ordinances formerly given on mount Sinai, with other precepts not expreſſed before. The Hebrews, from the firſt words in the book, call it, ELLE HADDEBARIM.

CHAP. I.

A repetition of what paſſed at Sinai and Cadeſbarne; and of the people's murmuring and their puniſhment.

THESE are the words, which Moſes ſpoke to all Iſrael beyond the Jordan, in the plain wilderneſs, over-againſt the Red Sea, between Pharan and Thophel and Laban and Haſeroth, where there is very much gold:

2 Eleven days journey from Horeb by the way of mount Seir to Cadeſbarne.

* A. M. 2553. Ante C. 1451. 3 * In the fortieth year, the eleventh month, the firſt day of the month, Moſes ſpoke to the children of Iſrael all that the Lord had commanded him to ſay to them:

‖ Num. 21. 24. 4 ‖ After that he had ſlain Sehon king of the Amorrhites, who dwelt in Heſebon: and Og king of Baſan who abode in Aſtaroth, and in Edrai,

5 Beyond the Jordan in the land of Moab. And Moſes began to expound the law, and to ſay:

6 The Lord our God ſpoke to us in Horeb, ſaying: You have ſtayed long enough in this mountain:

7 Turn you, and come to the mountain of the Amorrhites, and to the other places that are next to it, the plains and the hills and the vales towards the ſouth, and by the ſea ſhore, the land of the Chananites, and of Libanus, as far as the great river Euphrates.

8 Behold, ſaid he, I have delivered it to you: go in and poſſeſs it, concerning which the Lord ſwore to your fathers Abraham, Iſaac, and Jacob, that he would give it to them, and to their ſeed after them.

9 And I ſaid to you at that time:

10 ‖ I alone am not able to bear you: for the Lord your God hath multiplied you, and you are this day as the ſtars of heaven, for multitude. ‖ Exod. 18. 18.

11 (The Lord God of your fathers add to this number many thouſands, and bleſs you as he hath ſpoken.)

12 I alone am not able to bear your buſineſs, and the charge of you and your differences.

13 Let me have from among you wiſe and underſtanding men, and ſuch whoſe converſation is approved among your tribes, that I may appoint them your rulers.

14 Then you anſwered me: The thing is good which thou meaneſt to do.

15 And I took out of your tribes men wiſe and honourable, and appointed them rulers, tribunes, and centurions, and officers over fifties, and over tens, who might teach you all things.

16 And I commanded them, ſaying: Hear them, and judge that which is juſt: ‖ whether he be one of your country, or a ſtranger. ‖ John 7. 24.

17 † There ſhall be no difference of perſons, you ſhall hear the little as well as the great: neither ſhall you reſpect any man's perſon, becauſe it is the judgment of God. And if any thing ſeem hard to you, refer it to me, and I will hear it. † Lev. 19. 15. Infra 16. 19. Prov. 24. 23. Eccli. 42. 1. James 2. 1.

18 And I commanded you all things that you were to do.

19 And departing from Horeb, we paſſed through the terrible and vaſt wilderneſs, which you ſaw, by the way of the mountain of the Amorrhite, as the Lord our God had commanded us. And when we were come into Cadeſbarne, 20 I ſaid to you: You are come to the mountain of the Amorrhite, which the Lord our God will give to us.

21 See the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee: go up and poſſeſs it, as the Lord our God hath ſpoken to thy fathers: fear not, nor be any way diſcouraged.

22 ‖ And you came all to me, and ſaid: Let us ſend men who may view the land, and bring us word what way we ſhall go up, and to what cities we ſhall go. ‖ Num. 13. 3. & 32. 8.

23 And becauſe the ſaying pleaſed me, I ſent of you twelve men, one of every tribe:

24 Who, when they had ſet forward and had gone up to the mountains, came as far as the valley of the cluſter: and having viewed the land,

25 Taking of the fruits thereof, to ſhew its fertility, they brought them to us, and ſaid: The land is good, which the Lord our God will give us.

26 And you would not go up, but being incredulous to the word of the Lord our God,

27 You murmured in your tents, and ſaid: The Lord hateth us, and therefore he hath brought us out of the land of Egypt, that he might deliver us into the hand of the Amorrhite, and deſtroy us.

28 Whither ſhall we go up? the meſſengers have terrified our hearts, ſaying: The multitude is very great, and taller than we: the cities are great, and walled up to the ſky, we have ſeen the ſons of the Enacims there.

29 And I ſaid to you: Fear not, neither be ye afraid of them:

30 The Lord God, who is your leader, himſelf will fight for you, as he did in Egypt in the ſight of all.

31 And in the wilderneſs (as thou haſt ſeen) the Lord thy God hath carried thee, as a man is wont to carry his little ſon, all the way, that you have come, until you came to this place.

32 And yet for all this you did not believe the Lord your God,

33 ‖ Who went before you in the way, and marked out the place, wherein you ſhould pitch your tents, in the night ſhewing you the way by fire, and in the day by the pillar of a cloud. ‖ Exod. 13. 21. Num. 14. 14.

34 And when the Lord had heard the voice of your words, he was angry and ſwore, and ſaid:

35 ‖ Not one of the men of this wicked generation ſhall ſee the good land, which I promiſed with an oath to your fathers: ‖ Num. 14. 23. Pſ. 94. 11.

36 Except Caleb the ſon of Jephone: For he ſhall ſee it, and to him I will give the land, that he hath trodden upon, and to his children, becauſe he hath followed the Lord.

37 Neither is his indignation againſt the people to be wondered at, ſince the Lord was angry with me alſo on your account, and ſaid: Neither ſhalt thou go in thither.

38 But Joſue the ſon of Nun thy miniſter, he ſhall go in for thee: exhort and encourage him, and he ſhall divide the land by lot to Iſrael.

CHAP. I. VER. 28. Walled up to the ſky. A figurative expreſſion, ſignifying the walls to be very high.

39 Your children, of whom you ſaid that they ſhould be led away captives, and your ſons who know not this day the difference of good and evil, they ſhall go in: and to them I will give the land, and they ſhall poſſeſs it.

40 But return you and go into the wilderneſs by the way of the Red ſea.

‖ Num. 14. 40. 41 ‖ And you anſwered me: We have ſinned againſt the Lord: we will go up and fight, as the Lord our God hath commanded. And when you went ready armed unto the mountain, ‖ Num. 14. 42. 42 The Lord ſaid to me: Say to them: ‖ Go not up, and fight not, for I am not with you: leſt you fall before your enemies.

43 I ſpoke, and you hearkened not: but reſiſting the commandment of the Lord, and ſwelling with pride you went up into the mountain.

44 And the Amorrhite that dwelt in the mountains coming out, and meeting you, chaſed you, as bees do: and made ſlaughter of you from Seir as far as Horma.

45 And when you returned and wept before the Lord, he heard you not, neither would he yield to your voice.

46 So you abode in Cadeſbarne a long time.

CHAP. II.

They are forbid to fight againſt the Edomites, Moabites, and Ammonites. Their victory over Sehon king of Heſebon.

AND departing from thence we came into the wilderneſs that leadeth to the Red ſea, as the Lord had ſpoken to me: and we compaſſed mount Seir a long time.

2 And the Lord ſaid to me:

3 You have compaſſed this mountain long enough: go towards the north:

4 And command thou the people, ſaying: You ſhall paſs by the borders of your brethren the children of Eſau, who dwell in Seir, and they will be afraid of you.

5 Take ye then good heed that you ſtir not againſt them. For I will not give you of their land ſo much as the ſtep of one foot can tread upon, becauſe I have given mount Seir to Eſau, for a poſſeſſion.

6 You ſhall buy meats of them for money, and ſhall eat: you ſhall draw waters for money, and ſhall drink.

7 The Lord thy God hath bleſſed thee in every work of thy hands: the Lord thy God dwelling with thee, knoweth thy journey, how thou haſt paſſed through this great wilderneſs, for forty years, and thou haſt wanted nothing.

8 And when we had paſſed by our brethren the children of Eſau, that dwelt in Seir, by the way of the plain from Elath and from Aſiongaber, we came to the way, that leadeth to the deſart of Moab.

‖ Num. 21. 13. 9 And the Lord ſaid to me: ‖ Fight not againſt the Moabites, neither go to battle againſt them: for I will not give thee any of their land, becauſe I have given Ar to the children of Lot in poſſeſſion.

10 The Emims firſt were the inhabitants thereof, a people great, and ſtrong, and ſo tall that like the race of the Enacims,

11 They were eſteemed as giants, and were like the ſons of the Enacims. But the Moabites call them Emims.

12 The Horrhites alſo formerly dwelt in Seir: who being driven out and deſtroyed, the children of Eſau dwelt there, as Iſrael did in the land of his poſſeſſion, which the Lord gave him.

13 Then riſing up to paſs the torrent Zared, we came to it.

14 And the time that we journeyed from Cadeſbarne till we paſſed over the torrent Zared, was thirty eight years: until all the generation of the men that were fit for war was conſumed out of the camp, as the Lord had ſworn:

15 For his hand was againſt them, that they ſhould periſh from the midſt of the camp.

16 And after all the fighting men were dead,

17 The Lord ſpoke to me, ſaying:

18 Thou ſhalt paſs this day the borders of Moab, * the city named Ar: * A. M. 2553. Ante C. 1451.

19 And when thou comeſt nigh the frontiers of the children of Ammon, take heed thou fight not againſt them, nor once move to battle: for I will not give thee of the land of the children of Ammon, becauſe I have given it to the children of Lot for a poſſeſſion.

20 It was accounted a land of giants: and giants formerly dwelt in it, whom the Ammonites call Zomzommims,

21 A people great and many, and of tall ſtature, like the Enacims whom the Lord deſtroyed before their face: and he made them to dwell in their ſtead,

22 As he had done in favour of the children of Eſau, that dwell in Seir, deſtroying the Horrhites, and delivering their land to them, which they poſſeſs to this day.

23 The Hevites alſo, that dwelt in Haſerim as far as Gaza, were expelled by the Cappadocians: who came out of Cappadocia, and deſtroyed them, and dwelt in their ſtead.

24 Ariſe ye, and paſs the torrent Arnon: * behold I have delivered into thy hand Sehon king of Heſebon the Amorrhite, and begin * A. M. 2553.

thou to poſſeſs his land, and make war againſt him.

25 This day will I begin to ſend the dread and fear of thee upon the nations that dwell under the whole heaven: that when they hear thy name they may fear and tremble, and be in pain like women in travail.

‖ Num. 21. 21. 26 ‖ So I ſent meſſengers from the wilderneſs of Cademoth to Sehon the king of Heſebon with peaceable words, ſaying:

27 We will paſs through thy land, we will go along by the high way: we will not turn aſide neither to the right hand, nor to the left.

28 Sell us meat for money, that we may eat: give us water for money, and ſo we will drink. We only aſk that thou wilt let us paſs through,

29 As the children of Eſau have done, that dwell in Seir, and the Moabites, that abide in Ar: until we come to the Jordan, and paſs to the land which the Lord our God will give us.

30 And Sehon the king of Heſebon would not let us paſs: becauſe the Lord thy God had hardened his ſpirit, and fixed his heart, that he might be delivered into thy hands, as now thou ſeeſt.

‖ Amos 2. 9. 31 And the Lord ſaid to me: ‖ Behold I have begun to deliver unto thee Sehon and his land, begin to poſſeſs it.

32 And Sehon came out to meet us with all his people to fight at Jaſa.

33 And the Lord our God delivered him to us: and we ſlew him with his ſons and all his people.

34 And we took all his cities at that time, killing the inhabitants of them, men and women and children. We left nothing of them:

35 Except the cattle which came to the ſhare of them that took them: and the ſpoils of the cities, which we took:

36 From Aroer, which is upon the bank of the torrent Arnon, a town that is ſituate in a valley, as far as Galaad. There was not a village or city, that eſcaped our hands: the Lord our God delivered all unto us.

37 Except the land of the children of Ammon, to which we approached not: and all that border upon the torrent Jeboc, and the cities in the mountains, and all the places which the Lord our God forbad us.

CHAP. III.

The victory over Og king of Baſan. Ruben. Gad and half the tribe of Manaſſes receive their poſſeſſion on the other ſide of Jordan.

THEN we turned and went by the way of Baſan: ‖ and Og the king of Baſan came out to meet us with his people to fight in Edrai. A. M. 2553. ‖ Num. 21. 34.

2 And the Lord ſaid to me: Fear him not: becauſe he is delivered into thy hand, with all his people and his land: and thou ſhalt do to him as thou haſt done to Sehon king of the Amorrhites, that dwelt in Heſebon.

3 ‖ So the Lord our God delivered into our hands Og alſo the king of Baſan, and all his people: and we utterly deſtroyed them, ‖ Num. 21. 35.

4 Waſting all his cities at one time, there was not a town that eſcaped us: ſixty cities, all the country of Argob the kingdom of Og in Baſan.

5 All the cities were fenced with very high walls, and with gates and bars, beſides innumerable towns that had no walls.

6 And we utterly deſtroyed them, as we had done to Sehon the king of Heſebon, deſtroying every city, men and women and children:

7 But the cattle and the ſpoils of the cities we took for our prey.

8 And we took at that time the land out of the hand of the two kings of the Amorrhites, that were beyond the Jordan: from the torrent Arnon unto the mountain Hermon,

14 Jair the son of Manasses possessed all
‖ Num. 21. 34. the country of ‖ Argob unto the borders of Gessuri, and Machati. And he called Basan by his own name, Havoth Jair, that is to say, the towns of Jair, until this present day.

15 To Machir also I gave Galaad.

16 And to the tribes of Ruben and Gad I gave of the land of Galaad as far as the torrent Arnon, half the torrent, and the confines even unto the torrent Jeboc, which is the border of the children of Ammon:

17 And the plain of the wilderness, and the Jordan, and the borders of Cenereth unto the sea of the desert, which is the most salt sea, to the foot of mount Phasga eastward.

18 And I commanded you at that time, saying: The Lord your God giveth you this land for an inheritance, go ye well appointed before your brethren the children of Israel all the strong men of you:

19 Leaving your wives and children and cattle. For I know you have much cattle, and they must remain in the cities, which I have delivered to you,

20 Until the Lord give rest to your brethren, as he hath given to you: and they also possess the land, which he will give them beyond the Jordan: then shall every man return to his possession, which I have given you.

‖ Num. 27. 18. 21 ‖ I commanded Josue also at that time, saying: Thy eyes have seen what the Lord your God hath done to these two kings: so will he do to all the kingdoms to which thou shalt pass.

22 Fear them not: for the Lord your God will fight for you.

23 And I besought the Lord at that time, saying:

24 Lord God, thou hast begun to shew unto thy servant thy greatness, and most mighty hand, for there is no other God either in heaven or earth, that is able to do thy works, or to be compared to thy strength.

25 I will pass over therefore, and will see this excellent land beyond the Jordan, and this goodly mountain, and Libanus.

26 And the Lord was angry with me on your account and heard me not, but said to me: It is enough: speak no more to me of this matter.

27 Go up to the top of Phasga, and cast thy eyes round about to the west, and to the north, and to the south, and to the east, and ‖ infra 31. 2. & 34. 4. behold it, ‖ for thou shalt not pass this Jordan.

28 Command Josue, and encourage and strengthen him: for he shall go before this people, and shall divide unto them the land which thou shalt see.

29 And we abode in the valley over-against the temple of Phogor.

CHAP. IV.

Moses exhorteth the people to keep God's commandments: particularly to fly idolatry. Appointeth three cities of refuge, on that side of the Jordan.

AND now, O Israel, hear the commandments and judgments which I teach thee: that doing them, thou mayst live, and entering in mayst possess the land which the Lord the God of your fathers will give you.

2 You shall not add to the word that I speak to you, neither shall you take away from it: keep the commandments of the Lord your God which I command you.

3 ‖ Your eyes have seen all that the Lord hath done against Beelphegor, how he hath destroyed all his worshippers from among you.
‖ Num. 25. 4. Jos. 22. 17.

4 But you that adhere to the Lord your God, are all alive until this present day.

5 You know that I have taught you statutes and justices, as the Lord my God hath commanded me: so shall you do them in the land which you shall possess:

6 And you shall observe, and fulfil them in practice. For this is your wisdom, and understanding in the sight of nations, that hearing all these precepts, they may say: Behold a wise and understanding people, a great nation.

7 Neither is there any other nation so great, that hath gods so nigh them, as our God is present to all our petitions.

8 For what other nation is there so renowned that hath ceremonies, and just judgments, and all the law, which I will set forth this day before your eyes?

9 Keep thyself therefore, and thy soul carefully. Forget not the words that thy eyes have seen, and let them not go out of thy heart all the days of thy life. Thou shalt teach them to thy sons and to thy grandsons;

10 From the day in which thou didst stand before the Lord thy God in Horeb, when the Lord spoke to me, saying: Call together the people unto me, that they may hear my words, and may learn to fear me all the time that they live on the earth, and may teach their children.

‖ Exod. 19. 18.

11 ‖ And you came to the foot of the mount, which burned even unto heaven: and there was darkneſs, and a cloud and obſcurity in it.

12 And the Lord ſpoke to you from the midſt of the fire. You heard the voice of his words, but you ſaw not any form at all.

13 And he ſhewed you his covenant, which he commanded you to do, and the ‖ ten words that he wrote in two tables of ſtone.

‖ Exod. 20. 21. 22. & 23. cap.

14 And he commanded me at that time that I ſhould teach you the ceremonies and judgments, which you ſhall do in the land, that you ſhall poſſeſs.

15 Keep therefore your ſouls carefully. ‖ You ſaw not any ſimilitude in the day that the Lord God ſpoke to you in Horeb from the midſt of the fire:

‖ Exod, 24. 10.

16 Leſt perhaps being deceived you might make you a graven ſimilitude, or image of male or female,

17 The ſimilitude of any beaſts, that are upon the earth, or of birds, that fly under heaven,

18 Or of creeping things, that move on the earth, or of fiſhes, that abide in the waters under the earth:

19 Leſt perhaps lifting up thy eyes to heaven, thou ſee the ſun and the moon, and all the ſtars of heaven, and being deceived by error thou adore and ſerve them, which the Lord thy God created for the ſervice of all the nations, that are under heaven.

20 But the Lord hath taken you and brought you out of the iron furnace of Egypt, to make you his people of inheritance, as it is this preſent day.

‖ Supra 1. 37.

21 ‖ And the Lord was angry with me for your words, and he ſwore that I ſhould not paſs over the Jordan, nor enter into the excellent land, which he will give you.

22 Behold I die in this land, I ſhall not paſs over the Jordan: you ſhall paſs, and poſſeſs the goodly land.

23 Beware leſt thou ever forget the covenant of the Lord thy God, which he hath made with thee: and make to thyſelf a graven likeneſs of thoſe things which the Lord hath forbid to be made:

‖ Heb. 12. 29.

24 ‖ Becauſe the Lord thy God is a conſuming fire, a jealous God.

25 If you ſhall beget ſons and grandſons, and abide in the land, and being deceived make to yourſelves any ſimilitude, committing evil before the Lord your God, to provoke him to wrath:

26 I call this day heaven and earth to witneſs, that you ſhall quickly periſh out of the land, which, when you have paſſed over the Jordan, you ſhall poſſeſs. You ſhall not dwell therein long, but the Lord will deſtroy you,

27 And ſcatter you among all nations, and you ſhall remain a few among the nations, to which the Lord ſhall lead you.

28 And there you ſhall ſerve gods, that were framed with men's hands; wood and ſtone, that neither ſee, nor hear, nor eat, nor ſmell.

29 And when thou ſhalt ſeek there the Lord thy God, thou ſhalt find him: yet ſo, if thou ſeek him with all thy heart, and all the affliction of thy ſoul.

30 After all the things aforeſaid ſhall find thee, in the latter time thou ſhalt return to the Lord thy God, and ſhalt hear his voice.

31 Becauſe the Lord thy God is a merciful God: he will not leave thee, nor altogether deſtroy thee, nor forget the covenant, by which he ſwore to thy fathers.

32 Aſk of the days of old, that have been before thy time from the day that God created man upon the earth, from one end of heaven to the other end thereof, if ever there was done the like thing, or it hath been known at any time,

33 That a people ſhould hear the voice of God ſpeaking out of the midſt of fire, as thou haſt heard, and lived:

34 If God ever did ſo as to go, and take to himſelf a nation out of the midſt of nations, by temptations, ſigns, and wonders, by fight, and a ſtrong hand, and ſtretched-out arm, and horrible viſions according to all the things that the Lord your God did for you in Egypt, before thy eyes.

35 That thou mighteſt know that the Lord he is God, and there is no other beſides him.

36 From heaven he made thee to hear his voice, that he might teach thee. And upon earth he ſhewed thee his exceeding great fire, and thou didſt hear his words out of the midſt of the fire,

37 Becauſe he loved thy fathers, and choſe their ſeed after them. ‖ And he brought thee out of Egypt, going before thee with his great power,

‖ Exod. 13. 21.

38 To deſtroy at thy coming very great nations and ſtronger than thou art, and to bring thee in, and give thee their land poſſeſſion, as thou ſeeſt at this preſent day.

39 Know therefore this day, and think in thy heart that the Lord he is God in heaven above, and in the earth beneath, and there is no other.

40 Keep his precepts and commandments, which I command thee: that it may be well with thee, and thy children after thee, and thou mayſt remain a long time upon the land, which the Lord thy God will give thee.

‖ Num. 35. 14. 41 ‖ Then Moſes ſet aſide three cities beyond the Jordan at the eaſt-ſide,

48 From Aroer, which is ſituate upon the bank of the torrent Arnon, unto mount Sion, which is alſo called Hermon, 49 All the plain beyond the Jordan at the eaſt-ſide, unto the ſea of the wilderneſs, and unto the foot of mount Phaſga.

24 Behold the Lord our God hath ſhewn us his majeſty and his greatneſs, we have heard his voice out of the midſt of the fire, and have proved this day that God ſpeaking with man, man hath lived.

33 But you ſhall walk in the way that the Lord your God hath commanded, that you may live, and it may be well with you, and your days may be long in the land of your poſſeſſion.

CHAP. VI.

An exhortation to the love of God, and obedience to his law.

A. M. 2553. THESE are the precepts, and ceremonies, and judgments, which the Lord your God commanded that I ſhould teach you, and that you ſhould do them in the land, into which you paſs over to poſſeſs it:

2 That thou mayſt fear the Lord thy God, and keep his commandments and precepts, which I command thee, and thy ſons, and thy grandſons, all the days of thy life, that thy days may be prolonged.

3 Hear, O Iſrael, and obſerve to do the things which the Lord hath commanded thee, that it may be well with thee, and thou mayſt be greatly multiplied, as the Lord the God of thy fathers hath promiſed thee a land flowing with milk and honey.

4 Hear, O Iſrael, the Lord our God is one Lord.

5 ‖ Thou ſhalt love the Lord thy God with thy whole heart, and with thy whole ſoul, and with thy whole ſtrength. ‖ Infra 11. 13. Mat. 22. 37. Mark 12. 30. Luke 10. 27.

6 And theſe words which I command thee this day, ſhall be in thy heart:

7 And thou ſhalt tell them to thy children, and thou ſhalt meditate upon them ſitting in thy houſe, and walking on thy journey, ſleeping, and riſing.

8 And thou ſhalt bind them as a ſign on thy hand, and they ſhall be and ſhall move between thy eyes.

9 And thou ſhalt write them in the entry, and on the doors of thy houſe.

10 And when the Lord thy God ſhall have brought thee into the Land, for which he ſwore to thy fathers Abraham, Iſaac, and Jacob: and ſhall have given thee great and goodly cities, which thou didſt not build,

11 Houſes full of riches, which thou didſt not ſet up, ciſterns which thou didſt not dig, vineyards and oliveyards, which thou didſt not plant,

12 And thou ſhalt have eaten and be full:

13 Take heed diligently leſt thou forget the Lord, who brought thee out of the land of Egypt, out of the houſe of bondage. ‖ Thou ſhalt fear the Lord thy God, and ſhalt ſerve him only, and thou ſhalt ſwear by his name. ‖ Infra 10. 20. Mat. 4. 10. Luke 4. 8.

14 You ſhall not go after the ſtrange gods of all the nations, that are round about you:

15 Becauſe the Lord thy God is a jealous God in the midſt of thee: leſt at any time the wrath of the Lord thy God be kindled againſt thee, and take thee away from the face of the earth.

16 ‖ Thou ſhalt not tempt the Lord thy God, as thou temptedſt him in the place of temptation. ‖ Mat. 4. 7. Luke 4. 12.

17 Keep the precepts of the Lord thy God, and the teſtimonies and ceremonies, which he hath commanded thee.

18 And do that which is pleaſing and good in the ſight of the Lord, that it may be well with thee: and going in thou mayſt poſſeſs the goodly land, concerning which the Lord ſwore to thy fathers, 19 That he would deſtroy all thy enemies before thee, as he hath ſpoken.

20 And when thy ſon ſhall aſk thee tomorrow, ſaying: What mean theſe teſtimonies, and ceremonies and judgments, which the Lord our God hath commanded us?

21 Thou ſhalt ſay to him: We were bondmen of Pharao in Egypt, and the Lord brought us out of Egypt with a ſtrong hand.

22 And he wrought ſigns and wonders great and very grievous in Egypt againſt Pharao, and all his houſe, in our ſight,

23 And he brought us out from thence, that he might bring us in and give us the land, concerning which he ſwore to our fathers.

24 And the Lord commanded that we ſhould do all theſe ordinances, and ſhould fear the Lord our God, that it might be well with us all the days of our life, as it is at this day.

25 And he will be merciful to us, if we keep and do all his precepts before the Lord our God, as he hath commanded us.

CHAP. VII.

No league nor fellowſhip to be made with the Chananites: God promiſeth his people his bleſſing and aſſiſtance, if they keep his commandments.

5 But thus rather ſhall you deal with

7 Not becauſe you ſurpaſs all nations in number, is the Lord joined unto you, and hath choſen you, for you are the feweſt of any people:

8 But becauſe the Lord hath loved you, and hath kept his oath, which he ſwore to your fathers: and hath brought you out with a ſtrong hand, and redeemed you from the houſe of bondage, out of the hand of Pharao the king of Egypt.

9 And thou ſhalt know that the Lord thy God, he is a ſtrong and faithful God, keeping his covenant and mercy to them that love him, and to them that keep his commandments, unto a thouſand generations:

10 And repaying forthwith them that hate him, ſo as to deſtroy them, without further delay, immediately rendering to them what they deſerve.

11 Keep therefore the precepts and ceremonies and judgments, which I command thee this day to do.

12 If after thou haſt heard theſe judgments, thou keep and do them, the Lord thy God will alſo keep his covenant to thee, and the mercy which he ſwore to thy fathers:

13 And he will love thee and multiply thee, and will bleſs the fruit of thy womb, and the fruit of thy land, thy corn, and thy vintage, thy oil, and thy herds, and the flocks of thy ſheep upon the land, for which he ſwore to thy fathers that he would give it thee.

14 Bleſſed ſhalt thou be among all people: ‖ No one ſhall be barren among you of either ſex, neither of men nor cattle. ‖ Exod. 23. 26.

15 The Lord will take away from thee all ſickneſs: and the grievous infirmities of Egypt, which thou knoweſt, he will not bring upon thee, but upon thy enemies.

16 Thou ſhalt conſume all the people, which the Lord thy God will deliver to thee. Thy eye ſhall not ſpare them, neither ſhalt thou ſerve their gods, leſt they be thy ruin.

17 If thou ſay in thy heart: Theſe nations are more than I, how ſhall I be able to deſtroy them?

18 Fear not, but remember what the Lord thy God did to Pharao and to all the Egyptians;

19 The exceeding great plagues, which thy eyes ſaw, and the ſigns and wonders, and the ſtrong hand, and the ſtretched-out arm, with which the Lord thy God brought thee out: ſo will he do to all the people, whom thou feareſt.

20 ‖ Moreover the Lord thy God will ſend alſo hornets among them, until he deſtroy and conſume all that have eſcaped thee, and could hide themſelves. ‖ Exod. 23. 28. Joſ. 24. 12.

21 Thou ſhalt not fear them, becauſe the Lord thy God is in the midſt of thee, a God mighty and terrible:

22 He will conſume theſe nations in thy ſight by little and little and by degrees. Thou wilt not be able to deſtroy them altogether:

lest perhaps the beasts of the earth should increase upon thee.

23 But the Lord thy God shall deliver them in thy sight: and shall slay them until they be utterly destroyed.

24 And he shall deliver their kings into thy hands, and thou shalt destroy their names from under heaven: no man shall be able to resist thee, until thou destroy them.

‖ 2 Mac. 12. 40. 25 ‖ Their graven things thou shalt burn with fire: thou shalt not covet the silver and gold, of which they are made, neither shalt thou take to thee any thing thereof, lest thou offend, because it is an abomination to the Lord thy God.

26 Neither shalt thou bring any thing of the idol into thy house, lest thou become an anathema, like it. Thou shalt detest it as dung, and shalt utterly abhor it as uncleanness and filth, because it is an anathema.

CHAP. VIII.

The people is put in mind of God's dealings with them, to the end that they may love him and serve him.

A. M. 2553. ALL the commandments, that I command thee this day, take great care to observe: that you may live, and be multiplied, and going in may possess the land, for which the Lord swore to your fathers.

2 And thou shalt remember all the way through which the Lord thy God hath brought thee for forty years through the desart, to afflict thee and to prove thee, and that the things that were in thy heart might be made known, whether thou wouldst keep his commandments or no.

3 He afflicted thee with want, and gave thee manna for thy food, which neither thou nor thy fathers knew: to shew that ‖ not in bread alone doth man live, but in every word that proceedeth from the mouth of God. ‖ Mat. 4. 4. Luke 4. 4.

4 Thy raiment, with which thou wast covered, hath not decayed for age, and thy foot is not worn, lo this is the fortieth year,

5 That thou mayst consider in thy heart, that as a man traineth up his son, so the Lord thy God hath trained thee up.

6 That thou shouldst keep the commandments of the Lord thy God, and walk in his ways, and fear him.

7 For the Lord thy God will bring thee into a good land, of brooks and of waters, and of fountains: in the plains of which and the hills deep rivers break out:

8 A land of wheat, and barley, and vineyards, wherein fig-trees and pomegranates, and oliveyards grow: a land of oil and honey.

9 Where without any want thou shalt eat thy bread, and enjoy abundance of all things: where the stones are iron, and out of its hills are dug mines of brass:

10 That when thou hast eaten, and art full, thou mayst bless the Lord thy God for the excellent land, which he hath given thee.

11 Take heed, and beware lest at any time thou forget the Lord thy God, and neglect his commandments and judgments and ceremonies, which I command thee this day:

12 Lest after thou hast eaten and art filled, hast built goodly houses, and dwelt in them,

13 And shalt have herds of oxen and flocks of sheep, and plenty of gold and of silver, and of all things,

14 Thy heart be lifted up, and thou remember not the Lord thy God, who brought thee out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage:

15 And was thy leader in the great and terrible wilderness, ‖ wherein there was the serpent burning with his breath, and the scorpion and the dipsas, and no waters at all: † who brought forth streams out of the hardest rock, ‖ Num 20. 9. & 21. 6. † Exod. 17. 6.

16 † And fed thee in the wilderness with manna which thy fathers knew not. And after he had afflicted and proved thee, at the last he had mercy on thee, † Exod. 16. 14.

17 Lest thou shouldst say in thy heart: My own might, and the strength of my own hand, have atchieved all these things for me.

18 But remember the Lord thy God, that he hath given thee strength, that he might fulfil his covenant, concerning which he swore to thy fathers, as this present day sheweth.

19 But if thou forget the Lord thy God, and follow strange gods, and serve and adore them: behold now I foretell thee that thou shalt utterly perish.

20 As the nations, which the Lord destroyed at thy entrance, so shall you also perish, if you be disobedient to the voice of the Lord your God.

CHAP. VII. VER. 25. Graven things. Idols, so called by contempt.

VER. 26. An anathema. That is, a thing devoted to destruction; and which carries along with it a curse.

CHAP. VIII. VER. 3. Not in bread alone, &c. i. e. That God is able to make food of what he pleases for the support of man.

VER. 15. The dipsas. A serpent whose bite causeth a violent thirst: from whence it has its name, for in Greek dipsa (δίψα) signifies thirst.

CHAP. IX.

Lest they should impute their victories to their own merits, they are put in mind of their manifold rebellions and other sins, for which they should have been destroyed, but God spared them for his promise made to Abraham, Isaac and Jacob.

A. M. 2553. HEAR, O Israel: Thou shalt go over the Jordan this day; to possess nations very great, and stronger than thyself, cities great, and walled up to the sky,

2 A people great and tall, the sons of the Enacims, whom thou hast seen, and heard of, against whom no man is able to stand.

3 Thou shalt know therefore this day that the Lord thy God himself will pass over before thee, a devouring and consuming fire, to destroy and extirpate and bring them to nothing before thy face quickly, as he hath spoken to thee.

4 Say not in thy heart, when the Lord thy God shall have destroyed them in thy sight: For my justice hath the Lord brought me in to possess this land, whereas these nations are destroyed for their wickedness.

5 For it is not for thy justices, and the uprightness of thy heart that thou shalt go in to possess their lands: but because they have done wickedly, they are destroyed at thy coming in: and that the Lord might accomplish his word, which he promised by oath to thy fathers Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob.

6 Know therefore that the Lord thy God giveth thee not this excellent land in possession for thy justices, for thou art a very stiff-necked people.

7 Remember, and forget not how thou provokedst the Lord thy God to wrath in the wilderness. From the day, that thou camest out of Egypt unto this place, thou hast always strove against the Lord.

‖ Exod. 17. 6. & 19. 3. 8 ‖ For in Horeb also thou didst provoke him, and he was angry and would have destroyed thee,

† Exod. 14. 18. 9 † When I went up into the mount to receive the tables of stone, the tables of the covenant which the Lord made with you: and I continued in the mount forty days and nights, neither eating bread, nor drinking water.

‖ Exod. 31. 18. & 32. 15. 10 ‖ And the Lord gave me two tables of stone written with the finger of God, and containing all the words that he spoke to you in the mount from the midst of the fire, when the people were assembled together.

11 And when forty days were passed, and as many nights, the Lord gave me the two tables of stone, the tables of the covenant,

12 And said to me: ‖ Arise, and go down from hence quickly: for thy people, which thou hast brought out of Egypt, have quickly forsaken the way that thou hast shewn them, and have made to themselves a molten idol. ‖ Exod. 32. 7.

13 And again the Lord said to me: I see that this people is stiff-necked:

14 Let me alone that I may destroy them, and abolish their name from under heaven, and set thee over a nation, that is greater and stronger than this.

15 And when I came down from the burning mount, and held the two tables of the covenant with both hands,

16 And saw that you had sinned against the Lord your God, and had made to yourselves a molten calf, and had quickly forsaken his way, which he had shewn you:

17 I cast the tables out of my hands, and broke them in your sight.

18 And I fell down before the Lord as before, forty days and nights neither eating bread, nor drinking water, for all your sins, which you had committed against the Lord, and had provoked him to wrath:

19 For I feared his indignation and anger, wherewith being moved against you, he would have destroyed you. And the Lord heard me this time also.

20 And he was exceeding angry against Aaron also, and would have destroyed him, and I prayed in like manner for him.

21 And your sin that you had committed, that is, the calf, I took, and burned it with fire, and breaking it into pieces, until it was as small as dust, I threw it into the torrent, which cometh down from the mountain.

‖ Num. 11. 1. & 16. 2. & 21. 5. 22 ‖ At the burning also, and at the place of temptation, and at the graves of lust you provoked the Lord:

23 And when he sent you from Cadesbarne, saying: Go up, and possess the land that I have given you, and you slighted the commandment of the Lord your God, and did not believe him, neither would you hearken to his voice:

24 But were always rebellious from the day that I began to know you.

25 And I lay prostrate before the Lord forty days and nights, in which I humbly besought him, that he would not destroy you as he had threatened:

26 And praying, I said: O Lord God, destroy not thy people, and thy inheritance, which thou hast redeemed in thy greatness, whom thou hast brought out of Egypt with a strong hand.

27 Remember thy servants Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob: look not on the stubbornness of this people, nor on their wickedness and sin:

28 Lest perhaps the inhabitants of the land, out of which thou hast brought us, say: The Lord could not bring them into the land, that he promised them, and he hated them: therefore he brought them out, that he might kill them in the wilderness.

29 Who are thy people and thy inheritance, whom thou hast brought out by thy great strength, and in thy stretched-out arm.

CHAP. X.

God giveth the second tables of the law: a further exhortation to fear and serve the Lord.

A. M. 2553. † Exod. 34. 1.

AT † that time the Lord said to me: Hew thee two tables of stone like the former, and come up to me into the mount: and thou shalt make an ark of wood,

2 And I will write on the tables the words that were in them, which thou brokest before, and thou shalt put them in the ark.

3 And I made an ark of setim-wood. And when I had hewn two tables of stone like the former, I went up into the mount, having them in my hands.

4 And he wrote in the tables, according as he had written before, the ten words, which the Lord spoke to you in the mount from the midst of the fire, when the people were assembled: and he gave them to me.

5 And returning from the mount, I came down, and put the tables into the ark, that I had made, and they are there till this present, as the Lord commanded me.

‖ Num. 33. 31. † Num. 20. 28. & 29.

6 ‖ And the children of Israel removed their camp from Beroth of the children of Jacan into Mosera, where † Aaron died and was buried, and Eleazar his son succeeded him in the priestly office.

7 From thence they came to Gadgad: from which place they departed, and camped in Jetebatha, in a land of waters and torrents.

8 At that time he separated the tribe of Levi, to carry the ark of the covenant of the Lord, and to stand before him in the ministry, and to bless in his name until this present day.

9 Wherefore Levi hath no part nor possession with his brethren: because the Lord himself is his possession, as the Lord thy God promised him.

10 And I stood in the mount, as before, forty days and nights: and the Lord heard me this time also, and would not destroy thee.

11 And he said to me: Go, and walk before the people, that they may enter, and possess the land, which I swore to their fathers that I would give them.

12 And now Israel, what doth the Lord thy God require of thee, but that thou fear the Lord thy God, and walk in his ways, and love him, and serve the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul:

13 And keep the commandments of the Lord, and his ceremonies, which I command thee this day, that it may be well with thee?

14 Behold heaven is the Lord's thy God, and the heaven of heaven, the earth and all things that are therein.

15 And yet the Lord hath been closely joined to thy fathers, and loved them, and chose their seed after them, that is to say, you, out of all nations, as this day it is proved.

16 Circumcise therefore the foreskin of your heart, and stiffen your neck no more.

17 Because the Lord your God he is the God of gods, and the Lord of lords, a great God and mighty, and terrible, ‖ who acceepteth no person nor taketh bribes. ‖ 2 Par. 19. 7. Job 34. 19.

18 He doth judgment to the fatherless and the widow, loveth the stranger, and giveth him food and raiment. Wisd. 6. 8. Eccli. 35. 15. Acts 10. 34. Rom. 2. 11. Gal. 2. 6.

19 And do you therefore love strangers, because you also were strangers in the land of Egypt.

20 † Thou shalt fear the Lord thy God, and serve him only: to him thou shalt adhere, and shalt swear by his name. † Supra 6. 13. Mat. 4. 10. Luke 4. 8.

21 He is thy praise, and thy God, that hath done for thee these great and terrible things, which thy eyes have seen.

22 In seventy souls thy fathers went down into Egypt: and behold now the Lord thy God hath multiplied thee as the stars of heaven.

CHAP. XI.

The love and service of God are still inculcated, with a blessing to them that serve him, and threats of punishment if they forsake his law.

A. M. 2553.

THEREFORE love the Lord thy God, and observe his precepts and ceremonies, his judgments and commandments at all times.

2 Know this day the things that your children know not, who saw not the chastisements of the Lord your God, his great doings and strong hand, and stretched-out arm,

3 The signs and works which he did in the midst of Egypt to king Pharao, and to all his land,

4 And to all the host of the Egyptians, and to their horses and chariots: how the waters of the Red sea covered them, when they purſued you, and how the Lord deſtroyed them until this preſent day:

5 And what he hath done to you in the wilderneſs, till you came to this place:

‖ Num. 16. 1. † Num. 16. 32.

6 ‖ And to Dathan and Abiron the ſons of Eliab, who was the ſon of Ruben: † whom the earth, opening her mouth, ſwallowed up with their houſholds and tents, and all their ſubſtance, which they had in the midſt of Iſrael:

7 Your eyes have ſeen all the great works of the Lord, that he hath done,

8 That you may keep all his commandments, which I command you this day, and may go in, and poſſeſs the land, to which you are entering,

9 And may live in it a long time: which the Lord promiſed by oath to your fathers, and to their ſeed, a land which floweth with milk and honey.

10 For the land, which thou goeſt to poſſeſs, is not like the land of Egypt, from whence thou cameſt out, where when the ſeed is ſown, waters are brought in to water it after the manner of gardens.

11 But it is a land of hills and plains, expecting rain from heaven.

12 And the Lord thy God doth always viſit it, and his eyes are on it from the beginning of the year unto the end thereof.

‖ Supra 10. 12.

13 ‖ If then you obey my commandments, which I command you this day, that you love the Lord your God, and ſerve him with all your heart, and with all your ſoul:

14 He will give to your land the early rain and the latter rain, that you may gather in your corn, and your wine, and your oil,

15 And your hay out of the fields to feed your cattle, and that you may eat and be filled.

16 Beware leſt perhaps your heart be deceived, and you depart from the Lord, and ſerve ſtrange gods, and adore them:

17 And the Lord being angry ſhut up heaven, that the rain come not down, nor the earth yield her fruit, and you periſh quickly from the excellent land, which the Lord will give you.

F.

‖ Supra 6. 6.

18 ‖ Lay up theſe my words in your hearts and minds, and hang them for a ſign on your hands, and place them between your eyes.

19 Teach your children that they meditate on them, when thou ſitteſt in thy houſe, and when thou walkeſt on the way, and when thou lieſt down and riſeſt up.

20 Thou ſhalt write them upon the poſts and the doors of thy houſe:

21 That thy days may be multiplied, and the days of thy children in the land which the Lord ſwore to thy fathers, that he would give them as long as the heaven hangeth over the earth.

22 For if you keep the commandments which I command you, and do them, to love the Lord your God, and walk in all his ways, cleaving unto him,

23 The Lord will deſtroy all theſe nations before your face, and you ſhall poſſeſs them, which are greater and ſtronger than you.

24 ‖ Every place, that your foot ſhall tread upon, ſhall be yours. From the deſart, and from Libanus, from the great river Euphrates unto the weſtern ſea ſhall be your borders. ‖ Joſ. 1. 3.

25 None ſhall ſtand againſt you: the Lord your God ſhall lay the dread and fear of you upon all the land that you ſhall tread upon, as he hath ſpoken to you.

26 Behold I ſet forth in your ſight this day a bleſſing and a curſe:

27 A bleſſing, if you obey the commandments of the Lord your God, which I command you this day:

28 A curſe, if you obey not the commandments of the Lord your God, but revolt from the way which now I ſhew you, and walk after ſtrange gods which you know not.

29 And when the Lord thy God ſhall have brought thee into the land, whither thou goeſt to dwell, thou ſhalt put the bleſſing upon mount Garizim, the curſe upon mount Hebal:

30 Which are beyond the Jordan, behind the way that goeth to the ſetting of the ſun, in the land of the Chananite who dwelleth in the plain country over-againſt Galgala, which is near the valley that reacheth and entereth far.

31 For you ſhall paſs over the Jordan, to poſſeſs the land, which the Lord your God will give you, that you may have it and poſſeſs it.

32 See therefore that you fulfil the ceremonies and judgments, which I ſhall ſet this day before you.

CHAP. XII.

All idolatry muſt be extirpated: ſacrifices, tithes, and firſt-fruits muſt be offered in one only place: all eating of blood is prohibited.

A. M. 2553.

THESE are the precepts and judgments, that you muſt do in the land, which the Lord the God of thy fathers will give thee, to poſſeſs it all the days that thou ſhalt walk upon the earth.

CHAP. XII. VER. 29. Put the bleſſing, &c. See Deut. xxvii. 12. &c. and Joſue viii. 33. &c.

2 Destroy all the places in which the nations, that you shall possess, worshipped their gods upon high mountains, and hills, and under every shady tree:

3 ‖ Overthrow their altars, and break down their statues, burn their groves with fire, and break their idols in pieces: destroy their names out of those places. ‖ Supra 7. 25. 2 Mac. 12. 40.

4 You shall not do so to the Lord your God:

5 But you shall come to the place, which the Lord your God shall choose out of all your tribes, to put his name there, and to dwell in it:

6 And you shall offer in that place your holocausts and victims, the tithes and first-fruits of your hands, and your vows and gifts, the first-born of your herds and your sheep.

7 And you shall eat there in the sight of the Lord your God: and you shall rejoice in all things, whereunto you shall put your hand, you and your houses wherein the Lord your God hath blessed you.

8 You shall not do there the things we do here this day, every man that which seemeth good to himself.

9 For until this present time you are not come to rest, and to the possession, which the Lord your God will give you.

10 You shall pass over the Jordan, and shall dwell in the land which the Lord your God will give you, that you may have rest from all enemies round about: and may dwell without any fear,

11 In the place, which the Lord your God shall choose, that his name may be therein. Thither shall you bring all the things that I command you, holocausts, and victims, and tithes, and the first-fruits of your hands: and whatsoever is the choicest in the gifts which you shall vow to the Lord.

12 There shall you feast before the Lord your God, you and your sons and your daughters, your men-servants and maid-servants, and the Levite that dwelleth in your cities. For he hath no other part and possession among you.

13 Beware lest thou offer thy holocausts in every place that thou shalt see:

14 But in the place which the Lord shall choose in one of thy tribes shalt thou offer sacrifices, and shalt do all that I command thee.

15 But if thou desirest to eat, and the eating of flesh delight thee, kill, and eat according to the blessing of the Lord thy God, which he hath given thee, in thy cities: whether it be unclean, that is to say, having blemish or defect: or clean, that is to say, sound and without blemish, such as may be offered, as the roe, and the hart, shalt thou eat it:

16 Only the blood thou shalt not eat, but thou shalt pour it out upon the earth as water.

17 Thou mayst not eat in thy towns the tithes of thy corn, and thy wine, and thy oil, the first-born of thy herds and thy cattle, nor any thing that thou vowest, and that thou wilt offer voluntarily, and the first-fruits of thy hands:

18 But thou shalt eat them before the Lord thy God in the place, which the Lord thy God shall choose, thou and thy son and thy daughther, and thy man-servant, and maid-servant, and the Levite that dwelleth in thy cities: and thou shalt rejoice and be refreshed before the Lord thy God in all things, whereunto thou shalt put thy hand.

19 Take heed thou forsake not the Levite all the time that thou livest in the land.

20 ‖ When the Lord thy God shall have enlarged thy borders, as he hath spoken to thee, and thou wilt eat the flesh that thy soul desireth: ‖ Gen. 28. 14. Exod. 34. 24. Infra 19. 8.

21 And if the place which the Lord thy God shall choose, that his name should be there, be far off, thou shalt kill of thy herds and of thy flocks, as I have commanded thee, and shalt eat in thy towns, as it pleaseth thee.

22 Even as the roe and the hart is eaten, so shalt thou eat them: both the clean and unclean shall eat of them alike.

23 Only beware of this that thou eat not the blood, for the blood is for the soul: and therefore thou must not eat the soul with the flesh:

24 But thou shalt pour it upon the earth as water,

25 That it may be well with thee and thy children after thee, when thou shalt do that which is pleasing in the sight of the Lord.

26 But the things which thou hast sanctified and vowed to the Lord, thou shalt take, and shalt come to the place which the Lord shall choose:

27 And shalt offer thy oblations the flesh and the blood upon the altar of the Lord thy God: the blood of thy victims thou shalt pour on the altar: and the flesh thou thyself shalt eat.

28 Observe and hear all the things that I command thee, that it may be well with thee and thy children after thee for ever, when thou shalt do what is good and pleasing in the sight of the Lord thy God.

29 ‖ When the Lord thy God shall have ‖ Infra 19. 8.

destroyed before thy face the nations, which thou shalt go in to possess, and when thou shalt possess them, and dwell in their land:

30 Beware lest thou imitate them, after they are destroyed at thy coming in, and lest thou seek after their ceremonies, saying: As these nations have worshipped their gods, so will I also worship.

31 Thou shalt not do in like manner to the Lord thy God. For they have done to their gods all the abominations which the Lord abhorreth, offering their sons and daughters, and burning them with fire.

32 What I command thee, that only do thou to the Lord: neither add any thing, nor diminish.

CHAP. XIII.

False prophets must be slain, and idolatrous cities destroyed.

A. M. 2553. IF there rise in the midst of thee a prophet, or one that saith he hath dreamed a dream, and he foretell a sign and a wonder,

2 And that come to pass which he spoke, and he say to thee: Let us go and follow strange gods, which thou knowest not, and let us serve them:

3 Thou shalt not hear the words of that prophet or dreamer: for the Lord your God tryeth you, that it may appear whether you love him with all your heart, and with all your soul, or no.

4 Follow the Lord your God, and fear him, and keep his commandments, and hear his voice: him you shall serve, and to him you shall cleave.

5 And that prophet or forger of dreams shall be slain: because he spoke to draw you away from the Lord your God, who brought you out of the land of Egypt, and redeemed you from the house of bondage: to make thee go out of the way, which the Lord thy God commanded thee: and thou shalt take away the evil out of the midst of thee.

6 If thy brother the son of thy mother, or thy son, or daughter, or thy wife that is in thy bosom, or thy friend, whom thou lovest as thy own soul, would persuade thee secretly, saying: Let us go, and serve strange gods, which thou knowest not, nor thy fathers,

7 Of all the nations round about, that are near or afar off, from one end of the earth to the other,

8 Consent not to him, hear him not, neither let thy eye spare him to pity and conceal him,

9 But thou shalt presently put him to death. ‖ Let thy hand be first upon him, and afterwards the hands of all the people. ‖ Infra 17. 7.

10 With stones shall he be stoned to death: because he would have withdrawn thee from the Lord thy God, who brought thee out of the land of Egypt, from the house of bondage:

11 That all Israel hearing may fear, and may do no more any thing like this.

12 If in one of thy cities, which the Lord thy God shall give thee to dwell in, thou hear some say:

13 Children of Belial are gone out of the midst of thee, and have withdrawn the inhabitants of their city, and have said: Let us go, and serve strange gods which you know not:

14 Enquire carefully and diligently, the truth of the thing by looking well into it, and if thou find that which is said to be certain, and that this abomination hath been really committed,

15 Thou shalt forthwith kill the inhabitants of that city with the edge of the sword, and shalt destroy it and all things that are in it, even the cattle.

16 And all the houshold goods that are there, thou shalt gather together in the midst of the streets thereof, and shalt burn them with the city itself, so as to consume all for the Lord thy God, and that it be a heap for ever: it shall be built no more.

17 And there shall nothing of that anathema stick to thy hand: that the Lord may turn from the wrath of his fury, and may have mercy on thee, and multiply thee as he swore to thy fathers, 18 When thou shalt hear the voice of the Lord thy God, keeping all his precepts, which I command thee this day, that thou mayst do what is pleasing in the sight of the Lord thy God.

CHAP. XIV.

In mourning for the dead they are not to follow the ways of the gentiles: the distinction of clean and unclean meats: ordinances concerning tithes, and first-fruits.

A. M. 2553. BE ye children of the Lord your God: you shall not cut yourselves, nor make any baldness for the dead.

CHAP. XII. VER. 32. That only do thou, &c. They are forbid here to follow the ceremonies of the heathens; or to make any alterations in the divine ordinances.

CHAP. XIII. VER. 9. Presently put him to death. Not by killing him by private authority, but by informing the magistrate, and proceeding by order of justice.

VER. 13. Belial. That is, without yoke. Hence the wicked, who refuse to be subject to the divine law, are called in scripture the children of Belial.

|| Supra 7. 6. Infra 26. 18. 2 || Becauſe thou art a holy people to the Lord thy God: and he choſe thee to be his peculiar people of all nations that are upon the earth.

4 Theſe are the beaſts that you ſhall eat, the ox, and the ſheep, and the goat,

5 The hart and the roe, the buffle, the chamois, the pygarg, the wild goat, the camelopardalus.

6 Every beaſt that divideth the hoof in two parts, and cheweth the cud, you ſhall eat.

7 But of them that chew the cud, but divide not the hoof, you ſhall not eat, ſuch as the camel, the hare, and the cherogril: becauſe they chew the cud, but divide not the hoof, they ſhall be unclean to you.

8 The ſwine alſo, becauſe it divideth the hoof, but cheweth not the cud, ſhall be unclean, their fleſh you ſhall not eat, and their carcaſes you ſhall not touch.

9 Theſe ſhall you eat of all that abide in the waters: All that have fins and ſcales, you ſhall eat.

10 Such as are without fins and ſcales, you ſhall not eat, becauſe they are unclean.

11 All birds that are clean you ſhall eat.

12 The unclean eat not: to wit, the eagle, and the grype, and the oſprey.

13 The ringtail, and the vulture, and the kite according to their kind:

14 And all of the raven's kind:

15 And the oſtrich, and the owl, and the larus, and the hawk according to its kind:

16 The heron, and the ſwan, and the ſtork,

17 And the cormorant, the porphirion, and the night-crow,

18 The bittern, and the charadrion, every one in their kind: the houp alſo and the bat.

19 Every thing that creepeth and hath little wings, ſhall be unclean and ſhall not be eaten.

20 All that is clean, you ſhall eat.

21 But whatſoever is dead of itſelf, eat not thereof. Give it to the ſtranger that is within thy gates, to eat, or ſell it to him: becauſe thou art the holy people of the Lord thy || God. Thou ſhalt not boil a kid in the milk of its dam.

|| Exod. 23. 19. & 34. 26.

22 Every year thou ſhalt ſet aſide the tithes of all thy fruits that the earth bringeth forth.

23 And thou ſhalt eat before the Lord thy God in the place which he ſhall chooſe, that his name may be called upon therein, the tithe of thy corn, and thy wine, and thy oil, and the firſt-born of thy herds and thy ſheep: that thou mayſt learn to fear the Lord thy God at all times.

24 But when the way and the place which the Lord thy God ſhall chooſe, are far off, and he hath bleſſed thee, and thou canſt not carry all theſe things thither,

25 Thou ſhalt ſell them all, and turn them into money, and ſhalt carry it in thy hand, and ſhalt go to the place which the Lord ſhall chooſe:

26 And thou ſhalt buy with the ſame money whatſoever pleaſeth thee, either of the herds or of ſheep, wine alſo and ſtrong drink, and all that thy ſoul deſireth: and thou ſhalt eat before the Lord thy God, and ſhalt feaſt, thou and thy houſe:

27 And the Levite that is within thy gates, beware thou forſake him not, becauſe he hath no other part in thy poſſeſſion.

28 The third year thou ſhalt ſeparate another tithe of all things that grow to thee at that time: and ſhalt lay it up within thy gates.

29 And the Levite that hath no other part nor poſſeſſion with thee, and the ſtranger and the fatherleſs and the widow, that are within thy gates, ſhall come and ſhall eat and be filled: that the Lord thy God may bleſs thee in all the works of thy hands that thou ſhalt do.

The law of the ſeventh year of remiſſion. The firſtlings of cattle are to be ſanctified to the Lord.

A. M. 2553. Ante C. 1451. IN the ſeventh year thou ſhalt make a remiſſion,

2 Which ſhall be celebrated in this order. He to whom any thing is owing from his friend or neighbour or brother, cannot demand it again, becauſe it is the year of remiſſion of the Lord.

3 Of the foreigner or ſtranger thou mayſt exact it: of thy countryman and neighbour thou ſhalt not have power to demand it again.

4 And there ſhall be no poor nor beggar

CHAP. XIV. VER. 3. Unclean. See the annotations on Leviticus XI.

CHAP. XV. VER. 4. There ſhall be no poor, &c. It is not to be underſtood as a promiſe, that there ſhould be no poor in Iſrael, as appears from ver. 11, where we learn that God's people would never be at a loſs to find objects for their charity: but it is an ordinance that all ſhould do their beſt endeavours to prevent any of their brethren from ſuffering the hardſhips of poverty and want.

among you: that the Lord thy God may bleſs thee in the land which he will give thee in poſſeſſion.

5 Yet ſo if thou hear the voice of the Lord thy God, and keep all things that he hath ordained, and which I command thee this day, he will bleſs thee, as he hath promiſed.

6 Thou ſhalt lend to many nations, and thou ſhalt borrow of no man. Thou ſhalt have dominion over very many nations, and no one ſhall have dominion over thee.

7 If one of thy brethren that dwelleth within the gates of thy city in the land which the Lord thy God will give thee, come to poverty: thou ſhalt not harden thy heart, nor cloſe thy hand,

‖ Matt. 5. 42. Luke 6. 34. 8 But ſhalt open it to the poor man, ‖ thou ſhalt lend him, that which thou perceiveſt he hath need of.

9 Beware leſt perhaps a wicked thought ſteal in upon thee, and thou ſay in thy † Exod. 33. DO. Levit. 25. 2. heart: † The ſeventh year of remiſſion draweth nigh; and thou turn away thy eyes from thy poor brother, denying to lend him that which he aſketh: leſt he cry againſt thee to the Lord, and it become a ſin unto thee.

10 But thou ſhalt give to him: neither ſhalt thou do any thing craftily in relieving his neceſſities: that the Lord thy God may bleſs thee at all times, and in all things to which thou ſhalt put thy hand.

‖ Mat. 26. 11. 11 ‖ There will not be wanting poor in the land of thy habitation: therefore I command thee to open thy hand to thy needy and poor brother, that liveth in the land.

‖ Exod. 21. 2. Jer. 34. 14. 12 ‖ When thy brother a Hebrew man, or Hebrew woman is ſold to thee, and hath ſerved thee ſix years, in the ſeventh year, thou ſhalt let him go free:

13 And when thou ſendeſt him out free, thou ſhalt not let him go away empty:

14 But ſhalt give him for his way out of thy flocks, and out of thy barn-floor, and thy wine-preſs, wherewith the Lord thy God ſhall bleſs thee.

15 Remember that thou alſo waſt a bond-ſervant in the land of Egypt, and the Lord thy God made thee free, and therefore I now command thee this.

16 But if he ſay: I will not depart: becauſe he loveth thee, and thy houſe, and findeth that he is well with thee:

17 Thou ſhalt take an awl, and bore through his ear in the door of thy houſe, and he ſhall ſerve thee for ever: thou ſhalt do in like manner to thy woman-ſervant alſo.

18 Turn not away thy eyes from them when thou makeſt them free: becauſe he hath ſerved thee ſix years according to the wages of a hireling: that the Lord thy God may bleſs thee in all the works that thou doſt.

19 Of the firſtlings, that come of thy herds and thy ſheep, thou ſhalt ſanctify to the Lord thy God whatſoever is of the male ſex. Thou ſhalt not work with the firſtling of a bullock, and thou ſhalt not ſhear the firſtlings of thy ſheep.

20 In the ſight of the Lord thy God ſhalt thou eat them every year in the place, that the Lord ſhall chooſe, thou and thy houſe.

‖ Levit. 22. 20. & 21. Eccli. 35. 14. 21 ‖ But if it have a blemiſh, or be lame, or blind, or in any part disfigured or feeble, it ſhall not be ſacrificed to the Lord thy God.

22 But thou ſhalt eat it within the gates of thy city: the clean and the unclean ſhall eat them alike as the roe, and as the hart.

23 Only thou ſhalt take heed not to eat their blood, but pour it out on the earth as water.

CHAP. XVI.

The three principal ſolemnities to be obſerved: juſt judges to be appointed in every city: all occaſions of idolatry to be avoided.

A. M. 2553. Ante C. 1451. OBSERVE the month of new corn, which is the firſt of the ſpring, that thou mayſt celebrate the phaſe to the Lord thy God: becauſe in this month the Lord thy God brought thee out of Egypt by night.

2 And thou ſhalt ſacrifice the phaſe to the Lord thy God, of ſheep, and of oxen in the place, which the Lord thy God ſhall chooſe, that his name may dwell there.

3 Thou ſhalt not eat with it leavened bread: ſeven days ſhalt thou eat without leaven, the bread of affliction, becauſe thou cameſt out of Egypt in fear: that thou mayſt remember the day of thy coming out of Egypt, all the days of thy life.

4 No leaven ſhall be ſeen in all thy coaſts for ſeven days, neither ſhall any of the fleſh of that which was ſacrificed the firſt day in the evening remain until morning.

5 Thou mayſt not immolate the phaſe in any one of thy cities, which the Lord thy God will give thee:

6 But in the place, which the Lord thy God ſhall chooſe, that his name may dwell there: thou ſhalt immolate the phaſe in the evening at the going down of the ſun, at which time thou cameſt out of Egypt.

7 And thou ſhalt dreſs, and eat it in the place which the Lord thy God ſhall chooſe, and in the morning riſing up thou ſhalt go into thy dwellings.

8 Six days ſhalt thou eat unleavened bread: and on the ſeventh day, becauſe it is the aſſembly of the Lord thy God, thou ſhalt do no work.

9 Thou ſhalt number unto three ſeven weeks from that day, wherein thou didſt put the ſickle to the corn.

10 And thou ſhalt celebrate the feſtival of weeks to the Lord thy God, a voluntary oblation of thy hand, which thou ſhalt offer according to the bleſſing of the Lord thy God:

11 And thou ſhalt feaſt before the Lord thy God, thou, and thy ſon, and thy daughter, and thy man-ſervant, and thy maid-ſervant, and the Levite that is within thy gates, and the ſtranger and the fatherleſs and the widow, who abide with you: in the place which the Lord thy God ſhall chooſe, that his name may dwell there:

12 And thou ſhalt remember that thou waſt a ſervant in Egypt: and thou ſhalt keep and do the things that are commanded.

13 Thou ſhalt celebrate the ſolemnity alſo of tabernacles, when thou haſt gathered in thy fruit of the barn-floor and of the wine-preſs.

14 And thou ſhalt make merry in thy feſtival time, thou, thy ſon, and thy daughter, thy man-ſervant, and thy maid-ſervant, the Levite alſo and the ſtranger, and the fatherleſs and the widow that are within thy gates.

15 Seven days ſhalt thou celebrate feaſts to the Lord thy God in the place which the Lord ſhall chooſe: and the Lord thy God will bleſs thee in all thy fruits, and in every work of thy hands, and thou ſhalt be in joy.

16 Three times in a year ſhall all thy males appear before the Lord thy God in the place which he ſhall chooſe: in the feaſt of unleavened bread, in the feaſt of weeks, and in the feaſt of tabernacles. ‖ No one ſhall appear with his hands empty before the Lord:

‖ Exod. 23. 15. & 34. 20. Eccli. 35. 6.

17 But every one ſhall offer according to what he hath, according to the bleſſing of the Lord his God, which he ſhall give him.

18 Thou ſhalt appoint judges and magiſtrates in all thy gates, which the Lord thy God ſhall give thee, in all thy tribes: that they may judge the people with juſt judgment, ‖ Exod. 23. 8. Levit. 19. 15. Supra 1. 17. Eccli. 20. 31.

19 And not go aſide to either part. ‖ Thou ſhalt not accept perſon nor gifts: for gifts blind the eyes of the wiſe, and change the words of the juſt.

20 Thou ſhalt follow juſtly after that which is juſt: that thou mayſt live and poſſeſs the land, which the Lord thy God ſhall give thee.

21 Thou ſhalt plant no grove, nor any tree near the altar of the Lord thy God:

22 Neither ſhalt thou make nor ſet up to thyſelf a ſtatue: which things the Lord thy God hateth.

CHAP. XVII.

Victims muſt be without blemiſh. Idolaters are to be ſlain. Controverſies are to be decided by the high-prieſt and council, whoſe ſentence muſt be obeyed, under pain of death. The duty of a king, who is to receive the law of God at the prieſt's hands.

THOU ſhalt not ſacrifice to the Lord thy God a ſheep, or an ox, wherein there is blemiſh, or any fault: for that is an abomination to the Lord thy God. A. M. 2553.

2 When there ſhall be found among you within any of thy gates, which the Lord thy God ſhall give thee, man or woman that do evil in the ſight of the Lord thy God, and tranſgreſs his covenant,

3 So as to go and ſerve ſtrange gods, and adore them, the ſun and the moon, and all the hoſt of heaven, which I have not commanded:

4 And this is told thee, and hearing it thou haſt enquired diligently, and found it to be true, and that the abomination is committed in Iſrael:

5 Thou ſhalt bring forth the man or the woman, who have commited that moſt wicked thing, to the gates of thy city, and they ſhall be ſtoned.

6 ‖ By the mouth of two, or three witneſſes ſhall he die that is to be ſlain. Let no man be put to death, when only one beareth witneſs againſt him.

‖ Infra 19. 15. Mat. 18. 16. 2 Cor. 13. 1.

7 The hands of the witneſſes ſhall be firſt upon him to kill him, † and afterwards the hands of the reſt of the people: that thou mayſt take away the evil out of the midſt of thee.

† Supra 13. 9.

8 If thou perceive that there be among you a hard and doubtful matter in judgment between blood and blood, cauſe and cauſe, leproſy and leproſy: and thou ſee that the words of the judges within thy gates do vary:

CHAP. XVII. VER. 3. The hoſt of heaven. That is, the ſtars.

VER. 8. If thou perceive, &c. Here we ſee what authority God was pleaſed to give to the church-guides of the Old Teſtament, in deciding, without appeal, all controverſies relating to the law; promiſing that they ſhould not err therein; and puniſhing with death ſuch as proudly refuſed to obey their deciſions: and ſurely he has not done leſs for the church-guides of the New Teſtament.

arise, and go up to the place, which the Lord thy God shall choose.

‖ 2 Par. 19. 8. 9 ‖ And thou shalt come to the priests of the Levitical race, and to the judge, that shall be at that time: and thou shalt ask of them, and they shall shew thee the truth of the judgment.

10 And thou shalt do whatsoever they shall say, that preside in the place, which the Lord shall choose, and what they shall teach thee,

11 According to his law; and thou shalt follow their sentence: neither shalt thou decline to the right hand nor to the left hand.

12 But he that will be proud, and refuse to obey the commandment of the priest, who ministereth at that time to the Lord thy God, and the decree of the judge, that man shall die, and thou shalt take away the evil from Israel:

13 And all the people hearing it shall fear, that no one afterwards swell with pride.

14 When thou art come into the land, which the Lord thy God will give thee, and possessest it, and shalt say: I will set a king over me, as all nations have that are round about:

15 Thou shalt set him whom the Lord thy God shall choose out of the number of thy brethren. Thou mayst not make a man of another nation king, that is not thy brother.

16 And when he is made king, he shall not multiply horses to himself, nor lead back the people into Egypt, being lifted up with the number of his horsemen, especially since the Lord hath commanded you to return no more the same way.

17 He shall not have many wives, that may allure his mind, nor immense sums of silver and gold.

18 But after he is raised to the throne of his kingdom, he shall copy out to himself the Deuteronomy of this law in a volume, taking the copy of the priests of the Levitical tribe,

19 And he shall have it with him, and shall read it all the days of his life, that he may learn to fear the Lord his God, and keep his words and ceremonies, that are commanded in the law.

20 And that his heart be not lifted up with pride over his brethren, nor decline to the right or to the left, that he and his sons may reign a long time over Israel.

CHAP. XVIII.

The Lord is the inheritance of the priests and Levites. Heathenish abominations are to be avoided. The great PROPHET CHRIST is promised. False prophets must be slain.

‖ THE priests and Levites, and all that are of the same tribe, shall have no part nor inheritance with the rest of Israel, because they shall eat the sacrifices of the Lord, and his oblations, A. M. 2553. ‖ Num. 18. 20. & 23. Supra 10. 9. 1 Cor. 9. 13.

2 And they shall receive nothing else of the possession of their brethren: for the Lord himself is their inheritance, as he hath said to them.

3 This shall be the priest's due from the people, and from them that offer victims: whether they sacrifice an ox, or a sheep, they shall give to the priest the shoulder and the breast:

4 ‖ The first-fruits also of corn, of wine, and of oil, and a part of the wool from the shearing of their sheep. ‖ Num. 18. 21.

5 For the Lord thy God hath chosen him of all thy tribes, to stand, and to minister to the name of the Lord, him and his sons for ever.

6 If a Levite go out of any one of the cities throughout all Israel, in which he dwelleth, and have a longing mind to come to the place which the Lord shall choose,

7 He shall minister in the name of the Lord his God, as all his brethren the Levites do, that shall stand at that time before the Lord.

8 He shall receive the same portion of food that the rest do: besides that which is due to him in his own city, by succession from his fathers.

9 When thou art come into the land which the Lord thy God shall give thee, beware lest thou have a mind to imitate the abominations of those nations.

10 ‖ Neither let there be found among you any one that shall expiate his son or daughter, making them to pass through the fire: or that consulteth soothsayers, or observeth dreams and omens, neither let there be any wizard, ‖ Levit. 20. 27.

11 Nor charmer, nor any one that consulteth pythonic spirits, or fortune-tellers, ‖ or that seeketh the truth from the dead. ‖ 1 Kings 28. 7.

12 For the Lord abhorreth all these things, and for these abominations he will destroy them at thy coming.

13 Thou shalt be perfect, and without spot before the Lord thy God.

14 These nations, whose land thou shalt possess, hearken to soothsayers and diviners:

but thou art otherwiſe inſtructed by the Lord thy God.

‖ John 1. 45. Acts 3. 22. 15 ‖ The Lord thy God will raiſe up to thee a PROPHET of thy nation and of thy brethren like unto me: him thou ſhalt hear:

† Exod. 20. 21. 16 As thou deſireſt of the Lord thy God in † Horeb, when the aſſembly was gathered together, and ſaidſt: Let me not hear any more the voice of the Lord my God, neither let me ſee any more this exceeding great fire, leſt I die.

17 And the Lord ſaid to me: They have ſpoken all things well.

‖ John 1. 45. 18 ‖ I will raiſe them up a prophet out of the midſt of their brethren like to thee: and I will put my words in his mouth, and he ſhall ſpeak all that I ſhall command him.

19 And he that will not hear his words, which he ſhall ſpeak in my name, I will be the revenger.

20 But the prophet who being corrupted with pride ſhall ſpeak in my name things that I did not command him to ſay, or in the name of ſtrange gods, ſhall be ſlain.

21 And if in ſilent thought thou anſwer: How ſhall I know the word that the Lord hath not ſpoken?

22 Thou ſhalt have this ſign: Whatſoever that ſame prophet foretelleth in the name of the Lord, and it cometh not to paſs: that thing the Lord hath not ſpoken, but the prophet hath forged it by the pride of his mind: and therefore thou ſhalt not fear him.

CHAP. XIX.

The cities of refuge. Wilful murder, and falſe witneſſes muſt be puniſhed.

A. M. 2553. WHEN the Lord thy God hath deſtroyed the nations, whoſe land he will deliver to thee, and thou ſhalt poſſeſs it, and ſhalt dwell in the cities and houſes thereof:

‖ Num. 35. 11. Joſ. 20. 2. 2 ‖ Thou ſhalt ſeparate to thee three cities in the midſt of the land, which the Lord will give thee in poſſeſſion,

3 Paving diligently the way: and thou ſhalt divide the whole province of thy land equally into three parts: that he who is forced to flee for manſlaughter, may have near at hand whither to eſcape.

4 This ſhall be the law of the ſlayer that fleeth, whoſe life is to be ſaved: He that killeth his neighbour ignorantly, and who is proved to have had no hatred againſt him yeſterday and the day before:

5 But to have gone with him to the wood to hew wood, and in cutting down the tree the axe ſlipped out of his hand, and the iron ſlipping from the handle ſtruck his friend, and killed him: he ſhall flee to one of the cities aforeſaid, and live:

6 Leſt perhaps the next kinſman of him whoſe blood was ſhed, puſhed on by his grief ſhould purſue, and apprehend him, if the way be too long, and take away the life of him who is not guilty of death, becauſe he is proved to have had no hatred before againſt him that was ſlain.

7 Therefore I command thee, that thou ſeparate three cities at equal diſtance one from another.

‖ Gen. 28. 14. Exod. 34. 24. Supra 12. 20. 8 ‖ And when the Lord thy God ſhall have enlarged thy borders, as he ſwore to thy fathers, and ſhall give thee all the land that he promiſed them,

9 (Yet ſo, if thou keep his commandments, and do the things which I command thee this day, that thou love the Lord thy God, and walk in his ways at all times) thou ſhalt add to thee other three cities, and ſhalt double the number of the three cities aforeſaid:

10 That innocent blood may not be ſhed in the midſt of the land which the Lord thy God will give thee to poſſeſs, leſt thou be guilty of blood.

‖ Num. 35. 20. 11 ‖ But if any man hating his neighbour, lie in wait for his life, and riſe and ſtrike him, and he die, and he flee to one of the cities aforeſaid,

12 The ancients of his city ſhall ſend, and take him out of the place of refuge, and ſhall deliver him into the hand of the kinſman of him, whoſe blood was ſhed, and he ſhall die.

13 Thou ſhalt not pity him, and thou ſhalt take away the guilt of innocent blood out of Iſrael, that it may be well with thee.

14 Thou ſhalt not take, nor remove thy neighbour's landmark, which thy predeceſſors have ſet in thy poſſeſſion, which the Lord thy God will give thee in the land that thou ſhalt receive to poſſeſs.

‖ Supra 17. 6. Mat. 18. 16. 2 Cor. 13. 1. 15 ‖ One witneſs ſhall not riſe up againſt any man, whatſoever the ſin, or wickedneſs be: but in the mouth of two or three witneſſes every word ſhall ſtand.

16 If a lying witneſs ſtand againſt a man, accuſing him of tranſgreſſion,

17 Both of them, between whom the controverſy is, ſhall ſtand before the Lord in the ſight of the prieſts and the judges that ſhall be in thoſe days.

‖ Dan. 13. 62. 18 ‖ And when after moſt diligent inquiſition, they ſhall find that the falſe witneſs hath told a lie againſt his brother:

19 They ſhall render to him as he meant to do to his brother, and thou ſhalt take away the evil out of the midſt of thee:

20 That others hearing may fear, and may not dare to do ſuch things.

‖ Exod. 21. 23. & 24. Levit. 24. 20. Mat. 5. 38.

21 Thou ſhalt not pity him, ‖ but ſhalt require life for life, eye for eye, tooth for tooth, hand for hand, foot for foot.

CHAP. XX.

Laws relating to war.

A. M. 2553.

IF thou go out to war againſt thy enemies, and ſee horſemen and chariots, and the numbers of the enemy's army greater than thine, thou ſhalt not fear them: becauſe the Lord thy God is with thee, who brought thee out of the land of Egypt.

2 And when the battle is now at hand, the prieſt ſhall ſtand before the army, and ſhall ſpeak to the people in this manner:

3 Hear, O Iſrael, you join battle this day againſt your enemies, let not your heart be diſmayed, be not afraid, do not give back, fear ye them not:

4 Becauſe the Lord your God is in the midſt of you, and will fight for you againſt your enemies, to deliver you from danger.

5 And the captains ſhall proclaim through every band in the hearing of the army:

‖ 1 Mac. 3. 56.

‖ What man is there, that hath built a new houſe, and hath not dedicated it? let him go, and return to his houſe, leſt he die in the battle, and another man dedicate it.

6 What man is there, that hath planted a vineyard, and hath not as yet made it to be common, whereof all men may eat? let him go, and return to his houſe: leſt he die in the battle, and another man execute his office.

7 What man is there, that hath eſpouſed a wife, and not taken her? let him go, and return to his houſe: leſt he die in the war, and another man take her.

8 After theſe things are declared they ſhall add the reſt, and ſhall ſpeak to the people:

‖ Judges 7. 3.

‖ What man is there that is fearful, and faint-hearted? let him go, and return to his houſe, leſt he make the hearts of his brethren to fear, as he himſelf is poſſeſſed with fear.

9 And when the captains of the army ſhall hold their peace, and have made an end of ſpeaking, every man ſhall prepare their bands to fight.

10 If at any time thou come to fight againſt a city, thou ſhalt firſt offer it peace.

11 If they receive it, and open the gates to thee, all the people that are therein, ſhall be ſaved, and ſhall ſerve thee paying tribute.

12 But if they will not make peace, and ſhall begin war againſt thee, thou ſhalt beſiege it.

13 And when the Lord thy God ſhall deliver it into thy hands, thou ſhalt ſlay all that are therein of the male ſex, with the edge of the ſword,

14 Excepting women and children, cattle and other things, that are in the city. And thou ſhalt divide all the prey to the army, and thou ſhalt eat the ſpoils of thy enemies, which the Lord thy God ſhall give thee.

15 So ſhalt thou do to all cities that are at a great diſtance from thee, and are not of theſe cities which thou ſhalt receive in poſſeſſion.

16 But of thoſe cities that ſhall be given thee, thou ſhalt ſuffer none at all to live:

17 But ſhalt kill them with the edge of the ſword, to wit, the Hethite, and the Amorrhite, and the Chananite, the Pherezite, and the Hevite, and the Jebuſite, as the Lord thy God hath commanded thee:

18 Leſt they teach you to do all the abominations which they have done to their gods: and you ſhould ſin againſt the Lord your God.

19 When thou haſt beſieged a city a long time, and hath compaſſed it with bulwarks to take it, thou ſhalt not cut down the trees that may be eaten of, neither ſhalt thou ſpoil the country round about with axes: for it is a tree, and not a man, neither can it increaſe the number of them that fight againſt thee.

20 But if there be any trees that are not fruitful, but wild, and fit for other uſes, cut them down, and make engines, until thou take the city, which fighteth againſt thee.

CHAP. XXI.

The expiation of a ſecret murder. The marrying a captive. The eldeſt ſon muſt not be deprived of his birth-right for hatred of his mother. A ſtubborn ſon is to be ſtoned to death. When one is hanged on a gibbet, he muſt be taken down the ſame day, and buried.

A. M. 2553. Ante C. 1451.

WHEN there ſhall be found in the land, which the Lord thy God will give thee, the corpſe of a man ſlain, and it is not known who is guilty of the murder,

2 Thy ancients, and judges ſhall go out, and ſhall meaſure from the place where the body lieth the diſtance of every city round about:

3 And the ancients of that city which they ſhall perceive to be nearer than the reſt, ſhall take a heifer of the herd, that hath not drawn in the yoke, nor ploughed the ground,

4 And they ſhall bring her into a rough and ſtony valley, that never was ploughed, nor sown: and there they shall strike off the head of the heifer:

5 And the priests the sons of Levi shall come, whom the Lord thy God hath chosen to minister to him, and to bless in his name, and that by their word every matter should be decided, and whatsoever is clean or unclean should be judged.

6 And the ancients of that city shall come to the person slain, and shall wash their hands over the heifer that was killed in the valley,

7 And shall say: Our hands did not shed this blood, nor did our eyes see it.

8 Be merciful to thy people Israel, whom thou hast redeemed, O Lord, and lay not innocent blood to their charge in the midst of thy people Israel. And the guilt of blood shall be taken from them:

9 And thou shalt be free from the innocent's blood, that was shed, when thou shalt have done what the Lord hath commanded thee.

10 If thou go out to fight against thy enemies, and the Lord thy God deliver them into thy hand, and thou lead them away captives,

11 And seest in the number of the captives a beautiful woman, and lovest her, and wilt have her to wife,

12 Thou shalt bring her into thy house: and she shall shave her hair, and pare her nails,

13 And shall put off the raiment, wherein she was taken: and shall remain in thy house, and mourn for her father and mother one month: and after that thou shalt go in unto her, and shalt sleep with her, and she shall be thy wife.

14 But if afterwards she please thee not, thou shalt let her go free, but thou mayst not sell her for money, nor oppress her by might: because thou hast humbled her.

15 If a man have two wives, one beloved, and the other hated, and they have had children by him, and the son of the hated be the first-born,

16 And he meaneth to divide his substance among his sons: he may not make the son of the beloved the first-born, and prefer him before the son of the hated.

‖ 1 Par. 5. 1. 17 ‖ But he shall acknowledge the son of the hated for the first-born, and shall give him a double portion of all he hath: for this is the first of his children, and to him are due the first-birthrights.

18 If a man have a stubborn and unruly son, who will not hear the commandments of his father or mother, and being corrected, slighteth obedience:

19 They shall take him and bring him to the ancients of his city, and to the gate of judgment,

20 And shall say to them: This our son is rebellious and stubborn, he slighteth hearing our admonitions, he giveth himself to revelling, and to debauchery and banquetings:

21 The people of the city shall stone him: and he shall die, that you may take away the evil out of the midst of you, and all Israel hearing it may be afraid.

22 When a man hath committed a crime for which he is to be punished with death, and being condemned to die is hanged on a gibbet:

23 His body shall not remain upon the tree, but shall be buried the same day: ‖ for he is accursed of God that hangeth on a tree: and thou shalt not defile thy land, which the Lord thy God shall give thee in possession. ‖ Gal. 3. 13.

CHAP. XXII.

Humanity towards neighbours. Neither sex may use the apparel of the other. Cruelty to be avoided even to birds. Battlements about the roof of a house. Things of divers kinds not to be mixed. The punishment of him that slandereth his wife, as also of adultery and rape.

‖ THOU shalt not pass by if thou seest thy brother's ox, or his sheep go astray: but thou shalt bring them back to thy brother. A. M. 2553. ‖ Exod. 24. 4.

2 And if thy brother be not nigh, or thou know him not: thou shalt bring them to thy house, and they shall be with thee until thy brother seek them, and receive them.

3 Thou shalt do in like manner with his ass, and with his raiment, and with every thing that is thy brother's, which is lost: if thou find it, neglect it not as pertaining to another.

4 If thou see thy brother's ass or his ox to be fallen down in the way, thou shalt not slight it, but shalt lift it up with him.

5 A woman shall not be clothed with man's apparel, neither shall a man use woman's apparel: for he that doth these things is abominable before God.

6 If thou find, as thou walkest by the way, a bird's nest in a tree, or on the ground, and the dam sitting upon the young or upon the eggs: thou shalt not take her with her young:

CHAP. XXII. VER. 6. Thou shalt not take, &c. This was to shew them to exercise a certain mercy even to irrational creatures; and by that means to train them up to a horror of cruelty; and to the exercise of humanity and mutual charity one to another.

7 But ſhalt let her go, keeping the young which thou haſt caught: that it may be well with thee, and thou mayſt live a long time.

8 When thou buildeſt a new houſe, thou ſhalt make a battlement to the roof round about: leſt blood be ſhed in thy houſe, and thou be guilty, if any one ſlip, and fall down headlong.

9 Thou ſhalt not ſow thy vineyard with divers ſeeds: leſt both the ſeed which thou haſt ſown, and the fruit of the vineyard, be ſanctified together.

10 Thou ſhalt not plough with an ox and an aſs together.

11 Thou ſhalt not wear a garment that is woven of woollen and linen together.

‖ Num. 15. 38. 12 ‖ Thou ſhalt make ſtrings in the hem at the four corners of thy cloak, wherewith thou ſhalt be covered.

13 If a man marry a wife, and afterwards hate her,

14 And ſeek occaſions to put her away, laying to her charge a very ill name, and ſay: I took this woman to wife, and going in to her, I found her not a virgin:

15 Her father and mother ſhall take her, and ſhall bring with them the tokens of her virginity to the ancients of the city that are in the gate:

16 And the father ſhall ſay: I gave my daughter unto this man to wife: and becauſe he hateth her,

17 He layeth to her charge a very ill name, ſo as to ſay: I found not thy daughter a virgin: and behold theſe are the tokens of my daughter's virginity. And they ſhall ſpread the cloth before the ancients of the city:

18 And the ancients of that city ſhall take that man, and beat him,

19 Condemning him beſides in a hundred ſicles of ſilver, which he ſhall give to the damſel's father, becauſe he hath defamed by a very ill name a virgin of Iſrael: and he ſhall have her to wife, and may not put her away all the days of his life.

20 But if what he chargeth her with be true, and virginity be not found in the damſel:

21 They ſhall caſt her out of the doors of her father's houſe, and the men of the city ſhall ſtone her to death, and ſhe ſhall die: becauſe ſhe hath done a wicked thing in Iſrael, to play the whore in her father's houſe: and thou ſhalt take away the evil out of the midſt of thee.

‖ Levit. 20. 10. 22 ‖ If a man lie with another man's wife, they ſhall both die, that is to ſay, the adulterer and the adultereſs: and thou ſhalt take away the evil out of Iſrael.

23 If a man have eſpouſed a damſel that is a virgin, and ſome one find her in the city, and lie with her,

24 Thou ſhalt bring them both out to the gate of that city, and they ſhall be ſtoned: the damſel, becauſe ſhe cried not out, being in the city: the man, becauſe he hath humbled his neighbour's wife. And thou ſhalt take away the evil from the midſt of thee.

25 But if a man find a damſel that is betrothed, in the field, and taking hold of her, lie with her, he alone ſhall die:

26 The damſel ſhall ſuffer nothing, neither is ſhe guilty of death: for as a robber riſeth againſt his brother, and taketh away his life, ſo alſo did the damſel ſuffer:

27 She was alone in the field: ſhe cried, and there was no man to help her.

28 If a man find a damſel that is a virgin, who is not eſpouſed, and taking her lie with her, and the matter come to judgment:

‖ Exod. 22. 16. 29 ‖ He that lay with her, ſhall give to the father of the maid fifty ſicles of ſilver, and ſhall have her to wife, becauſe he hath humbled her: he may not put her away all the days of his life.

30 No man ſhall take his father's wife, nor remove his covering.

Who may and who may not enter into the church: uncleanneſs to be avoided: other precepts concerning fugitives, fornication, uſury, vows, and eating other men's grapes and corn.

A. M. 2553. AN eunuch, whoſe teſticles are broken or cut away, or yard cut off, ſhall not enter into the church of the Lord.

VER. 8. Battlement. This precaution was neceſſary, becauſe all their houſes had flat tops; and it was uſual to walk and to converſe together upon them.

CHAP. XXIII. VER. 1. Eunuch. By theſe are meant, in the ſpiritual ſenſe, ſuch as are barren in good works.

Ibid. Into the church. That is, into the aſſembly or congregation of Iſrael, ſo as to have the privilege of an Iſraelite, or to be capable of any place or office among the people of God.

againſt thee Balaam, the ſon of Beor, from Meſopotamia in Syria, to curſe thee:

6 Thou ſhalt not make peace with them, neither ſhalt thou ſeek their proſperity all the days of thy life for ever.

7 Thou ſhalt not abhor the Edomite, becauſe he is thy brother: nor the Egyptian, becauſe thou waſt a ſtranger in his land.

8 They that are born of them, in the third generation ſhall enter into the church of the Lord.

9 When thou goeſt out to war againſt thy enemies, thou ſhalt keep thyſelf from every evil thing.

10 If there be among you any man, that is defiled in a dream by night, he ſhall go forth out of the camp,

11 And ſhall not return, before he be waſhed with water in the evening: and after ſun-ſet he ſhall return into the camp.

12 Thou ſhalt have a place without the camp, to which thou mayeſt go for the neceſſities of nature,

14 That which thou art eaſed of: (for the Lord thy God walketh in the midſt of thy camp, to deliver thee, and to give up thy enemies to thee:) and let thy camp be holy, and let no uncleanneſs appear therein, leſt he go away from thee.

15 Thou ſhalt not deliver to his maſter the ſervant that is fled to thee.

16 He ſhall dwell with thee in the place, that ſhall pleaſe him, and ſhall reſt in one of thy cities: give him no trouble.

17 There ſhall be no whore among the daughters of Iſrael, nor whoremonger among the ſons of Iſrael.

18 Thou ſhalt not offer the hire of a ſtrumpet, nor the price of a dog, in the houſe of the Lord thy God, whatſoever it be that thou haſt vowed: becauſe both theſe are an abomination to the Lord thy God.

19 Thou ſhalt not lend to thy brother money to uſury, nor corn, nor any other thing:

20 But to the ſtranger. To thy brother thou ſhalt lend that which he wanteth, without uſury: that the Lord thy God may bleſs thee in all thy works in the land, which thou ſhalt go in to poſſeſs.

21 When thou haſt made a vow to the Lord thy God, thou ſhalt not delay to pay it: becauſe the Lord thy God will require it. And if thou delay, it ſhall be imputed to thee for a ſin.

22 If thou wilt not promiſe, thou ſhalt be without ſin.

23 But that which is once gone out of thy lips, thou ſhalt obſerve, and ſhalt do as thou haſt promiſed to the Lord thy God, and haſt ſpoken with thy own will and with thy own mouth.

24 Going into thy neighbour's vineyard, thou mayeſt eat as many grapes as thou pleaſeſt: but muſt carry none out with thee:

25 If thou go into thy friend's corn, thou mayſt break the ears, and rub them in thy hand: but not reap them with a ſickle.

Divorce permitted to avoid greater evil: the newly married muſt not go to war: of men-ſtealers, of leproſy, of pledges, of labourers hire, of juſtice, and of charity to the poor.

A. M. 2553.

‖ IF a man take a wife, and have her, and ſhe find not favour in his eyes for ſome uncleanneſs: he ſhall write a bill of divorce, and ſhall give it in her hand, and ſend her out of his houſe. ‖ Mat. 5. 31. & 19. 7. Mark 10. 4.

3 And he alſo hateth her, and hath given her a bill of divorce, and hath ſent her out of his houſe, or is dead:

4 The former huſband cannot take her again to wife: becauſe ſhe is defiled, and is become abominable before the Lord: leſt thou cauſe thy land to ſin, which the Lord thy God ſhall give thee to poſſeſs.

5 When a man hath lately taken a wife, he ſhall not go out to war, neither ſhall any public buſineſs be enjoined him, but he ſhall be free at home without fault, that for one year he may rejoice with his wife.

VER. 14. No uncleanneſs. This caution againſt ſuffering any filth in the camp, was to teach them to fly the filth of ſin, which driveth God away from the ſoul.

VER. 20. To the ſtranger. This was a diſpenſation granted by God to his people, who being the Lord of all things, can give a right and title to one upon the goods of another. ‖ Num. 12. 10. 9 ‖ Remember what the Lord your God did to Mary, in the way when you came out of Egypt.

10 When thou shalt demand of thy neighbour any thing that he oweth thee, thou shalt not go into his house to take away a pledge:

‖ Exod. 22. 26. 11 ‖ But thou shalt stand without, and he shall bring out to thee what he hath.

12 But if he be poor, the pledge shall not lodge with thee that night,

13 But thou shalt restore it to him presently before the going down of the sun: that he may sleep in his own raiment and bless thee, and thou mayst have justice before the Lord thy God.

† Lev. 19. 13. Tob. 4. 15. 14 ‖ Thou shalt not refuse the hire of the needy, and the poor, whether he be thy brother, or a stranger that dwelleth with thee in the land, and is within thy gates:

15 But thou shalt pay him the price of his labour the same day, before the going down of the sun, because he is poor, and with it maintaineth his life: lest he cry against thee to the Lord, and it be reputed to thee for a sin.

‖ 4 Kings 14 6. 2 Par. 25. 4. Ezec. 18. 20. 16 ‖ The fathers shall not be put to death for the children, nor the children for the fathers, but every one shall die for his own sin.

17 Thou shalt not pervert the judgment of the stranger nor of the fatherless, neither shalt thou take away the widow's raiment for a pledge.

18 Remember that thou wast a slave in Egypt, and the Lord thy God delivered thee from thence. Therefore I command thee to do this thing.

19 When thou hast reaped the corn in thy field, and hast forgot and left a sheaf, thou shalt not return to take it away: but thou shalt suffer the stranger, and the fatherless, and the widow to take it away: that the Lord thy God may bless thee in all the works of thy hands.

20 If thou have gathered the fruit of thy olive-trees, thou shalt not return to gather whatsoever remaineth on the trees: but shalt leave it for the stranger, for the fatherless, and the widow.

21 If thou make the vintage of thy vineyard, thou shalt not gather the clusters that remain, but they shall be for the stranger, the fatherless, and the widow.

22 Remember that thou also wast a bondman in Egypt, and therefore I command thee to do this thing.

Stripes must not exceed forty. The ox is not to be muzzled. Of raising seed to the brother. Of the immodest woman. Of unjust weight. Of destroying the Amalecites.

IF there be a controversy between men, and they call upon the judges: they shall give the prize of justice to him whom they perceive to be just: and him whom they find to be wicked, they shall condemn of wickedness. * A. M. 2553.

2 And if they see that the offender be worthy of stripes: they shall lay him down, and shall cause him to be beaten before them. According to the measure of the sin shall the measure also of the stripes be:

3 Yet so, ‖ that they exceed not the number of forty: lest thy brother depart shamefully torn before thy eyes. ‖ 2 Cor. 11. 24.

4 † Thou shalt not muzzle the ox that treadeth out thy corn on the floor. † 1 Cor. 9. 9. 1 Tim. 5. 18.

6 And the first son he shall have of her he shall call by his name, that his name be not abolished out of Israel.

7 But if he will not take his brother's wife, who by law belongeth to him, the woman shall go to the gate of the city, and call upon the ancients, and say: ‖ My husband's brother refuseth to raise up his brother's name in Israel: and will not take me to wife. ‖ Ruth 4. 5.

8 And they shall cause him to be sent for forthwith, and shall ask him. If he answer: I will not take her to wife:

9 The woman shall come to him before the ancients, and shall take off his shoe from his foot, and spit in his face, and say: So shall it be done to the man that will not build up his brother's house:

10 And his name shall be called in Israel, the house of the unshod.

CHAP. XXV. VER. 4. Not muzzle, &c. St. Paul understands this of the spiritual labourer in the church of God, who is not to be denied his maintenance. 1 Cor. ix. 8, 9, 10.

11 If two men have words together, and one begin to fight againſt the other, and the other's wife willing to deliver her huſband out of the hand of the ſtronger, ſhall put forth her hand, and take him by the ſecrets:

12 Thou ſhalt cut off her hand, neither ſhalt thou be moved with any pity in her regard.

13 Thou ſhalt not have divers weights in thy bag, a greater and a leſs:

14 Neither ſhall there be in thy houſe a greater buſhel and a leſs.

15 Thou ſhalt have a juſt and a true weight, and thy buſhel ſhall be equal and true: that thou mayſt live a long time upon the land which the Lord thy God ſhall give thee.

16 For the Lord thy God abhorreth him that doth theſe things, and he hateth all injuſtice.

17 ‖ Remember what Amalec did to thee in the way when thou cameſt out of Egypt: ‖ Exod. 17.

18 How he met thee: and ſlew the hindmoſt of thy army, who ſat down being weary, when thou waſt ſpent with hunger and labour, and he feared not God.

19 Therefore when the Lord thy God ſhall give thee reſt, and ſhall have ſubdued all the nations round about in the land which he hath promiſed thee: thou ſhalt blot out his name from under heaven. See thou forget it not.

CHAP. XXVI.

The form of words with which the firſt-fruits and tithes are to be offered. God's covenant.

AND when thou art come into the land which the Lord thy God will give thee to poſſeſs, and haſt conquered it, and dwelleſt in it:

2 Thou ſhalt take the firſt of all thy fruits, and put them in a baſket, and ſhalt go to the place which the Lord thy God ſhall chooſe, that his name may be invocated there:

3 And thou ſhalt go to the prieſt that ſhall be in thoſe days, and ſay to him: I profeſs this day before the Lord thy God, that I am come into the land, for which he ſwore to our fathers, that he would give it us.

4 And the prieſt taking the baſket at thy hand, ſhall ſet it before the altar of the Lord thy God:

5 And thou ſhalt ſpeak thus in the ſight of the Lord thy God: The Syrian purſued my father, who went down into Egypt, and ſojourned there in a very ſmall number, and grew into a nation great and ſtrong and of an infinite multitude.

6 And the Egyptians afflicted us, and perſecuted us, laying on us moſt grievous burdens:

7 And we cried to the Lord God of our fathers: who heard us, and looked down upon our affliction, and labour, and diſtreſs:

8 And brought us out of Egypt with a ſtrong hand, and a ſtretched-out arm, with great terror, with ſigns and wonders:

9 And brought us into this place, and gave us this land flowing with milk and honey.

10 And therefore now I offer the firſt-fruits of the land which the Lord hath given me. And thou ſhalt leave them in the ſight of the Lord thy God, adoring the Lord thy God.

11 And thou ſhalt feaſt in all the good things which the Lord thy God hath given thee, and thy houſe, thou and the Levite, and the ſtranger that is with thee.

12 When thou haſt made an end of tithing all thy fruits, in the third year of tithes thou ſhalt give it to the Levite and to the ſtranger, and to the fatherleſs, and to the widow, that they may eat within thy gates, and be filled:

13 And thou ſhalt ſpeak thus in the ſight of the Lord thy God: ‖ I have taken that which was ſanctified out of my houſe, and I have given it to the Levite and to the ſtranger, and to the fatherleſs, and to the widow, as thou haſt commanded me: I have not tranſgreſſed thy commandments nor forgotten thy precepts. ‖ Supra 14. 29.

14 I have not eaten of them in my mourning, nor ſeparated them for any uncleanneſs, nor ſpent any thing of them in funerals. I have obeyed the voice of the Lord my God, and have done all things as thou haſt commanded me.

15 ‖ Look from thy ſanctuary, and thy high habitation of heaven, and bleſs thy people Iſrael, and the land which thou haſt given us, as thou didſt ſwear to our fathers, a land flowing with milk and honey. ‖ Iſa. 63. 15. Baruch 2. 16.

VER. 17. Amalec. This order for deſtroying the Amalecites, in the myſtical ſenſe, ſheweth how hateful they are to God, and what puniſhments they are to look for from his juſtice, who attack and diſcourage his ſervants when they are but juſt come out, as it were, of the Egypt of this wicked world, and being yet weak and faint-hearted, are but beginning their journey to the land of promiſe.

CHAP. XXVI. VER. 5. The Syrian. Laban. See Gen. xxvii.

16 This day the Lord thy God hath commanded thee to do these commandments and judgments: and to keep and fulfil them with all thy heart, and with all thy soul.

17 Thou hast chosen the Lord this day to be thy God, and to walk in his ways and keep his ceremonies, and precepts and judgments, and obey his command.

‖ Supra 7. 6. 18 ‖ And the Lord hath chosen thee this day, to be his peculiar people, as he hath spoken to thee, and to keep all his commandments:

19 And to make thee higher than all nations which he hath created, to his own praise, and name, and glory: that thou mayst be a holy people of the Lord thy God, as he hath spoken.

CHAP. XXVII.

The commandments must be written on stones: and an altar erected, and sacrifices offered. The observers of the commandments are to be blessed, and the transgressors cursed.

A. M. 2553. AND Moses with the ancients of Israel commanded the people, saying: Keep every commandment that I command you this day.

2 And when you are passed over the Jordan into the land which the Lord thy God will give thee thou shalt set up great stones, and shalt plaster them over with plaster,

3 That thou mayst write on them all the words of this law, when thou art passed over the Jordan: that thou mayst enter into the land which the Lord thy God will give thee, a land flowing with milk and honey, as he swore to thy fathers.

4 Therefore when you are passed over the Jordan, set up the stones which I command you this day, in mount Hebal, and thou shalt plaster them with plaster:

5 And thou shalt build there an altar to the Lord thy God, ‖ of stones which iron hath not touched, ‖ Exod. 20. 25. Jos. 8. 31.

6 And of stones not fashioned nor polished: and thou shalt offer upon it holocausts to the Lord thy God:

7 And shalt immolate peace-victims, and eat there, and feast before the Lord thy God.

8 And thou shalt write upon the stones all the words of this law plainly and clearly.

9 And Moses and the priests of the race of Levi said to all Israel: Attend, and hear, O Israel: This day thou art made the people of the Lord thy God.

10 Thou shalt hear his voice, and do the commandments and justices which I command thee.

11 And Moses commanded the people in that day, saying:

12 These shall stand upon mount Garizim to bless the people, when you are passed the Jordan: Simeon, Levi, Juda, Issachar, Joseph and Benjamin.

13 And over-against them shall stand on mount Hebal to curse: Ruben, Gad, and Aser, and Zabulon, Dan and Nephtali.

14 ‖ And the Levites shall pronounce, and say to all the men of Israel with a loud voice: ‖ Dan. 9. 11.

15 Cursed be the man that maketh a graven and molten thing, the abomination of the Lord, the work of the hands of artificers, and shall put it in a secret place: and all the people shall answer, and say: Amen.

16 Cursed be he that honoureth not his father and mother: and all the people shall say: Amen.

17 Cursed be he that removeth his neighbour's land-marks: and all the people shall say: Amen.

18 Cursed be he that maketh the blind to wander out of his way: and all the people shall say: Amen.

19 Cursed be he that perverteth the judgment of the stranger, of the fatherless and the widow: and all the people shall say: Amen.

20 Cursed be he that lieth with his father's wife, and uncover his bed: and all the people shall say: Amen.

21 Cursed be he that lieth with any beast: and all the people shall say: Amen.

22 Cursed be he that lieth with his sister, the daughter of his father, or of his mother: and all the people shall say: Amen.

23 Cursed be he that lieth with his mother-in-law: and all the people shall say: Amen.

24 Cursed be he that secretly killeth his neighbour: and all the people shall say: Amen.

25 Cursed be he that taketh gifts, to slay an innocent person: and all the people shall say: Amen.

26 Cursed be he that abideth not in the words of this law, and fulfilleth them not in work: and all the people shall say: Amen.

CHAP. XXVIII.

Many blessings are promised to the observers of God's commandments: and curses threatened to transgressors.

A. M. 2553. NOW if thou wilt hear the voice of the Lord thy God, to do and keep all his commandments, which I command thee this day, the Lord thy God will make thee higher than all the nations that are on the earth.

2 And all these blessings shall come upon thee, and overtake thee: yet so if thou hear his precepts.

3 Blessed shalt thou be in the city, and blessed in the field.

4 Blessed shall be the fruit of thy womb, and the fruit of thy ground, and the fruit of thy cattle, the droves of thy herds, and the folds of thy sheep.

5 Blessed shall be thy barns, and blessed thy stores.

6 Blessed shalt thou be coming in and going out.

7 The Lord shall cause thy enemies, that rise up against thee, to fall down before thy face: one way shall they come out against thee, and seven ways shall they flee before thee.

8 The Lord will send forth a blessing upon thy storehouses, and upon all the works of thy hands: and will bless thee in the land that thou shalt receive.

9 The Lord will raise thee up to be a holy people to himself, as he swore to thee: if thou keep the commandments of the Lord thy God, and walk in his ways.

10 And all the people of the earth shall see that the name of the Lord is invocated upon thee, and they shall fear thee.

11 The Lord will make thee abound with all goods, with the fruit of thy womb, and the fruit of thy cattle, with the fruit of thy land, which the Lord swore to thy fathers that he would give thee.

12 The Lord will open his excellent treasure, the heaven, that it may give rain in due season: and he will bless all the works of thy hands. And thou shalt lend to many nations, and shalt not borrow of any one.

13 And the Lord shall make thee the head, and not the tail: and thou shalt be always above, and not beneath: yet so if thou wilt hear the commandments of the Lord thy God which I command thee this day, and keep and do them,

14 And turn not away from them neither to the right hand, nor to the left, nor follow strange gods, nor worship them.

‖ Lev. 26. 14. Lament. 2. 17. Baruch 1. 20. Malac. 2. 2.

15 ‖ But if thou wilt not hear the voice of the Lord thy God, to keep, and to do all his commandments and ceremonies, which I command thee this day, all these curses shall come upon thee, and overtake thee.

16 Cursed shalt thou be in the city, cursed in the field.

17 Cursed shall be thy barn, and cursed thy stores.

18 Cursed shall be the fruit of thy womb, and the fruit of thy ground, the herds of thy oxen, and the flocks of thy sheep.

19 Cursed shalt thou be coming in, and cursed going out.

20 The Lord shall send upon thee famine and hunger, and a rebuke upon all the works which thou shalt do: until he consume and destroy thee quickly, for thy most wicked inventions, by which thou hast forsaken me.

21 May the Lord set the pestilence upon thee, until he consume thee out of the land, which thou shalt go in to possess.

22 May the Lord afflict thee with miserable want, with the fever and with cold, with burning and with heat, and with corrupted air and with blasting, and pursue thee till thou perish.

23 Be the heaven, that is over thee, of brass: and the ground thou treadest on, of iron.

24 The Lord give thee dust for rain upon thy land, and let ashes come down from heaven upon thee, till thou be consumed.

25 The Lord make thee to fall down before thy enemies, one way mayst thou go out against them, and flee seven ways, and be scattered throughout all the kingdoms of the earth.

26 And be thy carcass meat for all the fowls of the air, and the beasts of the earth, and be there none to drive them away.

27 The Lord strike thee with the ulcer of Egypt, and the part of thy body, by which the dung is cast out, with the scab and with the itch: so that thou canst not be healed.

28 The Lord strike thee with madness and blindness and fury of mind,

29 And mayst thou grope at mid-day as the blind is wont to grope in the dark, and not make straight thy ways. And mayst thou at all times suffer wrong, and be oppressed with violence, and mayst thou have no one to deliver thee.

30 Mayst thou take a wife, and another sleep with her. Mayst thou build a house, and not dwell therein. Mayst thou plant

CHAP. XXVIII. VER. 2. All these blessings, &c. In the old testament, God promised temporal blessings to the keepers of his law, heaven not being opened as yet; and that gross and sensual people being more moved with present and sensible things. But in the new testament the goods that are promised us are spiritual and eternal: and temporal evils are turned into blessings.

VER. 15. All these curses, &c. Thus God dealt with the transgressors of his law in the old testament: but now he often suffers sinners to prosper in this world, rewarding them for some little good they have done, and reserving their punishment for the other world.

31 May thy ox be ſlain before thee, and thou not eat thereof. May thy aſs be taken away in thy ſight, and not reſtored to thee. May thy ſheep be given to thy enemies, and may there be none to help thee.

32 May thy ſons and thy daughters be given to another people, thy eyes looking on, and languiſhing at the ſight of them all the day, and may there be no ſtrength in thy hand.

33 May a people which thou knoweſt not, eat the fruits of thy land, and all thy labours: and mayſt thou always ſuffer oppreſſion, and be cruſhed at all times,

34 And be aſtoniſhed at the terror of thoſe things which thy eyes ſhall ſee.

35 May the Lord ſtrike thee with a very ſore ulcer in the knees and in the legs, and be thou incurable from the ſole of the foot to the top of thy head.

36 The Lord ſhalt bring thee, and thy king, whom thou ſhalt have appointed over thee, into a nation which thou and thy fathers know not: and there thou ſhalt ſerve ſtrange gods, wood and ſtone.

37 And thou ſhalt be loſt, as a proverb and a bye-word to all people, among whom the Lord ſhall bring thee in.

38 ‖ Thou ſhalt caſt much ſeed into the ground, and gather little: becauſe the locuſts ſhall conſume all.

39 Thou ſhalt plant a vineyard, and dig it, and ſhalt not drink the wine, nor gather any thing thereof: becauſe it ſhall be waſted with worms.

40 Thou ſhalt have olive-trees in all thy borders, and ſhalt not be anointed with the oil: for the olives ſhall fall off and periſh.

41 Thou ſhalt beget ſons and daughters, and ſhalt not enjoy them: becauſe they ſhall be led into captivity.

42 The blaſt ſhall conſume all the trees and the fruits of thy ground.

43 The ſtranger that liveth with thee in the land, ſhall riſe up over thee, and ſhall be higher: and thou ſhalt go down, and be lower.

44 He ſhall lend to thee, and thou ſhalt not lend to him. He ſhall be as the head, and thou ſhalt be the tail.

45 And all theſe curſes ſhall come upon thee, and ſhall purſue and overtake thee, till thou periſh: becauſe thou heardſt not the voice of the Lord thy God, and didſt not keep his commandments and ceremonies which he commanded thee.

46 And they ſhall be as ſigns and wonders on thee, and on thy ſeed for ever.

47 Becauſe thou didſt not ſerve the Lord thy God with joy and gladneſs of heart, for the abundance of all things:

48 Thou ſhalt ſerve thy enemy, whom the Lord will ſend upon thee, in hunger, and thirſt, and nakedneſs, and in want of all things: and he ſhall put an iron yoke upon thy neck, till he conſume thee.

49 The Lord will bring upon thee a nation from afar, and from the uttermoſt ends of the earth, like an eagle that flieth ſwiftly: whoſe tongue thou canſt not underſtand:

50 A moſt inſolent nation, that will ſhew no regard to the ancient, nor have pity on the infant,

51 And will devour the fruit of thy cattle, and the fruits of thy land: until thou be deſtroyed, and will leave thee no wheat, nor wine, nor oil, nor herds of oxen, nor flocks of ſheep: until he deſtroy thee,

52 And conſume thee in all thy cities, and thy ſtrong and high walls be brought down, wherein thou truſtedſt in all thy land. Thou ſhalt be beſieged within thy gates in all thy land, which the Lord thy God will give thee:

‖ Lament. 4. 10. Baruch 2. 2. & 3.

53 ‖ And thou ſhall eat the fruit of thy womb, and the fleſh of thy ſons and of thy daughters, which the Lord thy God ſhall give thee, in the diſtreſs and extremity wherewith thy enemy ſhall oppreſs thee.

54 The man that is nice among you, and very delicate, ſhall envy his own brother, and his wife, that lieth in his boſom,

55 So that he will not give them of the fleſh of his children, which he ſhall eat: becauſe he hath nothing elſe in the ſiege and the want, wherewith thy enemies ſhall diſtreſs thee within all thy gates.

56 The tender and delicate woman, that could not go upon the ground, nor ſet down her foot for over-much niceneſs and tenderneſs, will envy her huſband who lieth in her boſom, the fleſh of her ſon, and of her daughter,

57 And the filth of the after-births, that come forth from between her thighs, and the children that are born the ſame hour. For they ſhall eat them ſecretly for the want of all things, in the ſiege and diſtreſs, wherewith thy enemy ſhall oppreſs thee within thy gates.

58 If thou wilt not keep, and fulfil all the words of this law, that are written in this volume, and fear his glorious and terrible name: that is, The Lord thy God:

59 The Lord ſhall increaſe thy plagues, and the plagues of thy ſeed, plagues great and laſting, infirmities grievous and perpetual.

60 And he ſhall bring back on thee all the afflictions of Egypt, which thou waſt afraid of, and they ſhall ſtick faſt to thee.

61 Moreover the Lord will bring upon thee all the diſeaſes, and plagues, that are not written in the volume of this law till he conſume thee:

62 And you ſhall remain few in number, who before were as the ſtars of heaven for multitude, becauſe thou heardſt not the voice of the Lord thy God.

63 And as the Lord rejoiced upon you before doing good to you, and multiplying you: ſo he ſhall rejoice deſtroying and bringing you to nought, ſo that you ſhall be taken away from the land which thou ſhalt go in to poſſeſs.

64 The Lord ſhall ſcatter thee among all people, from the fartheſt parts of the earth to the ends thereof: and there thou ſhalt ſerve ſtrange gods, which both thou art ignorant of and thy fathers, wood and ſtone.

65 Neither ſhalt thou be quiet, even in thoſe nations, nor ſhall there be any reſt for the ſole of thy foot. For the Lord will give thee a fearful heart, and languiſhing eyes, and a ſoul conſumed with penſiveneſs:

66 And thy life ſhall be as it were hanging before thee. Thou ſhalt fear night and day, neither ſhalt thou truſt thy life.

67 In the morning thou ſhalt ſay: Who will grant me evening? and at evening: Who will grant me morning? for the fearfulneſs of thy heart, wherewith thou ſhalt be terrified, and for thoſe things which thou ſhalt ſee with thy eyes.

68 The Lord ſhall bring thee again with ſhips into Egypt, by the way whereof he ſaid to thee that thou ſhouldſt ſee it no more. There ſhalt thou be ſet to ſale to thy enemies for bond-men and bond-women, and no man ſhall buy you.

CHAP. XXIX.

The covenant is ſolemnly confirmed between God and his people. Threats againſt thoſe that ſhall break it.

A. M. 2553. THESE are the words of the covenant which the Lord commanded Moſes to make with the children of Iſrael in the land of Moab: beſide that covenant which he made with them in Horeb.

2 And Moſes called all Iſrael, and ſaid to them: ‖ You have ſeen all the things that the Lord did before you in the land of Egypt to Pharao, and to all his ſervants, and to his whole land,

‖ Exod. 19. 4.

3 The great temptations, which thy eyes have ſeen, thoſe mighty ſigns, and wonders,

4 And the Lord hath not given you a heart to underſtand, and eyes to ſee, and ears that may hear, unto this preſent day.

5 ‖ He hath brought you forty years through the deſart: your garments are not worn out, neither are the ſhoes of your feet conſumed with age.

‖ Supra 8. 2.

6 You have not eaten bread, nor have you drunk wine or ſtrong drink: that you might know that I am the Lord your God.

7 And you came to this place: ‖ and Sehon king of Heſebon, and Og king of Baſan, came out againſt us to fight. And we ſlew them,

‖ Supra 3. 1.

8 And took their land, and delivered it for a poſſeſſion to ‖ Ruben and Gad, and the half tribe of Manaſſes.

‖ Supra 3. 15. Numb. 32. Joſ. 13. 8. & 22. 4.

9 Keep therefore the words of this covenant, and fulfil them: that you may underſtand all that you do.

10 You all ſtand this day before the Lord your God, your princes, and tribes, and ancients, and doctors, all the people of Iſrael,

11 Your children and your wives, and the ſtranger that abideth with thee in the camp, beſides the hewers of wood, and them that bring water:

12 That thou mayſt paſs in the covenant of the Lord thy God, and in the oath which this day the Lord thy God maketh with thee:

13 That he may raiſe thee up a people to himſelf, and he may be thy God as he hath ſpoken to thee, and as he ſwore to thy fathers Abraham, Iſaac, and Jacob.

14 Neither with you only do I make this covenant, and confirm theſe oaths, 15 But with all that are preſent and that are abſent.

16 For you know how we dwelt in the land of Egypt, and how we have paſſed through the midſt of nations, and paſſing through them,

17 You have ſeen their abominations and filth, that is to ſay, their idols, wood and ſtone, ſilver and gold, which they worſhipped.

18 Leſt perhaps there ſhould be among you a man or a woman, a family or a tribe, whoſe heart is turned away this day from the Lord our God, to go and ſerve the gods of thoſe nations: and there ſhould be among you a root bringing forth gall and bitterneſs.

CHAP. XXIX. VER. 4. Hath not given you, &c. Through your own fault and becauſe you reſiſted his grace.

19 And when he ſhall hear the words of this oath, he ſhould bleſs himſelf in his heart, ſaying: I ſhall have peace, and will walk on in the naughtineſs of my heart: and the drunken may conſume the thirſty,

20 And the Lord ſhould not forgive him: but his wrath and jealouſy againſt that man ſhould be exceedingly enkindled at that time, and all the curſes that are written in this volume ſhould light upon him: and the Lord ſhould blot out his name from under heaven,

21 And utterly deſtroy him out of all the tribes of Iſrael, according to the curſes that are contained in the book of this law and covenant:

22 And the following generation ſhall ſay, and the children that ſhall be born hereafter, and the ſtrangers that ſhall come from afar, ſeeing the plagues of that land, and the evils wherewith the Lord hath afflicted it,

23 Burning it with brimſtone, and the heat of ſalt, ſo that it cannot be ſown any more, nor any green thing grow therein, ‖ after, the example of the deſtruction of Sodom and Gomorrha, Adama and Seboim, which the Lord deſtroyed in his wrath and indignation:

‖ Gen. 19. 24.

24 And all the nations ſhall ſay: ‖ Why hath the Lord done thus to this land? what meaneth this exceeding great heat of his wrath?

‖ 3 Kings 9. 8. Jer. 22. 8.

25 And they ſhall anſwer: Becauſe they forſook the covenant of the Lord, which he made with their fathers, when he brought them out of the land of Egypt:

26 And they have ſerved ſtrange gods, and adored them, whom they knew not, and for whom they had not been aſſigned:

27 Therefore the wrath of the Lord was kindled againſt this land, to bring upon it all the curſes that are written in this volume:

28 And he hath caſt them out of their land, in anger and in wrath, and in very great indignation, and hath thrown them into a ſtrange land, as it is ſeen this day.

29 Secret things to the Lord our God: things that are manifeſt, to us and to our children for ever, that we may do all the words of this law.

CHAP. XXX.

Great mercies are promiſed to the penitent: God's commandment is feaſible. Life and death are ſet before them.

NOW when all theſe things ſhall be come upon thee, the bleſſing or the curſe, which I have ſet forth before thee: and thou ſhalt be touched with repentance of thy heart among all the nations, into which the Lord thy God ſhall have ſcattered thee, A. M. 2553.

2 And ſhalt return to him, and obey his commandments, as I command thee this day, thou and thy children, with all thy heart, and with all thy ſoul:

3 The Lord thy God will bring back again thy captivity, and will have mercy on thee, and gather thee again out of all the nations, into which he ſcattered thee before.

4 If thou be driven as far as the poles of heaven, the Lord thy God will fetch thee back from thence,

5 ‖ And will take thee to himſelf, and bring thee into the land which thy fathers poſſeſſed, and thou ſhalt poſſeſs it: and bleſſing thee, he will make thee more numerous than were thy fathers.

‖ 2 Mac. 2. 29.

6 The Lord thy God will circumciſe thy heart, and the heart of thy ſeed: that thou mayſt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart and with all thy ſoul, that thou mayſt live.

7 And he will turn all theſe curſes upon thy enemies, and upon them that hate and perſecute thee.

8 But thou ſhalt return, and hear the voice of the Lord thy God, and ſhalt do all the commandments which I command thee this day:

9 And the Lord will make thee abound in all the works of thy hands, in the fruit of thy womb, thy cattle, and in the fruit of the fruitfulneſs of thy land, and in the plenty of all things. For the Lord will return to rejoice over thee in all good things, as he rejoiced in thy fathers:

10 Yet ſo, if thou hear the voice of the Lord thy God, and keep his precepts and ceremonies, which are written in this law: and return to the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy ſoul.

VER. 19. The drunken, &c. abſumat ebria ſitientem. It is a proverbial expreſſion, which may either be underſtood, as ſpoken by the ſinner, bleſſing, that is flattering himſelf in his ſins with the imagination of peace, and ſo great an abundance as may ſatisfy, and as it were, conſume all thirſt and want: or it may be referred to the root of bitterneſs, ſpoken of before, which being drunken with ſin may attract, and by that means conſume ſuch as thirſt after the like evils.

VER. 29. Secret things, &c. As much as to ſay, ſecret things belong to, and are known to God alone: our buſineſs muſt be to obſerve what he has revealed and manifeſted to us, and to direct our lives accordingly.

11 This commandment, that I command thee this day is not above thee, nor far off from thee:

12 Nor is it in heaven, that thou ſhouldſt ſay: Which of us can go up to heaven to bring it unto us, and we may hear and fulfil it in work?

13 Nor is it beyond the ſea: that thou mayſt excuſe thyſelf, and ſay: ‖ Which of us can croſs the ſea, and bring it unto us: that we may hear, and do that which is commanded? ‖ Rom. 10. 6.

14 But the word is very nigh unto thee, in thy mouth and in thy heart, that thou mayſt do it.

15 Conſider that I have ſet before thee this day life and good, and on the other hand death and evil:

16 That thou mayſt love the Lord thy God, and walk in his ways, and keep his commandments and ceremonies and judgments, and thou mayſt live, and he may multiply thee, and bleſs thee in the land, which thou ſhalt go in to poſſeſs.

17 But if thy heart be turned away, ſo that thou wilt not hear, and being deceived with error thou adore ſtrange gods, and ſerve them:

18 I foretell thee this day that thou ſhalt periſh, and ſhalt remain but a ſhort time in the land, to which thou ſhalt paſs over the Jordan, and ſhalt go in to poſſeſs it.

19 I call heaven and earth to witneſs this day, that I have ſet before you life and death, bleſſing and curſing. Chooſe therefore life, that both thou and thy ſeed may live:

20 And that thou mayſt love the Lord thy God, and obey his voice, and adhere to him (for he is thy life, and the length of thy days), that thou mayſt dwell in the land, for which the Lord ſwore to thy fathers Abraham, Iſaac, and Jacob, that he would give it them.

CHAP. XXXI.

Moſes encourageth the people, and Joſue who is appointed to ſucceed him. He delivereth the law to the prieſts. God foretelleth that the people will often forſake him, and that he will puniſh them. He commandeth Moſes to write a canticle, as a conſtant remembrancer of the law.

A. M. 2553. AND Moſes went, and ſpoke all theſe words to all Iſrael,

2 And he ſaid to them: I am this day a hundred and twenty years old, I can no longer go out and come in, eſpecially as the Lord alſo hath ſaid to me: ‖ Thou ſhalt not paſs over this Jordan. ‖ Supra 3. 27. ‖ Num. 27. 13.

3 The Lord thy God then will paſs over before thee: he will deſtroy all theſe nations in thy ſight, and thou ſhalt poſſeſs them: and this Joſue ſhall go over before thee, as the Lord hath ſpoken.

4 And the Lord ſhall do to them ‖ as he did to Sehon and Og the kings of the Amorrhites, and to their land, and ſhall deſtroy them. ‖ Num. 21. 24.

5 Therefore when the Lord ſhall have delivered theſe alſo to you, ‖ you ſhall do in like manner to them as I have commanded you. ‖ Supra 7. 2.

6 Do manfully, and be of good heart: fear not, nor be ye diſmayed at their ſight: for the Lord thy God he himſelf is thy leader, and will not leave thee nor forſake thee.

7 And Moſes called Joſue, and ſaid to him before all Iſrael: ‖ Take courage, and be valiant: for thou ſhalt bring this people into the land which the Lord ſwore he would give to their fathers, and thou ſhalt divide it by lot. ‖ Joſ. 1. 6. 3 Kings 2. 2.

8 And the Lord who is your leader, he himſelf will be with thee: he will not leave thee, nor forſake thee: fear not, neither be diſmayed.

9 And Moſes wrote this law, and delivered it to the prieſts the ſons of Levi, who carried the ark of the covenant of the Lord, and to all the ancients of Iſrael.

10 And he commanded them, ſaying: After ſeven years, in the year of remiſſion, in the feaſt of tabernacles,

11 When all Iſrael come together, to appear in the ſight of the Lord thy God in the place which the Lord ſhall chooſe, thou ſhalt read the words of this law before all Iſrael, in their hearing,

12 And the people being all aſſembled together, both men and women, children and ſtrangers, that are within thy gates: that hearing they may learn, and fear the Lord your God, and keep, and fulfil all the words of this law:

13 That their children alſo, who now are ignorant, may hear, and fear the Lord their God, all the days that they live in the land whither you are going over the Jordan to poſſeſs it.

14 And the Lord ſaid to Moſes: Behold the days of thy death are nigh: call Joſue, and ſtand ye in the tabernacle of the teſtimony, that I may give him a charge. So Moſes and Joſue went, and ſtood in the tabernacle of the teſtimony:

15 And the Lord appeared there in the pillar of a cloud, which ſtood in the entry of the tabernacle.

16 And the Lord ſaid to Moſes: Behold

thou ſhalt ſleep with thy fathers, and this people riſing up will go a fornicating after ſtrange gods in the land, to which it goeth in to dwell: there will they forſake me, and will make void the covenant, which I have made with them,

17 And my wrath ſhall be kindled againſt them in that day: and I will forſake them, and will hide my face from them, and they ſhall be devoured: all evils and afflictions ſhall find them, ſo that they ſhall ſay in that day: In truth it is becauſe God is not with me, that theſe evils have found me.

18 But I will hide, and cover my face in that day, for all the evils which they have done, becauſe they have followed ſtrange gods.

19 Now therefore write you this canticle, and teach the children of Iſrael: that they may know it by heart, and ſing it by mouth, and this ſong may be unto me for a teſtimony among the children of Iſrael.

20 For I will bring them into the land, for which I ſwore to their fathers, that floweth with milk and honey. And when they have eaten, and are full and fat, they will turn away after ſtrange gods, and will ſerve them: and will deſpiſe me, and make void my covenant.

21 And after many evils and afflictions ſhall have come upon them, this canticle ſhall anſwer them for a teſtimony, which no oblivion ſhall take away out of the mouth of their ſeed. For I know their thoughts, and what they are about to do this day, before that I bring them into the land which I have promiſed them.

22 Moſes therefore wrote the canticle, and taught it the children of Iſrael.

23 And the Lord commanded Joſue the ſon of Nun, and ſaid: Take courage, and be valiant: for thou ſhalt bring the children of Iſrael into the land which I have promiſed, and I will be with thee.

24 Therefore after Moſes had wrote the words of this law in a volume, and finiſhed it:

25 He commanded the Levites, who carried the ark of the covenant of the Lord, ſaying:

26 Take this book, and put it in the ſide of the ark of the covenant of the Lord your God: that it may be there for a teſtimony againſt thee.

27 For I know thy obſtinacy, and thy moſt ſtiff neck. While I am yet living, and going in with you, you have always been rebellious againſt the Lord: how much more when I ſhall be dead?

28 Gather unto me all the ancients of your tribes, and your doctors, and I will ſpeak theſe words in their hearing, and will call heaven and earth to witneſs againſt them.

29 For I know that, after my death, you will do wickedly, and will quickly turn aſide from the way that I have commanded you: and evils ſhall come upon you in the latter times, when you ſhall do evil in the ſight of the Lord, to provoke him by the works of your hands.

30 Moſes therefore ſpoke, in the hearing of the whole aſſembly of Iſrael, the words of this canticle, and finiſhed it even to the end.

CHAP. XXXII.

A canticle for the remembrance of the law. Moſes is commanded to go up into a mountain, from whence he ſhall ſee the promiſed land, but not enter into it.

HEAR, O ye Heavens, the things I ſpeak, let the earth give ear to the words of my mouth. * A. M. 2553. Ante C. 1451.

2 Let my doctrine gather as the rain, let my ſpeech diſtil as the dew, as a ſhower upon the herb, and as drops upon the graſs.

3 Becauſe I will invoke the name of the Lord: give ye magnificence to our God.

4 The works of God are perfect, and all his ways are judgments: God is faithful, and without any iniquity, he is juſt and right.

5 They have ſinned againſt him, and are none of his children in their filth: they are a wicked and perverſe generation.

6 Is this the return thou makeſt to the Lord, O fooliſh and ſenſeleſs people? Is not he thy father, that hath poſſeſſed thee, and made thee, and created thee?

7 ‖ Remember the days of old, think upon every generation: aſk thy father, and he will declare to thee: thy elders and they will tell thee. ‖ Job 8. 8.

8 When the Moſt High divided the nations: when he ſeparated the ſons of Adam, he appointed the bounds of people according to the number of the children of Iſrael.

9 But the Lord's portion, is his people: Jacob the lot of his inheritance.

10 He found him in a deſert land, in a place of horror, and of waſte wilderneſs: he led him about, and taught him: and he kept him as the apple of his eye.

11 As the eagle enticing her young to fly, and hovering over them, he ſpread his wings, and hath taken him and carried him on his ſhoulders.

12 The Lord alone was his leader: and there was no ſtrange god with him.

13 He ſet him upon high land: that he might eat the fruits of the fields, that he might ſuck honey out of the rock, and oil out of the hardeſt ſtone.

14 Butter of the herd, and milk of the ſheep with the fat of lambs, and of the rams of the breed of Baſan: and goats with the marrow of wheat, and might drink the pureſt blood of the grape.

15 The beloved grew fat, and kicked: he grew fat, and thick and groſs, he forſook God who made him, and departed from God his ſaviour.

16 They provoked him by ſtrange gods, and ſtirred him up to anger, with their abominations.

17 They ſacrificed to devils and not to God, to gods whom they knew not: that were newly come up, whom their fathers worſhipped not.

18 Thou haſt forſaken the God that begot thee, and haſt forgotten the Lord that created thee.

19 The Lord ſaw, and was moved to wrath: becauſe his own ſons and daughters provoked him.

20 And he ſaid: I will hide my face from them, and will conſider what their laſt end ſhall be: for it is a perverſe generation, and unfaithful children.

21 They have provoked me with that which was no god, and have angered me with their vanities: ‖ and I will provoke them with that which is no people, and will vex them with a fooliſh nation.

‖ Jer. 15. 14. Rom. 10. 19.

22 A fire is kindled in my wrath, and ſhall burn even to the loweſt hell: and ſhall devour the earth with her increaſe, and ſhall burn the foundations of the mountains.

23 I will heap evils upon them, and will ſpend my arrows among them.

24 They ſhall be conſumed with famine, and birds ſhall devour them with a moſt bitter bite: I will ſend the teeth of beaſts upon them, with the fury of creatures that trail upon the ground, and of ſerpents.

25 Without, the ſword ſhall lay them waſte, and terror within, both the young man and the virgin, the ſucking child with the man in years.

26 I ſaid: Where are they? I will make the memory of them to ceaſe from among men.

27 But for the wrath of the enemies I have deferred it: leſt perhaps their enemies might be proud, and ſhould ſay: Our mighty hand, and not the Lord, hath done all theſe things.

28 They are a nation without counſel, and without wiſdom.

‖ Jer. 9. 12. 29 ‖ O that they would be wiſe, and would underſtand, and would provide for their laſt end.

30 How ſhould one purſue after a thouſand, and two chaſe ten thouſand? Was it not, becauſe their God had ſold them, and the Lord had ſhut them up?

31 For our God is not as their gods: our enemies themſelves are judges.

32 Their vines are of the vineyard of Sodom, and of the ſuburbs of Gomorrha: their grapes are grapes of gall, and their cluſters moſt bitter.

33 Their wine is the gall of dragons, and the venom of aſps which is incurable.

34 Are not theſe things ſtored up with me, and ſealed up in my treaſures?

35 ‖ Revenge is mine, and I will repay them in due time; that their foot may ſlide: the day of deſtruction is at hand, and the time makes haſte to come.

‖ Eccli. 28. 1. Rom. 12. 19. Hebr. 10. 30.

36 The Lord will judge his people, † and will have mercy on his ſervants: he ſhall ſee that their hand is weakened, and that they who were ſhut up have alſo failed, and they that remained are conſumed.

† 2. Mac. 7. 6.

37 And he ſhall ſay: ‖ Where are their gods, in whom they truſted?

‖ Jer. 2. 28.

38 Of whoſe victims they eat the fat, and drank the wine of their drink-offerings: let them ariſe and help you, and protect you in your diſtreſs.

39 See ye that I alone am, and there is no other God beſides me: ‖ I will kill and I will make to live: I will ſtrike, and I will heal, † and there is none that can deliver out of my hand.

‖ 1. Kings 2. 6. Tobias 13. 2. Wiſd. 16. 13. † Job 10. 7. Wiſd. 16. 15.

40 I will lift up my hand to heaven, and I will ſay: I live for ever.

41 If I ſhall whet my ſword as the lightning, and my hand take hold on judgment: I will render vengeance to my enemies, and repay them that hate me.

42 I will make my arrows drunk with blood, and my ſword ſhall devour fleſh, of the blood of the ſlain and of the captivity, of the bare head of the enemies.

43 ‖ Praiſe his people, ye nations, for he will revenge the blood of his ſervants: and will render vengeance to their enemies, and he will be merciful to the land of his people.

‖ 2 Mac. 7. 6.

44 So Moſes came and ſpoke all the words of this canticle in the ears of the people, and Joſue the ſon of Nun.

45 And he ended all theſe words, ſpeaking to all Iſrael.

46 And he ſaid to them: Set your hearts on all the words, which I teſtify to you this day: which you ſhall command your children to obſerve and to do, and to fulfil all that is written in this law:

47 For they are not commanded you in vain, but that every one ſhould live in them: and that doing them you may continue a long time in the land whither you are going over the Jordan to poſſeſs it.

48 And the Lord ſpoke to Moſes the ſame day, ſaying:

49 Go up into this mountain Abarim, (that is to ſay, of paſſages,) unto mount Nebo, which is in the land of Moab over-againſt Jericho: and ſee the land of Chanaan, which I will deliver to the children of Iſrael to poſſeſs, and die thou in the mountain.

50 When thou art gone up into it thou ‖ Num. 20. 26. & 27. 13. ſhalt be gathered to thy people, ‖ as Aaron thy brother died in mount Hor, and was gathered to his people:

† Num. 20. 12. & 27. 14. 51 † Becauſe you treſpaſſed againſt me in the midſt of the children of Iſrael at the waters of contradiction in Cades of the deſart of Sin: and you did not ſanctify me among the children of Iſrael.

52 Thou ſhalt ſee the land before thee, which I will give to the children of Iſrael, but thou ſhalt not enter into it.

CHAP. XXXIII.

Moſes before his death bleſſeth the tribes of Iſrael.

THIS is the bleſſing, wherewith the man of God Moſes bleſſed the children of Iſrael, before his death.

2 And he ſaid: The Lord came from Sinai, and from Seir he roſe up to us: he hath appeared from mount Pharan, and with him thouſands of ſaints. In his right hand a fiery law.

‖ Wiſd. 3. 1. & 5. 5. 3 He hath loved the people, ‖ all the ſaints are in his hand: and they that approach to his feet, ſhall receive of his doctrine.

4 Moſes commanded us a law, the inheritance of the multitude of Jacob.

5 He ſhall be king with the moſt right, the princes of the people being aſſembled with the tribes of Iſrael.

6 Let Ruben live, and not die, and be he ſmall in number.

7 This is the bleſſing of Juda. Hear, O Lord, the voice of Juda, and bring him in unto his people: his hands ſhall fight for him, and he ſhall be his helper againſt his enemies.

8 To Levi alſo he ſaid: Thy perfection, and thy doctrine be to thy holy man, whom thou haſt proved in the temptation, and judged at the waters of contradiction:

9 ‖ Who hath ſaid to his father, and to his mother: I do not know you; and to his brethren: I know you not: and their own children they have not known. Theſe have kept thy word, and obſerved thy covenant, ‖ Exod. 32. 27. Levit. 10. 5.

10 Thy judgments, O Jacob, and thy law, O Iſrael: they ſhall put incenſe in thy wrath, and holocauſt, upon thy altar.

11 Bleſs, O Lord, his ſtrength, and receive the works of his hands. Strike the backs of his enemies, and let not them that hate him riſe.

12 And to Benjamin he ſaid: The beſt beloved of the Lord ſhall dwell confidently in him: as in a bride-chamber ſhall he abide all the day long, and between his ſhoulders ſhall he reſt.

13 To Joſeph alſo he ſaid: Of the bleſſing of the Lord be his land, of the fruits of heaven, and of the dew, and of the deep that lieth beneath.

14 Of the fruits brought forth by the ſun and by the moon.

15 Of the tops of the ancient mountains, of the fruits of the everlaſting hills:

16 And of the fruits of the earth, and of the fulneſs thereof. The bleſſing of him ‖ that appeared in the buſh, come upon the head of Joſeph, and upon the crown of the Nazarite among his brethren. ‖ Exod. 3. 2.

17 His beauty as of the firſtling of a bullock, his horns as the horns of a rhinoceros: with them ſhall he puſh the nations even to the ends of the earth. Theſe are the multitudes of Ephraim, and theſe the thouſands of Manaſſes.

18 And to Zabulon he ſaid: Rejoice, O Zabulon, in thy going out; and Iſſachar in thy tabernacles.

19 They ſhall call the people to the mountain: there ſhall they ſacrifice the victims of juſtice. Who ſhall ſuck as milk the abundance of the ſea, and the hidden treaſures of the ſands.

20 And to Gad he ſaid: Bleſſed be Gad in his breadth: he hath reſted as a lion, and hath ſeized upon the arm and the top of the head.

CHAP. XXXIII. VER. 8. Holy man. Aaron and his ſucceſſors in the prieſthood.

VER. 9. Who hath ſaid, &c. It is the duty of the prieſtly tribe to prefer God's honour and ſervice before all conſiderations of fleſh and blood: in ſuch manner as to behave as ſtrangers to their neareſt akin, when theſe would withdraw them from the buſineſs of their calling.

VER. 12. Shall dwell, &c. This ſeems to allude to the temple being built in the confines of the tribe of Benjamin.

VER. 16. The Nazarite. See the note on Gen. xlix. 26.

21 And he ſaw his pre-eminence, that in his portion the teacher was laid up: who was with the princes of the people, and did the juſtices of the Lord, and his judgment with Iſrael.

22 To Dan alſo he ſaid: Dan is a young lion, he ſhall flow plentifully from Baſan.

23 And to Nephtali he ſaid: Nephtali ſhall enjoy abundance, and ſhall be full of the bleſſings of the Lord: he ſhall poſſeſs the ſea and the ſouth.

24 To Aſer alſo he ſaid: Let Aſer be bleſſed with children, let him be acceptable to his brethren, and let him dip his foot in oil.

25 His ſhoe ſhall be iron and braſs. As the days of thy youth, ſo alſo ſhall thy old age be.

26 There is no other god like the God of the righteſt: he that is mounted upon the heaven is thy helper. By his magnificence the clouds run hither and thither.

27 His dwelling is above, and underneath are the everlaſting arms: he ſhall caſt out the enemy from before thee, and ſhall ſay: Be thou brought to nought.

28 Iſrael ſhall dwell in ſafety, and alone. The eye of Jacob in a land of corn and wine, and the heavens ſhall be miſty with dew.

29 Bleſſed art thou, Iſrael: who is like to thee, O people, that art ſaved by the Lord? the ſhield of thy help, and the ſword of thy glory: thy enemies ſhall deny thee, and thou ſhalt tread upon their necks.

CHAP. XXXIV.

Moſes ſeeth the promiſed land, but is not ſuffered to go into it. He dieth at the age of 120 years. God burieth his body ſecretly, and all Iſrael mourn for him thirty days. Joſue, repleniſhed (by impoſition of Moſes's hands) with the ſpirit of God, ſucceedeth. But Moſes for his ſpecial familiarity with God, and for moſt wonderful miracles is commended above all other prophets.

A. M. 2553. ‖ Supra 3. 27. & 32. 49. 2 Mac. 2. 4.

‖ THEN Moſes went up from the plains of Moab upon mount Nebo, to the top of Phaſga over-againſt Jericho: and the Lord ſhewed him all the land of Galaad as far as Dan.

2 And all Nephtali, and the land of Ephraim and Manaſſes, and all the land of Juda unto the furthermoſt ſea,

3 And the ſouth part, and the breadth of the plain of Jericho the city of palm-trees as far as Segor.

4 And the Lord ſaid to him: † This is the land, for which I ſwore to Abraham, Iſaac, and Jacob, ſaying: I will give it to thy ſeed. Thou haſt ſeen it with thy eyes, and ſhalt not paſs over to it. † Gen. 12. 7. & 15. 18.

5 And Moſes the ſervant of the Lord died there, in the land of Moab, by the commandment of the Lord:

6 And he buried him in the valley of the land of Moab over-againſt Phogor: and no man hath known of his ſepulchre until this preſent day.

7 Moſes was a hundred and twenty years old when he died: his eye was not dim, neither were his teeth moved.

8 And the children of Iſrael mourned for him in the plains of Moab thirty days: and the days of their mourning in which they mourned for Moſes were ended.

9 And Joſue the ſon of Nun was filled with the ſpirit of wiſdom, becauſe Moſes had laid his hands upon him. And the children of Iſrael obeyed him, and did as the Lord commanded Moſes.

10 And there aroſe no more a prophet in Iſrael like unto Moſes, whom the Lord knew face to face.

11 In all the ſigns and wonders, which he ſent by him, to do in the land of Egypt to Pharao, and to all his ſervants, and to his whole land,

12 And all the mighty hand, and great miracles, which Moſes did before all Iſrael.

VER. 21. He ſaw, &c. The pre-eminence of the tribe of Gad, to which this alludeth, was their having the lawgiver Moſes buried in their borders; though the particular place was not known.

VER. 23. The ſea. The lake of Geneſareth.

VER. 27. Underneath are the everlaſting arms. Though the dwelling of God be above in heaven; his arms are always ſtretched out to help us here below.

CHAP. XXXIV. VER. 5. Died there. This laſt chapter of Deuteronomy, in which the death of Moſes is related, was written by Joſue, or by ſome of the prophets.

VER. 6. He buried him, viz. By the miniſtry of Angels, and would have the place of his burial to be unknown, leſt the Iſraelites, who were ſo prone to idolatry, might worſhip him with divine honours.

THE BOOK OF JOSUE.

This book is called JOSUE, becauſe it contains the hiſtory of what paſſed under him, and according to the common opinion was written by him. The Greeks call him Jeſus: for Joſue and Jeſus in the Hebrew are the ſame name, and have the ſame ſignification, viz. A SAVIOUR. And it was not without a myſtery that he who was to bring the people into the land of promiſe ſhould have his name changed from OSEE (for ſo he was called before, Num. xiii. 17.) to JOSUE or JESUS, to give us to underſtand, that Moſes by his law could only bring the people within ſight of the promiſed inheritance, but that our Saviour JESUS was to bring us into it.

CHAP. I.

Joſue, encouraged by the Lord, admoniſheth the people to prepare themſelves to paſs over the Jordan.

A. M. 2553. Ante C. 1451. NOW it came to paſs after the death of Moſes the ſervant of the Lord, that the Lord ſpoke to Joſue the ſon of Nun, the miniſter of Moſes, and ſaid to him:

2 Moſes my ſervant is dead: ariſe, and paſs over this Jordan thou and thy people with thee, into the land which I will give to the children of Iſrael.

‖ Deut. 11. 24. 3 ‖ I will deliver to you every place, that the ſole of your foot ſhall tread upon, as I have ſaid to Moſes.

4 From the deſart and from Libanus unto the great river Euphrates, all the land of the Hethites unto the great ſea toward the going down of the ſun, ſhall be your border.

5 No man ſhall be able to reſiſt you all the days of thy life: ‖ as I have been with Moſes, ſo will I be with thee: I will not leave thee, nor forſake thee.

‖ Infra 3. 7. Heb. 13. 5.

† Deut. 31. 7. & 23. 3 Kings 2. 2. 6 † Take courage, and be ſtrong: for thou ſhalt divide by lot to this people the land, for which I ſwore to their fathers, that I would deliver it to them.

7 Take courage therefore, and be very valiant: that thou mayſt obſerve and do all the law, which Moſes my ſervant hath commanded thee: turn not from it to the right hand or to the left, that thou mayſt underſtand all things which thou doſt.

8 Let not the book of this law depart from thy mouth: but thou ſhalt meditate on it day and night, that thou mayſt obſerve and do all things that are written in it: then ſhalt thou direct thy way, and underſtand it.

9 Behold I command thee, take courage, and be ſtrong. Fear not, and be not diſmayed: becauſe the Lord thy God is with thee in all things whatſoever thou ſhalt go to.

10 And Joſue commanded the princes of the people, ſaying: Paſs through the midſt of the camp, and command the people, and ſay:

11 Prepare you victuals: for after the third day you ſhall paſs over the Jordan, and ſhall go in to poſſeſs the land, which the Lord your God will give you.

12 And he ſaid to the Rubenites, and the Gadites, and the half tribe of Manaſſes:

13 Remember the word, which Moſes the ſervant of the Lord commanded you, ſaying: The Lord your God hath given you reſt, and all this land.

‖ Num. 32. 26. 14 ‖ Your wives, and children, and cattle ſhall remain in the land which Moſes gave you on this ſide of the Jordan: but paſs you over armed before your brethren, all of you that are ſtrong of hand, and fight for them,

15 Until the Lord give reſt to your brethren as he hath given you, and they alſo poſſeſs the land which the Lord your God will give them: and ſo you ſhall return into the land of your poſſeſſion, and you ſhall dwell in it, which Moſes the ſervant of the Lord gave you beyond the Jordan, toward the riſing of the ſun.

16 And they made anſwer to Joſue, and ſaid: All that thou haſt commanded us we will do: and whitherſoever thou ſhalt ſend us, we will go.

17 As we obeyed Moſes in all things, ſo will we obey thee alſo: only be the Lord thy God with thee, as he was with Moſes.

18 He that ſhall gain-ſay thy mouth, and not obey all thy words, that thou ſhalt command him, let him die: only take thou, courage, and do manfully.

CHAP. II.

Two ſpies are ſent to Jericho, who are received and concealed by Rahab.

A. M. 2553. AND Joſue the ſon of Nun ſent from Setim two men, to ſpy ſecretly: and ſaid to them: Go, and view the land and the city of Jericho. ‖ They went and entered into the houſe of a woman that was a harlot named Rahab, and lodged with her.

‖ Heb. 11. 31. James 2. 25.

2 And it was told the king of Jericho, and was ſaid: Behold there are men come in hither, by night, of the children of Iſrael, to ſpy the land.

3 And the king of Jericho ſent to Rahab, ſaying: Bring forth the men that came to thee, and are entered into thy houſe: for they are ſpies, and are come to view all the land.

‖ Infra 6. 17. 4 ‖ And the woman taking the men, hid them, and ſaid: I confeſs they came to me, but I knew not whence they were:

5 And at the time of ſhutting the gate in the dark, they alſo went out together. I know not whither they are gone: purſue after them quickly, and you will overtake them.

6 But ſhe made the men go up to the top of her houſe, and covered them with the ſtalks of flax, which was there.

7 Now they that were ſent, purſued after them, by the way that leadeth to the fords of the Jordan: and as ſoon as they were gone out, the gate was preſently ſhut.

8 The men that were hidden were not yet aſleep, when behold the woman went up to them, and ſaid:

9 I know that the Lord hath given this land to you: for the dread of you is fallen upon us, and all the inhabitants of the land have loſt all ſtrength.

‖ Exod. 14. 21. † Num. 21. 24. 10 We have heard that ‖ the Lord dried up the water of the Red ſea at your going in, when you came out of Egypt: † and what things you did to the two kings of the Amorrhites, that were beyond the Jordan: Sehon and Og whom you ſlew.

11 And hearing theſe things we were affrighted, and our heart fainted away, neither did there remain any ſpirit in us at your coming in: for the Lord your God he is God in heaven above, and in the earth beneath.

‖ Infra 6. 22. 12 ‖ Now therefore ſwear ye to me by the Lord, that as I have ſhewn mercy to you, ſo you alſo will ſhew mercy to my father's houſe: and give me a true token,

13 That you will ſave my father and mother, my brethren and ſiſters, and all things that are theirs, and deliver our ſouls from death.

14 They anſwered her: Be our lives for you unto death, only if thou betray us not. And when the Lord ſhall have delivered us the land, we will ſhew thee mercy and truth.

15 Then ſhe let them down with a cord out of a window: for her houſe joined cloſe to the wall.

16 And ſhe ſaid to them: Get ye up to the mountains, leſt perhaps they meet you as they return: and there lie ye hid three days, till they come back, and ſo you ſhall go on your way.

17 And they ſaid to her: We ſhall be blameleſs of this oath, which thou haſt made us ſwear:

18 If when we come into the land, this ſcarlet cord be a ſign, and thou tie it in the window, by which thou haſt let us down: and gather together thy father and mother, and brethren and all thy kindred into thy houſe.

19 Whoſoever ſhall go out of the door of thy houſe, his blood ſhall be upon his own head, and we ſhall be quit. But the blood of all that ſhall be with thee in the houſe, ſhall light upon our head, if any man touch them.

20 But if thou wilt betray us, and utter this word abroad, we ſhall be quit of this oath, which thou haſt made us ſwear.

21 And ſhe anſwered: As you have ſpoken, ſo be it done. And ſending them on their way, ſhe hung the ſcarlet cord in the window.

22 But they went and came to the mountains, and ſtayed there three days, till they that purſued them were returned. For having ſought them through all the way, they found them not.

23 And when they were gone back into the city, the ſpies returned, and came down from the mountain: and paſſing over the Jordan, they came to Joſue the ſon of Nun, and told him all that befel them,

24 And ſaid: The Lord hath delivered all this land into our hands, and all the inhabitants thereof are overthrown with fear.

CHAP. III.

The river Jordan is miraculouſly dried up, for the paſſage of the children of Iſrael.

A. M. 2553. AND Joſue roſe before day-light, and removed the camp: and they departed from Setim, and came to the Jordan, he, and all the children of Iſrael, and they abode there for three days.

2 After which, the heralds went through the midſt of the camp,

3 And began to proclaim: When you ſhall ſee the ark of the covenant of the Lord your God, and the prieſts of the race of Levi carrying it, riſe you up alſo, and follow them as they go before:

4 And let there be between you and the ark the ſpace of two thouſand cubits: that you may ſee it afar off, and know which way you muſt go: for you have not gone this way before: and take care you come not near the ark.

5 And Joſue ſaid to the people: Be ye ſanctified: for to-morrow the Lord will do wonders among you.

6 And he ſaid to the prieſts: Take up the ark of the covenant, and go before the people. And they obeyed his commands, and took it up and walked before them.

7 And the Lord ſaid to Joſue: This day will I begin to exalt thee before Iſrael: that they may know that as I was with ‖ Moſes, ſo I am with thee alſo. ‖ Supra 1.5.

8 And do thou command the prieſts that carry the ark of the covenant, and ſay to them: When you ſhall have entered into part of the water of the Jordan, ſtand in it.

9 And Joſue ſaid to the children of Iſrael: Come hither and hear the word of the Lord your God.

10 And again he ſaid: By this you ſhall know that the Lord the living God is in the midſt of you, and that he ſhall deſtroy before your ſight the Chananite and the Hethite, the Hevite and the Pherezite, the Gergeſite alſo and the Jebuſite, and the Amorrhite.

11 ‖ Behold the ark of the covenant of the Lord of all the earth ſhall go before you into the Jordan. ‖ Act. 7. 45.

12 Prepare ye twelve men of the tribes of Iſrael, one of every tribe.

13 And when the prieſts, that carry the ark of the Lord the God of the whole earth, ſhall ſet the ſoles of their feet in the waters of the Jordan, the waters that are beneath ſhall run down and go off: and thoſe that come from above, ſhall ſtand together upon a heap.

14 So the people went out of their tents, to paſs over the Jordan: and the prieſts that carried the ark of the covenant, went on before them.

15 And as ſoon as they came into the Jordan, and their feet were dipped in part of the water, (now the Jordan, ‖ it being harveſt time, had filled the banks of its channel,) ‖ Eccli. 24. 36.

16 The waters that came down from above ſtood in one place, and ſwelling up like a mountain, were ſeen afar off from the city that is called Adom, to the place of Sarthan: but thoſe that were beneath, ran down into the ſea of the wilderneſs (which now is called the Dead ſea) until they wholly failed.

17 And the people marched over-againſt Jericho: and the prieſts that carried the ark of the covenant of the Lord, ſtood girded upon the dry ground in the midſt of the Jordan, and all the people paſſed over through the channel that was dried up.

CHAP. IV.

Twelve ſtones are taken out of the river to be ſet up for a monument of the miracle: and other twelve are placed in the midſt of the river.

AND when they were paſſed over, the Lord ſaid to Joſue:

2 Chooſe twelve men, one of every tribe:

3 And command them to take out of the midſt of the Jordan, where the feet of the prieſts ſtood, twelve very hard ſtones, which you ſhall ſet in the place of the camp, where you ſhall pitch your tents this night.

4 And Joſue called twelve men, whom he had choſen out of the children of Iſrael, one out of every tribe,

5 And he ſaid to them: Go before the ark of the Lord your God to the midſt of the Jordan, and carry from thence every man a ſtone on your ſhoulders, according to the number of the children of Iſrael,

6 That it may be a ſign among you: and when your children ſhall aſk you to-morrow, ſaying: What mean theſe ſtones?

7 You ſhall anſwer them: The waters of the Jordan ran off before the ark of the covenant of the Lord, when it paſſed over the ſame: therefore were theſe ſtones ſet for a monument of the children of Iſrael for ever.

8 The children of Iſrael therefore did as Joſue commanded them, carrying out of the channel of the Jordan twelve ſtones, as the Lord had commanded him, according to the number of the children of Iſrael, unto the place wherein they camped, and there they ſet them.

9 And Joſue put other twelve ſtones in the midſt of the channel of the Jordan, where the prieſts ſtood, that carried the ark of the covenant: and they are there until this preſent day.

10 Now the prieſts that carried the ark, ſtood in the midſt of the Jordan till all things were accompliſhed which the Lord had commanded Joſue to ſpeak to the people, and Moſes had ſaid to him. And the people made haſte and paſſed over.

11 And when they had all paſſed over, the ark alſo of the Lord paſſed over, and the prieſts went before the people.

12 The children of Ruben alſo and Gad, and half the tribe of Manaſſes, went armed ‖ Num. 32. 28. before the children of Iſrael, ‖ as Moſes had commanded them.

13 And forty thouſand fighting men by their troops, and bands, marched through the plains and fields of the city of Jericho.

14 In that day the Lord magnified Joſue in the ſight of all Iſrael, that they ſhould fear him, as they had feared Moſes, while he lived.

15 And he ſaid to him:

16 Command the prieſts, that carry the ark of the covenant, to come up out of the Jordan.

17 And he commanded them, ſaying: Come ye up out of the Jordan.

18 And when they that carried the ark of the covenant of the Lord, were come up, and began to tread on the dry ground, the waters returned into the channel, and ran as they were wont before.

19 And the people came up out of the Jordan, the tenth day of the firſt month, and camped in Galgal, over-againſt the eaſt ſide of the city of Jericho.

20 And the twelve ſtones, which they had taken out of the channel of the Jordan, Joſue pitched in Galgal, 21 And ſaid to the children of Iſrael: When your children ſhall aſk their fathers to-morrow, and ſhall ſay to them: What mean theſe ſtones?

22 You ſhall teach them, and ſay: Iſrael paſſed over this Jordan through the dry channel,

23 The Lord your God drying up the waters thereof in your ſight, until you paſſed over:

24 ‖ As he had done before in the Red ſea, which he dried up till we paſſed through: ‖ Exod. 14. 21.

25 That all the people of the earth may learn the moſt mighty hand of the Lord, that you alſo may fear the Lord your God for ever.

CHAP. V.

The people are circumciſed, they keep the paſch. The manna ceaſeth. An Angel appeareth to Joſue.

NOW when all the kings of the Amorrhites, who dwelt beyond the Jordan weſtward, and all the kings of Chanaan, who poſſeſſed the places near the great ſea, had heard that the Lord had dried up the waters of the Jordan before the children of Iſrael, till they paſſed over, their heart failed them, and there remained no ſpirit in them, fearing the coming in of the children of Iſrael.

2 At that time the Lord ſaid to Joſue: Make thee knives of ſtone, and circumciſe the ſecond time the children of Iſrael.

3 He did what the Lord had commanded, and he circumciſed the children of Iſrael in the hill of the foreſkins.

4 Now this is the cauſe of the ſecond circumciſion: All the people that came out of Egypt that were males, all the men fit for

---

CHAP. V. VER. 2. The ſecond time. Not that ſuch as had been circumciſed before were to be circumciſed again: but that they were now to renew, and take up again the practice of circumciſion; which had been omitted during their forty years ſojourning in the wilderneſs; by reaſon of their being always uncertain when they ſhould be obliged to march.

war, died in the desart, during the time of the long going about in the way.

5 Now these were all circumcised. But the people that were born in the desart,

6 During the forty years of the journey in the wide wilderness were uncircumcised: till all they were consumed that had not heard the voice of the Lord, and to whom he had sworn before, that he would not shew them the land flowing with milk and honey.

7 The children of these succeeded in the place of their fathers, and were circumcised by Josue: for they were uncircumcised even as they were born, and no one had circumcised them in the way.

8 Now after they were all circumcised, they remained in the same place of the camp, until they were healed.

9 And the Lord said to Josue: This day have I taken away from you the reproach of Egypt. And the name of that place was called Galgal, until this present day.

10 And the children of Israel abode in Galgal, and they kept the phase, on the fourteenth day of the month at evening in the plains of Jericho:

11 And they ate on the next day unleavened bread of the corn of the land, and furmety of the same year.

* A. M. 2553. 12 * And the manna ceased after they ate of the corn of the land, neither did the children of Israel use that food any more, but they ate of the corn of the present year of the land of Chanaan.

13 And when Josue was in the field of the city of Jericho, he lifted up his eyes, and saw a man standing over-against him, holding a drawn sword, and he went to him, and said: Art thou one of ours, or of our adversaries?

14 And he answered: No: but I am prince of the host of the Lord, and now I am come.

15 Josue fell on his face to the ground. And worshipping, said: What saith my lord to his servant?

‖ Exod. 3. 5. Acts 7. 33. 16 ‖ Loose, saith he, thy shoes from off thy feet: for the place whereon thou standest is holy. And Josue did as was commanded him.

CHAP. VI.

After seven days processions, the priests sounding the trumpets, the walls of Jericho fall down: and the city is taken and destroyed.

A. M. 2553. Ante C. 1451. NOW Jericho was close shut up and fenced, for fear of the children of Israel, and no man durst go out or come in.

2 And the Lord said to Josue: Behold I have given into thy hands Jericho, and the king thereof, and all the valiant men.

3 Go round about the city all ye fighting men once a day: so shall ye do for six days.

4 And on the seventh day the priests shall take the seven trumpets, which are used in the jubilee, and shall go before the ark of the covenant: and you shall go about the city seven times, and the priests shall sound the trumpets.

5 And when the voice of the trumpet shall give a longer and broken tune, and shall sound in your ears, all the people shall shout together with a very great shout, and the walls of the city shall fall to the ground, and they shall enter in every one at the place against which they shall stand.

6 Then Josue the son of Nun called the priests, and said to them: Take the ark of the covenant: and let seven other priests take the seven trumpets of the jubilee, and march before the ark of the Lord.

7 And he said to the people: Go, and compass the city, armed, marching before the ark of the Lord.

8 And when Josue had ended his words, and the seven priests blew the seven trumpets before the ark of the covenant of the Lord,

9 And all the armed men went before, the rest of the common people followed the ark, and the sound of the trumpets was heard on all sides.

10 But Josue had commanded the people, saying: You shall not shout, nor shall your voice be heard, nor any word go out of your mouth: until the day come wherein I shall say to you: Cry, and shout.

11 So the ark of the Lord went about the city once a day, and returning into the camp, abode there.

12 And Josue rising before day, the priests took the ark of the Lord,

13 And seven of them seven trumpets, which are used in the jubilee: and they went before the ark of the Lord walking and sounding the trumpets: and the armed men went before them, and the rest of the common people followed the ark, and they blew the trumpets.

14 And they went round about the city the second day once, and returned into the camp. So they did six days.

15 But the seventh day, rising up early, they went about the city, as it was ordered, seven times.

VER. 14. Prince of the host of the Lord, &c. St. Michael, who is called prince of the people of Israel, Daniel x. 21.

VER. 15. Worshipping. Not with divine honour, but with a religious veneration of an inferior kind, suitable to the dignity of his person.

16 And when in the seventh going about the priests sounded with the trumpets, Josue said to all Israel: Shout: for the Lord hath delivered the city to you:

17 And let this city be an anathema, and all things that are in it, to the Lord. Let only Rahab the harlot live, with all that ‖ Supra 2. 4. are with her in the house: ‖ for she hid the
Heb. 11. 31. messengers whom we sent.

18 But beware ye lest you touch ought of those things that are forbidden, and you be guilty of transgression, and all the camp of Israel be under sin, and be troubled.

19 But whatsoever gold or silver there shall be, or vessels of brass and iron, let it be consecrated to the Lord, laid up in his treasures.

‖ Heb. 11. 30. 20 ‖ So all the people making a shout, and the trumpets sounding, when the voice and the sound thundered in the ears of the multitude, the walls forthwith fell down: and every man went up by the place that
‖ 2 Mac. 12. 15. was over-against him: ‖ and they took the city,

21 And killed all that were in it, man and woman, young and old. The oxen also and the sheep, and the asses they slew with the edge of the sword.

‖ Supra 2. 1. & 14. 22 ‖ But Josue said to the two men that had been sent for spies: Go into the harlot's house, and bring her out, and all things that are hers, as you assured her by oath.

‖ Heb. 11. 31. 23 ‖ And the young men went in and brought out Rahab, and her parents, her brethren also and all her goods and her kindred, and made them to stay without the camp.

‖ Infra 8. 2. 24 ‖ But they burned the city, and all things that were therein; except the gold and silver, and vessels of brass and iron, which they consecrated into the treasury of the Lord.

25 But Josue saved Rahab the harlot and her father's house, and all she had, and they dwelt in the midst of Israel until this present day: because she hid the messengers whom he had sent to spy out Jericho. At that time, Josue made an imprecation, saying:

‖ 3 Kings 16. 34. 26 ‖ Cursed be the man before the Lord, that shall raise up and build the city of Jericho. In his first-born may he lay the foundation thereof, and in the last of his children set up its gates.

27 And the Lord was with Josue, and his name was noised throughout all the land.

CHAP. VII.

For the sin of Achan, the Israelites are defeated at Hai. The offender is found out; and stoned to death, and God's wrath is turned from them.

‖ BUT the children of Israel transgressed the commandment, and took to their own use of the anathema. † For Achan the son of Charmi, the son of Zabdi, the son of Zare of the tribe of Juda, took something of the anathema: and the Lord was angry against the children of Israel. A. M. 2553. ‖ Infra 22. 20. † 1 Par. 2. 7.

2 And when Josue sent men from Jericho against Hai, which is beside Bethaven, on the east side of the town of Bethel, he said to them: Go up, and view the country: and they fulfilled his command, and viewed Hai.

3 And returning they said to him: Let not all the people go up, but let two or three thousand men go, and destroy the city: why should all the people be troubled in vain against enemies that are very few?

4 There went up therefore three thousand fighting men: who immediately turned their backs,

5 And were defeated by the men of the city of Hai, and there fell of them six and thirty men: and the enemies pursued them from the gate as far as Sabarim, and they slew them as they fled by the descent: and the heart of the people was struck with fear, and melted like water.

6 But Josue rent his garments, and fell flat on the ground before the ark of the Lord until the evening, both he and all the ancients of Israel: and they put dust upon their heads.

7 And Josue said: Alas, O Lord God, why wouldst thou bring this people over the river Jordan, to deliver us into the hand of the Amorrhite, and to destroy us? would God we had staid beyond the Jordan as we began.

8 My Lord God what shall I say, seeing Israel turning their backs to their enemies?

9 The Chananites, and all the inhabitants of the land will hear of it, and being gathered together will surround us and cut off our name from the earth: and what wilt thou do to thy great name?

10 And the Lord said to Josue: Arise, why liest thou flat on the ground?

11 Israel hath sinned, and transgressed my covenant: and they have taken of the ‖ Lev. 20. 7. Num. 11. 18. Supra 3. 5. 1 Kings 16. 5.

14 And you ſhall come in the morning every one by your tribes: and what tribe ſoever the lot ſhall find, it ſhall come by its kindreds and the kindred by its houſes, and the houſe by the men.

15 And whoſoever he be that ſhall be found guilty of this fact, he ſhall be burnt with fire with all his ſubſtance, becauſe he hath tranſgreſſed the covenant of the Lord, and hath done wickedneſs in Iſrael.

16 Joſue, therefore, when he roſe in the morning, made Iſrael to come by their tribes, and the tribe of Juda was found.

17 Which being brought by its families, it was found to be the family of Zabdi:

18 And bringing his houſe man by man, he found Achan the ſon of Charmi, the ſon of Zabdi, the ſon of Zare of the tribe of Juda.

19 And Joſue ſaid to Achan: My ſon, give glory to the Lord God of Iſrael, and confeſs, and tell me what thou haſt dône, hide it not.

20 And Achan anſwered Joſue, and ſaid to him: Indeed I have ſinned againſt the Lord the God of Iſrael, and thus and thus have I done.

21 For I ſaw among the ſpoils a ſcarlet garment exceeding good, and two hundred ſicles of ſilver, and a golden rule of fifty ſicles: and I coveted them, and I took them away, and hid them in the ground in the midſt of my tent, and the ſilver I covered with the earth that I dug up.

22 Joſue therefore ſent miniſters: who running to his tent, found all hidden in the ſame place, together with the ſilver.

23 And taking them away out of the tent, they brought them to Joſue, and to all the children of Iſrael, and threw them down before the Lord.

24 Then Joſue and all Iſrael with him took Achan the ſon of Zare, and the ſilver and the garment, and the golden rule, his ſons alſo and his daughters, his oxen and aſſes, and ſheep, the tent alſo, and all the goods: and brought them to the valley of Achor:

25 Where Joſue ſaid: Becauſe thou haſt troubled us, the Lord trouble thee this day. And all Iſrael ſtoned him: and all things that were his, were conſumed with fire.

26 ‖ And they gathered together upon him a great heap of ſtones, which remaineth until this preſent day. And the wrath of the Lord was turned away from them. And the name of that place was called the Valley of Achor, until this day.

Hai is taken and burnt, and all the inhabitants ſlain. An altar is built, and ſacrifices offered. The law is written on ſtones, and the bleſſings and curſings are read before all the people.

AND the Lord ſaid to Joſue: Fear not, nor be thou diſmayed: take with thee all the multitude of fighting men, ariſe and go up to the town of Hai. Behold I have delivered into thy hand the king thereof, and the people, and the city and the land. A. M. 2553.

2 And thou ſhalt do to the city of Hai, and to the king thereof, ‖ as thou haſt done to Jericho, and to the king thereof: but the ſpoils and all the cattle you ſhall take for a prey to yourſelves: lay an ambuſh for the city behind it.

on to the place of the ambuſh, and abode between Bethel and Hai, on the weſt ſide of the city of Hai. But Joſue ſtaid that night in the midſt of the people,

10 And riſing early in the morning, he muſtered his ſoldiers, and went up with the ancients in the front of the army, environed with the aid of the fighting men.

11 And when they were come, and were gone up over-againſt the city, they ſtood on the north ſide of the city, between which and them there was a valley in the midſt.

12 And he had choſen five thouſand men, and ſet them to lie in ambuſh between Bethel and Hai on the weſt ſide of the ſame city:

13 But all the reſt of the army went in battle array on the north ſide, ſo that the laſt of that multitude reached to the weſt ſide of the city. So Joſue went that night, and ſtood in the midſt of the valley.

14 And when the king of Hai ſaw this, he made haſte in the morning, and went out with all the army of the city, and ſet it in battle array toward the deſart, not knowing that there lay an ambuſh behind his back.

15 But Joſue, and all Iſrael gave back, making as if they were afraid, and fleeing by the way of the wilderneſs.

16 But they ſhouting together, and encouraging one another, purſued them. And when they were come from the city,

17 And not one remained in the city of Hai and of Bethel, that did not purſue after Iſrael, leaving the towns open as they had ruſhed out,

18 The Lord ſaid to Joſue: Lift up the ſhield that is in thy hand, towards the city of Hai, for I will deliver it to thee.

19 And when he had lifted up his ſhield towards the city, the ambuſh that lay hid, roſe up immediately: and going to the city, took it and ſet it on fire.

20 And the men of the city, that purſued after Joſue, looking back and ſeeing the ſmoke of the city riſe up to heaven, had no more power to flee this way or that way: eſpecially as they that had counterfeited flight, and were going toward the wilderneſs, turned back moſt valiantly againſt them that purſued.

21 So Joſue and all Iſrael ſeeing that the city was taken, and that the ſmoke of the city roſe up, returned and ſlew the men of Hai.

22 And they alſo that had taken and ſet the city on fire, iſſuing out of the city to meet their own men, began to cut off the enemies who were ſurrounded by them. So that the enemies being cut off on both ſides, not one of ſo great a multitude was ſaved.

23 And they took the king of the city of Hai alive, and brought him to Joſue.

24 So all being ſlain that had purſued after Iſrael in his flight to the wilderneſs, and falling by the ſword in the ſame place, the children of Iſrael returned and laid waſte the city.

25 And the number of them that fell that day both of men and women, was twelve thouſand perſons all of the city of Hai.

26 But Joſue drew not back his hand, which he had ſtretched out on high, holding the ſhield, till all the inhabitants of Hai were ſlain.

27 And the children of Iſrael divided among them the cattle and the prey of the city, as the Lord had commanded Joſue.

28 And he burned the city, and made it a heap for ever:

29 And he hung the king thereof on a gibbet until the evening and the going down of the ſun. Then Joſue commanded, and they took down his carcaſs from the gibbet: and threw it in the very entrance of the city, heaping upon it a great heap of ſtones, which remaineth until this preſent day.

30 Then Joſue built an altar to the Lord the God of Iſrael in mount Hebal,

31 ‖ As Moſes the ſervant of the Lord had commanded the children of Iſrael, and it is written in the book of the law of Moſes: an altar of unhewn ſtones which iron had not touched: and he offered upon it holocauſts to the Lord, and immolated victims of peace-offerings. ‖ Exod. 20. 25. Deut. 27. 5.

32 And he wrote upon ſtones the Deuteronomy of the law of Moſes, which he had ordered before the children of Iſrael.

33 And all the people, and the ancients, and the princes and judges ſtood on both ſides of the ark, before the prieſts that carried the ark of the covenant of the Lord, both the ſtranger and he that was born among them, half of them by mount Garizim, and half by mount Hebal, as Moſes the ſervant of the Lord had commanded. And firſt he bleſſed the people of Iſrael.

34 After this he read all the words of the bleſſing and the curſing, and all things that were written in the book of the law.

35 He left out nothing of thoſe things which Moſes had commanded, but he repeated all before all the people of Iſrael, with the women and children and ſtrangers that dwelt among them.

CHAP. IX.

Josue is deceived by the Gabaonites: who being detected are condemned to be perpetual servants.

A. M. 3553. Ante C. 1451. NOW when these things were heard of, all the kings beyond the Jordan, that dwelt in the mountains and in the plains, in the places near the sea, and on the coasts of the great sea, they also that dwelt by Libanus, the Hethite and the Amorrhite, the Chananite, the Pherezite, and the Hevite, and the Jebusite,

2 Gathered themselves together, to fight against Josue and Israel with one mind, and one resolution.

3 But they that dwelt in Gabaon, hearing all that Josue had done to Jericho and Hai:

4 Cunningly devising took for themselves provisions, laying old sacks upon their asses, and wine bottles rent and sowed up again,

5 And very old shoes which for a show of age were clouted with patches, and old garments upon them: the loaves also, which they carried for provision by the way, were hard, and broken into pieces:

6 And they went to Josue, who then abode in the camp at Galgal, and said to him, and to all Israel with him: We are come from a far country, desiring to make peace with you. And the children of Israel answered them, and said:

7 Perhaps you dwell in the land which falls to our lot, if so, we can make no league with you.

8 But they said to Josue: We are thy servants. Josue said to them: Who are you? and whence came you?

9 They answered: From a very far country thy servants are come in the name of the Lord thy God. For we have heard the fame of his power, all the things that he did in Egypt,

‖ Num. 21. 13. 10 ‖ And to the two kings of the Amorrhites that were beyond the Jordan, Sehon king of Hesebon, and Og king of Basan, that was in Astaroth:

11 And our ancients, and all the inhabitants of our country said to us: Take with you victuals for a long way, and go meet them, and say: We are your servants, make ye a league with us.

12 Behold, these loaves we took hot, when we set out from our houses to come to you, now they are become dry, and broken in pieces by being exceeding old.

13 These bottles of wine when we filled them were new, now they are rent and burst. These garments we have on, and the shoes we have on our feet, by reason of the very long journey are worn out, and almost consumed.

14 They took therefore of their victuals, and consulted not the mouth of the Lord.

15 ‖ And Josue made peace with them, and entering into a league promised that they should not be slain: the princes also of the multitude swore to them. ‖ 2 Kings 21. 2.

16 Now three days after the league was made, they heard that they dwelt nigh, and they should be among them.

17 And the children of Israel removed the camp, and came into their cities on the third day, the names of which are Gabaon, and Caphira, and Beroth, and Cariathiarim.

18 And they slew them not, because the princes of the multitude had sworn in the name of the Lord the God of Israel. Then all the common people murmured against the princes.

19 And they answered them: We have sworn to them in the name of the Lord the God of Israel, and therefore we may not touch them.

20 But this we will do to them: Let their lives be saved, lest the wrath of the Lord be stirred up against us, if we should be forsworn.

21 But so let them live, as to serve the whole multitude in hewing wood, and bringing in water. As they were speaking these things,

22 Josue called the Gabaonites, and said to them: Why would you impose upon us, saying: We dwell far off from you, whereas you are in the midst of us?

23 Therefore you shall be under a curse, and your race shall always be hewers of wood, and carriers of water unto the house of my God.

24 They answered: It was told us thy servants, that the Lord thy God had promised his servant Moses to give you all the land, and to destroy all the inhabitants thereof. Therefore we feared exceedingly and provided for our lives, compelled by the dread we had of you, and we took this counsel.

25 And now we are in thy hand: deal with us as it seemeth good and right unto thee.

26 So Josue did as he had said, and delivered them from the hand of the children of Israel, that they should not be slain.

27 And he gave orders in that day, that they should be in the service of all the people, and of the altar of the Lord, hewing wood, and carrying water, until this present time, in the place which the Lord hath chosen.

CHAP. X.

Five kings war against Gabaon. Josue discateth them: many are slain with hail-stones. At the prayer of Josue the sun and moon stand still the space of one day. The five kings are hanged. Divers cities are taken.

A. M. 2553. WHEN Adonisedec king of Jerusalem had heard these things, to wit, that Josue had taken Hai, and had destroyed it (for as he had done to Jericho and the king thereof, so did he to Hai, and its king) and that the Gabaonites were gone over to Israel, and were their confederates,

2 He was exceedingly afraid. For Gabaon was a great city, and one of the royal cities, and greater than the town of Hai, and all its fighting men were most valiant.

3 Therefore Adonisedec king of Jerusalem sent to Oham king of Hebron, and to Pharam king of Jerimoth, and to Japhia king of Lachis, and to Dabir king of Eglon, saying:

4 Come up to me, and bring help, that we may take Gabaon, because it hath gone over to Josue, and to the children of Israel.

5 So the five kings of the Amorrhites being assembled together went up: the king of Jerusalem, the king of Hebron, the king of Jerimoth, the king of Lachis, the king of Eglon, they and their armies, and camped about Gabaon, laying siege to it.

6 But the inhabitants of the city of Gabaon which was besieged, sent to Josue, who then abode in the camp at Galgal, and said to him: Withdraw not thy hands from helping thy servants: come up quickly and save us, and bring us succour: for all the kings of the Amorrhites, who dwell in the mountains, are gathered together against us.

7 And Josue went up from Galgal, and all the army of the warriors with him, most valiant men.

8 And the Lord said to Josue: Fear them not: for I have delivered them into thy hands: none of them shall be able to stand against thee.

9 So Josue going up from Galgal all the night, came upon them suddenly.

10 ‖ And the Lord troubled them at the sight of Israel: and he slew them with a great slaughter in Gabaon, and pursued them by the way of the ascent to Beth-horon, and cut them off all the way to Azeca and Maceda. ‖ 1 Kings 7. 10.

11 And when they were fleeing from the children of Israel, and were in the descent of Beth-horon, the Lord cast down upon them great stones from heaven as far as Azeca: and many more were killed with the hail-stones than were slain by the swords of the children of Israel.

12 Then Josue spoke to the Lord, in the day that he delivered the Amorrhite in the sight of the children of Israel, and he said before them: Move not, O sun, toward Gabaon, nor thou, O moon, toward the valley of Ajalon.

13 And the ‖ sun and the moon stood still, till the people revenged themselves of their enemies. Is not this written in the book of the just? So the sun stood still in the midst of heaven, and hasted not to go down the space of one day. ‖ Eccli. 46. 5. Isa. 28. 21.

14 There was not before nor after so long a day, the Lord obeying the voice of a man, and fighting for Israel.

15 And Josue returned with all Israel into the camp of Galgal.

16 For the five kings were fled, and had hidden themselves in a cave of the city of Maceda.

17 And it was told Josue that the five kings were found hidden in a cave of the city of Maceda.

18 And he commanded them that were with him, saying: Roll great stones to the mouth of the cave, and set careful men, to keep them shut up:

19 And stay you not, but pursue after the enemies, and kill all the hindermost of them as they flee, and do not suffer them whom the Lord God hath delivered into your hands to shelter themselves in their cities.

20 So the enemies being slain with a great slaughter, and almost utterly consumed, they that were able to escape from Israel, entered into fenced cities.

21 And all the army returned to Josue in Maceda, where the camp then was, in good health and without the loss of any one: and no man durst move his tongue against the children of Israel.

22 And Josue gave orders, saying: Open the mouth of the cave, and bring forth to me the five kings that lie hid therein.

23 And the ministers did as they were commanded: and they brought out to him the five kings out of the cave: the king of Jerusalem, the king of Hebron, the king of Jermoth, the king of Lachis, the king of Eglon.

24 And when they were brought out to him, he called all the men of Israel, and said to the chiefs of the army that were with him: Go, and set your feet on the necks of theſe kings. And when they had gone, and put their feet upon the necks of them lying under them,

25 He ſaid again to them: Fear not, neither be ye diſmayed, take courage, and be ſtrong: for ſo will the Lord do to all your enemies, againſt whom you fight.

26 And Joſue ſtruck, and ſlew them, and hanged them upon five gibbets, and they hung until the evening.

‖ Deut. 21. 23. 27 ‖ And when the ſun was down, he commanded the ſoldiers to take them down from the gibbets. And after they were taken down they caſt them into the cave where they had lain hid, and put great ſtones at the mouth thereof, which remain until this day.

28 The ſame day Joſue took Maceda and deſtroyed it with the edge of the ſword, and killed the king and all the inhabitants thereof: he left not in it the leaſt remains. And he did to the king of Maceda, as he had done to the king of Jericho.

29 And he paſſed from Maceda with all Iſrael to Lebna, and fought againſt it:

30 And the Lord delivered it with the king thereof into the hands of Iſrael: and they deſtroyed the city with the edge of the ſword, and all the inhabitants thereof. They left not in it any remains. And they did to ‖ Supra 6. 2. the king of Lebna, as they had done to the king of Jericho.

31 From Lebna he paſſed unto Lachis with all Iſrael: and inveſting it with his army beſieged it.

32 And the Lord delivered Lachis into the hands of Iſrael, and he took it the following day, and put it to the ſword, and every ſoul that was in it, as he had done to Lebna.

33 At that time Horam king of Gazer, came up to ſuccour Lachis: and Joſue ſlew him with all his people, ſo as to leave none alive.

34 And he paſſed from Lachis to Eglon, and ſurrounded it,

35 And took it the ſame day: and put to the ſword all the ſouls that were in it, according to all that he had done to Lachis.

36 He went up alſo with all Iſrael from Eglon to Hebron, and fought againſt it:

37 Took it, and deſtroyed it with the edge of the ſword: the king alſo thereof, and all the towns of that country, and all the ſouls that dwelt in it: he left not therein any remains: as he had done to Eglon, ſo did he alſo to Hebron, putting to the ſword all that he found in it.

38 Returning from thence to Dabir,

39 He took it and deſtroyed it: the king alſo thereof and all the towns round about he deſtroyed with the edge of the ſword: he left not in it any remains: as he had done to Hebron and Lebna and to their kings, ſo did he to Dabir and to the king thereof.

40 So Joſue conquered all the country of the hills and of the ſouth and of the plain, and of Aſedoth with their kings: he left not any remains therein, but ſlew all that breathed, as the Lord the God of Iſrael had commanded him,

41 From Cadeſbarne even to Gaza. All the land of Goſen even to Gabaon, 42 And all their kings, and their lands he took and waſted at one onſet: for the Lord the God of Iſrael fought for him.

43 And he returned with all Iſrael to the place of the camp in Galgal.

CHAP. XI.

The kings of the north are overthrown: the whole country is taken.

AND when Jabin king of Aſor had heard theſe things, he ſent to Jobab king of Madon, and to the king of Semeron, and to the king of Achſaph:

2 And to the kings of the north, that dwelt in the mountains and in the plains over-againſt the ſouth ſide of Ceneroth, and in the levels and the countries of Dor by the ſea ſide:

3 To the Chananite alſo on the eaſt and on the weſt, and the Amorrhite, and the Hethite, and the Pherezite, and the Jebuſite in the mountains: to the Hevite alſo who dwelt at the foot of Hermon in the land of Maſpha.

4 And they all came out with their troops, a people exceeding numerous as the ſand that is on the ſea-ſhore, their horſes alſo and chariots a very great multitude.

5 And all theſe kings aſſembled together at the waters of Merom, to fight againſt Iſrael.

6 And the Lord ſaid to Joſue: Fear them not: for to-morrow at this ſame hour I will deliver all theſe to be ſlain in the ſight of Iſrael: thou ſhalt hamſtring their horſes, and thou ſhalt burn their chariots with fire.

VER. 37. The king, viz. the new king, who ſucceeded him that was ſlain, ver. 26.

VER. 40. Any remains therein, but ſlew, &c. God ordered theſe people to be utterly deſtroyed, in puniſhment of their manifold abominations; and that they might not draw the Iſraelites into the like ſins.

CHAP. XI. VER. 6. Hamſtring their horſes, and burn their chariots with fire, &c. God ſo ordained, that his people might not truſt in chariots and horſes, but in him.

7 And Josue came, and all the army with him, against them to the waters of Merom on a sudden, and fell upon them,

8 And the Lord delivered them into the hands of Israel. And they defeated them, and chased them as far as the great Sidon, and the waters of Maserephot, and the field of Masphe, which is on the east side thereof. He slew them all, so as to leave no remains of them:

9 And he did as the Lord had commanded him, he hamstringed their horses and burned their chariots.

10 And presently turning back he took Asor: and slew the king thereof with the sword. Now Asor of old was the head of all these kingdoms.

11 And he cut off all the souls that abode there: he left not in it any remains, but utterly destroyed all, and burned the city itself with fire.

12 And he took and put to the sword and destroyed all the cities round about, and their kings, ‖ as Moses the servant of God had commanded him. ‖ Deut. 7. 1.

13 Except the cities that were on hills and high places, the rest Israel burned: only Asor that was very strong he consumed with fire.

14 And the children of Israel divided among themselves all the spoil of these cities and the cattle, killing all the men.

15 ‖ As the Lord had commanded Moses his servant, so did Moses command Josue, and he accomplished all: he left not one thing undone of all the commandments which the Lord had commanded Moses. ‖ Exod. 34. 11. Deut. 7. 1.

16 So Josue took all the country of the hills, and of the south, and the land of Gosen, and the plains and the west country, and the mountain of Israel, and the plains thereof:

17 And part of the mountain that goeth up to Seir as far as Baalgad by the plain of Libanus under mount Hermon: all their kings he took, smote and slew.

18 Josue made war a long time against these kings.

19 There was not a city that delivered itself to the children of Israel, except the Hevite, who dwelt in Gabaon: for he took all by fight.

20 For it was the sentence of the Lord, that their hearts should be hardened, and they should fight against Israel, and fall, and should not deserve any clemency, and should be destroyed, as the Lord had commanded Moses.

21 At that time Josue came and cut off the Enacims from the mountains, from Hebron, and Dabir, and Anab, and from all the mountain of Juda and Israel, and destroyed their cities.

22 He left not any of the stock of the Enacims, in the land of the children of Israel: except the cities of Gaza, and Geth, and Azotus, in which alone they were left.

23 So Josue took all the land, as the Lord spoke to Moses, and delivered it in possession to the children of Israel, according to their divisions and tribes. ‖ And the land rested from wars. ‖ Infra 14. 15.

CHAP. XIII.

God commandeth Joſue to divide the land: the poſſeſſions of Ruben, Gad, and half the tribe of Manaſſes, beyond the Jordan.

A. M. 2559. JOSUE was old, and far advanced in years, and the Lord ſaid to him: Thou art grown old, and advanced in age, and there is a very large country left, which is not yet divided by lot:

2 To wit, all Galilee, Philiſtia, and all Geſſuri.

3 From the troubled river, that watereth Egypt, unto the borders of Accaron northward: the land of Chanaan, which is divided among the lords of the Philiſtines, the Gazites, the Azotians the Aſcalonites, the Gethites, and the Accaronites.

4 And on the ſouth ſide are the Hevites, all the land of Chanaan, and Maara of the Sidonians as far as Apheca, and the borders of the Amorrhite,

5 And his confines. The country alſo of Libanus towards the eaſt from Baalgad under mount Hermon to the entering into Emath.

6 Of all that dwell in the mountains from Libanus, to the waters of Maſerephoth, and all the Sidonians. I am he that will cut them off from before the face of the children of Iſrael. So let their land come in as a part of the inheritance of Iſrael, as I have commanded thee.

7 And now divide the land in poſſeſſion to the nine tribes, and to the half tribe of Manaſſes,

8 With whom Ruben and Gad have poſſeſſed the land, ‖ which Moſes the ſervant of the Lord delivered to them beyond the river Jordan, on the eaſt ſide. ‖ Num. 32. 33.

9 From Aroer, which is upon the bank of the torrent Arnon, and in the midſt of the valley, and all the plains of Medaba, as far as Dibon:

10 And all the cities of Sehon, king of the Amorrhites, who reigned in Heſebon, unto the borders of the children of Ammon.

11 And Galaad, and the borders of Geſſuri and Machati, and all mount Hermon, and all Baſan as far as Salecha, 12 All the kingdom of Og in Baſan, who reigned in Aſtaroth and Edrai, he was of the remains of the Raphaims: and Moſes overthrew and deſtroyed them.

13 And the children of Iſrael would not deſtroy Geſſuri and Machati: and they have dwelt in the midſt of Iſrael, until this preſent day.

14 ‖ But to the tribe of Levi he gave no poſſeſſion: but the ſacrifices and victims of the Lord God of Iſrael, are his inheritance, as he ſpoke to him. ‖ Num. 18. 20.

15 And Moſes gave a poſſeſſion to the children of Ruben according to their kindreds.

16 And their border was from Aroer, which is on the bank of the torrent Arnon, and in the midſt of the valley of the ſame torrent: all the plain, that leadeth to Medaba,

17 And Heſebon, and all their villages,

CHAP. XIII. VER. 1. Joſue was old, and far advanced in years. He was then about 101 years old, and there is a very large country left, which is not yet divided by lot, not yet poſſeſſed by the children of Iſrael.

VER. 8. With whom. That is, with the other half of that ſame tribe.

which are in the plains. Dibon alſo, and Bamothbaal, and the town of Baalmaon,
18 And Jaſſa, and Cedimoth, and Mephaath,
19 And Cariathaim, and Sabama, and Sarathaſar in the mountain of the valley.
20 Bethphogor and Aſedoth, Phaſga and Bethieſimoth,
21 And all the cities of the plain, and all the kingdoms of Sehon king of the Amorrhites, that reigned in Heſebon, ‖ whom Moſes ſlew with the princes of Madian: Hevi, and Recem, and Sur and Hur, and Rebe dukes of Sehon inhabitants of the land.
‖ Num. 31. 8.
22 Balaam alſo the ſon of Beor the ſoothſayer, the children of Iſrael ſlew with the ſword among the reſt that were ſlain.
23 And the river Jordan was the border of the children of Ruben. This is the poſſeſſion of the Rubenites, by their kindreds, of cities and villages.
24 And Moſes gave to the tribe of Gad and to his children by their kindreds, a poſſeſſion, of which this is the diviſion.
25 The border of Jaſer, and all the cities of Galaad, and half the land of the children of Ammon: as far as Aroer, which is overagainſt Rabba:
26 And from Heſebon unto Ramoth, Maſphe and Betonim: and from Manaim unto the borders of Dabir.
27 And in the valley Betharan and Bethnemra, and Socoth, and Saphon the other part of the kingdom of Sehon king of Heſebon: the limit of this alſo is the Jordan, as far as the uttermoſt part of the ſea of Cenereth beyond the Jordan on the eaſt ſide.
28 This is the poſſeſſion of the children of Gad by their families, their cities, and villages.
29 He gave alſo to the half tribe of Manaſſes and his children poſſeſſion according to their kindreds,
30 The beginning whereof is this: from Manaim all Baſan, and all the kingdoms of Og king of Baſan, and all the villages of Jair, which are in Baſan, threeſcore towns.
31 And half Galaad, and Aſtaroth, and Edrai, cities of the kingdom of Og in Baſan: to the children of Machir, the ſon of Manaſſes, to one half of the children of Machir according to their kindreds.
32 This poſſeſſion Moſes divided in the plains of Moab, beyond the Jordan, overagainſt Jericho on the eaſt ſide.
‖ Num. 18. 20.
33 ‖ But to the tribe of Levi he gave no poſſeſſion: becauſe the Lord the God of Iſrael himſelf is their poſſeſſion, as he ſpoke to them.

Caleb's petition. Hebron is given to him and to his ſeed.

THIS is what the children of Iſrael poſſeſſed in the land of Chanaan, which Eleazar the prieſt, and Joſue the ſon of Nun, and the princes of the families by the tribes of Iſrael gave to them:
2 Dividing all by lot, ‖ as the Lord had commanded by the hand of Moſes, to the nine tribes, and the half tribe.
‖ Num. 34. 13.
3 For to two tribes and a half Moſes had given poſſeſſion beyond the Jordan: beſides the Levites, who received no land among their brethren:
4 But in their place ſucceeded the children of Joſeph divided into two tribes, of Manaſſes and Ephraim: neither did the Levites receive other portion of land, but cities to dwell in, and their ſuburbs to feed their beaſts and flocks.
5 As the Lord had commanded Moſes, ſo did the children of Iſrael, and they divided the land.
6 Then the children of Juda came to Joſue in Galgal, and Caleb the ſon of Jephone the Cenezite ſpoke to him: ‖ Thou knoweſt what the Lord ſpoke to Moſes the man of God concerning me and thee in Cadeſbarne.
‖ Num. 14. 24.
7 I was forty years old when Moſes the ſervant of the Lord ſent me ‖ from Cadeſbarne, to view the land, and I brought him word again as to me ſeemed true.
‖ Deut. 2. 14.
8 But my brethren, that had gone up with me, diſcouraged the heart of the people: and I nevertheleſs followed the Lord my God.
9 And Moſes ſwore in that day, ſaying: The land which thy foot hath trodden upon ſhall be thy poſſeſſion, and thy children's for ever, becauſe thou haſt followed the Lord my God.
10 The Lord therefore hath granted me life, as he promiſed until this preſent day. It is forty and five years ſince the Lord ſpoke this word to Moſes, when Iſrael journeyed through the wilderneſs: this day I am eighty five years old,
11 As ſtrong as I was at that time when I was ſent to view the land: ‖ the ſtrength of that time continueth in me until this day, as well to fight as to march.
‖ Eccli. 46. 11.
12 Give me therefore this mountain, which the Lord promiſed, in thy hearing ſaid to have been ſlain with him, that is, about the ſame time, but not in the ſame battle.

also, wherein are the Enacims, and cities great and strong: if so be the Lord will be with me, and I shall be able to destroy them, as he promised me.

13 And Josue blessed him, and gave him Hebron in possession.

14 And from that time Hebron belonged to Caleb the son of Jephone the Cenezite, until this present day: because he followed the Lord the God of Israel.

15 The name of Hebron before was called Cariath Arbe: Adam the greatest among the Enacims was laid there: ‖ and the land rested from wars. ‖ Supra 11. 23.

CHAP. XV.

The borders of the lot of Juda. Caleb's portion and conquest. The cities of Juda.

A. M. 2560. NOW the lot of the children of Juda by their kindreds was this: ‖ From the frontier of Edom, to the desart of Sin southward, and to the uttermost part of the south coast. ‖ Num 34. 3.

2 Its beginning was from the top of the most salt sea, and from the bay thereof, that looketh to the south.

3 And it goeth out towards the ascent of the scorpion, and passeth on to Sina: and ascendeth into Cadesbarne, and reacheth into Efron, going up to Addar, and compassing Carcaa,

4 And from thence passing along into Asemona, and reaching the torrent of Egypt: and the bounds thereof shall be the great sea, this shall be the limit of the south coast.

5 But on the east side the beginning shall be the most salt sea even to the end of the Jordan: and towards the north, from the bay of the sea unto the same river Jordan.

6 And the border goeth up into Beth-Hagla, and passeth by the north into Beth-Araba: going up to the stone of Boen the son of Ruben.

7 And reaching as far as the borders of Debera from the valley of Achor, and so northward looking towards Galgal, which is opposite to the ascent of Adommim, on the south side of the torrent: and the border passeth the waters that are called the fountain of the sun: and the goings out thereof shall be at the fountain Rogel.

8 And it goeth up by the valley of the son of Ennom on the side of the Jebusite towards the south, the same is Jerusalem: and thence ascending to the top of the mountain, which is over-against Geennom to the west in the end of the valley of Raphaim, northward.

9 And it passeth on from the top of the mountain to the fountain of the water of Nephtoa: and reacheth to the towns of mount Ephron: and it bendeth towards Baala, which is Cariathiarim, that is to say, the city of the woods.

10 And it compasseth from Baala westward unto mount Seir: and passeth by the side of mount Jarim to the north into Chesalon: and goeth down into Bethsames, and passeth into Thamna.

11 And it reacheth northward to a part of Accaron at the side: and bendeth to Sechrona, and passeth mount Baala: and cometh into Jebneel, and is bounded westward with the great sea.

12 These are the borders round about of the children of Juda in their kindreds.

13 But to Caleb the son of Jephone he gave a portion in the midst of the children of Juda, as the Lord had commanded him: Cariath-Arbe the father of Enac, which is Hebron.

14 ‖ And Caleb destroyed out of it the three sons of Enac, Sesai and Ahiman, and Tholmai of the race of Enac. ‖ Judges 1. 20. Num. 13. 23.

15 And going up from thence he came to the inhabitants of Dabir, which before was called Cariath-Sepher, that is to say, the city of letters.

16 And Caleb said: He that shall smite Cariath-Sepher, and take it, I will give him Axa my daughter to wife.

17 And Othoniel the son of Cenez, the younger brother of Caleb, took it: and he gave him Axa his daughter to wife.

18 And as they were going together, she was moved by her husband to ask a field of her father, and she sighed as she sat on her ass. And Caleb said to her: What aileth thee?

19 But she answered: Give me a blessing: thou hast given me a southern and dry land, give me also a land that is watered. And Caleb gave her the upper and the nether watery ground.

20 This is the possession of the tribe of the children of Juda by their kindreds.

21 And the cities from the uttermost parts of the children of Juda by the borders of Edom to the south: were Cabseel and Eder and Jagur,

22 And Cina and Dimona and Adada,

23 And Cades, and Asor, and Jethnam,

24 Ziph, and Telem and Baloth,

CHAP. XIV. VER. 14. Hebron belonged, &c. All the country thereabouts, depending on Hebron, was given to Caleb: but the city itself with the suburbs, was one of those that were given to the priests to dwell in.

25 New Asor and Carioth, Hesron, which is Asor.
26 Amam, Sama, and Molada,
27 And Asergadda and Hassemon and Bethphelet,
28 And Hasersual and Bersabee and Baziothia,
29 And Baala and Jim and Esem,
30 And Eltholad and Cesil and Harma,
31 And Siceleg, and Medemena and Sensenna,
32 Lebaoth, and Selim and Aen, and Remmon: all the cities twenty nine, and their villages.
33 But in the plains: Estaol and Sarea and Asena,
34 And Zanoe and Engannim and Taphua and Enaim,
35 And Jerimoth and Adullam, Socho and Azeca,
36 And Saraim and Adithaim and Gedera and Gederothaim: fourteen cities, and their villages.
37 Sanan and Hadassa and Magdalgad,
38 Delean and Masepha and Jecthel,
39 Lachis and Bascath and Eglon,
40 Chebbon and Leheman and Cethlis
41 And Gideroth and Bethdagon and Naama and Maceda: sixteen cities, and their villages.
42 Labana and Ether and Asan,
43 Jephtha and Esna and Nesib,
44 And Ceila and Achzib and Maresa: nine cities, and their villages.
45 Accaron with the towns and villages thereof.
46 From Accaron even to the sea: all places that lie towards Azotus and the villages thereof.
47 Azotus with its towns and villages. Gaza with its towns and villages, even to the torrent of Egypt, and the great sea that is the border thereof.
48 And in the mountain: Samir and Jether and Socoth,
49 And Danna and Cariath-senna, this is Dabir:
50 Anab and Istemo and Anim,
51 Gosen and Olon and Gilo: eleven cities and their villages.
52 Arab and Ruma and Esaan,
53 And Janum and Beththaphua and Apheca,
54 Athmatha and Cariath-arbe, this is Hebron, and Sior: nine cities and their villages.
55 Maon and Carmel and Ziph and Jota,
56 Jezrael and Jucadam and Zanoe,
57 Accain, Gabaa and Thamna: ten cities and their villages.
58 Halhul, and Bessur, and Gedor,
59 Mareth, and Bethanoth, and Eltecon: six cities and their villages.
60 Cariathbaal, the same is Cariathiarim, the city of woods, and Arebba: two cities and their villages.
61 In the desart Betharaba, Meddin, and Sachacha,
62 And Nebsan, and the city of salt, and Engaddi: six cities and their villages.
63 But the children of Juda could not destroy the Jebusite that dwelt in Jerusalem: and the Jebusite dwelt with the children of Juda in Jerusalem until this present day.

CHAP. XVI.

The lot of the sons of Joseph. The borders of the tribe of Ephraim.

A. M. 2560.

AND the lot of the sons of Joseph fell from the Jordan over-against Jericho and the waters thereof, on the east: the wilderness which goeth up from Jericho to the mountain of Bethel:
2 And goeth out from Bethel to Luza: and passeth the border of Archi, to Ataroth.
3 And goeth down westward, by the border of Jephleti, unto the borders of Beth-horon the nether, and to Gazer: and the countries of it are ended by the great sea:
4 And Manasses and Ephraim the children of Joseph possessed it.
5 And the border of the children of Ephraim was according to their kindreds: and their possession towards the east was Ataroth-addar unto Beth-horon the upper.
6 And the confines go out unto the sea: but Machmethath looketh to the north, and it goeth round the borders eastward into Thanath-selo: and passeth along on the east side to Janoe.
7 And it goeth down from Janoe into Ataroth and Naaratha: and it cometh to Jericho, and goeth out to the Jordan.
8 From Taphua it passeth on towards the sea into the valley of reeds, and the goings out thereof are at the most salt sea. This is the possession of the tribe of the children of Ephraim by their families.
9 And there were cities with their villages separated for the children of Ephraim in the midst of the possession of the children of Manasses.

CHAP. XVI. VER. 6. Looketh to the north, &c. The meaning is, that the border went towards the north, by Machmethath; and then turned eastward to Thanath-Selo.

10 And the children of Ephraim ſlew not the Chananite, who dwelt in Gazer: and the Chananite dwelt in the midſt of Ephraim until this day, paying tribute.

CHAP. XVII.

The lot of the half tribe of Manaſſes.

A. M. 2560. AND this lot fell to the tribe of Manaſſes (for he is the firſt-born of Joſeph) to Machir the firſt-born of Manaſſes the father of Galaad, who was a warlike man, and had for poſſeſſion Galaad and Baſan.

‖ Num. 26. 30. 2 ‖ And to the reſt of the children of Manaſſes according to their families: to the children of Abiezer, and to the children of Helec, and to the children of Eſriel, and to the children of Sechem, and to the children of Hepher, and to the children of Semida: theſe are the male children of Manaſſes the ſon of Joſeph, by their kindreds.

‖ Num. 27. 1. & 36. 11. 3 ‖ But Salphaad the ſon of Hepher the ſon of Galaad the ſon of Machir the ſon of Manaſſes had no ſons, but only daughters: whoſe names are theſe, Maala and Noa and Hegla and Melcha and Therſa.

4 And they came in the preſence of Eleazar the prieſt and of Joſue the ſon of Nun, and of the princes, ſaying: The Lord commanded by the hand of Moſes, that a poſſeſſion ſhould be given us in the midſt of our brethren. And he gave them according to the commandment of the Lord a poſſeſſion amongſt the brethren of their father.

5 And there fell ten portions to Manaſſes, beſide the land of Galaad and Baſan beyond the Jordan.

6 For the daughters of Manaſſes poſſeſſed inheritance in the midſt of his ſons. And the land of Galaad fell to the lot of the reſt of the children of Manaſſes.

7 And the border of Manaſſes was from Aſer, Machmethath which looketh towards Sichem: and it goeth out on the right hand by the inhabitants of the fountain of Taphua.

8 For the lot of Manaſſes took in the land of Taphua, which is on the borders of Manaſſes, and belongs to the children of Ephraim.

9 And the border goeth down to the valley of the reeds, to the ſouth of the torrent of the cities of Ephraim, which are in the midſt of the cities of Manaſſes: the border of Manaſſes is on the north ſide of the torrent, and the outgoings of it are at the ſea:

10 So that the poſſeſſion of Ephraim is on the ſouth, and on the north that of Manaſſes, and the ſea is the border of both, and they are joined together in the tribe of Aſer on the north, and in the tribe of Iſſachar on the eaſt.

11 And the inheritance of Manaſſes in Iſſachar and in Aſer was Bethſan and its villages, and Jeblaam with its villages, and the inhabitants of Dor, with the towns thereof; the inhabitants alſo of Endor with the villages thereof: and in like manner the inhabitants of Thenac with the villages thereof; and the inhabitants of Mageddo with their villages, and the third part of the city of Nopheth.

12 Neither could the children of Manaſſes overthrow theſe cities, but the Chananite began to dwell in his land.

13 But after that the children of Iſrael were grown ſtrong, they ſubdued the Chananites, and made them their tributaries, and they did not kill them.

14 And the children of Joſeph ſpoke to Joſue, and ſaid: Why haſt thou given me but one lot and one portion to poſſeſs, whereas I am of ſo great a multitude, and the Lord hath bleſſed me?

15 And Joſue ſaid to them: If thou be a great people, go up into the woodland, and cut down room for thyſelf in the land of the Pherezite and the Raphaims: becauſe the poſſeſſion of mount Ephraim is too narrow for thee.

16 And the children of Joſeph anſwered him: We cannot go up to the mountains, for the Chananites that dwell in the low lands, wherein are ſituate Bethſan with its towns, and Jezrael in the midſt of the valley, have chariots of iron.

17 And Joſue ſaid to the houſe of Joſeph, to Ephraim and Manaſſes: Thou art a great people, and of great ſtrength, thou ſhalt not have one lot only:

18 But thou ſhalt paſs to the mountain, and ſhalt cut down the wood, and make thyſelf room to dwell in: and mayeſt proceed farther, when thou haſt deſtroyed the Chananite, who as thou ſayeſt have iron chariots, and are very ſtrong.

CHAP. XVIII.

Surveyors are ſent to divide the reſt of the land into ſeven tribes. The lot of Benjamin.

A. M. 2560. AND all the children of Iſrael aſſembled together in Silo, and there they ſet up the tabernacle of the teſtimony, and the land was ſubdued before them.

2 But there remained ſeven tribes of the children of Iſrael, which as yet had not received their poſſeſſions.

* A. M. 2561. Ante C. 1443. 3 * And Joſue ſaid to them: How long are you indolent and ſlack, and go not in to poſſeſs the land, which the Lord the God of your fathers hath given you?

4 Chooſe of every tribe three men, that I may ſend them, and they may go and compaſs the land, and mark it out according to the number of each multitude: and bring back to me what they have marked out.

5 Divide to yourſelves the land into ſeven parts: let Juda be in his bounds on the ſouth ſide, and the houſe of Joſeph on the north.

6 The land in the midſt between theſe mark ye out into ſeven parts; and you ſhall come hither to me, that I may caſt lots for you before the Lord your God.

7 For the Levites have no part among you, but the prieſthood of the Lord is their inheritance. And Gad and Ruben, and the half tribe of Manaſſes have already received their poſſeſſions beyond the Jordan eaſtward: which Moſes the ſervant of the Lord gave them.

8 And when the men were riſen up, to go to mark out the land, Joſue commanded them, ſaying: Go round the land and mark it out, and return to me: that I may caſt lots for you before the Lord in Silo.

9 So they went: and ſurveying it, divided it into ſeven parts, writing them down in a book. And they returned to Joſue, to the camp in Silo.

10 And he caſt lots before the Lord in Silo, and divided the land to the children of Iſrael into ſeven parts.

11 And firſt came up the lot of the children of Benjamin by their families, to poſſeſs the land between the children of Juda and the children of Joſeph.

12 And their border northward was from the Jordan: going along by the ſide of Jericho on the north ſide, and thence going up weſtward to the mountains, and reaching to the wilderneſs of Bethaven,

13 And paſſing along ſouthward by ‖ Luza, the ſame is Bethel: and it goeth down into Ataroth-addar to the mountain, that is on the ſouth of the nether Bethhoron.

‖ Gen. 28. 19. 14 And it bendeth thence going round towards the ſea, ſouth of the mountain that looketh towards Bethhoron to the ſouth-weſt: and the out goings thereof are into Cariathbaal, which is called alſo Cariathiarim, a city of the children of Juda. This is their coaſt towards the ſea, weſtward.

15 But on the ſouth ſide the border goeth out from part of Cariathiarim towards the ſea, and cometh to the fountain of the waters of Nephtoa.

16 And it goeth down to that part of the mountain that looketh on the valley of the children of Ennom: and is over-againſt the north quarter in the furthermoſt part of the valley of Raphaim, and it goeth down into Geennom (that is the valley of Ennom) by the ſide of the Jebuſite to the ſouth: and cometh to the fountain of Rogel,

17 Paſſing thence to the north, and going out to Enſemes, that is to ſay the fountain of the ſun:

18 And it paſſeth along to the hills that are over-againſt the aſcent of Adommim: and it goeth down to Abenboen, that is, the ſtone of Boen the ſon of Ruben: and it paſſeth on the north ſide to the champaign countries; and goeth down into the plain,

19 And it paſſeth by Bethhagla northward: and the outgoings thereof are towards the north of the moſt ſalt ſea at the ſouth end of the Jordan:

20 Which is the border of it on the eaſt ſide. This is the poſſeſſion of the children of Benjamin by their borders round about, and their families.

21 And their cities were, Jericho and Bethhagla and Vale-Caſis,

22 Betharaba and Samaraim and Bethel,

23 And Avim and Aphara and Ophera,

24 The town Emona and Ophni and Gabee: twelve cities, and their villages.

25 Gabaon and Rama and Beroth,

26 And Meſphe, and Caphara, and Amoſa.

27 And Recem, Jarephel and Tharela,

28 And Sela, Eleph and Jebus, which is Jeruſalem, Gabaath and Cariath: fourteen cities, and their villages. This is the poſſeſſion of the children of Benjamin by their families.

CHAP. XIX.

The lots of the tribes of Simeon, Zabulon, Iſſachar, Aſer, Nephtali and Dan. A city is given to Joſue.

AND the ſecond lot came forth for the children of Simeon by their kindreds: and their inheritance was,

2 In the midſt of the poſſeſſion of the children of Juda: Berſabee and Sabee and Molada.

3 And Haſerſual, Bala and Aſem,

4 And Eltholad, Bethul and Harma,

5 And Siceleg and Bethmarchaboth and Haſerſuſa,

6 And Bethlebaoth and Sarohen: thirteen cities, and their villages:

CHAP. XVIII. VER. 6. The land in the midſt between theſe mark ye out into ſeven parts: That is to ſay, the reſt of the land, which is not already aſſigned to Juda or Joſeph.

7 Ain and Remmon and Athor and Asan: four cities, and their villages.

8 And all the villages round about these cities to Baalath Beer Ramath to the south quarter. This is the inheritance of the children of Simeon according to their kindreds,

9 In the possession and lot of the children of Juda: because it was too great, and therefore the children of Simeon had their possession in the midst of their inheritance.

10 And the third lot fell to the children of Zabulon by their kindreds: and the border of their possession was unto Sarid.

11 And it went up from the sea and from Merala, and came to Debbaseth: as far as the torrent, which is over-against Jeconam.

12 And it returneth from Sarid eastward to the borders of Ceseleththabor: and it goeth out to Dabereth, and ascendeth towards Japhie.

13 And it passeth along from thence to the east side of Gethhepher and Thacasin: and goeth out to Remmon, Amthar and Noa.

14 And it turneth about to the north of Hanathon: and the outgoings thereof are the valley of Jephtahel,

15 And Cateth and Naalol and Semeron and Jedala and Bethlehem: twelve cities and their villages.

16 This is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Zabulon by their kindreds, the cities and their villages.

17 The fourth lot came out to Issachar by their kindreds.

18 And his inheritance was Jezrael and Casaloth and Sunem,

19 And Hapharaim and Seon, and Anaharath,

20 And Rabboth and Cesion, Abes,

21 And Rameth, and Engannim, and Enhadda and Bethphesses.

22 And the border thereof cometh to Thabor and Sehesima and Bethsames: and the outgoings thereof shall be at the Jordan: sixteen cities, and their villages.

23 This is the possession of the sons of Issachar by their kindreds, the cities and their villages.

24 And the fifth lot fell to the tribe of the children of Aser by their kindreds:

25 And their border was Halcath and Chali and Beten and Axaph,

26 And Elmelech and Amaad and Messal: and it reacheth to Carmel by the sea and Sihor and Labanath,

27 And it returneth towards the east to Bethdagon: and passeth along to Zabulon and to the valley of Jephthael towards the north to Bethemec and Nehiel. And it goeth out to the left side of Cabul, 28 And to Abaran and Rohob and Hamon and Cana, as far as the great Sidon.

29 And it returneth to Horma to the strong city of Tyre, and to Hosa: and the outgoings thereof shall be at the sea from the portion of Achziba:

30 And Amma and Aphec and Rohob: twenty two cities and their villages.

31 This is the possession of the children of Aser by their kindreds, and the cities and their villages.

32 The sixth lot came out to the sons of Nephtali by their families:

33 And the border began from Heleph and Elon to Saananim, and Adami, which is Neceb, and Jebnael even to Lecum: and their outgoings unto the Jordan:

34 And the border returneth westward to Azanotthabor, and goeth out from thence to Hucuca, and passeth along to Zabulon southward, and to Aser westward, and to Juda upon the Jordan towards the rising of the sun.

35 And the strong cities are Assedim, Ser, and Emath, and Reccath and Cenereth,

36 And Edema and Arama, Asor

37 And Cedes and Edrai, Enhasor

38 And Jeron and Magdalel, Horem and Bethanath and Bethsames: nineteen cities, and their villages.

39 This is the possession of the tribe of the children of Nephtali by their kindreds, the cities and their villages.

40 The seventh lot came out to the tribe of the children of Dan by their families:

41 And the border of their possession was Saraa and Esthaol, and Hirsemes, that is, the city of the sun.

42 Selebin and Aialon and Jethela,

43 Elon and Themna and Acron,

44 Elthece, Gebbethon and Balaath,

45 And Jud and Bane and Barach and Gethremmon:

46 And Mejarcon and Arecon, with the border that looketh towards Joppe,

47 And is terminated there. And the children of Dan went up and fought against Lesem, and took it: and they put it to the sword, and possessed it, and dwelt in it, calling the name of it Lesem Dan, by the name of Dan their father.

48 This is the possession of the tribe of the sons of Dan, by their kindreds, the cities and their villages.

49 And when he had made an end of dividing the land by lot to each one by their tribes, the children of Israel gave a possession to Josue the son of Nun in the midst of them,

50 According to the commandment of the Lord, the city which he asked for Thamnath Saraa in mount Ephraim: and he built up the city, and dwelt in it.

51 These are the possessions, which Eleazar the priest, and Josue the son of Nun, and the princes of the families, and of the tribes of the children of Israel, distributed by lot in Silo, before the Lord at the door of the tabernacle of the testimony, and they divided the land.

CHAP. XX.

The cities of refuge are appointed for casual manslaughter.

A. M. 2562. Ante C. 1442. AND the Lord spoke to Josue, saying: Speak to the children of Israel and say to them:

‖ Num. 35. 10. Deut. 19. 2. 2 Appoint cities of refuge, ‖ of which I spoke to you by the hand of Moses:

3 That whosoever shall kill a person unawares may flee to them: and may escape the wrath of the kinsman, who is the avenger of blood:

4 And when he shall flee to one of these cities: he shall stand before the gate of the city, and shall speak to the ancients of that city, such things, as prove him innocent: and so shall they receive him, and give him a place to dwell in.

5 And when the avenger of blood shall pursue him, they shall not deliver him into his hands, because he slew his neighbour unawares, and is not proved to have been his enemy two or three days before.

6 And he shall dwell in that city, till he stand before judgment to give an account of his fact, and till the death of the high-priest, who shall be at that time: then shall the manslayer return, and go into his own city and house from whence he fled.

7 And they appointed Cedes in Galilee of mount Nephtali, and Sichem in mount Ephraim, and Cariatharbe, the same is Hebron in the mountain of Juda.

‖ Deut. 4. 43. 8 And beyond the Jordan to the east of Jericho, ‖ they appointed Bosor, which is upon the plain of the wilderness of the tribe of Ruben, and Ramoth in Galaad of the tribe of Gad, and Gaulon in Basan of the tribe of Manasses.

9 These cities were appointed for all the children of Israel, and for the strangers, that dwelt among them: that whosoever had killed a person unawares might flee to them, and not die by the hand of the kinsman, coveting to revenge the blood that was shed, until he should stand before the people to lay open his cause.

CHAP. XXI.

Cities with their suburbs are assigned for the priests and Levites.

A. M. 2562. THEN the princes of the families of Levi came to Eleazar the priest, and to Josue the son of Nun, and to the princes of the kindreds of all the tribes of the children of Israel:

2 And they spoke to them in Silo in the land of Chanaan, and said: ‖ The Lord commanded by the hand of Moses, that cities should be given us to dwell in, and their suburbs to feed our cattle. ‖ Num. 35. 2.

3 And the children of Israel gave out of their possessions according to the commandment of the Lord, cities and their suburbs.

4 And the lot came out for the family of Caath of the children of Aaron the priest out of the tribes of Juda, and of Simeon, and of Benjamin, thirteen cities.

5 And to the rest of the children of Caath, that is, to the Levites, who remained, out of the tribes of Ephraim, and of Dan, and the half tribe of Manasses, ten cities.

6 And the lot came out to the children of Gerson, that they should take of the tribes of Issachar and of Aser and of Nephtali, and of the half tribe of Manasses in Basan, thirteen cities.

7 And to the sons of Merari by their kindreds, of the tribes of Ruben and of Gad and of Zabulon, twelve cities.

8 And the children of Israel gave to the Levites the cities and their suburbs, as the Lord commanded by the hand of Moses, giving to every one by lot.

9 Of the tribes of the children of Juda and of Simeon Josue gave cities: ‖ whose names are these, ‖ 1 Par. 6. 2.

10 To the sons of Aaron, of the families of Caath of the race of Levi (for the first lot came out for them)

11 The city of Arbe the father of Enac, which is called Hebron, in the mountain of Juda, and the suburbs thereof round about.

12 ‖ But the fields and the villages thereof he had given to Caleb the son of Jephone for his possession. ‖ Supra 14. 14 1 Par. 6. 56.

13 He gave therefore to the children of Aaron the priest, Hebron a city of refuge, and the suburbs thereof: and Lobna with the suburbs thereof,

14 And Jether and Estemo,

15 And Holon, and Dabir,

16 And Ain, and Jeta, and Bethsames, with their suburbs: nine cities out of the two tribes, as hath been said.

17 And out of the tribe of the children of Benjamin, Gabaon, and Gabae, 18 And Anathoth and Almon, with their ſuburbs : four cities.

19 All the cities together of the children of Aaron the prieſt, were thirteen, with their ſuburbs.

20 And to the reſt of the families of the children of Caath of the race of Levi was given this poſſeſſion.

21 Of the tribe of Ephraim, Sichem one of the cities of refuge, with the ſuburbs thereof in mount Ephraim, and Gazer, 22 And Cibſaim, and Bethhoron, with their ſuburbs, four cities.

23 And of the tribe of Dan, Eltheco and Gabathon,

24 And Aialon and Gethremmon, with their ſuburbs, four cities.

25 And of the half tribe of Manaſſes, Thanac and Gethremmon, with their ſuburbs, two cities.

26 All the cities were ten, with their ſuburbs, which were given to the children of Caath of the inferior degree.

27 To the children of Gerſon alſo of the race of Levi out of the half tribe of Manaſſes, Gaulon in Baſan, one of the cities of refuge, and Boſra, with their ſuburbs, two cities.

28 And of the tribe of Iſſachar, Ceſion, and Dabereth,

29 And Jaramoth, and Engannim, with their ſuburbs, four cities.

30 And of the tribe of Aſer, Maſal and Abdon,

31 And Helcath, and Rohob, with their ſuburbs, four cities.

32 Of the tribe alſo of Nephtali, Cedes in Galilee, one of the cities of refuge : and Hammoth Dor, and Carthan, with their ſuburbs, three cities.

33 All the cities of the families of Gerſon, were thirteen, with their ſuburbs.

34 And to the children of Merari Levites of the inferior degree by their families were given of the tribe of Zabulon, Jecnam and Cartha, 35 And Damna and Naalol, four cities with their ſuburbs.

36 Of the tribe of Ruben beyond the Jordan over-againſt Jericho, Boſor in the wilderneſs, one of the cities of refuge, Miſor and Jaſer and Jethſon and Mephaath, four cities with their ſuburbs.

37 Of the tribe of Gad, Ramoth in Galaad, one of the cities of refuge, and Manaim and Heſebon and Jaſer, four cities with their ſuburbs.

38 All the cities of the children of Merari by their families and kindreds, were twelve.

39 So all the cities of the Levites within the poſſeſſion of the children of Iſrael were forty eight, 40 With their ſuburbs, each diſtributed by the families.

41 And the Lord God gave to Iſrael all the land that he had ſworn to give to their fathers: and they poſſeſſed it, and dwelt in it.

42 And he gave them peace from all nations round about : and none of their enemies durſt ſtand againſt them, but were brought under their dominion.

43 Not ſo much as one word, which he had promiſed, to perform unto them, was made void, but all came to paſs.

CHAP. XXII.

The tribes of Ruben and Gad, and half the tribe of Manaſſes return to their poſſeſſions. They build an altar by the ſide of the Jordan, which alarms the other tribes. An embaſſage is ſent to them, to which they give a ſatisfactory anſwer.

AT the ſame time Joſue called the Rubenites, and the Gadites, and the half tribe of Manaſſes, A. M. 2562. Ante C. 1442.

2 And ſaid to them : You have done all that Moſes the ſervant of the Lord commanded you : you have alſo obeyed me in all things,

3 Neither have you left your brethren this long time, until this preſent day, keeping the commandment of the Lord your God.

4 Therefore as the Lord your God hath given your brethren reſt and peace, as he promiſed : return, and go to your dwellings, and to the land of your poſſeſſion, || which Moſes the ſervant of the Lord gave you beyond the Jordan : || Num. 32. 33. Supra 1. 13. & 13. 8.

5 Yet ſo that you obſerve attentively, and in work fulfil the commandment, and the law which Moſes the ſervant of the Lord commanded you: that you love the Lord your God, and walk in all his ways, and keep all his commandments, and cleave to him, and ſerve him with all your heart, and with all your ſoul.

6 And Joſue bleſſed them, and ſent them away, and they returned to their dwellings.

7 Now to half the tribe of Manaſſes, Moſes

CHAP. XXI. VER. 36. Four cities. There are no more, though there be five names: for Miſor is the ſame city as Boſor, which is to be obſerved in ſome other places, where the number of names exceeds the number of cities.

had given a poſſeſſion in Baſan: and therefore to the half that remained, Joſue gave a lot among the reſt of their brethren beyond the Jordan to the weſt. And when he ſent them away to their dwellings and had bleſſed them,

8 He ſaid to them: With much ſubſtance and riches, you return to your ſettlements, with ſilver and gold, braſs and iron, and variety of raiment: divide the prey of your enemies with your brethren.

9 So the children of Ruben, and the children of Gad, and the half tribe of Manaſſes returned, and parted from the children of Iſrael in Silo, which is in Chanaan, to go into Galaad the land of their poſſeſſion, which they had obtained according to the commandment of the Lord by the hand of Moſes.

10 And when they were come to the banks of the Jordan, in the land of Chanaan, they built an altar immenſely great near the Jordan.

11 And when the children of Iſrael had heard of it, and certain meſſengers had brought them an account that the children of Ruben, and of Gad, and the half tribe of Manaſſes had built an altar in the land of Chanaan, upon the banks of the Jordan, over-againſt the children of Iſrael:

12 They all aſſembled in Silo, to go up and fight againſt them.

13 And in the mean time they ſent to them into the land of Galaad, Phinees the ſon of Eleazar the prieſt,

14 And ten princes with him, one of every tribe.

15 Who came to the children of Ruben, and of Gad, and the half tribe of Manaſſes, into the land of Galaad, and ſaid to them:

16 Thus ſaith all the people of the Lord: What meaneth this tranſgreſſion? Why have you forſaken the Lord the God of Iſrael, building a ſacrilegious altar, and revolting from the worſhip of him?

‖ Num. 25. 3. Deut. 4. 3.

17 Is it a ſmall thing to you ‖ that you ſinned with Beelphegor, and the ſtain of that crime remaineth in us to this day? and many of the people periſhed.

18 And you have forſaken the Lord to-day, and to-morrow his wrath will rage againſt all Iſrael.

19 But if you think the land of your poſſeſſion to be unclean, paſs over to the land wherein is the tabernacle of the Lord, and dwell among us: only depart not from the Lord, and from our ſociety, by building an altar beſide the altar of the Lord our God.

‖ Supra 7. 1.

20 ‖ Did not Achan the ſon of Zare tranſgreſs the commandment of the Lord, and his wrath lay upon all the people of Iſrael? And he was but one man, and would to God he alone had periſhed in his wickedneſs.

21 And the children of Ruben, and of Gad, and of the half tribe of Manaſſes anſwered the princes of the embaſſage of Iſrael:

22 The Lord the moſt mighty God, the Lord the moſt mighty God, he knoweth, and Iſrael alſo ſhall underſtand: If with the deſign of tranſgreſſion we have ſet up this altar, let him not ſave us, but puniſh us immediately:

23 And if we did it with that mind, that we might lay upon it holocauſts, and ſacrifice, and victims of peace-offerings, let him require and judge:

24 And not rather with this thought and deſign, that we ſhould ſay: To-morrow your children will ſay to our children: What have you to do with the Lord the God of Iſrael?

25 The Lord hath put the river Jordan for a border between us and you, O ye children of Ruben, and ye children Gad: and therefore you have no part in the Lord. And by this occaſion your children ſhall turn away our children from the fear of the Lord. We therefore thought it beſt,

26 And ſaid: Let us build us an altar, not for holocauſts, nor to offer victims,

27 But for a teſtimony between us and you, and our poſterity and yours, that we may ſerve the Lord, and that we may have a right to offer both holocauſts, and victims and ſacrifices of peace-offerings: and that your children to-morrow may not ſay to our children: You have no part in the Lord.

28 And if they will ſay ſo, they ſhall anſwer them: Behold the altar of the Lord, which our fathers made, not for holocauſts, nor for ſacrifice, but for a teſtimony between us and you.

29 God keep us from any ſuch wickedneſs that we ſhould revolt from the Lord, and leave off following his ſteps, by building an altar to offer holocauſts, and ſacrifices, and victims, beſide the altar of the Lord our God, which is erected before his tabernacle.

30 And when Phinees the prieſt, and the princes of the embaſſage, who were with him, had heard this, they were ſatisfied: and they admitted moſt willingly the words of the children of Ruben, and Gad, and of the half tribe of Manaſſes.

31 And Phinees the prieſt the ſon of Eleazar ſaid to them: Now we know that the Lord is with us, becauſe you are not guilty of this revolt, and you have delivered the children of Israel from the hand of the Lord.

32 And he returned with the princes from the children of Ruben and Gad, out of the land of Galaad, into the land of Chanaan, to the children of Israel, and brought them word again.

33 And the saying pleased all that heard it. And the children of Israel praised God, and they no longer said that they would go up against them, and fight, and destroy the land of their possession.

34 And the children of Ruben, and the children of Gad called the altar which they had built, Our testimony, that the Lord is God.

CHAP. XXIII.

Josue being old admonisheth the people to keep God's commandments: and to avoid marriages and all society with the gentiles, for fear of being brought to idolatry.

A. M. 2570. Ante C. 1434. AND when a long time was passed, after that the Lord had given peace to Israel, all the nations round about being subdued, and Josue being now old, and far advanced in years:

2 Josue called for all Israel, and for the elders and for the princes, and for the judges, and for the masters, and said to them: I am old, and far advanced in years:

3 And you see all that the Lord your God hath done to all the nations round about, how he himself hath fought for you:

4 And now since he hath divided to you by lot all the land, from the east of the Jordan unto the great sea, and many nations yet remain:

5 The Lord your God will destroy them, and take them away from before your face, and you shall possess the land as he hath promised you.

6 Only take courage, and be careful, to observe all things that are written in the book of the law of Moses: and turn not aside from them neither to the right hand nor to the left:

7 Lest after that you are come in among the gentiles, who will remain among you, you should swear by the name of their gods, and serve them, and adore them:

8 But cleave ye unto the Lord your God: as you have done until this day.

9 And then the Lord God will take away before your eyes nations that are great and very strong, and no man shall be able to resist you.

10 One of you shall chase a thousand men of the enemies: because the Lord your God himself will fight for you, as he hath promised.

11 This only take care of with all diligence, that you love the Lord your God.

12 But if you will embrace the errors of these nations that dwell among you, and make marriages with them, and join friendships:

13 Know ye for a certainty that the Lord your God will not destroy them before your face, but they shall be a pit and a snare in your way, and a stumbling block at your side, and stakes in your eyes, till he take you away and destroy you from off this excellent land, which he hath given you.

14 ‖ Behold this day I am going into the way of all the earth, and you shall know with all your mind that of all the words which the Lord promised to perform for you, not one hath failed. ‖ 3 Kings 23. 2.

15 Therefore as he hath fulfilled in deed, what he promised, and all things prosperous have come: so will he bring upon you all the evils he hath threatened, till he take you away and destroy you from off this excellent land, which he hath given you,

16 When you shall have transgressed the covenant of the Lord your God, which he hath made with you, and shall have served strange gods, and adored them: then shall the indignation of the Lord rise up quickly and speedily against you, and you shall be taken away from this excellent land, which he hath delivered to you.

CHAP. XXIV.

Josue assembleth the people, and reneweth the covenant between them and God. His death and burial.

A. M. 2570. AND Josue gathered together all the tribes of Israel in Sichem, and called for the ancients, and the princes, and the judges, and the masters: and they stood in the sight of the Lord:

2 And he spoke thus to the people: Thus saith the Lord the God of Israel: Your fathers dwelt of old on the other side of the river, ‖ Thare the father of Abraham, and Nachor: and they served strange gods. ‖ Gen. 11 26.

3 ‖ And I took your father Abraham from the borders of Mesopotamia: and brought him into the land of Chanaan: and I multiplied his seed, ‖ Gen. 11 31. † Gen. 21 2.

4 † And gave him Isaac: ‡ and to him again I gave Jacob and Esau. ‖ And I gave to Esau mount Seir for his possession: § but ‡ Gen. 25 26. ‖ Gen. 36 8. § Gen. 4 6.

CHAP. XXIV. VER. 2. Of the river. The Euphrates.

Jacob and his children went down into Egypt.

‡ Exod. 12. 37. † Exod. 14. 9. 6 ‡ And I brought you and your fathers out of Egypt, and you came to the ſea: † and the Egyptians purſued your fathers with chariots and horſemen, as far as the Red ſea.

7 And the children of Iſrael cried to the Lord: and he put darkneſs between you and the Egyptians, and brought the ſea upon them, and covered them. Your eyes ſaw all that I did in Egypt, and you dwelt in the wilderneſs a long time:

‖ Num. 21. 24. 8 And I brought you into the land of the Amorrhite, who dwelt beyond the Jordan. ‖ And when they fought againſt you, I delivered them into your hands, and you poſſeſſed their land, and ſlew them.

† Num. 22. 5. 9 And Balac ſon of Sephor king of Moab, aroſe and fought againſt Iſrael. † And he ſent and called for Balaam ſon of Beor, to curſe you:

‖ Supra 3. 14. & 6. 1. & 11. 3. 11 ‖ And you paſſed over the Jordan, and you came to Jericho. And the men of that city fought againſt you, the Amorrhite, and the Pherezite, and the Chananite, and the Hethite, and the Gergeſite, and the Hevite, and the Jebuſite: and I delivered them into your hands.

‖ Exod. 23. 28. Deut. 7. 20. Supra 11. 20. 12 ‖ And I ſent before you hornets: and I drove them out from their places, the two kings of the Amorrhites, not with thy ſword nor with thy bow.

† 1 Kings 7. 3. Tob. 14. 10. 14 † Now therefore fear the Lord, and ſerve him with a perfect and moſt ſincere heart: and put away the gods which your fathers ſerved in Meſopotamia and in Egypt, and ſerve the Lord.

16 And the people anſwered, and ſaid: God forbid we ſhould leave the Lord, and ſerve ſtrange gods.

17 The Lord our God he brought us, and our fathers out of the land of Egypt, out of the houſe of bondage: and did very great ſigns in our ſight, and preſerved us in all the way by which we journeyed, and among all the people, through whom we paſſed.

18 And he hath caſt out all the nations, the Amorrhite the inhabitant of the land, into which we are come. Therefore we will ſerve the Lord, for he is our God.

19 And Joſue ſaid to the people: You will not be able to ſerve the Lord: for he is a holy God, and mighty and jealous, and will not forgive your wickedneſs and ſins.

20 If you leave the Lord, and ſerve ſtrange gods, he will turn, and will afflict you, and will deſtroy you after all the good he hath done you.

21 And the people ſaid to Joſue: No, it ſhall not be ſo as thou ſayeſt, but we will ſerve the Lord.

22 And Joſue ſaid to the people: You are witneſſes, that you yourſelves have choſen you the Lord to ſerve him. And they anſwered: We are witneſſes.

23 Now therefore, ſaid he, put away ſtrange gods from among you, and incline your hearts to the Lord the God of Iſrael.

24 And the people ſaid to Joſue: We will ſerve the Lord our God, and we will be obedient to his commandments.

25 Joſue therefore on that day made a covenant, and ſet before the people commandments and judgments in Sichem.

26 And he wrote all theſe things in the volume of the law of the Lord: and he took a great ſtone, and ſet it under the oak that was in the ſanctuary of the Lord:

27 And he ſaid to all the people: Behold this ſtone ſhall be a teſtimony unto you, that it hath heard all the words of the Lord, which he hath ſpoken to you: leſt perhaps hereafter you will deny it, and lye to the Lord.

28 And he ſent the people away every one to their own poſſeſſion.

THE BOOK OF JUDGES.

This book is called JUDGES, becauſe it contains the hiſtory of what paſſed under the government of the judges, who ruled Iſrael before they had kings. The writer of it, according to the more general opinion, was the prophet Samuel.

CHAP. I.

The expedition and victory of Juda againſt the Chananites: who are tolerated in many places.

A. M. 2570. Ante C. 1434. AFTER the death of Joſue the children of Iſrael conſulted the Lord, ſaying: Who ſhall go up before us againſt the Chananite, and ſhall be the leader of the war?

2 And the Lord ſaid? Juda ſhall go up: behold I have delivered the land into his hands.

3 And Juda ſaid to Simeon his brother: Come up with me into my lot, and fight againſt the Chananite, that I alſo may go along with thee into thy lot. And Simeon went with him.

4 And Juda went up, and the Lord delivered the Chananite, and the Pherezite into their hands: and they ſlew of them in Bezec ten thouſand men.

5 And they found Adonibezec in Bezec, and fought againſt him, and they defeated the Chananite, and the Pherezite.

6 And Adonibezec fled: and they purſued after him and took him, and cut off his fingers ahd toes.

7 And Adonibezec ſaid: Seventy kings having their fingers and toes cut off, gathered up the leavings of the meat under my table: as I have done, ſo hath God requited me.

And they brought him to Jerusalem, and he died there.

8 And the children of Juda besieging Jerusalem, took it, and put it to the sword, and set the whole city on fire.

9 And afterwards they went down and fought against the Chananite, who dwelt in the mountains, and in the south, and in the plains.

‖ Jos. 15. 14. 10 ‖ And Juda going forward against the Chananite, that dwelt in Hebron (the name whereof was in former times Cariatharbe) slew Sesai, and Ahiman, and Tholmai:

11 And departing from thence he went to the inhabitants of Dabir, the ancient name of which was Cariath-sepher, that is the city of letters.

12 And Caleb said: He that shall take Cariath-sepher, and lay it waste, to him will I give my daughter Axa to wife.

13 And Othoniel the son of Cenez, the younger brother of Caleb having taken it, he gave him Axa his daughter to wife.

14 And as she was going on her way her husband admonished her to ask a field of her father. And as she sighed sitting on her ass, Caleb said to her: What aileth thee?

15 But she answered: Give me a blessing, for thou hast given me a dry land: give me also a watery land. So Caleb gave her the upper and the nether watery ground.

16 And the children of the Cinite the kinsman of Moses went up from the city of palms, with the children of Juda into the wilderness of his lot, which is at the south side of Arad, and they dwelt with him.

17 And Juda went with Simeon his brother, and they together defeated the Chananites that dwelt in Sephaath, and slew them. And the name of the city was called, Horma, that is, Anathema.

18 And Juda took Gaza with its confines, and Ascalon, and Accaron with their confines.

19 And the Lord was with Juda, and he possessed the hill country: but was not able to destroy the inhabitants of the valley, because they had many chariots armed with scythes.

20 And they gave Hebron to Caleb, ‖ as Moses had said, who destroyed out of it the three sons of Enac. ‖ Num. 14. 24. Jos. 15. 14.

21 But the sons of Benjamin did not destroy the Jebusites that inhabited Jerusalem: and the Jebusite hath dwelt with the sons of Benjamin in Jerusalem until this present day.

22 The house of Joseph also went up against Bethel, and the Lord was with them.

23 For when they were besieging the city, which before was called Luza,

24 They saw a man coming out of the city, and they said to him: Shew us the entrance into the city, and we will shew thee mercy.

25 And when he had shewn them, they smote the city with the edge of the sword: but that man and all his kindred they let go:

26 Who being sent away, went into the land of Hethim, and built there a city, and called it Luza: which is so called until this day.

27 Manasses also did not destroy Bethsan, and Thanac with their villages, nor the inhabitants of Dor, and Jeblaam, and Mageddo with their villages. And the Chananite began to dwell with them.

28 But after Israel was grown strong, he made them tributaries, and would not destroy them.

29 Ephraim also did not slay the Chananite that dwelt in Gazer, but dwelt with him.

30 Zabulon destroyed not the inhabitants of Cetron, and Naalol: but the Chananite dwelt among them, and became their tributary.

31 Aser also destroyed not the inhabitants of Accho, and of Sidon, of Ahalab, and of Achazib, and of Helba, and of Aphec, and of Rohob:

CHAP. I. VER. 8. Jerusalem. This city was divided into two; one part was called Jebus, the other Salem: the one was in the tribe of Juda, the other in the tribe of Benjamin. After it was taken and burnt by the men of Juda, it was quickly rebuilt again by the Jebusites, as we may gather from verse 21; and continued in their possession till it was taken by king David.

VER. 10. Hebron. This expedition against Hebron, &c. is the same as is related Josue xv. 24. It is here repeated, to give the reader at once a short sketch of all the atchievements of the tribe of Juda against the Chananites.

VER. 11. The city of letters. Perhaps so called, from some famous school, or library kept there.

VER. 16. The Cinite. Jethro the father-in-law of Moses was called Cinæus, or the Cinite: and his children who came along with the children of Israel settled themselves among them in the land of Chanaan, embracing their worship and religion. From these the Rechabites sprung, of whom see Jerem. xxxv.

Ibid. The city of palms. Jericho so called from the abundance of palm-trees.

VER. 18. Gaza, &c. These were three of the principal cities of the Philistines, famous both in sacred and prophane history. They were taken at this time by the Israelites: but as they took no care to put garrisons in them, the Philistines soon recovered them again.

VER. 19. Was not able, &c. Through a cowardly fear of their chariots armed with hooks and scythes, and for want of confidence in God.

32 And he dwelt in the midſt of the Chananites the inhabitants of that land, and did not ſlay them.

33 Nephtali alſo deſtroyed not the inhabitants of Bethſames, and of Bethanath: and he dwelt in the midſt of the Chananites the inhabitants of the land, and the Bethſamites and Bethanites were tributaries to him.

34 And the Amorrhite ſtraitened the children of Dan in the mountain, and gave them not place to go down to the plain:

35 And he dwelt in the mountain Hares, that is, of potſherds, in Aialon and Salebim. And the hand of the houſe of Joſeph was heavy upon him, and he became tributary to him.

36 And the border of the Amorrhite was from the aſcent of the ſcorpion, the rock, and the higher places.

CHAP. II.

An Angel reproveth Iſrael. They weep for their ſins. After the death of Joſue, they often fall, and repenting are delivered from their afflictions, but ſtill fall worſe and worſe.

AND an Angel of the Lord went up from Galgal to the place of weepers, and ſaid: I made you go out of Egypt, and have brought you into the land for which I ſwore to your fathers: and I promiſed that I would not make void my covenant with you for ever:

2 On condition that you ſhould not make a league with the inhabitants of this land, but ſhould throw down their altars: and you would not hear my voice: why have you done this?

3 Wherefore I would not deſtroy them from before your face: that you may have enemies, and their gods may be your ruin.

4 And when the Angel of the Lord ſpoke theſe words to all the children of Iſrael: they lifted up their voice, and wept.

5 And the name of that place was called, the place of weepers, or of tears: and there they offered ſacrifices to the Lord.

‖ Joſue 24. 28. 6 ‖ And Joſue ſent away the people, and the children of Iſrael went every one to his own poſſeſſion to hold it:

7 And they ſerved the Lord all his days, and the days of the ancients, that lived along time after him, and who knew all the works of the Lord, which he had done for Iſrael.

8 And Joſue the ſon of Nun, the ſervant of the Lord, died, being a hundred and ten years old,

9 And they buried him in the borders of his poſſeſſion in Thamnathſare in mount Ephraim, on the north ſide of mount Gaas.

10 And all that generation was gathered to their fathers: and there aroſe others that knew not the Lord, and the works which he had done for Iſrael.

11 And the children of Iſrael did evil in the ſight of the Lord, and they ſerved Baalim.

12 And they left the Lord the God of their fathers, who had brought them out of the land of Egypt: and they followed ſtrange gods, and the gods of the people that dwelt round about them, and they adored them: and they provoked the Lord to anger.

13 Forſaking him, and ſerving Baal and Aſtaroth.

14 And the Lord being angry againſt Iſrael, delivered them into the hands of plunderers: who took them and ſold them to their enemies, that dwelt round about: neither could they ſtand againſt their enemies:

15 But whitherſoever they meant to go, the hand of the Lord was upon them, as he had ſaid, and as he had ſworn to them: and they were greatly diſtreſſed.

16 And the Lord raiſed up judges, to deliver them from the hands of thoſe that oppreſſed them: but they would not hearken to them,

17 Committing fornication with ſtrange gods, and adoring them. They quickly forſook the way, in which their fathers had walked: and hearing the commandments of the Lord, they did all things contrary.

18 And when the Lord raiſed them up judges, in their days he was moved to mercy, and heard the groanings of the afflicted, and delivered them from the ſlaughter of the oppreſſors.

19 But after the judge was dead, they returned, and did much worſe things than their fathers had done, following ſtrange gods, ſerving them, and adoring them. They

CHAP. II. VER. 1. An Angel. Taking the ſhape of a man.

VER. 6. And Joſue, &c. This is here inſerted out of Joſue xxiv. by way of recapitulation of what had happened before, and by way of an introduction to that which follows.

VER. 12. They followed ſtrange gods. What is here ſaid of the children of Iſrael, as to their falling ſo often into idolatry, is to be underſtood of a great part of them: but not ſo univerſally, as if the true worſhip of God was ever quite aboliſhed among them: for the ſucceſſion of the true church and religion was kept up all this time by the prieſts and Levites, at leaſt in the houſe of God in Silo.

left not their own inventions, and the ſtubborn way, by which they were accuſtomed to walk.

20 And the wrath of the Lord was kindled againſt Iſrael, and he ſaid: Behold this nation hath made void my covenant, which I had made with their fathers, and hath deſpiſed to hearken to my voice:

21 I alſo will not deſtroy the nations which Joſue left, when he died:

22 That through them I may try Iſrael, whether they will keep the way of the Lord, and walk in it, as their fathers kept it, or no.

23 The Lord therefore left all theſe nations, and would not quickly deſtroy them, neither did he deliver them into the hands of Joſue.

CHAP. III.

The people falling into idolatry are oppreſſed by their enemies; but repenting are delivered by Othoniel, Aod and Samgar.

THESE are the nations which the Lord left, that by them he might inſtruct Iſrael, and all that had not known the wars of the Chananites:

2 That afterwards their children might learn to fight with their enemies, and to be trained up to war:

3 The five princes of the Philiſtines, and all the Chananites, and the Sidonians, and the Hevites that dwelt in mount Libanus, from mount Baal Hermon to the entering into Emath.

4 And he left them, that he might try Iſrael by them, whether they would hear the commandments of the Lord, which he had commanded their fathers by the hand of Moſes, or not.

5 So the children of Iſrael dwelt in the midſt of the Chananite, and the Hethite, and the Amorrhite, and the Pherezite, and the Hevite, and the Jebuſite:

6 And they took their daughters to wives, and they gave their own daughters to their ſons, and they ſerved their gods.

7 And they did evil in the ſight of the Lord, and they forgot their God, and ſerved Baalim and Aſtaroth.

8 And the Lord being angry with Iſrael, delivered them into the hands of Chuſan Raſathaim king of Meſopotamia, and they ſerved him eight years.

9 And they cried to the Lord, who raiſed them up a ſaviour, and delivered them, to wit, Othoniel the ſon of Cenez, the younger brother of Caleb:

10 And the Spirit of the Lord was in him, and he judged Iſrael. And he went out to fight, and the Lord delivered Chuſan Rathaim king of Syria, and he overthrew him:

11 And the land reſted forty years, and Othoniel the ſon of Cenez died.

12 And the children of Iſrael did evil again in the ſight of the Lord: who ſtrengthened againſt them Eglon king of Moab: becauſe they did evil in his ſight.

13 And he joined to him the children of Ammon, and Amalec: and he went and overthrew Iſrael, and poſſeſſed the city of palm-trees.

14 And the children of Iſrael ſerved Eglon king of Moab eighteen years:

15 And afterwards they cried to the Lord, who raiſed them up a ſaviour called Aod, the ſon of Gera, the ſon of Jemini, who uſed the left hand as well as the right. And the children of Iſrael ſent preſents to Eglon king of Moab by him.

16 And he made himſelf a two-edged ſword, with a haft in the midſt of the length of the palm of the hand, and was girded therewith under his garment on the right thigh.

17 And he preſented the gifts to Eglon king of Moab. Now Eglon was exceeding fat.

18 And when he had preſented the gifts unto him, he followed his companions that came along with him.

19 Then returning from Galgal, where the idols were, he ſaid to the king: I have a ſecret meſſage to thee, O king. And he commanded ſilence: and all being gone out that were about him, 20 Aod went in to him: now he was ſitting in a ſummer parlour alone, and he ſaid: I have a word from God to thee. And he forthwith roſe up from his throne.

21 And Aod put forth his left hand, and took the dagger from his right thigh, and thruſt it into his belly,

22 With ſuch force that the haft went in after the blade into the wound, and was cloſed up with the abundance of fat. So that he did not draw out the dagger, but left it in the body as he had ſtruck it in. And forthwith by the ſecret parts of nature the excrements of the belly came out.

CHAP. III. VER. 8. Meſopotamia. In Hebrew Aramnaharaim. Syria of the two rivers; ſo called becauſe it lies between the Euphrates and the Tigris. It is abſolutely called Syria, ver. 10.

VER. 20. A word from God, &c. What Aod, who was judge and chief magiſtrate of Iſrael, did on this occaſion, was by a ſpecial inſpiration of God: but ſuch things are not to be imitated by private men.

23 But Aod carefully ſhutting the doors of the parlour, and locking them,

24 Went out by a poſtern door. And the king's ſervants going in, ſaw the doors of the parlour ſhut, and they ſaid: Perhaps he is eaſing nature in his ſummer parlour.

25 And waiting a long time till they were aſhamed, and ſeeing that no man opened the door, they took a key: and opening they found their lord lying dead on the ground.

26 But Aod, while they were in confuſion, eſcaped, and paſſed by the place of the idols, from whence he had returned. And he came to Seirath:

27 And forthwith he ſounded the trumpet in mount Ephraim: and the children of Iſrael went down with him, he himſelf going in the front.

28 And he ſaid to them: Follow me: for the Lord hath delivered our enemies the Moabites into our hands. And they went down after him, and ſeized upon the fords of the Jordan, which are in the way to Moab: and they ſuffered no man to paſs over:

29 But they ſlew of the Moabites at that time, about ten thouſand, all ſtrong and valiant men: none of them could eſcape.

30 And Moab was humbled that day under the hand of Iſrael: and the land reſted eighty years.

31 After him was Samgar the ſon of Anath, who ſlew of the Philiſtines ſix hundred men with a plough-ſhare: and he alſo defended Iſrael.

CHAP. IV.

Debbora and Barac deliver Iſrael from Jabin and Siſara. Jahel killeth Siſara.

AND the children of Iſrael again did evil in the ſight of the Lord after the death of Aod,

‖ 1 Kings 12. 9. 2 ‖ And the Lord delivered them up into the hands of Jabin king of Chanaan, who reigned in Aſor: and he had a general of his army named Siſara, and he dwelt in Haroſeth of the gentiles.

3 And the children of Iſrael cried to the Lord: for he had nine hundred chariots ſet with ſcythes, and for twenty years had grievouſly oppreſſed them.

4 And there was at that time Debbora a propheteſs the wife of Lapidoth, who judged the people.

5 And ſhe ſat under a palm-tree, which was called by her name, between Rama and Bethel in mount Ephraim: and the children of Iſrael came up to her for all judgment.

6 And ſhe ſent and called Barac the ſon of Abinoem out of Cedes in Nephtali: and ſhe ſaid to him: The Lord God of Iſrael hath commanded thee: Go, and lead an army to mount Thabor, and thou ſhalt take with thee ten thouſand fighting men of the children of Nephtali, and of the children of Zabulon:

7 And I will bring unto thee in the place of the torrent Ciſon, Siſara the general of Jabin's army, and his chariots, and all his multitude, and will deliver them into thy hand.

8 And Barac ſaid to her: If thou wilt come with me, I will go: if thou wilt not come with me, I will not go.

9 She ſaid to him: I will go indeed with thee, but at this time the victory ſhall not be attributed to thee, becauſe Siſara ſhall be delivered into the hand of a woman. Debbora therefore aroſe, and went with Barac to Cedes.

10 And he called unto him Zabulon and Nephtali, and went up with ten thouſand fighting men, having Debbora in his company.

11 Now Haber the Cinite had ſome time before departed from the reſt of the Cinites his brethren the ſons of Hobab, the kinſman of Moſes: and had pitched his tents unto the valley which is called Sennim, and was near Cedes.

12 And it was told Siſara, that Barac the ſon of Abinoem was gone up to mount Thabor:

13 And he gathered together his nine hundred chariots armed with ſcythes, and all his army from Haroſeth of the gentiles to the torrent Ciſon.

14 And Debbora ſaid to Barac: Ariſe, for this is the day wherein the Lord hath delivered Siſara into thy hands: behold he is thy leader. And Barac went down from mount Thabor, and ten thouſand fighting men with him.

15 ‖ And the Lord ſtruck a terror into Siſara, and all his chariots, and all his multitude, with the edge of the ſword, at the ſight of Barac, inſomuch, that Siſara leaping down from off his chariot, fled away on foot, ‖ Pſ. 82. 10.

16 And Barac purſued after the fleeing chariots, and the army unto Haroſeth of the gentiles, and all the multitude of the enemies was utterly deſtroyed.

17 But Siſara fleeing came to the tent of Jahel the wife of Haber the Cinite, for there was peace between Jabin the king of Aſor, and the houſe of Haber the Cinite.

18 And Jahel went forth to meet Siſara, and ſaid to him: Come in to me, my lord, come in, fear not. He went into her tent, and being covered by her with a cloak,

19 Said to her: Give me, I beſeech thee, a little water, for I am very thirſty. She opened a bottle of milk, and gave him to drink, and covered him.

20 And Siſara ſaid to her: Stand before the door of the tent, and when any ſhall come and enquire of thee, ſaying: Is there any man here? thou ſhalt ſay: There is none.

21 So Jahel Haber's wife took a nail of the tent, and taking alſo a hammer: and going in ſoftly, and with ſilence, ſhe put the nail upon the temples of his head, and ſtriking it with the hammer, drove it through his brain faſt into the ground: and ſo paſſing from deep ſleep to death, he fainted away and died.

22 And behold Barac came purſuing after Siſara: and Jahel went out to meet him, and ſaid to him: Come, and I will ſhew thee the man whom thou ſeekeſt. And when he came into her tent, he ſaw Siſara lying dead, and the nail faſtened in his temples.

23 So God that day humbled Jabin the king of Chanaan before the children of Iſrael:

24 Who grew daily ſtronger, and with a mighty hand overpowered Jabin king of Chanaan, till they quite deſtroyed him.

CHAP. V.

The canticle of Debbora and Barac after their victory.

IN that day Debbora and Barac ſon of Abinoem ſung, and ſaid:

2 O you of Iſrael, that have willingly offered your lives to danger, bleſs the Lord.

3 Hear O ye kings, give ear ye princes: It is I, it is I, that will ſing to the Lord, I will ſing to the Lord the God of Iſrael.

4 O Lord, when thou wenteſt out of Seir, and paſſedſt by the regions of Edom, the earth trembled, and the heavens dropped water.

5 The mountains melted before the face of the Lord, and Sinai before the face of the Lord the God of Iſrael.

6 In the days of Samgar the ſon of Anath, in the days of Jahel the paths reſted: and they that went by them, walked through bye-ways.

7 The valiant men ceaſed, and reſted in Iſrael: until Debbora aroſe, a mother aroſe in Iſrael.

8 The Lord choſe new wars, and he himſelf overthrew the gates of the enemies: a ſhield and ſpear was not ſeen among forty thouſand of Iſrael.

9 My heart loveth the princes of Iſrael: O you that of your own good will offered yourſelves to danger, bleſs the Lord.

10 Speak, you that ride upon fair aſſes, and you that ſit in judgment, and walk in the way.

11 Where the chariots were daſhed together, and the army of the enemies was choaked, there let the juſtices of the Lord be rehearſed, and his clemency towards the brave men of Iſrael: then the people of the Lord went down to the gates, and obtained the ſovereignty.

12 Ariſe, ariſe O Debbora, ariſe, ariſe, and utter a canticle. Ariſe, Barac, and take hold of thy captives, O ſon of Abinoem.

13 The remnants of the people are ſaved, the Lord hath fought among the valiant ones.

14 Out of Ephraim he deſtroyed them into Amalec, and after him out of Benjamin into thy people, O Amalec: Out of Machir there came down princes, and out of Zabulon they that led the army to fight.

15 The captains of Iſſachar were with Debbora, and followed the ſteps of Barac, who expoſed himſelf to danger, as one going headlong, and into a pit. Ruben being divided againſt himſelf, there was found a ſtrife of courageous men.

16 Why dwelleſt thou between two borders, that thou mayeſt hear the bleatings of the flocks? Ruben being divided againſt himſelf, there was found a ſtrife of courageous men.

17 Galaad reſted beyond the Jordan, and Dan applied himſelf to ſhips: Aſer dwelt on the ſea ſhore, and abode in the havens.

18 But Zabulon and Nephtali offered their lives to death in the region of Merome.

19 The kings came and fought, the kings of Chanaan fought in Thanach by the waters of Mageddo, and yet they took no ſpoils.

20 War from heaven was made againſt

CHAP. V. VER. 6. The paths reſted. The ways to the ſanctuary of God were unfrequented: and men walked in the bye-ways of error and ſin.

VER. 14. Out of Ephraim, &c. The enemies ſtraggling in their flight were deſtroyed, as they were running through the land of Ephraim, and of Benjamin, which lies after, that is, beyond Ephraim: and ſo on to the very confines of Amalec. Or, it alludes to former victories of the people of God, particularly that which was freſheſt in memory, when the men of Ephraim and Benjamin, with Aod at their head, overthrew their enemies the Moabites with the Amalecites their allies. VER. 15. Divided againſt himſelf, &c. By this it ſeems that the valiant men of the tribe of Ruben were divided in their ſentiments, with relation to this war; which diviſion kept them at home within their own borders, to hear the bleating of their flocks.

them, the ſtars remaining in their order and courſes fought againſt Siſara.

21 The torrent of Ciſon dragged their carcaſes, the torrent of Cadumim, the torrent of Ciſon: tread thou, my ſoul, upon the ſtrong ones.

22 The hoofs of the horſes were broken whilſt the ſtouteſt of the enemies fled amain, and fell headlong down.

23 Curſe ye the land of Meroz, ſaid the Angel of the Lord: curſe the inhabitants thereof, becauſe they came not to the help of the Lord, to help his moſt valiant men.

24 Bleſſed among women be Jahel the wife of Haber the Cinite, and bleſſed be ſhe in her tent.

25 He aſked her water and ſhe gave him milk, and offered him butter in a diſh fit for princes.

26 She put her left hand to the nail, and her right hand to the workman's hammer, and ſhe ſtruck Siſara, ſeeking in his head a place for the wound, and ſtrongly piercing through his temples.

27 At her feet he fell: he fainted, and he died: he rolled before her feet, and he lay lifeleſs and wretched.

28 His mother looked out at a window, and howled: and ſhe ſpoke from the dining-room: Why is his chariot ſo long in coming back? Why are the feet of his horſes ſo ſlow?

29 One that was wiſer than the reſt of his wives, returned this anſwer to her mother-in-law:

30 Perhaps he is now dividing the ſpoils, and the faireſt of the women is choſen out for him: garments of divers colours are given to Siſara for his prey, and furniture of different kinds is heaped together to adorn the necks.

31 So let all thy enemies periſh, O Lord: but let them that love thee ſhine, as the ſun ſhineth in his riſing.

CHAP. VI.

The people, for their ſins, are oppreſſed by the Madianites. Gedeon is called to deliver them.

AND the children of Iſrael again did evil in the ſight of the Lord: and he delivered them into the hand of Madian ſeven years,

2 And they were grievouſly oppreſſed by them. And they made themſelves dens and caves in the mountains, and ſtrong holds to reſiſt.

3 And when Iſrael had ſown, Madian and Amalec, and the reſt of the eaſtern nations came up:

4 And pitching their tents among them waſted all things as they were in the blade even to the entrance of Gaza: and they left nothing at all in Iſrael for ſuſtenance of life, nor ſheep, nor oxen, nor aſſes.

5 For they and all their flocks came with their tents, and like locuſts filled all places, an innumerable multitude of men, and of camels, waſting whatſoever they touched.

6 And Iſrael was humbled exceedingly in the ſight of Madian.

7 And he cried to the Lord deſiring help againſt the Madianites.

8 And he ſent unto them a prophet, and he ſpoke: Thus ſaith the Lord the God of Iſrael: I made you to come up out of Egypt, and brought you out of the houſe of bondage,

9 And delivered you out of the hands of the Egyptians, and of all the enemies that afflicted you: and I caſt them out at your coming in, and gave you their land.

10 And I ſaid: I am the Lord your God, fear not the gods of the Amorrhites, in whoſe land you dwell. And you would not hear my voice.

11 And an Angel of the Lord came, and ſat under an oak, that was in Ephra, and belonged to Joas the father of the family of Ezri. And when Gedeon his ſon was threſhing and cleanſing wheat by the wine-preſs, to flee from Madian, A. M. 2759. Ante C. 1245.

12 The Angel of the Lord appeared to him, and ſaid: The Lord is with thee, O moſt valiant of men.

13 And Gedeon ſaid to him: I beſeech thee, my lord, if the Lord be with us, why have theſe evils fallen upon us? Where are his miracles, which our fathers have told us of, ſaying: The Lord brought us out of Egypt? but now the Lord hath forſaken us, and delivered us into the hand of Madian.

14 And the Lord looked upon him, and ſaid: ‖ Go in this thy ſtrength, and thou ſhalt deliver Iſrael out of the hand of Madian: know that I have ſent thee. ‖ 1 Kings 12. 11.

VER. 23. Meroz. Where this land of Meroz was, which is here laid under a curſe, we cannot find: nor is there mention of it any where elſe in holy writ. In the ſpiritual ſenſe they are curſed who refuſe to aſſiſt the people of God in their warfare againſt their ſpiritual enemies.

15 He answered and said: I beseech thee, my lord, wherewith shall I deliver Israel? Behold my family is the meanest in Manasses, and I am the least in my father's house.

16 And the Lord said to him: I will be with thee: and thou shalt cut off Madian as one man.

17 And he said: If I have found grace before thee, give me a sign that it is thou that speakest to me,

18 And depart not hence, till I return to thee, and bring a sacrifice, and offer it to thee. And he answered: I will wait thy coming.

19 So Gedeon went in, and boiled a kid, and made unleavened loaves of a measure of flour: and putting the flesh in a basket, and the broth of the flesh into a pot, he carried all under the oak, and presented to him.

20 And the Angel of the Lord said to him: Take the flesh and the unleavened loaves, and lay them upon that rock, and pour out the broth thereon. And when he had done so,

21 The Angel of the Lord put forth the tip of the rod, which he held in his hand, and touched the flesh and the unleavened loaves: and there arose a fire from the rock, and consumed the flesh and the unleavened loaves: and the Angel of the Lord vanished out of his sight.

22 And Gedeon seeing that it was the Angel of the Lord, said: Alas, my Lord God: for I have seen the Angel of the Lord face to face.

23 And the Lord said to him: Peace be with thee: fear not, thou shalt not die.

24 And Gedeon built there an altar to the Lord, and called it the Lord's peace, until this present day. And when he was yet in Ephra, which is of the family of Ezri,

25 That night the Lord said to him: Take a bullock of thy father's, and another bullock of seven years, and thou shalt destroy the altar of Baal, which is thy father's: and cut down the grove that is about the altar:

26 And thou shalt build an altar to the Lord thy God in the top of this rock, whereupon thou didst lay the sacrifice before: and thou shalt take the second bullock, and shalt offer a holocaust upon a pile of the wood, which thou shalt cut down out of the grove.

27 Then Gedeon taking ten men of his servants, did as the Lord had commanded him. But fearing his father's house, and the men of that city, he would not do it by day, but did all by night.

28 And when the men of that town were risen in the morning, they saw the altar of Baal destroyed, and the grove cut down, and the second bullock laid upon the altar, which then was built.

29 And they said one to another: Who hath done this? And when they inquired for the author of the fact, it was said: Gedeon the son of Joas did all this.

30 And they said to Joas: Bring out thy son hither, that he may die: because he hath destroyed the altar of Baal, and hath cut down his grove.

31 He answered them: Are you the avengers of Baal, that you fight for him? he that is his adversary, let him die before to-morrow light appear: if he be a god, let him revenge himself on him that hath cast down his altar.

32 From that day Gedeon was called Jerobaal, because Joas had said: Let Baal revenge himself on him that hath cast down his altar.

33 Now all Madian, and Amalec, and the eastern people were gathered together, and passing over the Jordan, camped in the valley of Jezrael.

34 But the Spirit of the Lord came upon Gedeon, and he sounded the trumpet and called together the house of Abiezer, to follow him.

35 And he sent messengers into all Manasses, and they also followed him: and other messengers into Aser and Zabulon and Nephtali, and they came to meet him.

36 And Gedeon said to God: If thou wilt save Israel by my hand, as thou hast said,

37 I will put this fleece of wool on the floor: if there be dew in the fleece only, and it be dry on all the ground beside, I shall know that by my hand, as thou hast said, thou wilt deliver Israel.

38 And it was so. And rising before day wringing the fleece, he filled a vessel with the dew.

39 And he said again to God: Let not thy wrath be kindled against me if I try once more, seeking a sign in the fleece. I pray that the fleece only may be dry, and all the ground wet with dew.

40 And God did that night as he had requested: and it was dry on the fleece only, and there was dew on all the ground.

CHAP. VII.

Gedeon with three hundred men, by ſtratagem defeats the Madianites.

A. M. 2759. THEN Jerobaal, who is the ſame as Gedeon, riſing up early and all the people with him, came to the fountain that is called Harad. Now the camp of Madian was in the valley on the north ſide of the high hill.

2 And the Lord ſaid to Gedeon: The people that are with thee are many, and Madian ſhall not be delivered into their hands: leſt Iſrael ſhould glory againſt me, and ſay: I was delivered by my own ſtrength.

3 Speak to the people, and proclaim in the hearing of all, ‖ Whoſoever is fearful and timorous let him return. So two and twenty thouſand men went away from mount Galaad and returned home, and only ten thouſand remained.

‖ Deut. 20. 8. 1 Mac. 3. 56.

4 And the Lord ſaid to Gedeon: The people are ſtill too many, bring them to the waters, and there I will try them: and of whom I ſhall ſay to thee, This ſhall go with thee, let him go: whom I ſhall forbid to go, let him return.

5 And when the people were come down to the waters, the Lord ſaid to Gedeon: They that ſhall lap the water with their tongues, as dogs are wont to lap, thou ſhalt ſet apart by themſelves: but they that ſhall drink bowing down their knees, ſhall be on the other ſide.

6 And the number of them that had lapped water, caſting it with the hand to their mouth, was three hundred men: and all the reſt of the multitude had drunk kneeling.

7 And the Lord ſaid to Gedeon: By the three hundred men, that lapped water, I will ſave you, and deliver Madian into thy hand: but let all the reſt of the people return to their place.

8 So taking victuals and trumpets according to their number, he ordered all the reſt of the multitude to depart to their tents: and he with the three hundred gave himſelf to the battle. Now the camp of Madian was beneath him in the valley.

9 The ſame night the Lord ſaid to him: Ariſe, and go down into the camp: becauſe I have delivered them into thy hand.

10 But if thou be afraid to go alone, let Phara thy ſervant go down with thee.

11 And when thou ſhalt hear what they are ſaying, then ſhall thy hands be ſtrengthened, and thou ſhalt go down more ſecure to the enemies camp. And he went down with Phara his ſervant into part of the camp, where was the watch of men in arms.

12 But Madian and Amalec, and all the eaſtern people lay ſcattered in the valley, as a multitude of locuſts: their camels alſo were innumerable, as the ſand that lieth on the ſea ſhore.

13 And when Gedeon was come, one told his neighbour a dream: and in this manner related what he had ſeen: I dreamt a dream and it ſeemed to me as if a hearth-cake of barley-bread rolled and came down into the camp of Madian: and when it was come to a tent it ſtruck it, and beat it down flat to the ground.

14 He to whom he ſpoke, anſwered: This is nothing elſe but the ſword of Gedeon the ſon of Joas a man of Iſrael. For the Lord hath delivered Madian, and all their camp into his hand.

15 And when Gedeon had heard the dream, and the interpretation thereof, he adored: and returned to the camp of Iſrael, and ſaid: Ariſe, for the Lord hath delivered the camp of Madian into our hands.

16 And he divided the three hundred men into three parts, and gave them trumpets in their hands, and empty pitchers, and lamps within the pitchers.

17 And he ſaid to them: What you ſhall ſee me do, do you the ſame: I will go into one part of the camp, and do you as I ſhall do.

18 When the trumpet ſhall ſound in my hand, do you alſo blow the trumpets on every ſide of the camp.

19 And Gedeon, and the three hundred men that were with him, went into part of the camp, at the beginning of the midnight watch, and the watchmen being alarmed, they began to ſound their trumpets, and to clap the pitchers one againſt another.

CHAP. VII. VER. 2. Leſt Iſrael, &c. By this we ſee that God will not chooſe for his inſtruments in great atchievements, which depend purely on his grace, ſuch ...s, through pride and ſelf-conceit, will take the glory to themſelves.

VER. 7. That lapped water. Theſe were preferred that took the water up in their hands, and ſo lapped it, before them who laid themſelves quite down to the waters to drink: which argued a more eager and ſenſual diſpoſition.

VER. 13. A dream. Obſervation of dreams is commonly ſuperſtitious, and as ſuch is condemned in the word of God: but in ſome extraordinary caſes, as we here ſee, God is pleaſed by dreams to foretell what he is about to do.

VER. 19. Their trumpets, &c. In a myſtical ſenſe,

20 And when they ſounded their trumpets in three places round about the camp, and had broken their pitchers, they held their lamps in their left hands, and with their right hands the trumpets which they blew, and they cried out: The ſword of the Lord and of Gedeon:

21 Standing every man in his place round about the enemies camp. So all the camp was troubled, and crying out and howling they fled away.

22 And the three hundred men nevertheleſs perſiſted ſounding the trumpets. ‖ And the Lord ſent the ſword into all the camp, and they killed one another,

‖ Pſ. 82 10.

23 Fleeing as far as Bethſetta, and the border of Abelmehula in Tebbath. But the men of Iſrael ſhouting from Nephtali and Aſer, and from all Manaſſes purſued after Madian.

24 And Gedeon ſent meſſengers into all mount Ephraim, ſaying: Come down to meet Madian, and take the waters before them to Bethbera and the Jordan. And all Ephraim ſhouted, and took the waters before them and the Jordan as far as Bethbera.

‖ Pſ. 82. 12. Iſai. 10. 26.

25 ‖ And having taken two men of Madian, Oreb, and Zeb: Oreb they ſlew in the rock of Oreb, and Zeb in the wine-preſs of Zeb. And they purſued Madian, carrying the heads of Oreb and Zeb to Gedeon beyond the waters of the Jordan.

CHAP. VIII.

Gedeon appeaſeth the Ephraimites. Taketh Zebee and Salmana. Deſtroyeth Soccoth and Phanuel. Refuſeth to be king. Maketh an ephod of the gold of the prey, and dyeth in a good old age. The people return to idolatry.

A. M. 2759. AND the men of Ephraim ſaid to him: What is this that thou meaneſt to do, that thou wouldſt not call us when thou wenteſt to fight againſt Madian? and they chid him ſharply and almoſt offered violence.

2 And he anſwered them: What could I have done like to that which you have done? Is not one bunch of grapes of Ephraim better than the vintages of Abiezer?

3 The Lord hath delivered into your hands the princes of Madian, Oreb and Zeb: what could I have done like to what you have done? And when he had ſaid this, their ſpirit was appeaſed, with which they ſwelled againſt him.

4 And when Gedeon was come to the Jordan, he paſſed over it with the three hundred men, that were with him: who were ſo weary that they could not purſue after them that fled.

5 And he ſaid to the men of Soccoth: Give, I beſeech you, bread to the people that is with me, for they are faint: that we may purſue Zebee, and Salmana the kings of Madian.

6 The princes of Soccoth anſwered: Peradventure the palms of the hands of Zebee and Salmana are in thy hand, and therefore thou demandeſt that we ſhould give bread to thy army.

7 And he ſaid to them: When the Lord therefore ſhall have delivered Zebee and Salmana into my hands, I will threſh your fleſh with the thorns and briers of the deſert.

8 And going up from thence, he came to Phanuel: and he ſpoke the like things to the men of that place. And they alſo anſwered him, as the men of Soccoth had anſwered.

9 He ſaid therefore to them alſo: When I ſhall return a conqueror in peace, I will deſtroy this tower.

10 But Zebee and Salmana were reſting with all their army. For fifteen thouſand men were left of all the troops of the eaſtern people, and one hundred and twenty thouſand warriors that drew the ſword, were ſlain.

11 ‖ And Gedeon went up by the way of them that dwelt in tents, on the eaſt of Nobe, and Jegbaa, and ſmote the camp of the enemies, who were ſecure, and ſuſpected no hurt.

‖ Oſee 10. 14.

12 And Zebee and Salmana fled, and Gedeon purſued and took them, all their hoſt being put in confuſion.

13 And returning from the battle before the ſun riſing,

14 He took a boy of the men of Soccoth: and he aſked him the names of the princes and ancients of Soccoth, and he deſcribed unto him ſeventy ſeven men.

15 And he came to Soccoth and ſaid to them: Behold Zebee and Salmana, concerning whom you upbraided me, ſaying: Peradventure the hands of Zebee and Salmana are in thy hands, and therefore thou demandeſt that we ſhould give bread to the men that are weary and faint.

16 So he took the ancients of the city, the preachers of the goſpel, in order to ſpiritual conqueſts, muſt not only ſound with the trumpet of the word of God, but muſt alſo break their earthen pitchers, by the mortification of the fleſh and its paſſions, and carry lamps in their hands by the light of their virtues.

VER. 25. Two men. That is, two of their chiefs.

CHAP. VIII. VER. 2. What could I, &c. A meek and humble anſwer appeaſed them; who otherwiſe might have come to extremities. So great is the power of humility both with God and man.

and thorns and briers of the desert, and tore them with the same, and cut in pieces the men of Soccoth.

17 And he demolished the tower of Phanuel, and slew the men of the city.

18 And he said to Zebee and Salmana: What manner of men were they whom you slew in Thabor? They answered: They were like thee, and one of them as the son of a king.

19 He answered them: They were my brethren, the sons of my mother. As the Lord liveth, if you had saved them, I would not kill you.

20 And he said to Jether his eldest son: Arise, and slay them. But he drew not his sword: for he was afraid, being but yet a boy.

21 And Zebee and Salmana said: Do thou rise, and run upon us: because the strength of a man is according to his age: ‖ Ps. 82. 12. ‖ Gedeon rose up and slew Zebee and Salmana: and he took the ornaments and bosses, with which the necks of the camels of kings are wont to be adorned.

22 And all the men of Israel said to Gedeon: Rule thou over us, and thy son, and thy son's son: because thou hast delivered us from the hand of Madian.

23 And he said to them: I will not rule over you, neither shall my son rule over you, but the Lord shall rule over you.

24 And he said to them: I desire one request of you: Give me the earlets of your spoils. For the Ismaelites were accustomed to wear golden earlets.

25 They answered: We will give them most willingly. And spreading a mantle on the ground, they cast upon it the earlets of the spoils.

26 And the weight of the earlets that he requested, was a thousand seven hundred sicles of gold, besides the ornaments, and jewels, and purple raiment, which the kings of Madian were wont to use, and besides the golden chains that were about the camels necks.

27 And Gedeon made an ephod thereof, and put it in his city Ephra. And all Israel committed fornication with it, and it became a ruin to Gedeon and to all his house.

28 But Madian was humbled before the children of Israel, neither could they any more lift up their heads: but the land rested for forty years, while Gedeon presided.

29 So Jerobaal the son of Joas went, and dwelt in his own house.

30 And he had seventy sons, who came out of his thigh, for he had many wives.

31 And his concubine, that he had in Sichem, bore him a son, whose name was Abimelech.

32 And Gedeon the son of Joas died in a good old age, and was buried in the sepulchre of his father in Ephra of the family of Ezri.

33 But after Gedeon was dead, the children of Israel turned again, and committed fornication with Baalim. And they made a covenant with Baal, that he should be their god:

34 And they remembered not the Lord their God, who delivered them out of the hands of all their enemies round about:

35 Neither did they shew mercy to the house of Jerobaal Gedeon, according to all the good things he had done to Israel.

CHAP. IX.

Abimelech killeth his brethren. Joatham's parable. Gaal conspireth with the Sichimites against Abimelech, but is overcome. Abimelech destroyeth Sichem: but is killed at Thebes.

AND Abimelech the son of Jerobaal went to Sichem to his mother's brethren and spoke to them, and to all the kindred of his mother's father, saying: A. M. 2768. Ante C. 1236.

2 Speak to all the men of Sichem: whether is better for you, that seventy men all the sons of Jerobaal should rule over you, or that one man should rule over you? And withal consider that I am your bone, and your flesh.

3 And his mother's brethren spoke of him to all the men of Sichem, all these words, and they inclined their hearts after Abimelech, saying: He is our brother:

4 And they gave him seventy weight of silver out of the temple of Baalberith: wherewith he hired to himself men that were needy, and vagabonds, and they followed him.

5 And he came to his father's house in Ephra, and slew his brethren the sons of Jerobaal seventy men, upon one stone: and there remained only Joatham the youngest son of Jerobaal, who was hidden.

VER. 27. An ephod. A priestly garment: which Gedeon made with a good design: but the Israelites, after his death, abused it by making it an instrument of their idolatrous worship.

VER. 31. His concubine. She was his servant, but not his harlot: and is called his concubine, as wives of an inferior degree are commonly called in the Old Testament, though otherwise lawfully married.

CHAP. IX. VER. 4. Baalberith. That is, Baal of the covenant, so called from the covenant they had made with Baal, chap. viii. 33.

* A. M. 2769. Ante C. 1235.

6 * And all the men of Sichem were gathered together and all the families of the city of Mello: and they went and made Abimelech king, by the oak that ſtood in Sichem.

7 This being told to Joatham, he went and ſtood on the top of mount Garizim: and lifting up his voice, he cried, and ſaid: Hear me, ye men of Sichem, ſo may God hear you.

8 The trees went to anoint a king over them: and they ſaid to the olive tree: Reign thou over us.

9 And it anſwered: Can I leave my fatneſs, which both gods and men make uſe of, to come to be promoted among the trees?

10 And the trees ſaid to the fig tree: Come thou and reign over us.

11 And it anſwered them: Can I leave my ſweetneſs, and my delicious fruits, and go to be promoted among the other trees?

12 And the trees ſaid to the vine: Come thou and reign over us.

13 And it anſwered them: Can I forſake my wine, that cheereth God and men, and be promoted among the other trees?

14 And all the trees ſaid to the bramble: Come thou and reign over us.

15 And it anſwered them: If indeed you mean to make me king, come ye and reſt under my ſhadow: but if you mean it not, let fire come out from the bramble, and devour the cedars of Libanus.

16 Now therefore if you have done well, and without ſin in appointing Abimelech king over you, and have dealt well with Jerobaal, and with his houſe, and have made a ſuitable return for the benefits of him, who fought for you,

17 And expoſed his life to dangers, to deliver you from the hands of Madian,

18 And you are now riſen up againſt my father's houſe, and have killed his ſons ſeventy men upon one ſtone, and have made Abimelech the ſin of his handmaid king over the inhabitants of Sichem, becauſe he is your brother:

19 If therefore you have dealt well, and without fault with Jerobaal, and his houſe, rejoice ye this day in Abimelech, and may he rejoice in you.

20 But if unjuſtly: let fire come out from him, and conſume the inhabitants of Sichem, and the town of Mello: and let fire come out from the men of Sichem, and from the town of Mello, and devour Abimelech.

21 And when he had ſaid thus, he fled, and went into Bera: and dwelt there for fear of Abimelech his brother.

22 So Abimelech reigned over Iſrael for three years.

23 And the Lord ſent a very evil ſpirit between Abimelech and the inhabitants of Sichem: who began to deteſt him,

24 And to leave the crime of the murder of the ſeventy ſons of Jerobaal, and the ſhedding of their blood upon Abimelech their brother, and upon the reſt of the princes of the Sichimites, who aided him.

25 And they ſet an ambuſh againſt him on the top of the mountains: and while they waited for his coming, they committed robberies, taking ſpoils of all that paſſed by: and it was told Abimelech.

26 And Gaal the ſon of Obed came with his brethren, and went over to Sichem. And the inhabitants of Sichem taking courage at his coming,

27 Went out into the fields, waſting the vineyards, and treading down the grapes: and ſinging and dancing they went into the temple of their god, and in their banquets and cups they curſed Abimelech.

28 And Gaal the ſon of Obed cried: Who is Abimelech, and what is Sichem, that we ſhould ſerve him? Is he not the ſon of Jerobaal, and hath made Zebul his ſervant ruler over the men of Emor the father of Sichem? Why then ſhall we ſerve him?

29 Would to God that ſome man would put this people under my hand, that I might remove Abimelech out of the way. And it was ſaid to Abimelech: Gather together the multitude of an army, and come.

30 For Zebul the ruler of the city, hearing the words of Gaal, the ſon of Obed, was very angry,

31 And ſent meſſengers privately to Abimelech, ſaying: Behold, Gaal the ſon of Obed is come into Sichem with his brethren,

VER. 9. Both gods and men make uſe of. The olive-tree is introduced, ſpeaking in this manner, becauſe oil was uſed both in the worſhip of the true God, and in that of the falſe gods, whom the Sichimites ſerved.

and endeavoureth to ſet the city againſt thee.

32 Ariſe therefore in the night with the people that is with thee, and lie hid in the field:

33 And betimes in the morning at ſunriſing ſet upon the city. And when he ſhall come out againſt thee with his people, do to him what thou ſhalt be able.

34 Abimelech therefore aroſe with all his army by night, and laid ambuſhes near Sichem in four places.

35 And Gaal the ſon of Obed went out, and ſtood in the entrance of the gate of the city. And Abimelech roſe up, and all his army with him from the places of the ambuſhes.

36 And when Gaal ſaw the people, he ſaid to Zebul: Behold a multitude cometh down from the mountains. And he anſwered him: Thou ſeeſt the ſhadows of the mountains as if they were the heads of men, and this is thy miſtake.

37 Again Gaal ſaid: Behold there cometh people down from the middle of the land, and one troop cometh by the way that looketh towards the oak.

38 And Zebul ſaid to him: Where is now thy mouth wherewith thou ſaidſt? Who is Abimelech that we ſhould ſerve him? Is not this the people which thou didſt deſpiſe? Go out, and fight againſt him.

39 So Gaal went out in the ſight of the people of Sichem, and fought againſt Abimelech,

40 Who chaſed and put him to flight, and drove him to the city: and many were ſlain of his people, even to the gate of the city:

41 And Abimelech ſat down in Ruma: but Zebul drove Gaal, and his companions out of the city, and would not ſuffer them to abide in it.

42 So the day following the people went out into the field. And it was told to Abimelech,

43 And he took his army, and divided it into three companies, and laid ambuſhes in the fields. And ſeeing that the people came out of the city, he aroſe and ſet upon them

44 With his own company, aſſaulting and beſieging the city: whilſt the two other companies chaſed the enemies that were ſcattered about the field.

45 And Abimelech aſſaulted the city all that day: and took it, and killed the inhabitants thereof, and demoliſhed it, ſo that he ſowed ſalt in it.

46 And when they who dwelt in the tower of Sichem had heard this, they went into the temple of their god Berith, where they had made a covenant with him, and from thence the place had taken its name, and it was exceeding ſtrong.

47 Abimelech alſo hearing that the men of the tower of Sichem were gathered together,

48 Went up into mount Selmon he and all his people with him: and taking an ax, he cut down the bough of a tree, and laying it on his ſhoulder and carrying it, he ſaid to his companions: What you ſee me do, do you out of hand.

49 So they cut down boughs from the trees, every man as faſt as he could, and followed their leader. And ſurrounding the fort they ſet it on fire: and ſo it came to paſs that with the ſmoke and with the fire a thouſand perſons were killed, men and women together, of the inhabitants of the tower of Sichem.

50 Then Abimelech departing from thence came to the town of Thebes, which he ſurrounded and beſieged with his army.

51 And there was in the midſt of the city a high tower, to which both the men and the women were fled together, and all the princes of the city, and having ſhut and ſtrongly barred the gate, they ſtood upon the battlements of the tower to defend themſelves.

52 And Abimelech coming near the tower, fought ſtoutly: and approaching to the gate, endeavoured to ſet fire to it:

53 ‖ And behold a certain woman caſting a piece of a millſtone from above, daſhed it againſt the head of Abimelech, and broke his ſkull. ‖ 2 Kings 11. 21.

54 ‖ And he called haſtily to his armour-bearer, and ſaid to him: Draw thy ſword, and kill me: leſt it ſhould be ſaid that I was ſlain by a woman. He did as he was commanded, and ſlew him. ‖ 1 Kings 31. 4. 1 Par. 10. 4.

55 And when he was dead, all the men of Iſrael that were with him, returned to their homes.

56 And God repaid the evil, that Abimelech had done againſt his father, killing his ſeventy brethren.

57 The Sichimites alſo were rewarded for what they had done, and the curſe of Joatham the ſon of Jerobaal came upon them.

VER. 45. Sowed ſalt. To make the ground barren, and fit for nothing.

CHAP. X.

Thola ruleth Iſrael twenty three years: and Jair twenty two. The people fall again into idolatry, and are afflicted by the Philiſtines and Ammonites. They cry to God for help, who upon their repentance hath compaſſion on them.

AFTER Abimelech there aroſe a ruler in Iſrael, Thola ſon of Phua the uncle of Abimelech, a man of Iſſachar, who dwelt in Samir of mount Ephraim:

2 And he judged Iſrael three and twenty years, and he died * and was buried in Samir.

* A. M. 2816.

3 To him ſucceeded Jair the Galaadite, who judged Iſrael for two and twenty years,

4 Having thirty ſons that rode on thirty aſs-colts, and were princes of thirty cities, which from his name were called Havoth Jair, that is, the towns of Jair, until this preſent day in the land of Galaad.

5 And Jair died; and was buried in the place which is called Camon.

6 But the children of Iſrael adding new ſins to their old ones, did evil in the ſight of the Lord, and ſerved idols, Baalim and Aſtaroth, and the gods of Syria and of Sidon and of Moab and of the children of Ammon and of the Philiſtines: and they left the Lord, and did not ſerve him.

7 And the Lord being angry with them, delivered them into the hands of the Philiſtines and of the children of Ammon.

8 And they were afflicted, and grievouſly oppreſſed for eighteen years, all they that dwelt beyond the Jordan in the land of the Amorrhite, who is in Galaad:

9 Inſomuch that the children of Ammon paſſing over the Jordan, waſted Juda and Benjamin and Ephraim: and Iſrael was diſtreſſed exceedingly.

10 And they cried to the Lord, and ſaid: We have ſinned againſt thee, becauſe we have forſaken the Lord our God, and have ſerved Baalim.

11 And the Lord ſaid to them: Did not the Egyptians and the Amorrhites, and the children of Ammon and the Philiſtines, 12 The Sidonians alſo and Amalec and Chanaan oppreſs you, and you cried to me, and I delivered you out of their hand?

13 And yet you have forſaken me, and have worſhipped ſtrange gods: therefore I will deliver you no more:

14 Go and call upon the gods which you have choſen: let them deliver you in the time of diſtreſs.

15 And the children of Iſrael ſaid to the Lord: We have ſinned, do thou unto us whatſoever pleaſeth thee: only deliver us this time.

16 And ſaying theſe things, they caſt away out of their coaſts all the idols of ſtrange gods, and ſerved the Lord their God: and he was touched with their miſeries.

17 And the children of Ammon ſhouting together, pitched their tents in Galaad: againſt whom the children of Iſrael aſſembled themſelves together and camped in Maſpha.

18 And the princes of Galaad ſaid one to another: Whoſoever of us ſhall firſt begin to fight againſt the children of Ammon, he ſhall be the leader of the people of Galaad.

CHAP. XI.

Jephte is made ruler of the people of Galaad: he firſt pleads their cauſe againſt the Ammonites; then making a vow obtains a ſignal victory: he performs his vow.

THERE was at that time Jephte the Galaadite a moſt valiant man and a warrior, the ſon of a woman that was a harlot, and his father was Galaad.

2 Now Galaad had a wife of whom he had ſons: who after they were grown up, thruſt out Jephte, ſaying: Thou canſt not inherit in the houſe of our father, becauſe thou art born of another mother.

3 Then he fled and avoided them and dwelt in the land of Tob: and there were gathered to him needy men, and robbers, and they followed him as their prince.

4 In thoſe days the children of Ammon made war againſt Iſrael.

5 And as they preſſed hard upon them, the ancients of Galaad went to fetch Jephte out of the land of Tob to help them:

6 And they ſaid to him: Come thou and be our prince, and fight againſt the children of Ammon.

7 And he anſwered them: || Are not you the men that hated me, and caſt me out of my father's houſe, and now you are come to me conſtrained by neceſſity? || Gen. 26. 27.

8 And the princes of Galaad ſaid to Jephte: For this cauſe we are now come to thee, that thou mayſt go with us, and fight

‖ Num. 21. 24. 13 And he anſwered them: ‖ Becauſe Iſrael took away my land, when he came up out of Egypt, from the confines of the Arnon unto the Jaboc and the Jordan: now therefore reſtore the ſame peaceably to me.

14 And Jephte: again ſent word by them, and commanded them to ſay to the king of Ammon:

15 Thus ſaith Jephte: Iſrael did not take away the land of Moab, nor the land of the children of Ammon:

16 But when they came up out of Egypt, he walked through the deſert to the Red ſea, and came into Cades.

‖ Num. 20. 14. 17 ‖ And he ſent meſſengers to the king of Edom, ſaying: Suffer me to paſs through thy land. But he would not condeſcend to his requeſt. He ſent alſo to the king of Moab, who likewiſe refuſed to give him paſſage. He abode therefore in Cades,

18 And went round the land of Edom at the ſide, and the land of Moab: and came over-againſt the eaſt coaſt of the land of Moab, and camped on the other ſide of the ‖ Num. 21. 13. Arnon: ‖ and he would not enter the bounds of Moab.

19 So Iſrael ſent meſſengers to Sehon king of the Amorrhites, who dwelt in Heſebon, and they ſaid to him: Suffer me to paſs through thy land to the river.

20 But he alſo deſpiſing the words of Iſrael, ſuffered him not to paſs through his borders: but gathering an infinite multitude, went out againſt him to Jaſa, and made ſtrong oppoſition.

21 And the Lord delivered him with all his army into the hands of Iſrael, and he ſlew him, and poſſeſſed all the land of the Amorrhite the inhabitant of that country,

22 And all the coaſts thereof from the Arnon to the Jaboc, and from the wilderneſs to the Jordan.

23 So the Lord the God of Iſrael deſtroyed the Amorrhite, his people of Iſrael fighting againſt him, and wilt thou now poſſeſs this land?

24 Are not thoſe things which thy god Chamos poſſeſſeth, due to thee by right? But what the Lord our God hath obtained by conqueſt, ſhall be our poſſeſſion:

‖ Num. 22. 2. 25 ‖ Unleſs perhaps thou art better than Balac the ſon of Sephor king of Moab: or canſt ſhew, that he ſtrove againſt Iſrael, and fought againſt him,

26 Whereas he hath dwelt in Heſebon, and the villages thereof, and in Aroer, and its villages, and in all the cities near the Jordan, for three hundred years. Why have you for ſo long a time attempted nothing about this claim?

27 Therefore I do not treſpaſs againſt thee, but thou wrongeſt me by declaring an unjuſt war againſt me. The Lord be judge and decide this day between Iſrael, and the children of Ammon.

28 And the king of the children of Ammon would not hearken to the words of Jephte, which he ſent him by the meſſengers.

29 Therefore the Spirit of the Lord came upon Jephte, and going round Galaad, and Manaſſes, and Maſpha of Galaad, and paſſing over from thence to the children of Ammon,

30 He made a vow to the Lord, ſaying: If thou wilt deliver the children of Ammon into my hands,

CHAP. XI. VER. 24. Chamos. The idol of the Moabites and Ammonites. He argues from their opinion, who thought they had a juſt title to the countries which they imagined they had conquered by the help of their gods: how much more then had Iſrael an indiſputable title, to the countries which God, by viſible miracles, had conquered for them.

VER. 31. Whoſoever, &c. Some are of opinion, that the meaning of this vow of Jephte, was to conſecrate to God whatſoever ſhould firſt meet him, according to the condition of the thing; ſo as to offer it up as a holocauſt, if it were ſuch a thing as might be ſo offered by the law; or to devote it otherwiſe to God, if it were not ſuch as the law allowed to be offered in ſacrifice. And therefore they think the daughter of Jephte was not ſlain by her father, but only conſecrated to perpetual virginity. But the common opinion followed by the generality of the holy fathers and divines is, that ſhe was offered as a holocauſt, in conſequence of her father's vow: and that Jephte did not ſin, at leaſt not mortally, neither in making, nor in keeping his vow: ſince he is no ways blamed for it in ſcripture; and was even inſpired by God himſelf to make the vow (as appears from ver. 29. 30.) in conſequence of which he obtained the victory; and therefore Ammon, the ſame will I offer a holocauſt to the Lord.

32 And Jephte paſſed over to the children of Ammon, to fight againſt them: and the Lord delivered them into his hands.

33 And he ſmote them from Aroer till you come to Mennith, twenty cities, and as far as Abel, which is ſet with vineyards, with a very great ſlaughter: and the children of Ammon were humbled by the children of Iſrael.

34 And when Jephte returned into Maſpha to his houſe, his only daughter met him with timbrels and with dances: for he had no other children.

35 And when he ſaw her, he rent his garments, and ſaid: Alas! my daughter, thou haſt deceived me, and thou thyſelf art deceived: for I have opened my mouth to the Lord, and I can do no other thing.

36 And ſhe anſwered him: My father, if thou haſt opened thy mouth to the Lord, do unto me whatſoever thou haſt promiſed, ſince the victory hath been granted to thee, and revenge of thy enemies.

37 And ſhe ſaid to her father: Grant me only this which I deſire: Let me go, that I may go about the mountains for two months, and may bewail my virginity with my companions.

38 And he anſwered her: Go. And he ſent her away for two months. And when ſhe was gone with her comrades and companions, ſhe mourned her virginity in the mountains.

39 And the two months being expired, ſhe returned to her father, and he did to her as he had vowed, and ſhe knew no man. From thence came a faſhion in Iſrael, and a cuſtom has been kept:

40 That from year to year the daughters of Iſrael aſſemble together, and lament the daughter of Jephte the Galaadite for four days.

CHAP. XII.

The Ephraimites quarrel with Jephte: 42,000 of them are ſlain: Abeſan, Ahialon, and Abdon, are judges.

BUT behold there aroſe a ſedition in Ephraim. And paſſing towards the north, they ſaid to Jephte: When thou wenteſt to fight againſt the children of Ammon, why wouldſt thou not call us, that we might go with thee? Therefore we will burn thy houſe.

2 And he anſwered them: I and my people were at great ſtrife with the children of Ammon: and I called you to aſſiſt me, and you would not do it.

3 And when I ſaw this, I put my life in my own hands, and paſſed over againſt the children of Ammon, and the Lord delivered them into my hands. What have I deſerved, that you ſhould riſe up to fight againſt me?

4 Then calling to him all the men of Galaad, he fought againſt Ephraim: and the men of Galaad defeated Ephraim, becauſe he had ſaid: Galaad is a fugitive of Ephraim, and dwelleth in the midſt of Ephraim and Manaſſes.

5 And the Galaadites ſecured the fords of the Jordan, by which Ephraim was to return. And when any one of the number of Ephraim came thither in the flight, and ſaid: I beſeech you let me paſs: the Galaadites ſaid to him: Art thou not an Ephraimite? If he ſaid: I am not:

6 They aſked him: Say then, Scibboleth, which is interpreted, An ear of corn. But he anſwered, Sibboleth, not being able to expreſs an ear of corn by the ſame letter. Then preſently they took him and killed him in the very paſſage of the Jordan. And there fell at that time of Ephraim two and forty thouſand.

7 And Jephte the Galaadite judged Iſrael ſix years: and he died, and was buried in his city of Galaad.

8 After him Abeſan of Bethlehem judged Iſrael:

9 He had thirty ſons, and as many daughters, whom he ſent abroad, and gave to huſbands, and took wives for his ſons of the ſame number, bringing them into his houſe. And he judged Iſrael ſeven years:

10 And he died, and was buried in Bethlehem.

11 To him ſucceeded Ahialon a Zabulonite: and he judged Iſrael ten years:

12 And he died, and was buried in Zabulon.

13 After him Abdon, the ſon of Illel, a Pharathonite, judged Iſrael:

14 And he had forty ſons, and of them thirty grandſons, mounted upon ſeventy aſs-colts, and he judged Iſrael eight years:

---

he reaſonably concluded that God, who is the maſter of life and death, was pleaſed on this occaſion to diſpenſe with his own law; and that it was the divine will he ſhould fulfil his vow.

VER. 37. Bewail my virginity. The bearing of children was much coveted under the Old Teſtament, when women might hope that from ſome child of theirs, the Saviour of the world might one day ſpring. But under the New Teſtament virginity is preferred. 1 Cor. vii. 35.

15 And he died, and was buried in Pharathon in the land of Ephraim, in the mount of Amalech.

CHAP. XIII.

The people fall again into idolatry and are afflicted by the Philistines. An Angel foretelleth the birth of Samson.

‖ Supra 10. 6. ‖ AND the children of Israel did evil again in the sight of the Lord: and he delivered them into the hands of the Philistines forty years.

2 Now there was a certain man of Saraa, and of the race of Dan, whose name was Manue, and his wife was barren.

* A. M. 2848. ‖ Gen. 16. 11. 1 Kings 1. 20. Luke 1. 31. † Num. 6. 34. 3 * And an Angel of the Lord appeared to her, and said: Thou art barren and without children: ‖ but thou shalt conceive and bear a son.

4 † Now therefore beware, and drink no wine nor strong drink, and eat not any unclean thing.

5 Because thou shalt conceive and bear a son, and no razor shall touch his head: for he shall be a Nazarite of God, from his infancy, and from his mother's womb, and he shall begin to deliver Israel from the hands of the Philistines.

6 And when she was come to her husband she said to him: A man of God came to me, having the countenance of an Angel, very awful. And when I asked him whence he came, and by what name he was called, he would not tell me.

7 But he answered thus: Behold thou shalt conceive and bear a son: beware thou drink no wine, nor strong drink, nor eat any unclean thing: for the child shall be a Nazarite of God from his infancy, from his mother's womb until the day of his death.

8 Then Manue prayed to the Lord, and said: I beseech thee, O Lord, that the man of God, whom thou didst send, may come again, and teach us what we ought to do concerning the child, that shall be born.

9 And the Lord heard the prayer of Manue, and the Angel of the Lord appeared again to his wife as she was sitting in the field. But Manue her husband was not with her. And when she saw the Angel,

10 She made haste and ran to her husband: and told him saying: Behold the man hath appeared to me, whom I saw before.

11 He rose up and followed his wife: and coming to the man, said to him: Art thou he that spoke to the woman? And he answered: I am.

12 And Manue said to him: When thy word shall come to pass, what wilt thou that the child should do? or from what shall he keep himself?

13 And the Angel of the Lord said to Manue: From all the things I have spoken of to thy wife, let her refrain herself:

14 And let her eat nothing that cometh of the vine, neither let her drink wine or strong drink, nor eat any unclean thing: and whatsoever I have commanded her, let her fulfil and observe.

15 And Manue said to the Angel of the Lord: I beseech thee to consent to my request, and let us dress a kid for thee.

16 And the Angel answered him: If thou press me, I will not eat of thy bread: but if thou wilt offer a holocaust, offer it to the Lord. And Manue knew not it was the Angel of the Lord.

17 And he said to him: What is thy name, that, if thy word shall come to pass, we may honour thee? ‖ Gen. 32. 29.

18 And he answered him: ‖ Why askest thou my name, which is wonderful?

19 Then Manue took a kid of the flocks, and the libations, and put them upon a rock, offering to the Lord, who doth wonderful things: and he and his wife looked on.

20 And when the flame from the altar went up towards heaven, the Angel of the Lord ascended also in the flame. And when Manue and his wife saw this, they fell flat on the ground.

21 And the Angel of the Lord appeared to them no more. And forthwith Manue understood that it was an Angel of the Lord, 22 And he said to his wife: we shall certainly die, because we have seen God.

23 And his wife answered him: If the Lord had a mind to kill us, he would not have received a holocaust and libations at our hands, neither would he have shewed

CHAP. XIII. VER. 13. Let her refrain, &c. By the Latin text it is not clear whether this abstinence was prescribed to the mother, or to the child: But the Hebrew (in which the verbs relating thereto are of the feminine gender) determineth it to the mother. But then the child also was to refrain from the like things, because he was to be from his infancy a Nazarite of God, ver. 5. that is, one set aside, in a particular manner, and consecrated to God: now the Nazarites by the law were to abstain from all these things.

VER. 22. Seen God. Not in his own person, but in the person of his messenger. The Israelites in those days, imagined they should die if they saw an Angel, taking occasion perhaps from those words spoken by the Lord to Moses, Ex. xxxiii. 20. No man shall see me and live. But the event demonstrated that it was but a groundless imagination.

* A. M. 2849. 24 * And she bore a son, and called his name Samson. And the child grew, and the Lord blessed him.

25 And the Spirit of the Lord began to be with him in the camp of Dan, between Saraa and Esthaol.

CHAP. XIV.

Samson desireth a wife of the Philistines. He killeth a lion. In whose mouth he afterwards findeth honey. His marriage feast, and riddle, which is discovered by his wife. He killeth, and strippeth thirty Philistines. His wife taketh another man.

A. M. 2867. Ante C. 1137. THEN Samson went down to Thamnatha, and seeing there a woman of the daughters of the Philistines,

2 He came up, and told his father and his mother, saying: I saw a woman in Thamnatha of the daughters of the Philistines: I beseech you, take her for me to wife.

3 And his father and mother said to him: Is there no woman among the daughters of thy brethren, or among all my people, that thou wilt take a wife of the Philistines, who are uncircumcised? And Samson said to his father: Take this woman for me, for she hath pleased my eyes.

4 Now his parents knew not that the thing was done by the Lord, and that he sought an occasion against the Philistines: for at that time the Philistines had dominion over Israel.

5 Then Samson went down with his father and mother to Thamnatha. And when they were come to the vineyards of the town, behold a young lion met him raging and roaring.

6 And the Spirit of the Lord came upon Samson, and he tore the lion as he would have torn a kid in pieces, having nothing at all in his hand: and he would not tell this to his father and mother.

7 And he went down and spoke to the woman that had pleased his eyes.

8 And after some days returning to take her, he went aside to see the carcase of the lion, and behold there was a swarm of bees in the mouth of the lion and a honey-comb.

9 And when he had taken it in his hands, he went on eating: and coming to his father and mother, he gave them of it, and they ate: but he would not tell them, that he had taken the honey from the body of the lion.

10 So his father went down to the woman, and made a feast for his son Samson: for so the young men used to do.

11 And when the citizens of that place saw him, they brought him thirty companions to be with him.

12 And Samson said to them: I will propose to you a riddle, which if you declare unto me within the seven days of the feast, I will give you thirty shirts, and as many coats:

13 But if you shall not be able to declare it, you shall give me thirty shirts and the same number of coats. They answered him: Put forth the riddle that we may hear it.

14 And he said to them: Out of the eater came forth meat, and out of the strong came forth sweetness. And they could not in three days expound the riddle.

15 And when the seventh day came, they said to the wife of Samson: Sooth thy husband, and persuade him to tell thee what the riddle meaneth. But if thou wilt not do it, we will burn thee, and thy father's house. Have you called us to the wedding on purpose to strip us?

16 So she wept before Samson and complained, saying: Thou hatest me, and dost not love me: therefore thou wilt not expound to me the riddle which thou hast proposed to the sons of my people. But he answered: I would not tell it to my father and mother, and how can I tell it to thee?

17 So she wept before him the seven days of the feast: and at length on the seventh day as she was troublesome to him, he expounded it. And she immediately told her countrymen.

18 And they on the seventh day before the sun went down said to him: What is sweeter than honey? and what is stronger than a lion? And he said to them: If you had not ploughed with my heifer, you had not found out my riddle.

19 And the Spirit of the Lord came upon him, and he went down to Ascalon, and slew there thirty men, whose garments he took away and gave to them that had declared the riddle. And being exceeding angry he went up to his father's house:

20 But his wife took one of his friends and bridal companions for her husband.

CHAP. XIV. VER. 3. Is there no woman among the daughters of thy brethren. This shews his parents were at first against his marriage with a Gentile, it being prohibited, Deut, vii. 3. but afterwards they consented, knowing it to be by the dispensation of God; which otherwise would have been sinful in acting contrary to the law.

CHAP. XV.

Samson is denied his wife: He burns the corn of the Philistines, and kills many of them.

A. M. 2868. Ante C. 1136. AND a while after, when the days of the wheat harvest were at hand, Samson came, meaning to visit his wife, and he brought her a kid of the flock. And when he would have gone into her chamber as usual, her father would not suffer him, saying:

2 I thought thou hadst hated her, and therefore I gave her to thy friend: but she hath a sister, who is younger and fairer than she, take her to wife instead of her.

3 And Samson answered him: From this day I shall be blameless in what I do against the Philistines: for I will do you evils.

4 And he went and caught three hundred foxes, and coupled them tail to tail, and fastened torches between the tails:

5 And setting them on fire he let the foxes go, that they might run about hither and thither. And they presently went into the standing corn of the Philistines. Which being set on fire, both the corn that was already carried together, and that which was yet standing, was all burnt, insomuch, that the flame consumed also the vineyards and the olive-yards.

6 Then the Philistines said: Who hath done this thing? And it was answered: Samson the son-in-law of the Thamnathite, because he took away his wife, and gave her to another, hath done these things. And the Philistines went up and burnt both the woman and her father.

7 But Samson said to them: Although you have done this, yet will I be revenged of you, and then I will be quiet.

8 And he made a great slaughter of them, so that in astonishment they laid the calf of the leg upon the thigh. And going down he dwelt in a cavern of the rock Etam.

9 Then the Philistines going up into the land of Juda, camped in the place which afterwards was called Lechi, that is, the Jaw-bone, where their army was spread.

10 And the men of the tribe of Juda said to them: Why are you come up against us? They answered: We are come to bind Samson, and to pay him for what he hath done against us.

11 Wherefore three thousand men of Juda, went down to the cave of the rock Etam, and said to Samson: Knowest thou not that the Philistines rule over us? Why wouldst thou do thus? And he said to them: As they did to me, so have I done to them.

12 And they said to him, We are come to bind thee and to deliver thee into the hands of the Philistines. And Samson said to them: Swear to me, and promise me, that you will not kill me.

13 They said: We will not kill thee: but we will deliver thee up bound. And they bound him with two new cords, and brought him from the rock Etam.

14 Now when he was come to the place of the Jaw-bone, and the Philistines shouting went to meet him, the Spirit of the Lord came strongly upon him: and as the flax is wont to be consumed at the approach of fire, so the bands with which he was bound were broken and loosed.

15 And finding a jaw-bone, even the jaw-bone of an ass which lay there, catching it up, he slew therewith a thousand men.

16 And he said: With the jaw-bone of an ass, with the jaw of the colt of asses I have destroyed them, and have slain a thousand men.

17 And when he had ended these words singing, he threw the jaw-bone out of his hand, and called the name of that place Ramathlechi, which is interpreted the lifting up of the jaw-bone.

18 And being very thirsty, he cried to the Lord, and said: Thou hast given this very great deliverance and victory into the hand of thy servant: and behold I die for thirst, and shall fall into the hands of the uncircumcised.

19 Then the Lord opened a great tooth in the jaw of the ass, and waters issued out of it. And when he had drank them he refreshed his spirit, and recovered his strength. Therefore the name of that place was called, The Spring of him that invoked from the jaw-bone, until this present day.

20 And he judged Israel in the days of the Philistines twenty years. ‖ ‖ Infra 16. 31.

Samson is deluded by Dalila: and falls into the hands of the Philistines. His Death.

HE went also into Gaza, and saw there a woman a harlot, and went in unto her. A. M. Circiter 2880.

2 And when the Philistines had heard

CHAP. XV. VER. 4. Foxes. Being judge of the people he might have many to assist him to catch with nets or otherwise a number of these animals; of which there were great numbers in that country.

this, and it was noiſed about among them, that Samſon was come into the city, they ſurrounded him, ſetting guards at the gate of the city, and watching there all the night in ſilence, that in the morning they might kill him as he went out.

3 But Samſon ſlept till midnight, and then riſing he took both the doors of the gate, with the poſts thereof, and the bolt, and laying them on his ſhoulders, carried them up to the top of the hill, which looketh towards Hebron.

A. M. Circiter 2885. 4 After this he loved a woman, who dwelt in the valley of Sorec, and ſhe was called Dalila.

5 And the princes of the Philiſtines came to her, and ſaid: Deceive him, and learn of him, wherein his great ſtrength lieth, and how we may be able to overcome him, to bind and afflict him: which if thou ſhalt do, we will give thee every one of us eleven hundred pieces of ſilver.

6 And Dalila ſaid to Samſon: Tell me, I beſeech thee, wherein thy greateſt ſtrength lieth, and what it is wherewith if thou were bound thou couldſt not break looſe.

7 And Samſon anſwered her: If I ſhall be bound with ſeven cords made of ſinews not yet dry, but ſtill moiſt, I ſhall be weak like other men:

8 And the princes of the Philiſtines brought unto her ſeven cords, ſuch as he ſpoke of, with which ſhe bound him.

9 Men lying privately in wait with her, and in the chamber expecting the event of the thing, and ſhe cried out to him: The Philiſtines are upon thee Samſon. And he broke the bands, as a man would break a thread of tow, when it ſmelleth the fire: ſo it was not known wherein his ſtrength lay.

10 And Dalila ſaid to him: Behold thou haſt mocked me, and haſt told me a falſe thing: but now at leaſt tell me wherewith thou mayeſt be bound.

11 And he anſwered her: If I ſhall be bound with new ropes, that were never in work, I ſhall be weak and like other men.

12 Dalia bound him again with theſe, and cried out: The Philiſtines are upon thee Samſon, there being an ambuſh prepared for him in the chamber. But he broke the bands like threads of webs.

13 And Dalila ſaid to him again: How long doſt thou deceive me, and tell me lies? Shew me wherewith thou mayeſt be bound. And Samſon anſwered her: If thou platteſt the ſeven locks of my head with a lace, and tying them round about a nail, faſteneſt it in the ground, I ſhall be weak.

14 And when Dalila had done this, ſhe ſaid to him: The Philiſtines are upon thee Samſon. And awaking out of his ſleep he drew out the nail with the hairs and the lace.

15 And Dalila ſaid to him: How doſt thou ſay thou loveſt me, when thy mind is not with me? Thou haſt told me lies theſe three times, and wouldſt not tell me wherein thy great ſtrength lieth.

16 And when ſhe preſſed him much, and continually hung upon him for many days, giving him no time to reſt, his ſoul fainted away, and was wearied even until death.

17 Then opening the truth of the thing, he ſaid to her: The razor hath never come upon my head, for I am a Nazarite, that is to ſay, conſecrated to God from my mother's womb: If my head be ſhaven, my ſtrength ſhall depart from me, and I ſhall become weak, and ſhall be like other men.

18 Then ſeeing that he had diſcovered to her all his mind, ſhe ſent to the princes of the Philiſtines, ſaying: Come up this once more, for now he hath opened his heart to me. And they went up taking with them the money which they had promiſed.

19 But ſhe made him ſleep upon her knees, and lay his head in her boſom. And ſhe called a barber, and ſhaved his ſeven locks, and began to drive him away, and thruſt him from her: for immediately his ſtrength departed from him.

20 And ſhe ſaid: The Philiſtines are upon thee Samſon. And awaking from ſleep, he ſaid in his mind: I will go out as I did before, and ſhake myſelf, not knowing that the Lord was departed from him.

21 Then the Philiſtines ſeized upon him, and forthwith pulled out his eyes, and led him bound in chains to Gaza, and ſhutting him up in priſon made him grind.

22 And now his hair began to grow again.

23 And the princes of the Philiſtines aſſembled together, to offer great ſacrifices to Dagon their god, and to make merry, ſaying: Our god hath delivered our enemy Samſon into our hands.

24 And the people alſo ſeeing this, praiſed their god, and ſaid the ſame: Our god hath

CHAP. XVI. VER. 4. Dalila. Some are of opinion ſhe was married to Samſon; others that ſhe was his harlot. If the latter opinion be true, we cannot wonder that, in puniſhment of his luſt, the Lord delivered him up, by her means, into the hands of his enemies. However, if he was guilty, it is not to be doubted but that under his afflictions he heartily repented and returned to God, and ſo obtained forgiveneſs of his ſins.

delivered our adverſary into our hands, him that deſtroyed our country, and killed very many.

25 And rejoicing in their feaſts, when they had now taken their good cheer, they commanded that Samſon ſhould be called, and ſhould play before them. And being brought out of priſon he played before them, and they made him ſtand between two pillars.

26 And he ſaid to the lad that guided his ſteps: Suffer me to touch the pillars which ſupport the whole houſe, and let me lean upon them, and reſt a little.

27 Now the houſe was full of men and women, and all the princes of the Philiſtines were there. Moreover about three thouſand perſons of both ſexes from the roof and the higher part of the houſe, were beholding Samſon's play.

28 But he called upon the Lord, ſaying: O Lord God remember me, and reſtore to me now my former ſtrength, O my God, that I may revenge myſelf on my enemies, and for the loſs my two eyes I may take one revenge.

29 And laying hold on both the pillars on which the houſe reſted, and holding the one with his right hand, and the other with his left,

30 He ſaid: Let me die with the Philiſtines. And when he had ſtrongly ſhook the pillars, the houſe fell upon all the princes, and the reſt of the multitude, that was there: and he killed many more at his death, than he had killed before in his life.

31 And his brethren and all his kindred, going down took his body, and buried it between Saraa and Eſthaol in the burying-place of his father Manue: and he judged Iſrael twenty years.

The hiſtory of the idol of Michas, and the young Levite.

THERE was at that time a man of mount Ephraim whoſe name was Michas,

2 Who ſaid to his mother: The eleven hundred pieces of ſiver, which thou hadſt put aſide for thyſelf, and concerning which thou didſt ſwear in my hearing, behold I have, and they are with me. And ſhe ſaid to him: Bleſſed be my ſon by the Lord.

3 So he reſtored them to his mother, who ſaid to him: I have conſecrated and vowed this ſilver to the Lord, that my ſon may receive it at my hand, and make a graven and a molten god, ſo now I deliver it to thee.

4 And he reſtored them to his mother: and ſhe took two hundred pieces of ſilver and gave them to the ſilverſmith, to make of them a graven and a molten god, which was in the houſe of Michas.

5 And he ſeparated alſo therein a little temple for the god, and made an ephod, and theraphim, that is to ſay, a prieſtly garment, and idols: and he filled the hand of one of his ſons, and he became his prieſt.

6 In thoſe days there was no king in Iſrael, but every one did that which ſeemed right to himſelf.

7 There was alſo another young man of Bethlehem Juda, of the kindred thereof: and he was a Levite, and dwelt there.

8 Now he went out from the city of Bethlehem, and deſired to ſojourn whereſoever he ſhould find it convenient for him. And when he was come to mount Ephraim, as he was on his journey, and had turned aſide a little into the houſe of Michas,

9 He was aſked by him whence he came. And he anſwered: I am a Levite of Bethlehem Juda, and I am going to dwell where I can, and where I ſhall find a place to my advantage.

10 And Michas ſaid: Stay with me, and be unto me a father and a prieſt, and I will give thee every year ten pieces of ſilver, and a double ſuit of apparel, and thy victuals.

11 He was content, and abode with the man, and was unto him as one of his ſons.

12 And Michas filled his hand, and had the the young man with him, for his prieſt, ſaying:

13 Now I know God will do me good, ſince I have a prieſt of the race of the Levites.

VER. 28. Revenge myſelf. This deſire of revenge was out of zeal for juſtice againſt the enemies of God and his people; and not out of private rancour and malice of heart.

VER. 30. Let me die. Literally, let my ſoul die. Samſon did not ſin on this occaſion, though he was indirectly the cauſe of his own death. Becauſe he was moved to what he did, by a particular inſpiration of God, who alſo concurred with him by a miracle, in reſtoring his ſtrength upon the ſpot, in conſequence of his prayer. Samſon by dying in this manner was a figure of Chriſt, who by his death overcame all his enemies.

day they had not received their lot among the other tribes.

2 So the children of Dan ſent five moſt valiant men of their ſtock and family from Saraa and Eſthaol, to ſpy out the land, and to view it diligently: and they ſaid to them: Go, and view the land. They went on their way, and when they came to mount Ephraim, they went into the houſe of Michas, and reſted there:

3 And knowing the voice of the young man the Levite, and lodging with him, they ſaid to him: Who brought thee hither? what doſt thou here? why wouldſt thou come hither?

4 He anſwered them: Michas hath done ſuch and ſuch things for me, and hath hired me to be his prieſt.

5 Then they deſired him to conſult the Lord, that they might know whether their journey ſhould be proſperous, and the thing ſhould have effect.

6 He anſwered them: Go in peace: the Lord looketh on your way, and the journey that you go.

7 So the five men going on came to Lais: and they ſaw how the people dwelt therein without any fear, according to the cuſtom of the Sidonians, ſecure and eaſy, having no man at all to oppoſe them, being very rich, and living ſeparated, at a diſtance from Sidon and from all men.

8 And they returned to their brethren in Saraa and Eſthaol, who aſked them what they had done? to whom they anſwered:

9 Ariſe, and let us go up to them: for we have ſeen the land which is exceeding rich and fruitful: neglect not, loſe no time: let us go and poſſeſs it, there will be no difficulty.

10 We ſhall come to a people that is ſecure, into a ſpacious country, and the Lord will deliver the place to us, in which there is no want of any thing, that groweth on the earth.

11 There went therefore of the kindred of Dan, to wit, from Saraa and Eſthaol, ſix hundred men, furniſhed with arms for war,

12 And going up they lodged in Cariathiarim of Juda: which place from that time is called the camp of Dan, and is behind Cariathiarim.

13 From thence they paſſed into mount Ephraim. And when they were come to the houſe of Michas,

14 The five men, that before had been ſent to view the land of Lais, ſaid to the reſt of their brethren: You know that in theſe houſes there is an ephod, and theraphim, and a graven, and a molten god: ſee what you are pleaſed to do.

15 And when they had turned a little aſide, they went into the houſe of the young man the Levite, who was in the houſe of Michas: and they ſaluted him with words of peace.

16 And the ſix hundred men ſtood before the door, appointed with their arms.

17 But they that were gone into the houſe of the young man, went about to take away the graven god, and the ephod, and the theraphim, and the molten god, and the prieſt ſtood before the door, the ſix hundred valiant men waiting not far off.

18 So they that were gone in took away the graven thing, the ephod, and the idols, and the molten god. And the prieſt ſaid to them: What are you doing?

19 And they ſaid to him: Hold thy peace, and put thy finger on thy mouth and come with us, that we may have thee for a father, and a prieſt. Whether is better for thee, to be a prieſt in the houſe of one man, or in a tribe and family in Iſrael?

20 When he had heard this, he agreed to their words, and took the ephod, and the idols, and the graven god, and departed with them.

21 And when they were going forward, and had put before them the children and the cattle, and all that was valuable,

22 And were now at a diſtance from the houſe of Michas, the men that dwelt in the houſes of Michas gathering together followed them,

23 And began to ſhout out after them. They looked back, and ſaid to Michas: What aileth thee? Why doſt thou cry?

24 And he anſwered: You have taken away my gods which I have made me and the prieſt, and all that I have, and do you ſay: What aileth thee?

25 And the children of Dan ſaid to him: See thou ſay no more to us, leſt men enraged come upon thee, and thou periſh with all thy houſe.

26 And ſo they went on the journey they had begun. But Michas ſeeing that they were ſtronger than he, returned to his houſe.

27 And the ſix hundred men took the prieſt, and the things we ſpoke of before, and came to Lais to a people that was quiet and ſecure, and ſmote them with the edge of

CHAP. XIX.

A Levite bringing home his wife, is lodged by an old man at Gabaa in the tribe of Benjamin. His wife is there abuſed by wicked men, and in the morning found dead. Her huſband cutteth her body in pieces, and ſendeth to every tribe of Iſrael, requiring them to revenge the wicked fact.

THERE was a certain Levite, who dwelt on the ſide of mount Ephraim, who took a wife of Bethlehem Juda:

2 And ſhe left him and returned to her father's houſe in Bethlehem, and abode with him four months.

3 And her huſband followed her, willing to be reconciled with her, and to ſpeak kindly to her, and to bring her back with him, having with him a ſervant and two aſſes: and ſhe received him, and brought him into her father's houſe. And when his father-in-law had heard this, and had ſeen him, he met him with joy,

4 And embraced the man. And the ſon-in-law tarried in the houſe of his father-in-law three days, eating with him and drinking familiarly.

5 But on the fourth day ariſing early in the morning he deſired to depart. But his father-in-law kept him, and ſaid to him: Taſte firſt a little bread, and ſtrengthen thy ſtomach, and ſo thou ſhalt depart.

6 And they ſat down together, and eat and drank. And the father of the young woman ſaid to his ſon-in-law: I beſeech thee to ſtay here to-day, and let us make merry together.

7 But he riſing up began to be for departing. And nevertheleſs his father-in-law earneſtly preſſed him, and made him ſtay with him.

8 But when morning was come, the Levite prepared to go on his journey. And his father-in-law ſaid to him again: I beſeech thee to take a little meat, and ſtrengthening thyſelf, till the day be farther advanced, afterwards thou mayeſt depart. And they ate together.

9 And the young man aroſe to ſet forward with his wife and ſervant. And his father-in-law ſpoke to him again: Conſider that the day is declining, and draweth toward evening: tarry with me to-day alſo, and ſpend the day in mirth, and to-morrow thou ſhalt depart, that thou mayeſt go into thy houſe.

10 His ſon-in-law would not conſent to his words: but forthwith went forward and came over-againſt Jebus, which by another name is called Jeruſalem, leading with him two aſſes loaden, and his concubine.

11 And now they were come near Jebus, and the day was far ſpent: and the ſervant ſaid to his maſter: Come, I beſeech thee, let us turn into the city of the Jebuſites, and lodge there.

12 His maſter anſwered him: I will not go into the town of another nation, who are not of the children of Iſrael, but I will paſs over to Gabaa:

13 And when I ſhall come thither, we will lodge there, or at leaſt in the city of Rama.

14 So they paſſed by Jebus, and went on their journey, and the ſun went down upon them when they were by Gabaa, which is in the tribe of Benjamin:

15 And they turned into it, to lodge there. And when they were come in, they ſat in the ſtreet of the city, for no man would receive them to lodge.

16 And behold they ſaw an old man, returning out of the field and from his work in the evening, and he alſo was of mount Ephraim, and dwelt as a ſtranger in Gabaa; but the men of that country were the children of Jemini.

17 And the old man lifting up his eyes, ſaw the man ſitting with his bundles in the ſtreet of the city, and ſaid to him: Whence comeſt thou? and whither goeſt thou?

18 He anſwered him: We came out from Bethlehem Juda, and we are going to our home, which is on the ſide of mount Ephraim, from whence we went to Bethlehem: and now we go to the houſe of God, and none will receive us under his roof:

19 We have ſtraw and hay for provender of the aſſes, and bread and wine for the uſe of myſelf and of thy handmaid, and of the ſervant that is with me: we want nothing but lodging.

20 And the old man anſwered him: Peace be with thee: I will furniſh all things that are neceſſary: only I beſeech thee, ſtay not in the ſtreet.

21 And he brought him into his houſe, and gave provender to his aſſes: and after they had waſhed their feet, he entertained them with a feaſt.

22 While they were making merry, and refreſhing their bodies with meat and drink, after the labour of the journey, the men of that city, ſons of Belial (that is, without yoke), came and beſet the old man's houſe, and began to knock at the door, calling to the maſter of the houſe, and ſaying: ‖ Bring forth the man that came into thy houſe, that we may abuſe him.

‖ Gen. 19. 5.

23 And the old man went out to them, and ſaid: Do not ſo, my brethren, do not ſo wickedly: becauſe this man is come into my lodging, and ceaſe I pray you from this folly.

24 I have a maiden daughter, and this man hath a concubine, I will bring them out to you, and you may humble them, and ſatisfy your luſt: only, I beſeech you, commit not this crime againſt nature on the man.

25 They would not be ſatisfied with his words; which the man ſeeing, brought out his concubine to them, and abandoned her to their wickedneſs: And when they had abuſed her all the night, they let her go in the morning.

26 But the woman, at the dawning of the day, came to the door of the houſe where her lord lodged, and there fell down.

27 And in the morning the man aroſe, and opened the door, that he might end the journey he had begun: and behold his concubine lay before the door with her hands ſpread on the threſhold.

28 He thinking ſhe was taking her reſt, ſaid to her: Ariſe, and let us be going. But as ſhe made no anſwer, perceiving ſhe was dead, he took her up, and laid her upon his aſs, and returned to his houſe.

29 And when he was come home, he took a ſword, and divided the dead body of his wife with her bones into twelve parts, and ſent the pieces into all the borders of Iſrael.

30 And when every one had ſeen this, they all cried out: There was never ſuch a thing done in Iſrael from the day that our fathers came up out of Egypt, until this day: give ſentence, and decree in common what ought to be done.

CHAP. XX.

The Iſraelites warring againſt Benjamin are twice defeated; but in the third battle the Benjaminites are all ſlain, ſaving ſix hundred men.

THEN all the children of Iſrael went out, and gathered together, as one man ‖ from Dan to Berſabee, with the land of Galaad, to the Lord in Maſpha: ‖ Oſee 9. 9.

2 And all the chiefs of the people, and all the tribes of Iſrael met together in the aſſembly of the people of God, four hundred thouſand foot-men fit for war.

3 (Nor were the children of Benjamin ignorant that the children of Iſrael were come up to Maſpha.) And the Levite the huſband of the woman that was killed, being aſked, how ſo great a wickedneſs had been committed,

4 Anſwered: I came into Gabaa of Benjamin with my wife, and there I lodged:

5 And behold the men of that city in the night beſet the houſe wherein I was, intending to kill me, and abuſed my wife with an incredible fury of luſt, ſo that at laſt ſhe died.

6 And I took her and cut her in pieces, and ſent the parts into all the borders of your poſſeſſion: becauſe there never was ſo heinous a crime, and ſo great an abomination committed in Iſrael.

7 You are all here, O children of Iſrael, determine what you ought to do.

8 And all the people ſtanding, anſwered as by the voice of one man: We will not return to our tents, neither ſhall any one of us go into his own houſe:

9 But this we will do in common againſt Gabaa:

10 We will take ten men of a hundred out of all the tribes of Iſrael, and a hundred out of a thouſand, and a thouſand out of ten thouſand; to bring victuals for the army, that we may fight againſt Gabaa of Benjamin, and render to it for its wickedneſs, what it deſerveth.

11 And all Iſrael were gathered together againſt the city, as one man, with one mind, and one counſel:

12 And they ſent meſſengers to all the tribe of Benjamin to ſay to them: Why hath so great an abomination been found among you?

13 Deliver up the men of Gabaa, that have committed this heinous crime, that they may die, and the evil may be taken away out of Israel. But they would not hearken to the proposition of their brethren the children of Israel:

14 But out of all the cities which were of their lot, they gathered themselves together into Gabaa, to aid them, and to fight against the whole people of Israel.

15 And there were found of Benjamin five and twenty thousand men that drew the sword, besides the inhabitants of Gabaa,

16 Who were seven hundred most valiant men, fighting with the left hand as well as with the right: and slinging stones so sure that they could hit even a hair, and not miss by the stone's going on either side.

17 Of the men of Israel also, beside the children of Benjamin, were found four hundred thousand that drew swords, and were prepared to fight.

18 And they arose and came to the house of God, that is, to Silo: and they consulted God, and said: Who shall be in our army the first to go to the battle against the children of Benjamin? And the Lord answered them: Let Juda be your leader.

19 And forthwith the children of Israel rising in the morning, camped by Gabaa:

20 And going out from thence to fight against Benjamin, began to assault the city.

21 And the children of Benjamin coming out of Gabaa, slew of the children of Israel that day two and twenty thousand men.

22 Again Israel trusting in their strength and their number, set their army in array in the same place, where they had fought before:

23 Yet so that they first went up and wept before the Lord until night: and consulted him, and said: Shall I go out any more to fight against the children of Benjamin my brethren, or no? And he answered them: Go up against them, and join battle.

24 And when the children of Israel went out the next day to fight against the children of Benjamin,

25 The children of Benjamin sallied forth out of the gates of Gabaa: and meeting them made so great a slaughter of them, as to kill eighteen thousand men that drew the sword.

26 Wherefore all the children of Israel came to the house of God, and sat and wept before the Lord: and they fasted that day till the evening, and offered to him holocausts, and victims of peace-offerings,

27 And inquired of him concerning their state. At that time the ark of the covenant of the Lord was there,

28 And Phinees the son of Eleazar the son of Aaron was over the house. So they consulted the Lord, and said: Shall we go out any more to fight against the children of Benjamin our brethren, or shall we cease? And the Lord, said to them: Go up, for to-morrow I will deliver them into your hands.

29 And the children of Israel set ambushes round about the city of Gabaa:

30 And they drew up their army against Benjamin the third time, as they had done the first and second.

31 And the children of Benjamin boldly issued out of the city, and seeing their enemies flee, pursued them a long way, so as to wound and kill some of them, as they had done the first and second day, whilst they fled by two highways, whereof one goeth up to Bethel, and the other to Gabaa, and they slew about thirty men:

32 For they thought to cut them off, as they did before. But they artfully feigning a flight, designed to draw them away from the city, and by their seeming to flee to bring them to the high ways aforesaid.

33 Then all the children of Israel rising up out of the places where they were, set their army in battle array, in the place which is called Baalthamar. The ambushes also which were about the city, began by little and little to come forth,

34 And to march from the west side of the city. And other ten thousand men chosen out of all Israel attacked the inhabitants of the city. And the battle grew hot against the children of Benjamin: and they understood not that present death threatened them on every side.

35 And the Lord defeated them before the children of Israel, and they slew of them in that day five and twenty thousand, and one hundred, all fighting men and that drew the sword.

36 But the children of Benjamin when they saw themselves to be too weak, began to flee. Which the children of Israel seeing, gave them place to flee, that they might CHAP. XX. VER. 22. Trusting in their strength. The Lord suffered them to be overthrown and many of them to be slain, though their cause was just; partly in punishment of the idolatry which they exercised or tolerated in the tribe of Dan, and elsewhere; and partly because they trusted in their own strength: and therefore though he bid them fight, he would not give them the victory, till they were thoroughly humbled and had learned to trust in him alone.

come to the ambuſhes that were prepared, which they had ſet near the city.

37 And they that were in ambuſh aroſe on a ſudden out of their coverts, and whilſt Benjamin turned their backs to the ſlayers, went into the city, and ſmote it with the edge of the ſword.

38 Now the children of Iſrael had given a ſign to them, whom they had laid in ambuſhes, that after they had taken the city, they ſhould make a fire: that by the ſmoke riſing on high, they might ſhew that the city was taken.

39 And when the children of Iſrael ſaw this in the battle (for the children of Benjamin thought they fled, and purſued them vigorouſly, killing thirty men of their army)

40 And perceived as it were a pillar of ſmoak riſe up from the city; and Benjamin looking back, ſaw that the city was taken, and that the flames aſcended on high:

41 They that before had made as if they fled, turning their faces ſtood bravely againſt them. Which the children of Benjamin ſeeing, turned their backs.

42 And began to go towards the way of the deſert, the enemy purſuing them thither alſo. And they that fired the city came alſo out to meet them.

43 And ſo it was, that they were ſlain on both ſides by the enemies, and there was no reſt of their men dying. They fell and were beaten down on the eaſt ſide of the city Gabaa.

44 And they that were ſlain in the ſame place, were eighteen thouſand men, all moſt valiant ſoldiers.

45 And when they that remained of Benjamin ſaw this, they fled into the wilderneſs, and made towards the rock that is called Remmon. In that flight alſo as they were ſtraggling, and going different ways, they ſlew of them five thouſand men. And as they went farther, they ſtill purſued them, and ſlew alſo other two thouſand.

46 And ſo it came to paſs, that all that were ſlain of Benjamin in divers places, were five and twenty thouſand fighting men, moſt valiant for war.

47 And there remained of all the number of Benjamin only ſix hundred men that were able to eſcape, and flee to the wilderneſs: and they abode in the rock Remmon four months.

48 But the children of Iſrael returning, put all the remains of the city to the ſword, both men and beaſts, and all the cities and villages of Benjamin were conſumed with devouring flames.

CHAP. XXI.

The tribe of Benjamin is ſaved from being utterly extinct, by providing wives for the ſix hundred that remained.

NOW the children of Iſrael had alſo ſworn in Maſpha, ſaying: None of us ſhall give of his daughters to the children of Benjamin to wife.

2 And they all came to the houſe of God in Silo, and abiding before him till the evening, lifted up their voices, and began to lament and weep, ſaying:

3 O Lord God of Iſrael, why is ſo great an evil come to paſs in thy people, that this day one tribe ſhould be taken away from among us?

4 And riſing early the next day, they built an altar: and offered there holocauſts, and victims of peace, and they ſaid:

5 Who is there among all the tribes of Iſrael that came not up with the army of the Lord? for they had bound themſelves with a great oath, when they were in Maſpha, that whoſoever were wanting ſhould be ſlain.

6 And the children of Iſrael being moved with repentance for their brother Benjamin, began to ſay: One tribe is taken away from Iſrael,

7 Whence ſhall they take wives? For we have all in general ſworn, not to give our daughters to them.

8 Therefore they ſaid: Who is there of all the tribes of Iſrael, that came not up to the Lord to Maſpha? And behold the inhabitants of Jabes Galaad were found not to have been in that army.

9 (At that time alſo when they were in Silo, no one of them was found there.)

10 So they ſent ten thouſand of the moſt valiant men, and commanded them, ſaying: Go and put the inhabitants of Jabes Galaad to the ſword, with their wives and their children.

11 And this is what you ſhall obſerve: ‖ Every male, and all women that have known men, you ſhall kill, but the virgins you ſhall ſave. ‖ Num. 31. 17, 18.

12 And there were found of Jabes Galaad four hundred virgins, that had not known the bed of a man, and they brought them to the camp in Silo, into the land of Chanaan.

13 And they ſent meſſengers to the children of Benjamin, that were in the rock Remmon, and commanded them to receive them in peace.

14 And the children of Benjamin came at that time, and wives were given them of Jabes Galaad: but they found no others, whom they might give in like manner.

15 And all Iſrael was very ſorry, and repented for the deſtroying of one tribe out of Iſrael.

16 And the ancients ſaid: What ſhall we do with the reſt, that have not received wives? for all the women in Benjamin are dead.

17 And we muſt uſe all care, and provide with great diligence, that one tribe be not deſtroyed out of Iſrael.

18 For as to our own daughters we cannot give them, being bound with an oath and a curſe, whereby we ſaid: Curſed be he that ſhall give Benjamin any of his daughters to wife.

19 So they took counſel, and ſaid: Behold there is a yearly ſolemnity of the Lord in Silo, which is ſituate on the north of the city of Bethel, and on the eaſt ſide of the way, that goeth from Bethel to Sichem, and on the ſouth of the town of Lebona.

20 And they commanded the children of Benjamin, and ſaid: Go, and lie hid in the vineyards,

21 And when you ſhall ſee the daughters of Silo come out, as the cuſtom is to dance, come ye on a ſudden out of the vineyards, and catch you every man his wife among them, and go into the land of Benjamin.

22 And when their fathers and their brethren ſhall come, and ſhall begin to complain againſt you, and to chide, we will ſay to them: Have pity on them: for they took them not away as by the right of war or conqueſt, but when they aſked to have them, you gave them not, and the fault was committed on your part.

23 And the children of Benjamin did, as they had been commanded: and according to their number, they carried off for themſelves every man his wife of them that were dancing: and they went into their poſſeſſion and built up their cities, and dwelt in them.

24 The children of Iſrael alſo returned by their tribes, and families, to their dwellings. In thoſe days there was no king in Iſrael: but every one did that which ſeemed right to himſelf.

THE BOOK OF RUTH.

This book is called RUTH, from the name of the perſon whoſe hiſtory is here recorded: who, being a gentile, became a convert to the true faith, and marrying Booz the great-grandfather of David, was one of thoſe from whom Chriſt ſprung according to the fleſh, and an illuſtrious figure of the gentile church. It is thought this book was written by the prophet Samuel.

CHAP. I.

Elimelech of Bethlehem going with his wife Noemi, and two ſons, into the land of Moab, dieth there. His ſons marry wives of that country and die without iſſue. Noemi returneth home with her daughter-in-law Ruth, who refuſeth to part with her.

A. M. circiter 2706. Ante C. 1298.

IN the days of one of the judges, when the judges ruled, there came a famine in the land. And a certain man of Bethlehem Juda, went to ſojourn in the land of Moab with his wife and his two ſons.

2 He was named Elimelech, and his wife, Noemi: and his two ſons, the one Mahalon, and the other Chelion, Ephrathites of Bethlehem Juda. And entering into the country of Moab, they abode there.

3 And Elimelech the huſband of Noemi died: and ſhe remained with her ſons.

4 And they took wives of the women of Moab, of which one was called Orpha, and the other Ruth. And they dwelt there ten years,

5 And they both died, to wit, Mahalon and Chelion: and the woman was left alone, having loſt both her ſons and her huſband.

6 And ſhe aroſe to go from the land of Moab to her own country with both her daughters-in-law: for ſhe had heard that the Lord had looked upon his people, and had given them food.

7 Wherefore ſhe went forth out of the place of her ſojournment, with both her daughters-in-law: and being now in the way to return into the land of Juda,

8 She ſaid to them: Go ye home to your mothers, the Lord deal mercifully with you, as you have dealt with the dead and with me.

9 May he grant you to find reſt in the houſes of the huſbands which you ſhall take. And ſhe kiſſed them. And they lifted up their voice and began to weep,

10 And to ſay: We will go on with thee to thy people.

11 But ſhe anſwered them: Return, my daughters, why come ye with me? have I any more ſons in my womb, that you may hope for huſbands of me?

12 Return again, my daughters, and go your ways: for I am now ſpent with age, and not fit for wedlock. Although I might conceive this night, and bear children,

13 If you would wait till they were grown up, and come to man's eſtate, you would be old women before you marry. Do not ſo, my daughters, I beſeech you: for I am grieved the more for your diſtreſs, and the hand of the Lord is gone out againſt me.

14 And they lifted up their voice, and began to weep again: Orpha kiſſed her mother-in-law and returned: Ruth ſtuck cloſe to her mother-in-law.

15 And Noemi ſaid to her: Behold thy kinſwoman is returned to her people, and to her gods, go thou with her.

16 She anſwered: Be not againſt me, to deſire that I ſhould leave thee and depart: for whitherſoever thou ſhalt go, I will go: and where thou ſhalt dwell, I alſo will dwell. Thy people ſhall be my people, and thy God my God.

17 The land that ſhall receive thee dying, in the ſame will I die: and there will I be buried. The Lord do ſo and ſo to me, and add more alſo, if ought but death part me and thee.

18 Then Noemi ſeeing, that Ruth was ſteadfaſtly determined to go with her, would not be againſt it, nor perſuade her any more to return to her friends:

19 So they went together and came to Bethlehem. And when they were come into the city, the report was quickly ſpread among all: and the women ſaid: This is that Noemi.

20 But ſhe ſaid to them: Call me not Noemi (that is, beautiful), but call me Mara (that is, bitter), for the Almighty hath quite filled me with bitterneſs.

21 I went out full, and the Lord hath brought me back empty. Why then do you call me Noemi, whom the Lord hath humbled, and the Almighty hath afflicted?

22 So Noemi came with Ruth the Moabiteſs her daughter-in-law, from the land of her ſojournment: and returned into Bethlehem, in the beginning of the barley harveſt.

CHAP. II.

Ruth gleaneth in the field of Booz: who ſheweth her favour.

NOW her huſband Elimelech had a kinſman, a powerful man, and very rich, whoſe name was Booz.

2 And Ruth the Moabiteſs ſaid to her mother-in-law: If thou wilt, I will go into the field, and glean the ears of corn that eſcape the hands of the reapers, whereſoever I ſhall find grace with a houſeholder that will be favourable to me. And ſhe anſwered her: Go, my daughter.

3 She went therefore and gleaned the ears of corn after the reapers. And it happened that the owner of that field was Booz, who was of the kindred of Elimelech.

4 And behold, he came out of Bethlehem, and ſaid to the reapers: The Lord be with you. And they anſwered him: The Lord bleſs thee.

5 And Booz ſaid to the young man that was ſet over the reapers: Whoſe maid is this?

6 And he anſwered him: This is the CHAP. I. VER. 15. To her gods, &c. Noemi did not mean to perſuade Ruth to return to her falſe gods ſhe had formerly worſhipped: but by this manner of ſpeech, inſinuated to her, that if ſhe would go with her, ſhe muſt renounce her falſe gods, and return to the Lord the God of Iſrael.

VER. 17. The Lord do ſo and ſo, &c. A form of ſwearing uſual in the hiſtory of the Old Teſtament, by which the perſon wiſhed ſuch and ſuch evils to fall upon them, if they did not do what they ſaid.

Moabiteſs who came with Noemi, from the land of Moab,

7 And ſhe deſired leave to glean the ears of corn that remain, following the ſteps of the reapers: and ſhe hath been in the field from morning till now, and hath not gone home for one moment.

8 And Booz ſaid to Ruth: Hear me daughter, do not go to glean in any other field, and do not depart from this place: but keep with my maids,

9 And follow where they reap. For I have charged my young men, not to moleſt thee: and if thou art thirſty, go to the veſſels, and drink of the waters whereof the ſervants drink.

10 She fell on her face and worſhipping upon the ground, ſaid to him: Whence cometh this to me, that I ſhould find grace before thy eyes, and that thou ſhouldſt vouchſafe to take notice of me a woman of another country?

11 And he anſwered her: All hath been told me, that thou haſt done to thy mother-in-law after the death of thy huſband: and how thou haſt left thy parents, and the land wherein thou waſt born, and art come to a people which thou kneweſt not heretofore.

12 The Lord render unto thee for thy work, and mayſt thou receive a full reward of the Lord the God of Iſrael, to whom thou art come, and under whoſe wings thou art fled.

13 And ſhe ſaid: I have found grace in thy eyes, my lord, who haſt comforted me, and haſt ſpoken to the heart of thy handmaid, who am not like to one of thy maids.

14 And Booz ſaid to her: At meal-time come thou hither, and eat of the bread, and dip thy morſel in the vinegar. So ſhe ſat at the ſide of the reapers, and ſhe heaped to herſelf frumenty, and ate and was filled, and took the leavings.

15 And ſhe aroſe from thence, to glean the ears of corn as before. And Booz commanded his ſervants, ſaying: If ſhe would even reap with you, hinder her not:

16 And let fall ſome of your handfuls of purpoſe, and leave them, that ſhe may gather them without ſhame, and let no man rebuke her when ſhe gathereth them.

17 She gleaned therefore in the field till evening: and beating out with a rod and threſhing what ſhe had gleaned, ſhe found about the meaſure of an ephi of barley, that is, three buſhels:

18 Which ſhe took up and returned into the city, and ſhewed it to her mother-in-law: moreover ſhe brought out, and gave her of the remains of her meat, wherewith ſhe had been filled.

19 And her mother-in-law ſaid to her: Where haſt thou gleaned to-day, and where haſt thou wrought? bleſſed be he that hath had pity on thee. And ſhe told her with whom ſhe had wrought: and ſhe told the man's name, that he was called Booz.

20 And Noemi anſwered her: Bleſſed be he of the Lord: becauſe the ſame kindneſs which he ſhewed to the living, he hath kept alſo to the dead. And again ſhe ſaid: The man is our kinſman.

21 And Ruth ſaid, He alſo charged me, that I ſhould keep cloſe to his reapers, till all the corn ſhould be reaped.

22 And her mother-in-law ſaid to her: It is better for thee, my daughter, to go out to reap with his maids, leſt in another man's field ſome one may reſiſt thee.

23 So ſhe kept cloſe to the maids of Booz: and continued to glean with them, till all the barley and the wheat were laid up in the barns.

CHAP. III.

Ruth inſtructed by her mother-in-law lieth at Booz's feet, claiming him for her huſband by the law of affinity: ſhe receiveth a good anſwer, and ſix meaſures of barley.

AFTER ſhe was returned to her mother-in-law, Noemi ſaid to her: My daughter, I will ſeek reſt for thee, and will provide that it may be well with thee.

2 This Booz, with whoſe maids thou waſt joined in the field, is our near kinſman, and behold this night he winnoweth barley in the threſhing-floor.

3 Waſh thyſelf therefore and anoint thee, and put on thy beſt garments, and go down to the barn-floor: but let not the man ſee thee, till he ſhall have done eating and drinking.

4 And when he ſhall go to ſleep, mark the place wherein he ſleepeth: and thou ſhalt go in, and lift up the cloaths wherewith he is covered towards his feet, and ſhalt lay thyſelf down there: and he will tell thee what thou muſt do.

5 She anſwered: Whatſoever thou ſhalt command, I will do.

6 And ſhe went down to the barn-floor, and did all that her mother-in-law had bid her.

7 And when Booz had eaten, and drunk, and was merry, he went to ſleep by the heap of ſheaves and ſhe came ſoftly, and uncovering his feet, laid herſelf down.

8 And behold, when it was now midnight the man was afraid, and troubled: and he saw a woman lying at his feet,

9 And he said to her: Who art thou? And she answered: I am Ruth thy handmaid: spread thy coverlet over thy servant, for thou art a near kinsman.

10 And he said: Blessed art thou of the Lord, my daughter, and thy latter kindness has surpassed the former: because thou hast not followed young men either poor or rich.

11 Fear not therefore, but whatsoever thou shalt say to me I will do to thee. For all the people that dwell within the gates of my city, know that thou art a virtuous woman.

12 Neither do I deny myself to be near of kin, but there is another nearer than I.

13 Rest thou this night: and when morning is come, if he will take thee by the right of kindred, all is well: but if he will not, I will undoubtedly take thee, as the Lord liveth: sleep till the morning.

14 So she slept at his feet till the night was going off. And she arose before men could know one another, and Booz said: Beware lest any man know that thou camest hither.

15 And again he said: Spread thy mantle, wherewith thou art covered, and hold it with both hands. And when she spread it and held it, he measured six measures of barley, and laid it upon her. And she carried it and went into the city,

16 And came to her mother-in-law. Who said to her: What hast thou done, daughter? And she told her all that the man had done to her.

17 And she said: Behold he hath given me six measures of barley: for he said: I will not have thee return empty to thy mother-in-law.

18 And Noemi said: Wait, my daughter, till we see what end the thing will have. For the man will not rest until he have accomplished what he hath said.

CHAP. IV.

Upon the refusal of the nearer kinsman, Booz marrieth Ruth, who brings forth Obed, the grandfather of David.

THEN Booz went up to the gate, and sat there. And when he had seen the kinsman going by, of whom he had spoken before, he said to him, calling him by his name: Turn aside for a little while, and sit down here. He turned aside, and sat down.

2 And Booz taking ten men of the ancients of the city, said to them: Sit ye down here.

3 They sat down, and he spoke to the kinsman: Noemi, who is returned from the country of Moab, will sell a parcel of land that belonged to our brother Elimelech.

4 I would have thee to understand this, and would tell thee before all that sit here, and before the ancients of my people. If thou wilt take possession of it by the right of kindred: buy it and possess it: But if it please thee not, tell me so, that I may know what I have to do. For there is no near kinsman besides thee, who art first, and me, who am second. But he answered: I will buy the field.

5 And Booz said to him: When thou shalt buy the field at the woman's hand, thou must take also Ruth the Moabitess, who was the wife of the deceased: to raise up the name of thy kinsman in his inheritance.

6 He answered: I yield up my right of next akin: for I must not cut off the posterity of my own family. Do thou make use of my privilege, which I profess I do willingly forego.

7 ‖ Now this in former times was the manner in Israel between kinsmen, that if at any time one yielded his right to another: that the grant might be sure, the man put off his shoe, and gave it to his neighbour, this was a testimony of cession of right in Israel. ‖ Deut. 25. 7.

8 So Booz said to his kinsman: Put off thy shoe. And immediately he took it off from his foot.

9 And he said to the ancients and to all the people: You are witnesses this day, that I have bought all that was Elimelech's, and Chelion's, and Mahalon's, of the hand of Noemi:

10 And have taken to wife Ruth the Moabitess, the wife of Mahalon, to raise up the name of the deceased in his inheritance, lest his name be cut off, from among his family and his brethren and his people. You, I say, are witnesses of this thing.

11 Then all the people that were in the gate, and the ancients answered: We are witnesses: The Lord make this woman who cometh into thy house, like Rachel, and Lia, who built up the house of Israel: that she may be an example of virtue in Ephrata, and may have a famous name in Bethlehem:

CHAP. III. VER. 10. Thy latter kindness, viz. to thy husband deceased in seeking to keep up his name and family, by marrying his relation according to the law, and not following after young men. For Booz, it seems, was then in years.

‖ Gen. 38. 29.

13 Booz therefore took Ruth, and married her: and went in unto her, and the Lord gave her to conceive and to bear a ſon.

14 And the women ſaid to Noemi: Bleſſed be the Lord, who hath not ſuffered thy family to want a ſucceſſor: that his name ſhould be preſerved in Iſrael.

15 And thou ſhouldſt have one to comfort thy ſoul, and cheriſh thy old age. For he is born of thy daughter-in-law: who loveth thee: and is much better to thee, than if thou hadſt ſeven ſons.

16 And Noemi taking the child laid it in her boſom, and ſhe carried it, and was a nurſe unto it.

17 And the women her neighbours, congratulating with her and ſaying: There is a ſon born to Noemi: called his name Obed: he is the father of Iſai, the father of David.

THE FIRST BOOK OF SAMUEL, OTHERWISE CALLED THE FIRST BOOK OF KINGS.

This and the following book are called by the Hebrews the books of Samuel, becauſe they contain the hiſtory of Samuel, and of the two kings, Saul and David, whom he anointed. They are more commonly named by the Fathers the firſt and ſecond book of kings. As to the writer of them, it is the common opinion that Samuel compoſed the firſt book, as far as the twenty-fifth chapter; and that the prophets Nathan and Gad finiſhed the firſt, and wrote the ſecond book. See 1 Paralipomenon, alias 1 Chronicles xix. 19.

CHAP. I.

Anna the wife of Elcana being barren, by vow and prayer obtaineth a ſon: whom ſhe calleth Samuel: and preſenteth him to the ſervice of God in Silo, according to her vow.

THERE was a man of Ramathaimſophim, of mount Ephraim, and his name was Elcana, the ſon of Jeroham, the ſon of Eliu, the ſon of Thohu, the ſon of Suph, an Ephraimite:

2 And he had two wives, the name of one was Anna, and the name of the other Phenenna. Phenenna had children: but Anna had no children.

3 And this man went up out of his city upon the appointed days, to adore and to offer ſacrifice to the Lord of hoſts in Silo.

CHAP. I. VER. 1. An Ephraimite. He was of the Ephraimite from dwelling tribe of Levi, 1 Paralip. vi. 34. but is called an in mount Ephraim.

And the two ſons of Heli, Ophni and Phinees, were there prieſts of the Lord.

4 Now the day came, and Elcana offered ſacrifice, and gave to Phenenna his wife, and to all her ſons and daughters, portions:

5 But to Anna he gave one portion with ſorrow, becauſe he loved Anna. And the Lord had ſhut up her womb.

6 Her rival alſo afflicted her, and troubled her exceedingly, inſomuch that ſhe upbraided her, that the Lord had ſhut up her womb:

7 And thus ſhe did every year, when the time returned, that they went up to the temple of the Lord: and thus ſhe provoked her: but Anna wept, and did not eat.

8 Then Elcana her huſband ſaid to her: Anna, why weepeſt thou? and why doſt thou not eat? And why doſt thou afflict thy heart? Am not I better to thee, than ten children?

9 So Anna aroſe after ſhe had eaten and drunk in Silo: * And Heli the prieſt ſitting upon a ſtool before the door of the temple of the Lord:

* A. M. 2848. Ante C. 1156.

10 As Anna had her heart full of grief, ſhe prayed to the Lord, ſhedding many tears,

11 And ſhe made a vow, ſaying: O Lord of hoſts, if thou wilt look down and wilt be mindful of me, and not forget thy handmaid, and wilt give to thy ſervant a man-child: I will give him to the Lord all the days of his life, and no razor ſhall come upon his head.

12 And it came to paſs, as ſhe multiplied prayers before the Lord, that Heli obſerved her mouth.

13 Now Anna ſpoke in her heart, and only her lips moved, but her voice was not heard at all. Heli therefore thought her to be drunk,

14 And ſaid to her: How long wilt thou be drunk? digeſt a little the wine, of which thou haſt taken too much.

15 Anna anſwering, ſaid: Not ſo, my lord: for I am an exceeding unhappy woman, and have drunk neither wine nor any ſtrong drink, but I have poured out my ſoul before the Lord.

16 Count not thy handmaid for one of the daughters of Belial: for out of the abundance of my ſorrow and grief have I ſpoken till now.

17 Then Heli ſaid to her: Go in peace: and the God of Iſrael grant thee thy petition, which thou haſt aſked of him.

18 And ſhe ſaid: Would to God thy handmaid may find grace in thy eyes. So the woman went on her way, and ate, and her countenance was no more changed.

19 And they roſe in the morning, and worſhipped before the Lord: and they returned, and came into their houſe at Ramatha. And Elcana knew Anna his wife: And the Lord remembered her.

20 And it came to paſs when the time was come about, Anna conceived and bore a ſon, * and called his name Samuel: becauſe ſhe had aſked him of the Lord.

* A. M. 2849. Ante C. 1155.

21 And Elcana her huſband went up, and all his houſe, to offer to the Lord the ſolemn ſacrifice, and his vow.

22 But Anna went not up: for ſhe ſaid to her huſband: I will not go till the child be weaned, and till I may carry him, that he may appear before the Lord, and may abide always there.

23 And Elcana her huſband ſaid to her: Do what ſeemeth good to thee, and ſtay till thou wean him: and I pray that the Lord may fulfil his word. So the woman ſtaid at home, and gave her ſon ſuck, till ſhe weaned him.

24 And after ſhe had weaned him, ſhe carried him with her, with three calves, and three buſhels of flour, and a bottle of wine, and ſhe brought him to the houſe of the Lord in Silo. Now the child was as yet very young:

25 And they immolated a calf, and offered the child to Heli.

26 And Anna ſaid: I beſeech thee, my lord, as thy ſoul liveth, my lord: I am that woman who ſtood before thee here praying to the Lord.

27 For this child did I pray, and the Lord hath granted me my petition, which I aſked of him.

28 Therefore I alſo have lent him to the Lord all the days of his life, he ſhall be lent to the Lord. And they adored the Lord there. And Anna prayed, and ſaid:

The canticle of Anna. The wickedneſs of the ſons of Heli: for which they are not duly corrected by their father. A prophecy againſt the houſe of Heli.

MY heart hath rejoiced in the Lord, and my horn is exalted in my God: my mouth is enlarged over my enemies: becauſe I have joyed in thy ſalvation.

VER. 20. Samuel. This name imports, Aſked of God.

CHAP. II. VER. 1. My horn. The horn in the ſcriptures ſignifies ſtrength, power and glory: ſo the horn is ſaid to be exalted, when a perſon receives an increaſe of ſtrength or glory.

2 There is none holy as the Lord is: for there is no other beſide thee, and there is none ſtrong like our God.

3 Do not multiply to ſpeak lofty things, boaſting: let old matters depart from your mouth: for the Lord is a God of all knowledge, and to him are thoughts prepared.

4 The bow of the mighty is overcome, and the weak are girt with ſtrength.

5 They that were full before have hired out themſelves for bread: and the hungry are filled, ſo that the barren hath borne many: and ſhe that had many children is weakened.

‖ Deut. 32. 39. Tobias 13. 2. Wiſd. 16. 13.

6 ‖ The Lord killeth and maketh alive, he bringeth down to hell and bringeth back again.

7 The Lord maketh poor and maketh rich, he humbleth and he exalteth.

8 He raiſeth up the needy from the duſt, and lifteth up the poor from the dunghill: that he may ſit with princes, and hold the throne of glory. For the poles of the earth are the Lord's, and upon them he hath ſet the world.

9 He will keep the feet of his ſaints, and the wicked ſhall be ſilent in darkneſs, becauſe no man ſhall prevail by his own ſtrength.

10 The adverſaries of the Lord ſhall fear him: and upon them ſhall he thunder in the heavens: The Lord ſhall judge the ends of the earth, and he ſhall give empire to his king, and ſhall exalt the horn of his Chriſt.

11 And Elcana went to Ramatha, to his houſe: but the child miniſtered in the ſight of the Lord before the face of Heli the prieſt.

12 Now the ſons of Heli, were children of Belial, not knowing the Lord,

13 Nor the office of the prieſts to the people: but whoſoever had offered a ſacrifice, the ſervant of the prieſt came, while the fleſh was in boiling, with a fleſh-hook of three teeth in his hand,

14 And thruſt it into the kettle, or into the cauldron, or into the pot, or into the pan: and all that the fleſh-hook brought up, the prieſt took to himſelf. Thus did they to all Iſrael that came to Silo.

15 Alſo before they burnt the fat, the ſervant of the prieſt came, and ſaid to the man that ſacrificed: Give me fleſh to boil for the prieſt: for I will not take of thee ſodden fleſh, but raw.

16 And he that ſacrificed ſaid to him: Let the fat firſt be burnt to-day according to the cuſtom, and then take as much as thy ſoul deſireth. But he anſwered and ſaid to him: Not ſo: but thou ſhalt give it me now, or elſe I will take it by force.

17 Wherefore the ſin of the young men was exceeding great before the Lord: becauſe they withdrew men from the ſacrifice of the Lord.

18 But Samuel miniſtered before the face of the Lord: being a child girded with a linen ephod.

19 And his mother made him a little coat, which ſhe brought to him on the appointed days, when ſhe went up with her huſband, to offer the ſolemn ſacrifice.

20 And Heli bleſſed Elcana and his wife: and he ſaid to him: The Lord give thee ſeed of this woman, for the loan thou haſt lent to the Lord. And they went to their own home.

21 And the Lord viſited Anna, and ſhe conceived, and bore three ſons, and two daughters: and the child Samuel became great before the Lord.

22 Now Heli was very old, and he heard all that his ſons did to all Iſrael: and how they lay with the women that waited at the door of the tabernacle:

23 And he ſaid to them: Why do ye theſe kind of things, which I hear, very wicked things, from all the people?

24 Do not ſo, my ſons: for it is no good report that I hear, that you make the people of the Lord to tranſgreſs.

25 If one man ſhall ſin againſt another, God may be appeaſed in his behalf: but if a man ſhall ſin againſt the Lord, who ſhall pray for him? And they hearkened not to the voice of their father, becauſe the Lord would ſlay them.

26 But the child Samuel advanced, and grew on, and pleaſed both the Lord and men.

27 And there came a man of God to Heli, and ſaid to him: Thus ſaith the Lord: Did I not plainly appear to thy father's houſe, when they were in Egypt in the houſe of Pharao?

28 And I choſe him out of all the tribes of Iſrael to be my prieſt, to go up to my altar, and burn incenſe to me, and to wear

---

VER. 25. Who ſhall pray for him. By theſe words Heli would have his ſons underſtand, that by their wicked abuſe of ſacred things, and of the very ſacrifices which were appointed to appeaſe the Lord, they deprived themſelves of the ordinary means of reconciliation with God; which was by ſacrifices. The more, becauſe as they were the chief prieſts, whoſe buſineſs it was to intercede for all others, they had no other to offer ſacrifice and to make atonement for them.

Ibid. Becauſe the Lord would ſlay them. In conſequence of their manifold ſacrileges, he would not ſoften their hearts with his efficacious grace, but was determined to deſtroy them.

the ephod before me: and I gave to thy father's house of all the sacrifices of the children of Israel.

29 Why have you kicked away my victims, and my gifts which I commanded to be offered in the temple: and thou hast rather honoured thy sons than me, to eat the first-fruits of every sacrifice of my people Israel?

30 Wherefore thus saith the Lord the God of Israel: ‖ I said indeed that thy house, and the house of thy father should minister in my sight, for ever. But now saith the Lord: Far be this from me: but whosoever shall glorify me, him will I glorify: but they that despise me, shall be despised.

‖ 3 Kings 2. 27.

31 Behold the days come: and I will cut off thy arm, and the arm of thy father's house, that there shall not be an old man in thy house.

32 And thou shalt see thy rival in the temple, in all the prosperity of Israel, and there shall not be an old man in thy house for ever.

33 However I will not altogether take away a man of thee from my altar: but that thy eyes may faint, and thy soul be spent: and a great part of thy house shall die when they come to man's estate.

34 And this shall be a sign to thee, that shall come upon thy two sons, Ophni and Phinees: In one day they shall both of them die.

35 And I will raise me up a faithful priest, who shall do according to my heart, and my soul: and I will build him a faithful house, and he shall walk all days before my anointed.

36 And it shall come to pass, that whosoever shall remain in thy house, shall come that he may be prayed for, and shall offer a piece of silver, and a roll of bread, and shall say: Put me, I beseech thee, to somewhat of the priestly office, that I may eat a morsel of bread.

CHAP. III.

Samuel is four times called by the Lord: who revealeth to him the evil that shall fall on Heli, and his house.

A. M. 2861. Ante C. 1143. NOW the child Samuel ministered to the Lord before Heli, and the word of the Lord was precious in those days, there was no manifest vision.

2 And it came to pass one day when Heli lay in his place, and his eyes were grown dim, that he could not see:

3 Before the lamp of God went out, Samuel slept in the temple of the Lord, where the ark of God was.

4 And the Lord called Samuel. And he answered: Here am I.

5 And he ran to Heli and said: Here am I: for thou didst call me. He said: I did not call: go back and sleep. And he went and slept.

6 And the Lord called Samuel again. And Samuel arose and went to Heli, and said: Here am I: for thou calledst me. He answered: I did not call thee, my son: return and sleep.

7 Now Samuel did not yet know the Lord, neither had the word of the Lord been revealed to him.

8 And the Lord called Samuel again the third time. And he arose up and went to Heli,

9 And said: Here am I: for thou didst call me: Then Heli understood that the Lord called the child, and he said to Samuel: Go, and sleep: and if he shall call thee any more, thou shalt say: Speak Lord, for thy servant heareth. So Samuel went and slept in his place.

10 And the Lord came, and stood: and he called, as he had called the other times, Samuel, Samuel. And Samuel, said: Speak Lord, for thy servant heareth.

11 And the Lord said to Samuel: Behold I do a thing in Israel: and whosoever shall hear it, both his ears shall tingle.

12 In that day I will raise up against Heli all the things I have spoken concerning his house: I will begin, and I will make an end.

13 For I have foretold unto him, that I will judge his house for ever, for iniquity, because he knew that his sons did wickedly, and did not chastise them.

14 Therefore have I sworn to the house of Heli, that the iniquity of his house shall not be expiated with victims nor offerings for ever.

15 And Samuel slept till morning, and opened the doors of the house of the Lord. And Samuel feared to tell the vision to Heli.

16 Then Heli called Samuel: and said: Samuel, my son: And he answered: Here am I.

VER. 32. Thy rival. A priest of another race. This was partly fulfilled, when Abiathar, of the race of Heli, was removed from the priesthood, and Sadoc, who was of another line, was substituted in his place. But it was more fully accomplished in the New Testament, when the priesthood of Aaron gave place to that of Christ.

CHAP. III. VER. 1. Precious. That is, rare.

17 And he asked him: What is the word that the Lord hath spoken to thee? I beseech thee hide it not from me. May God do so and so to thee, and add so and so, if thou hide from me one word of all that were said to thee.

18 So Samuel told him all the words, and did not hide them from him. And he answered: It is the Lord: let him do what is good in his sight.

19 And Samuel grew, and the Lord was with him, and not one of his words fell to the ground.

20 And all Israel from Dan to Bersabee, knew that Samuel was a faithful prophet of the Lord.

21 And the Lord again appeared in Silo, for the Lord revealed himself to Samuel in Silo, according to the word of the Lord. And the word of Samuel came to pass to all Israel.

CHAP. IV.

The Israelites being overcome by the Philistines, send for the ark of God: but they are beaten again, the sons of Heli are killed, and the ark taken: upon the hearing of the news, Heli falleth backward and dieth.

A. M. 2888. Ante C. 1116. AND it came to pass in those days, that the Philistines gathered themselves together to fight: and Israel went out to war against the Philistines, and camped by the Stone of help. And the Philistines came to Aphec,

2 And put their army in array against Israel. And when they had joined battle, Israel turned their backs to the Philistines: and there were slain in that fight here and there in the fields about four thousand men.

3 And the people returned to the camp: and the ancients of Israel said: Why hath the Lord defeated us to-day before the Philistines? Let us fetch unto us the ark of the covenant of the Lord from Silo, and let it come in the midst of us, that it may save us from the hand of our enemies.

4 So the people sent to Silo, and they brought from thence the ark of the covenant of the Lord of hosts sitting upon the Cherubims: and the two sons of Heli, Ophni and Phinees, were with the ark of the covenant of God.

5 And when the ark of the covenant of the Lord was come into the camp all Israel shouted with a great shout, and the earth rang again.

6 And the Philistines heard the noise of the shout, and they said: What is this noise of a great shout in the camp of the Hebrews? And they understood that the ark of the Lord was come into the camp.

7 And the Philistines were afraid, saying: God is come into the camp. And sighing, they said:

8 Wo to us: for there was no such great joy yesterday and the day before: Wo to us. Who shall deliver us from the hand of these high Gods? these are the Gods that struck Egypt with all the plagues in the desert.

9 Take courage and behave like men, ye Philistines: lest you come to be servants to the Hebrews, as they have served you: take courage and fight.

10 So the Philistines fought, and Israel was overthrown, and every man fled to his own dwelling: and there was an exceeding great slaughter; for there fell of Israel thirty thousand footmen.

11 And the ark of God was taken: and the two sons of Heli, Ophni and Phinees, were slain.

12 And there ran a man of Benjamin out of the army, and came to Silo the same day, with his clothes rent, and his head strewed with dust.

13 And when he was come, Heli sat upon a stool over-against the way watching. For his heart was fearful for the ark of God. And when the man was come into the city, he told it: and all the city cried out.

14 And Heli heard the noise of the cry, and he said: What meaneth the noise of this uproar? But he made haste, and came, and told Heli.

15 Now Heli was ninety and eight years old, and his eyes were dim, and he could not see.

16 And he said to Heli: I am he that came from the battle, and have fled out of the field this day. And he said to him: What is there done, my son?

17 And he that brought the news answered, and said: Israel is fled before the Philistines, and there has been a great slaughter of the people: moreover thy two sons, Ophni and Phinees, are dead: and the ark of God is taken.

18 And when he had named the ark of God, he fell from his stool backwards by the door, and broke his neck and died. For he was an old man, and far advanced in years: And he judged Iſrael forty years.

19 And his daughter-in-law the wife of Phinees, was big with child, and near her time: and hearing the news that the ark of God was taken, and her father-in-law, and her huſband, were dead, ſhe bowed herſelf and fell in labour: for her pains came upon her on a ſudden.

20 And when ſhe was upon the point of death, they that ſtood about her ſaid to her: Fear not, for thou haſt borne a ſon. She anſwered them not, nor gave heed to them.

21 And ſhe called the child Ichabod, ſaying: The glory is gone from Iſrael, becauſe the ark of God was taken, and for her father-in-law, and for her huſband:

22 And ſhe ſaid: The glory is departed from Iſrael, becauſe the ark of God was taken.

CHAP. V.

Dagon twice falleth down before the ark. The Philiſtines are grievouſly afflicted, wherever the ark cometh.

A. M. 2888. AND the Philiſtines took the ark of God, and carried it from the Stone of help into Azotus.

2 And the Philiſtines took the ark of God, and brought it into the temple of Dagon, and ſet it by Dagon.

3 And when the Azotians aroſe early the next day, behold Dagon lay upon his face on the ground before the ark of the Lord: and they took Dagon, and ſet him again in his place.

4 And the next day again, when they roſe in the morning, they found Dagon lying upon his face on the earth before the ark of the Lord: and the head of Dagon, and both the palms of his hands were cut off upon the threſhold:

5 And only the ſtump of Dagon remained in its place. For this cauſe neither the prieſts of Dagon, nor any that go into the temple tread on the threſhold of Dagon in Azotus unto this day.

6 And the hand of the Lord was heavy upon the Azotians, and he deſtroyed them, ‖ and afflicted Azotus and the coaſts thereof with emerods. And in the villages and fields in the midſt of that country, there came forth a multitude of mice, and there was the confuſion of a great mortality in the city. ‖ Pſal. 77. 66.

7 And the men of Azotus ſeeing this kind of plague, ſaid: The ark of the God of Iſrael ſhall not ſtay with us: for his hand is heavy upon us, and upon Dagon our god.

8 And ſending, they gathered together all the lords of the Philiſtines to them, and ſaid: What ſhall we do with the ark of the God of Iſrael? And the Gethites anſwered: Let the ark of the God of Iſrael be carried about. And they carried the ark of the God of Iſrael about.

9 And while they were carrying it about, the hand of the Lord came upon every city with an exceeding great ſlaughter: and he ſmote the men of every city, both ſmall and great, and they had emerods in their ſecret parts. And the Gethites conſulted together, and made themſelves ſeats of ſkins.

10 Therefore they ſent the ark of God into Accaron. And when the ark of God was come into Accaron, the Accaronites cried out, ſaying: They have brought the ark of the God of Iſrael to us, to kill us and our people.

11 They ſent therefore and gathered together all the lords of the Philiſtines: and they ſaid: Send away the ark of the God of Iſrael, and let it return into its own place, and not kill us and our people.

12 For there was the fear of death in every city, and the hand of God was exceeding heavy. The men alſo that did not die, were afflicted with the emerods: and the cry of every city went up to heaven.

CHAP. VI.

The ark is ſent back to Bethſames: where many are ſlain for looking through curioſity into it.

NOW the ark of God was in the land of the Philiſtines ſeven months. A. M. 2888.

2 And the Philiſtines called for the prieſts and the diviners, ſaying: What ſhall we do with the ark of the Lord? tell us how we are to ſend it back to its place. And they ſaid:

3 If you ſend back the ark of the God of Iſrael, ſend it not away empty, but render unto him what you owe for ſin, and then you ſhall be healed: and you ſhall know why his hand departeth not from you.

4 They anſwered: What is it we ought to render unto him for ſin? and they anſwered:

5 According to the number of the pro-

VER. 21. Ichabod. That is, Where is the glory? or, there is no glory. We ſee how much the Iſraelites lamented the loſs of the ark, which was but the ſymbol of God's preſence amongſt them: How much more ought chriſtians to lament the loſs of God himſelf, when by ſin they have drove him out of their ſouls?

vinces of the Philiſtines you ſhall make five golden emerods, and five golden mice: for the ſame plague hath been upon you all, and upon your lords. And you ſhall make the likeneſs of your emerods, and the likeneſs of the mice, that have deſtroyed the land, and you ſhall give glory to the God of Iſrael: to ſee if he will take off his hand from you, and from your gods, and from your land.

6 Why do you harden your hearts, as Egypt and Pharao hardened their hearts? ‖ did not he, after he was ſtruck, then let them go, and they departed?

‖ Exod. 12. 31.

7 Now therefore take and make a new cart: and two kine that have calved, on which there hath come no yoke, tie to the cart, and ſhut up their calves at home.

8 And you ſhall take the ark of the Lord, and lay it on the cart, and the veſſels of gold, which you have paid him for ſin, you ſhall put into a little box, at the ſide thereof: and ſend it away that it may go.

9 And you ſhall look: and if it go up by the way of his own coaſts towards Bethſames, then he hath done us this great evil: but if not, we ſhall know that it is not his hand hath touched us, but it hath happened by chance.

10 They did therefore in this manner: and taking two kine, that had ſucking calves, they yoked them to the cart, and ſhut up their calves at home.

11 And they laid the ark of God upon the cart, and the little box that had in it the golden mice and the likeneſs of the emerods.

12 And the kine took the ſtraightway that leadeth to Bethſames, and they went along the way, lowing as they went: and turned not aſide neither to the right hand nor to the left: and the lords of the Philiſtines followed them as far as the borders of Bethſames.

13 Now the Bethſamites were reaping wheat in the valley: and lifting up their eyes they ſaw the ark, and rejoiced to ſee it.

14 And the cart came into the field of Joſue a Bethſamite, and ſtood there. And there was a great ſtone, and they cut in pieces the wood of the cart, and laid the kine upon it a holocauſt to the Lord.

15 And the Levites took down the ark of God, and the little box that was at the ſide of it, wherein were the veſſels of gold, and they put them upon the great ſtone. The men alſo of Bethſames offered holocauſts and ſacrificed victims that day to the Lord.

16 And the five princes of the Philiſtines ſaw, and they returned to Accaron the ſame day.

17 And theſe are the golden emerods, which the Philiſtines returned for ſin to the Lord: For Azotus one, for Gaza one, for Aſcalon one, for Geth one, for Accaron one:

18 And the golden mice according to the number of the cities of the Philiſtines, of the five provinces, from the fenced city to the village that was without wall, and to the great Abel (the ſtone) whereon they ſet down the ark of the Lord, which was till that day in the field of Joſue the Bethſamite.

19 But he ſlew of the men of Bethſames, becauſe they had ſeen the ark of the Lord: and he ſlew of the people ſeventy men, and fifty thouſand of the common people. And the people lamented, becauſe the Lord had ſmitten the people with a great ſlaughter.

20 And the men of Bethſames ſaid: Who ſhall be able to ſtand before the Lord this holy God? and to whom ſhall he go up from us?

21 And they ſent meſſengers to the inhabitants of Cariathiarim, ſaying: The Philiſtines have brought back the ark of the Lord, come ye down and fetch it up to you.

CHAP. VII.

The ark is brought to Cariathiarim. By Samuel's exhortation, the people caſt away their idols and ſerve God alone. The Lord defeateth the Philiſtines, while Samuel offereth ſacrifice.

AND the men of Cariathiarim came, and fetcht up the ark of the Lord, and carried it into the houſe of Abinadab in Gabaa: and they ſanctified Eleazar his ſon, to keep the ark of the Lord. A. M. 2888.

2 And it came to paſs, that from the day the ark of the Lord abode in Cariathiarim days were multiplied (for it was now the twentieth year) and all the houſe of Iſrael reſted following the Lord.

3 And Samuel ſpoke to all the houſe of Iſrael, ſaying: ‖ If you turn to the Lord with all your heart, put away the ſtrange gods from among you, Baalim and Aſtaroth: and prepare your hearts unto the Lord, and ſerve him only, and he will deliver you out of the hand of the Philiſtines.

‖ Deut. 6. 13. Mat. 4. 10.

CHAP. VI. VER. 19. Seen; and curiouſly looked into. It is likely this plague reached to all the neighbouring country, as well as the city of Bethſames.

CHAP. VII. VER. 1. In Gabaa. That is, on the hill, for Gabaa ſignifieth a hill.

4 Then the children of Iſrael put away Baalim and Aſtaroth, and ſerved the Lord only.

5 And Samuel ſaid: Gather all Iſrael to Maſphath, that I may pray to the Lord for you.

6 And they gathered together to Maſphath: and they drew water, and poured it out before the Lord, and they faſted on that day, and they ſaid there: We have ſinned againſt the Lord. And Samuel judged the children of Iſrael in Maſphath.

7 And the Philiſtines heard that the children of Iſrael were gathered together to Maſphath, and the lords of the Philiſtines went up againſt Iſrael. And when the children of Iſrael heard this, they were afraid of the Philiſtines.

8 And they ſaid to Samuel: Ceaſe not to cry to the Lord our God for us, that he may ſave us out of the hand of the Philiſtines.

9 And Samuel took a ſucking lamb, and offered it whole for a holocauſt to the Lord: and Samuel cried to the Lord for Iſrael, and the Lord heard him.

10 And it came to paſs, when Samuel was offering the holocauſt, the Philiſtines began the battle againſt Iſrael: ‖ but the Lord thundered with a great thunder on that day upon the Philiſtines, and terrified them, and they were overthrown before the face of Iſrael. ‖ Eccli. 46. 21.

11 And the men of Iſrael going out of Maſphath purſued after the Philiſtines, and made ſlaughter of them till they came under Bethchar.

12 And Samuel took a ſtone, and laid it between Maſphath and Sen: and he called the place, The ſtone of help. And he ſaid: Thus far the Lord hath helped us.

13 And the Philiſtines were humbled, and they did not come any more into the borders of Iſrael. And the hand of the Lord was againſt the Philiſtines, all the days of Samuel.

14 And the cities, which the Philiſtines had taken from Iſrael, were reſtored to Iſrael, from Accaron to Geth, and their borders: and he delivered Iſrael from the hand of the Philiſtines, and there was peace between Iſrael and the Amorrhites.

15 And Samuel judged Iſrael all the days of his life:

16 And he went every year about to Bethel and to Galgal and to Maſphath, and he judged Iſrael in the foreſaid places.

17 And he returned to Ramatha: for there was his houſe, and there he judged Iſrael: he built alſo there an altar to the Lord.

CHAP. VIII.

Samuel growing old, and his ſons not walking in his ways, the people deſire a king.

AND it came to paſs when Samuel was old, that he appointed his ſons to be judges over Iſrael. A. M. 2908. Ante C. 1096.

2 Now the name of his firſt born ſon was Joel: and the name of the ſecond was Abia, judges in Berſabee.

3 And his ſons walked not in his ways: but they turned aſide after lucre, and took bribes, and perverted judgment.

4 Then all the ancients of Iſrael being aſſembled, came to Samuel to Ramatha.

5 And they ſaid to him: Behold thou art old, and thy ſons walk not in thy ways: ‖ make us a king, to judge us, as all nations have. ‖ Oſee 13. 10. Acts 13. 21.

6 And the word was diſpleaſing in the eyes of Samuel, that they ſhould ſay: Give us a king, to judge us. And Samuel prayed to the Lord.

7 And the Lord ſaid to Samuel: Hearken to the voice of the people in all that they ſay to thee. For they have not rejected thee, but me, that I ſhould not reign over them.

8 According to all their works, they have done from the day that I brought them out of Egypt until this day: as they have forſaken me, and ſerved ſtrange gods, ſo do they alſo unto thee.

9 Now therefore hearken to their voice: but yet teſtify to them, and foretell them the right of the king, that ſhall reign over them.

10 Then Samuel told all the words of the Lord to the people that had deſired a king of him,

11 And ſaid: This will be the right of the king, that ſhall reign over you: He will take your ſons, and put them in his chariots, and will make them his horſemen, and his running footmen to run before his chariots,

12 And he will appoint of them to be his tribunes, and centurions, and to plough his fields, and to reap his corn, and to make him arms and chariots.

CHAP. VIII. VER. 7. Rejected, &c. The government of Iſrael hitherto had been a theocracy; in which God himſelf immediately ruled, by laws which he had enacted, and by judges extraordinarily raiſed up by himſelf: and therefore he complains that his people rejected him, in deſiring a change of government.

VER. 9. The right. That is, the manner (miſphat) after which he ſhall proceed, having no one to control him, when he has the power in his hands.

13 Your daughters alſo he will take to make him ointments, and to be his cooks, and bakers.

14 And he will take your fields, and your vineyards, and your beſt olive-yards, and give them to his ſervants.

15 Moreover he will take the tenth of your corn, and of the revenues of your vineyards, to give to his eunuchs and ſervants.

16 Your ſervants alſo and handmaids, and your goodlieſt young men, and your aſſes he will take away, and put them to his work.

17 Your flocks alſo he will tithe, and you ſhall be his ſervants.

18 And you ſhall cry out in that day from the face of the king, whom you have choſen to yourſelves: and the Lord will not hear you in that day, becauſe you deſired unto yourſelves a king.

19 But the people would not hear the voice of Samuel, and they ſaid: Nay: but there ſhall be a king over us,

20 And we alſo will be like all nations: and our king ſhall judge us, and go out before us, and fight our battles for us.

21 And Samuel heard all the words of the people, and rehearſed them in the ears of the Lord.

22 And the Lord ſaid to Samuel: Hearken to their voice, and make them a king. And Samuel ſaid to the men of Iſrael: Let every man go to his city.

CHAP. IX.

Saul ſeeking his father's aſſes, cometh to Samuel, by whom he is entertained.

A. M. 2909. Ante C. 1095. NOW there was a man of Benjamin whoſe name was Cis, the ſon of Abiel, the ſon of Seror, the ſon of Bechorath, the ſon of Aphia, the ſon of a man of Jemini, valiant and ſtrong.

2 And he had a ſon whoſe name was Saul, a choice and goodly man, and there was not among the children of Iſrael a goodlier perſon than he: from his ſhoulders and upward he appeared above all the people.

3 And the aſſes of Cis Saul's father were loſt: and Cis ſaid to his ſon Saul: Take one of the ſervants with thee, and ariſe, go, and ſeek the aſſes. And when they had paſſed through mount Ephraim,

4 And through the land of Saliſa, and had not found them, they paſſed alſo through the land of Salim, and they were not there: and through the land of Jemini, and found them not.

5 And when they were come to the land of Suph, Saul ſaid to the ſervant that was with him: Come let us return, leſt perhaps my father forget the aſſes, and be concerned for us.

6 And he ſaid to him: Behold there is a man of God in this city, a famous man: all that he ſaith, cometh certainly to paſs. Now therefore let us go thither, perhaps he may tell us of our way, for which we are come.

7 And Saul ſaid to his ſervant: Behold we will go: but what ſhall we carry to the man of God? the bread is ſpent in our bags: and we have no preſent to make to the man of God, nor any thing at all.

8 The ſervant anſwered Saul again, and ſaid: Behold there is found in my hand the fourth part of a ſicle of ſilver, let us give it to the man of God, that he may tell us our way.

9 Now in time paſt in Iſrael when a man went to conſult God, he ſpoke thus: Come, let us go to the ſeer. For he that is now called a prophet, in time paſt was called a ſeer.

10 And Saul ſaid to his ſervant: Thy word is very good, come let us go. And they went into the city, where the man of God was.

11 And when they went up the aſcent to the city, they found maids coming out to draw water, and they ſaid to them: Is the ſeer here?

12 They anſwered and ſaid to them: He is: behold he is before you, make haſte now: for he came to-day into the city, for there is a ſacrifice of the people to-day in the high place.

CHAP. IX. VER. 9. A ſeer. Becauſe of his ſeeing by divine light hidden things and things to come.

VER. 12. A ſacrifice. The law did not allow of ſacrifices in any other place, but at the tabernacle, or temple, in which the ark of the covenant was kept; but Samuel, by divine diſpenſation, offered ſacrifices in other places. For which diſpenſation this reaſon may be alleged, that the houſe of God in Silo, having loſt the ark, was now caſt off; as a figure of the reprobation of the Jews, Pſal. lxxvii. 60, 67. And in Cariathiarim where the ark was, there was neither tabernacle, nor altar.

Ibid. The high place. Excelſum. The excelſa, or high places, ſo often mentioned in ſcripture, were places of worſhip, in which were altars for ſacrifice. Theſe were ſometimes employed in the ſervice of the true God, as in the preſent caſe: but more frequently in the ſervice of idols. And were called Excelſa, which is commonly (though perhaps not ſo accurately) rendered high places; not becauſe they were always upon hills, for the very worſt of all, which was that of Topheth or Geennom (Jeremiah xix.) was in a valley; but becauſe of the high altars, and pillars, or monuments erected there, on which were ſet up the idols, or images of their deities.

13 As soon as you come into the city, you shall immediately find him, before he go up to the high place to eat: for the people will not eat till he come: because he blesseth the victim, and afterwards they eat that are invited. Now therefore go up, for to-day you shall find him.

14 And they went up into the city. And when they were walking in the midst of the city, behold Samuel was coming out over-against them, to go up to the high place.

15 ‖ Now the Lord had revealed to the ear of Samuel the day before Saul came, saying: ‖ Acts 13. 21.

16 To-morrow about this same hour I will send thee a man of the land of Benjamin, and thou shalt anoint him to be ruler over my people Israel: and he shall save my people out of the hand of the Philistines: for I have looked down upon my people, because their cry is come to me.

17 And when Samuel saw Saul, the Lord said to him: Behold the man, of whom I spoke to thee, this man shall reign over my people.

18 And Saul came to Samuel in the midst of the gate, and said: Tell me, I pray thee, where is the house of the seer?

19 And Samuel answered Saul, saying: I am the seer, go up before me to the high place, that you may eat with me to-day, and I will let thee go in the morning: and tell thee all that is in thy heart.

20 And as for the asses, which were lost three days ago, be not solicitous, because they are found. And for whom shall be all the best things of Israel? Shall they not be for thee and for all thy father's house?

21 And Saul answering, said: Am not I a son of Jemini of the least tribe of Israel, and my kindred the last among all the families of the tribe of Benjamin? Why then hast thou spoken this word to me?

22 Then Samuel taking Saul and his servant, brought them into the parlour, and gave them a place at the head of them that were invited. For there were about thirty men.

23 And Samuel said to the cook: Bring the portion, which I gave thee, and commanded thee to set it apart by thee.

24 And the cook took up the shoulder, and set it before Saul. And Samuel said: Behold what is left, set it before thee, and eat: because it was kept of purpose for thee, when I invited the people. And Saul ate with Samuel that day.

25 And they went down from the high place into the town, and he spoke with Saul upon the top of the house: and he prepared a bed for Saul on the top of the house, and he slept.

26 And when they were risen in the morning, and it began now to be light, Samuel called Saul on the top of the house, saying: Arise, that I may let thee go. And Saul arose: and they went out both of them, to wit, he and Samuel.

27 And as they were going down in the end of the city, Samuel said to Saul: Speak to the servant to go before us, and pass on: but stand thou still a while, that I may tell thee the word of the Lord.

CHAP. X.

Saul is anointed. He propheſieth, and is changed into another man. Samuel calleth the people together, to make a king: the lot falleth on Saul.

AND Samuel took a little vial of oil, and poured it upon his head, and kissed him, and said: Behold, the Lord hath anointed thee to be prince over his inheritance, and thou shalt deliver his people out of the hands of their enemies, that are round about them. And this shall be a sign unto thee, that God hath anointed thee to be prince. A. M. 2909. Acts 13. 22.

2 When thou shalt depart from me this day, thou shalt find two men by the sepulchre of Rachel in the borders of Benjamin to the south, and they shall say to thee: The asses are found which thou wentest to seek: and thy father thinking no more of the asses is concerned for you, and saith: What shall I do for my son?

3 And when thou shalt depart from thence, and go farther on, and shalt come to the oak of Thabor, there shall meet thee three men going up to God to Bethel, one carrying three kids, and another three loaves of bread, and another carrying a bottle of wine.

4 And they will salute thee, and will give thee two loaves, and thou shalt take them at their hand.

5 After that thou shalt come to the hill of God, where the garrison of the Philistines is: and when thou shalt be come there into the city, thou ſhalt meet a company of prophets coming down from the high place, with a pſaltery and a timbrel, and a pipe, and a harp before them, and they ſhall be prophesying.

6 And the Spirit of the Lord ſhall come upon thee, and thou ſhalt prophesy with them, and ſhalt be changed into another man.

7 When therefore theſe ſigns ſhall happen to thee, do whatſoever thy hand ſhall find, for the Lord is with thee.

8 And thou ſhalt go down before me to Galgal (for I will come down to thee), that thou mayſt offer an oblation, and ſacrifice victims of peace: ſeven days ſhalt thou wait, ‖ till I come to thee, and I will ſhew thee what thou art to do.

‖ Infra 13. 8.

9 So when he had turned his back to go from Samuel, God gave unto him another heart, and all theſe things came to paſs that day.

10 And they came to the foreſaid hill, and behold a company of prophets met him: and the Spirit of the Lord came upon him, and he propheſied in the midſt of them.

11 And all that had known him yeſterday and the day before, ſeeing that he was with the prophets, and propheſied, ſaid to each other: What is this that hath happened to the ſon of Cis? is Saul alſo among the prophets?

12 And one anſwered another, ſaying: And who is their father? therefore it became a proverb: ‖ Is Saul alſo among the prophets?

‖ Infra 19. 24.

13 And when he had made an end of propheſying, he came to the high place.

14 And Saul's uncle ſaid to him, and to his ſervant: Whither went you? They anſwered: To ſeek the aſſes: and not finding them we went to Samuel.

15 And his uncle ſaid to him: Tell me what Samuel ſaid to thee.

16 And Saul ſaid to his uncle: He told us that the aſſes were found. But of the matter of the kingdom of which Samuel had ſpoken to him, he told him not.

17 And Samuel called together the people to the Lord in Maſpha:

18 And he ſaid to the children of Iſrael: Thus ſaith the Lord the God of Iſrael: I brought up Iſrael out of Egypt, and delivered you from the hand of the Egyptians, and from the hand of all the kings who afflicted you.

19 But you this day have rejected your God, who only hath ſaved you out of all your evils and your tribulations: and you have ſaid: ‖ Nay: but ſet a king over us. Now therefore ſtand before the Lord by your tribes, and by your families.

‖ Supra 8. 19.

20 And Samuel brought to him all the tribes of Iſrael, and the lot fell on the tribe of Benjamin.

21 And he brought the tribe of Benjamin and the kindreds thereof, and the lot fell upon the kindred of Metri, and it came to Saul the ſon of Cis. They ſought him therefore and he was not found.

22 And after this they conſulted the Lord whether he would come thither. And the Lord anſwered: Behold he is hidden at home.

23 And they ran and fetched him thence: and he ſtood in the midſt of the people, and he was higher than any of the people from the ſhoulders and upward.

24 And Samuel ſaid to all the people: Surely you ſee him whom the Lord hath choſen, that there is none like him among all the people. And all the people cried and ſaid: God ſave the king.

25 And Samuel told the people the law of the kingdom, and wrote it in a book, and laid it up before the Lord: and Samuel ſent away all the people, every one to his own houſe.

26 Saul alſo departed to his own houſe in Gabaa: and there went with him a part of the army, whoſe hearts God had touched.

27 But the children of Belial ſaid: Shall this fellow be able to ſave us? And they deſpiſed him, and brought him no preſents; but he diſſembled as though he heard not.

Saul defeateth the Ammonites, and delivereth Jabes Galaad.

A. M. 2909. AND it came to paſs about a month after this that Naas the Ammonite came up, and began to fight againſt Jabes Galaad. And all the men of Jabes ſaid to Naas: Make a covenant with us, and we will ſerve thee.

Now there were in thoſe days colleges, or ſchools for training up theſe prophets; and it ſeems there was one of theſe ſchools at this hill of God; and another at Naioth in Ramatha. See 1 Samuel xix. 20, 21, &c.

VER. 8. Galgal. Here alſo by diſpenſation was an altar of God.

VER. 12. Their father. That is, their teacher or ſuperior. As much as to ſay, Who could bring about ſuch a wonderful change as to make Saul a prophet?

them: On this condition will I make a covenant with you, that I may pluck out all your right eyes, and make you a reproach in all Israel.

3 And the ancients of Jabes said to him: Allow us seven days, that we may send messengers to all the coasts of Israel: and if there be no one to defend us, we will come out to thee.

4 The messengers therefore came to Gabaa of Saul: and they spoke these words in the hearing of the people: and all the people lifted up their voices, and wept.

5 And behold Saul came, following oxen out of the field, and he said: What aileth the people that they weep? And they told him the words of the men of Jabes.

6 And the Spirit of the Lord came upon Saul, when he had heard these words, and his anger was exceedingly kindled.

7 And taking both the oxen, he cut them in pieces, and sent them into all the coasts of Israel by messengers, saying: Whosoever shall not come forth, and follow Saul and Samuel, so shall it be done to his oxen. And the fear of the Lord fell upon the people, and they went out as one man.

8 And he numbered them in Bezec: and there were of the children of Israel three hundred thousand: and of the men of Juda thirty thousand.

9 And they said to the messengers that came: Thus shall you say to the men of Jabes Galaad: To-morrow, when the sun shall be hot, you shall have relief. The messengers therefore came, and told the men of Jabes: and they were glad.

10 And they said: In the morning we will come out to you: and you shall do what you please with us.

11 And it came to pass, when the morrow was come that Saul put the people in three companies: and he came into the midst of the camp in the morning watch, and he slew the Ammonites until the day grew hot, and the rest were scattered, so that two of them were not left together.

‖ Wisd. 10. 27. 12 And the people said to Samuel: ‖ Who is he that said: Shall Saul reign over us? Bring the men and we will kill them.

13 And Saul said: No man shall be killed this day, because the Lord this day hath wrought salvation in Israel:

14 And Samuel said to the people: Come and let us go to Galgal, and let us renew the kingdom there.

15 And all the people went to Galgal, and there they made Saul king before the Lord in Galgal, and they sacrificed there victims of peace before the Lord. And there Saul and all the men of Israel rejoiced exceedingly.

CHAP. XII.

Samuel's integrity is acknowledged. God sheweth by a sign from heaven that they had done ill in asking for a king.

AND Samuel said to all Israel: Behold I have hearkened to your voice in all that you said to me, and have made a king over you. A. M. 2909.

2 And now the king goeth before you: but I am old and grey-headed: and my sons are with you: having then conversed with you from my youth until this day, behold here I am.

3 ‖ Speak of me before the Lord, and before his anointed, whether I have taken any man's ox, or ass: If I have wronged any man, if I have oppressed any man, if I have taken a bribe at any man's hand: and I will despise it this day, and will restore it to you. ‖ Eccli. 46. 22.

4 And they said: Thou hast not wronged us, nor oppressed us, nor taken ought at any man's hand.

5 And he said to them: The Lord is witness against you, and his anointed is witness this day, that you have not found any thing in my hand. And they said: He is witness.

6 And Samuel said to the people: It is the Lord, who made Moses and Aaron, and brought our fathers out of the land of Egypt.

7 Now therefore stand up, that I may plead in judgment against you before the Lord, concerning all the kindness of the Lord, which he hath shewn to you, and to your fathers:

8 ‖ How Jacob went into Egypt, and your fathers cried to the Lord: and the Lord sent Moses and Aaron, and brought your fathers out of Egypt: and made them dwell in this place. ‖ Gen. 46. 5.

9 And they forgot the Lord their God, ‖ and he delivered them into the hands of Sisara captain of the army of Hasor, and into the hands of the Philistines, and into the hand of the king of Moab, and they fought against them. ‖ Judges 4. 2.

10 But afterwards they cried to the Lord, and said: We have sinned, because we have forsaken the Lord, and have served Baalim and Astaroth: but now deliver us from the hand of our enemies, and we will serve thee.

‖ Judges 6. 14.

11 ‖ And the Lord ſent Jerobaal, and Badan, and Jephte, and Samuel, and delivered you from the hand of your enemies round about, and you dwelt ſecurely.

12 But ſeeing that Naas king of the children of Ammon was come againſt you, you ſaid to me: ‖ Nay, but a king ſhall reign over us: whereas the Lord your God was your king.

‖ Supra 8. 19.& 10.19.

13 Now therefore your king is here, whom you have choſen and deſired: Behold the Lord hath given you a king.

14 If you will fear the Lord, and ſerve him, and hearken to his voice, and not provoke the mouth of the Lord: then ſhall both you, and the king who reigneth over you, be followers of the Lord your God.

15 But if you will not hearken to the voice of the Lord, but will rebel againſt his words, the hand of the Lord ſhall be upon you, and upon your fathers.

16 Now then ſtand, and ſee this great thing which the Lord will do in your ſight.

17 Is it not wheat-harveſt to-day? I will call upon the Lord, and he ſhall ſend thunder and rain: and you ſhall know and ſee that you yourſelves have done a great evil in the ſight of the Lord, in deſiring a king over you.

18 And Samuel cried unto the Lord, and the Lord ſent thunder and rain that day.

19 And all the people greatly feared the Lord and Samuel. And all the people ſaid to Samuel: Pray for thy ſervants to the Lord thy God, that we may not die, for we have added to all our ſins this evil, to aſk for a king.

20 And Samuel ſaid to the people: Fear not, you have done all this evil: but yet depart not from following the Lord, but ſerve the Lord with all your heart.

21 And turn not aſide after vain things, which ſhall never profit you, nor deliver you, becauſe they are vain.

22 And the Lord will not forſake his people for his great name's ſake: becauſe the Lord hath ſworn to make you his people.

23 And far from me be this ſin againſt the Lord, that I ſhould ceaſe to pray for you, and I will teach you the good and right way.

24 Therefore fear the Lord, and ſerve him in truth and with your whole heart, for you have ſeen the great works which he hath done among you.

25 But if you will ſtill do wickedly: both you and your king ſhall periſh together.

CHAP. XIII.

The war between Saul and the Philiſtines. The diſtreſs of the Iſraelites. Saul offereth ſacrifice before the coming of Samuel: for which he is reproved.

SAUL was a child of one year when he began to reign, and he reigned two years over Iſrael. A. M. 2911. Ante C. 1093.

2 And Saul choſe him three thouſand men of Iſrael: and two thouſand were with Saul in Machmas, and in mount Bethel: and a thouſand with Jonathan in Gabaa of Benjamin, and the reſt of the people he ſent back every man to their dwellings.

3 And Jonathan ſmote the garriſon of the Philiſtines which was in Gabaa. And when the Philiſtines had heard of it, Saul ſounded the trumpet over all the land, ſaying: Let the Hebrews hear.

4 And all Iſrael heard this report: Saul hath ſmitten the garriſon of the Philiſtines: and Iſrael took courage againſt the Philiſtines. And the people were called together after Saul to Galgal.

5 The Philiſtines alſo were aſſembled to fight againſt Iſrael, thirty thouſand chariots, and ſix thouſand horſemen, and a multitude of people beſides, like the ſand on the ſeaſhore for number. And going up they camped in Machmas at the eaſt of Bethaven.

6 And when the men of Iſrael ſaw that they were ſtraitened (for the people were diſtreſſed), they hid themſelves in caves, and in thickets, and in rocks, and in dens, and in pits.

7 And ſome of the Hebrews paſſed over the Jordan into the land of Gad and Galaad. And when Saul was yet in Galgal, all the people that followed him were greatly afraid.

8 And he waited ſeven days according to the appointment of Samuel, ‖ and Samuel came not to Galgal, and the people ſlipt away from him. ‖ Supra 10. 8.

9 Then Saul ſaid: Bring me the holocauſt, and the peace offerings. And he offered the holocauſt.

10 And when he had made an end of offering the holocauſt, behold Samuel came:

CHAP. XII. VER. 11. Jerobaal and Badan. That is, Gedeon and Samſon called here Badan or Bedan, becauſe he was of Dan.

VER. 17. Wheat-harveſt. At which time of the year, it never thunders or rains in thoſe countries.

CHAP. XIII. VER. 1. Of one year. That is, he was good and like an innocent child, and for two years continued in that innocency.

and Saul went forth to meet him and salute him.

11 And Samuel said to him: What hast thou done? Saul answered: Because I saw that the people slipt from me, and thou wast not come according to the days appointed, and the Philistines were gathered together in Machmas, 12 I said: Now will the Philistines come down upon me to Galgal, and I have not appeased the face of the Lord. Forced by necessity, I offered the holocaust.

13 And Samuel said to Saul: Thou hast done foolishly, and hast not kept the commandments of the Lord thy God, which he commanded thee. And if thou hadst not done thus, the Lord would now have established thy kingdom over Israel for ever.

14 But thy kingdom shall not continue. ‖ The Lord hath sought him a man according to his own heart: and him hath the Lord commanded to be prince over his people, because thou hast not observed that which the Lord commanded.

‖ Acts 13. 22.

15 And Samuel arose and went up from Galgal to Gabaa of Benjamin. And the rest of the people went up after Saul, to meet the people who fought against them, going from Galgal to Gabaa in the hill of Benjamin. And Saul numbered the people, that were found with him, about six hundred men.

16 And Saul and Jonathan his son, and the people that were present with them, were in Gabaa of Benjamin: But the Philistines encamped in Machmas.

17 And there went out of the camp of the Philistines three companies to plunder. One company went towards the way of Ephra to the land of Sual.

18 And another went by the way of Bethhoron, and the third turned to the way of the border, above the valley of Seboim towards the desert.

19 Now there was no smith to be found in all the land of Israel, for the Philistines had taken this precaution, lest the Hebrews should make them swords or spears.

20 So all Israel went down to the Philistines, to sharpen every man his ploughshare, and his spade, and his ax, and his rake.

21 So that their shares, and their spades, and their forks, and their axes were blunt, even to the goad, which was to be mended.

22 And when the day of battle was come, there was neither sword nor spear found in the hand of any of the people that were with Saul and Jonathan, except Saul and Jonathan his son.

23 And the army of the Philistines went out in order to advance further in Machmas.

CHAP. XIV.

Jonathan attacketh the Philistines. A miraculous victory. Saul's unadvised oath, by which Jonathan is put in danger of his life, but is delivered by the people.

NOW it came to pass one day that Jonathan the son of Saul said to the young man that bore his armour: Come, and let us go over to the garrison of the Philistines, which is on the other side of yonder place. But he told not this to his father.

2 And Saul abode in the uttermost part of Gabaa under the pomegranate-tree, which was in Magron: and the people with him were about six hundred men.

3 And Achias the son of Achitob brother of Ichabod the son of Phinees, ‖ the son of Heli the priest of the Lord in Silo, wore the ephod. And the people knew not whither Jonathan was gone.

‖ Supra 4. 21.

4 Now there were between the ascents, by which Jonathan sought to go over to the garrison of the Philistines, rocks standing up on both sides, and steep cliffs like teeth on the one side, and on the other, the name of the one was Boses, and the name of the other was Sene:

5 One rock stood out toward the north over-against Machmas, and the other to the south over-against Gabaa.

6 And Jonathan said to the young man that bore his armour: Come, let us go over to the garrison of these uncircumcised, it may be the Lord will do for us: because it is easy for the Lord to save either by many, or by few.

7 And his armour-bearer said to him: Do all that pleaseth thy mind: go whither thou wilt, and I will be with thee wheresoever thou hast a mind.

8 And Jonathan said: Behold we will go over to these men. And when we shall be seen by them,

9 If they shall speak thus to us: Stay till we come to you: let us stand still in our place, and not go up to them.

10 But if they shall say: Come up to us: let us go up, because the Lord hath delivered them into our hands, this shall be a sign unto us.

CHAP. XIV. VER. 10. This shall be a sign. It is likely Jonathan was instructed by divine inspiration to make choice of this sign: otherwise the observation of omens is superstitious and sinful.

11 So both of them discovered themselves to the garrison of the Philistines: and the Philistines said: Behold the Hebrews come forth out of the holes wherein they were hid.

12 And the men of the garrison spoke to Jonathan, and to his armour-bearer, and said: Come up to us, and we will shew you a thing. And Jonathan said to his armour-bearer: Let us go up, follow me: ‖ for the Lord hath delivered them into the hands of Israel.

‖ 1 Mac. 4. 30.

13 And Jonathan went up creeping on his hands and feet, and his armour-bearer after him. And some fell before Jonathan, others his armour-bearer slew as he followed him.

14 And the first slaughter which Jonathan and his armour-bearer made, was of about twenty men, within half an acre of land, which a yoke of oxen is wont to plough in a day.

15 And there was a miracle in the camp, through the fields: yea and all the people of their garrison, who had gone out to plunder, were amazed, and the earth trembled: and it happened as a miracle from God.

16 And the watchmen of Saul, who were in Gabaa of Benjamin looked, and behold a multitude overthrown, and fleeing this way and that.

17 And Saul said to the people that were with him: Look, and see who is gone from us. And when they had fought, it was found that Jonathan and his armour-bearer were not there.

18 And Saul said to Achias: Bring the ark of the Lord. (For the ark of God was there that day with the children of Israel.)

19 And while Saul spoke to the priest, there arose a great uproar in the camp of the Philistines: and it increased by degrees, and was heard more clearly. And Saul said to the priest: Draw in thy hand.

20 Then Saul and all the people that were with him, shouted together, and they came to the place of the fight: and behold every man's sword was turned upon his neighbour, and there was a very great slaughter.

21 Moreover the Hebrews that had been with the Philistines yesterday and the day before, and went up with them into the camp, returned to be with the Israelites, who were with Saul and Jonathan.

22 And all the Israelites that had hid themselves in mount Ephraim, hearing that the Philistines fled, joined themselves with their countrymen in the fight. And there were with Saul about ten thousand men.

23 And the Lord saved Israel that day. And the fight went on as far as Bethaven.

24 And the men of Israel were joined together that day: and Saul adjured the people, saying: Cursed be the man that shall eat food till evening, till I be revenged of my enemies. So none of the people tasted any food:

25 And all the common people came into a forest, in which there was honey upon the ground.

26 And when the people came into the forest, behold the honey dropped, but no man put his hand to his mouth. For the people feared the oath.

27 But Jonathan had not heard when his father adjured the people: and he put forth the end of the rod, which he had in his hand, and dipt it in a honey-comb: and he carried his hand to his mouth, and his eyes were enlightened.

28 And one of the people answering, said: Thy father hath bound the people with an oath, saying: Cursed be the man that shall eat any food this day. (And the people were faint.)

29 And Jonathan said: My father hath troubled the land: you have seen yourselves that my eyes are enlightened, because I tasted a little of this honey:

30 How much more if the people had eaten of the prey of their enemies, which they found? had there not been made a greater slaughter among the Philistines?

31 So they smote that day the Philistines from Machmas to Aialon. And the people were wearied exceedingly.

32 And falling upon the spoils, they took sheep, and oxen, and calves, and slew them on the ground: and the people ate them with the blood.

33 And they told Saul that the people had sinned against the Lord, eating with the blood. And he said: You have transgressed: Roll here to me now a great stone.

34 And Saul said: Disperse yourselves among the people, and tell them to bring me every man his ox and his ram, and slay them upon this stone, and eat, and you shall not sin against the Lord in eating with the blood. So all the people brought every man his ox with him till the night: and slew them there.

35 And Saul built an altar to the Lord; and he then first began to build an altar to the Lord.

36 And Saul said: Let us fall upon the Philistines by night, and destroy them till the morning light, and let us not leave a man of them. And the people said: Do all that ſeemeth good in thy eyes. And the prieſt ſaid: Let us draw near hither unto God.

37 And Saul conſulted the Lord: Shall I purſue after the Philiſtines? wilt thou deliver them into the hands of Iſrael? And he anſwered him not that day.

38 And Saul ſaid: Bring hither all the corners of the people: and know, and ſee by whom this ſin hath happened to-day.

39 As the Lord liveth who is the ſaviour of Iſrael, if it was done by Jonathan my ſon, he ſhall ſurely die. In this none of the people gain-ſaid him.

40 And he ſaid to all Iſrael: Be you on one ſide, and I with Jonathan my ſon will be on the other ſide. And the people anſwered Saul: Do what ſeemeth good in thy eyes.

41 And Saul ſaid to the Lord: O Lord God of Iſrael, give a ſign, by which we may know, what the meaning is, that thou anſwereſt not thy ſervant to-day: If this iniquity be in me, or in my ſon Jonathan, give a proof: or if this iniquity be in thy people, give holineſs. And Jonathan and Saul were taken, and the people eſcaped.

42 And Saul ſaid: Caſt lots between me, and Jonathan my ſon. And Jonathan was taken.

43 And Saul ſaid to Jonathan: Tell me what thou haſt done. And Jonathan told him, and ſaid: I did but taſte a little honey with the end of the rod, which was in my hand, and behold I muſt die.

44 And Saul ſaid: May God do ſo and ſo to me, and add ſtill more: for dying thou ſhalt die, O Jonathan.

45 And the people ſaid to Saul: Shall Jonathan then die, who hath wrought this great ſalvation in Iſrael? this muſt not be: As the Lord liveth, there ſhall not one hair of his head fall to the ground, for he hath wrought with God this day. So the people delivered Jonathan, that he ſhould not die.

46 And Saul went back, and did not purſue after the Philiſtines: and the Philiſtines went to their own places.

47 And Saul having his kingdom eſtabliſhed over Iſrael, fought againſt all his enemies round about, againſt Moab, and againſt the children of Ammon, and Edom, and the kings of Soba, and the Philiſtines: and whitherſoever he turned himſelf, he overcame.

48 And gathering together an army, he defeated Amalec, and delivered Iſrael from the hand of them that ſpoiled them.

49 And the ſons of Saul, were Jonathan, and Jeſſui, and Melchiſua: and the names of his two daughters, the name of the firſt-born was Merob, and the name of the younger Michol.

50 And the name of Saul's wife, was Achinoam the daughter of Achimaas; and the name of the captain of his army was Abner, the ſon of Ner, the couſin german of Saul.

51 For Cis was the father of Saul, and Ner the father of Abner, was ſon of Abiel.

52 And there was a great war againſt the Philiſtines all the days of Saul. For whomſoever Saul ſaw to be a valiant man, and fit for war, he took him to himſelf.

CHAP. XV.

Saul is ſent to deſtroy Amalec: he ſpareth their king and the beſt of their cattle: for which diſobedience he is caſt off by the Lord.

AND Samuel ſaid to Saul: The Lord ſent me to anoint thee king over his people Iſrael: now therefore hearken thou unto the voice of the Lord:

2 Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts: I have reckoned up all that Amalec hath done to Iſrael: ‖ how he oppoſed them in the way when they came up out of Egypt. ‖ Exod. 17. 8.

3 Now therefore go, and ſmite Amalec, and utterly deſtroy all that he hath: ſpare him not, nor covet any thing that is his: but ſlay both man and woman, child and ſuckling, ox and ſheep, camel and aſs.

4 So Saul commanded the people, and numbered them as lambs: two hundred thouſand footmen, and ten thouſand of the men of Juda.

5 And when Saul was come to the city of Amalec, he laid ambuſhes in the torrent.

6 And Saul ſaid to the Cinite: Go, depart and get ye down from Amalec: leſt I deſtroy thee with him. For thou haſt ſhewn kindneſs to all the children of Iſrael, when they came up out of Egypt. And the Cinite departed from the midſt of Amalec.

7 And Saul ſmote Amalec from Hevila,

VER. 42. Jonathan was taken. Though Jonathan was excuſed from ſin, through ignorance of the prohibition, yet God was pleaſed on this occaſion to let the lot fall upon him, to ſhew unto all the great obligation of obedience to princes and parents.

CHAP. XV. VER. 3. Child. The great maſter of life and death (who cuts off one half of all mankind whilſt they are children) has been pleaſed ſometimes to ordain that children ſhould be put to the ſword, in deteſtation of the crimes of their parents, and that they might not live to follow the ſame wicked ways. But without ſuch ordinance of God it is not allowable, in any wars, how juſt ſoever, to kill children.

until thou comeſt to Sur, which is over-againſt Egypt.

8 And he took Agag the king of Amalec alive: but all the common people he ſlew with the edge of the ſword.

9 And Saul and the people ſpared Agag and the beſt of the flocks of ſheep and of the herds, and the garments and the rams, and all that was beautiful, and would not deſtroy them: but every thing that was vile and good for nothing, that they deſtroyed.

10 And the word of the Lord came to Samuel, ſaying:

11 It repenteth me that I have made Saul king: for he hath forſaken me, and hath not executed my commandments. And Samuel was grieved, and he cried unto the Lord all night.

12 And when Samuel roſe early, to go to Saul in the morning, it was told Samuel, that Saul was come to Carmel, and had erected for himſelf a triumphant arch, and returning had paſſed on, and gone down to Galgal. And Samuel came to Saul, and Saul was offering a holocauſt to the Lord out of the choiceſt of the ſpoils which he had brought from Amalec.

13 And when Samuel was come to Saul, Saul ſaid to him: Bleſſed be thou of the Lord, I have fulfilled the word of the Lord.

14 And Samuel ſaid: What meaneth then this bleating of the flocks, which ſoundeth in my ears, and the lowing of the herds, which I hear?

15 And Saul ſaid: They have brought them from Amalec: for the people ſpared the beſt of the ſheep and of the herds that they might be ſacrificed to the Lord thy God, but the reſt we have ſlain.

16 And Samuel ſaid to Saul: Suffer me, and I will tell thee what the Lord hath ſaid to me this night. And he ſaid to him: Speak.

17 And Samuel ſaid: When thou waſt a little one in thy own eyes, waſt thou not made the head of the tribes of Iſrael? And the Lord anointed thee to be king over Iſrael,

18 And the Lord ſent thee on the way, and ſaid: Go, and kill the ſinners of Amalec, and thou ſhalt fight againſt them until thou haſt utterly deſtroyed them.

19 Why then didſt thou not hearken to the voice of the Lord: but haſt turned to the prey, and haſt done evil in the eyes of the Lord?

20 And Saul ſaid to Samuel: Yea I have hearkened to the voice of the Lord, and have walked in the way by which the Lord ſent me, and have brought Agag the king of Amalec, and Amalec I have ſlain.

21 But the people took of the ſpoils ſheep and oxen, as the firſt-fruits of thoſe things that were ſlain, to offer ſacrifice to the Lord their God in Galgal.

22 And Samuel ſaid: ‖ Doth the Lord deſire holocauſts and victims, and not rather that the voice of the Lord ſhould be obeyed? For obedience is better than ſacrifices: and to hearken rather than to offer the fat of rams. ‖ Eccli. 4. 17. Oſee 6. 6. Mat. 9. 13. & 12. 7.

23 Becauſe it is like the ſin of witchcraft, to rebel: and like the crime of idolatry, to refuſe to obey. For as much therefore as thou haſt rejected the word of the Lord, the Lord hath alſo rejected thee from being king.

24 And Saul ſaid to Samuel: I have ſinned becauſe I have tranſgreſſed the commandment of the Lord, and thy words, fearing the people, and obeying their voice.

25 But now bear, I beſeech thee, my ſin, and return with me, that I may adore the Lord.

26 And Samuel ſaid to Saul: I will not return with thee, becauſe thou haſt rejected the word of the Lord, and the Lord hath rejected thee from being king over Iſrael.

27 And Samuel turned about to go away: but he laid hold upon the ſkirt of his mantle, and it rent.

28 And Samuel ſaid to him: ‖ The Lord hath rent the kingdom of Iſrael from thee this day, and hath given it to thy neighbour who is better than thee. ‖ Infra 28. 17.

29 But the triumpher in Iſrael will not ſpare, and will not be moved to repentance: for he is not a man that he ſhould repent.

30 Then he ſaid: I have ſinned: yet honour me now before the ancients of my people, and before Iſrael, and return with me, that I may adore the Lord thy God.

31 So Samuel turned again after Saul: and Saul adored the Lord.

32 And Samuel ſaid: Bring hither to me Agag the king of Amalec. And Agag was preſented to him very fat, and trembling. And Agag ſaid: Doth bitter death ſeparate in this manner?

33 And Samuel ſaid: As thy ſword hath made women childleſs, ſo ſhall thy mother be childleſs among women. And Samuel hewed him in pieces before the Lord in Galgal.

34 And Samuel departed to Ramatha: but Saul went up to his houſe in Gabaa.

35 And Samuel saw Saul no more till the day of his death: nevertheless Samuel mourned for Saul, because the Lord repented that he had made him king over Israel.

CHAP. XVI.

Samuel is sent to Bethlehem, where he anointeth David: who is taken into Saul's family.

A. M. circiter 2934. Ante C. 1070. AND the Lord said to Samuel: How long wilt thou mourn for Saul, whom I have rejected from reigning over Israel? fill thy horn with oil, and come, that I may send thee to Isai the Bethlehemite: for I have provided me a king among his sons.

2 And Samuel said: How shall I go? for Saul will hear of it, and he will kill me. And the Lord said: Thou shalt take with thee a calf of the herd, and thou shalt say: I am come to sacrifice to the Lord.

3 And thou shalt call Isai to the sacrifice, and I will shew thee what thou art to do, and thou shalt anoint him whom I shall shew to thee.

4 Then Samuel did as the Lord had said to him. And he came to Bethlehem, and the ancients of the city wondered, and meeting him, they said: Is thy coming hither peaceable?

5 And he said It is peaceable: I am come to offer sacrifice to the Lord, be ye sanctified, and come with me to the sacrifice. And he sanctified Isai and his sons, and called them to the sacrifice.

6 And when they were come in, he saw Eliab, and said: Is the Lord's anointed before him?

7 And the Lord said to Samuel: Look not on his countenance, nor on the height of his stature: because I have rejected him, nor do I judge according to the look of man: for man seeth those things that appear, ‖ but the Lord beholdeth the heart.

‖ Psal. 7. 10.

8 And Isai called Abinadab, and brought him before Samuel. And he said: Neither hath the Lord chosen this.

9 And Isai brought Samma, and he said of him: Neither hath the Lord chosen this.

10 Isai therefore brought his seven sons before Samuel: and Samuel said to Isai: The Lord hath not chosen any one of these.

11 And Samuel said to Isai: Are here all thy sons? He answered: There remaineth yet a young one, who keepeth the sheep. And Samuel said to Isai: Send, and fetch him: for we will not sit down till he come hither.

12 He sent therefore and brought him. Now he was ruddy and beautiful to behold, and of a comely face. And the Lord said: Arise, and anoint him, for this is he.

13 Then Samuel took the horn of oil, ‖ and anointed him in the midst of his brethren: and the Spirit of the Lord came upon David from that day forward: and Samuel rose up, and went to Ramatha.

‖ 2 Kings 7. 8. Psal. 77. 70. & 88. 21. Acts 7. 46. & 13. 22.

14 But the Spirit of the Lord departed from Saul, and an evil spirit from the Lord troubled him.

15 And the servants of Saul said to him: Behold now an evil spirit from God troubleth thee.

16 Let our lord give orders, and thy servants who are before thee, will seek out a man skilful in playing on the harp, that when the evil spirit from the Lord is upon thee, he may play with his hand, and thou mayst bear it more easily.

17 And Saul said to his servants: Provide me then some man that can play well, and bring him to me.

18 And one of the servants answering, said: Behold I have seen a son of Isai the Bethlehemite a skilful player, and one of great strength, and a man fit for war, and prudent in his words, and a comely person: and the Lord is with him.

19 Then Saul sent messengers to Isai, saying: Send me David thy son, who is in the pastures.

20 And Isai took an ass laden with bread, and a bottle of wine, and a kid of the flock, and sent them by the hand of David his son to Saul.

21 And David came to Saul, and stood before him: and he loved him exceedingly, and made him his armour-bearer.

22 And Saul sent to Isai, saying: Let David stand before me: for he hath found favour in my sight.

23 So whensoever the evil spirit from the Lord was upon Saul, David took his harp, and played with his hand, and Saul was refreshed, and was better, for the evil spirit departed from him.

War with the Philistines. Goliath challengeth Israel. He is slain by David.

A. M. circiter 2942. Ante C. 1062. NOW the Philistines gathering together their troops to battle assembled at Socho of Juda: and camped between Socho and Azeca in the borders of Dommim.

2 And Saul and the children of Israel being gathered together came to the valley of terebinth, and they set the army in array to fight against the Philistines.

3 And the Philistines stood on a mountain on the one side, and Israel stood on a mountain on the other side: and there was a valley between them.

4 And there went out a man base-born from the camp of the Philistines named Goliath, of Geth, whose height was six cubits and a span:

5 And he had a helmet of brass upon his head, and he was clothed with a coat of mail with scales, and the weight of his coat of mail was five thousand sicles of brass:

6 And he had greaves of brass on his legs, and a buckler of brass covered his shoulders.

7 And the staff of his spear was like a weaver's beam, and the head of his spear weighed six hundred sicles of iron: and his armour-bearer went before him.

8 And standing he cried out to the bands of Israel, and said to them: Why are you come out prepared to fight? am not I a Philistine, and you the servants of Saul? Choose out a man of you, and let him come down and fight hand to hand.

9 If he be able to fight with me, and kill me, we will be servants to you: but if I prevail against him, and kill him, you shall be servants, and shall serve us.

10 And the Philistine said: I have defied the bands of Israel this day: Give me a man, and let him fight with me hand to hand.

11 And Saul and all the Israelites hearing these words of the Philistine were dismayed, and greatly afraid.

12 Now David was the son of that Ephrathite of Bethlehem Juda before-men- ‖ Supra 16. 1. tioned, whose name was Isai, who had eight sons, and was an old man in the days of Saul, and of great age among men.

13 And his three eldest sons followed Saul to the battle: and the names of his three sons that went to the battle, were Eliab the first-born, and the second Abinadab, and the third Samma.

14 But David was the youngest. So the three eldest having followed Saul, 15 David went, and returned from Saul, to feed his father's flock at Bethlehem.

16 Now the Philistine came out morning and evening, and presented himself forty days.

17 And Isai said to David his son: Take for thy brethren an ephi of frumenty, and these ten loaves, and run to the camp to thy brethren,

18 And carry these ten little cheeses to the tribune: and go see thy brethren, if they are well: and learn with whom they are placed.

19 But Saul, and they, and all the children of Israel were in the valley of terebinth fighting against the Philistines.

20 David therefore arose in the morning, and gave the charge of the flock to the keeper: and went away loaded as Isai had commanded him. And he came to the place of Magala, and to the army, which was going out to fight and shouted for the battle.

21 For Israel had put themselves in array, and the Philistines who stood against them were prepared.

22 And David leaving the vessels which he had brought, under the care of the keeper of the baggage, ran to the place of the battle and asked if all things went well with his brethren.

23 And as he talked with them, that base-born man whose name was Goliath, the Philistine, of Geth, shewed himself coming up from the camp of the Philistines: and he spoke according to the same words, ana David heard them.

24 And all the Israelites when they saw the man, fled from his face, fearing him exceedingly.

25 And some one of Israel said: Have you seen this man that is come up, for he is come up to defy Israel. And the man that shall slay him, the king will enrich with great riches, and will give him his daughter, and will make his father's house free from tribute in Israel.

26 And David spoke to the men that stood by him, saying: What shall be given to the man that shall kill this Philistine, and shall take away the reproach from Israel? for who is this uncircumcised Philistine, that he should defy the armies of the living God?

27 And the people answered him the same words, saying: These things shall be given to the man that shall slay him.

28 Now when Eliab his eldest brother heard this, when he was speaking with others, he was angry with David, and said: Why camest thou hither? and why didst thou leave thoſe few ſheep in the deſert? I know thy pride, and the wickedneſs of thy heart: that thou art come down to ſee the battle.

29 And David ſaid: What have I done? is there not cauſe to ſpeak?

30 And he turned a little aſide from him to another: and ſaid the ſame word. And the people anſwered him as before.

31 And the words which David ſpoke were heard, and were rehearſed before Saul.

32 And when he was brought to him, he ſaid to him: Let not any man's heart be diſmayed in him: I thy ſervant will go, and will fight againſt the Philiſtine.

33 And Saul ſaid to David: Thou art not able to withſtand this Philiſtine, nor to fight againſt him: for thou art but a boy, but he is a warrior from his youth.

‖ Eccli. 47. 3. 34 And David ſaid to Saul: ‖ Thy ſervant kept his father's ſheep, and there came a lion, * or a bear, and took a ram out of the midſt of the flock:

* or, for and. 35 And I purſued after them, and ſtruck them, and delivered it out of their mouth: and they roſe up againſt me, and I caught them by the throat, and I ſtrangled and killed them.

36 For I thy ſervant have killed both a lion and a bear: and this uncircumciſed Philiſtine ſhall be alſo as one of them. I will go now and take away the reproach of the people: for who is this uncircumciſed Philiſtine, who hath dared to curſe the army of the living God?

37 And David ſaid: The Lord who delivered me out of the paw of the lion, and out of the paw of the bear, he will deliver me out of the hand of this Philiſtine. And Saul ſaid to David: Go, and the Lord be with thee.

38 And Saul clothed David with his garments, and put a helmet of braſs upon his head, and armed him with a coat of mail.

39 And David having girded his ſword upon his armour, began to try if he could walk in armour: for he was not accuſtomed to it. And David ſaid to Saul: I cannot go thus, for I am not uſed to it. And he laid them off, 40 And he took his ſtaff, which he had always in his hands: and choſe him five ſmooth ſtones out of the brook, and put them into the ſhepherd's ſcrip, which he had with him, and he took a ſling in his hand, and went forth againſt the Philiſtine.

41 And the Philiſtine came on, and drew nigh againſt David, and his armour-bearer before him.

42 And when the Philiſtine looked, and beheld David, he deſpiſed him. For he was a young man, ruddy, and of a comely countenance.

43 And the Philiſtine ſaid to David: Am I a dog, that thou comeſt to me with a ſtaff? And the Philiſtine curſed David by his gods.

44 And he ſaid to David: Come to me, and I will give thy fleſh to the birds of the air, and to the beaſts of the earth.

45 And David ſaid to the Philiſtine: Thou comeſt to me with a ſword, and with a ſpear, and with a ſhield: but I come to thee in the name of the Lord of hoſts, the God of the armies of Iſrael, which thou haſt defied

46 This day, and the Lord will deliver thee into my hand, and I will ſlay thee, and take away thy head from thee: and I will give the carcaſes of the army of the Philiſtines this day to the birds of the air, and to the beaſts of the earth: that all the earth may know that there is a God in Iſrael.

47 And all this aſſembly ſhall know, that the Lord ſaveth not with ſword and ſpear: for it is his battle, and he will deliver you into our hands.

48 And when the Philiſtine aroſe and was coming, and drew nigh to meet David, David made haſte, and ran to the fight to meet the Philiſtine.

49 And he put his hand into his ſcrip, and took a ſtone, and caſt it with the ſling, and fetching it about ſtruck the Philiſtine in the forehead, and he fell on his face upon the earth.

‖ Eccli. 47. 4. 1 Mac. 4. 30. 50 ‖ And David prevailed over the Philiſtine, with a ſling and a ſtone, and he ſtruck, and ſlew the Philiſtine. And as David had no ſword in his hand, 51 He ran, and ſtood over the Philiſtine, and took his ſword, and drew it out of the ſheath, and ſlew him, and cut off his head. And the Philiſtines ſeeing that their champion was dead, fled away.

52 And the men of Iſrael and Juda riſing up ſhouted, and purſued after the Philiſtines till they came to the valley and to the gates of Accaron, and there fell many wounded of the Philiſtines in the way of Saraim, and as far as Geth, and as far as Accaron.

53 And the children of Iſrael returning, after they had purſued the Philiſtines, fell upon their camp.

54 And David taking the head of the Philiſtine brought it to Jeruſalem: but his armour he put in his tent.

55 Now at the time that Saul ſaw David going out againſt the Philiſtines, he ſaid to Abner the captain of the army: Of what family is this young man deſcended, Abner?

And Abner said: As thy soul liveth, O king, I know not.

56 And the king said: Enquire thou, whose son this young man is.

57 And when David was returned, after the Philistine was slain, Abner took him, and brought him in before Saul, with the head of the Philistine in his hand.

58 And Saul said to him: Young man, of what family art thou? And David said: I am the son of thy servant Isai the Bethlehemite.

CHAP. XVIII.

The friendship of Jonathan and David. The envy of Saul, and his design upon David's life. He marries him to his daughter Michol.

A. M. 2942. AND it came to pass, when he had made an end of speaking to Saul, the soul of Jonathan was knit with the soul of David, and Jonathan loved him as his own soul.

2 And Saul took him that day, and would not let him return to his father's house.

3 And David and Jonathan made a covenant, for he loved him as his own soul.

4 And Jonathan stripped himself of the coat with which he was cloathed, and gave it to David, and the rest of his garments, even to his sword, and to his bow, and to his girdle.

5 And David went out to whatsoever business Saul sent him, and he behaved himself prudently: and Saul set him over the soldiers, and he was acceptable in the eyes of all the people, and especially in the eyes of Saul's servants.

6 Now when David returned, after he slew the Philistine, the women came out of all the cities of Israel, singing and dancing to meet king Saul, with timbrels of joy, and cornets.

7 And the women sung as they played, and they said: ‖ Saul slew his thousands, and David his ten thousands. ‖ Infra 21 11. Eccli. 47. 7.

8 And Saul was exceeding angry, and this word was displeasing in his eyes, and he said: They have given David ten thousands and to me they have given but a thousand, what can he have more but the kingdom?

9 And Saul did not look on David with a good eye from that day and forward.

10 And the day after the evil spirit from God came upon Saul, and he prophesied in the midst of his house. And David played with his hand as at other times. And Saul held a spear in his hand, 11 And threw it, thinking to nail David to the wall: and David stept aside out of his presence twice.

12 And Saul feared David, because the Lord was with him, and was departed from himself.

13 Therefore Saul removed him from him, and made him a captain over a thousand men, and he went out and came in before the people.

14 And David behaved wisely in all his ways, ‖ and the Lord was with him. ‖ Supra 16. 13.

15 And Saul saw that he was exceeding prudent, and began to beware of him.

16 But all Israel and Juda loved David, for he came in and went out before them.

17 And Saul said to David: Behold my elder daughter Merob, her will I give thee to wife: only be a valiant man, ‖ and fight the battles of the Lord. Now Saul said within himself: let not my hand be upon him, but let the hands of the Philistines be upon him. ‖ Infra 25. 28.

18 And David said to Saul: Who am I, or what is my life, or my father's family in Israel, that I should be son-in-law of the king?

19 And it came to pass at the time when Merob the daughter of Saul should have been given to David, that she was given to Hadriel the Molathite to wife.

20 But Michol the other daughter of Saul loved David. And it was told Saul, and it pleased him.

21 And Saul said: I will give her to him, that she may be a stumbling-block to him, and that the hand of the Philistines may be upon him. And Saul said to David: In two things thou shalt be my son-in-law this day.

22 And Saul commanded his servants to speak to David privately, saying: Behold thou pleasest the king, and all his servants love thee. Now therefore be the king's son-in-law.

23 And the servants of Saul spoke all these words in the ears of David. And David said: Doth it seem to you a small matter to be the king's son-in-law? But I am a poor man, and of small ability.

24 And the servants of Saul told him, saying: Such words as these hath David spoken.

25 And Saul said: Speak thus to David: The king desireth not any dowry, but only a hundred foreskins of the Philistines, to be avenged of the king's enemies. Now Saul thought to deliver David into the hands of the Philiſtines.

CHAP. XVIII. VER. 10. Prophesied. Acted the prophet in a mad manner.

26 And when his ſervants had told David the words that Saul had ſaid, the word was pleaſing in the eyes of David to be the king's ſon-in-law.

27 And after a few days David roſe up, and went with the men that were under him, and he ſlew of the Philiſtines two hundred men, and brought their foreſkins and numbered them out to the king, that he might be his ſon-in-law. Saul therefore gave him Michol his daughter to wife.

28 And Saul ſaw, and underſtood that the Lord was with David. And Michol the daughter of Saul loved him.

29 And Saul began to fear David more: and Saul became David's enemy continually.

30 And the princes of the Philiſtines went forth: and from the beginning of their going forth, David behaved himſelf more wiſely than all the ſervants of Saul, and his name became very famous.

CHAP. XIX.

Other attempts of Saul upon David's life. He cometh to Samuel. Saul's meſſengers and Saul himſelf propheſy.

AND Saul ſpoke to Jonathan his ſon, and to all his ſervants, that they ſhould kill David. But Jonathan the ſon of Saul loved David exceedingly.

2 And Jonathan told David, ſaying: Saul my father ſeeketh to kill thee: wherefore look to thyſelf, I beſeech thee, in the morning, and thou ſhalt abide in a ſecret place and ſhalt be hid.

3 And I will go out and ſtand beſide my father in the field where thou art: and I will ſpeak of thee to my father, and whatſoever I ſhall ſee, I will tell thee.

4 And Jonathan ſpoke good things of David, to Saul his father: and ſaid to him: Sin not, O king, againſt thy ſervant, David, becauſe he hath not ſinned againſt thee, and his works are very good towards thee.

5 And he put his life in his hand, and ſlew the Philiſtine, and the Lord wrought great ſalvation for all Iſrael. Thou ſaweſt it and didſt rejoice. Why therefore wilt thou ſin againſt innocent blood by killing David, who is without fault?

6 And when Saul heard this he was appeaſed with the words of Jonathan and ſwore: As the Lord liveth he ſhall not be ſlain.

7 Then Jonathan called David and told him all theſe words: and Jonathan brought in David to Saul, and he was before him, as he had been yeſterday and the day before.

8 * And the war began again, and David went out and fought againſt the Philiſtines, and defeated them with a great ſlaughter, and they fled from his face. * A. M. 2944.

9 And the evil ſpirit from the Lord came upon Saul, and he ſat in his houſe, and held a ſpear in his hand: and David played with his hand.

10 And Saul endeavoured to nail David to the wall with his ſpear. And David ſlipt away out of the preſence of Saul: and the ſpear miſſed him, and was faſtened in the wall, and David fled, and eſcaped that night.

11 Saul therefore ſent his guards to David's houſe to watch him, that he might be killed in the morning. And when Michol David's wife had told him this, ſaying: Unleſs thou ſave thyſelf this night, tomorrow thou wilt die:

12 She let him down through a window And he went and fled away, and eſcaped.

13 And Michol took an image and laid it on the bed, and put the goat ſkin with the hair at the head of it, and covered it with clothes:

14 And Saul ſent officers to ſeize David: and it was anſwered that he was ſick.

15 And again Saul ſent to ſee David, ſaying: Bring him to me in the bed, that he may be ſlain.

16 And when the meſſengers were come in, they found an image upon the bed, and a goat ſkin at its head.

17 And Saul ſaid to Michol: Why haſt thou deceived me ſo, and let my enemy go and flee away? And Michol anſwered Saul: Becauſe he ſaid to me: Let me go or elſe I will kill thee.

18 But David fled and eſcaped, and came to Samuel in Ramatha, and told him all that Saul had done to him: and he and Samuel went and dwelt in Najoth.

19 And it was told Saul by ſome, ſaying: Behold David is in Najoth in Ramatha.

20 So Saul ſent officers to take David: and when they ſaw a company of prophets propheſying, and Samuel preſiding over them, the Spirit of the Lord came alſo upon them, and they likewiſe began to propheſy.

21 And when this was told Saul, he ſent

22 Went alſo himſelf to Ramatha, and came as far as the great ciſtern, which is in Socho, and he aſked, and ſaid: In what place are Samuel and David? And it was told him: Behold they are in Najoth in Ramatha.

23 And he went to Najoth, in Ramatha, and the Spirit of the Lord came upon him alſo, and he went on, and propheſied till he came to Najoth in Ramatha,

24 And he ſtripped himſelf alſo of his garments, and propheſied with the reſt before Samuel, and lay down naked all that day and night. This gave occaſion to a proverb: ‖ What is Saul too among the prophets?

Saul being obſtinately bent upon killing David, he is ſent away by Jonathan.

A. M. 2944. Ante C. 1060.

BUT David fled from Najoth, which is in Ramatha, and came and ſaid to Jonathan: What have I done? what is my iniquity, and what is my ſin againſt thy father, that he ſeeketh my life?

2 And he ſaid to him: God forbid, thou ſhalt not die: for my father will do nothing great or little, without firſt telling me: hath then my father hid this word only from me? no, this ſhall not be.

3 And he ſwore again to David. And David ſaid: Thy father certainly knoweth that I have found grace in thy ſight, and he will ſay: Let not Jonathan know this, leſt he be grieved. But truly as the Lord liveth, and thy ſoul liveth, there is but one ſtep (as I may ſay) between me and death.

4 And Jonathan ſaid to David: Whatſoever thy ſoul ſhall ſay to me, I will do for thee.

5 And David ſaid to Jonathan: Behold to-morrow is the new moon, and I according to cuſtom am wont to ſit beſide the king to eat: let me go then that I may be hid in the field till the evening of the third day.

6 If thy father look and enquire for me, thou ſhalt anſwer him: David aſked me that he might run to Bethlehem ‖ his own city: becauſe there are ſolemn ſacrifices there for all his tribe.

‖ Luke 2. 4.

7 If he ſhall ſay, It is well: thy ſervant ſhall have peace: but if he be angry, know that his malice is come to its height.

8 Deal mercifully then with thy ſervant: for thou haſt brought me thy ſervant into a covenant of the Lord with thee. But if there be any iniquity in me, do thou kill me, and bring me not in to thy father.

9 And Jonathan ſaid: Far be this from thee: for if I ſhould certainly know that evil is determined by my father againſt thee, I could do no otherwiſe than tell thee.

10 And David anſwered Jonathan: Who ſhall bring me word, if thy father ſhould anſwer thee harſhly concerning me?

11 And Jonathan ſaid to David: Come and let us go out into the field. And when they were both of them gone out into the field,

12 Jonathan ſaid to David: O Lord God of Iſrael, if I ſhall diſcover my father's mind, to-morrow or the day after, and there be any thing good for David, and I ſend not immediately to thee, and make it known to thee,

13 May the Lord do ſo and ſo to Jonathan and add ſtill more. But if my father ſhall continue in malice againſt thee, I will diſcover it to thy ear, and will ſend thee away, that thou mayſt go in peace, and the Lord be with thee, as he hath been with my father.

14 And if I live, thou ſhalt ſhew me the kindneſs of the Lord: but if I die,

15 Thou ſhalt not take away thy kindneſs from my houſe for ever, when the Lord ſhall have rooted out the enemies of David, every one of them from the earth, may he take away Jonathan from his houſe, and may the Lord require it at the hands of David's enemies.

16 Jonathan therefore made a covenant with the houſe of David: and the Lord required it at the hands of David's enemies.

17 And Jonathan ſwore again to David, becauſe he loved him: for he loved him as his own ſoul.

18 And Jonathan ſaid to him: To-morrow is the new moon, and thou wilt be miſſed:

19 For thy ſeat will be empty till after to-morrow. So thou ſhalt go down quickly, and come to the place, where thou muſt be hid on the day when it is lawful to work, and thou ſhalt remain beſide the ſtone, which is called Ezel.

20 And I will ſhoot three arrows near it, and will ſhoot as if I were exerciſing myſelf at a mark.

21 And I will ſend a boy, ſaying to him: Go and fetch me the arrows.

22 If I ſhall ſay to the boy: Behold the arrows are on this ſide of thee, take them up: come thou to me, becauſe there is peace to thee, and there is no evil, as the Lord liveth. But if I ſhall ſpeak thus to the boy: Behold the arrows are beyond thee: go in peace, for the Lord hath ſent thee away.

23 And concerning the word which I and thou have ſpoken, the Lord be between thee and me for ever.

24 So David was hid in the field, and the new moon came, and the king ſat down to eat bread.

25 And when the king ſat down upon his chair (according to cuſtom) which was beſide the wall, Jonathan aroſe, and Abner ſat by Saul's ſide, and David's place appeared empty.

26 And Saul ſaid nothing that day, for he thought it might have happened to him, that he was not clean, nor purified.

27 And when the ſecond day after the new moon was come, David's place appeared empty again. And Saul ſaid to Jonathan his ſon: Why cometh not the ſon of Iſai to meat neither yeſterday, nor to-day?

28 And Jonathan anſwered Saul: He aſked leave of me earneſtly to go to Bethlehem,

29 And he ſaid: Let me go, for there is a ſolemn ſacrifice in the city, one of my brethren hath ſent for me: and now if I have found favour in thy eyes, I will go quickly, and ſee my brethren. For this cauſe he came not to the king's table.

30 Then Saul being angry againſt Jonathan, ſaid to him: Thou ſon of a woman that is the raviſher of a man, do I not know that thou loveſt the ſon of Iſai to thy own confuſion, and to the confuſion of thy ſhameleſs mother?

31 For as long as the ſon of Iſai liveth upon earth, thou ſhalt not be eſtabliſhed, nor thy kingdom. Therefore now preſently ſend, and fetch him to me: for he is the ſon of death.

32 And Jonathan anſwering Saul his father, ſaid: Why ſhall he die? what hath he done?

33 And Saul caught up a ſpear to ſtrike him. And Jonathan underſtood that it was determined by his father to kill David.

34 So Jonathan roſe from the table in great anger, and did not eat bread on the ſecond day after the new moon. For he was grieved for David, becauſe his father had put him to confuſion.

35 And when the morning came, Jonathan went into the field according to the appointment with David, and a little boy with him.

36 And he ſaid to his boy: Go, and fetch me the arrows which I ſhoot. And when the boy ran, he ſhot another arrow beyond the boy.

37 The boy therefore came to the place of the arrow which Jonathan had ſhot: and Jonathan cried after the boy, and ſaid: Behold the arrow is there further beyond thee.

38 And Jonathan cried again after the boy, ſaying: Make haſte ſpeedily, ſtand not. And Jonathan's boy gathered up the arrows, and brought them to his maſter:

39 And he knew not at all what was doing: for only Jonathan and David knew the matter.

40 Jonathan therefore gave his arms to the boy, and ſaid to him: Go, and carry them into the city.

41 And when the boy was gone, David roſe out of his place, which was toward the ſouth, and falling on his face to the ground, adored thrice: and kiſſing one another, they wept together, but David more.

42 And Jonathan ſaid to David: Go in peace: and let all ſtand that we have ſworn both of us in the name of the Lord, ſaying: The Lord be between me and thee, and between my ſeed and thy ſeed for ever.

43 And David aroſe, and departed: and Jonathan went into the city.

4 And the prieſt anſwered David, ſaying: I have no common bread at hand, but only holy bread, if the young men be clean, eſpecially from women?

5 And David anſwered the prieſt, and ſaid to him: Truly, as to what concerneth women, we have refrained ourſelves from yeſterday and the day before, when we came out, and the veſſels of the young men were holy. Now this way is defiled, but it ſhall alſo be ſanctified this day in the veſſels.

‖ Mat. 12. 3. 4. 6 ‖ The prieſt therefore gave him hallowed bread: for there was no bread there, but only the loaves of propoſition, which had been taken away from before the face of the Lord, that hot loaves might be ſet up.

7 Now a certain man of the ſervants of Saul was there that day, within the tabernacle of the Lord: and his name was Doeg an Edomite, the chiefeſt of Saul's herdſmen.

8 And David ſaid to Achimelech: Haſt thou here at hand a ſpear, or a ſword? for I brought not my own ſword, nor my own weapons with me, for the king's buſineſs required haſte.

9 And the prieſt ſaid: Lo here is the ſword of Goliath the Philiſtine whom thou ſleweſt in the valley of Terebinth, wrapped up in a cloth behind the ephod: if thou wilt take this, take it, for here is no other but this. And David ſaid: There is none like that, give it me.

10 And David aroſe and fled that day from the face of Saul: and came to Achis the king of Geth:

11 And the ſervants of Achis, when they ſaw David, ſaid to him: Is not this David the king of the land? Did they not ſing to him

13 And he changed his countenance before them, and ſlipt down between their hands: and he ſtumbled againſt the doors of the gate, and his ſpittle ran down upon his beard.

14 And Achis ſaid to his ſervants: You ſaw the man was mad: why have you brought him to me?

15 Have we need of madmen, that you have brought in this fellow, to play the madman in my preſence? ſhall this fellow come into my houſe?

DAVID therefore went from thence and fled to the cave of Odollam. And when his brethren, and all his father's houſe had heard of it, they went down to him thither. A. M. 2944.

2 And all that were in diſtreſs and oppreſſed with debt, and under affliction of mind gathered themſelves unto him: and he became their prince, and there were with him about four hundred men.

3 And David departed from thence into Maſpha of Moab: and he ſaid to the king of Moab: Let my father and my mother tarry with you, I beſeech thee, till I know what God will do for me.

4 And he left them under the eyes of the king of Moab, and they abode with him all the days that David was in the hold.

5 And Gad the prophet ſaid to David: Abide not in the hold, depart, and go into the land of Juda. And David departed, and came into the foreſt of Haret.

him: Hear me now, ye ſons of Jemini: will the ſon of Iſai give every one of you fields, and vineyards, and make you all tribunes, and centurions:

8 That all of you have conſpired againſt me, and there is no one to inform me, eſpecially when even my ſon hath entered into league with the ſon of Iſai? There is not one of you that pitieth my caſe, nor that giveth me any information: becauſe my ſon hath raiſed up my ſervant againſt me, plotting againſt me to this day.

9 And Doeg the Edomite who ſtood by, and was the chief among the ſervants of Saul, anſwering ſaid: I ſaw the ſon of Iſai, in Nobe with Achimelech the ſon of Achitob the prieſt.

10 And he conſulted the Lord for him, and gave him victuals, and gave him the ſword of Goliath the Philiſtine.

11 Then the king ſent to call for Achimelech the prieſt the ſon of Achitob, and all his father's houſe, the prieſts that were in Nobe, and they came all of them to the king.

12 And Saul ſaid to Achimelech: Hear, thou ſon of Achitob. He anſwered: Here I am, my lord.

13 And Saul ſaid to him: Why have you conſpired againſt me, thou, and the ſon of Iſai, and thou haſt given him bread and a ſword, and haſt conſulted the Lord for him, that he ſhould riſe up againſt me, continuing a traitor to this day.

14 And Achimelech anſwering the king, ſaid: And who amongſt all thy ſervants is ſo faithful as David, who is the king's ſon-in-law, and goeth forth at thy bidding, and is honourable in thy houſe?

15 Did I begin to-day to conſult the Lord for him? far be this from me: let not the king ſuſpect ſuch a thing againſt his ſervant, or any one in all my father's houſe: for thy ſervant knew nothing of this matter, either little or great.

16 And the king ſaid: Dying thou ſhalt die, Achimelech, thou and all thy father's houſe.

17 And the king ſaid to the meſſengers that ſtood about him: Turn, and kill the prieſts of the Lord, for their hand is with David, becauſe they knew that he was fled, and they told it not to me. And the king's ſervants would not put forth their hands againſt the prieſts of the Lord.

18 And the king ſaid to Doeg: Turn thou, and fall upon the prieſts. And Doeg the Edomite turned, and fell upon the prieſts and ſlew in that day eighty-five men that wore the linen ephod.

19 And Nobe the city of the prieſts he ſmote with the edge of the ſword, both men and women, children, and ſucklings, and ox and aſs, and ſheep with the edge of the ſword.

20 But one of the ſons of Achimelech the ſon of Achitob, whoſe name was Abiathar, eſcaped, and fled to David,

21 And told him that Saul had ſlain the prieſts of the Lord.

22 And David ſaid to Abiathar: I knew that day when Doeg the Edomite was there, that without doubt he would tell Saul: I have been the occaſion of the death of all the ſouls of thy father's houſe.

23 Abide thou with me, fear not: for he that ſeeketh my life, ſeeketh thy life alſo, and with me thou ſhalt be ſaved.

David relieveth Ceila, beſieged by the Philiſtines. He fleeth into the deſert of Ziph. Jonathan and he confirm their former covenant. The Ziphites diſcover him to Saul, who purſuing cloſe after him, is called away by an invaſion from the Philiſtines.

AND they told David, ſaying: Behold the Philiſtines fight againſt Ceila, and they rob the barns. A. M. 2945. Ante C. 1059.

2 Therefore David conſulted the Lord, ſaying: Shall I go and ſmite theſe Philiſtines? And the Lord ſaid to David: Go, and thou ſhalt ſmite the Philiſtines, and ſhalt ſave Ceila.

3 And the men that were with David, ſaid to him: Behold we are in fear here in Judea, how much more if we go to Ceila againſt the bands of the Philiſtines?

4 Therefore David conſulted the Lord again. And he anſwered and ſaid to him: Ariſe, and go to Ceila: for I will deliver the Philiſtines into thy hand.

5 David therefore, and his men, went to Ceila, and fought againſt the Philiſtines, and brought away their cattle, and made a great ſlaughter of them: and David ſaved the inhabitants of Ceila.

6 Now at that time, when Abiathar the ſon of Achimelech fled to David to Ceila, he came down having an ephod with him.

7 And it was told Saul that David was come to Ceila: and Saul ſaid: The Lord hath delivered him into my hands, and he is 8 And Saul commanded all the people, to go down to fight againſt Ceila, and to beſiege David, and his men.

9 Now when David underſtood, that Saul ſecretly prepared evil againſt him, he ſaid to Abiathar the prieſt: Bring hither the ephod.

10 And David ſaid: O Lord God of Iſrael, thy ſervant hath heard a report, that Saul deſigneth to come to Ceila, to deſtroy the city for my ſake:

11 Will the men of Ceila deliver me into his hands? and will Saul come down, as thy ſervant hath heard? O Lord God of Iſrael tell thy ſervant. And the Lord ſaid: He will come down.

12 And David ſaid: Will the men of Ceila deliver me, and my men, into the hands of Saul? And the Lord ſaid: They will deliver thee up.

13 Then David and his men, who were about ſix hundred, aroſe, and departing from Ceila, wandered up and down uncertain where they ſhould ſtay: and it was told Saul that David was fled from Ceila, and had eſcaped: wherefore he forbore to go out.

14 But David abode in the deſert in ſtrong holds, and he remained in a mountain of the deſert of Ziph, in a woody hill. And Saul ſought him always: but the Lord delivered him not into his hands.

15 And David ſaw that Saul was come out to ſeek his life. And David was in the deſert of Ziph, in a wood.

16 And Jonathan the ſon of Saul aroſe, and went to David into the wood, and ſtrengthened his hands in God: and he ſaid to him:

17 Fear not: for the hand of my father Saul ſhall not find thee, and thou ſhalt reign over Iſrael, and I ſhall be next to thee, yea, and my father knoweth this.

18 And they two made a covenant before the Lord: and David abode in the wood: but Jonathan returned to his houſe.

‖ Infra 26. 1. 19 ‖ And the Ziphites went up to Saul in Gabaa, ſaying: Lo, doth not David lie hid with us in the ſtrong holds of the wood, in mount Hachila, which is on the right hand of the deſert.

20 Now therefore come down, as thy ſoul hath deſired to come down: and it ſhall be our buſineſs to deliver him into the king's hands.

21 And Saul ſaid: Bleſſed be ye of the Lord, for you have pitied my caſe.

22 Go therefore, I pray you, and uſe all diligence, and curiouſly inquire, and conſider the place where his foot is, and who hath ſeen him there: for he thinketh of me, that I lie craftily in wait for him.

23 Conſider and ſee all his lurking holes wherein he is hid, and return to me with the certainty of the thing, that I may go with you. And if he ſhould even go down into the earth to hide himſelf, I will ſearch him out in all the thouſands of Juda.

24 And they aroſe and went to Ziph before Saul: and David and his men were in the deſert of Maon, in the plain at the right hand of Jeſimon.

25 Then Saul and his men went to ſeek him: and it was told David, and forthwith he went down to the rock, and abode in the wilderneſs of Maon: and when Saul had heard of it he purſued after David in the wilderneſs of Maon.

26 And Saul went on this ſide of the mountain: and David and his men were on the other ſide of the mountain: and David deſpaired of being able to eſcape from the face of Saul: and Saul and his men encompaſſed David and his men round about to take them.

27 And a meſſenger came to Saul, ſaying: Make haſte to come, for the Philiſtines have poured in themſelves upon the land.

28 Wherefore Saul returned, leaving the purſuit of David, and went to meet the Philiſtines. For this cauſe, they called that place, the Rock of diviſion.

CHAP. XXIV.

Saul ſeeketh David in the wilderneſs of Engaddi: he goeth into a cave where David hath him in his power.

A. M. 2946. Ante C. 1058. THEN David went up from thence, and dwelt in ſtrong holds of Engaddi.

2 And when Saul was returned from following the Philiſtines, they told him, ſaying: Behold, David is in the deſert of Engaddi.

3 Saul therefore took three thouſand choſen men out of all Iſrael, and went out to ſeek after David, and his men, even upon the moſt craggy rocks, which are acceſſible only to wild goats.

4 And he came to the ſheep-cotes which were in his way. And there was a cave, into which Saul went, to eaſe nature: now David and his men lay hid in the inner part of the cave.

5 And the ſervants of David ſaid to him: Behold the day, of which the Lord ſaid to thee: I will deliver thy enemy unto thee, that thou mayeſt do to him as it ſhall ſeem good in thy eyes. Then David aroſe, and ſecretly cut off the hem of Saul's robe.

6 After which David's heart ſtruck him, becauſe he had cut off the hem of Saul's robe.

7 And he ſaid to his men: The Lord be merciful unto me, that I may do no ſuch thing to my maſter the Lord's anointed, as to lay my hand upon him, becauſe he is the Lord's anointed.

8 And David ſtopped his men with his words, and ſuffered them not to riſe againſt Saul: But Saul riſing up out of the cave, went on his way.

9 And David alſo roſe up after him: and going out of the cave, cried after Saul, ſaying: My lord the king. And Saul looked behind him: and David bowing himſelf down to the ground, worſhipped,

10 And ſaid to Saul: Why doſt thou hear the words of men that ſay: David ſeeketh thy hurt?

11 Behold this day thy eyes have ſeen, that the Lord hath delivered thee into my hand, in the cave, and I had a thought to kill thee, but my eye hath ſpared thee. For I ſaid: I will not put out my hand againſt my lord, becauſe he is the Lord's anointed.

12 Moreover ſee and know, O my father, the hem of thy robe in my hand, that when I cut off the hem of thy robe, I would not put out my hand againſt thee. Reflect, and ſee, that there is no evil in my hand, nor iniquity, neither have I ſinned againſt thee: but thou lieſt in wait for my life, to take it away.

13 The Lord judge between me and thee, and the Lord revenge me of thee: but my hand ſhall not be upon thee.

14 As alſo it is ſaid in the old proverb: From the wicked ſhall wickedneſs come forth: therefore my hand ſhall not be upon thee. After whom doſt thou come out, O king of Iſrael?

15 After whom doſt thou purſue? After a dead dog, after a flea.

16 Be the Lord judge, and judge between me and thee, and ſee, and judge my cauſe, and deliver me out of thy hand.

17 And when David had made an end of ſpeaking theſe words to Saul, Saul ſaid: Is this thy voice, my ſon David? And Saul lifted up his voice, and wept:

18 And he ſaid to David: Thou art more juſt than I: for thou haſt done good to me, and I have rewarded thee with evil.

19 And thou haſt ſhewn this day what good things thou haſt done to me: how the Lord delivered me into thy hand, and thou haſt not killed me.

20 For who when he hath found his enemy, will let him go well away? But the Lord reward thee for this good turn, for what thou haſt done to me this day.

21 And now as I know that thou ſhalt ſurely be king, and have the kingdom of Iſrael in thy hand:

22 Swear to me by the Lord, that thou wilt not deſtroy my ſeed after me, nor take away my name from the houſe of my father.

23 And David ſwore to Saul. So Saul went home: and David and his men went up into ſafer places.

VER. 13. Revenge me of thee, or as it is in the Hebrew, will revenge me. The meaning is, that he refers his whole cauſe to God, to judge and puniſh according to his juſtice: yet ſo as to keep himſelf, in the mean time, from all perſonal hatred to Saul, or deſire of gratifying his own paſſion, by ſeeking revenge. missing to them of the flock at any time, all the while they were with us in Carmel.

8 Ask thy servants, and they will tell thee. Now therefore let thy servants find favour in thy eyes: for we are come in a good day, whatsoever thy hand shall find give to thy servants, and to thy son David.

9 And when David's servants came, they spoke to Nabal all these words in David's name: and then held their peace.

10 But Nabal answering the servants of David, said: Who is David? and what is the son of Isai? servants are multiplied now a days who flee from their masters.

11 Shall I then take my bread, and my water, and the flesh of my cattle, which I have killed for my shearers, and give to men whom I know not whence they are?

12 So the Servants of David went back their way, and returning came and told him all the words that he said.

13 Then David said to his young men: Let every man gird on his sword. And they girded on every man his sword. And David also girded on his sword: and there followed David about four hundred men. and two hundred remained with the baggage.

14 But one of the servants told Abigail the wife of Nabal, saying: Behold David sent messengers out of the wilderness, to salute our master: and he rejected them.

15 These men were very good to us, and gave us no trouble: neither did we ever lose any thing all the time that we conversed with them in the desert.

16 They were a wall unto us both by night and day, all the while we were with them keeping the sheep.

17 Wherefore consider, and think what thou hast to do: for evil is determined against thy husband, and against thy house, and he is a son of Belial, so that no man can speak to him.

18 Then Abigail made haste and took two hundred loaves, and two vessels of wine, and five sheep ready dressed, and five measures of parched corn, and a hundred clusters of raisins, and two hundred cakes of dry figs, and laid them upon asses:

19 And she said to her servants: Go before me: behold, I will follow after you: but she told not her husband Nabal.

20 And when she had gotten upon an ass, and was coming down to the foot of the mountain, David and his men came down over-against her, and she met them.

21 And David said: Truly in vain have I kept all that belonged to this man in the wilderness, and nothing was lost of all that pertained unto him: and he hath returned me evil for good.

22 May God do so and so, and add more to the foes of David, if I leave of all that belong to him till the morning, any that pisseth against the wall.

23 And when Abigail saw David, she made haste and lighted off the ass, and fell before David, on her face, and adored upon the ground.

24 And she fell at his feet, and said: Upon me let this iniquity be, my lord: let thy handmaid speak, I beseech, in thy ears: and hear the words of thy servant.

25 Let not my lord the king, I pray, regard this naughty man Nabal: for according to his name, he is a fool, and folly is with him: but I thy handmaid did not see thy servants, my lord, whom thou sentest.

26 Now therefore, my lord, the Lord liveth, and thy soul liveth, who hath withholden thee from coming to blood, and hath saved thy hand to thee: and now let thy enemies be as Nabal, and all they that seek evil to my lord.

27 Wherefore receive this blessing, which thy handmaid hath brought to thee, my lord: and give it to the young men that follow thee, my lord.

28 Forgive the iniquity of thy handmaid: for the Lord will surely make for my lord a faithful house, ‖ because thou, my lord, fightest the battles of the Lord: let not evil therefore be found in thee all the days of thy life. ‖ Supra 16. 18. & 17. 40.

29 For if a man at any time shall rise, and persecute thee, and seek thy life, the soul of my lord shall be kept, as in the bundle of the living, with the Lord thy God: but the souls of thy enemies shall be whirled, as with the violence and whirling of a sling.

30 And when the Lord shall have done to thee, my lord, all the good that he hath spoken concerning thee, and shall have made thee prince over Israel,

32 And David ſaid to Abigail: Bleſſed be the Lord the God of Iſrael, who ſent thee this day to meet me, and bleſſed be thy ſpeech:

33 And bleſſed be thou, who haſt kept me to-day, from coming to blood, and revenging me with my own hand.

34 Otherwiſe, as the Lord liveth the God of Iſrael, who hath withholden me, from doing thee any evil: if thou hadſt not quickly come to meet me, there had not been left to Nabal by the morning light any that piſſeth againſt the wall.

35 And David received at her hand all that ſhe had brought him, and ſaid to her: Go in peace into thy houſe, behold I have heard thy voice, and have honoured thy face.

36 And Abigail came to Nabal: and behold he had a feaſt in his houſe, like the feaſt of a king, and Nabal's heart was merry: for he was very drunk: and ſhe told him nothing leſs or more until morning.

37 But early in the morning when Nabal had digeſted his wine, his wife told him theſe words, and his heart died within him, and he became as a ſtone.

38 And after ten days had paſſed, the Lord ſtruck Nabal, and he died.

39 And when David had heard that Nabal was dead, he ſaid: Bleſſed be the Lord, who hath judged the cauſe of my reproach at the hand of Nabal, and hath kept his ſervant from evil, and the Lord hath returned the wickedneſs of Nabal upon his head. Then David ſent and treated with Abigail, that he might take her to himſelf for a wife.

40 And David's ſervants came to Abigail to Carmel, and ſpoke to her, ſaying: David hath ſent us to thee, to take thee to himſelf for a wife.

41 And ſhe aroſe and bowed herſelf down with her face to the earth, and ſaid: Behold let thy ſervant be a handmaid, to waſh the feet of the ſervants of my lord.

42 And Abigail aroſe, and made haſte, and got upon an aſs, and five damſels went with her, her waiting maids, and ſhe followed the meſſengers of David, and became his wife.

43 Moreover David took alſo Achinoam of Jezrahel: and they were both of them his wives.

44 But Saul gave Michol his daughter, David's wife, to Phalti, the ſon of Lais, who was of Gallim.

4 He ſent ſpies, and learned that he was moſt certainly come thither.

5 And David aroſe ſecretly, and came to the place where Saul was: and when he had beheld the place, wherein Saul ſlept, and Abner the ſon of Ner, the captain of his army, and Saul ſleeping in a tent, and the reſt of the multitude round about him,

6 David ſpoke to Achimelech the Hethite, and Abiſai the ſon of Sarvia the brother of Joab, ſaying: Who will go down with me to Saul into the camp? And Abiſai ſaid: I will go with thee.

7 So David and Abiſai came to the people by night, and found Saul lying and ſleeping in the tent, and his ſpear fixed in the ground at his head: and Abner and the people ſleeping round about him.

8 And Abiſai ſaid to David: God hath ſhut up thy enemy this day into thy hands: now then I will run him through with my ſpear even to the earth at once, and there ſhall be no need of a ſecond time.

VER. 39. Bleſſed be, &c. David praiſeth God, on this occaſion; not out of joy for the death of Nabal (which would have argued a rancour of heart), but becauſe he ſaw that God had ſo viſibly taken his cauſe in hand, in puniſhing the injury done to him; whilſt by a merciful providence he kept him from revenging himſelf.

15 And David ſaid to Abner: Art not thou a man? and who is like thee in Iſrael? why then haſt thou not kept thy lord the king? for there came one of the people in to kill the king thy lord.

20 And now let not my blood be ſhed upon the earth before the Lord: for the king of Iſrael is come out to ſeek a flea, as the partridge is hunted in the mountains.

21 And Saul ſaid: I have ſinned, return, my ſon David, for I will no more do thee harm, becauſe my life hath been precious in thy eyes this day: for it appeareth that I have done fooliſhly, and have been ignorant in very many things.

22 And David anſwering, ſaid: Behold the king's ſpear: let one of the king's ſervants come over and fetch it.

23 And the Lord will reward every one according to his juſtice, and his faithfulneſs: for the Lord hath delivered thee this day into my hand, and I would not put forth my hand againſt the Lord's anointed.

24 And as thy life hath been much ſet by this day in my eyes, ſo let my life be much ſet by in the eyes of the Lord, and let him deliver me from all diſtreſs.

25 Then Saul ſaid to David: Bleſſed art thou, my ſon David: and truly doing thou ſhalt do, and prevailing thou ſhalt prevail. And David went on his way, and Saul returned to his place.

CHAP. XXVII.

David goeth again to Achis king of Geth, and obtaineth of him the city of Siceleg.

AND David ſaid in his heart: I ſhall one day or other fall into the hands of Saul: is it not better for me to flee, and to be ſaved in the land of the Philiſtines, that Saul may deſpair of me, and ceaſe to ſeek me in all the coaſts of Iſrael? I will flee then out of his hands. A. M. 2947.

2 And David aroſe, and went away, both he and the ſix hundred men that were with him to Achis the ſon of Maoch, king of Geth.

3 And David dwelt with Achis at Geth, he and his men; every man with his houſhold, and David with his two wives, Achinoam the Jezrahelitеſs, and Abigail the wife of Nabal of Carmel.

4 And it was told Saul that David was fled to Geth, and he ſought no more after him.

5 And David ſaid to Achis: If I have found favour in thy ſight, let a place be given me in one of the cities of this country, that I may dwell there: for why ſhould thy ſervant dwell in the royal city with thee?

6 Then Achis gave him Siceleg that day: for which reaſon Siceleg belongeth to the kings of Juda unto this day.

7 And the time that David dwelt in the country of the Philiſtines, was four months.

8 And David and his men went up, and pillaged Geſſuri, and Gerzi, and the Amalecites: for theſe were of old the inhabitants of the countries, as men go to Sur, even to the land of Egypt.

9 And David waſted all the land, and

CHAP. XXVII. VER. 8. Pillaged Geſſuri, &c. Theſe probably were enemies of the people of God: and ſome, if not all of them, were of the number of thoſe whom God had ordered to be deſtroyed: which juſtifies David's proceedings in their regard. Though it is to be obſerved here, that we are not under an obligation of juſtifying every thing that he did: for the ſcripture in relating what was done, doth not ſay that it was well done. And even ſuch as are true ſervants of God, are not to be imitated in all they do.

left neither man nor woman alive: and took away the ſheep and the oxen, and the aſſes, and the camels, and the apparel, and returned and came to Achis.

10 And Achis ſaid to him: Whom haſt thou gone againſt to-day? David anſwered: Againſt the ſouth of Juda, and againſt the ſouth of Jerameel, and againſt the ſouth of Ceni.

11 And David ſaved neither man nor woman, neither brought he any of them to Geth, ſaying: Leſt they ſhould ſpeak againſt us. So did David, and ſuch was his proceeding all the days that he dwelt in the country of the Philiſtines.

12 And Achis believed David, ſaying: He hath done much harm to his people Iſrael: Therefore he ſhall be my ſervant for ever.

CHAP. XXVIII.

The Philiſtines go out to war againſt Iſrael. Saul being forſaken by God, hath recourſe to a witch. Samuel appeareth to him.

A. M. 2949. Ante C. 1055. AND it came to paſs in thoſe days, that the Philiſtines gathered together their armies, to be prepared for war againſt Iſrael: and Achis ſaid to David: Knowing now know thou, that thou ſhalt go out with me to the war, thou, and thy men.

2 And David ſaid to Achis: Now thou ſhalt know what thy ſervant will do. And Achis ſaid to David: And I will appoint thee to guard my life for ever.

‖ Supra 25. 1. Eccli. 46. 23. 3 ‖ Now Samuel was dead, and all Iſrael mourned for him, and buried him in Ramatha his city. And Saul had put away all the magicians and ſoothſayers out of the land.

4 And the Philiſtines were gathered together, and came and camped in Sunam: and Saul alſo gathered together all Iſrael, and came to Gelboe.

5 And Saul ſaw the army of the Philiſtines, and was afraid, and his heart was very much diſmayed.

6 And he conſulted the Lord, and he anſwered him not, neither by dreams, nor by prieſts, nor by prophets.

‖ Lev. 20. 27. Deut. 18. 11. Acts 16. 16. 7 And Saul ſaid to his ſervants: Seek me a woman that hath a ‖ divining ſpirit, and I will go to her, and enquire by her. And his ſervants ſaid to him: There is a woman that hath a divining ſpirit at Endor.

8 Then he diſguiſed himſelf: and put on other clothes, and he went, and two men with him, and they came to the woman by night, and he ſaid to her: Divine to me by thy divining ſpirit, and bring me up him whom I ſhall tell thee.

9 And the woman ſaid to him: Behold thou knoweſt all that Saul hath done, and how he hath rooted out the magicians and ſoothſayers from the land: why then doſt thou lay a ſnare for my life, to cauſe me to be put to death?

10 And Saul ſwore unto her by the Lord, ſaying: As the Lord liveth there ſhall no evil happen to thee for this thing.

11 And the woman ſaid to him: Whom ſhall I bring up to thee? And he ſaid: Bring me up Samuel.

12 And when the woman ſaw Samuel, ſhe cried out with a loud voice, and ſaid to Saul: Why haſt thou deceived me? for thou art Saul.

13 And the king ſaid to her: Fear not: what haſt thou ſeen? And the woman ſaid to Saul: I ſaw gods aſcending out of the earth.

14 And he ſaid to her: What form is he of? And ſhe ſaid: An old man cometh up, and he is covered with a mantle. And Saul underſtood that it was Samuel, and he bowed himſelf with his face to the ground, and adored.

‖ Eccli. 46. 23. 15 And Samuel ſaid to Saul: ‖ Why haſt thou diſturbed my reſt, that I ſhould be brought up? And Saul ſaid, I am in great diſtreſs: for the Philiſtines fight againſt me, and God is departed from me, and would not hear me, neither by the hand of prophets, nor by dreams: therefore I have called thee, that thou mayeſt ſhew me what I ſhall do.

16 And Samuel ſaid: Why aſkeſt thou me, ſeeing the Lord has departed from thee, and is gone over to thy rival:

17 For the Lord will do to thee as he ſpoke by me, and he will rent thy kingdom out of thy hand, and will give it to thy neighbour David:

18 Becauſe thou didſt not obey the voice of the Lord, neither didſt thou execute the wrath of his indignation upon Amalec. Therefore hath the Lord done to thee what thou ſuffereſt this day.

CHAP. XXVIII. VER. 14. Underſtood that it was Samuel. It is the more common opinion of the holy fathers, and interpreters, that the ſoul of Samuel appeared indeed: and not, as ſome have imagined, an evil ſpirit in his ſhape. Not that the power of her magic could bring him thither, but that God was pleaſed for the puniſhment of Saul, that Samuel himſelf ſhould denounce unto him the evils that were falling upon him. See Eccleſiaſticus xlvi. 23.

the army of Iſrael into the hands of the Philiſtines.

20 And forthwith Saul fell all along on the ground, for he was frightened with the words of Samuel, and there was no ſtrength in him, for he had eaten no bread all that day.

21 And the woman came to Saul (for he was very much troubled) and ſaid to him: Behold thy handmaid hath obeyed thy voice, and I have put my life in my hand: and I hearkened unto the words which thou ſpokeſt to me.

22 Now therefore hear thou alſo the voice of thy handmaid, and let me ſet before thee a morſel of bread, that thou mayeſt eat and recover ſtrength, and be able to go on thy journey.

23 But he refuſed, and ſaid: I will not eat. But his ſervants and the woman forced him, and at length hearkening to their voice, he aroſe from the ground, and ſat upon the bed.

24 Now the woman had a fatted calf in the houſe, and ſhe made haſte and killed it: and taking meal kneaded it, and baked ſome unleavened bread,

25 And ſet it before Saul, and before his ſervants. And when they had eaten they roſe up, and walked all that night.

CHAP. XXIX.

David going with the Philiſtines is ſent back by their princes.

A. M. 2947. NOW all the troops of the Philiſtines were gathered together to Aphec: and Iſrael alſo camped by the fountain which is in Jezrahel.

2 And the lords of the Philiſtines marched with their hundreds and their thouſands: but David and his men were in the rear with Achis.

3 And the princes of the Philiſtines ſaid to Achis: What mean theſe Hebrews? And Achis ſaid to the princes of the Philiſtines: Do you not know David, who was the ſervant of Saul the king of Iſrael, and hath been with me many days, or years, and I have found no fault in him, ſince the day that he fled over to me until this day?

§ Supra 27. 8. 1 Par. 12. 19. 4 ‖ But the princes of the Philiſtines were angry with him, and they ſaid to him: Let this man return, and abide in his place, which thou haſt appointed him, and let him not go down with us to battle, leſt he be an adverſary to us, when we ſhall begin to fight: for how can he otherwiſe appeaſe his maſter, but with our heads?

5 Is not this David, to whom they ſung in their dances, ſaying: Saul ſlew his thouſands, and David his ten thouſands?

6 Then Achis called David, and ſaid to him: As the Lord liveth, thou art upright and good in my ſight: and ſo is thy going out, and thy coming in with me in the army: and I have not found any evil in thee, ſince the day that thou cameſt to me unto this day: but thou pleaſeſt not the lords.

7 Return therefore, and go in peace, and offend not the eyes of the princes of the Philiſtines.

8 And David ſaid to Achis: But what have I done, and what haſt thou found in me thy ſervant, from the day that I have been in thy ſight until this day, that I may not go and fight againſt the enemies of my lord the king?

9 And Achis anſwering ſaid to David: I know that thou art good in my ſight, ‖ as an Angel of God: but the princes of the Philiſtines have ſaid: He ſhall not go up with us to the battle. ‖ 2 Kings 14. 17. & 20. Item 19. 27.

10 Therefore ariſe in the morning, thou, and the ſervants of thy lord, who came with thee: and when you are up before day, and it ſhall begin to be light, go on your way.

11 So David and his men aroſe in the night, that they might ſet forward in the morning, and returned to the land of the Philiſtines: and the Philiſtines went up to Jezrahel.

CHAP. XXX.

The Amalecites burn Siceleg, and carry off the prey: David purſueth after them, and recovereth all out of their hands.

A. M. 2949. ‖ 1 Par. 12. 20. ‖ NOW when David and his men were come to Siceleg on the third day, the Amalecites had made an invaſion on the ſouth ſide upon Siceleg, and had ſmitten Siceleg, and burnt it with fire.

2 And had taken the women captives that were in it, both little and great: and they had not killed any perſon, but had carried them with them, and went on their way.

3 So when David and his men came to the city, and found it burnt with fire, and that their wives and their ſons, and their daughters were taken captives,

4 David and the people that were with him, lifted up their voices, and wept till they had no more tears.

5 For the two wives alſo of David were taken captives, Achinoam the Jezrahelites, and Abigail the wife of Nabal of Carmel.

6 And David was greatly afflicted: for the people had a mind to ſtone him, for the ſoul of every man was bitterly grieved for his ſons, and daughters: but David took courage in the Lord his God.

7 And he ſaid to Abiathar the prieſt the ſon of Achimelech: Bring me hither the ephod. And Abiathar brought the ephod to David.

8 And David conſulted the Lord, ſaying: Shall I purſue after theſe robbers, and ſhall I overtake them, or no? And the Lord ſaid to him: Purſue after them: for thou ſhalt ſurely overtake them and recover the prey.

9 So David went, he and the ſix hundred men that were with him, and they came to the torrent Beſor: and ſome being weary ſtayed there.

10 But David purſued, he and four hundred men: for two hundred ſtayed, who being weary could not go over the torrent Beſor.

11 And they found an Egyptian in the field, and brought him to David: and they gave him bread to eat, and water to drink,

12 As alſo a piece of a cake of figs, and two bunches of raiſins. And when he had eaten them his ſpirit returned, and he was refreſhed: for he had not eaten bread, nor drunk water three days, and three nights.

13 And David ſaid to him: To whom doſt thou belong? or whence doſt thou come? and whither art thou going? He ſaid: I am a young man of Egypt, the ſervant of an Amalecite: and my maſter left me, becauſe I began to be ſick three days ago.

14 For we made an invaſion on the ſouth ſide of Cerethi, and upon Juda, and upon the ſouth of Caleb, and we burnt Siceleg with fire.

15 And David ſaid to him: Canſt thou bring me to this company? And he ſaid: Swear to me by God, that thou wilt not kill me, nor deliver me into the hands of my maſter, and I will bring thee to this company. And David ſwore to him.

16 And when he had brought him, behold they were lying ſpread upon all the ground, eating, and drinking, and as it were keeping a feſtival day, for all the prey, and the ſpoils which they had taken out of the land of the Philiſtines, and out of the land of Juda.

17 And David ſlew them from the evening unto the evening of the next day, and there eſcaped not a man of them, but four hundred young men, who had gotten upon camels, and fled.

18 So David recovered all that the Amalecites had taken, and he reſcued his two wives.

19 And there was nothing miſſing ſmall or great, neither of their ſons or their daughters, nor of the ſpoils, and whatſoever they had taken, David recovered all.

20 And he took all the flocks and the herds, and made them go before him: and they ſaid: This is the prey of David.

21 And David came to the two hundred men, who being weary had ſtayed, and were not able to follow David, and he had ordered them to abide at the torrent Beſor: and they came out to meet David, and the people that were with him. And David coming to the people, ſaluted them peaceably.

22 Then all the wicked and unjuſt men, that had gone with David anſwering, ſaid: Becauſe they came not with us, we will not give them any thing of the prey which we have recovered: but let every man take his wife and his children, and be contented with them, and go his way.

23 But David ſaid: You ſhall not do ſo, my brethren, with theſe things, which the Lord hath given us, who hath kept us, and hath delivered the robbers that invaded us into our hands:

24 And no man ſhall hearken to you in this matter. But equal ſhall be the portion of him that went down to battle and of him that abode at the baggage, and they ſhall divide alike.

25 And this hath been done from that day forward, and ſince was made a ſtatute and an ordinance, and as a law in Iſrael.

26 Then David came to Siceleg, and ſent preſents of the prey to the ancients of Juda his neighbours, ſaying: Receive a bleſſing of the prey of the enemies of the Lord.

27 To them that were in Bethel, and that were in Ramoth to the ſouth, and to them that were in Jether,

28 And to them that were in Aroer, and that were in Sephamoth, and that were in Eſthamo,

29 And that were in Rachal, and that were in the cities of Jerameel, and that were in the cities of Ceni,

30 And that were in Arama, and that were in the lake Aſan, and that were in Athach,

31 And that were in Hebron, and to the reſt that were in thoſe places, in which David had abode with his men.

CHAP. XXXI.

Iſrael is defeated by the Philiſtines: Saul and his ſons are ſlain.

A. M. 2949. AND the Philiſtines fought againſt Iſrael, and the men of Iſrael fled from before the Philiſtines, and fell down ſlain in mount Gelboe.

‖ 1 Par. 10. 2. & 3. 2 ‖ And the Philiſtines fell upon Saul, and upon his ſons, and they ſlew Jonathan, and Abinadab and Melchiſua the ſons of Saul,

3 And the whole weight of the battle was turned upon Saul: and the archers overtook him, and he was grievouſly wounded by the archers.

‖ 1 Par. 10. 4. 4 ‖ Then Saul ſaid to his armour-bearer: Draw thy ſword, and kill me: leſt theſe uncircumciſed come, and ſlay me, and mock at me. And his armour-bearer would not: for he was ſtruck with exceeding great fear. Then Saul took his ſword, and fell upon it.

5 And when his armour-bearer ſaw this, to wit, that Saul was dead, he alſo fell upon his ſword and died with him.

6 So Saul died, and his three ſons, and his armour-bearer, and all his men that ſame day together.

7 And the men of Iſrael, that were beyond the valley, and beyond the Jordan, ſeeing that the Iſraelites were fled, and that Saul was dead, and his ſons, forſook their cities, and fled: and the Philiſtines came, and dwelt there.

8 And on the morrow the Philiſtines came to ſtrip the ſlain, and they found Saul and his three ſons lying in mount Gelboe.

9 And they cut off Saul's head, and ſtripped him of his armour, and ſent into the land of the Philiſtines round about, to publiſh it in the temples of their idols, and among their people.

10 And they put his armour in the temple of Aſtaroth, but his body they hung on the wall of Bethſan.

‖ 2 Kings 2. 4. 11 ‖ Now when the inhabitants of Jabes Galaad had heard all that the Philiſtines had done to Saul,

12 All the moſt valiant men aroſe, and walked all the night, and took the body of Saul, and the bodies of his ſons, from the wall of Bethſan: and they came to Jabes Galaad, and burnt them there:

13 And they took their bones, and buried them in the wood of Jabes: and faſted ſeven days.

THE SECOND BOOK OF SAMUEL, OTHERWISE CALLED THE SECOND BOOK OF KINGS.

This book relates the tranſactions from the death of Saul until the end of David's reign, being a hiſtory for the ſpace of about 46 years.

CHAP. I.

David mourneth for the death of Saul and Jonathan: he ordereth the man to be ſlain who pretended he had killed Saul.

A. M. 2949. Ante C. 1055. NOW it came to paſs, after Saul was dead, that David returned from the ſlaughter of the Amalecites, and abode two days in Siceleg.

2 And on the third day, there appeared a man who came out of Saul's camp, with his garments rent, and duſt ſtrewed on his head: and when he came to David, he fell upon his face, and adored.

3 And David ſaid to him: From whence comeſt thou? And he ſaid to him: I am fled out of the camp of Iſrael.

4 And David ſaid unto him: What is the matter that is come to pass? tell me. He said: The people are fled from the battle, and many of the people are fallen and dead: moreover Saul and Jonathan his son are slain.

5 And David said to the young man that told him: How knowest thou that Saul, and Jonathan his son are dead?

6 And the young man that told him, said: I came by chance upon mount Gelboe, and Saul leaned upon his spear: and the chariots and horsemen drew nigh unto him,

7 And looking behind him, and seeing me, he called me. And I answered: Here am I.

8 And he said to me: Who art thou? And I said to him: I am an Amalecite.

9 And he said to me: Stand over me, and kill me: for anguish is come upon me, and as yet my whole life is in me.

10 So standing over him, I killed him: for I knew that he could not live after the fall: and I took the diadem that was on his head, and the bracelet that was on his arm, and have brought them hither to thee my lord.

11 Then David took hold of his garments and rent them, and likewise all the men that were with him,

12 And they mourned, and wept, and fasted until evening for Saul, and for Jonathan his son, and for the people of the Lord, and for the house of Israel, because they were fallen by the sword.

13 And David said to the young man that told him: Whence art thou? He answered: I am the son of a stranger of Amalec.

‖ Psal. 104. 15. 14 David said to him: ‖ Why didst thou not fear to put out thy hand to kill the Lord's anointed?

15 And David calling one of his servants, said: Go near and fall upon him. And he struck him so that he died.

16 And David said to him: Thy blood be upon thy own head: for thy own mouth hath spoken against thee, saying: I have slain the Lord's anointed.

17 And David made this kind of lamentation over Saul, and over Jonathan his son.

18 (Also he commanded that they should teach the children of Juda the use of the bow, as it is written in the Book of the just.) And he said: Consider, O Israel, for them that are dead wounded on thy high places.

19 The illustrious of Israel are slain upon thy mountains: how are the valiant fallen?

20 Tell it not in Geth, publish it not in the streets of Ascalon: lest the daughters of the Philistines rejoice, lest the daughters of the uncircumcised triumph.

21 Ye mountains of Gelboe, let neither dew, nor rain come upon you, neither be they fields of first fruits: for there was cast away the shield of the valiant, the shield of Saul as though he had not been anointed with oil.

22 From the blood of the slain, from the fat of the valiant, the arrow of Jonathan never turned back, and the sword of Saul did not return empty.

23 Saul and Jonathan lovely, and comely in their life, even in death they were not divided: they were swifter than eagles, stronger than lions.

24 Ye daughters of Israel weep over Saul, who clothed you with scarlet in delights, who gave ornaments of gold for your attire.

25 How are the valiant fallen in battle? Jonathan slain in the high places?

26 I grieve for thee, my brother Jonathan, exceeding beautiful, and amiable to me above the love of women. As the mother loveth her only son, so did I love thee.

27 How are the valiant fallen, and the weapons of war perished?

CHAP. II.

David is received and anointed king of Juda. Isboseth the son of Saul reigneth over the rest of Israel. A battle between Abner and Joab.

AND after these things David consulted the Lord, saying: Shall I go up into one of the cities of Juda? And the Lord said to him: Go up. And David said: Whither shall I go up? And he answered him: Into Hebron. A. M. 2949.

2 So David went up, and his two wives, Achinoam the Jezrahelites, and Abigail the wife of Nabal of Carmel:

3 And the men also that were with him, David brought up every man with his household: and they abode in the towns of Hebron.

‖ 1 Mac. 2. 57. Infra 5. 3. 4 ‖ And the men of Juda came, and anointed David there, to be king over the house of Juda. And it was told David, that the men of Jabes Galaad had buried Saul.

5 David therefore sent messengers to the men of Jabes Galaad, and said to them: Blessed be you to the Lord, who have shewn this mercy to your master Saul, and have buried him.

CHAP. I. VER. 10. I killed him. This story of the young Amalecite was not true, as may easily be proved by comparing it with the last chapter of the foregoing book.

6 And now the Lord surely will render you mercy and truth, and I also will requite you for this good turn, because you have done this thing.

7 Let your hands be strengthened, and be ye men of valour: for although your master Saul be dead, yet the house of Juda hath anointed me to be their king.

8 But Abner the son of Ner, general of Saul's army, took Isboseth the son of Saul, and led him about through the camp,

9 And made him king over Galaad, and over Gessuri, and over Jezrahel, and over Ephraim, and over Benjamin, and over all Israel.

10 Isboseth the son of Saul was forty years old when he began to reign over Israel, and he reigned two years; and only the house of Juda followed David.

11 And the number of the days that David abode, reigning in Hebron over the house of Juda, was seven years and six months.

12 And Abner the son of Ner, and the servants of Isboseth the son of Saul, went out from the camp to Gabaon.

13 And Joab the son of Sarvia, and the servants of David went out, and met them by the pool of Gabaon. And when they were come together, they sat down over-against one another: the one on the one side of the pool, and the other on the other side.

14 And Abner said to Joab: Let the young men rise, and play before us. And Joab answered: Let them rise.

15 Then there arose and went over twelve in number of Benjamin, of the part of Isboseth the son of Saul, and twelve of the servants of David.

16 And every one catching his fellow by the head, thrust his sword into the side of his adversary, and they fell down together: and the name of the place was called: The field of the valiant, in Gabaon.

17 And there was a very fierce battle that day: and Abner was put to flight, with the men of Israel, by the servants of David.

18 And there were the three sons of Sarvia there, Joab, and Abisai, and Asael: now Asael was a most swift runner, like one of the roes that abide in the woods.

19 And Asael pursued after Abner, and turned not to the right hand nor to the left from following Abner.

20 And Abner looked behind him, and said: Art thou Asael? And he answered: I am.

21 And Abner said to him: Go to the right hand, or to the left, and lay hold on one of the young men and take thee his spoils. But Asael would not leave off following him close.

22 And again Abner said to Asael: Go off, and do not follow me, lest I be obliged to stab thee to the ground, and I shall not be able to hold up my face to Joab thy brother.

23 But he refused to hearken to him, and would not turn aside: wherefore Abner struck him with his spear with a back stroke in the groin, and thrust him through, and he died upon the spot: and all that came to the place where Asael fell down and died, stood still.

24 Now while Joab and Abisai pursued after Abner, the sun went down: and they came as far as the hill of the aqueduct, that lieth over-against the valley by the way of the wilderness in Gabaon.

25 And the children of Benjamin gathered themselves together to Abner: and being joined in one body, they stood on the top of a hill.

26 And Abner cried out to Joab, and said: Shall thy sword rage unto utter destruction? knowest thou not that it is dangerous to drive people to despair? how long dost thou defer to bid the people cease from pursuing after their brethren?

27 And Joab said: As the Lord liveth, if thou hadst spoke sooner, even in the morning the people should have retired from pursuing after their brethren?

28 Then Joab sounded the trumpet, and all the army stood still, and did not pursue after Israel any farther, nor fight any more.

29 And Abner and his men walked all that night through the plains: and they passed the Jordan, and having gone through all Bethhoron, came to the camp.

30 And Joab returning, after he had left Abner, assembled all the people: and there were wanting of David's servants nineteen men, beside Asael.

31 But the servants of David had killed of Benjamin, and of the men that were with Abner, three hundred and sixty, who all died.

32 And they took Asael, and buried him in the sepulchre of his father in Bethlehem: and Joab, and the men that were with him, marched all the night, and they came to Hebron at break of day.

CHAP. II., VER. 10. He reigned two years, viz. Before he began visibly to decline: but in all he reigned seven years and six months: for so long David reigned in Hebron.

CHAP. III.

David groweth daily ſtronger. Abner cometh over to him: he is treacherouſly ſlain by Joab.

A. M. 2951. NOW there was a long war between the houſe of Saul and the houſe of David: David proſpering and growing always ſtronger and ſtronger, but the houſe of Saul decaying daily.

‖ 1 Par. 3. 1. 2 ‖ And ſons were born to David in Hebron: and his firſt born was Amnon of Achinoam the Jezrahelitеſs.

3 And his ſecond Cheleab of Abigail the wife of Nabal of Carmel: and the third Abſalom the ſon of Maacha the daughter of Tholmai king of Geſſur.

4 And the fourth Adonias, the ſon of Haggith: and the fifth Saphathia the ſon of Abital.

5 And the ſixth Jethraam of Egla the wife of David: theſe were born to David in Hebron.

6 Now while there was war between the houſe of Saul and the houſe of David, Abner the ſon of Ner ruled the houſe of Saul.

7 And Saul had a concubine named Reſpha, the daughter of Aia. And Iſboſeth ſaid to Abner:

8 Why didſt thou go in to my father's concubine? And he was exceedingly angry for the words of Iſboſeth, and ſaid: Am I a dog's head againſt Juda this day, who have ſhewn mercy to the houſe of Saul thy father, and to his brethren and friends, and have not delivered thee into the hands of David, and haſt thou fought this day againſt me to charge me with a matter concerning a woman?

9 So do God to Abner, and more alſo, unleſs as the Lord hath ſworn to David, ſo I do to him,

10 That the kingdom be tranſlated from the houſe of Saul, and the throne of David be ſet up over Iſrael, and over Juda, from Dan to Berſabee.

11 And he could not anſwer him a word, becauſe he feared him.

A. M. 2956. Ante C. 1048. 12 Abner therefore ſent meſſengers to David for himſelf, ſaying: Whoſe is the land? and that they ſhould ſay: Make a league with me, and my hand ſhall be with thee: and I will bring all Iſrael to thee.

13 And he ſaid: Very well: I will make a league with thee: but one thing I require of thee, ſaying: Thou ſhalt not ſee my face before thou bring Michol the daughter of Saul: and ſo thou ſhalt come, and ſee me.

14 And David ſent meſſengers to Iſboſeth the ſon of Saul, ſaying: ‖ Reſtore my wife Michol, whom I eſpouſed to me for a hundred fore-ſkins of the Philiſtines. ‖ 1 Kings 18. 27.

15 And Iſboſeth ſent, and took her from her huſband Phaltiel, the ſon of Lais.

16 And her huſband followed her, weeping as far as Bahurim: and Abner ſaid to him: Go and return. And he returned.

17 Abner alſo ſpoke to the ancients of Iſrael, ſaying: Both yeſterday and the day before you ſought for David that he might reign over you.

18 Now then do it: becauſe the Lord hath ſpoken to David, ſaying: By the hand of my ſervant David I will ſave my people Iſrael from the hands of the Philiſtines, and of all their enemies.

19 And Abner ſpoke alſo to Benjamin. And he went to ſpeak to David in Hebron all that ſeemed good to Iſrael, and to all Benjamin.

20 And he came to David in Hebron with twenty men: and David made a feaſt for Abner, and his men that came with him.

21 And Abner ſaid to David: I will riſe, that I may gather all Iſrael unto thee my lord the king, and may enter into a league with thee, and that thou mayeſt reign over all as thy ſoul deſireth. Now when David had brought Abner on his way, and he was gone in peace,

22 Immediately David's ſervants and Joab came, after having ſlain the robbers, with an exceeding great booty: and Abner was not with David in Hebron, for he had now ſent him away, and he was gone in peace.

23 And Joab and all the army that was with him, came afterwards: and it was told Joab, that Abner the ſon of Ner came to the king, and he hath ſent him away, and he is gone in peace.

24 And Joab went in to the king, and ſaid: What haſt thou done? Behold Abner came to thee: Why didſt thou ſend him away, and he is gone and departed?

25 Knoweſt thou not Abner the ſon of Ner, that to this end he came to thee, that he might deceive thee, and to know thy going out, and thy coming in, and to know all thou doſt?

26 Then Joab going out from David, ſent meſſengers after Abner, and brought him back from the ciſtern of Sira, David knowing nothing of it.

‖ 3 Kings 2. 5. 27 And when ‖Abner was returned to Hebron, Joab took him aſide to the middle of the gate, to ſpeak to him treacherouſly: and he ſtabbed him there in the groin, and he died, in revenge of the blood of Aſael his brother.

28 And when David heard of it, after the thing was now done, he ſaid: I, and my kingdom are innocent before the Lord for ever of the blood of Abner the ſon of Ner:

29 And may it come upon the head of Joab, and upon all his father's houſe: and let there not fail from the houſe of Joab one that hath an iſſue of ſeed, or that is a leper, or that holdeth the diſtaff, or that falleth by the ſword, or that wanteth bread.

30 So Joab and Abiſai his brother ſlew Abner, becauſe he had killed their brother Aſael at Gabaon in the battle.

31 And David ſaid to Joab, and to all the people that were with him: Rend your garments, and gird yourſelves with ſackcloths, and mourn before the funeral of Abner. And king David himſelf followed the bier.

32 And when they had buried Abner in Hebron, king David lifted up his voice, and wept at the grave of Abner: and all the people alſo wept.

33 And the king mourning and lamenting over Abner, ſaid: Not as cowards are wont to die, hath Abner died.

34 Thy hands were not bound, nor thy feet loaden with fetters: but as men fall before the children of iniquity, ſo didſt thou fall. And all the people repeating it wept over him.

35 And when all the people came to take meat with David, while it was yet broad day, David ſwore, ſaying: So do God to me, and more alſo, if I taſte bread or any thing elſe before ſun-ſet.

36 And all the people heard, and they were pleaſed, and all that the king did ſeemed good in the ſight of all the people.

37 And all the people, and all Iſrael underſtood that day that it was not the king's doing, that Abner the ſon of Ner was ſlain.

38 The king alſo ſaid to his ſervants: Do you not know that a prince and a great man is ſlain this day in Iſrael?

39 But I as yet am tender, though anointed king: And theſe men the ſons of Sarvia are too hard for me: the Lord reward him that doth evil according to his wickedneſs.

CHAP. IV.

Iſboſeth is murdered by two of his ſervants: David puniſheth the murderers.

AND Iſboſeth the ſon of Saul heard that Abner was ſlain in Hebron: and his hands were weakened, and all Iſrael was troubled. A. M. 2956.

2 Now the ſon of Saul had two men captains of his bands, the name of the one was Baana, and the name of the other Rechab, the ſons of Remmon a Berothite of the children of Benjamin: for Beroth alſo was reckoned in Benjamin.

3 And the Berothites fled into Gethaim, and were ſojourners there until that time.

4 And Jonathan the ſon of Saul had a ſon that was lame of his feet: for he was five years old when the tidings came of Saul and Jonathan from Jezrahel. And his nurſe took him up and fled: and as ſhe made haſte to flee, he fell and became lame: and his name was Miphiboſeth.

5 And the ſons of Remmon the Berothite, Rechab and Baana coming, went into the houſe of Iſboſeth in the heat of the day: and he was ſleeping upon his bed at noon. And the door-keeper of the houſe, who was cleanſing wheat, was fallen aſleep.

6 And they entered into the houſe ſecretly taking ears of corn, and Rechab and Baana his brother ſtabbed him in the groin, and fled away.

7 For when they came into the houſe, he was ſleeping upon his bed in a parlour, and they ſtruck him and killed him: and taking away his head they went off by the way of the wilderneſs, walking all night.

8 And they brought the head of Iſboſeth to David to Hebron: and they ſaid to the king: Behold the head of Iſboſeth the ſon of Saul thy enemy who ſought thy life: and the Lord hath revenged my lord the king this day of Saul, and of his ſeed.

9 But David anſwered Rechab, and Baana his brother, the ſons of Remmon the Berothite, and ſaid to them: As the Lord liveth, who hath delivered my ſoul out of all diſtreſs,

10 ‖ The man that told me, and ſaid: Saul is dead, who thought he brought good tidings, I apprehended, and ſlew him in Siceleg, who ſhould have been rewarded for his news. ‖ Supra 1. 14.

11 How much more now when wicked men have ſlain an innocent man in his own houſe, upon his bed, ſhall I not require his blood at your hand, and take you away from the earth?

12 And David commanded his servants, and they slew them: and cutting off their hands and feet, hanged them up over the pool in Hebron: but the head of Iboseth they took and buried in the sepulchre of Abner in Hebron.

CHAP. V.

David is anointed king of all Israel. He taketh Jerusalem, and dwelleth there. He defeateth the Philistines.

A. M. 2956. THEN all the tribes of Israel came to David in Hebron, saying: ‖ Behold we ‖ 1 Par. 11. 1. are thy bone and thy flesh.

2 Moreover yesterday also and the day before, when Saul was king over us, thou wast he that did lead out and bring in Israel: and the Lord said to thee: Thou shalt feed my people Israel, and thou shalt be prince over Israel.

3 The ancients also of Israel came to the king to Hebron, and king David made a league with them in Hebron before the Lord: ‖ and they anointed David to be king ‖ Supra 2. 4. over Israel.

4 David was thirty years old when he began to reign, ‖ and he reigned forty years. ‖ 3 Kings 2. 11.

5 In Hebron he reigned over Juda seven years and six months: and in Jerusalem he reigned three and thirty years over all Israel and Juda.

6 And the king and all the men that were with him went to Jerusalem to the Jebusites the inhabitants of the land: and they said to David: Thou shalt not come in hither unless thou take away the blind and the lame that say: David shall not come in hither.

7 But David took the castle of Sion, the same is the city of David.

8 For David had offered that day a reward to whosoever should strike the Jebusites and get up to the gutters of the tops of the houses, and take away the blind and the lame that hated the soul of David: therefore it is said in the proverb: The blind and the lame shall not come into the temple.

‖ 1 Par. 11. 8. 9 ‖ And David dwelt in the castle, and called it, The city of David: and built round about from Mello and inwards.

10 And he went on prospering and growing up, and the Lord God of hosts was with him.

‖ 1 Par. 14. 1. 11 ‖ And Hiram the king of Tyre sent messengers to David, and cedar trees, and carpenters, and masons for walls: and they built a house for David.

12 And David knew that the Lord had confirmed him king over Israel, and that he had exalted his kingdom over his people Israel.

13 ‖ And David took more concubines and wives of Jerusalem, after he was come from Hebron: and there were born to David other sons also and daughters: ‖ 1 Par. 3. 1. & 2.

14 And these are the names of them, that were born to him in Jerusalem, Samua, and Sobab, and Nathan, and Solomon,

15 And Jebahar, and Elisua, and Nepheg,

16 And Japhia and Elisama, and Elioda, and Eliphaleth.

17 And the Philistines heard that they had anointed David to be king over Israel: and they all came to seek David: and when David heard of it, he went down to a strong hold.

18 ‖ And the Philistines coming spread themselves in the valley of Raphaim. ‖ 1 Par. 14. 9.

19 And David consulted the Lord, saying: Shall I go up to the Philistines? and wilt thou deliver them into my hand? And the Lord said to David: Go up, for I will surely deliver the Philistines into thy hand.

20 ‖ And David came to Baal Pharisim: and defeated them there, and he said: The Lord hath divided my enemies before me, as waters are divided. † Therefore the name of the place was called Baal Pharisim. ‖ Isaias 28. 21. † 1 Par. 14. 11.

21 And they left there their idols: which David and his men took away.

22 And the Philistines came up again and spread themselves in the valley of Raphaim.

23 And David consulted the Lord: Shall I go up against the Philistines, and wilt thou deliver them into my hands? He answered: Go not up against them, but fetch a compass behind them, and thou shalt come upon them over-against the pear trees.

24 And when thou shalt hear the sound of one going in the tops of the pear trees, then shalt thou join battle: for then will the Lord go out before thy face to strike the army of the Philistines.

25 And David did as the Lord had commanded him, and he smote the Philistines from Gabaa until thou come to Gezer.

CHAP. VI.

David fetcheth the ark from Cariathiarim. Oza is struck dead for touching it. It is deposited in the house of Obededom: and from thence is carried to David's house.

AND David again gathered together all the chosen men of Israel, thirty thousand.

CHAP. V. VER. 13. David took more concubines and wives of Jerusalem. Not harlots, but wives of an inferior condition: for such in scripture are stiled concubines.

‖ 1 Par. 13. 5. A. M. 2959.

2 ‖ And David arose and went, with all the people that were with him of the men of Juda, to fetch the ark of God, upon which the name of the Lord of hosts is invoked, who sitteth over it upon the Cherubims.

3 And they laid the ark of God upon a new cart: and took it out of the house of Abinadab, who was in Gabaa: and Oza, and Ahio the sons of Abinadab, drove the new cart.

‖ 1 Kings 7. 1.

4 ‖ And when they had taken it out of the house of Abinadab, who was in Gabaa, Ahio having care of the ark of God went before the ark.

5 But David and all Israel played before the Lord on all manner of instruments made of wood, on harps and lutes and timbrels and cornets and cymbals.

6 And when they came to the floor of Nachon, Oza put forth his hand to the ark of God, and took hold of it: because the oxen kicked and made it lean aside.

7 And the indignation of the Lord was enkindled against Oza, and he struck him for his rashness: and he died there before the ark of God.

‖ 1 Par. 13. 11.

8 ‖ And David was grieved because the Lord had struck Oza, and the name of that place was called: The striking of Oza, to this day.

9 And David was afraid of the Lord that day, saying: How shall the ark of the Lord come to me?

10 And he would not have the ark of the Lord brought in to himself into the city of David: but he caused it to be carried into the house of Obededom the Gethite.

11 And the ark of the Lord abode in the house of Obededom the Gethite three months: and the Lord blessed Obededom, and all his household.

‖ 2 Par. 15. 25.

12 ‖ And it was told king David, that the Lord had blessed Obededom, and all that he had, because of the ark of God. So David went, and brought away the ark of God out of the house of Obededom into the city of David with joy. And there were with David seven choirs, and calves for victims.

‖ 1 Par. 15. 26.

13 ‖ And when they that carried the ark of the Lord had gone six paces, he sacrificed an ox and a ram:

14 And David danced with all his might before the Lord: and David was girded with a linen ephod.

15 And David and all the house of Israel brought the ark of the covenant of the Lord with joyful shouting, and with sound of trumpet.

16 And when the ark of the Lord was come into the city of David, Michol the daughter of Saul, looking out through a window, saw king David leaping and dancing before the Lord: and she despised him in her heart.

17 And they brought the ark of the Lord, and set it in its place in the midst of the tabernacle, which David had pitched for it: and David offered holocausts, and peace-offerings before the Lord.

18 And when he had made an end of offering holocausts and peace-offerings, he blessed the people in the name of the Lord of hosts.

19 And he distributed to all the multitude of Israel, both men and women, to every one, a cake of bread, and a piece of roasted beef, and fine flour fryed with oil: and all the people departed every one to his house.

20 And David returned to bless his own house: and Michol the daughter of Saul coming out to meet David, said: How glorious was the king of Israel to-day, uncovering himself before the handmaids of his servants, and was naked, as if one of the buffoons should be naked.

21 And David said to Michol: Before the Lord, who chose me rather than thy father, and than all his house, and commanded me to be ruler over the people of the Lord in Israel,

22 I will both play and make myself meaner than I have done: and I will be little in my own eyes: and with the handmaids, of whom thou speakest, I shall appear more glorious.

23 Therefore Michol the daughter of Saul had no child to the day of her death.

CHAP. VII.

David's purpose to build a temple is rewarded with the promise of great blessings in his seed: His prayer and thanksgiving.

A. M. 2960. Ante C. 1044.

AND it came to pass when the king sat in his house, and the Lord had given him rest on every side from all his enemies,

‖ 1 Par. 17. 1.

2 He said to Nathan the prophet: ‖ Dost thou see that I dwell in a house of cedar, and the ark of God is lodged within skins?

3 And Nathan said to the king: Go, do all that is in thy heart: because the Lord is with thee.

CHAP. VI. VER. 3. Gabaa. The hill of Cariathiarim, where the ark had been in the house of Abinadab, from the time of its being restored back by the Philistines.

VER. 12. Choirs. Or companies of musicians.

4 But it came to pass that night, that the word of the Lord came to Nathan, saying:
5 Go, and say to my servant David: Thus saith the Lord: Shalt thou build me a house to dwell in?
6 Whereas I have not dwelt in a house from the day that I brought the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt even to this day: but have walked in a tabernacle, and in a tent.
7 In all the places that I have gone through with all the children of Israel, did I ever speak a word to any one of the tribes of Israel, whom I commanded to feed my people Israel, saying: Why have you not built me a house of cedar?
8 And now thus shalt thou speak to my servant David: Thus saith the Lord of hosts: ‖ I took thee out of the pastures from following the sheep to be ruler over my people Israel:
‖ 1 Kings 16. 13. Psal. 70. 77.
9 And I have been with thee whersoever thou hast walked, and have slain all thy enemies from before thy face: and I have made thee a great name, like unto the name of the great ones that are on the earth.
10 And I will appoint a place for my people Israel, and I will plant them, and they shall dwell therein, and shall be disturbed no more: neither shall the children of iniquity afflict them any more as they did before,
11 From the day that I appointed Judges over my people Israel: and I will give thee rest from all thy enemies. And the Lord foretelleth to thee, that the Lord will make thee a house.
‖ 3 Kings 8. 19. 12 ‖ And when thy days shall be fulfilled, and thou shalt sleep with thy fathers, I will raise up thy seed after thee, which shall proceed out of thy bowels, and I will establish his kingdom.
‖ 3 Kings 5. 5. 13 ‖ He shall build a house to my name, and I will establish the throne of his kingdom for ever.
† 1 Par. 22. 10. Heb. 1. 5. 14 † I will be to him a father, and he shall be to me a son: and if he commit any iniquity, I will correct him with the rod of men, and with the stripes of the children of men.
‖ Psal. 88. 4. & 37. 15 ‖ But my mercy I will not take away from him, as I took it from Saul, whom I removed from before my face.
16 And thy house shall be faithful, and † Heb. 1. 5. thy kingdom for ever before thy face, † and thy throne shall be firm for ever.
17 According to all these words and according to all this vision, so did Nathan speak to David.
18 And David went in, and sat before the Lord, and said: Who am I, O Lord God, and what is my house, that thou hast brought me thus far?
19 But yet this hath seemed little in thy sight, O Lord God, unless thou didst also speak of the house of thy servant for a long time to come: for this is the law of Adam, O Lord God.
20 And what can David say more, unto thee? for thou knowest thy servant, O Lord God:
21 For thy word's sake, and according to thy own heart thou hast done all these great things, so that thou wouldst make it known to thy servant.
22 Therefore thou art magnified, O Lord God, because there is none like to thee, neither is there any God besides thee, in all the things that we have heard with our ears.
23 And what nation is there upon earth, as thy people Israel, whom God went to redeem for a people to himself, and to make him a name, and to do for them great and terrible things, upon the earth, before the face of thy people, whom thou redeemedst to thyself out of Egypt, from the nations and their gods.
24 For thou hast confirmed to thyself thy people Israel to be an everlasting people: and thou, O Lord God, art become their God.
25 And now, O Lord God, raise up for ever the word that thou hast spoken concerning thy servant and concerning his house: and do as thou hast spoken,
26 That thy name may be magnified for ever, and it may be said: The Lord of hosts is God over Israel. And the house of thy servant David shall be established before the Lord,
27 Because thou, O Lord of hosts, God of Israel, hast revealed to the ear of thy servant, saying: I will build thee a house: therefore hath thy servant found in his heart to pray this prayer to thee.
28 And now, O Lord God, thou art God, and thy words shall be true: for thou hast spoken to thy servant these good things.
29 And now begin, and bless the house of thy servant, that it may endure for ever before thee: because thou, O Lord God, hast spoken it, and with thy blessing let the house of thy servant be blessed for ever.

CHAP. VII. VER. 12. I will establish his kingdom. This prophecy partly relateth to Solomon: but much more to Christ, who is called the son of David in scripture, and who is the builder of the true temple which is the church, his everlasting kingdom, which shall never fail.

David's victories, and his chief officers.

AND it came to pass after this that David defeated the Philistines, and brought ‖ 1 Par. 18. 1. them down, ‖ and David took the bridle of tribute out of the hand of the Philistines.

A. M. 2960. 2 And he defeated Moab, and measured them with a line, casting them down to the earth: and he measured with two lines one to put to death, and one to save alive: and Moab was made to serve David under tribute.

3 David defeated also Adarezer the son of Rohob king of Soba, when he went to ex-
‖ 1 Par. 18. 3. tend his dominion over the river ‖ Euphrates.

4 And David took from him a thousand and seven hundred horsemen, and twenty thousand footmen, and houghed all the chariot horses: and only reserved of them for one hundred chariots.

5 And the Syrians of Damascus came to succour Adarezer the king of Soba: and David slew of the Syrians two and twenty thousand men.

6 And David put garrisons in Syria of Damascus: and Syria served David under tribute: and the Lord preserved David in all his enterprizes, whithersoever he went.

7 And David took the arms of gold, which the servants of Adarezer wore, and brought them to Jerusalem.

8 And out of Bete, and out of Beroth, cities of Adarezer, king David took an exceeding great quantity of brass.

9 And Thou the king of Emath heard that David had defeated all the forces of Adarezer,

10 And Thou sent Joram his son to king David, to salute him and to congratulate with him, and to return him thanks: because he had fought against Adarezer, and had defeated him. For Thou was an enemy to Adarezer, and in his hand were vessels of gold, and vessels of silver, and vessels of brass:

11 And king David dedicated them to the Lord, together with the silver and gold that he had dedicated of all the nations, which he had subdued:

12 Of Syria, and of Moab, and of the children of Ammon, and of the Philistines, and of Amalec, and of the spoils of Adarezer the son of Rohob king of Soba.

13 David also made himself a name, when he returned after taking Syria in the valley of the salt-pits, killing eighteen thousand:

14 And he put guards in Edom, and placed there a garrison: and all Edom was made to serve David: and the Lord preserved David in all enterprizes he went about.

15 And David reigned over all Israel: and David did judgment and justice to all his people.

16 And Joab the son of Sarvia was over the army: and Josaphat the son of Ahilud was recorder:

17 And Sadoc the son of Achitob, and Achimelech the son of Abiathar, were the priests: and Saraias was the scribe:

18 And Banaias the son of Joiada was over the Cerethi and Phelethi: and the sons of David were the princes.

CHAP. IX.

David's kindness to Miphiboseth for the sake of his father Jonathan.

AND David said: Is there any one, think you, left of the house of Saul, that I may shew kindness to him for Jonathan's sake?

2 Now there was of the house of Saul, a servant named Siba: and when the king had called him to him, he said to him: Art thou Siba? And he answered: I am Siba thy servant.

3 And the king said: Is there any one left of the house of Saul, that I may shew the mercy of God unto him? And Siba said to the king: There is a son of Jonathan left, who is lame of his feet.

4 Where is he? said he. And Siba said to the king: Behold he is in the house of Machir the son of Ammiel in Lodabar.

5 Then king David sent, and brought him out of the house of Machir the son of Ammiel of Lodabar.

6 And when Miphiboseth the son of Jonathan the son of Saul was come to David, he fell on his face and worshipped. And David said: Miphiboseth? And he answered: Behold thy servant.

7 And David said to him: Fear not, for I will surely shew thee mercy for Jonathan thy father's sake, and I will restore the lands of Saul thy father, and thou shalt eat bread at my table always.

8 He bowed down to him, and said: Who

9 Then the king called Siba the ſervant of Saul, and ſaid to him: All that belonged to Saul, and all his houſe, I have given to thy maſter's ſon.

10 Thou therefore and thy ſons and thy ſervants ſhall till the land for him: and thou ſhalt bring in food for thy maſter's ſon, that he may be maintained: and Miphiboſeth the ſon of thy maſter ſhall always eat bread at my table. And Siba had fifteen ſons and twenty ſervants.

11 And Siba ſaid to the king: As thou my lord the king haſt commanded thy ſervant, ſo will thy ſervant do: and Miphiboſeth ſhall eat at my table, as one of the ſons of the king.

12 And Miphiboſeth had a young ſon whoſe name was Micha: and all the kindred of the houſe of Siba ſerved Miphiboſeth.

The Ammonites ſhamefully abuſe the embaſſadors of David: they hire the Syrians to their aſſiſtance: but are overthrown with their allies.

A. M. 2967. Ante C. 1037. AND it came to paſs after this, that the king of the children of Ammon died, and Hanon his ſon reigned in his ſtead.

‖ 1 Par. 19. 2. 2 And David ſaid: ‖ I will ſhew kindneſs to Hanon the ſon of Daas, as his father ſhewed kindneſs to me. So David ſent his ſervants to comfort him for the death of his father. But when the ſervants of David were come into the land of the children of Ammon,

3 The princes of the children of Ammon ſaid to Hanon their lord: Thinkeſt thou that for the honour of thy father, David hath ſent comforters to thee, and hath not David rather ſent his ſervants to thee to ſearch, and ſpy into the city, and overthrow it?

4 Wherefore Hanon took the ſervants of David, and ſhaved off the one half of their beards, and cut away half of their garments even to the buttocks, and ſent them away.

5 When this was told David, he ſent to meet them: for the men were ſadly put to confuſion, and David commanded them, ſaying: Stay at Jericho, till your beards be grown, and then return.

6 And the children of Ammon ſeeing that they had done an injury to David, ſent and hired the Syrians of Rohob, and the Syrians of Soba, twenty thouſand footmen, and of the king of Maacha a thouſand men, and of Iſtob twelve thouſand men.

7 And when David heard this, he ſent Joab and the whole army of warriors.

8 And the children of Ammon came out, and ſet their men in array at the entering in of the gate: but the Syrians of Soba, and of Rohob, and of Iſtob, and of Maacha were by themſelves in the field.

9 Then Joab ſeeing that the battle was prepared againſt him, both before and behind, choſe of all the choice men of Iſrael, and put them in array againſt the Syrians:

10 And the reſt of the people he delivered to Abiſai his brother, who ſet them in array againſt the children of Ammon.

11 And Joab ſaid: If the Syrians are too ſtrong for me, then thou ſhalt help me: but if the children of Ammon are too ſtrong for thee, then I will help thee.

12 Be of good courage, and let us fight for our people, and for the city of our God: and the Lord will do what is good in his ſight.

13 And Joab and the people that were with him, began to fight againſt the Syrians: and they immediately fled before him.

14 And the children of Ammon ſeeing that the Syrians were fled, they fled alſo before Abiſai, and entered into the city: and Joab returned from the children of Ammon, and came to Jeruſalem.

15 Then the Syrians ſeeing that they had fallen before Iſrael, gathered themſelves together.

A. M. 2968. Ante C. 1036. 16 And Adarezer ſent and fetched the Syrians, that were beyond the river, and brought over their army: and Sobach, the captain of the hoſt of Adarezer, was their general.

17 And when this was told David, he gathered all Iſrael together, and paſſed over the Jordan, and came to Helam: and the Syrians ſet themſelves in array againſt David, and fought againſt him.

18 And the Syrians fled before Iſrael, and David ſlew of the Syrians the men of ſeven hundred chariots, and forty thouſand horſemen: and ſmote Sobach the captain of the army: who preſently died.

19 And all the kings that were auxiliaries of Adarezer, ſeeing themſelves overcome by Iſrael, were afraid and fled away eight and fifty thouſand men before Iſrael. And they made peace with Iſrael: and ſerved them, and the Syrians were afraid to help the children of Ammon any more.

CHAP. XI.

David falleth into the crime of adultery with Bethſabee: and not finding other means to conceal it, cauſeth her huſband Urias to be ſlain. Then marrieth her, who beareth him a ſon.

‖ 1 Par. 20. 1. ‖ AND it came to paſs at the return of the year, at the time when kings go forth to war, that David ſent Joab and his ſervants with him, and all Iſrael, and they ſpoiled the children of Ammon, and beſieged Rabba: but David remained in Jeruſalem.

A. M. 2969. Ante C. 1035.

2 In the mean time it happened that David aroſe from his bed after noon, and walked upon the roof of the king's houſe: and he ſaw from the roof of his houſe a woman waſhing herſelf, over-againſt him: and the woman was very beautiful.

3 And the king ſent, and inquired who the woman was. And it was told him, that ſhe was Bethſabee the daughter of Eliam, the wife of Urias the Hethite.

4 And David ſent meſſengers, and took her, and ſhe came in to him, and he ſlept with her: ‖ and preſently ſhe was purified from her uncleanneſs:

‖ Lev. 15. 18.

5 And ſhe returned to her houſe having conceived. And ſhe ſent and told David, and ſaid: I have conceived.

6 And David ſent to Joab, ſaying: Send me Urias the Hethite. And Joab ſent Urias to David.

7 And Urias came to David. And David aſked how Joab did, and the people, and how the war was carried on.

8 And David ſaid to Urias: Go into thy houſe, and waſh thy feet. And Urias went out from the king's houſe, and there went out after him a meſs of meat from the king.

9 But Urias ſlept before the gate of the king's houſe, with the other ſervants of his lord, and went not down to his own houſe.

10 And it was told David by ſome that ſaid: Urias went not to his houſe. And David ſaid to Urias: Didſt thou not come from thy journey? why didſt thou not go down to thy houſe?

11 And Urias ſaid to David: The ark of God and Iſrael and Juda dwell in tents, and my lord Joab and the ſervants of my lord abide upon the face of the earth: and ſhall I go into my houſe, to eat and to drink, and to ſleep with my wife? by thy welfare and by the welfare of thy ſoul I will not do this thing.

12 Then David ſaid to Urias: Tarry here to-day, and to-morrow I will ſend thee away. Urias tarried in Jeruſalem that day and the next.

13 And David called him to eat and to drink before him, and he made him drunk: and he went out in the evening, and ſlept on his couch with the ſervants of his lord, and went not down into his houſe.

14 And when the morning was come, David wrote a letter to Joab: and ſent it by the hand of Urias,

15 Writing in the letter: Set ye Urias in the front of the battle, where the fight is ſtrongeſt: and leave ye him, that he may be wounded and die.

16 Wherefore as Joab was beſieging the city, he put Urias in the place where he knew the braveſt men were.

17 And the men coming out of the city, fought againſt Joab, and there fell ſome of the people of the ſervants of David, and Urias the Hethite was killed alſo.

18 Then Joab ſent, and told David all things concerning the battle.

19 And he charged the meſſenger, ſaying: When thou haſt told all the words of the battle to the king,

20 If thou ſee him to be angry, and he ſhall ſay: Why did you approach ſo near to the wall to fight? knew you not that many darts are thrown from above off the wall?

21 Who killed Abimelech the ſon of Jerobaal? ‖ did not a woman caſt a piece of a millſtone upon him from the wall, and ſlew him in the Thebes? Why did you go near the wall? Thou ſhalt ſay: Thy ſervant Urias the Hethite is alſo ſlain.

‖ Judges 9. 53.

22 So the meſſenger departed, and came and told David all that Joab had commanded him.

23 And the meſſenger ſaid to David: The men prevailed againſt us, and they came out to us into the field: and we vigorouſly charged and purſued them even to the gate of the city.

24 And the archers ſhot their arrows at thy ſervants from off the wall above: and ſome of the king's ſervants are ſlain, and thy ſervant Urias the Hethite is alſo dead.

25 And David ſaid to the meſſenger: Thus ſhalt thou ſay to Joab: Let not this thing diſcourage thee: for various is the event of war: and ſometimes one, ſometimes another is conſumed by the ſword: encourage thy warriors againſt the city, and exhort them, that thou mayſt overthrow it.

26 And the wife of Urias heard that Urias her husband was dead, and she mourned for him.

27 And the mourning being over, David sent and brought her into his house, and she became his wife, and she bore him a son: and this thing which David had done, was displeasing to the Lord.

CHAP. XII.

Nathan's parable. David confesseth his sin, and is forgiven: yet so as to be sentenced to most severe temporal punishments. The death of the child. The birth of Solomon. The taking of Rabbath.

A. M. 2970. Ante C 1034. AND the Lord sent Nathan to David: and when he was come to him, he said to him: There were two men in one city, the one rich, and the other poor.

2 The rich man had exceeding many sheep, and oxen.

3 But the poor man had nothing at all but one little ewe-lamb, which he had bought and nourished up, and which had grown up in his house together with his children, eating of his bread, and drinking of his cup, and sleeping in his bosom: and it was unto him as a daughter.

4 And when a certain stranger was come to the rich man, he spared to take of his own sheep and oxen, to make a feast for that stranger, who was come to him, but took the poor man's ewe, and dressed it for the man that was come to him.

5 And David's anger being exceedingly kindled against that man, he said to Nathan: As the Lord liveth, the man that hath done this is a child of death.

‖ Exod. 22. 1. 6 ‖ He shall restore the ewe four-fold, because he did this thing, and had no pity.

7 And Nathan said to David: Thou art the man. Thus saith the Lord the God of Israel: I anointed thee king over Israel, and I delivered thee from the hand of Saul,

8 And gave thee thy master's house and thy master's wives into thy bosom, and gave thee the house of Israel and Juda: and if these things be little, I shall add far greater things unto thee.

9 Why therefore hast thou despised the word of the Lord, to do evil in my sight? Thou hast killed Urias the Hethite with the sword, and hast taken his wife to be thy wife, and hast slain him with the sword of the children of Ammon.

10 Therefore the sword shall never depart from thy house, because thou hast despised me, and hast taken the wife of Urias the Hethite to be thy wife.

11 Thus saith the Lord: Behold, I will raise up evil against thee out of thy own house, and I will take thy wives before thy eyes, ‖ and give them to thy neighbour, and he shall lie with thy wives in the sight of this sun. ‖ Infra 16. 21.

12 For thou didst it secretly: but I will do this thing in the sight of all Israel, and in the sight of the sun.

13 And David said to Nathan: I have sinned against the Lord. And Nathan said to David: ‖ The Lord also hath taken away thy sin: thou shalt not die. ‖ Eccli. 47. 13.

14 Nevertheless, because thou hast given occasion to the enemies of the Lord to blaspheme, for this thing, the child that is born to thee, shall surely die.

15 And Nathan returned to his house. The Lord also struck the child which the wife of Urias had borne to David, and his life was despaired of.

16 And David besought the Lord for the child: and David kept a fast, and going in by himself lay upon the ground.

17 And the ancients of his house came, to make him rise from the ground: but he would not, neither did he eat meat with them.

18 And it came to pass on the seventh day that the child died: and the servants of David feared to tell him, that the child was dead. For they said: Behold when the child was yet alive, we spoke to him, and he would not hearken to our voice: how much more, will he afflict himself if we tell him that the child is dead?

19 But when David saw his servants whispering, he understood that the child was dead: and he said to his servants: Is the child dead? They answered him: He is dead.

20 Then David arose from the ground, and washed and anointed himself: and when he had changed his apparel, he went into the house of the Lord: and worshipped, and then he came into his own house, and he called for bread, and eat.

21 And his servants said to him: What thing is this that thou hast done? thou didst fast and weep for the child, while it was alive: but when the child was dead, thou didst rise up, and eat bread.

22 And he said: While the child was yet

CHAP. XII. VER. 11. I will raise, &c. All these evils, inasmuch as they were punishments, came upon David by a just judgment of God, for his sin, and therefore God says, I will raise, &c. but inasmuch as they were sins, on the part of Absalom and his associates, God was not the author of them, but only permitted them.

alive, I fasted and wept for him: for I said: Who knoweth whether the Lord may not give him to me, and the child may live?

23 But now that he is dead, why should I fast? Shall I be able to bring him back any more? I shall go to him rather: but he shall not return to me.

24 And David comforted Bethsabee his wife, and went in unto her, and slept with her: * and she bore a son, and he called his name Solomon, and the Lord loved him.

* A. M. 2971. Ante C. 1033.

25 And he sent by the hand of Nathan the prophet, and called his name, Amiable to the Lord, because the Lord loved him.

‖ 1 Par. 20. 1.

26 ‖ And Joab fought against Rabbath of the children of Ammon, and laid close siege to the royal city.

27 And Joab sent messengers to David, saying: I have fought against Rabbath, and the city of waters is about to be taken.

28 Now therefore gather thou the rest of the people together, and besiege the city and take it: lest when the city shall be wasted by me, the victory be ascribed to my name.

29 Then David gathered all the people together, and went out against Rabbath: and after fighting, he took it.

30 And he took the crown of their king from his head, the weight of which was a talent of gold, set with most precious stones, and it was put upon David's head, and the spoils of the city which were very great he carried away.

31 And bringing forth the people thereof he sawed them, and drove over them chariots armed with iron: and divided them with knives, and made them pass through brick-kilns: so did he to all the cities of the children of Ammon: and David returned, with all the army to Jerusalem.

Ammon ravisheth Thamar. For which Absalom killeth him, and flieth to Gessur.

A. M. 2972. Ante C. 1032.

AND it came to pass after this, that Amnon the son of David loved the sister of Absalom the son of David, who was very beautiful, and her name was Thamar,

2 And he was exceedingly fond of her, so that he fell sick for the love of her: for as she was a virgin, he thought it hard to do any thing dishonestly with her.

3 Now Amnon had a friend, named Jonadab the son of Semmaa the brother of David, a very wise man:

4 And he said to him: Why dost thou grow so lean from day to day, O son of the king? why dost thou not tell me the reason of it? And Amnon said to him: I am in love with Thamar the sister of my brother Absalom.

5 And Jonadab said to him: Lie down upon thy bed, and feign thyself sick: and when thy father shall come to visit thee, say to him: Let my sister Thamar, I pray thee, come to me, to give me to eat, and to make me a mess, that I may eat it at her hand.

6 So Amnon lay down, and made as if he were sick: and when the king came to visit him, Amnon said to the king: I pray thee let my sister Thamar come, and make in my sight two little messes, that I may eat at her hand.

7 Then David sent home to Thamar, saying: Come to the house of thy brother Amnon, and make him a mess.

8 And Thamar came to the house of Amnon her brother: but he was laid down: and she took meal and tempered it: and dissolving it in his sight she made little messes.

9 And taking what she had boiled, she poured it out, and set it before him, but he would not eat: and Amnon said: Put out all persons from me. And when they had put all persons out,

10 Amnon said to Thamar: Bring the mess into the chamber, that I may eat at thy hand. And Thamar took the little messes which she had made, and brought them into her brother Amnon in the chamber.

11 And when she had presented him the meat, he took hold of her, and said: Come, lie with me, my sister.

12 She answered him: Do not so, my brother, do not force me: for no such thing must be done in Israel. Do not thou this folly.

13 For I shall not be able to bear my shame, and thou shalt be as one of the fools in Israel: but rather speak to the king, and he will not deny me to thee.

14 But he would not hearken to her prayers, but being stronger overpowered her and lay with her.

15 Then Amnon hated her with an exceeding great hatred: so that the hatred wherewith he hated her was greater than the love with which he had loved her before. And Amnon said to her: Arise, and get thee gone.

16 She answered him: This evil which now thou dost against me, in driving me away is greater than that which thou didst before. And he would not hearken to her:

17 But calling the servant that ministered to him, he said: Thrust this woman out from me: and shut the door after her.

18 And she was clothed with a long robe: for the king's daughters that were virgins, used such kind of garments. Then his servant thrust her out: and shut the door after her.

19 And she put ashes on her head, and rent her long robe and laid her hands upon her head, and went on crying.

20 And Absalom her brother said to her: Hath thy brother Amnon lain with thee? but now sister hold thy peace, he is thy brother: and afflict not thy heart for this thing. So Thamar remained pining away in the house of Absalom her brother.

21 And when king David heard of these things he was exceedingly grieved: and he would not afflict the spirit of his son Amnon, for he loved him, because he was his first-born.

22 But Absalom spoke not to Amnon neither good nor evil: for Absalom hated Amnon because he had ravished his sister Thamar.

A. M. 2974. Ante C. 1030. 23 And it came to pass after two years, * that the sheep of Absalom were shorn in Baalhasor, which is near Ephraim: and Absalom invited all the king's sons:

24 And he came to the king, and said to him: Behold thy servants sheep are shorn: Let the king, I pray, with his servants come to his servant.

25 And the king said to Absalom: Nay, my son, do not ask that we should all come, and be chargeable to thee. And when he pressed him, and he would not go, he blessed him.

26 And Absalom said: If thou wilt not come, at least let my brother Amnon, I beseech thee, come with us. And the king said to him: It is not necessary that he should go with thee.

27 But Absalom pressed him, so that he let Amnon and all the king's sons go with him. And Absalom made a feast as it were the feast of a king.

28 And Absalom had commanded his servants, saying: Take notice when Amnon shall be drunk with wine, and when I shall say to you: Strike him, and kill him, fear not: for it is I that command you: take courage, and be valiant men.

29 And the servants of Absalom did to Amnon, as Absalom had commanded them. And all the king's sons arose and got up every man upon his mule, and fled.

30 And while they were yet in the way, a rumour came to David, saying: Absalom hath slain all the king's sons, and there is not one of them left.

31 Then the king rose up, and rent his garments: and fell upon the ground, and all his servants, that stood about him, rent their garments.

32 But Jonadab the son of Semmaa David's brother answering, said: Let not my lord the king think, that all the king's sons are slain: Amnon only is dead, for he was appointed by the mouth of Absalom from the day that he ravished his sister Thamar.

33 Now therefore let not my lord the king take this thing into his heart, saying: All the king's sons are slain: for Amnon only is dead.

34 But Absalom fled away: and the young man that kept the watch, lifted up his eyes, and looked: and behold there came much people by a bye-way on the side of the mountain.

35 And Jonadab said to the king: Behold the king's sons are come: as thy servant said, so it is.

36 And when he made an end of speaking, the king's sons also appeared: and coming in they lifted up their voice, and wept: and the king also and all his servants wept very much.

37 But Absalom fled, and went to Tholomai the son of Ammiud the king of Gessur. And David mourned for his son every day.

38 And Absalom after he was fled, and come into Gessur, was there three years. And king David ceased to pursue after Absalom, because he was comforted concerning the death of Amnon.

CHAP. XIV.

Joab procureth Absalom's return, and his admittance to the king's presence.

A. M. 2977. Ante C. 1027. AND Joab the son of Sarvia, understanding that the king's heart was turned to Absalom,

2 Sent to Thecua, and fetcht from thence a wise woman: and said to her: Feign thyself to be a mourner, and put on mourning apparel, and be not anointed with oil, that thou mayst be as a woman that had a long time been mourning for one dead.

3 And thou shalt go in to the king, and shalt speak to him in this manner. And Joab put the words in her mouth.

4 And when the woman of Thecua was come in to the king, she fell before him upon the ground, and worſhipped, and ſaid: Save me, O king.

5 And the king ſaid to her: What is the matter with thee? She anſwered: Alas, I am a widow woman: for my huſband is dead.

6 And thy handmaid had two ſons: and they quarrelled with each other in the field, and there was none to part them: and the one ſtruck the other, and ſlew him.

7 And behold the whole kindred riſing againſt thy handmaid, ſaith: Deliver him that hath ſlain his brother, that we may kill him for the life of his brother, whom he ſlew, and that we may deſtroy the heir: and they ſeek to quench my ſpark which is left, and will leave my huſband no name, nor remainder upon the earth.

8 And the king ſaid to the woman: Go to thy houſe, and I will give charge concerning thee.

9 And the woman of Thecua ſaid to the king: Upon me, my lord, be the iniquity, and upon the houſe of my father: but may the king and his throne be guiltleſs.

10 And the king ſaid: If any one ſhall ſay ought againſt thee, bring him to me, and he ſhall not touch thee any more.

11 And ſhe ſaid: Let the king remember the Lord his God, that the next of kin be not multiplied to take revenge, and that they may not kill my ſon. And he ſaid: As the Lord liveth, there ſhall not one hair of thy ſon fall to the earth.

12 Then the woman ſaid: Let thy handmaid ſpeak one word to my lord the king. And he ſaid: Speak.

13 And the woman ſaid: Why haſt thou thought ſuch a thing againſt the people of God, and why hath the king ſpoken this word, to ſin, and not bring home again his own exile?

14 We all die, and like waters that return no more, we fall down into the earth: ‖ neither will God have a ſoul to periſh, but recalleth, meaning that he that is caſt off ſhould not altogether periſh.

‖ 1 Kings 7. 6. Ezeck. 18. 32. & 33. 11.

15 Now therefore I am come, to ſpeak this word to my lord the king, before the people. And thy handmaid ſaid: I will ſpeak to the king, it may be the king will perform the requeſt of his handmaid.

16 And the king hath hearkened to me to deliver his handmaid out of the hand of all that would deſtroy me and my ſon together out of the inheritance of God.

17 Then let thy handmaid ſay, that the word of my lord the king be made as a ſacrifice. ‖ For even as an Angel of God, ſo is my lord the king, that he is neither moved with bleſſing nor curſing: wherefore the Lord thy God is alſo with thee.

‖ 1 Kings 29. 9.

18 And the king anſwering, ſaid to the woman: Hide not from me the thing that I aſk thee. And the woman ſaid to him: Speak, my lord the king.

19 And the king ſaid: Is not the hand of Joab with thee in all this? The woman anſwered, and ſaid: By the health of thy ſoul, lord my king, it is neither on the left hand, nor on the right in all theſe things, which my lord the king hath ſpoken: for thy ſervant Joab, he commanded me, and he put all theſe words into the mouth of thy handmaid.

20 That I ſhould come about with this form of ſpeech, thy ſervant Joab commanded this: but thou, lord my king, art wiſe, according to the wiſdom of an Angel of God, to underſtand all things upon earth.

21 And the king ſaid to Joab: Behold I am appeaſed and have granted thy requeſt: Go therefore, and fetch back the boy Abſalom.

22 And Joab falling down to the ground upon his face, adored, and bleſſed the king: and Joab ſaid: This day thy ſervant hath underſtood, that I have found grace in thy ſight, lord my king: for thou haſt fulfilled the requeſt of thy ſervant.

23 Then Joab aroſe and went to Geſſur, and brought Abſalom to Jeruſalem.

24 But the king ſaid: Let him return into his houſe, and let him not ſee my face. So Abſalom returned into his houſe, and ſaw not the king's face.

25 But in all Iſrael there was not a man ſo comely, and ſo exceeding beautiful as Abſalom: from the ſole of the foot to the crown of his head there was no blemiſh in him.

26 And when he polled his hair (now he was polled once a year, becauſe his hair was burdenſome to him) he weighed the hair of his head at two hundred ſicles, according to the common weight.

27 And there were born to Abſalom three ſons: and one daughter, whoſe name was Thamar, and ſhe was very beautiful.

28 And Abſalom dwelt two years in Jeruſalem, and ſaw not the king's face.

29 * He ſent therefore to Joab, to ſend him to the king: but he would not come to him. And when he had ſent the ſecond time, and he would not come to him,

31 Then Joab aroſe, and came to Abſalom to his houſe, and ſaid: Why have thy ſervants ſet my corn on fire?

32 And Abſalom anſwered Joab: I ſent to thee beſeeching thee to come to me, that I might ſend thee to the king, to ſay to him: Wherefore am I come from Geſſur? it had been better for me to be there: I beſeech thee therefore that I may ſee the face of the king: and if he be mindful of my iniquity, let him kill me.

Abſalom's policy and conſpiracy. David is obliged to flee.

A. M. 2980. Ante C. 1024. NOW after theſe things Abſalom made himſelf chariots, and horſemen, and fifty men, to run before him.

2 And Abſalom riſing up early, ſtood by the entrance of the gate, and when any man had buſineſs to come to the king's judgment, Abſalom called him to him, and ſaid: Of what city art thou? He anſwered, and ſaid: Thy ſervant is of ſuch a tribe of Iſrael.

3 And Abſalom anſwered him: Thy words ſeem to me good and juſt. But there is no man appointed by the king to hear thee. And Abſalom ſaid:

4 O that they would make me judge over the land, that all that have buſineſs might come to me, that I might do them juſtice.

5 Moreover when any man came to him to ſalute him, he put forth his hand, and took him, and kiſſed him.

6 And this he did to all Iſrael that came for judgment, to be heard by the king, and he enticed the hearts of the men of Iſrael.

7 And after forty years, Abſalom ſaid to king David: Let me go, and pay my vows which I have vowed to the Lord in Hebron.

8 For thy ſervant made a vow, when he was in Geſſur of Syria, ſaying: If the Lord ſhall bring me again into Jeruſalem, I will offer ſacrifice to the Lord.

9 And king David ſaid to him: Go in peace. And he aroſe, and went to Hebron.

10 And Abſalom ſent ſpies into all the tribes of Iſrael, ſaying: As ſoon as you ſhall hear the ſound of the trumpet, ſay ye: Abſalom reigneth in Hebron.

11 Now there went with Abſalom two hundred men out of Jeruſalem that were called, going with ſimplicity of heart, and knowing nothing of the deſign.

12 Abſalom alſo ſent for Achitophel the Gilonite, David's counſellor, from his city Gilo. And while he was offering ſacrifices, there was a ſtrong conſpiracy, and the people running together increaſed with Abſalom.

13 And there came a meſſenger to David, ſaying: All Iſrael with their whole heart followeth Abſalom.

14 And David ſaid to his ſervants, that were with him in Jeruſalem: Ariſe and let us flee: for we ſhall not eſcape elſe from the face of Abſalom: make haſte to go out, leſt he come and overtake us, and bring ruin upon us, and ſmite the city with the edge of the ſword.

15 And the king's ſervants ſaid to him: Whatſoever our lord the king ſhall command, we thy ſervants will willingly execute.

16 And the king went forth, and all his houſhold on foot: * and the king left ten women his concubines to keep the houſe. * A. M. 2981.

17 And the king going forth and all Iſrael on foot, ſtood afar off from the houſe:

18 And all his ſervants walked by him, and the bands of the Cerethi, and the Phelethi, and all the Gethites, valiant warriors, ſix hundred men who had followed him from Geth on foot, went before the king.

19 And the king ſaid to Ethai the Gethite: Why comeſt thou with us? return and dwell with the king, for thou art a ſtranger, and art come out of thy own place.

20 Yeſterday thou cameſt, and to-day ſhalt thou be forced to go forth with us? but I ſhall go whither I am going: return thou, and take back thy brethren with thee, and the Lord will ſhew thee mercy, and truth, becauſe thou haſt ſhewn grace and fidelity.

21 And Ethai anſwered the king, ſaying: As the Lord liveth, and as my lord the king liveth: in what place ſoever thou ſhalt be, lord my king, either in death, or in life, there will thy ſervant be.

22 And David ſaid to Ethai: Come, and paſs over. And Ethai the Gethite paſſed, and all the men that were with him, and the reſt of the people.

himself went over the brook Cedron, and all the people marched towards the way that looketh to the desert.

24 And Sadoc the priest also came, and all the Levites with him carrying the ark of the covenant of God, and they set down the ark of God: and Abiathar went up, till all the people that was come out of the city had done passing.

25 And the king said to Sadoc: Carry back the ark of God into the city: if I shall find grace in the sight of the Lord, he will bring me again, and he will shew me it, and his tabernacle.

26 But if he shall say to me: Thou pleasest me not: I am ready, let him do that which is good before him:

27 And the king said to Sadoc the priest: O seer, return into the city in peace: And let Achimaas thy son, and Jonathan the son of Abiathar, your two sons, be with you.

28 Behold I will lie hid in the plains of the wilderness, till there come word from you to certify me.

29 So Sadoc and Abiathar carried back the ark of God into Jerusalem: and they tarried there.

30 But David went up by the ascent of mount Olivet, going up and weeping, walking bare-foot, and with his head covered, and all the people that were with him, went up with their heads covered weeping.

31 And it was told David that Achitophel also was in the conspiracy with Absalom, and David said: Infatuate, O Lord, I beseech thee, the counsel of Achitophel.

32 And when David was come to the top of the mountain, where he was about to adore the Lord, behold Chusai the Arachite, came to meet him with his garment rent and his head covered with earth.

33 And David said to him: If thou come with me, thou wilt be a burden to me:

34 But if thou return into the city, and wilt say to Absalom: I am thy servant, O king: as I have been thy father's servant, so I will be thy servant: thou shalt defeat the counsel of Achitophel.

35 And thou hast with thee Sadoc, and Abiathar the priests: and what thing soever thou shalt hear out of the king's house, thou shalt tell it to Sadoc, and Abiathar the priests.

36 And there are with them their two sons Achimaas the son of Sadoc, and Jonathan the son of Abiathar: and you shall send by them to me every thing that you shall hear.

37 Then Chusai the friend of David went into the city, and Absalom came into Jerusalem.

CHAP. XVI.

Siba bringeth provisions to David. Semei curseth him. Absalom defileth his father's wives.

AND when David was a little past the top of the hill, behold Siba the servant of Miphiboseth came to meet him, with two asses, laden with two hundred loaves of bread, and a hundred bunches of raisins, a hundred cakes of figs, and a vessel of wine. A. M. 2981. Ante C. 1023.

2 And the king said to Siba: What mean these things? And Siba answered: The asses are for the king's household to sit on: and the loaves and the figs for thy servants to eat, and the wine to drink if any man be faint in the desert.

3 And the king said: Where is thy master's son? ‖ And Siba answered the king: He remained in Jerusalem, saying: To-day will the house of Israel restore me the kingdom of my father. ‖ Infra 19. 27.

4 And the king said to Siba: I give thee all that belonged to Miphiboseth. And Siba said: I beseech thee let me find grace before thee, lord my king.

5 And king David came as far as Bahurim: and behold there came out from thence a man of the kindred of the house of Saul named Semei, the son of Gera, and coming out ‖ he cursed as he went on, ‖ 3 Kings 2. 8.

6 And he threw stones at David, and at all the servants of king David: and all the people, and all the warriors walked on the right, and on the left side of the king.

7 And thus said Semei when he cursed the king: Come out, come out, thou man of blood, and thou man of Belial.

8 The Lord hath repaid thee for all the blood of the house of Saul: because thou hast usurped the kingdom in his stead, and the Lord hath given the kingdom into the hand of Absalom thy son: and behold thy evils press upon thee, because thou art a man of blood.

9 And Abisai the son of Sarvia said to the king: Why should this dead dog curse my lord the king? I will go, and cut off his head.

10 And the king said: What have I to do with you, ye sons of Sarvia? Let him alone and let him curse: for the Lord hath bid him curse David: and who is he that shall dare say, why hath he done so?

VER. 30. Weeping, &c. David on this occasion wept for his sins, which he knew were the cause of all his sufferings.

CHAP. XVI. VER. 10. & 11. Hath bid him curse. Not that the Lord was the author of Semei's sin,

11 And the king ſaid to Abiſai, and to all his ſervants: Behold my ſon, who came forth from my bowels, ſeeketh my life: how much more now a ſon of Jemini? let him alone that he may curſe as the Lord hath bidden him:

12 Perhaps the Lord may look upon my affliction, and the Lord may render me good for the curſing of this day.

13 And David and his men with him went by the way. And Semei by the hill's ſide, went over-againſt him, curſing, and caſting ſtones at him, and ſcattering earth.

14 And the king and all the people with him came weary, and refreſhed themſelves there.

15 But Abſalom and all his people came into Jeruſalem, and Achitophel was with him.

16 And when Chuſai the Arachite, David's friend, was come to Abſalom, he ſaid to him: God ſave thee O king, God ſave thee O king.

17 And Abſalom ſaid to him: Is this thy kindneſs to thy friend? why wenteſt thou not with thy friend?

18 And Chuſai anſwered Abſalom: Nay: for I will be his, whom the Lord hath choſen, and all this people, and all Iſrael, and with him will I abide.

19 Beſides this, whom ſhall I ſerve? is it not the king's ſon? as I have ſerved thy father, ſo will I ſerve thee alſo.

20 And Abſalom ſaid to Achitophel: Conſult what we are to do.

21 And Achitophel ſaid to Abſalom: Go in to the concubines of thy father, whom he hath left to keep the houſe: that when all Iſrael ſhall hear that thou haſt diſgraced thy father, their hands may be ſtrengthened with thee.

‖ Supra 12. 11. 22 ‖ So they ſpread a tent for Abſalom on the top of the houſe, and he went in to his father's concubines before all Iſrael.

23 Now the counſel of Achitophel, which he gave in thoſe days, was as if a man ſhould conſult God: ſo was all the counſel of Achitophel, both when he was with David, and when he was with Abſalom.

CHAP. XVII.

Achitophel's counſel is defeated by Chuſai: Who ſendeth intelligence to David. Achitophel hangeth himſelf.

AND Achitophel ſaid to Abſalom: I will chooſe me twelve thouſand men, and I will ariſe and purſue after David this night. A. M. 2981.

2 And coming upon him (for he is now weary, and weak-handed) I will defeat him: and when all the people is put to flight that is with him, I will kill the king who will be left alone.

3 And I will bring back all the people, as if they were but one man: for thou ſeekeſt but one man: and all the people ſhall be in peace.

4 And his ſaying pleaſed Abſalom, and all the ancients of Iſrael.

5 But Abſalom ſaid: Call Chuſai the Arachite, and let us hear what he alſo ſaith.

6 And when Chuſai was come to Abſalom, Abſalom ſaid to him: Achitophel hath ſpoken after this manner: ſhall we do it or no? what counſel doſt thou give?

7 And Chuſai ſaid to Abſalom: The counſel that Achitophel hath given this time is not good.

8 And again Chuſai ſaid: Thou knoweſt thy father, and the men that are with him, that they are very valiant, and bitter in their mind, as a bear raging in the wood when her whelps are taken away: and thy father is a warrior, and will not lodge with the people.

9 Perhaps he now lieth hid in pits, or in ſome other place where he liſt: and when any one ſhall fall at the firſt, every one that heareth it ſhall ſay: There is a ſlaughter among the people that followed Abſalom.

10 And the moſt valiant man whoſe heart is as the heart of a lion, ſhall melt for fear: for all the people of Iſrael know thy father to be a valiant man, and that all who are with him are valiant.

11 But this ſeemeth to me to be good counſel: Let all Iſrael be gathered to thee, from Dan to Berſabee, as the ſand of the ſea which cannot be numbered: and thou ſhalt be in the midſt of them.

12 And we ſhall come upon him in what which proceeded purely from his own malice, and the abuſe of his free-will. But that knowing, and ſuffering his malicious diſpoſition to break out on this occaſion, he made uſe of him as his inſtrument to puniſh David for his ſins.

VER. 21. Their hands may be ſtrengthened, &c. The people might apprehend leſt Abſalom ſhould be reconciled to his father, and therefore they followed him with ſome fear of being left in the lurch, till they ſaw ſuch a crime committed as ſeemed to make a reconciliation impoſſible.

place ſoever he ſhall be found: and we ſhall cover him, as the dew falleth upon the ground, and we ſhall not leave of the men that are with him not ſo much as one.

13 And if he ſhall enter into any city, all Iſrael ſhall caſt ropes round about that city, and we will draw it into the river, ſo that there ſhall not be found ſo much as one ſmall ſtone thereof.

14 And Abſalom, and all the men of Iſrael ſaid: The counſel of Chuſai the Arachite is better than the counſel of Achitophel: and by the will of the Lord the profitable counſel of Achitophel was defeated, that the Lord might bring evil upon Abſalom.

15 And Chuſai ſaid to Sadoc and Abiathar the prieſts: Thus and thus did Achitophel counſel Abſalom, and the ancients of Iſrael: and thus and thus did I counſel them.

16 Now therefore ſend quickly, and tell David, ſaying: Tarry not this night in the plains of the wilderneſs, but without delay paſs over: leſt the king be ſwallowed up, and all the people that is with him.

17 And Jonathan and Achimaas ſtayed by the fountain Rogel: and there went a maid and told them: and they went forward, to carry the meſſage to king David, for they might not be ſeen, nor enter into the city.

18 But a certain boy ſaw them, and told Abſalom: but they making haſte went into the houſe of a certain man in Bahurim, who had a well in his court, and they went down into it.

19 And a woman took, and ſpread a covering over the mouth of the well, as it were to dry ſodden barley: and ſo the thing was not known.

20 And when Abſalom's ſervants were come into the houſe, they ſaid to the woman: Where is Achimaas and Jonathan? and the woman anſwered them: They paſſed on in haſte, after they had taſted a little water. But they that ſought them, when they found them not, returned into Jeruſalem.

21 And when they were gone, they came up out of the well, and going on told king David, and ſaid: Ariſe, and paſs quickly over the river: for this manner of counſel has Achitophel given againſt you.

22 So David aroſe, and all the people that were with him, and they paſſed over the Jordan, until it grew light, and not one of them was left that was not gone over the river.

23 But Achitophel ſeeing that his counſel was not followed, ſaddled his aſs, and aroſe and went home to his houſe and to his city: and putting his houſe in order, hanged himſelf, and was buried in the ſepulchre of his father.

24 But David came to the camp, and Abſalom paſſed over the Jordan, he and all the men of Iſrael with him.

25 Now Abſalom appointed Amaſa in Joab's ſtead over the army: and Amaſa was the ſon of a man who was called Jethra of Jezrael, who went in to Abigail the daughter of Naas, the ſiſter of Sarvia who was the mother of Joab.

26 And Iſrael camped with Abſalom in the land of Galaad.

27 And when David was come to the camp, Sobi the ſon of Naas of Rabbath of the children of Ammon, and Machir the ſon of Ammihel of Lodabar, and Berzellai the Galaadite of Rogelim,

28 Brought him beds, and tapeſtry, and earthen veſſels, and wheat, and barley, and meal, and parched corn, and beans, and lentils, and fried pulſe,

29 And honey, and butter, and ſheep, and fat calves, and they gave to David and the people that were with him, to eat: for they ſuſpected that the people were faint with hunger and thirſt in the wilderneſs.

Abſalom is defeated, and ſlain by Joab. David mourneth for him.

AND David having reviewed his people, appointed over them captains of thouſands and of hundreds, A. M. 2981. Ante C. 1023.

2 And ſent forth a third part of the people under the hand of Joab, and a third part under the hand of Abiſai the ſon of Sarvia Joab's brother, and a third part under the hand of Ethai, who was of Geth: and the king ſaid to the people: I alſo will go forth with you.

3 And the people anſwered: Thou ſhalt not go forth: for if we flee away, they will not much mind us: or if half of us ſhould fall, they will not greatly care: for thou alone art accounted for ten thouſand: it is better therefore that thou ſhouldſt be in the city to ſuccour us.

4 And the king ſaid to them: What ſeemeth good to you, that will I do. And the king ſtood by the gate: and all the people went forth by their troops, by hundreds and by thouſands.

CHAP. XVII. VER. 24. To the camp. The city of Mahanaim, the name of which in Hebrew ſignifies The camp. It was a city of note at that time, as appears from its having been choſen by Iſboſeth for the place of his reſidence.

5 And the king commanded Joab, and Abiſai, and Ethai, ſaying: Save me the boy Abſalom. And all the people heard the king giving charge to all the princes concerning Abſalom.

6 So the people went out into the field againſt Iſrael, and the battle was fought in the foreſt of Ephraim.

7 And the people of Iſrael were defeated there by David's army, and a great ſlaughter was made that day of twenty thouſand men.

8 And the battle there was ſcattered over the face of all the country, and there were many more of the people whom the foreſt conſumed, than whom the ſword devoured that day.

9 And it happened that Abſalom met the ſervants of David, riding on a mule: and as the mule went under a thick and large oak, his head ſtuck in the oak: and while he hung between the heaven and the earth, the mule on which he rode paſſed on.

10 And one ſaw this and told Joab, ſaying: I ſaw Abſalom hanging upon an oak.

11 And Joab ſaid to the man that told him: If thou ſaweſt him, why didſt thou not ſtab him to the ground, and I would have given thee ten ſicles of ſilver, and a belt?

12 And he ſaid to Joab: If thou wouldſt have paid down in my hands a thouſand pieces of ſilver, I would not lay my hands upon the king's ſon: for in our hearing the king charged thee, and Abiſai, and Ethai, ſaying: Save me the boy Abſalom.

13 Yea and if I ſhould have acted boldly againſt my own life, this could not have been hid from the king, and wouldſt thou have ſtood by me?

14 And Joab ſaid: Not as thou wilt, but I will ſet upon him in thy ſight. So he took three lances in his hand, and thruſt them into the heart of Abſalom: and whilſt he yet panted for life, ſticking on the oak,

15 Ten young men armour-bearers of Joab, ran up and ſtriking him ſlew him.

16 And Joab ſounded the trumpet, and kept back the people from purſuing after Iſrael in their flight, being willing to ſpare the multitude.

17 And they took Abſalom, and caſt him into a great pit in the foreſt, and they laid an exceeding great heap of ſtones upon him: but all Iſrael fled to their own dwellings.

18 Now Abſalom had reared up for himſelf, in his life-time, a pillar, which is in the king's valley: for he ſaid: I have no ſon, and this ſhall be the monument of my name. And he called the pillar by his own name, and it is called The hand of Abſalom, to this day.

19 And Achimaas the ſon of Sadoc ſaid: I will run and tell the king, that the Lord hath done judgment for him from the hand of his enemies.

20 And Joab ſaid to him: Thou ſhalt not be the meſſenger this day, but ſhalt bear tidings another day: this day I will not have thee bear tidings, becauſe the king's ſon is dead.

21 And Joab ſaid to Chuſi: Go, and tell the king what thou haſt ſeen. Chuſi bowed down to Joab, and ran.

22 Then Achimaas the ſon of Sadoc ſaid to Joab again: Why might not I alſo run after Chuſi? And Joab ſaid to him: Why wilt thou run, my ſon? thou wilt not be the bearer of good tidings.

23 He anſwered: But what if I run? And he ſaid to him: Run. Then Achimaas running by a nearer way paſſed Chuſi.

24 And David ſat between the two gates: and the watchman that was on the top of the gate upon the wall, lifting up his eyes, ſaw a man running alone.

25 And crying out he told the king: and the king ſaid: If he be alone, there are good tidings in his mouth. And as he was coming apace and drawing nearer,

26 The watchman ſaw another man running, and crying aloud from above, he ſaid: I ſee another man running alone. And the king ſaid: He alſo is a good meſſenger.

27 And the watchman ſaid: The running of the foremoſt ſeemeth to me like the running of Achimaas the ſon of Sadoc. And the king ſaid: He is a good man: and cometh with good news.

28 And Achimaas crying out, ſaid to the king: God ſave thee O king. And falling down before the king with his face to the ground, he ſaid: Bleſſed be the Lord thy God, who hath ſhut up the men that have lifted up their hands againſt the lord my king.

29 And the king ſaid: Is the young man Abſalom ſafe? And Achimaas ſaid: I ſaw a great tumult, O king, when thy ſervant Joab ſent me thy ſervant: I know nothing elſe.

30 And the king ſaid to him: Paſs, and ſtand here.

CHAP. XVIII. VER. 8. Conſumed, viz. by pits and precipices.

VER. 18. No ſon. The ſons mentioned above, chap. xiv. 27. were dead when this pillar was erected: unleſs we ſuppoſe he raiſed this pillar before they were born.

31 And when he had paſſed, and ſtood ſtill, Chuſi appeared: and coming up he ſaid: I bring good tidings, lord my king: for the Lord hath judged for thee this day from the hand of all that have riſen up againſt thee.

32 And the king ſaid to Chuſi: Is the young man Abſalom ſafe? And Chuſi anſwering him, ſaid: Let the enemies of the lord my king, and all that riſe againſt him unto evil, be as the young man is.

33 The king therefore being much moved, went up to the high-chamber over the gate, and wept. And as he went he ſpoke in this manner: || My ſon Abſalom, Abſalom my ſon: who would grant me that I might die for thee, Abſalom my ſon, my ſon Abſalom.

CHAP. XIX.

David, at the remonſtrances of Joab, ceaſeth his mourning. He is invited back and met by Semei and Miphiboſeth: a ſtrife between the men of Juda and the men of Iſrael.

A. M. 2981. AND it was told Joab, that the king wept and mourned for his ſon:

2 And the victory that day was turned into mourning unto all the people: for the people heard ſay that day: The king grieveth for his ſon.

3 And the people ſhunned the going into the city that day as a people would do that hath turned their backs, and fled away from the battle.

4 And the king covered his head, and cried with a loud voice: O my ſon Abſalom, O Abſalom my ſon, O my ſon.

5 Then Joab going into the houſe to the king, ſaid: Thou haſt ſhamed this day the faces of all thy ſervants, that have ſaved thy life, and the lives of thy ſons, and of thy daughters, and the lives of thy wives, and the lives of thy concubines.

6 Thou loveſt them that hate thee, and thou hateſt them that love thee: and thou haſt ſhewn this day that thou careſt not for thy nobles, nor for thy ſervants: and I now plainly perceive that if Abſalom had lived, and all we had been ſlain, then it would have pleaſed thee.

7 Now therefore ariſe, and go out, and ſpeak to the ſatisfaction of thy ſervants: for I ſwear to thee by the Lord, that if thou wilt not go forth, there will not tarry with thee ſo much as one this night: and that will be worſe to thee, than all the evils that have befallen thee from thy youth until now.

8 Then the king aroſe and ſat in the gate: and it was told to all the people that the king ſat in the gate: and all the people came before the king, but Iſrael fled to their own dwellings.

9 And all the people were at ſtrife in all the tribes of Iſrael, ſaying: The king delivered us out of the hand of our enemies, and he ſaved us out of the hand of the Philiſtines: and now he is fled out of the land for Abſalom.

10 But Abſalom, whom we anointed over us, is dead in the battle: how long are you ſilent, and bring not back the king?

11 And king David ſent to Sadoc, and Abiathar the prieſts, ſaying: Speak to the ancients of Juda, ſaying: Why are you the laſt to bring the king back to his houſe? (For the talk of all Iſrael was come to the king in his houſe.)

12 You are my brethren, you are my bone, and my fleſh, why are you the laſt to bring back the king?

13 And ſay ye to Amaſa: Art not thou my bone, and my fleſh? So do God to me, and add more, if thou be not the chief captain of the army before me always in the place of Joab.

14 And he inclined the heart of all the men of Juda, as it were of one man: and they ſent to the king, ſaying: Return thou, and all thy ſervants.

15 And the king returned and came as far as the Jordan, and all Juda came as far as Galgal to meet the king, and to bring him over the Jordan.

20 For I thy ſervant acknowledge my ſin: and therefore I am come this day the firſt of all the houſe of Joſeph, and am come down to meet my lord the king.

21 But Abiſai the ſon of Sarvia anſwering, ſaid: Shall Semei for theſe words not be put to death, becauſe he curſed the Lord's anointed?

22 And David ſaid: What have I to do with you, ye ſons of Sarvia? why are you a ſatan this day to me? ſhall there any man be killed this day in Iſrael? do not I know that this day I am made king over Iſrael?

23 And the king ſaid to Semei: Thou ſhalt not die. And he ſwore unto him.

24 And Miphiboſeth the ſon of Saul, came down to meet the king, and he had neither waſhed his feet, nor trimmed his beard: nor waſhed his garments from the day that the king went out, until the day of his return in peace.

25 And when he met the king at Jeruſalem, the king ſaid to him: Why cameſt thou not with me, Miphiboſeth?

26 And he anſwering, ſaid: Lord my king, my ſervant deſpiſed me: for I thy ſervant ſpoke to him to ſaddle me an aſs, that I might get on and go with the king: for I thy ſervant am lame.

28 For all of my father's houſe were no better than worthy of death before my lord the king; and thou haſt ſet me thy ſervant among the gueſts of thy table: what juſt complaint therefore have I? or what right to cry any more to the king?

29 Then the king ſaid to him: Why ſpeakeſt thou any more? what I have ſaid is determined: thou and Siba divide the poſſeſſions.

30 And Miphiboſeth anſwered the king: Yea let him take all, for as much as my lord the king is returned peaceably into his houſe.

31 Berzellai alſo the Galaadite, coming down from Rogelim, brought the king over the Jordan, being ready alſo to wait on him beyond the river.

32 ‖ Now Berzellai the Galaadite was of a great age, that is to ſay, fourſcore years old, and he provided the king with ſuſtenance when he abode in the camp: for he was a man exceeding rich.

33 And the king ſaid to Berzellai: Come with me that thou mayeſt reſt ſecure with me in Jeruſalem.

34 And Berzellai ſaid to the king: How many are the days of the years of my life, that I ſhould go up with the king to Jeruſalem?

‖ Supra 17. 27.

35 ‖ I am this day fourſcore years old, are my ſenſes quick to diſcern ſweet and bitter? or can meat or drink delight thy ſervant? or can I hear any more the voice of ſinging-men and ſinging-women? why ſhould thy ſervant be a burden to the lord my king?

36 I thy ſervant will go on a little way from the Jordan with thee: I need not this recompence.

37 But I beſeech thee let thy ſervant return, and die in my own city, and be buried by the ſepulchre of my father, and of my mother. But there is thy ſervant Chamaam, let him go with thee, lord my king, and do to him whatſoever ſeemeth good to thee.

38 Then the king ſaid to him: Let Chamaam go over with me, and I will do for him whatſoever ſhall pleaſe thee, and all that thou ſhalt aſk of me, thou ſhalt obtain.

39 And when all the people and the king had paſſed over the Jordan, the king kiſſed Berzellai, and bleſſed him: and he returned to his own place.

40 So the king went on to Galgal, and Chamaam with him. Now all the people of Juda had brought the king over, and only half of the people of Iſrael were there.

41 Therefore all the men of Iſrael running together to the king, ſaid to him: Why have our brethren the men of Juda ſtolen thee away, and have brought the king and his houſehold over the Jordan, and all the men of David with him?

42 And all the men of Juda anſwered the men of Iſrael: Becauſe the king is nearer to me: why art thou angry for this matter? have we eaten any thing of the king's, or have any gifts been given us?

43 And the men of Iſrael anſwered the men of Juda, and ſaid: I have ten parts in the king more than thou, and David belongeth to me more than to thee: why haſt thou done me a wrong, and why was it not told me firſt, that I might bring back my king? And the men of Juda anſwered more harſhly than the men of Iſrael.

CHAP. XX.

Seba's rebellion. Amasa is slain by Joab. Abela is besieged, but upon the citizens casting over the wall the head of Seba, Joab departeth with his army.

A. M. 2981. Ante C. 1023. AND there happened to be there a man of Belial, whose name was Seba, the son of Bochri, a man of Jemini: and he sounded the trumpet, and said: We have no part in David, nor inheritance in the son of Isai: return to thy dwellings, O Israel.

2 And all Israel departed from David, and followed Seba the son of Bochri: but the men of Juda stuck to their king from the Jordan unto Jerusalem.

3 And when the king was come into his house at Jerusalem, he took the ten women his concubines, whom he had left to keep the house, and put them in ward, allowing them provisions: and he went not in unto them, but they were shut up unto the day of their death living in widowhood.

4 And the king said to Amasa: Assemble to me all the men of Juda against the third day, and be thou here present.

5 So Amasa went to assemble the men of Juda, but he tarried beyond the set time which the king had appointed him.

6 And David said to Abisai: Now will Seba the son of Bochri do us more harm than did Absalom: take thou therefore the servants of thy lord, and pursue after him, lest he find fenced cities, and escape us.

7 So Joab's men went out with him, and the Cerethi and the Phelethi: and all the valiant men went out of Jerusalem to pursue after Seba the son of Bochri.

8 And when they were at the great stone which is in Gabaon, Amasa coming met them. And Joab had on a close coat of equal length with his habit, and over it was girded with a sword hanging down to his flank, in a scabbard, made in such manner as to come out with the least motion and strike.

9 And Joab said to Amasa: God save thee my brother. || And he took Amasa by the chin with his right hand to kiss him. || 3 Kings 2. 5.

10 But Amasa did not take notice of the sword, which Joab had, and he struck him in the side, and shed out his bowels to the ground, and gave him not a second wound, and he died. And Joab, and Abisai his brother pursued after Seba the son of Bochri.

11 In the mean time some men of Joab's company stopping at the dead body of Amasa, said: Behold he that would have been in Joab's stead the companion of David.

12 And Amasa embrued with blood, lay in the midst of the way. A certain man saw this that all the people stood still to look upon him, so he removed Amasa out of the high-way into the field, and covered him with a garment, that they who passed might not stop on his account.

13 And when he was removed out of the way, all the people went on following Joab to pursue after Seba the son of Bochri.

14 Now he had passed through all the tribes of Israel unto Abela and Bethmaacha: and all the chosen men were gathered together unto him.

15 And they came, and besieged him in Abela, and in Bethmaacha, and they cast up works round the city, and the city was besieged: and all the people that were with Joab, laboured to throw down the walls.

16 And a wise woman cried out from the city: Hear, hear and say to Joab: Come near hither, and I will speak with thee.

17 And when he was come near to her, she said to him: Art thou Joab? And he answered: I am. And she spoke thus to him: Hear the words of thy handmaid. He answered: I do hear.

18 And she again said: A saying was used in the old proverb: They that inquire, let them inquire in Abela: and so they made an end.

19 Am not I she that answer truth in Israel, and thou seekest to destroy the city, and to overthrow a mother in Israel? Why wilt thou throw down the inheritance of the Lord?

20 And Joab answering, said: God forbid, God forbid that I should, I do not throw down, nor destroy.

21 The matter is not so, but a man of mount Ephraim, Seba the son of Bochri by name, hath lifted up his hand against king David: deliver him only, and we will depart from the city. And the woman said to Joab: Behold his head shall be thrown to thee from the wall.

22 So she went to all the people, and spoke to them wisely: and they cut off the head of Seba the son of Bochri, and cast it out to Joab. And he sounded the trumpet, and they departed from the city, every one to their home: and Joab returned to Jerusalem to the king.

CHAP. XXI.

A famine of three years, for the sin of Saul against the Gabaonites, at whose desire seven of Saul's race are crucified. War again with the Philistines.

A. M. 2983. Ante C. 1021. AND there was a famine in the days of David for three years successively: and David consulted the oracle of the Lord. And the Lord said: It is for Saul, and his bloody house, because he slew the Gabaonites.

2 Then the king calling for the Gabaonites, said to them: (Now the Gabaonites were not of the children of Israel, but the remains of the Amorrhites: ‖ and the children of Israel had sworn to them, and Saul sought to slay them out of zeal, as it were for the children of Israel and Juda.) ‖ Josue 9. 16.

3 David therefore said to the Gabaonites: What shall I do for you? and what shall be the atonement for you, that you may bless the inheritance of the Lord?

4 And the Gabaonites said to him: We have no contest about silver and gold, but against Saul and against his house: neither do we desire that any man be slain of Israel. And the king said to them: What will you then that I should do for you?

5 And they said to the king: The man that crushed us and oppressed us unjustly, we must destroy in such manner that there be not so much as one left of his stock in all the coasts of Israel.

6 Let seven men of his children be delivered unto us, that we may crucify them to the Lord in Gabaa of Saul, once the chosen of the Lord. And the king said: I will give them.

‖ 1 Kings 18. 3. 7 ‖ And the king spared Miphiboseth the son of Jonathan the son of Saul, because of the oath of the Lord, that had been between David and Jonathan the son of Saul.

8 So the king took the two sons of Respha the daughter of Aia, whom she bore to Saul, Armoni, and Miphiboseth: and the five sons of Michol the daughter of Saul, whom she bore to Hadriel the son of Berzellai, that was of Molathi,

9 And gave them into the hands of the Gabaonites: and they crucified them on a hill before the Lord: and these seven died together in the first days of the harvest, when the barley began to be reaped. * * A. M. 2986. Ante C. 1018.

10 And Respha the daughter of Aia took hair-cloth, and spread it under her upon the rock from the beginning of the harvest, till water dropped upon them out of heaven: and suffered neither the birds to tear them by day, nor the beasts by night.

11 And it was told David, what Respha the daughter of Aia, the concubine of Saul, had done.

12 And David went, and took the bones of Saul, and the bones of Jonathan his son from the men of Jabes Galaad, ‖ who had stolen them from the street of Bethsan, where the Philistines had hanged them when they had slain Saul in Gelboe. ‖ 1 Kings 31. 12.

13 And he brought from thence the bones of Saul, and the bones of Jonathan his son; and they gathered up the bones of them that were crucified,

14 And they buried them with the bones of Saul, and of Jonathan his son in the land of Benjamin, in the side, in the sepulchre of Cis his father: and they did all that the king had commanded, and God shewed mercy again to the land after these things.

15 And the Philistines made war again against Israel, and David went down, and his servants with him, and fought against the Philistines. And David growing faint, 16 Jesbibenob, who was of the race of Arapha, ‖ the iron of whose spear weighed three hundred ounces, being girded with a new sword, attempted to kill David, ‖ 1 Kings 17. 7.

17 And Abisai the son of Sarvia rescued him, and striking the Philistine killed him. Then David's men swore unto him, saying: Thou shalt go no more out with us to battle, lest thou put out the lamp of Israel.

18 ‖ There was also a second battle in Gob against the Philistines: then Sobochai of Husathi slew Saph of the race of Arapha of the family of the giants. ‖ 1 Par. 20. 4.

19 And there was a third battle in Gob against the Philistines, in which Adeodatus the son of the Forrest an embroiderer of Bethlehem slew Goliath the Gethite, the shaft of whose spear was like a weaver's beam.

20 A fourth battle was in Geth: where there was a man of great ſtature, that had ſix fingers on each hand, and ſix toes on each foot, four and twenty in all, and he was of the race of Arapha.

21 And he reproached Iſrael: and Jonathan the ſon of Samaa the brother of David ſlew him.

22 Theſe four were born of Arapha in Geth, and they fell by the hand of David, and of his ſervants.

King David's pſalm of thankſgiving for his deliverance from all his enemies.

AND David ſpoke to the Lord the words of this canticle, in the day that the Lord delivered him out of the hand of all his enemies, and out of the hand of Saul, ‖ Pſal. 17. 3. 2 And he ſaid: ‖ The Lord is my rock, and my ſtrength, and my ſaviour.

3 God is my ſtrong one, in him will I truſt: my ſhield, and the horn of my ſalvation: he lifteth me up, and is my refuge: my ſaviour, thou wilt deliver me from iniquity.

‖ Pſal. 17. 4. 4 ‖ I will call on the Lord who is worthy to be praiſed: and I ſhall be ſaved from my enemies.

5 For the pangs of death have ſurrounded me: the floods of Belial have made me afraid.

6 The cords of hell compaſſed me: the ſnares of death prevented me.

7 In my diſtreſs I will call upon the Lord, and I will cry to my God: and he will hear my voice out of his temple, and my cry ſhall come to his ears.

8 The earth ſhook and trembled, the foundations of the mountains were moved, and ſhaken, becauſe he was angry with them.

9 A ſmoak went up from his noſtrils, and a devouring fire out of his mouth: coals were kindled by it.

10 He bowed the heavens, and came down: and darkneſs was under his feet.

11 And he rode upon the Cherubims, and flew: and ſlid upon the wings of the wind.

12 He made darkneſs a covering round about him: dropping waters out of the clouds of the heavens.

13 By the brightneſs before him, the coals of fire were kindled.

14 The Lord ſhall thunder from heaven: and the moſt high ſhall give forth his voice.

15 He ſhot arrows and ſcattered them: lightning, and conſumed them.

16 And the overflowings of the ſea appeared, and the foundations of the world were laid open at the rebuke of the Lord, at the blaſt of the ſpirit of his wrath.

17 He ſent from on high, and took me, and drew me out of many waters.

18 He delivered me from my moſt mighty enemy, and from them that hated me: for they were too ſtrong for me.

19 He prevented me in the day of my affliction, and the Lord became my ſtay.

20 And he brought me forth into a large place, he delivered me, becauſe I pleaſed him.

21 The Lord will reward me according to my juſtice: and according to the cleanneſs of my hands he will render to me.

22 Becauſe I have kept the ways of the Lord, and have not wickedly departed from my God.

23 For all his judgments are in my ſight: and his precepts I have not removed from me.

24 And I ſhall be perfect with him: and ſhall keep myſelf from my iniquity.

25 And the Lord will recompence me according to my juſtice: and according to the cleanneſs of my hands in the ſight of his eyes.

26 With the holy one thou wilt be holy: and with the valiant perfect.

27 With the elect thou wilt be elect: and with the perverſe thou wilt be perverted.

28 And the poor people thou wilt ſave: and with thy eyes thou wilt humble the haughty.

29 For thou art my lamp, O Lord: and thou, O Lord, wilt enlighten my darkneſs.

30 For in thee I will run girded: in my God I will leap over the wall.

31 God, his way is immaculate, the word of the Lord is tried by fire: he is the ſhield of all that truſt in him.

32 Who is God but the Lord: and who is ſtrong but our God?

33 God who hath girded me with ſtrength: and made my way perfect.

‖ Pſal. 143. 1. 34 ‖ Making my feet like the feet of harts, and ſetting me upon my high places.

35 He teacheth my hands to war: and maketh my arms like a bow of braſs.

36 Thou haſt given me the ſhield of my ſalvation: and thy mildneſs hath multiplied me.

37 Thou ſhalt enlarge my ſteps under me: and my ancles ſhall not fail.

38 I will purſue after my enemies, and cruſh them: and will not return again till I conſume them.

39 I will conſume them and break them in pieces, ſo that they ſhall not riſe: they ſhall fall under my feet.

40 Thou haſt girded me with ſtrength to battle: thou haſt made them that reſiſted me to bow under me.

41 My enemies thou haſt made to turn their back to me: them that hated me, and I ſhall deſtroy them.

42 They ſhall cry, and there ſhall be none to ſave: to the Lord, and he ſhall not hear them.

43 I ſhall beat them as ſmall as the duſt of the earth: I ſhall cruſh them and ſpread them abroad like the mire of the ſtreets.

44 Thou wilt ſave me from the contradictions of my people: thou wilt keep me to be the head of the Gentiles: the people which I know not, ſhall ſerve me.

45 The ſons of the ſtranger will reſiſt me, at the hearing of the ear they will obey me.

46 The ſtrangers are melted away, and ſhall be ſtraitened in their diſtreſſes.

47 The Lord liveth, and my God is bleſſed: and the ſtrong God of my ſalvation ſhall be exalted.

48 God who giveth me revenge, and bringeſt down people under me.

49 Who bringeſt me forth from my enemies, and lifteſt me up from them that reſiſt me: ‖ from the wicked man thou ſhalt deliver me.

‖ Pſ. 17. 49.

50 ‖ Therefore will I give thanks to thee, O Lord, among the Gentiles, and will ſing to thy name.

51 Giving great ſalvation to his king, and ſhewing mercy to David his anointed, and to his ſeed for ever.

The laſt words of David. A catalogue of his valiant men.

NOW theſe are David's laſt words. David the ſon of Iſai ſaid: The man to whom it was appointed concerning the Chriſt of the God of Jacob, ‖ the excellent pſalmiſt of Iſrael ſaid:

2 The Spirit of the Lord hath ſpoken by me, and his word by my tongue.

3 The God of Iſrael ſaid to me, the ſtrong one of Iſrael ſpoke, the ruler of men, the juſt ruler in the fear of God.

4 As the light of the morning, when the ſun riſeth, ſhineth in the morning without clouds, and as the graſs ſpringeth out of the earth by rain.

5 Neither is my houſe ſo great with God, that he ſhould make with me an eternal covenant, firm in all things and aſſured. For he is all my ſalvation, and all my will: neither is there ought thereof that ſpringeth not up.

6 But tranſgreſſors ſhall all of them be plucked up as thorns: which are not taken away with hands.

7 And if a man will touch them, he muſt be armed with iron and with the ſtaff of a lance: but they ſhall be ſet on fire and burnt to nothing.

8 ‖ Theſe are the names of the valiant men of David. Jeſbaham ſitting in the chair was the wiſeſt chief among the three, he was like the moſt tender little worm of the wood, who killed eight hundred men at one onſet.

‖ 1 Par. 11. 20.

9 After him was Eleazar the ſon of Dodo the Ahohite one of the three valiant men that were with David when they defied the Philiſtines, and they were there gathered together to battle.

10 And when the men of Iſrael were gone away, he ſtood and ſmote the Philiſtines till his hand was weary, and grew ſtiff with the ſword: and the Lord wrought a great victory that day: and the people that were the fled away, returned to take ſpoils of them that were ſlain.

11 And after him was Semma the ſon of Age of Arari. And the Philiſtines were gathered together in a troop: for there was a field full of lentils. And when the people were fled from the face of the Philiſtines, 12 He ſtood in the midſt of the field, and defended it, and defeated the Philiſtines: and the Lord gave a great victory.

15 And David longed, and ſaid: O that ſome man would give me a drink of the water out of the ciſtern, that is in Bethlehem by the gate.

16 And the three valiant men broke through the camp of the Philiſtines, and drew water out of the ciſtern of Bethlehem, that was by the gate, and brought it to David: but he would not drink, but offered it to the Lord,

17 Saying: The Lord be merciful to me, that I may not do this: ſhall I drink the blood of theſe men that went, and the peril of their lives? therefore he would not drink. Theſe things did theſe three mighty men.

David numbereth the people: God ſendeth a peſtilence, which is ſtopt by David's prayer and ſacrifice.

8 And having gone through the whole land, after nine months and twenty days, they came to Jeruſalem.

9 And Joab gave up the ſum of the number of the people to the king, and there were found of Iſrael eight hundred thouſand valiant men that drew the ſword: and of Juda five hundred thouſand fighting men.

‖ 1 Kings 24. 6.

10 ‖ But David's heart ſtruck him, after the people were numbered: and David ſaid to the Lord: I have ſinned very much in what I have done: but I pray thee, O Lord, to take away the iniquity of thy ſervant, becauſe I have done exceeding fooliſhly.

11 And David aroſe in the morning, and the word of the Lord came to Gad the prophet and the ſeer of David, ſaying:

12 Go, and ſay to David: Thus ſaith the Lord: I give thee thy choice of three things, chooſe one of them which thou wilt, that I may do it to thee.

13 And when Gad was come to David, he told him, ſaying: Either ſeven years of famine ſhall come to thee in thy land: or thou ſhalt flee three months before thy adverſaries, and they ſhall purſue thee: or for three days there ſhall be a peſtilence in thy land. Now therefore deliberate, and ſee what anſwer I ſhall return to him that ſent me.

14 And David ſaid to Gad: I am in a great ſtrait: ‖ but it is better that I ſhould fall into the hands of the Lord (for his mercies are many) than into the hands of men.

‖ Dan. 13. 23.

15 And the Lord ſent a peſtilence upon Iſrael, from the morning unto the time appointed, and there died of the people from Dan to Berſabee ſeventy thouſand men.

16 And when the Angel of the Lord had ſtretched out his hand over Jeruſalem to deſtroy it, the Lord had pity on the affliction, and ſaid to the Angel that ſlew the people: It is enough: now hold thy hand. And the Angel of the Lord was by the threſhing floor of Areuna the Jebuſite.

17 And David ſaid to the Lord, when he ſaw the Angel ſtriking the people: It is I, I am he that have ſinned, I have done wickedly: theſe that are the ſheep, what have they done? let thy hand, I beſeech thee, be turned againſt me, and againſt my father's houſe.

18 And Gad came to David that day, and ſaid: Go up, and build an altar to the Lord in the threſhing floor of Areuna the Jebuſite.

19 And David went up according to the word of Gad which the Lord had commanded him.

20 And Areuna looked, and ſaw the king and his ſervants coming towards him:

21 And going out he worſhipped the king, bowing with his face to the earth, and ſaid: Wherefore is my lord the king come to his ſervant? And David ſaid to him: To buy the threſhing floor of thee, and build an altar to the Lord, that the plague, which rageth among the people, may ceaſe.

22 And Areuna ſaid to David: Let my lord the king take, and offer, as it ſeemeth good to him: thou haſt here oxen for a holocauſt, and the wain, and the yokes of the oxen for wood.

23 All theſe things Areuna as a king gave to the king: and Areuna ſaid to the king: The Lord thy God receive thy vow.

24 And the king anſwered him, and ſaid: Nay, but I will buy it of thee at a price, and I will not offer to the Lord my God holocauſts free-coſt. So David bought the floor, and the oxen, for fifty ſicles of ſilver:

25 And David built there an altar to the Lord, and offered holocauſts and peace-offerings: and the Lord became merciful to the land, and the plague was ſtayed from Iſrael.

VER. 10. David's heart ſtruck him after the people were numbered. That is, he was touched with a great remorſe for the vanity and pride which had put him upon numbering the people.

THE THIRD BOOK OF KINGS.

This and the following book are called by the holy fathers the third and fourth book of Kings; but by the Hebrews the first and second. They contain the history of the kingdoms of Israel and Juda, from the beginning of the reign of Solomon, to the captivity. As to the writer of these books, it seems most probable they were not written by one man; nor at one time; but as there was all along a succession of prophets in Israel, who recorded, by divine inspiration, the most remarkable things that happened in their days, these books seem to have been written by these prophets. See 2 Paralipomenon, alias 2 Chronicles ix. 29. xii. 15. xiii. 22. xx. 34. xxvi. 22. xxxii. 32.

CHAP. I.

King David growing old, Abisag a Sunamites is brought to him. Adonias pretending to reign, Nathan and Bethsabee obtain that Solomon should be declared and anointed king.

A. M. 2989. Ante C. 1015. NOW king David was old, and advanced in years: and when he was covered with clothes, he was not warm.

2 His servants therefore said to him: Let us seek for our lord the king a young virgin, and let her stand before the king, and cherish him, and sleep in his bosom, and warm our lord the king.

3 So they sought a beautiful young woman in all the coasts of Israel, and they found Abisag a Sunamites, and brought her to the king.

4 And the damsel was exceeding beautiful, and she slept with the king; and served him, but the king did not know her.

5 And Adonias the son of Haggith exalted himself, saying: I will be king. And he made himself chariots and horsemen, and fifty men to run before him.

‖ 1 Kings 2. 29. 2 Kings 13. 21. & 15. 1. 6 ‖ Neither did his father rebuke him at any time, saying: Why hast thou done this? And he also was very beautiful, the next in birth after Absalom.

7 And he conferred with Joab the son of Sarvia, and with Abiathar the priest, who furthered Adonias's side.

8 But Sadoc the priest, and Banaias the son of Joiada, and Nathan the prophet, and Semei, and Rei, and the strength of David's army was not with Adonias.

9 And Adonias having slain rams and calves, and all fat cattle by the stone of Zoheleth, which was near the fountain Rogel, invited all his brethren the king's sons, and all the men of Juda the king's servants:

10 But Nathan the prophet, and Banaias, and all the valiant men, and Solomon his brother he invited not.

11 And Nathan said to Bethsabee the mother of Solomon: Hast thou not heard that Adonias the son of Haggith reigneth, and our lord David knoweth it not?

12 Now then come, take my counsel and save thy life, and the life of thy son Solomon.

13 Go, and get thee in to king David, and say to him: Didst not thou, my lord O king, swear to me thy handmaid, saying: Solomon thy son shall reign after me, and he shall sit in my throne? why then doth Adonias reign?

14 And while thou art yet speaking there with the king, I will come in after thee, and will fill up thy words.

15 So Bethsabee went in to the king into the chamber: now the king was very old, and Abisag the Sunamites ministered to him.

16 Bethsabee bowed herself, and worshipped the king. And the king said to her: What is thy will?

17 She answered and said: My lord, thou didst swear to thy handmaid by the Lord thy God, saying: Solomon thy son shall reign after me, and he shall sit on my throne.

18 And behold now Adonias reigneth, and thou, my lord the king, knowest nothing of it.

19 He hath killed oxen, and all fat cattle, and many rams, and invited all the king's sons, and Abiathar the priest, and Joab the general of the army: but Solomon thy servant he invited not.

20 And now, my lord O king, the eyes of all Israel are upon thee, that thou shouldst tell them, who shall sit on thy throne, my lord the king, after thee.

21 Otherwise it shall come to pass, when my lord the king sleepeth with his fathers, that I and my son Solomon shall be counted offenders.

22 As she was yet speaking with the king, Nathan the prophet came.

23 And they told the king, saying: Nathan the prophet is here. And when he was come in before the king, and had worshipped bowing down to the ground,

24 Nathan said: My lord O king, hast thou said: Let Adonias reign after me, and let him sit upon my throne?

25 Because he is gone down to-day, and hath killed oxen, and fatlings, and many rams, and invited all the king's sons, and the captains of the army, and Abiathar the priest: and they are eating and drinking before him, and saying: God save king Adonias:

26 But me thy servant, and Sadoc the priest, and Banaias the son of Joiada, and Solomon thy servant, he hath not invited.

27 Is this word come out from my lord the king, and hast thou not told me thy servant who should sit on the throne of my lord the king after him?

28 And king David answered and said: Call to me Bethsabee. And when she was come in to the king, and stood before him,

29 The king swore and said: As the Lord liveth, who hath delivered my soul out of all distress,

30 Even as I swore to thee by the Lord the God of Israel, saying: Solomon thy son shall reign after me, and he shall sit upon my throne in my stead, so will I do this day.

31 And Bethsabee bowing with her face to the earth worshipped the king, saying: May my lord David live for ever.

32 King David also said: Call me Sadoc the priest, and Nathan the prophet, and Banaias the son of Joiada. And when they were come in before the king, 33 He said to them: Take with you the servants of your lord, and set my son Solomon upon my mule: and bring him to Gihon.

34 And let Sadoc the priest, and Nathan the prophet anoint him there king over Israel: and you shall sound the trumpet, and shall say: God save king Solomon.

35 And you shall come up after him, and he shall come, and shall sit upon my throne, and he shall reign in my stead: and I will appoint him to be ruler over Israel, and over Juda.

36 And Banaias the son of Joiada answered the king, saying: Amen: so say the Lord the God of my lord the king.

37 As the Lord hath been with my lord the king, so be he with Solomon, and make his throne higher than the throne of my lord king David.

38 So Sadoc the priest, and Nathan the prophet went down, and Banaias the son of Joiada, and the Cerethi, and Phelethi: and they set Solomon upon the mule of king David, and brought him to Gihon.

39 And Sadoc the priest took a horn of oil out of the tabernacle, and anointed Solomon: and they sounded the trumpet, and all the people said: God save king Solomon.

40 And all the multitude went up after him, and the people played with pipes, and rejoiced with a great joy, and the earth rang with the noise of their cry.

41 And Adonias, and all that were invited by him, heard it, and now the feast was at an end: Joab also hearing the sound of the trumpet, said: What meaneth this noise of the city in an uproar?

42 While he yet spoke, Jonathan the son of Abiathar the priest came: and Adonias said to him: Come in, because thou art a valiant man, and bringest good news.

43 And Jonathan answered Adonias: Not so: for our lord king David hath appointed Solomon king.

44 And hath sent with him Sadoc the priest, and Nathan the prophet, and Banaias the son of Joiada, and the Cerethi, and Phelethi, and they have set him upon the king's mule.

45 And Sadoc the priest, and Nathan the prophet have anointed him king in Gihon: and they are gone up from thence rejoicing, so that the city rang again: this is the noise that you have heard.

46 Moreover Solomon sitteth upon the throne of the kingdom.

47 And the king's servants going in, have blessed our lord king David, saying: May God make the name of Solomon greater than thy name, and make his throne greater than thy throne. And the king adored in his bed:

48 And he said: Blessed be the Lord the God of Israel, who hath given this day one to sit on my throne, my eyes seeing it.

49 Then all the guests of Adonias were afraid, and they all arose, and every man went his way.

50 And Adonias fearing Solomon, arose, and went, and took hold on the horn of the altar.

51 And they told Solomon, saying: Behold Adonias, fearing king Solomon, hath taken hold of the horn of the altar, saying: Let king Solomon swear to me this day, that he will not kill his servant with the sword.

52 And Solomon said: If he be a good man, there shall not so much as one hair of his head fall to the ground: but if evil be found in him, he shall die.

53 Then king Solomon sent, and brought him out from the altar: and going in he worshipped king Solomon: and Solomon said to him: Go to thy house.

CHAP. II.

David, after giving his last charge to Solomon, dieth. Adonias is put to death, Abiathar is banished: Joab and Semei are slain.

A. M. 2990. Ante C. 1014. AND the days of David drew nigh that he should die, and he charged his son Solomon, saying:

2 I am going the way of all flesh: take thou courage, and shew thyself a man.

3 And keep the charge of the Lord thy God, to walk in his ways, and observe his ceremonies, and his precepts, and judg-

4 That the Lord may confirm his words, which he hath spoken of me, saying: If thy children shall take heed to their ways, and shall walk before me in truth, with all their heart, and with all their soul, there shall not be taken away from thee a man on the throne of Israel.

5 Thou knowest also what Joab the son

6 Do therefore according to thy wisdom, and let not his hoary head go down to hell in peace.

7 But shew kindness to the sons of Berzellai the Galaadite, and let them eat at thy table: ‖ for they met me when I fled from the face of Absalom thy brother. ‖ 2 Kings 19. 31.

8 ‡ Thou hast also with thee Semei the son of Gera the son of Jemini of Bahurim, who cursed me with a grievous curse, when I went to the camp; but because he came down to meet me when I passed over the Jordan, and I swore to him by the Lord, saying: I will not kill thee with the sword: ‡ 2 Kings 16. 5. & 19. 19.

9 Do not thou hold him guiltless. But thou art a wise man, and knowest what to do with him, and thou shalt bring down his grey hairs with blood to hell.

11 And the days that David reigned in Israel, were forty years: in Hebron he reigned seven years, in Jerusalem thirty three. ‖ 1 Par. 29 27.

12 And Solomon sat upon the throne of his father David, and his kingdom was strengthened exceedingly.

13 And Adonias the son of Haggith came to Bethsabee the mother of Solomon. And she said to him: Is thy coming peaceable? He answered: Peaceable.

14 And he added: I have a word to speak with thee. She said to him: Speak. And he said:

15 Thou knowest that the kingdom was mine, and all Israel had preferred me to be their king: but the kingdom is transferred, and is become my brother's: for it was appointed him by the Lord.

16 Now therefore I ask one petition of thee; turn not away my face. And she said to him: Say on.

17 And he said: I pray thee speak to king Solomon (for he cannot deny thee any thing) to give me Abisag the Sunamites to wife.

18 And Bethsabee said: Well, I will speak for thee to the king.

19 Then Bethsabee came to king Solomon, to speak to him for Adonias: and the king arose to meet her, and bowed to her, and sat down upon his throne: and a throne

CHAP. II. VER. 5. Joab. These instructions given by David to his son, with relation to Joab and Semei, proceeded not from any rancour of heart, or private pique; but from a zeal for justice, that crimes so public and heinous might not pass unpunished.

VER. 6. To hell. This word hell doth not here signify the place or state of damnation; but the place and state of the dead.

was ſet for the king's mother, and ſhe ſat on his right hand.

20 And ſhe ſaid to him: I deſire one ſmall petition of thee, do not put me to confuſion. And the king ſaid to her: My mother aſk: for I muſt not turn away thy face.

21 And ſhe ſaid: Let Abiſag the Sunamiteſs be given to Adonias thy brother to wife.

22 And king Solomon anſwered, and ſaid to his mother: Why doſt thou aſk Abiſag the Sunamiteſs for Adonias? aſk for him alſo the kingdom: for he is my elder brother, and hath Abiathar the prieſt, and Joab the ſon of Sarvia.

23 Then king Solomon ſwore by the Lord, ſaying: So and ſo may God do to me, and add more, if Adonias hath not ſpoken this word againſt his own life.

24 And now as the Lord liveth, who hath eſtabliſhed me, and placed me upon the throne of David my father, and who hath made me a houſe, as he promiſed, Adonias ſhall be put to death this day.

25 And king Solomon ſent by the hand of Banaias the ſon of Joiada, who ſlew him, and he died.

26 And the king ſaid alſo to Abiathar the prieſt: Go to Anathoth to thy lands. for indeed thou art worthy of death: but I will not at this time put thee to death, becauſe thou didſt carry the ark of the Lord God before David my father, and haſt endured trouble in all the troubles my father endured.

27 So Solomon caſt out Abiathar, from being the prieſt of the Lord, ‖ that the word of the Lord might be fulfilled, which he ſpoke concerning the houſe of Heli in Silo. ‖ 1 Kings 2. 31.

28 And the news came to Joab, becauſe Joab had turned after Adonias, and had not turned after Solomon: and Joab fled into the tabernacle of the Lord, and took hold on the horn of the altar.

29 And it was told king Solomon, that Joab was fled into the tabernacle of the Lord, and was by the altar: and Solomon ſent Banaias the ſon of Joiada, ſaying: Go, kill him.

30 And Banaias came to the tabernacle of the Lord, and ſaid to him: Thus ſaith the king: Come forth. And he ſaid: I will not come forth, but here I will die. Banaias brought word back to the king, ſaying: Thus ſaith Joab, and thus he anſwered me.

31 And the king ſaid to him: Do as he hath ſaid: and kill him, and bury him, and thou ſhalt remove the innocent blood which hath been ſhed by Joab, from me, and from the houſe of my father.

32 And the Lord ſhall return his blood upon his own head, becauſe he murdered two men, juſt and better than himſelf: and ſlew them with the ſword, my father David not knowing it, ‖ Abner the ſon of Ner, general of the army of Iſrael, and Amaſa the ſon of Jether, general of the army of Juda. ‖ 2 Kings 3. 27. 2 Kings 10. 20.

33 And their blood ſhall return upon the head of Joab, and upon the head of his ſeed for ever. But to David and his ſeed and his houſe, and to his throne be peace for ever from the Lord.

34 So Banaias the ſon of Joiada went up, and ſetting upon him ſlew him, and he was buried in his houſe in the deſert.

35 And the king appointed Banaias the ſon of Joiada in his room over the army, and Sadoc the prieſt he put in the place of Abiathar.

36 The king alſo ſent, and called for Semei, and ſaid to him: Build thee a houſe in Jeruſalem, and dwell there: and go not out from thence any whither.

37 For on what day ſoever thou ſhalt go out, and ſhalt paſs over the brook Cedron, know that thou ſhalt be put to death: thy blood ſhall be upon thy own head:

38 And Semei ſaid to the king: The ſaying is good: as my lord the king hath ſaid, ſo will thy ſervant do. And Semei dwelt in Jeruſalem, many days.

39 And it came to paſs after three years, that the ſervants of Semei ran away to Achis the ſon of Maacha the king of Geth: and it was told Semei that his ſervants were gone to Geth.

40 And Semei aroſe, and ſaddled his aſs, and went to Achis to Geth to ſeek his ſervants, and he brought them out of Geth.

41 And it was told Solomon that Semei had gone from Jeruſalem to Geth, and was come back.

42 And ſending he called for him, and ſaid to him: Did I not proteſt to thee by the Lord, and tell thee before: On what day ſoever thou ſhalt go out and walk abroad any whither, know that thou ſhalt die? And thou anſweredſt me: The word that I have heard is good.

43 Why then haſt thou not kept the oath of the Lord, and the commandment that I laid upon thee?

44 And the king ſaid to Semei: Thou knoweſt all the evil, of which thy heart is conſcious, which thou didſt to David my father: the Lord hath returned thy wickedneſs upon thy own head:

45 And king Solomon ſhall be bleſſed, and the throne of David ſhall be eſtabliſhed before the Lord for ever.

46 So the king commanded Banaias the ſon of Joiada: and he went out and ſtruck him, and he died.

Solomon marrieth Pharao's daughter. He ſacrifices in Gabaon: in the choice which God gave him he preferreth wiſdom. His wiſe judgment between the two harlots.

A. M. 2991. Ante C. 1013.

‖ AND the kingdom was eſtabliſhed in the hand of Solomon, and he made affinity with Pharao the king of Egypt: for he took his daughter, and brought her into the city of David, † until he had made an end of building his own houſe, and the houſe of the Lord, and the wall of Jeruſalem round about.

‖ 2 Par. 1. 1.

† 2 Par. 8. 11.

2 But yet the people ſacrificed in the high places: for there was no temple built to the name of the Lord until that day.

3 And Solomon loved the Lord, walking in the precepts of David his father, only he ſacrificed in the high places: and burnt incenſe.

4 He went therefore to Gabaon, to ſacrifice there: for that was the great high place: a thouſand victims for holocauſts did Solomon offer upon that altar in Gabaon.

5 And the Lord appeared to Solomon in a dream by night, ſaying: Aſk what thou wilt that I ſhould give thee.

6 And Solomon ſaid: Thou haſt ſhewn great mercy to thy ſervant David my father, even as he walked before thee in truth, and juſtice, and an upright heart with thee: and thou haſt kept thy great mercy for him, and haſt given him a ſon to ſit on his throne, as it is this day.

7 And now, O Lord God, thou haſt made thy ſervant king inſtead of David my father: and I am but a child, and know not how to go out and come in.

8 And thy ſervant is in the midſt of the people which thou haſt choſen an immenſe people, which can not be numbered nor counted for multitude.

‖ 2 Par. 1. 10.

9 ‖ Give therefore to thy ſervant an underſtanding heart, to judge thy people, and diſcern between good and evil. For who ſhall be able to judge this people thy people which is ſo numerous.

10 And the word was pleaſing to the Lord that Solomon had aſked ſuch a thing.

11 And the Lord ſaid to Solomon: Becauſe thou haſt aſked this thing, and haſt not aſked for thyſelf long life nor riches, nor the lives of thy enemies, but haſt aſked for thyſelf wiſdom to diſcern judgment,

12 Behold I have done for thee according to thy words, and have given thee a wiſe and underſtanding heart, in ſo much that there hath been no one like thee before thee, nor ſhall ariſe after thee.

13 ‖ Yea and the things alſo which thou didſt not aſk, I have given thee: to wit, riches and glory, ſo that no one hath been like thee among the kings in all days heretofore.

‖ Wiſd. 7. 11. Matt. 6. 29.

14 And if thou wilt walk in my ways, and keep my precepts, and my commandments, as thy father walked, I will lengthen thy days.

15 And Solomon awaked, and perceived that it was a dream: and when he was come to Jeruſalem, he ſtood before the ark of the covenant of the Lord, and offered holocauſts, and ſacrificed victims of peace-offerings, and made a great feaſt for all his ſervants.

16 Then there came two women that were harlots, to the king, and ſtood before him:

17 And one of them ſaid: I beſeech thee, my lord, I and this woman dwelt in one houſe, and I was delivered of a child with her in the chamber.

18 And the third day, after that I was delivered, ſhe alſo was delivered, and we were together, and no other perſon with us in the houſe, only we two.

19 And this woman's child died in the night: for in her ſleep ſhe overlaid him.

20 And riſing in the dead time of the night, ſhe took my child from my ſide, while I thy handmaid was aſleep, and laid it in her boſom: and laid her dead child in my boſom.

21 And when I roſe in the morning to give my child ſuck, behold it was dead: but conſidering him more diligently when it was clear day, I found that it was not mine which I bore.

22 And the other woman anſwered: It is not ſo as thou ſayſt, but thy child is dead, and mine is alive. On the contrary ſhe ſaid: Thou lieſt: for my child liveth, and thy child is dead. And in this manner they ſtrove before the king.

CHAP. III. VER. 2. High places. That is, altars where they worſhipped the Lord, but not according to the ordinance of the law; which allowed of no other places for ſacrifice but the temple of God. Among theſe high places that of Gabaon was the chiefeſt, becauſe there was the tabernacle of the teſtimony, which had been removed from Silo to Nobe and from Nobe to Gabaon.

23 Then ſaid the king: The one ſaith, My child is alive, and thy child is dead. And the other anſwereth: Nay, but thy child is dead, and mine liveth.

24 The king therefore ſaid: Bring me a ſword. And when they had brought a ſword before the king, 25 Divide, ſaid he, the living child in two, and give half to the one, and half to the other.

26 But the woman, whoſe child was alive, ſaid to the king (for her bowels were moved upon her child) I beſeech thee, my lord, give her the child alive, and do not kill it. But the other ſaid: Let it be neither mine nor thine, but divide it.

27 The king anſwered, and ſaid: Give the living child to this woman, and let it not be killed, for ſhe is the mother thereof.

28 And all Iſrael heard the judgment which the king had judged, and they feared the king, ſeeing that the wiſdom of God was in him to do judgment.

CHAP. IV.

Solomon's chief officers. His riches and wiſdom.

AND king Solomon reigned over all Iſrael:

2 And theſe were the princes which he had: Azarias the ſon of Sadoc the prieſt:

3 Elihoreph, and Ahia, the ſons of Siſa, ſcribes: Joſaphat the ſon of Ahilud, recorder:

4 Banaias the ſon of Joiada, over the army: and Sadoc, and Abiathar prieſts.

5 Azarias the ſon of Nathan, over them that were about the king: Zabud the ſon of Nathan prieſt, the king's friend:

6 And Ahiſar governor of the houſe: and Adoniram the ſon of Abda over the tribute.

7 And Solomon had twelve governors over all Iſrael, who provided victuals for the king and for his houſhold: for every one provided neceſſaries, each man his month in the year.

8 And theſe are their names: Benhur, in mount Ephraim.

9 Bendecar, in Macces, and in Salebim, and in Bethſames, and in Elon, and in Bethanan.

10 Benheſed in Aruboth: his was Socho, and all the land of Epher.

11 Benabinadab, to whom belonged all Nephath-Dor, he had Tapheth the daughter of Solomon to wife.

13 Bengaber in Ramoth Galaad: he had the towns of Jair the ſon of Manaſſes in Galaad, he was chief in all the country of Argob, which is in Baſan, threeſcore great cities with walls, and brazen bolts.

14 Ahinadab the ſon of Addo was chief in Manaim.

15 Achimaas in Nephtali: he alſo had Baſemath the daughter of Solomon to wife.

16 Baana the ſon of Huſi, in Aſer and in Baloth.

17 Joſaphat the ſon of Pharue, in Iſſachar.

18 Semei the ſon of Ela in Benjamin.

19 Gaber the ſon of Uri, in the land of Galaad, in the land of Sehon the king of the Amorrhites and of Og the king of Baſan, over all that were in that land.

20 Juda and Iſrael were innumerable, as the ſand of the ſea in multitude: eating and drinking, and rejoicing.

23 Ten fat oxen and twenty out of the paſtures, and a hundred rams, beſides veniſon of harts, roes, and buffles, and fatted fowls.

24 For he had all the country which was beyond the river, from Thaphſa to Gazan, and all the kings of thoſe countries: and he had peace on every ſide round about.

25 And Juda and Iſrael dwelt without any fear, every one under his vine, and under his fig-tree, from Dan to Berſabee, all the days of Solomon.

26 ‖ And Solomon had forty thouſand ſtalls of chariot horſes, and twelve thouſand for the ſaddle. ‖ 2 Par. 9. 25.

31 ‖ And he was wiser than all men: wiser than Ethan the Ezrahite, and Heman, and Chalcol, and Dorda the sons of Mahol, and he was renowned in all nations round about. ‖ Eccli. 47. 16.

32 Solomon also spoke three thousand parables: and his poems were a thousand and five.

33 And he treated about trees from the cedar that is in Libanus, unto the hyssop that cometh out of the wall: and he discoursed of beasts, and of fowls, and of creeping things, and of fishes.

Hiram king of Tyre agreeth to furnish timber and workmen for building the temple: the number of workmen and overseers.

A. M. 2992. Ante C. 1012.

AND Hiram king of Tyre sent his servants to Solomon: for he heard that they had anointed him king in the room of his father: for Hiram had always been David's friend.

2 And Solomon sent to Hiram, saying:

3 Thou knowest the will of David my father, and that he could not build a house to the name of the Lord his God, because of the wars that were round about him, until the Lord put them under the soles of his feet.

4 But now the Lord my God hath given me rest round about: and there is no adversary nor evil occurrence.

5 Wherefore I purpose to build a temple to the name of the Lord my God, as the Lord spoke to David my father, saying: ‖ Thy son, whom I will set upon the throne in thy place, he shall build a house to my name. ‖ 2 Kings 7. 13. 1 Par. 22. 10.

6 Give orders therefore that thy servants cut me down cedar trees out of Libanus, and let my servants be with thy servants: and I will give thee the hire of thy servants whatsoever thou wilt ask, for thou knowest how there is not among my people a man that has skill to hew wood like to the Sidonians.

7 Now when Hiram had heard the words of Solomon, he rejoiced exceedingly, and said: Blessed be the Lord God this day, who hath given to David a very wise son over this numerous people.

8 And Hiram sent to Solomon, saying: I have heard all thou hast desired of me: and I will do all thy desire concerning cedar trees, and fir trees.

9 My servants shall bring them down from Libanus to the sea: and I will put them together in floats in the sea, and convey them to the place, which thou shalt signify to me; and will land them there, and thou shalt receive them: and thou shalt allow me necessaries, to furnish food for my household.

10 So Hiram gave Solomon cedar trees, and fir trees, according to all his desire.

11 And Solomon allowed Hiram twenty thousand measures of wheat, for provision for his house, and twenty measures of the purest oil: thus gave Solomon to Hiram every year.

12 ‖ And the Lord gave wisdom to Solomon, as he promised him: and there was peace between Hiram and Solomon, and they two made a league together. ‖ Supra 3. 12.

13 And king Solomon chose workmen out of all Israel, and the levy was of thirty thousand men.

14 And he sent them to Libanus, ten thousand every month by turns, so that two months they were at home: and Adoniram was over this levy.

15 And Solomon had seventy thousand to carry burdens, and eighty thousand to hew stones in the mountain:

16 Besides the overseers who were over every work, in number three thousand, and three hundred that ruled over the people, and them that did the work.

17 And the king commanded, that they should bring great stones, costly stones, for the foundation of the temple, and should square them:

18 And the masons of Solomon, and the masons of Hiram hewed them: and the Giblians prepared timber and stones to build the house.

CHAP. VI.

The building of Solomon's temple.

A. M. 2992. Ante C. 1012.

‖ AND it came to pass in the four hundred and eightieth year after the children of Israel came out of the land of Egypt, ‖ 2 Par. 3. 1.

VER. 32. Three thousand parables, &c. These works are all lost, excepting some part of the parables extant in the book of Proverbs; and his chief poem called the Canticle of Canticles.

in the fourth year of the reign of Solomon over Iſrael, in the month Zio (the ſame is the ſecond month,) he began to build a houſe to the Lord.

2 And the houſe, which king Solomon built to the Lord, was threeſcore cubits in length, and twenty cubits in breadth, and thirty cubits in height.

3 And there was a porch before the temple of twenty cubits in length, according to the meaſure of the breadth of the temple: and it was ten cubits in breadth before the face of the temple.

4 And he made in the temple oblique windows.

5 And upon the wall of the temple he built floors round about, in the walls of the houſe round about the temple and the oracle, and he made ſides round about.

6 The floor that was underneath, was five cubits in breadth, and the middle floor was ſix cubits in breadth, and the third floor was ſeven cubits in breadth. And he put beams in the houſe round about on the outſide, that they might not be faſtened in the walls of the temple.

7 And the houſe when it was in building, was built of ſtones hewed and made ready: ſo that there was neither hammer nor ax nor any tool of iron heard in the houſe when it was in building.

8 The door for the middle ſide was on the right hand of the houſe: and by winding ſtairs they went up to the middle room, and from the middle to the third.

9 So he built the houſe, and finiſhed it: and he covered the houſe with roofs of cedar.

10 And he built a floor over all the houſe five cubits in height, and he covered the houſe with timber of cedar.

11 And the word of the Lord came to Solomon, ſaying:

12 This houſe, which thou buildeſt, if thou wilt walk in my ſtatutes, and execute my judgments, and keep all my commandments, walking in them, I will fulfil
‖ 2 Kings 7. 16. my word to thee, ‖ which I ſpoke to David thy father.

‖ 1 Par. 22. 9. 13 ‖ And I will dwell in the midſt of the children of Iſrael, and will not forſake my people Iſrael.

14 So Solomon built the houſe, and finiſhed it.

15 And he built the walls of the houſe on the inſide, with boards of cedar, from the floor of the houſe to the top of the walls, and to the roofs, he covered it with boards of cedar on the inſide: and he covered the floor of the houſe with planks of fir.

16 And he built up twenty cubits with boards of cedar at the hinder part of the temple, from the floor to the top: and made the inner houſe of the oracle to be the Holy of Holies.

17 And the temple itſelf before the doors of the oracle was forty cubits long.

18 And all the houſe was covered within with cedar, having the turnings, and the joints thereof artfully wrought and carvings projecting out: all was covered with boards of cedar: and no ſtone could be ſeen in the wall at all.

19 And he made the oracle in the midſt of the houſe, in the inner part, to ſet there the ark of the covenant of the Lord.

20 Now the oracle was twenty cubits in length, and twenty cubits in breadth, and twenty cubits in height. And he covered and overlaid it with moſt pure gold. And the altar alſo he covered with cedar.

21 And the houſe before the oracle he overlaid with moſt pure gold, and faſtened on the plates with nails of gold.

22 And there was nothing in the temple that was not covered with gold: the whole altar of the oracle he covered alſo with gold.

23 And he made in the oracle two cherubims of olive-tree, of ten cubits in height.

24 One wing of the cherub was five cubits, and the other wing of the cherub was five cubits: that is, in all ten cubits, from the extremity of one wing to the extremity of the other wing.

25 The ſecond cherub alſo was ten cubits: and the meaſure, and the work was the ſame in both the cherubims:

26 That is to ſay, one cherub was ten cubits high, and in like manner the other cherub.

27 And he ſet the cherubims in the midſt of the inner temple: and the cherubims ſtretched forth their wings, and the wing of the one touched one wall, and the wing of the other cherub touched the other wall: and the other wings in the midſt of the temple touched one another.

28 And he overlaid the cherubims with gold.

29 And all the walls of the temple round about he carved with divers figures and carvings: and he made in them cherubims and palm trees, and divers repreſentations, as it were ſtanding out, and coming forth from the wall.

30 And the floor of the houſe he alſo overlaid with gold within and without.

31 And in the entrance of the oracle he made little doors of olive tree, and poſts of five corners.

32 And two doors of olive tree: and he carved upon them figures of cherubims, and figures of palm trees, and carvings very much projecting; and he overlaid them with gold: and he covered both the cherubims and the palm-trees, and the other things with gold.

33 And he made in the entrance of the temple poſts of olive-tree four-ſquare:

34 And two doors of fir-tree, one of each ſide: and each door was double, and ſo opened with folding leaves.

35 And he carved cherubims, and palm-trees, and carved work ſtanding very much out: and he overlaid all with golden plates in ſquare work by rule.

36 And he built the inner court with three rows of poliſhed ſtones, and one row of beams of cedar.

37 In the fourth year was the houſe of the Lord founded in the month Zio:

38 And in the eleventh year in the month Bul (which is the eighth month) the houſe was finiſhed in all the works thereof, and in all the appurtenances thereof: and he was ſeven years in building it.

Solomon's palace, his houſe in the foreſt, and the queen's houſe: the work of the two pillars: the ſea (or laver) and other veſſels.

A. M. 3000. Ante C. 1004.

AND Solomon built his own houſe in † thirteen years, and brought it to perfection.

† Supra 6. 38. & Infra 9. 10.

2 He built alſo the houſe of the foreſt of Libanus, the length of it was a hundred cubits, and the breadth fifty cubits, and the height thirty cubits: and four galleries between pillars of cedar: for he had cut cedar-trees into pillars.

3 And he covered the whole vault with boards of cedar, and it was held up with five and forty pillars. And one row had fifteen pillars,

4 Set one againſt another,

5 And looking one upon another, with equal ſpace between the pillars, and over the pillars were ſquare beams in all things equal.

6 And he made a porch of pillars of fifty cubits in length, and thirty cubits in breadth: and another porch before the greater porch: and pillars, and chapiters upon the pillars.

7 He made alſo the porch of the throne, wherein is the ſeat of judgment; and covered it with cedar-wood from the floor to the top.

8 And in the midſt of the porch, was a ſmall houſe where he ſat in judgment, of the like work. He made alſo a houſe for the daughter of Pharao (‖ whom Solomon had taken to wife) of the ſame work, as this porch. ‖ Supra 3. 1.

9 All of coſtly ſtones, which were ſawed by a certain rule and meaſure both within and without: from the foundation to the top of the walls, and without unto the great court.

10 And the foundations were of coſtly ſtones, great ſtones of ten cubits or eight cubits:

11 And above there were coſtly ſtones of equal meaſure hewed, and in like manner of cedar:

12 And the greater court round with three rows of hewed ſtones, and one row of planed cedar, moreover alſo in the inner court of the houſe of the Lord, and in the porch of the houſe.

13 And king Solomon ſent, and brought Hiram from Tyre,

14 The ſon of a widow-woman of the tribe of Nephtali, whoſe father was a Tyrian, an artificer in braſs, and full of wiſdom, and underſtanding, and ſkill to work all work in braſs. And when he was come to king Solomon, he wrought all his work.

15 And he caſt two pillars in braſs, each pillar was eighteen cubits high: ‖ and a line of twelve cubits compaſſed both the pillars. ‖ Jerem. 52. 21.

16 He made alſo two chapiters of molten braſs, to be ſet upon the tops of the pillars: the height of one chapiter was five cubits, and the height of the other chapiter was five cubits:

17 And a kind of net-work, and chain-work wreathed together with wonderful art. Both the chapiters of the pillars were caſt: ſeven rows of nets were on one chapiter, and ſeven nets on the other chapiter.

18 And he made the pillars, and two rows round about each net-work to cover the chapiters, that were upon the top, with pomegranates: and in like manner did he to the other chapiter.

19 And the chapiters that were upon the top of the pillars, were of lily-work, in the porch, of four cubits.

20 And again other chapiters in the top of the pillars above, according to the meaſure of the pillar over-againſt the net-work: and of pomegranates there were two hundred in rows round about the other chapiter.

21 And he ſet up the two pillars in the porch of the temple: and when he had ſet up the pillar on the right hand, he called the name thereof Jachin: in like manner he ſet up the ſecond pillar, and called the name thereof Booz.

22 And upon the tops of the pillars he made lily-work: ſo the work of the pillars was finiſhed.

‖ 2 Par. 4. 2. 23 ‖ He made alſo a molten ſea of ten cubits from brim to brim, round all about, the height of it was five cubits, and a line of thirty cubits compaſſed it round about.

24 And a graven work under the brim of it compaſſed it, for ten cubits going about the ſea: there were two rows caſt of chamfered ſculptures.

25 And it ſtood upon twelve oxen, of which three looked towards the north, and three towards the weſt, and three towards the ſouth, and three towards the eaſt, and the ſea was above upon them, and their hinder parts were all hid within.

26 And the laver was a hand breadth thick: and the brim thereof was like the brim of a cup, or the leaf of a criſped lily: it contained two thouſand bates.

27 And he made ten baſes of braſs, every baſe was four cubits in length, and four cubits in breadth, and three cubits high.

28 And the work itſelf of the baſes, was intergraven: and there were gravings between the joinings.

29 And between the little crowns and the ledges were lions, and oxen, and cherubims: and in the joinings likewiſe above: and under the lions, and oxen as it were bands of braſs hanging down.

30 And every baſe had four wheels, and axletrees of braſs: and at the four ſides were underſetters under the laver molten, looking one againſt another.

31 The mouth alſo of the laver within, was in the top of the chapiter: and that which appeared without, was of one cubit all round, and together it was one cubit and a half: and in the corners of the pillars were divers engravings: and the ſpaces between the pillars were ſquare, not round.

32 And the four wheels, which were at the four corners of the baſe, were joined one to another under the baſe: the height of a wheel was a cubit and a half.

33 And they were ſuch wheels as are uſed to be made in a chariot: and their axletrees, and ſpokes, and ſtrakes, and naves, were all caſt.

34 And the four underſetters that were at every corner of each baſe, were of the baſe itſelf caſt and joined together.

35 And in the top of the baſe there was a round compaſs of half a cubit, ſo wrought that the laver might be ſet thereon, having its gravings, and divers ſculptures of itſelf.

36 He engraved alſo in thoſe plates, which were of braſs, and in the corners, cherubims, and lions, and palm-trees, in likeneſs of a man ſtanding, ſo that they ſeemed not to be engraven, but added round about.

37 After this manner he made ten baſes, of one caſting and meaſure, and the like graving.

38 He made alſo ten lavers of braſs: one laver contained four baſes, and was of four cubits: and upon every baſe, in all ten, he put as many lavers.

39 And he ſet the ten baſes, five on the right ſide of the temple, and five on the left: and the ſea he put on the right ſide of the temple over-againſt the eaſt ſouthward.

40 And Hiram made cauldrons, and ſhovels, and baſins, and finiſhed all the work of king Solomon in the temple of the Lord.

41 The two pillars and the two cords of the chapiters, upon the chapiters of the pillars: and the two net-works, to cover the two cords, that were upon the top of the pillars.

42 And four hundred pomegranates for the two net-works: two rows of pomegranates for each net-work, to cover the cords of the chapiters, which were upon the tops of the pillars.

43 And the ten baſes, and the ten lavers on the baſes.

44 And one ſea, and twelve oxen under the ſea.

45 And the cauldrons, and the ſhovels, and the baſins. All the veſſels that Hiram made for king Solomon for the houſe of the Lord, were of fine braſs.

46 In the plains of the Jordan did the king caſt them in a clay ground, between Socoth and Sarthan.

47 And Solomon placed all the veſſels: but for exceeding great multitude the braſs could not be weighed.

48 And Solomon made all the veſſels for the houſe of the Lord: the altar of gold, and the table of gold, upon which the loaves of propoſition ſhould be ſet:

49 And the golden candleſticks, five on the right hand, and five on the left, over-againſt the oracle, of pure gold: and the flowers like lilies, and the lamps over them of gold: and golden ſnuffers,

50 And pots, and fleſh-hooks, and bowls, and mortars, and cenſers, of moſt pure gold: and the hinges for the doors of the inner houſe of the holy of holies, and for the doors of the houſe of the temple were of gold.

‖ 2 Par. 5. 1. 51 ‖ And Solomon finiſhed all the work that he made in the houſe of the Lord, and brought in the things that David his father had dedicated, the ſilver and the gold, and the veſſels, and laid them up in the treaſures of the houſe of the Lord.

CHAP. VIII.

The dedication of the temple: Solomon's prayer and ſacrifices.

A. M. 3001. Ante C. 1003. ‖ 2 Par. 5. 2. ‖ THEN all the ancients of Iſrael with the princes of the tribes, and the heads of the families of the children of Iſrael were aſſembled to king Solomon in Jeruſalem: that they might carry the ark of the covenant of the Lord out of the city of David, that is, out of Sion.

2 And all Iſrael aſſembled themſelves to king Solomon on the feſtival day in the month of Ethanim, the ſame is the ſeventh month.

3 And all the ancients of Iſrael came, and the prieſts took up the ark,

4 And carried the ark of the Lord, and the tabernacle of the covenant, and all the veſſels of the ſanctuary, that were in the tabernacle: and the prieſts and the levites carried them.

5 And king Solomon, and all the multitude of Iſrael, that were aſſembled unto him, went with him before the ark, and they ſacrificed ſheep and oxen that could not be counted or numbered.

6 And the prieſts brought in the ark of the covenant of the Lord into its place, into the oracle of the temple, into the holy of holies under the wings of the cherubims.

7 For the cherubims ſpread forth their wings over the place of the ark, and covered the ark, and the ſtaves thereof above.

8 And whereas the ſtaves ſtood out, the ends of them were ſeen without in the ſanctuary before the oracle, but were not ſeen farther out, and there they have been unto this day.

9 Now in the ark there was nothing elſe ‖ but the two tables of ſtone, which Moſes put there at Horeb, when the Lord made a covenant with the children of Iſrael, when they came out of the land of Egypt. ‖ Exod. 34. 27. ‖ Heb. 9. 4.

10 And it came to paſs, when the prieſts were come out of the ſanctuary, that a cloud filled the houſe of the Lord,

11 And the prieſts could not ſtand to miniſter becauſe of the cloud: for the glory of the Lord had filled the houſe of the Lord.

12 Then Solomon ſaid: ‖ The Lord ſaid that he would dwell in a cloud. ‖ 2 Par. 6. 1.

13 Building I have built a houſe for thy dwelling, to be thy moſt firm throne for ever.

14 And the king turned his face, and bleſſed all the aſſembly of Iſrael: for all the aſſembly of Iſrael ſtood.

15 And Solomon ſaid: Bleſſed be the Lord the God of Iſrael, who ſpoke with his mouth to David my father, and with his own hands hath accompliſhed it, ſaying:

16 Since the day that I brought my people Iſrael out of Egypt, I choſe no city out of all the tribes of Iſrael, for a houſe to be built, that my name might be there: but I choſe David to be over my people Iſrael.

17 ‖ And David my father would have built a houſe to the name of the Lord the God of Iſrael: ‖ 2 Kings 7. 5.

18 And the Lord ſaid to David my father: Whereas thou haſt taught in thy heart to build a houſe to my name, thou haſt done well in having this ſame thing in thy mind.

19 Nevertheleſs thou ſhalt not build me a houſe, but thy ſon, that ſhall come forth out of thy loins, he ſhall build a houſe to my name.

20 The Lord hath performed his word which he ſpoke: and I ſtand in the room of David my father, and ſit upon the throne of Iſrael, as the Lord promiſed: and have built a houſe to the name of the Lord the God of Iſrael.

CHAP. VIII. VER. 9. Nothing elſe, &c. There was nothing elſe but the tables of the law within the ark. But on the outſide of the ark, or near the ark, were alſo the rod of Aaron, and a golden urn with manna. Heb. ix. 4.

21 And I have ſet there a place for the ark, wherein is the covenant of the Lord, which he made with our fathers, when they came out of the land of Egypt.

22 And Solomon ſtood before the altar of the Lord in the ſight of the aſſembly of Iſrael, and ſpread forth his hands towards heaven.

23 And ſaid: Lord God of Iſrael, there is no God like thee in heaven above, or on earth beneath: who keepeſt covenant and mercy with thy ſervants that have walked before thee with all their heart.

24 Who haſt kept with thy ſervant David my father what thou haſt promiſed him: with thy mouth thou didſt ſpeak, and with thy hands thou haſt performed, as this day proveth.

25 Now therefore, O Lord God of Iſrael, keep with thy ſervant David my father what thou haſt ſpoken to him, ſaying: ‖ There ſhall not be taken away of thee a man in my ſight, to ſit on the throne of Iſrael: yet ſo that thy children take heed to their way, that they walk before me as thou haſt walked in my ſight.

‖ 2 Kings 7. 12.

26 And now, Lord God of Iſrael, let thy words be eſtabliſhed, which thou haſt ſpoken to thy ſervant David my father.

27 Is it then to be thought that God ſhould indeed dwell upon earth? for if heaven, and the heavens of heavens cannot contain thee, how much leſs this houſe which I have built?

28 But have regard to the prayer of thy ſervant, and to his ſupplications, O Lord my God: hear the hymn and the prayer, which thy ſervant prayeth before thee this day:

29 That thy eyes may be open upon this houſe night and day: upon the houſe of which thou haſt ſaid: ‖ My name ſhall be there: that thou mayſt hearken to the prayer, which thy ſervant prayeth in this place to thee.

‖ Deut. 12. 11.

30 That thou mayeſt hearken to the ſupplication of thy ſervant and of thy people Iſrael, whatſoever they ſhall pray for in this place, and hear them in the place of thy dwelling in heaven; and when thou heareſt, ſhew them mercy.

31 If any man treſpaſs againſt his neighbour, and have an oath upon him, wherewith he is bound: and come becauſe of the oath before thy altar to thy houſe,

32 Then hear thou in heaven: and do, and judge thy ſervants, condemning the wicked, and bringing his way upon his own head, and juſtifying the juſt, and rewarding him according to his juſtice.

33 If thy people Iſrael ſhall fly before their enemies (becauſe they will ſin againſt thee) and doing penance, and confeſſing to thy name, ſhall come, and pray, and make ſupplications to thee in this houſe:

34 Then hear thou in heaven, and forgive the ſin of thy people Iſrael, and bring them back to the land which thou gaveſt to their fathers.

35 If heaven ſhall be ſhut up, and there ſhall be no rain, becauſe of their ſins, and they praying in this place, ſhall do penance to thy name, and ſhall be converted from their ſins, by occaſion of their afflictions:

36 Then hear thou them in heaven, and forgive the ſins of thy ſervants, and of thy people Iſrael: and ſhew them the good way wherein they ſhould walk, and give rain upon thy land, which thou haſt given to thy people in poſſeſſion.

37 If a famine ariſe in the land, or a peſtilence, or corrupt air, or blaſting, or locuſt, or mildew, if their enemy afflict them beſieging the gates, whatſoever plague, whatſoever infirmity,

38 Whatſoever curſe or imprecation ſhall happen to any man of thy people Iſrael: when a man ſhall know the wound of his own heart, and ſhall ſpread forth his hands in this houſe,

39 Then hear thou in heaven, in the place of thy dwelling, and forgive, and do ſo as to give to every one according to his ways, as thou ſhalt ſee his heart (for thou only knoweſt the heart of all the children of men)

40 That they may fear thee all the days that they live upon the face of the land, which thou haſt given to our fathers.

41 Moreover alſo the ſtranger, who is not of thy people Iſrael, when he ſhall come out of a far country for thy name's ſake, (for they ſhall hear every where of thy great name and thy mighty hand, 42 And thy ſtretched out arm) ſo when he ſhall come, and ſhall pray in this place,

43 Then hear thou in heaven, in the firmament of thy dwelling-place, and do all thoſe things, for which that ſtranger ſhall call upon thee: that all the people of the earth may learn to fear thy name, as do thy people Iſrael, and may prove that thy name is called upon on this houſe, which I have built.

44 If thy people go out to war againſt their enemies, by what way ſoever thou ſhalt ſend them, they ſhall pray to thee towards the way of the city, which thou haſt choſen, and towards the houſe, which I have built to thy name:

45 And then hear thou in heaven their prayers, and their ſupplications, and do judgment for them.

|| 2 Par. 6. 36. Eccle. 7. 21. 1 John 1. 8.

46 But if they ſin againſt thee (|| for there is no man who ſinneth not) and thou being angry deliver them up to their enemies, ſo that they be led away captives into the land of their enemies far or near,

47 Then if they do penance in their heart in the place of captivity, and being converted make ſupplication to thee in their captivity, ſaying: We have ſinned, we have done unjuſtly, we have committed wickedneſs:

48 And return to thee with all their heart, and all their ſoul, in the land of their enemies, to which they have been led captives: and pray to thee towards the way of their land, which thou gaveſt to their fathers, and of the city which thou haſt choſen, and of the temple which I have built to thy name:

49 Then hear thou in heaven, in the firmament of thy throne, their prayers, and their ſupplications, and do judgment for them:

50 And forgive thy people, that have ſinned againſt thee, and all their iniquities, by which they have tranſgreſſed againſt thee: and give them mercy before them that have made them captives, that they may have compaſſion on them.

51 For they are thy people, and thy inheritance, whom thou haſt brought out of the land of Egypt, from the midſt of the furnace of iron.

52 That thy eyes may be open to the ſupplication of thy ſervant, and of thy people Iſrael, to hear them in all things for which they ſhall call upon thee.

53 For thou haſt ſeparated them to thyſelf for an inheritance from among all the people of the earth, as thou haſt ſpoken by Moſes thy ſervant, when thou broughteſt our fathers out of Egypt, O Lord God.

54 And it came to paſs, when Solomon had made an end of praying all this prayer and ſupplication to the Lord, that he roſe from before the altar of the Lord: for he had fixed both knees on the ground, and had ſpread his hands towards heaven.

55 And he ſtood and bleſſed all the aſſembly of Iſrael with a loud voice, ſaying:

56 Bleſſed be the Lord, who hath given reſt to his people Iſrael, according to all that he promiſed: there hath not failed ſo much as one word of all the good things that he promiſed by his ſervant Moſes.

57 The Lord our God be with us, as he was with our fathers, and not leave us, nor caſt us off:

58 But may he incline our hearts to himſelf, that we may walk in all his ways, and keep his commandments, and his ceremonies, and all his judgments which he commanded our fathers.

59 And let theſe my words, wherewith I have prayed before the Lord, be nigh unto the Lord our God day and night, that he may do judgment for his ſervant, and for his people Iſrael day by day:

60 That all the people of the earth may know, that the Lord he is God, and there is no other beſides him.

61 Let our hearts alſo be perfect with the Lord our God, that we may walk in his ſtatutes, and keep his commandments, as at this day.

62 And the king, and all Iſrael with him, offered victims before the Lord.

63 And Solomon ſlew victims of peace-offerings, which he ſacrificed to the Lord, two and twenty thouſand oxen, and a hundred and twenty thouſand ſheep: ſo the king, and the children of Iſrael dedicated the temple of the Lord.

64 In that day the king ſanctified the middle of the court, that was before the houſe of the Lord: for there he offered the holocauſt, and ſacrifice, and fat of the peace-offerings: becauſe the brazen altar that was before the Lord, was too little to receive the holocauſt, and ſacrifice, and fat of the peace-offerings.

65 And Solomon made at the ſame time a ſolemn feaſt, and all Iſrael with him, a great multitude from the entrance of Emath to the river of Egypt, before the Lord our God, ſeven days and ſeven days, that is, fourteen days.

66 And on the eighth day he ſent away the people: and they bleſſed the king, and went to their dwellings rejoicing, and glad in heart for all the good things that the Lord had done for David his ſervant, and for Iſrael his people.

CHAP. IX.

The Lord appeareth again to Solomon: he buildeth cities: he ſendeth a fleet to Ophir.

AND it came to paſs when Solomon had finiſhed the building of the houſe of the Lord, and the king's houſe, and all that he deſired and was pleaſed to do,

2 That the Lord appeared to him the ſecond time, || as he had appeared to him in Gabaon.

|| Supra 3. 5. 2 Par. 7. 12.

3 And the Lord ſaid to him: I have heard thy prayer and thy ſupplication, which thou haſt made before me: I have ſanctified this houſe, which thou haſt built, to put my name there for ever, and my eyes and my heart ſhall be there always.

4 And if thou wilt walk before me, as thy father walked, in ſimplicity of heart, and in uprightneſs: and wilt do all that I have commanded thee, and wilt keep my ordinances and my judgments, 2Kings 7. 12. & 16. 5 ‖ I will eſtabliſh the throne of thy kingdom over Iſrael for ever, as I promiſed David thy father, ſaying: There ſhall not fail a man of thy race upon the throne of Iſrael.

6 But if you and your children revolting ſhall turn away from following me, and will not keep my commandments, and my ceremonies, which I have ſet before you, but will go and worſhip ſtrange gods, and adore them:

7 I will take away Iſrael from the face of the land which I have given them, and the temple which I have ſanctified to my name, I will caſt out of my ſight, and Iſrael ſhall be a proverb, and a bye-word among all people.

8 And this houſe ſhall be made an example of: every one that ſhall paſs by it, ſhall be aſtoniſhed, and ſhall hiſs, and ſay: ‖ Why hath the Lord done thus to this land, and to this houſe?

‖ Deut. 29. 24. Jerom. 22. 8.

9 And they ſhall anſwer: Becauſe they forſook the Lord their God, who brought their fathers out of the land of Egypt, and followed ſtrange gods, and adored them, and worſhipped them: therefore hath the Lord brought upon them all this evil.

‖ 2 Par. 8. 1. 10 ‖ And when twenty years were ended, after Solomon had built the two houſes, that is, the houſe of the Lord, and the houſe of the king,

11 (Hiram the king of Tyre furniſhing Solomon with cedar-trees and fir-trees, and gold according to all he had need of) then Solomon gave Hiram twenty cities in the land of Galilee.

12 And Hiram came out of Tyre, to ſee the towns which Solomon had given him, and they pleaſed him not,

13 And he ſaid: Are theſe the cities which thou haſt given me, brother? And he called them the land of Chabul, unto this day.

14 And Hiram ſent to king Solomon a hundred and twenty talents of gold.

15 This is the ſum of the expences, which king Solomon offered to build the houſe of the Lord, and his own houſe, and Mello, and the wall of Jeruſalem, and Heſer, and Mageddo, and Gazer.

16 Pharao the king of Egypt came up and took Gazer, and burnt it with fire: and ſlew the Chananite that dwelt in the city, and gave it for a dowry to his daughter Solomon's wife.

17 So Solomon built Gazer, and Bethhoron the nether,

18 And Baalath, and Palmira in the land of the wilderneſs.

19 And all the towns that belonged to himſelf, and were not walled, he fortified, the cities alſo of the chariots, and the cities of the horſemen, and whatſoever he had a mind to build in Jeruſalem, and in Libanus, and in all the land of his dominion.

20 All the people that were left of the Amorrhites, and Hethites, and Pherezites, and Hevites, and Jebuſites, that are not of the children of Iſrael:

21 Their children, that were left in the land, to wit, ſuch as the children of Iſrael had not been able to deſtroy: Solomon made tributary unto this day.

22 But of the children of Iſrael Solomon made not any to be bond-men, but they were men of war, and his ſervants, and his princes, and captains, and overſeers of the chariots and horſes.

23 And there were five hundred and fifty chief officers ſet over all the works of Solomon, and they had people under them, and had charge over the appointed works.

‖ 2 Par. 8. 11. 24 ‖ And the daughter of Pharao came up out of the city of David to her houſe, which Solomon had built for her: then did he build Mello.

25 Solomon alſo offered three times every year holocauſts, and victims of peace-offerings upon the altar which he had built to the Lord, and he burnt incenſe before the Lord: and the temple was finiſhed.

26 And king Solomon made a fleet in Aſiongaber, which is by Ailath on the ſhore of the Red ſea in the land of Edom.

27 And Hiram ſent his ſervants in the fleet, ſailors that had knowledge of the ſea, with the ſervants of Solomon.

28 And they came to Ophir, and they brought from thence to king Solomon four hundred and twenty talents of gold.

CHAP. X.

The queen of Saba cometh to king Solomon: his riches and glory.

‖ 2 Par. 9. 1. Mat. 12. 42. Luke 11. 31. ‖ AND the queen of Saba, having heard of the fame of Solomon in the name of the Lord, came to try him with hard queſtions.

CHAP. IX. VER. 4. As thy father walked in ſimplicity of heart. That is, in the ſincerity and integrity of a ſingle heart, as oppoſite to all double dealing and deceit.

VER. 13. Chabul. That is, dirty or diſpleaſing.

2 And entering into Jeruſalem with a great train, and riches, and camels that carried ſpices, and an immenſe quantity of gold, and precious ſtones, ſhe came to king Solomon, and ſpoke to him all that ſhe had in her heart.

3 And Solomon informed her of all the things ſhe propoſed to him: there was not any word the king was ignorant of, and which he could not anſwer her.

4 And when the queen of Saba ſaw all the wiſdom of Solomon, and the houſe which he had built,

5 And the meat of his table, and the apartments of his ſervants, and the order of his miniſters, and their apparel, and the cupbearers, and the holocauſts, which he offered in the houſe of the Lord: ſhe had no longer any ſpirit in her,

6 And ſhe ſaid to the king: The report is true, which I heard in my own country,

7 Concerning thy words, and concerning thy wiſdom. And I did not believe them that told me, till I came myſelf, and ſaw with my own eyes, and have found that the half hath not been told me: thy wiſdom, and thy works, exceed the fame which I heard.

8 Bleſſed are thy men, and bleſſed are thy ſervants, who ſtand before thee always, and hear thy wiſdom.

9 Bleſſed be the Lord thy God, whom thou haſt pleaſed, and who hath ſet thee upon the throne of Iſrael, becauſe the Lord hath loved Iſrael for ever, and hath appointed thee king, to do judgment and juſtice.

‖ 2 Par. 9. 9. 10 ‖ And ſhe gave the king a hundred and twenty talents of gold, and of ſpices a very great ſtore, and precious ſtones: there was brought no more ſuch abundance of ſpices as theſe which the queen of Saba gave to king Solomon.

‖ 2 Par. 9. 10. 11 (‖ The navy alſo of Hiram, which brought gold from Ophir, brought from Ophir great plenty of thyine-trees, and precious ſtones.

12 And the king made of the thyine-trees the rails of the houſe of the Lord, and of the king's houſe, and citterns and harps for ſingers: there were no ſuch thyine-trees as theſe brought, nor ſeen unto this day.)

13 And king Solomon gave the queen of Saba all that ſhe deſired, and aſked of him: beſides what he offered her of himſelf of his royal bounty. And ſhe returned, and went to her own country with her ſervants.

14 And the weight of the gold that was brought to Solomon every year, was ſix hundred ſixty ſix talents of gold:

15 Beſides that which the men brought him that were over the tributes, and the merchants, and they that ſold by retail, and all the kings of Arabia, and the governors of the country.

16 And Solomon made two hundred ſhields of the pureſt gold: he allowed ſix hundred ſicles of gold for the plates of one ſhield.

17 And three hundred targets of fine gold: three hundred pounds of gold covered one target: and the king put them in the houſe of the foreſt of Libanus.

18 King Solomon alſo made a great throne of ivory: and overlaid it with the fineſt gold.

19 It had ſix ſteps: and the top of the throne was round behind: and there were two hands on either ſide holding the ſeat: and two lions ſtood, one at each hand.

20 And twelve little lions ſtood upon the ſix ſteps on the one ſide and on the other: there was no ſuch work made in any kingdom.

21 Moreover all the veſſels, out of which king Solomon drank, were of gold: and all the furniture of the houſe of the foreſt of Libanus was of moſt pure gold: there was no ſilver, nor was any account made of it in the days of Solomon:

22 For the king's navy, once in three years, went with the navy of Hiram by ſea to Tharſis, and brought from thence gold, and ſilver, and elephants teeth, and apes, and peacocks.

23 And king Solomon exceeded all the kings of the earth in riches, and wiſdom.

24 And all the earth deſired to ſee Solomon's face, to hear his wiſdom, which God had given in his heart.

25 And every one brought him preſents, veſſels of ſilver and of gold, garments and armour, and ſpices, and horſes and mules every year.

‖ 2 Par. 1. 14. 26 ‖ And Solomon gathered together chariots and horſemen, and he had a thouſand four hundred chariots, and twelve thouſand horſemen: and he beſtowed them in fenced cities, and with the king in Jeruſalem.

27 And he made ſilver to be as plentiful in Jeruſalem as ſtones: and cedars to be as common as ſycamores which grow in the plains.

28 And horſes were brought for Solomon out of Egypt, and Coa: for the king's merchants bought them out of Coa, and brought them at a ſet price.

29 And a chariot of four horſes came out of Egypt, for ſix hundred ſicles of ſilver, and a horſe for a hundred and fifty. And after this manner did all the kings of the Hethites, and of Syria sell horses.

CHAP. XI.

Solomon by means of his wives falleth into idolatry: God raiseth him adversaries, Adad, Razon and Jeroboam: Solomon dieth.

|| Deut. 17. 17. Eccli. 47. 21.

AND king Solomon || loved many strange women besides the daughter of Pharao, and women of Moab, and of Ammon, and of Edom, and of Sidon, and of the Hethites:

|| Exod. 34. 16.

2 Of the nations concerning which the Lord said to the children of Israel: || You shall not go in unto them, neither shall any of them come in to yours: for they will most certainly turn away your heart to follow their gods. And to these was Solomon joined with a most ardent love.

3 And he had seven hundred wives as queens, and three hundred concubines: and the women turned away his heart.

* A. M. 3023. Ante C. 981.

4 And when he was now old, * his heart was turned away by women to follow strange gods: and his heart was not perfect with the Lord his God, as was the heart of David his father.

5 But Solomon worshipped Astarthe the goddess of the Sidonians, and Moloch the idol of the Ammonites.

6 And Solomon did that which was not pleasing before the Lord, and did not fully follow the Lord, as David his father.

7 Then Solomon built a temple for Chamos the idol of Moab, on the hill that is over-against Jerusalem, and for Moloch the idol of the children of Ammon.

8 And he did in this manner for all his wives that were strangers, who burnt incense, and offered sacrifice to their gods.

9 And the Lord was angry with Solomon, because his mind was turned away from the Lord the God of Israel, || who had appeared to him twice,

|| Supra 9. 2.

10 And had commanded him concerning this thing, that he should not follow strange gods: but he kept not the things which the Lord commanded him.

11 The Lord therefore said to Solomon: Because thou hast done this, and hast not kept my covenant, and my precepts, which I have commanded thee, I will divide and rend thy kingdom, and will give it to thy servant.

|| Infra 12. 15.

12 || Nevertheless in thy days I will not do it, for David thy father's sake: but I will rend it out of the hand of thy son.

13 Neither will I take away the whole kingdom, but I will give one tribe to thy son for the sake of David my servant, and Jerusalem which I have chosen.

14 And the Lord raised up an adversary to Solomon, Adad the Edomite of the king's seed, in Edom.

15 || For when David was in Edom, and Joab the general of the army was gone up to bury them that were slain, and had killed every male in Edom,

|| 2 Kings 8. 14.

16 (For Joab remained there six months with all Israel, till he had slain every male in Edom,)

17 Then Adad fled, he and certain Edomites, of his father's servants with him, to go into Egypt: and Adad was then a little boy.

18 And they arose out of Madian, and came into Pharan, and they took men with them from Pharan, and went into Egypt to Pharao the king of Egypt: who gave him a house, and appointed him victuals, and assigned him land.

19 And Adad found great favour before Pharao, insomuch that he gave him to wife, the own sister of his wife Taphnes the queen.

20 And the sister of Taphnes bore him his son Genubath, and Taphnes brought him up in the house of Pharao: and Genubath dwelt with Pharao among his children.

21 And when Adad heard in Egypt that David slept with his fathers, and that Joab the general of the army was dead, he said to Pharao: Let me depart, that I may go to my own country.

22 And Pharao said to him: Why what is wanting to thee with me, that thou seekest to go to thy own country? But he answered: Nothing: yet I beseech thee to let me go.

23 God also raised up against him an adversary, Razon the son of Eliada, || who had fled from his master Adarezer the king of Soba:

|| 2 Kings 8. 6. 1 Par. 18. 6.

24 And he gathered men against him, and he became a captain of robbers, when David slew them of Soba: and they went to Damascus, and dwelt there, and they made him king in Damascus.

25 And he was an adversary to Israel, all the days of Solomon: and this is the evil of Adad, and his hatred against Israel, and he reigned in Syria.

|| 2 Par. 13. 6.

26 || Jeroboam also the son of Nabat an Ephrathite of Sareda, a servant of Solomon, whose mother was named Sarua, a widow woman, lifted up his hand against the king.

27 And this is the cause of his rebellion

CHAP. XI. VER. 13. One tribe. Besides that of Juda, his own native tribe.

againſt him, for Solomon built Mello, and filled up the breach of the city of David his father.

28 And Jeroboam was a valiant and mighty man: and Solomon ſeeing him a young man ingenious and induſtrious, made him chief over the tributes of all the houſe of Joſeph.

‖ 2 Par. 10. 15. 29 ‖ So it came to paſs at that time, that Jeroboam went out of Jeruſalem, and the prophet Ahias the Silonite, clad with a new garment, found him in the way: and they two were alone in the field.

30 And Ahias taking his new garment, wherewith he was clad, divided it into twelve parts:

31 And he ſaid to Jeroboam: Take to thee ten pieces: for thus ſaith the Lord the God of Iſrael: Behold I will rend the kingdom out of the hand of Solomon, and will give thee ten tribes.

32 But one tribe ſhall remain to him for the ſake of my ſervant David, and Jeruſalem the city, which I have choſen out of all the tribes of Iſrael:

33 Becauſe he hath forſaken me, and hath adored Aſtarthe the goddeſs of the Sidonians, and Chamos the god of Moab, and Moloch the god of the children of Ammon: and hath not walked in my ways, to do juſtice before me, and to keep my precepts, and judgments as did David his father.

34 Yet I will not take away all the kingdom out of his hand, but I will make him prince all the days of his life, for David my ſervant's ſake, whom I choſe, who kept my commandments and my precepts.

35 But I will take away the kingdom out of his ſon's hand, and will give thee ten tribes:

36 And to his ſon I will give one tribe, that there may remain a lamp for my ſervant David before me always in Jeruſalem the city which I have choſen, that my name might be there.

37 And I will take thee, and thou ſhalt reign over all that thy ſoul deſireth, and thou ſhalt be king over Iſrael.

38 If then thou wilt hearken to all that I ſhall command thee, and wilt walk in my ways, and do what is right before me, keeping my commandments and my precepts, as David my ſervant did: I will be with thee, and will build thee up a faithful houſe, as I built a houſe for David, and I will deliver Iſrael to thee:

39 And I will for this afflict the ſeed of David, but yet not for ever.

40 Solomon therefore ſought to kill Jeroboam: but he aroſe, and fled into Egypt to Seſac the king of Egypt, and was in Egypt till the death of Solomon.

41 And the reſt of the words of Solomon, and all that he did, and his wiſdom: behold they are all written in the Book of the words of the days of Solomon.

42 And the days that Solomon reigned in Jeruſalem over all Iſrael, were forty years.

43 And * Solomon ſlept with his fathers, and was buried in the city of David his father, and Roboam his ſon reigned in his ſtead. * A. M. 3029. Ante C. 975.

CHAP. XII.

Roboam following the counſel of young men alienateth from him the minds of the people. They make Jeroboam king over ten tribes: he ſetteth up idolatry.

‖ AND Roboam went to Sichem: for thither were all Iſrael come together to make him king. A. M. 3029. ‖ 2 Par. 10. 1.

2 But Jeroboam the ſon of Nabat, who was yet in Egypt, a fugitive from the face of king Solomon, hearing of his death, returned out of Egypt.

3 And they ſent and called him: and Jeroboam came, and all the multitude of Iſrael, and they ſpoke to Roboam, ſaying:

4 Thy father laid a grievous yoke upon us: now therefore do thou take off a little of the grievous ſervice of thy father, and of his moſt heavy yoke, which he put upon us, and we will ſerve thee.

5 And he ſaid to them: Go till the third day, and come to me again. And when the people was gone,

6 King Roboam took counſel with the old men, that ſtood before Solomon his father while he yet lived, and he ſaid: What counſel do you give me, that I may anſwer this people?

7 They ſaid to him: If thou wilt yield to this people to-day, and condeſcend to them, and grant their petition, and wilt ſpeak gentle words to them, they will be thy ſervants always.

8 But he left the counſel of the old men, which they had given him, and conſulted with the young men, that had been brought up with him, and ſtood before him.

9 And he ſaid to them: What counſel do you give me, that I may answer this people, who have said to me: Make the yoke which thy father put upon us lighter?

10 And the young men that had been brought up with him, said: Thus shalt thou speak to this people, who have spoken to thee saying: Thy father made our yoke heavy, do thou ease us. Thou shalt say to them: My little finger is thicker than the back of my father.

11 And now my father put a heavy yoke upon you, but I will add to your yoke: my father beat you with whips, but I will beat you with scorpions.

12 So Jeroboam and all the people came to Roboam the third day, as the king had appointed, saying: Come to me again the third day.

13 And the king answered the people roughly, leaving the counsel of the old men, which they had given him,

14 And he spoke to them according to the counsel of the young men, saying: My father made your yoke heavy, but I will add to your yoke: my father beat you with whips, but I will beat you with scorpions.

15 And the king condescended not to the people: for the Lord was turned away from him, to make good his word, ‖ which he had spoken in the hand of Ahias the Silonite, to Jeroboam the son of Nabat.

‖ Supra 11. 31.

16 Then the people seeing that the king would not hearken to them, answered him, saying: What portion have we in David? or what inheritance in the son of Isai? Go home to thy dwellings, O Israel, now David look to thy own house. So Israel departed to their dwellings.

17 But as for all the children of Israel that dwelt in the cities of Juda, Roboam reigned over them.

18 Then king Roboam sent Aduram, who was over the tribute: and all Israel stoned him, and he died. Wherefore king Roboam made haste to get him up into his chariot, and he fled to Jerusalem:

19 And Israel revolted from the house of David, unto this day.

20 And it came to pass when all Israel heard, that Jeroboam was come again, that they gathered an assembly, and sent and called him, and made him king over all Israel, and there was none that followed the house of David but the tribe of Juda only.

21 And Roboam came to Jerusalem, and gathered together all the house of Juda, and the tribe of Benjamin, a hundred fourscore thousand chosen men for war, to fight against the house of Israel, and to bring the kingdom again under Roboam the son of Solomon.

23 Speak to Roboam the son of Solomon, the king of Juda, and to all the house of Juda, and Benjamin, and the rest of the people, saying:

24 Thus saith the Lord: You shall not go up nor fight against your brethren the children of Israel: let every man return to his house, for this thing is from me. They hearkened to the word of the Lord, and returned from their journey, as the Lord had commanded them.

25 And Jeroboam built Sichem in mount Ephraim, and dwelt there, and going out from thence he built Phanuel.

26 And Jeroboam said in his heart: Now shall the kingdom return to the house of David,

27 If this people go up to offer sacrifices in the house of the Lord at Jerusalem: and the heart of this people will turn to their lord Roboam the king of Juda, and they will kill me, and return to him.

CHAP. XIII.

A prophet sent from Juda to Bethel foretelleth the birth of Josias, and the destruction of Jeroboam's altar. Jeroboam's hand offering violence to the prophet withereth but is restored by the prophet's prayer: the same prophet is deceived by another prophet, and slain by a lion.

A. M. 3030. AND behold there came a man of God out of Juda, by the word of the Lord to Bethel, when Jeroboam was standing upon the altar, and burning incense.

2 And he cried out against the altar in the word of the Lord, and said: O altar, altar, thus saith the Lord: ‖ Behold a child shall be born to the house of David, Josias by name, and he shall immolate upon thee the priests of the high places, who now burn incense upon thee, and he shall burn men's bones upon thee.

‖ 4 Kings 23. 16.

3 And he gave a sign the same day, saying: This shall be the sign, that the Lord hath spoken: Behold the altar shall be rent, and the ashes that are upon it shall be poured out.

4 And when the king had heard the word of the man of God, which he had cried out against the altar in Bethel, he stretched forth his hand from the altar, saying: Lay hold on him. And his hand which he stretched forth against him withered: and he was not able to draw it back again to him.

5 The altar also was rent, and the ashes were poured out from the altar, according to the sign which the man of God had given before in the word of the Lord.

6 And the king said to the man of God: Intreat the face of the Lord thy God, and pray for me, that my hand may be restored to me. And the man of God besought the face of the Lord, and the king's hand was restored to him, and it became as it was before.

7 And the king said to the man of God: Come home with me to dine, and I will make thee presents.

8 And the man of God answered the king: If thou wouldst give me half thy house I will not go with thee, nor eat bread, nor drink water in this place:

9 For so it was enjoined me by the word of the Lord commanding me: Thou shalt not eat bread nor drink water, nor return by the same way that thou camest.

10 So he departed by another way, and returned not by the way that he came into Bethel.

11 Now a certain old prophet dwelt in Bethel, and his sons came to him and told him all the works that the man of God had done that day in Bethel: and they told their father the words which he had spoken to the king.

12 And their father said to them: What way went he. His sons shewed him the way by which the man of God went, who came out of Juda.

13 And he said to his sons: Saddle me the ass. And when they had saddled him, he got up,

14 And went after the man of God, and found him sitting under a turpentine-tree: and he said to him: Art thou the man of God that camest from Juda? He answered: I am.

15 And he said to him: Come home with me, to eat bread.

16 But he said: I must not return, nor go with thee, neither will I eat bread, nor drink water in this place:

17 Because the Lord spoke to me in the word of the Lord, saying: Thou shalt not eat bread, and thou shalt not drink water there, nor return by the way thou wentest.

18 He said to him: I also am a prophet like unto thee: and an Angel spoke to me in the word of the Lord, saying: Bring him back with thee into thy house, that he may eat bread, and drink water. He deceived him, 19 And brought him back with him: so he eat bread and drank water in his house.

20 And as they sat at table, the word of the Lord came to the prophet that brought him back:

21 And he cried out to the man of God who came out of Juda, saying: Thus saith the Lord: Because thou hast not been obedient to the Lord, and hast not kept the commandment which the Lord thy God commandeth thee,

22 And hast returned, and eaten bread, and drunk water in the place wherein he commanded thee that thou ſhouldſt not eat bread, nor drink water, thy dead body ſhall not be brought into the ſepulchre of thy fathers.

23 And when he had eaten and drunk, he ſaddled his aſs for the prophet, whom he had brought back.

24 And when he was gone, a lion found him in the way, and killed him, and his body was caſt in the way: and the aſs ſtood by him, and the lion ſtood by the dead body.

25 And behold, men paſſing by ſaw the dead body caſt in the way, and the lion ſtanding by the body. And they came and told it in the city, wherein that old prophet dwelt.

26 And when that prophet, who had brought him back out of the way, heard of it, he ſaid: It is the man of God, that was diſobedient to the mouth of the Lord, and the Lord hath delivered him to the lion, and he hath torn him, and killed him according to the word of the Lord, which he ſpoke to him.

27 And he ſaid to his ſons: Saddle me an aſs. And when they had ſaddled,

28 And he was gone, he found the dead body caſt in the way, and the aſs and the lion ſtanding by the carcaſe: the lion had not eaten of the dead body, nor hurt the aſs.

29 And the prophet took up the body of the man of God, and laid it upon the aſs, and going back brought it into the city of the old prophet, to mourn for him.

30 And he laid his dead body in his own ſepulchre: and they mourned over him, ſaying: Alas! alas my brother.

31 And when they had mourned over him, he ſaid to his ſons: When I am dead, bury me in the ſepulchre wherein the man of God is buried: lay my bones beſide his bones.

32 For aſſuredly the word ſhall come to paſs which he hath foretold in the word of the Lord againſt the altar that is in Bethel: and againſt all the temples of the high places, that are in the cities of Samaria.

33 After theſe words Jeroboam came not back from his wicked way: but on the contrary he made of the meaneſt of the people prieſts of the high places: whoſoever would, he filled his hand, and he was made a prieſt of the high places.

34 And for this cauſe did the houſe of Jeroboam ſin, and was cut off and deſtroyed from the face of the earth.

18 And they buried him. And all Iſrael mourned for him according to the word of the Lord, which he ſpoke by the hand of his ſervant Ahias the prophet.

19 And the reſt of the acts of Jeroboam how he fought, and how he reigned, behold they are written in the Book of the words of the days of the kings of Iſrael.

20 And the days that Jeroboam reigned, were two and twenty years: and he ſlept with his fathers: and Nadab his ſon reigned in his ſtead.

‖ 2 Par. 12. 13. 21 ‖ And Roboam the ſon of Solomon reigned in Juda: Roboam was one and forty years old when he began to reign: and he reigned ſeventeen years in Jeruſalem the city, which the Lord choſe out of all the tribes of Iſrael to put his name there. And his mother's name was Naama an Ammoniteſs.

22 And Juda did evil in the ſight of the Lord, and provoked him above all that their fathers had done, in their ſins which they committed.

23 For they alſo built them altars, and ſtatues, and groves upon every high hill and under every green tree:

24 There were alſo the effeminate in the land, and they did according to all the abominations of the people whom the Lord had deſtroyed before the face of the children of Iſrael.

25 And in the fifth year of the reign of Roboam, Seſac king of Egypt came up againſt Jeruſalem: A. M. 3030.

26 And he took away the treaſures of the houſe of the Lord, and the king's treaſures, and carried all off: as alſo the ſhields of gold which ‖ Solomon had made: ‖ Supra 10. 16.

27 And Roboam made ſhields of braſs inſtead of them, and delivered them into the hand of the captains of the ſhield-bearers, and of them that kept watch before the gate of the king's houſe.

28 And when the king went into the houſe of the Lord, they whoſe office it was to go before him, carried them: and afterwards they brought them back to the armoury of the ſhield-bearers.

29 Now the reſt of the acts of Roboam, and all that he did, behold they are written in the Book of the words of the days of the kings of Juda.

30 And there was war between Roboam and Jeroboam always.

31 And Roboam ſlept with his fathers, and was buried with them in the city of David: and his mother's name was Naama an Ammoniteſs: and Abiam his ſon reigned in his ſtead.

CHAP. XV.

The acts of Abiam and of Aſa kings of Juda. And of Nadab and Baſa kings of Iſrael.

NOW in the eighteenth year of the reign of Jeroboam the ſon of Nabat, Abiam reigned over Juda. A. M. 3046. Ante C. 958.

‖ 2 Par. 13. 2. 2 He reigned three years in Jeruſalem: ‖ the name of his mother was Maacha the daughter of Abeſſalom.

3 And he walked in all the ſins of his father, which he had done before him: and his heart was not perfect with the Lord his God, as was the heart of David his father.

CHAP. XIV. VER. 19. The Book of the words of the days of the kings of Iſrael. This book, which is often mentioned in the book of kings, is long ſince loſt. For as to the books of Paralipomenon or Chronicles, (which the Hebrews call the words of the days) they were certainly written after the book of kings, ſince they frequently refer to them.

VER. 24. The effeminate. Catamites, or men addicted to unnatural luſt.

CHAP. XV. VER. 2. Maacha, &c. She is called elſewhere Michaia, daughter of Uriel; but it was common in thoſe days for the ſame perſon to have two names.

4 But for David's ſake the Lord his God gave him a lamp in Jeruſalem, to ſet up his ſon after him, and to eſtabliſh Jeruſalem:

5 Becauſe David had done that which was right in the eyes of the Lord, and had not turned aſide from any thing that he commanded him, all the days of his life, ‖ except the matter of Urias the Hethite.

‖ 2 Kings 11. 14.

6 But there was war between Roboam and Jeroboam all the time of his life.

7 And the reſt of the words of Abiam, and all that he did, are they not written in the Book of the words of the days of the kings of Juda? ‖ And there was war between Abiam and Jeroboam.

‖ 2 Par. 13. 3.

8 And Abiam ſlept with his fathers, and they buried him in the city of David: † and Aſa his ſon reigned in his ſtead.

† 2 Par. 14. 1.

9 So in the * twentieth year of Jeroboam king of Iſrael, reigned Aſa king of Juda,

* A. M. 3049. Ante C. 955.

10 And he reigned one and forty years in Jeruſalem. His mother's name was Maacha, the daughter of Abeſſalom.

11 And Aſa did that which was right in the ſight of the Lord, as did David his father:

12 And he took away the effeminate out of the land, and he removed all the filth of the idols, which his fathers had made.

13 Moreover he alſo removed his mother Maacha, from being the princeſs in the ſacrifices of Priapus, and in the grove which ſhe had conſecrated to him: and he deſtroyed her den, and broke in pieces the filthy idol, and burnt it by the torrent Cedron:

14 But the high places he did not take away. Nevertheleſs the heart of Aſa was perfect with the Lord all his days:

15 And he brought in the things which his father had dedicated, and he had vowed, into the houſe of the Lord, ſilver and gold, and veſſels.

16 And there was war between Aſa, and Baaſa king of Iſrael all their days.

‖ 2 Par. 16. 1.

17 ‖ And Baaſa king of Iſrael went up againſt Juda, and built Rama, that no man might go out or come in, of the ſide of Aſa king of Juda.

A. M. 3064. Ante C. 904.

18 Then Aſa took all the ſilver and gold that remained in the treaſures of the houſe of the Lord, and in the treaſures of the king's houſe, and delivered it into the hands of his ſervants: and ſent them to Benadad ſon of Tabremon the ſon of Hezion, king of Syria, who dwelt in Damaſcus, ſaying:

19 There is a league between me and thee, and between my father and thy father: therefore I have ſent thee preſents of ſilver and gold: and I deſire thee to come, and break thy league with Baaſa king of Iſrael, that he may depart from me.

20 Benadad hearkening to king Aſa, ſent the captains of his army againſt the cities of Iſrael, and they ſmote Ahion, and Dan, and Abeldomum Maacha, and all Cenneroth, that is all the land of Nephtali.

21 And when Baaſa had heard this, he left off building Rama, and returned into Therſa.

22 But king Aſa ſent word into all Juda, ſaying: Let no man be excuſed: and they took away the ſtones from Rama, and the timber thereof wherewith Baaſa had been building, and with them king Aſa built Gabaa of Benjamin, and Maſpha.

23 But the reſt of all the acts of Aſa, and all his ſtrength, and all that he did, and the cities that he built, are they not written in the Book of the words of the days of the kings of Juda? But in the time of his old age he was diſeaſed in his feet.

24 And he ſlept with his fathers, and was buried with them in the city of David his father. ‖ And Joſaphat his ſon reigned in his place.

‖ 2 Par. 17. 1.

25 But Nadab the ſon of Jeroboam reigned over Iſrael the ſecond year * of Aſa king of Juda: and he reigned over Iſrael two years.

* A. M. 3050. Ante C. 954.

26 And he did evil in the ſight of the Lord, and walked in the ways of his father, and in his ſins, wherewith he made Iſrael to ſin.

27 And Baaſa the ſon of Ahias of the houſe of Iſſachar, conſpired againſt him, and ſlew him in Gebbethon, which is a city of the Philiſtines: for Nadab and all Iſrael beſieged Gebbethon.

28 So Baaſa ſlew him in the third year * of Aſa king of Juda, and reigned in his place.

30 Becauſe of the ſin of Jeroboam, which he had ſinned, and wherewith he had made Iſrael to ſin, and for the offence, wherewith he provoked the Lord the God of Iſrael.

31 But the reſt of the acts of Nadab, and all that he did, are they not written in the Book of the words of the days of the kings of Iſrael?

32 And there was war between Aſa and Baaſa the king of Iſrael all their days.

* A. M. 3051. 33 In the third year * of Aſa king of Juda, Baaſa the ſon of Ahias reigned over all Iſrael, in Therſa, four and twenty years.

34 And he did evil before the Lord, and walked in the ways of Jeroboam, and in his ſins, wherewith he made Iſrael to ſin.

CHAP. XVI.

Jehu propheſieth againſt Baaſa: his ſon Ela is ſlain, and all his family deſtroyed by Zambri: Of the reign of Amri father of Achab.

THEN the word of the Lord came to Jehu the ſon of Hanani againſt Baaſa, ſaying:

2 For as much as I have exalted thee out of the duſt, and made thee prince over my people Iſrael, and thou haſt walked in the way of Jeroboam, and haſt made my people Iſrael to ſin, to provoke me to anger with their ſins:

3 Behold, I will cut down the poſterity of Baaſa, and the poſterity of his houſe, and I will make thy houſe as the houſe of Jeroboam the ſon of Nabat.

|| Supra 14. 11. 4 || Him that dieth of Baaſa in the city, the dogs ſhall eat: and him that dieth of his in the country, the fowls of the air ſhall devour.

|| 2 Par. 16. 1. 5 || But the reſt of the acts of Baaſa and all that he did, and his battles, are they not written in the Book of the words of the days of the kings of Iſrael?

6 So Baaſa ſlept with his fathers, and was buried in Therſa: and Ela his ſon reigned in his ſtead.

7 And when the word of the Lord came in the hand of Jehu the ſon of Hanani the prophet againſt Baaſa, and againſt his houſe and againſt all the evil that he had done before the Lord, to provoke him to anger by the works of his hands, to become as the houſe of Jeroboam: for this cauſe he ſlew him, that is to ſay, Jehu the ſon of Hanani, the prophet.

* A. M. 3074. Ante C. 930. 8 In the * ſix and twentieth year of Aſa king of Juda, Ela the ſon of Baaſa reigned over Iſrael in Therſa two years.

9 And his ſervant Zambri, who was captain of half the horſemen, rebelled againſt him: now Ela was drinking in Therſa, and drunk in the houſe of Arſa the governor of Therſa.

|| 4 Kings 9. 31. 10 || And Zambri ruſhing in, ſtruck him and ſlew him in the ſeven and twentieth year of Aſa king of Juda, and he reigned in his ſtead.

11 And when he was king and ſat upon his throne, he ſlew all the houſe of Baaſa, and he left not one thereof to piſs againſt a wall, and all his kinsfolks and friends.

12 And Zambri deſtroyed all the houſe of Baaſa, according to the word of the Lord, that he had ſpoken to Baaſa in the hand of Jehu the prophet,

13 For all the ſins of Baaſa, and the ſins of Ela his ſon, who ſinned, and made Iſrael to ſin, provoking the Lord the God of Iſrael with their vanities.

14 But the reſt of the acts of Ela, and all that he did, are they not written in the Book of the words of the days of the kings of Iſrael?

* A. M. 3075. Ante. C. 929. 15 In the ſeven and twentieth year * of Aſa king of Juda, Zambri reigned ſeven days in Therſa: now the army was beſieging Gebbethon a city of the Philiſtines.

16 And when they heard that Zambri had rebelled, and ſlain the king, all Iſrael made Amri their king, who was general over Iſrael in the camp that day.

17 And Amri went up, and all Iſrael with him from Gebbethon, and they beſieged Therſa.

18 And Zambri ſeeing that the city was about to be taken, went into the palace and burnt himſelf with the king's houſe: and he died

19 In his ſins, which he had ſinned, doing evil before the Lord, and walking in the way of Jeroboam, and in his ſin, wherewith he made Iſrael to ſin.

20 But the reſt of the acts of Zambri, and of his conſpiracy and tyranny, are they not written in the Book of the words of the days of the kings of Iſrael?

21 Then were the people of Iſrael divided into two parts: one half of the people followed Thebni the ſon of Gineth, to make him king: and one half followed Amri.

22 But the people that were with Amri, prevailed over the people that followed

Thebni the son of Gineth: and Thebni died, and Amri reigned.

A. M. 3079. Ante C. 925. 23 In the one and thirtieth year * of Asa king of Juda, Amri reigned over Israel, twelve years: in Thersa he reigned six years.

24 And he bought the hill of Samaria of Somer for two talents of silver: and he built upon it, and he called the city which he built Samaria, after the name of Semer the owner of the hill.

25 And Amri did evil in the sight of the Lord, and acted wickedly above all that were before him.

26 And he walked in all the way of Jeroboam the son of Nabat, and in his sins wherewith he made Israel to sin: to provoke the Lord the God of Israel to anger with their vanities.

27 Now the rest of the acts of Amri, and the battles he fought, are they not written in the Book of the words of the days of the kings of Israel?

* A. M. 3086. Ante C. 918. 28 And * Amri slept with his fathers, and was buried in Samaria, and Achab his son reigned in his stead.

29 Now Achab the son of Amri reigned over Israel in the eight and thirtieth year of Asa king of Juda. And Achab the son of Amri reigned over Israel in Samaria two and twenty years.

30 And Achab the son of Amri did evil in the sight of the Lord above all that were before him.

31 Nor was it enough for him to walk in the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nabat: but he also took to wife Jezabel daughter of Ethbaal king of the Sidonians. And he went, and served Baal, and adored him.

32 And he set up an altar for Baal in the temple of Baal, which he had built in Samaria,

33 And he planted a grove: and Achab did more to provoke the Lord the God of Israel, than all the kings of Israel that were before him.

34 In his days Hiel of Bethel built Jericho: in Abiram his first-born he laid its foundations: and in his youngest son Segub he set up the gates thereof: according to the word of the Lord, which he spoke in the hand of Josue the son of ‖ Nun.

‖ Josue 6. 26.

CHAP. XVI. VER. 23. In the one and thirtieth year, &c. Amri began to reign in the seven and twentieth year of Asa; but had not quiet possession of the kingdom till the death of his competitor Thebni, which was in the one and thirtieth year of Asa's reign.

CHAP. XVII.

Elias shutteth up the heaven from raining. He is fed by ravens, and afterwards by a widow of Sarephta. He raiseth the widow's son to life.

AND Elias the Thesbite of the inhabitants of Galaad said to Achab: As the Lord liveth the God of Israel, in whose sight I stand, there shall not be dew nor rain these years, but according to the words of my mouth. Eccli 48. 1. James 5. 17. A. M. circiter 3092. Ante C. 912.

2 And the word of the Lord came to him, saying:

3 Get thee hence, and go towards the east, and hide thyself by the torrent of Carith, which is over-against the Jordan,

4 And there thou shalt drink of the torrent: and I have commanded the ravens to feed thee there.

5 So he went, and did according to the word of the Lord: and going, he dwelt by the torrent Carith, which is over-against the Jordan.

6 And the ravens brought him bread and flesh in the morning, and bread and flesh in the evening, and he drank of the torrent.

7 But after some time the torrent was dried up: for it had not rained upon the earth. A. M. 3093.

8 Then the word of the Lord came to him, saying:

9 Arise, and go to Sarephta of the Sidonians, and dwell there: for I have commanded a widow-woman there to feed thee.

10 ‖ He arose, and went to Sarephta. And when he was come to the gate of the city, he saw the widow-woman gathering sticks, and he called her, and said to her: Give me a little water in a vessel, that I may drink. ‖ Luke 4. 26.

11 And when she was going to fetch it he called after her, saying: Bring me also, I beseech thee, a morsel of bread in thy hand.

12 And she answered: As the Lord thy God liveth, I have no bread, but only a handful of meal in a pot, and a little oil in a cruse: behold I am gathering two sticks, that I may go in and dress it, for me and my son, that we may eat it, and die.

13 And Elias said to her: Fear not, but go, and do as thou hast said: but first make for me of the same meal a little hearth-cake,

VER. 26. With their vanities. That is, their idols, their golden calves, vain, false, deceitful things.

CHAP. XVII. VER. 9. Sarephta of the Sidonians. That is a city of the Sidonians.

and bring it to me: and after make for thyself and thy ſon.

14 For thus ſaith the Lord the God of Iſrael: The pot of meal ſhall not waſte, nor the cruſe of oil be diminiſhed, until the day wherein the Lord will give rain upon the face of the earth.

15 She went and did according to the word of Elias: and he eat, and ſhe, and her houſe: and from that day

16 The pot of meal waſted not, and the cruſe of oil was not diminiſhed, according to the word of the Lord, which he ſpoke in the hand of Elias.

17 And it came to paſs after this, that the ſon of the woman, the miſtreſs of the houſe, fell ſick, and the ſickneſs was very grievous, ſo that there was no breath left in him.

18 And ſhe ſaid to Elias: What have I to do with thee thou man of God? art thou come to me that my iniquities ſhould be remembered, and that thou ſhouldſt kill my ſon?

19 And Elias ſaid to her: Give me thy ſon. And he took him out of her boſom, and carried him into the upper chamber where he abode, and laid him upon his own bed.

20 And he cried to the Lord, and ſaid: O Lord my God, haſt thou afflicted alſo the widow, with whom I am after a ſort maintained, ſo as to kill her ſon?

21 And he ſtretched, and meaſured himſelf upon the child three times, and cried to the Lord, and ſaid: O Lord my God, let the ſoul of this child, I beſeech thee, return into his body.

22 And the Lord heard the voice of Elias: and the ſoul of the child returned into him, and he revived.

23 And Elias took the child, and brought him down from the upper chamber to the houſe below, and delivered him to his mother, and ſaid to her: Behold thy ſon liveth.

24 And the woman ſaid to Elias: Now, by this I know that thou art a man of God, and the word of the Lord in thy mouth is true.

CHAP. XVIII.

Elias cometh before Achab. He convinceth the falſe prophets by bringing fire from heaven: he obtaineth rain by his prayer.

A. M. 3096. Ante C. 908. AFTER many days the word of the Lord came to Elias, in the third year, ſaying: Go, and ſhew thyſelf to Achab, that I may give rain upon the face of the earth.

2 And Elias went to ſhew himſelf to Achab, and there was a grievous famine in Samaria.

3 And Achab called Abdias the governor of his houſe: now Abdias feared the Lord very much.

4 For when Jezabel killed the prophets of the Lord, he took a hundred prophets and hid them by fifty and fifty in caves, and fed them with bread and water.

5 And Achab ſaid to Abdias: Go into the land unto all fountains of waters, and into all valleys, to ſee if we can find graſs, and ſave the horſes and mules, that the beaſts may not utterly periſh.

6 And they divided the countries between them, that they might go round about them: Achab went one way, and Abdias another way by himſelf.

7 And as Abdias was in the way, Elias met him: and he knew him, and fell on his face, and ſaid: Art thou my lord Elias?

8 And he anſwered: I am. Go, and tell thy maſter: Elias is here.

9 And he ſaid: What have I ſinned, that thou wouldſt deliver me thy ſervant into the hand of Achab, that he ſhould kill me?

10 As the Lord thy God liveth, there is no nation or kingdom, whither my lord hath not ſent to ſeek thee: and when all anſwered: He is not here: he took an oath of every kingdom and nation, becauſe thou waſt not found.

11 And now thou ſayeſt to me: Go, and tell thy maſter: Elias is here.

12 And when I am gone from thee, the Spirit of the Lord will carry thee into a place that I know not: and I ſhall go in and tell Achab, and he not finding thee, will kill me: but thy ſervant feareth the Lord from his infancy.

13 Hath it not been told thee, my lord, what I did when Jezabel killed the prophets of the Lord, how I hid a hundred men of the prophets of the Lord, by fifty and fifty in caves, and fed them with bread and water?

14 And now thou ſayeſt: Go, and tell thy maſter: Elias is here: that he may kill me.

15 And Elias ſaid: As the Lord of hoſts liveth, before whoſe face I ſtand, this day I will ſhew myſelf unto him.

16 Abdias therefore went to meet Achab, and told him: and Achab came to meet Elias.

17 And when he had ſeen him, he ſaid: Art thou he that troubleſt Iſrael?

18 And he ſaid: I have not troubled Iſrael, but thou and thy father's houſe, who have forſaken the commandments of the Lord, and have followed Baalim.

19 Neverthelefs ſend now, and gather unto me all Iſrael, unto mount Carmel, and the prophets of Baal four hundred and fifty, and the prophets of the groves four hundred, who eat at Jezabel's table.

20 Achab ſent to all the children of Iſrael, and gathered together the prophets unto mount Carmel.

21 And Elias coming to all the people, ſaid: How long do you halt between two ſides? if the Lord be God, follow him: but if Baal, then follow him. And the people did not anſwer him a word.

22 And Elias ſaid again to the people: I only remain a prophet of the Lord: but the prophets of Baal are four hundred and fifty men.

23 Let two bullocks be given us, and let them chooſe one bullock for themſelves, and cut it in pieces, and lay it upon wood, but put no fire under: and I will dreſs the other bullock, and lay it on wood, and put no fire under it.

24 Call ye on the names of your gods, and I will call on the name of my Lord: and the God that ſhall anſwer by fire, let him be God. And all the people anſwering ſaid: A very good propoſal.

25 Then Elias ſaid to the prophets of Baal: Chooſe you one bullock and dreſs it firſt, becauſe you are many: and call on the names of your gods, but put no fire under.

26 And they took the bullock which he gave them, and dreſſed it: and they called on the name of Baal from morning even till noon, ſaying: O Baal hear us. But there was no voice, nor any that anſwered: and they leaped over the altar that they had made.

27 And when it was now noon, Elias jeſted at them, ſaying: Cry with a louder voice: for he is a god, and perhaps he is talking, or is in an inn, or on a journey, or perhaps he is aſleep, and muſt be awaked.

28 So they cried with a loud voice, and cut themſelves after their manner with knives and lancets, till they were all covered with blood.

29 And after mid day was paſt, and while they were propheſying, the time was come of offering ſacrifice, and there was no voice heard, nor did any one anſwer, nor regard them as they prayed:

30 Elias ſaid to all the people: Come ye unto me. And the people coming near unto him, he repaired the altar of the Lord, that was broken down:

31 And he took twelve ſtones according to the number of the tribes of the ſons of Jacob, to whom the word of the Lord came, ſaying: ‖ Iſrael ſhall be thy name. ‖ Gen. 32. 28.

32 And he built with the ſtones an altar to the name of the Lord: and he made a trench for water, of the breadth of two furrows round about the altar.

33 And he laid the wood in order, and cut the bullock in pieces, and laid it upon the wood,

34 And he ſaid: Fill four buckets with water, and pour it upon the burnt-offering, and upon the wood. And again he ſaid: Do the ſame the ſecond time. And when they had done it the ſecond time, he ſaid: Do the ſame alſo the third time. And they did ſo the third time.

35 And the water run round about the altar, and the trench was filled with water.

36 And when it was now time to offer the holocauſt, Elias the prophet came near and ſaid: O Lord God of Abraham, and Iſaac, and Iſrael, ſhew this day that thou art the God of Iſrael, and I thy ſervant, and that according to thy commandment I have done all theſe things.

37 Hear me, O Lord, hear me: that this people may learn, that thou art the Lord God, and that thou haſt turned their heart again.

38 Then the fire of the Lord fell, and conſumed the holocauſt, and the wood, and the ſtones, and the duſt, and licked up the water that was in the trench.

39 And when all the people ſaw this, they fell on their faces, and they ſaid: The Lord he is God, the Lord he is God.

40 And Elias ſaid to them; Take the prophets of Baal, and let not one of them eſcape. And when they had taken them, Elias brought them down to the torrent Ciſon, and killed them there.

41 And Elias ſaid to Achab: Go up, eat, and drink: for there is a ſound of abundance of rain.

42 Achab went up to eat and drink: and Elias went up to the top of Carmel, and caſting himſelf down upon the earth put his face between his knees,

43 And he ſaid to his ſervant: Go up, and look toward the ſea. And he went up, and looked, and ſaid: There is nothing. And again he ſaid to him: Return ſeven times.

44 And at the ſeventh time: Behold a little cloud aroſe out of the ſea like a man's foot. And he ſaid: Go up and ſay to Achab: Prepare thy chariot and go down, leſt the rain prevent thee.

45 And while he turned himſelf this way and that way, behold the heavens grew dark, with clouds, and wind, and there fell a great rain. And Achab getting up went away to Jezrahel:

46 And the hand of the Lord was upon Elias, and he girded up his loins and ran before Achab, till he came to Jezrahel.

CHAP. XIX.

Elias fleeing from Jezabel, is fed by an Angel in the desert; and by the strength of that food walketh forty days, till he cometh to Horeb, where he hath a vision of God.

AND Achab told Jezabel all that Elias had done, and how he had slain all the prophets with the sword.

2 And Jezabel sent a messenger to Elias, saying: Such and such things may the gods do to me, and add still more, if by this hour to-morrow I make not thy life as the life of one of them.

A. M. 3097. Ante C. 907. 3 Then Elias was afraid, and rising up he went whithersoever he had a mind: and he came to Bersabee of Juda, and left his servant there,

4 And he went forward, one day's journey into the desert. And when he was there, and sat under a juniper tree, he requested for his soul that he might die, and said: It is enough for me, Lord, take away my soul: for I am no better than my fathers.

5 And he cast himself down, and slept in the shadow of the juniper tree: and behold an Angel of the Lord touched him, and said to him: Arise and eat.

6 He looked, and behold there was at his head a hearth-cake, and a vessel of water: and he eat and drank, and he fell asleep again.

7 And the Angel of the Lord came again the second time, and touched him, and said to him: Arise, eat: for thou hast yet a great way to go.

8 And he arose, and eat, and drank, and walked in the strength of that food forty days and forty nights, unto the mount of God, Horeb.

9 And when he was come thither, he abode in a cave: and behold the word of the Lord came unto him, and he said to him: What dost thou here Elias?

10 And he answered: With zeal have I been zealous for the Lord God of hosts: for the children of Israel have forsaken thy covenant: they have thrown down thy altars, they have slain thy prophets with the sword, and I alone am left, and they seek my life to take it away.

11 And he said to him: Go forth, and stand upon the mount before the Lord: and behold the Lord passeth, and a great and strong wind before the Lord overthrowing the mountains, and breaking the rocks in pieces: the Lord is not in the wind, and after the wind an earthquake: the Lord is not in the earthquake,

12 And after the earthquake a fire: the Lord is not in the fire, and after the fire a whistling of a gentle air.

13 And when Elias heard it, he covered his face with his mantle, and coming forth stood in the entering in of the cave, and behold a voice unto him saying: What dost thou here, Elias? And he answered:

14 With zeal have I been zealous for the Lord God of hosts: ‖ because the children of Israel have forsaken thy covenant: they have destroyed thy altars, they have slain thy prophets with the sword, and I alone am left, and they seek my life to take it away. ‖ Rom. 11. 3.

15 And the Lord said to him: Go, and return on thy way through the desert to Damascus: and when thou art come thither, thou shalt anoint Hazael to be king over Syria,

16 ‖ And thou shalt anoint Jehu the son of Namsi to be king over Israel: and Eliseus the son of Saphat, of Abelmeula, thou shalt anoint to be prophet in thy room. ‖ 4 Kings 9. 1.

17 And it shall come to pass, that whosoever shall escape the sword of Hazael, shall be slain by Jehu: and whosoever shall escape the sword of Jehu, shall be slain by Eliseus.

18 ‖ And I will leave me seven thousand men in Israel, whose knees have not been ‖ Rom. 11. 4.

CHAP. XIX. VER. 4. That he might die. Elias requested to die, not out of impatience or pusillanimity but out of zeal against sin; and that he might no longer be witness of the miseries of his people: and the war they were waging against God and his servants. See ver. 10.

VER. 8. In the strength of that food, &c. This bread with which Elias was fed in the wilderness was a figure of the bread of life which we receive in the blessed sacrament; by the strength of which we are to be supported in our journey through the wilderness of this world till we come to the true mountain of God, and his vision in a happy eternity.

VER. 10. I alone am left. viz. of the prophets in the kingdom of Israel, or of the ten tribes: for in the kingdom of Juda religion was at that time in a very flourishing condition under the kings Asa and Josaphat. And even in Israel there remained several prophets though not then known to Elias. See chap. xx. 13, 28, 35.

VER. 17. Shall be slain by Eliseus. Eliseus did not kill any of the idolaters with the material sword; but he is here joined with Hazael and Jehu, the great instruments of God in punishing the idolatry of Israel, because he foretold to the former his exaltation to the kingdom of Syria, and the vengeance he would execute against Israel, and anointed the latter by one of his disciples to be king of Israel, with commission to extirpate the house of Achab.

bowed before Baal, and every mouth that hath not worshipped him kissing the hands.

19 And Elias departing from thence, found Eliseus the son of Saphat, ploughing with twelve yoke of oxen: and he was one of them that were ploughing with twelve yoke of oxen: and when Elias came up to him, he cast his mantle upon him.

20 And he forthwith left the oxen and run after Elias, and said: Let me, I pray thee, kiss my father and my mother, and then I will follow thee. And he said to him: Go, and return back: for that which was my part, I have done to thee.

21 And returning back from him, he took a yoke of oxen, and killed them, and boiled the flesh with the plough of the oxen, and gave to the people, and they eat: and rising up he went away, and followed Elias, and ministered to him.

CHAP. XX.

The Syrians besiege Samaria: they are twice defeated by Achab: who is reprehended by a prophet for letting Benadad go.

A. M. 3103. Ante C. 901. AND Benadad king of Syria, gathered together all his host, and there were two and thirty kings with him, and horses, and chariots: and going up he fought against Samaria, and besieged it.

2 And sending messengers to Achab king of Israel into the city,

3 He said: Thus saith Benadad: Thy silver, and thy gold is mine: and thy wives, and thy goodliest children are mine.

4 And the king of Israel answered: According to thy word, my lord O king, I am thine, and all that I have.

5 And the messengers came again, and said: Thus saith Benadad, who sent us unto thee: Thy silver, and thy gold, and thy wives, and thy children thou shalt deliver up to me.

6 To-morrow therefore at this same hour I will send my servants to thee, and they shall search thy house, and the houses of thy servants: and all that pleaseth them, they shall put in their hands, and take away.

7 And the king of Israel called all the ancients of the land, and said: Mark, and see that he layeth snares for us. For he sent to me for my wives, and for my children, and for my silver and gold: and I said not nay.

8 And all the ancients, and all the people said to him: Hearken not to him, nor consent to him.

9 Wherefore he answered the messengers of Benadad: Tell my lord the king: All that thou didst send for to me thy servant at first, I will do: but this thing I cannot do.

10 And the messengers returning brought him word. And he sent again, and said: Such and such things may the gods do to me, and more may they add, if the dust of Samaria shall suffice for handfuls for all the people that follow me.

11 And the king of Israel answering, said: Tell him: Let not the girded boast himself as the ungirded.

12 And it came to pass, when Benadad heard this word, that he and the kings were drinking in pavilions, and he said to his servants: Beset the city. And they beset it.

13 And behold a prophet coming to Achab king of Israel, said to him: Thus saith the Lord: Hast thou seen all this exceeding great multitude? behold I will deliver them into thy hand this day: that thou mayst know that I am the Lord.

14 And Achab said: By whom? And he said to him: Thus saith the Lord: By the servants of the princes of the provinces. And he said: Who shall begin to fight? And he said: Thou.

15 So he mustered the servants of the princes of the provinces, and he found the number of two hundred and thirty two: and he mustered after them the people, all the children of Israel, seven thousand:

16 And they went out at noon. But Benadad was drinking himself drunk in his pavilion, and the two and thirty kings with him, who were come to help him.

17 And the servants of the princes of the provinces went out first. And Benadad sent. And they told him, saying: There are men come out of Samaria.

18 And he said: Whether they come for peace, take them alive: or whether they come to fight, take them alive.

19 So the servants of the princes of the provinces went out, and the rest of the army followed:

20 And every one slew the man that came against him: and the Syrians fled, and Israel pursued after them. And Benadad king of Syria fled away on horseback with his horsemen.

21 But the king of Israel going out overthrew the horses and chariots, and slew the Syrians with a great slaughter.

CHAP. XX. VER. 11. Let not the girded, &c. Let him not boast before the victory: it will then be time to glory when he putteth off his armour, having overcome his adversary.

22 (And a prophet coming to the king of Iſrael, ſaid to him: Go, and ſtrengthen thyſelf, and know, and ſee what thou doſt: for the next year the king of Syria will come up againſt thee.)

23 But the ſervants of the king of Syria ſaid to him: Their gods are gods of the hills, therefore they have overcome us: but it is better that we ſhould fight againſt them in the plains, and we ſhall overcome them.

24 Do thou therefore this thing: Remove all the kings from thy army, and put captains in their ſtead:

25 And make up the number of ſoldiers that have been ſlain of thine, and horſes according to the former horſes, and chariots according to the chariots which thou hadſt before: and we will fight againſt them in the plains, and thou ſhalt ſee that we ſhall overcome them. He believed their counſel, and did ſo.

* A. M. 3104. Ante C. 900. 26 Wherefore at the return of the year, * Benadad muſtered the Syrians, and went up to Aphec, to fight againſt Iſrael.

27 And the children of Iſrael were muſtered, and taking victuals went out on the other ſide, and camped over-againſt them, like two little flocks of goats: but the Syrians filled the land.

28 (And a man of God coming, ſaid to the king of Iſrael: Thus ſaith the Lord: Becauſe the Syrians have ſaid: The Lord is God of the hills, but is not God of the valleys: I will deliver all this great multitude into thy hand, and you ſhall know that I am the Lord.)

29 And both ſides ſet their armies in array one againſt the other ſeven days, and on the ſeventh day the battle was fought: and the children of Iſrael ſlew of the Syrians a hundred thouſand footmen in one day.

30 And they that remained fled to Aphec, into the city: and the wall fell upon ſeven and twenty thouſand men, that were left. And Benadad fleeing went into the city, into a chamber that was within a chamber.

31 And his ſervants ſaid to him: Behold, we have heard that the kings of the houſe of Iſrael are merciful: ſo let us put ſackcloths on our loins, and ropes on our heads, and go out to the king of Iſrael: perhaps he will ſave our lives.

32 So they girded ſackcloth on their loins, and put ropes on their heads, and came to the king of Iſrael, and ſaid to him: Thy ſervant Benadad ſaith: I beſeech thee let me have my life. And he ſaid: If he be yet alive he is my brother.

33 The men took this for a ſign: and in haſte caught the word out of his mouth, and ſaid: Thy brother Benadad. And he ſaid to them: Go, and bring him to me. Then Benadad came out to him, and he lifted him up into his chariot.

34 And he ſaid to him: The cities which my father took from thy father, I will reſtore: and do thou make thee ſtreets in Damaſcus, as my father made in Samaria, and having made a league I will depart from thee. So he made a league with him, and let him go.

35 Then a certain man of the ſons of the prophets ſaid to his companion in the word of the Lord: Strike me. But he would not ſtrike.

36 Then he ſaid to him: Becauſe thou wouldſt not hearken to the word of the Lord, behold thou ſhalt depart from me, and a lion ſhall ſlay thee. And when he was gone a little from him, a lion found him, and ſlew him.

37 Then he found another man, and ſaid to him: Strike me. And he ſtruck him, and wounded him.

38 So the prophet went, and met the king in the way, and diſguiſed himſelf by ſprinkling duſt on his face and his eyes.

39 And as the king paſſed by, he cried to the king, and ſaid: Thy ſervant went out to fight hand to hand: and when a certain man was run away, one brought him to me, and ſaid: Keep this man: and if he ſhall ſlip away, thy life ſhall be for his life, or thou ſhalt pay a talent of ſilver.

40 And whilſt I in the hurry turned this way and that, on a ſudden he was not to be ſeen. And the king of Iſrael ſaid to him: This is thy judgment, which thyſelf haſt decreed.

41 But he forthwith wiped off the duſt from his face, and the king of Iſrael knew him, that he was one of the prophets.

42 And he ſaid to him: Thus ſaith the Lord: ‖ Becauſe thou haſt let go out of thy hand a man worthy of death, thy life ſhall be for his life, and thy people for his people. ‖ Infra 22. 38.

43 And the king of Iſrael returned to his houſe, ſlighting to hear, and raging came into Samaria.

CHAP. XXI.

Naboth for denying his vineyard to king Achab, is by Jezabel's commandment, falſly accuſed and ſtoned to death. For which crime Elias denounceth to Achab the judgments of God: upon his humbling himſelf the ſentence is mitigated.

A. M. 3105. Ante C. 899. AND after theſe things, Naboth the Jezrahelite, who was in Jezrahel had at that time a vineyard near the palace of Achab king of Samaria.

2 And Achab ſpoke to Naboth, ſaying: Give me thy vineyard, that I may make me a garden of herbs, becauſe it is nigh, and joining to my houſe, and I will give thee for it a better vineyard: or if thou think it more convenient for thee, I will give thee the worth of it in money.

3 Naboth anſwered him: The Lord be merciful to me, and not let me give thee the inheritance of my fathers.

4 And Achab came into his houſe angry and fretting, becauſe of the word that Naboth the Jezrahelite had ſpoken to him, ſaying: I will not give thee the inheritance of my fathers. And caſting himſelf upon his bed, he turned away his face to the wall, and would eat no bread.

5 And Jezabel his wife went in to him, and ſaid to him: What is the matter that thy ſoul is ſo grieved? and why eateſt thou no bread?

6 And he anſwered her: I ſpoke to Naboth the Jezrahelite, and ſaid to him: Give me thy vineyard, and take money for it: or if it pleaſe thee, I will give thee a better vineyard for it. And he ſaid: I will not give thee my vineyard.

7 Then Jezabel his wife ſaid to him: Thou art of great authority indeed, and governeſt well the kingdom of Iſrael. Ariſe, and eat bread, and be of good cheer, I will give thee the vineyard of Naboth the Jezrahelite.

8 So ſhe wrote letters in Achab's name, and ſealed them with his ring, and ſent them to the ancients, and the chief men that were in his city, and that dwelt with Naboth.

9 And this was the tenor of the letters: Proclaim a faſt, and make Naboth ſit among the chief of the people,

10 And ſuborn two men, ſons of Belial, againſt him, and let them bear falſe witneſs: that he hath blaſphemed God and the king: and then carry him out, and ſtone him, and ſo let him die.

11 And the men of his city the ancients and nobles, that dwelt with him in the city, did as Jezabel had commanded them, and as it was written in the letters which ſhe had ſent to them:

12 They proclaimed a faſt, and made Naboth ſit among the chief of the people.

13 And bringing two men ſons of the devil, they made them ſit againſt him: and they, like men of the devil, bore witneſs againſt him before the people, ſaying: Naboth hath blaſphemed God and the king: wherefore they brought him forth without the city, and ſtoned him to death.

14 And they ſent to Jezabel, ſaying: Naboth is ſtoned, and is dead.

15 And it came to paſs, when Jezabel heard that Naboth was ſtoned, and dead, that ſhe ſaid to Achab: Ariſe, and take poſſeſſion of the vineyard of Naboth the Jezrahelite, who would not agree with thee, and give it thee for money: for Naboth is not alive, but dead.

16 And when Achab heard this, to wit, that Naboth was dead, he aroſe, and went down into the vineyard of Naboth the Jezrahelite, to take poſſeſſion of it.

17 And the word of the Lord came to Elias the Theſbite, ſaying:

18 Ariſe, and go down to meet Achab king of Iſrael, who is in Samaria: behold he is going down to the vineyard of Naboth, to take poſſeſſion of it:

19 And thou ſhalt ſpeak to him, ſaying: Thus ſaith the Lord: Thou haſt ſlain, moreover alſo thou haſt taken poſſeſſion. And after theſe words thou ſhalt add: Thus ſaith the Lord: ‖ In this place, wherein the dogs have licked the blood of Naboth, they ſhall lick thy blood alſo. ‖ Infra 22. 38.

20 And Achab ſaid to Elias: Haſt thou found me thy enemy. He ſaid: I have found thee, becauſe thou art ſold, to do evil in the ſight of the Lord.

21 ‖ Behold I will bring evil upon thee, and I will cut down thy poſterity, and I will kill of Achab him that piſſeth againſt the wall, and him that is ſhut up, and the laſt in Iſrael. ‖ 4 Kings 9. 8.

22 And I will make thy houſe like the ‖ houſe of Jeroboam the ſon of Nabat, and like the houſe of † Baaſa the ſon of Ahias: for what thou haſt done, to provoke me to anger, and for making Iſrael to ſin. ‖ Supra 15. 29. † Supra 16. 3.

23 ‖ And of Jezabel alſo the Lord ſpoke, ſaying: The dogs ſhall eat Jezabel in the field of Jezrahel. ‖ 4 Kings 9. 36.

24 If Achab die in the city, the dogs ſhall eat him: but if he die in the field, the birds of the air ſhall eat him.

25 Now there was not ſuch another as Achab, who was ſold to do evil in the ſight of the Lord: for his wife Jezabel ſet him on,

26 And he became abominable, inſomuch that he followed the idols which the Amor-rhites had made, whom the Lord deſtroyed before the face of the children of Iſrael.

27 And when Achab had heard theſe words, he rent his garments, and put hair-cloth upon his fleſh, and faſted and ſlept in ſack-cloth, and walked with his head caſt down.

28 And the word of the Lord came to Elias the Theſbite, ſaying:

29 Haſt thou not ſeen Achab humbled before me? therefore, becauſe he hath humbled himſelf for my ſake, I will not bring the evil in his days, || but in his ſons days will I bring the evil upon his houſe. || 4 Kings 9. 26.

Achab believing his falſe prophets, rather than Micheas, is ſlain in Ramoth-Galaad. Ochozias ſucceedeth him. Good king Joſaphat dieth, and his ſon Joram ſucceedeth him.

2 Par. 18. 1. A. M. 3107. Ante C. 897. AND there paſſed three years without war between Syria and Iſrael.

2 And in the third year, Joſaphat king of Juda came down to the king of Iſrael.

3 (And the king of Iſrael ſaid to his ſervants: Know ye not that Ramoth-Galaad is ours, and we neglect to take it out of the hand of the king of Syria?)

4 And he ſaid to Joſaphat: Wilt thou come with me to battle to Ramoth-Galaad?

5 And Joſaphat ſaid to the king of Iſrael: As I am, ſo art thou: my people and thy people are one: and my horſemen, thy horſemen. And Joſaphat ſaid to the king of Iſrael: Inquire, I beſeech thee, this day the word of the Lord.

6 Then the king of Iſrael aſſembled the prophets, about four hundred men, and he ſaid to them: Shall I go to Ramoth-Galaad to fight, or ſhall I forbear? They anſwered: Go up, and the Lord will deliver it into the hand of the king.

7 And Joſaphat ſaid: Is there not here ſome prophet of the Lord, that we may inquire by him?

8 And the king of Iſrael ſaid to Joſaphat: There is one man left, by whom we may inquire of the Lord: Micheas the ſon of Jemla, but I hate him, for he doth not propheſy good to me, but evil. And Joſaphat ſaid: Speak not ſo, O king.

9 Then the king of Iſrael called an eunuch, and ſaid to him: Make haſte, and bring hither Micheas the ſon of Jemla.

10 And the king of Iſrael, and Joſaphat king of Juda, ſat each on his throne clothed with royal robes, in a court by the entrance of the gate of Samaria, and all the prophets propheſied before them.

11 And Sedecias the ſon of Chanaana made himſelf horns of iron, and ſaid: Thus ſaith the Lord: With theſe ſhalt thou puſh Syria, till thou deſtroy it.

12 And all the prophets propheſied in like manner, ſaying: Go up to Ramoth-Galaad, and proſper, for the Lord will deliver it into the king's hands.

13 And the meſſenger, that went to call Micheas, ſpoke to him, ſaying: Behold the words of the prophets with one mouth declare good things to the king: let thy word therefore be like to theirs, and ſpeak that which is good.

14 But Micheas ſaid to him: As the Lord liveth, whatſoever the Lord ſhall ſay to me, that will I ſpeak.

15 So he came to the king, and the king ſaid to him: Micheas, ſhall we go to Ramoth-Galaad to battle, or ſhall we forbear? He anſwered him: Go up, and proſper, and the Lord ſhall deliver it into the king's hands.

16 But the king ſaid to him: I adjure thee again and again, that thou tell me nothing but that which is true in the name of the Lord.

17 And he ſaid: I ſaw all Iſrael ſcattered upon the hills, like ſheep that have no ſhepherd; || and the Lord ſaid: Theſe have no maſter: let every man of them return to his houſe in peace. || Num. 27. 17. Mat. 9. 36.

18 (Then the king of Iſrael ſaid to Joſaphat: Did I not tell thee, that he propheſieth no good to me, but always evil?)

19 And he added and ſaid: Hear thou therefore the word of the Lord: I ſaw the Lord ſitting on his throne, and all the army of heaven ſtanding || by him on the right hand and on the left: || Joel 1. 6.

20 And the Lord ſaid: Who ſhall deceive Achab king of Iſrael, that he may go up, and fall at Ramoth-Galaad? And one ſpoke words of this manner, and another otherwiſe.

21 And there came forth a ſpirit, and ſtood before the Lord, and ſaid: I will de-

CHAP. XXII. VER. 15. Go up, &c. This was ſpoken ironically, and by way of jeſting at the flattering ſpeeches of the falſe prophets: and ſo the king underſtood it, as appears by his adjuring Micheas, in the following verſe, to tell him the truth, in the name of the Lord.

VER. 20. The Lord ſaid, &c. God ſtandeth not in need of any counſellor; nor are we to ſuppoſe that things paſs in heaven in the manner here deſcribed: but this repreſentation was made to the prophet, to be delivered by him in a manner adapted to the common ways and notions of men.

ceive him. And the Lord said to him: By what means?

22 And he said: I will go forth, and be a lying spirit in the mouth of all his prophets. And the Lord said: Thou shalt deceive him, and shalt prevail: ‖ go forth, and do so.

‖ Vide Mat. 8. 32. & Apoc. 20. 3.

23 Now therefore behold the Lord hath given a lying spirit in the mouth of all thy prophets that are here, and the Lord hath spoken evil against thee.

24 And Sedecias the son of Chanaana came, and struck Micheas on the cheek, and said: Hath then the spirit of the Lord left me, and spoken to thee?

25 And Micheas said: Thou shalt see in the day when thou shalt go into a chamber within a chamber to hide thyself.

26 And the king of Israel said: Take Micheas, and let him abide with Amon the governor of the city, and with Joas the son of Amalech,

27 And tell them: Thus saith the king: Put this man in prison, and feed him with bread of affliction, and water of distress, till I return in peace.

28 And Micheas said: If thou return in peace, the Lord hath not spoken by me. And he said: Hear, all ye people.

29 So the king of Israel, and Josaphat king of Juda went up to Ramoth-Galaad.

30 And the king of Israel said to Josaphat: Take armour, and go into the battle, and put on thy own garments. But the king of Israel changed his dress, and went into the battle.

31 And the king of Syria had commanded the two and thirty captains of his chariots, saying: You shall not fight against any, small or great, but against the king of Israel only.

32 So when the captains of the chariots saw Josaphat, they suspected that he was the king of Israel, and making a violent assault they fought against him: and Josaphat cried out.

33 And the captains of the chariots perceived that he was not the king of Israel, and they turned away from him.

34 And a certain man bent his bow, shooting at a venture, and chanced to strike the king of Israel between the lungs and the stomach. But he said to the driver of his chariot: Turn thy hand, and carry me out of the army, for I am grievously wounded.

35 And the battle was fought that day, and the king of Israel stood in his chariot against the Syrians, and he died in the evening: and the blood ran out of the wound into the midst of the chariot.

36 And the herald proclaimed through all the army before the sun set, saying: Let every man return to his own city, and to his own country.

38 ‖ And they washed his chariot in the pool of Samaria, and the dogs licked up his blood, and they washed the reins, according to the word of the Lord which he had spoken. ‖ Supra 21. 19.

39 But the rest of the acts of Achab, and all that he did, and the house of ivory that he made, and all the cities that he built, are they not written in the Book of the words of the days of the kings of Israel?

44 Nevertheless he took not away the high places: for as yet the people offered sacrifices and burnt incense in the high places.

45 And Josaphat had peace with the king of Israel.

46 But the rest of the acts of Josaphat, and his works, which he did, and his battles, are they not written in the Book of the words of the days of the kings of Juda?

47 And the remnant also of the effeminate, who remained in the days of Asa his father, he took out of the land.

48 And there was then no king appointed in Edom.

Ochozias sendeth to consult Beelzebub: Elias foretelleth his death: and causeth fire to come down from heaven, upon two captains and their companies.

* A. M. 3108. Ante C. 896. AND Moab rebelled against Israel, after the death of Achab.*

2 And Ochozias fell through the lattices of his upper chamber which he had in Samaria, and was sick: and he sent messengers, saying to them: Go, consult Beelzebub the god of Accaron, whether I shall recover of this my illness.

3 And an Angel of the Lord spoke to Elias the Thesbite, saying: Arise, and go up to meet the messengers of the king of Samaria, and say to them: Is there not a God in Israel, that ye go to consult Beelzebub the god of Accaron?

4 Wherefore thus saith the Lord: From the bed, on which thou art gone up, thou shalt not come down, but thou shalt surely die. And Elias went away.

5 And the messengers turned back to Ochozias. And he said to them: Why are you come back?

6 But they answered him: A man met us, and said to us: Go, and return to the king, that sent you, and you shall say to him: Thus saith the Lord: Is it because there was no God in Israel that thou sendest to Beelzebub the god of Accaron? Therefore thou shalt not come down from the bed, on which thou art gone up, but thou shalt surely die.

7 And he said to them: What manner of man was he who met you, and spoke these words?

8 But they said: A hairy man, with a girdle of leather about his loins. And he said: It is Elias the Thesbite.

9 And he sent to him a captain of fifty, and the fifty men that were under him. And he went up to him, and as he was sitting on the top of a hill, said to him: Man of God, the king hath commanded that thou come down.

10 And Elias answering, said to the captain of fifty: If I be a man of God, let fire come down from heaven, and consume thee, and thy fifty. And there came down fire

---

CHAP. I. VER. 10. Let fire, &c. Elias was inspired to call for fire from heaven upon these captains, who came to apprehend him; not out of a desire to gratify any private passion; but to punish the insult offered to religion, to confirm his mission, and to shew how vain are the efforts of men against God, and his servants, whom he willeth to protect.

from heaven, and consumed him, and the fifty that were with him.

11 And again he sent to him another captain of fifty men, and his fifty with him. And he said to him: Man of God, thus saith the king: Make haste and come down.

12 Elias answering, said: If I be a man of God, let fire come down from heaven, and consume thee, and thy fifty. And fire came down from heaven and consumed him, and his fifty.

13 Again he sent a third captain of fifty men, and the fifty that were with him. And when he was come, he fell upon his knees before Elias, and besought him and said: Man of God, despise not my life, and the lives of thy servants that are with me.

14 Behold fire came down from heaven, and consumed the two first captains of fifty men, and the fifties that were with them: but now I beseech thee to spare my life.

15 And the Angel of the Lord spoke to Elias, saying: Go down with him, fear not. He arose therefore, and went down with him to the king,

16 And said to him: Thus saith the Lord: Because thou hast sent messengers to consult Beelzebub the god of Accaron, as though there were not a God in Israel, of whom thou mightest inquire the word, therefore from the bed on which thou art gone up, thou shalt not come down, but thou shalt surely die.

17 So he died according to the word of the Lord which Elias spoke, and Joram his brother reigned in his stead, in the second * year of Joram the son of Josaphat king of Juda: because he had no son.

18 But the rest of the acts of Ochozias which he did, are they not written in the Book of the words of the days of the kings of Israel?

CHAP. II.

Eliseus will not part from Elias. The water of the Jordan is divided by Elias's cloak. Elias is taken up in a fiery chariot, and his double spirit is given to Eliseus. Eliseus healeth the waters by casting in salt. Boys are torn by bears for mocking Eliseus.

AND it came to pass, when the Lord would take up Elias into heaven by a whirlwind, that Elias and Eliseus were going from Galgal. A. M. 3108.

2 And Elias said to Eliseus: Stay thou here, because the Lord hath sent me as far as Bethel. And Eliseus said to him: As the Lord liveth, and as thy soul liveth, I will not leave thee. And when they were come down to Bethel,

3 The sons of the prophets, that were at Bethel, came forth to Eliseus, and said to him: Dost thou know that this day the Lord will take away thy master from thee? And he answered: I also know it: hold your peace.

4 And Elias said to Eliseus: Stay here because the Lord hath sent me to Jericho. And he said: As the Lord liveth, and as thy soul liveth, I will not leave thee. And when they were come to Jericho,

5 The sons of the prophets that were at Jericho, came to Eliseus, and said to him: Dost thou know that this day the Lord will take away thy master from thee? And he said: I also know it: hold your peace.

6 And Elias said to him: Stay here, because the Lord hath sent me as far as the Jordan. And he said: As the Lord liveth, and as thy soul liveth, I will not leave thee. And they two went on together,

7 And fifty men of the sons of the prophets followed them, and stood in sight at a distance: but they two stood by the Jordan.

8 And Elias took his mantle and folded it together, and struck the waters, and they were divided hither and thither, and they both passed over on dry ground.

9 And when they were gone over, Elias said to Eliseus: Ask what thou wilt have me to do for thee, before I be taken away from thee. And Eliseus said: I beseech thee that in me may be thy double spirit.

10 And he answered: Thou hast asked a hard thing: nevertheless if thou see me when I am taken from thee, thou shalt have what thou hast asked: but if thou see me not, thou shalt not have it.

11 And as they went on, walking and talking together, behold a fiery chariot, and fiery horses parted them both asunder: ‖ and Elias went up by a whirl-wind into heaven. ‖ Eccli. 48. 13. 1 Mac. 2. 58.

12 And Eliseus saw him, and cried: My father, my father, the chariot of Israel, and the driver thereof. And he saw him no more: and he took hold of his own garments, and rent them in two pieces.

VER. 17. The second year of Joram, &c. Counted from the time that he was associated to the throne by his father Josaphat.

CHAP. II. VER. 1. Heaven. By heaven here is meant the air, the lowest of the heavenly regions.

VER. 3. The sons of the prophets. That is, the disciples of the prophets; who seem to have had their schools, like colleges or communities, in Bethel, Jericho, and other places in the days of Elias and Eliseus.

VER. 9. Double spirit. A double portion of thy spirit,

13 And he took up the mantle of Elias, that fell from him: and going back he ſtood upon the bank of the Jordan,

14 And he ſtruck the waters with the mantle of Elias, that had fallen from him, and they were not divided. And he ſaid: Where is now the God of Elias? And he ſtruck the waters, and they were divided hither and thither, and Eliſeus paſſed over.

15 And the ſons of the prophets at Jericho, who were over againſt him, ſeeing it ſaid: The ſpirit of Elias hath reſted upon Eliſeus. And coming to meet him, they worſhipped him, falling to the ground,

16 And they ſaid to him: Behold, there are with thy ſervants fifty ſtrong men, that can go, and ſeek thy maſter, leſt perhaps the Spirit of the Lord hath taken him up and caſt him upon ſome mountain or into ſome valley. And he ſaid: Do not ſend.

17 But they preſſed him, till he conſented, and ſaid: Send. And they ſent fifty men: and they ſought three days but found him not.

18 And they came back to him: for he abode at Jericho, and he ſaid to them: Did I not ſay to you: Do not ſend.

19 And the men of the city ſaid to Eliſeus: Behold the ſituation of this city is very good, as thou my lord ſeeſt: but the waters are very bad, and the ground barren.

20 And he ſaid: Bring me a new veſſel, and put ſalt into it. And when they had brought it,

21 He went out to the ſpring of the waters, and caſt the ſalt into it, and ſaid: Thus ſaith the Lord: I have healed theſe waters, and there ſhall be no more in them death or barrenneſs.

22 And the waters were healed unto this day, according to the word of Eliſeus, which he ſpoke.

23 And he went up from thence to Bethel: and as he was going up by the way, little boys came out of the city and mocked him, ſaying: Go up thou bald-head, go up thou bald-head.

24 And looking back, he ſaw them, and curſed them in the name of the Lord: and there came forth two bears out of the foreſt, and tore of them two and forty boys.

25 And from thence he went to mount Carmel, and from thence he returned to Samaria.

CHAP. III.

The kings of Iſrael, Juda and Edom, fight againſt the king of Moab. They want water, which Eliſeus procureth without rain: and propheſieth victory. The king of Moab is overthrown, his city is beſieged: he ſacrificeth his firſt-born ſon: ſo the Iſraelites raiſe the ſiege.

AND Joram the ſon of Achab reigned over Iſrael in Samaria in the eighteenth year of * Joſaphat king of Juda. And he reigned twelve years. * A. M. 3108. Ante C. 896.

2 And he did evil before the Lord, but not like his father and his mother: for he took away the ſtatues of Baal, which his father had made.

3 Nevertheleſs he ſtuck to the ſins of Jeroboam the ſon of Nabat, who made Iſrael to ſin, nor did he depart from them.

4 Now Meſa king of Moab, nouriſhed many ſheep, and he paid to the king of Iſrael a hundred thouſand lambs, and a hundred thouſand rams with their fleeces.

5 And when Achab was dead, he broke the league which he had made with the king of Iſrael.

6 And king Joram went out that day from Samaria, and muſtered all Iſrael.

7 And he ſent to Joſaphat king of Juda, ſaying: The king of Moab is revolted from me, come with me againſt him to battle. And he anſwered: I will come up: he that is mine, is thine: my people, thy people: and my horſes, thy horſes.

8 And he ſaid: Which way ſhall we go up? But he anſwered: By the deſert of Edom.

9 * So the king of Iſrael, and the king of Juda, and the king of Edom went, and they fetcht a compaſs of ſeven days journey, and there was no water for the army, and for the beaſts, that followed them. * A. M. 3109. Ante C. 895.

10 And the king of Iſrael ſaid: Alas, alas, alas, the Lord hath gathered us three kings together, to deliver us into the hands of Moab.

11 And Joſaphat ſaid: Is there not here a prophet of the Lord, that we may beſeech

VER. 15. They worſhipped him, viz. With an inferior, yet religious veneration, not for any temporal, but ſpiritual excellency.

VER. 24. Curſed them. This curſe, which was followed by ſo viſible a judgment of God, was not the effect of paſſion, or of a deſire of revenging himſelf; but of zeal for religion, which was inſulted, by theſe boys, in the perſon of the prophet; and of a divine inſpiration; God puniſhing in this manner the inhabitants of Bethel (the chief ſeat of the calf-worſhip), who had trained up their children in a prejudice againſt the true religion and its miniſters.

the Lord by him? And one of the ſervants of the king of Iſrael anſwered: Here is Eliſeus the ſon of Saphat, who poured water on the hands of Elias.

12 And Joſaphat ſaid: The word of the Lord is with him. And the king of Iſrael, and Joſaphat king of Juda, and the king of Edom went down to him.

13 And Eliſeus ſaid to the king of Iſrael: What have I to do with thee: go to the prophets of thy father, and thy mother. And the king of Iſrael ſaid to him: Why hath the Lord gathered together theſe three kings, to deliver them into the hands of Moab?

14 And Eliſeus ſaid to him: As the Lord of hoſts liveth, in whoſe ſight I ſtand, if I did not reverence the face of Joſaphat king of Juda, I would not have hearkened to thee, nor looked on thee.

15 But now bring me hither a minſtrel. And when the minſtrel played, the hand of the Lord came upon him, and he ſaid:

16 Thus ſaith the Lord: Make the channel of this torrent full of ditches.

17 For thus ſaith the Lord: You ſhall not ſee wind, nor rain: and yet this channel ſhall be filled with waters, and you ſhall drink, you and your families, and your beaſts.

18 And this is a ſmall thing in the ſight of the Lord: moreover he will deliver alſo Moab into your hands.

19 And you ſhall deſtroy every fenced city, and every choice city, and ſhall cut down every fruitful tree, and ſhall ſtop up all the ſprings of waters, and every goodly field you ſhall cover with ſtones.

20 And it came to paſs in the morning, when the ſacrifices uſed to be offered, that behold, water came by the way of Edom, and the country was filled with water.

21 And all the Moabites hearing that the kings were come up to fight againſt them, gathered together all that were girded with a belt upon them, and ſtood in the borders.

22 And they roſe early in the morning, and the ſun being now up, and ſhining upon the waters, the Moabites ſaw the waters over-againſt them red, like blood,

23 And they ſaid: It is the blood of the ſword: the kings have fought among themſelves, and they have killed one another: go now Moab to the ſpoils.

24 And they went into the camp of Iſrael: but Iſrael riſing up defeated Moab, who fled before them. And they being conquerors, went and ſmote Moab.

25 And they deſtroyed the cities: and they filled every goodly field, every man caſting his ſtone: and they ſtopt up all the ſprings of waters: and cut down all the trees that bore fruit, ſo that Brick-walls only remained: and the city was beſet by the ſlingers, and a great part thereof deſtroyed.

26 And when the king of Moab ſaw this, to wit, that the enemies had prevailed, he took with him ſeven hundred men that drew the ſword, to break in upon the king of Edom: but they could not.

27 Then he took his eldeſt ſon, that ſhould have reigned in his ſtead, and offered him for a burnt-offering upon the wall: and there was great indignation in Iſrael, and preſently they departed from him, and returned into their own country.

CHAP. IV.

Miracles of Eliſeus. He raiſeth a dead child to life.

NOW a certain woman of the wives of the prophets cried to Eliſeus, ſaying: Thy ſervant my huſband is dead, and thou knoweſt that thy ſervant was one that feared God, and behold the creditor is come to take away my two ſons to ſerve him. A. M. 3109. Ante C. 895.

2 And Eliſeus ſaid to her: What wilt thou have me do for thee? Tell me, what haſt thou in thy houſe? And ſhe anſwered: I thy handmaid have nothing in my houſe but a little oil, to anoint me.

3 And he ſaid to her: Go, borrow of all thy neighbours empty veſſels not a few.

4 And go in, and ſhut thy door, when thou art within, and thy ſons: and pour out thereof into all thoſe veſſels: and when they are full take them away.

5 So the woman went, and ſhut the door upon her, and upon her ſons: they brought her the veſſels, and ſhe poured in.

6 And when the veſſels were full, ſhe ſaid to her ſon: Bring me yet a veſſel. And he anſwered: I have no more. And the oil ſtood.

7 And ſhe came, and told the man of God. And he ſaid: Go, ſell the oil, and pay thy creditor: and thou and thy ſons live of the reſt.

8 And there was a day when Eliſeus paſſed by Sunam: now there was a great woman there, who detained him to eat

---

CHAP. III. VER. 25. Brick walls only remained: Moabites. In Hebrew, Kir-Haraſeth.

It was the proper name of the capital city of the bread: and as he paſſed often that way, he turned into her houſe to eat bread.

9 And ſhe ſaid to her huſband: I perceive that this is a holy man of God, who often paſſeth by us.

10 Let us therefore make him a little chamber, and put a little bed in it for him, and a table, and a ſtool, and a candelſtick, that when he cometh to us he may abide there.

11 Now there was a certain day when he came and turned in to the chamber, and reſted there.

12 And he ſaid to Giezi his ſervant: Call this Sunamiteſs. And when he had called her, and ſhe ſtood before him,

13 He ſaid to his ſervant: Say to her: Behold thou haſt diligently ſerved us in all things, what wilt thou have me to do for thee? haſt thou any buſineſs, and wilt thou that I ſpeak to the king, or to the general of the army? And ſhe anſwered: I dwell in the midſt of my own people.

14 And he ſaid: What will ſhe then that I do for her? And Giezi ſaid: Do not aſk, for ſhe hath no ſon, and her huſband is old.

15 Then he bid him call her: And when ſhe was called, and ſtood before the door,

16 He ſaid to her: At this time, and this ſame hour, if life accompany, thou ſhalt have a ſon in thy womb. But ſhe anſwered: Do not, I beſeech thee, my lord, thou man of God, do not lie to thy handmaid.

17 And the woman conceived, and
* A. M. 3110. brought forth a ſon in the time, * and at the ſame hour, that Eliſeus had ſaid.

18 And the child grew. And on a certain day, when he went out to his father to the reapers, 19 He ſaid to his father: My head aketh, my head aketh. But he ſaid to his ſervant: Take him, and carry him to his mother.

20 And when he had taken him, and brought him to his mother, ſhe ſet him on her knees until noon, and then he died.

21 And ſhe went up and laid him upon the bed of the man of God, and ſhut the door: and going out,

22 She called her huſband, and ſaid: Send with me, I beſeech thee, one of thy ſervants, and an aſs that I may run to the man of God, and come again.

23 And he ſaid to her: Why doſt thou go to him? to-day is neither new moon nor ſabbath. She anſwered: I will go.

24 And ſhe ſaddled an aſs, and commanded her ſervant: Drive, and make haſte, make no ſtay in going. And do that which I bid thee.

25 So ſhe went forward, and came to the man of God to mount Carmel: and when the man of God ſaw her coming towards, he ſaid to Giezi his ſervant: Behold that Sunamiteſs.

26 Go therefore to meet her, and ſay to her: Is all well with thee, and with thy huſband, and with thy ſon? And ſhe anſwered: Well.

27 And when ſhe came to the man of God to the mount, ſhe caught hold on his feet: and Giezi came to remove her. And the man of God ſaid: Let her alone for her ſoul is in anguiſh, and the Lord hath hid it from me, and hath not told me.

28 And ſhe ſaid to him: Did I aſk a ſon of my lord? did I not ſay to thee: Do not deceive me?

29 Then he ſaid to Giezi: Gird up thy loins, and take my ſtaff in thy hand, and go. If any man meet thee, ſalute him not: and if any man ſalute thee, anſwer him not: and lay my ſtaff upon the face of the child.

30 But the mother of the child ſaid: As the Lord liveth, and as thy ſoul liveth, I will not leave thee. He aroſe, therefore, and followed her.

31 But Giezi was gone before them, and laid the ſtaff upon the face of the child, and there was no voice nor ſenſe: and he returned to meet him, and told him, ſaying: The child is not riſen.

32 Eliſeus therefore went into the houſe, and behold the child lay dead on his bed:

33 And going in he ſhut the door upon him, and upon the child, and prayed to the Lord.

34 And he went up, and lay upon the child: and he put his mouth upon his mouth, and his eyes upon his eyes, and his hands upon his hands: and he bowed himſelf upon him, and the child's fleſh grew warm.

35 Then he returned and walked in the houſe, once to and fro: and he went up, and lay upon him: and the child gaped ſeven times, and opened his eyes.

CHAP. IV. VER. 29. Salute him not. He that is ſent to raiſe to life the ſinner ſpiritually dead, muſt not ſuffer himſelf to be called off, or diverted from his enterprize, by the ſalutations or ceremonies of the world.

VER. 31. St. Auguſtine conſiders a great myſtery in this miracle wrought by the prophet Eliſeus, thus: By the ſtaff ſent by his ſervant is figured the rod of Moſes, or the Old Law, which was not ſufficient to bring mankind to life then dead in ſin. It was neceſſary that Chriſt himſelf ſhould come, and by taking on human nature, become fleſh of our fleſh, and reſtore us to life. In this Eliſeus was a figure of Chriſt, as it was neceſſary that he ſhould come himſelf to bring the dead child to life and reſtore him to his mother, who is here, in a myſtical ſenſe, a figure of the Church.

36 And he called Giezi, and ſaid to him: Call this Sunamiteſs. And ſhe being called went in to him: and he ſaid: Take up thy ſon.

37 She came and fell at his feet, and worſhipped upon the ground: and took up her ſon, and went out.

38 And Eliſeus returned to Galgal, and there was a famine in the land, and the ſons of the prophets dwelt before him. And he ſaid to one of his ſervants: Set on the great pot, and boil pottage for the ſons of the prophets.

39 And one went out into the field to gather wild herbs: and he found ſomething like a wild vine, and gathered of it wild gourds, of the field, and filled his mantle, and coming back he ſhred them into the pot of pottage, for he knew not what it was.

40 And they poured it out for their companions to eat: and when they had taſted of the pottage, they cried out, ſaying: Death is in the pot, O man of God. And they could not eat thereof.

41 But he ſaid: Bring ſome meal. And when they had brought it, he caſt it into the pot, and ſaid: Pour out for the people, that they may eat. And there was now no bitterneſs in the pot.

42 And a certain man came from Baalſaliſa bringing to the man of God bread of the firſt fruits, twenty loaves of barley, and new corn in his ſcrip. And he ſaid: Give to the people, that they may eat.

43 And his ſervant anſwered him: How much is this, that I ſhould ſet it before a hundred men? He ſaid again: Give to the people, that they may eat: for thus ſaith the Lord: They ſhall eat, and there ſhall be left.

44 So he ſet it before them: and they eat, and there was left according to the word of the Lord.

CHAP. V.

Naaman the Syrian is cleanſed of his leproſy. He profeſſeth his belief in one God, promiſing to ſerve him. Giezi taketh gifts of Naaman, and is ſtruck with leproſy.

NAAMAN, general of the army of the king of Syria, was a great man with his maſter, and honourable: for by him the Lord gave deliverance to Syria: and he was a valiant man and rich, but a leper.

2 Now there had gone out robbers from Syria, and had led away captive out of the land of Iſrael a little maid, and ſhe waited upon Naaman's wife.

3 And ſhe ſaid to her miſtreſs: I wiſh my maſter had been with the prophet, that is in Samaria: he would certainly have healed him of the leproſy which he hath.

4 Then Naaman went in to his lord, and told him, ſaying: Thus and thus ſaid the girl from the land of Iſrael.

5 And the king of Syria ſaid to him: Go, and I will ſend a letter to the king of Iſrael. And he departed, and took with him ten talents of ſilver, and ſix thouſand pieces of gold, and ten changes of raiment,

6 And brought the letter to the king of Iſrael, in theſe words: When thou ſhalt receive this letter, know that I have ſent to thee Naaman my ſervant, that thou mayeſt heal him of his leproſy.

7 And when the king of Iſrael had read the letter, he rent his garments, and ſaid: Am I God, to be able to kill and give life, that this man hath ſent to me, to heal a man of his leproſy? mark, and ſee how he ſeeketh occaſions againſt me.

8 And when Eliſeus the man of God had heard this, to wit, that the king of Iſrael had rent his garments, he ſent to him, ſaying: Why haſt thou rent thy garments? let him come to me, and let him know that there is a prophet in Iſrael.

9 So Naaman came with his horſes and chariots, and ſtood at the door of the houſe of Eliſeus:

10 And Eliſeus ſent a meſſenger to him, ſaying: Go, and waſh ſeven times in the Jordan, and thy fleſh ſhall recover health, and thou ſhalt be clean.

11 Naaman was angry, and went away, ſaying: I thought he would have come out to me, and ſtanding would have invoked the name of the Lord his God, and touched with his hand the place of the leproſy, and healed me.

12 Are not the Abana, and the Pharphar, rivers of Damaſcus, better than all the waters of Iſrael, that I may waſh in them, and be made clean? So as he turned, and was going away with indignation, 13 His ſervants came to him, and ſaid to him: Father, if the prophet had bid thee do ſome great thing, ſurely thou ſhouldſt have done it: how much rather what he now hath ſaid to thee: Waſh, and thou ſhalt be clean?

14 || Then he went down, and waſhed in || Luke 4. 27.

the Jordan ſeven times, according to the word of the man of God, and his fleſh was reſtored, like the fleſh of a little child, and he was made clean.

15 And returning to the man of God with all his train, he came, and ſtood before him, and ſaid: In truth I know there is no other God in all the earth, but only in Iſrael: I beſeech thee therefore take a bleſſing of thy ſervant.

16 But he anſwered: As the Lord liveth, before whom I ſtand, I will receive none. And when he preſſed him, he ſtill refuſed.

17 And Naaman ſaid: As thou wilt: but I beſeech thee, grant to me thy ſervant, to take from hence two mules burden of earth: for thy ſervant will not henceforth offer holocauſt, or victim to other gods, but to the Lord.

18 But there is only this, for which thou ſhalt intreat the Lord for thy ſervant, when my maſter goeth into the temple of Remmon, to worſhip: and he leaneth upon my hand, if I bow down in the temple of Remmon, when he boweth down in the ſame place, that the Lord pardon me thy ſervant for this thing.

19 And he ſaid to him: Go in peace. So he departed from him in the ſpring time of the earth.

20 But Giezi the ſervant of the man of God ſaid: My maſter hath ſpared Naaman this Syrian, in not receiving of him that which he brought: as the Lord liveth, I will run after him, and take ſome thing of him.

21 And Giezi followed after Naaman: and when he ſaw him running after him, he leapt down from his chariot to meet him, and ſaid: Is all well?

22 And he ſaid: Well: my maſter hath ſent me to thee, ſaying: Juſt now there are come to me from mount Ephraim, two young men of the ſons of the prophets: give them a talent of ſilver, and two changes of garments.

23 And Namaan ſaid: It is better that thou take two talents. And he forced him, and bound two talents of ſilver in two bags, and two changes of garments, and laid them upon two of his ſervants, and they carried them before him.

24 And when he was come, and now it was the evening, he took them from their hands, and laid them up in the houſe, and ſent the men away, and they departed.

25 But he went in, and ſtood before his maſter. And Eliſeus ſaid: Whence comeſt thou, Giezi? He anſwered: Thy ſervant went no whither.

26 But he ſaid: Was not my heart preſent, when the man turned back from his chariot to meet thee? So now thou haſt received money, and received garments, to buy olive-yards, and vineyards, and ſheep, and oxen, and men-ſervants, and maid-ſervants.

27 But the leproſy of Naaman ſhall alſo ſtick to thee, and to thy ſeed for ever. And he went out from him a leper as white as ſnow.

CHAP. VI.

Eliſeus maketh iron to ſwim upon the water: he leadeth the Syrians that were ſent to apprehend him into Samaria, where their eyes being opened, they are courteouſly entertained. The Syrians beſiege Samaria: the famine there cauſeth a woman to eat her own child. Upon this the king commandeth Eliſeus to be put to death.

AND the ſons of the prophets ſaid to Eliſeus: Behold the place where we dwell with thee is too ſtrait for us. A. M. 3115.

2 Let us go as far as the Jordan, and take out of the wood every man a piece of timber, that we may build us there a place to dwell in. And he ſaid: Go.

3 And one of them ſaid: But come thou alſo with thy ſervants. He anſwered: I will come.

4 So he went with them. And when they were come to the Jordan, they cut down wood.

5 And it happened, as one was felling ſome timber, that the head of the ax fell into the water: and he cried out, and ſaid: Alas, alas, alas, my lord, for this ſame was borrowed.

6 And the man of God ſaid: Where did it fall? and he ſhewed him the place. Then he cut off a piece of wood, and caſt it in thither: and the iron ſwam.

7 And he ſaid: Take it up. And he put out his hand, and took it.

8 And the king of Syria warred againſt

CHAP. V. VER. 15. A bleſſing. A preſent.

VER. 19. Go in peace. What the prophet here allowed, was not an outward conformity to an idolatrous worſhip; but only a ſervice which by his office he owed to his maſter; who on all public occaſions leaned on him: ſo that his bowing down when his maſter bowed himſelf down was not in effect adoring the idols: nor was it ſo underſtood by the ſtanders by, ſince he publicly profeſſed himſelf a worſhipper of the only true and living God, but it was no more than doing a civil office to the king his maſter, whoſe leaning upon him obliged him to bow at the ſame time that he bowed.

9 And the man of God ſent to the king of Iſrael, ſaying: Beware that thou paſs not to ſuch a place: for the Syrians are there in ambuſh.

10 And the king of Iſrael ſent to the place which the man of God had told him, and prevented him, and looked well to himſelf there not once nor twice.

11 And the heart of the king of Syria was troubled for this thing. And calling together his ſervants, he ſaid: Why do you not tell me who it is that betrays me to the king of Iſrael?

12 And one of his ſervants ſaid: No one, my lord O king: but Eliſeus the prophet, that is in Iſrael, telleth the king of Iſrael all the words, that thou ſpeakeſt in thy privy chamber.

13 And he ſaid to them: Go, and ſee where he is: that I may ſend, and take him. And they told him, ſaying: Behold he is in Dothan.

A. M. 3116. 14 Therefore he ſent thither horſes and chariots, and the ſtrength of an army: and they came by night, and beſet the city.

15 And the ſervant of the man of God riſing early, went out, and ſaw an army round about the city, and horſes and chariots: and he told him, ſaying: Alas, alas, alas, my lord, what ſhall we do?

16 But he anſwered: Fear not: for there are more with us than with them.

17 And Eliſeus prayed, and ſaid: Lord, open his eyes, that he may ſee. And the Lord opened the eyes of the ſervant, and he ſaw: and behold the mountain was full of horſes, and chariots of fire round about Eliſeus.

18 And the enemies came down to him: but Eliſeus prayed to the Lord, ſaying: Strike, I beſeech thee, this people with blindneſs. And the Lord ſtruck them with blindneſs, according to the word of Eliſeus.

19 And Eliſeus ſaid to them: This is not the way, neither is this the city: follow me, and I will ſhew you the man whom you ſeek. So he led them into Samaria.

20 And when they were come into Samaria, Eliſeus ſaid: Lord, open the eyes of theſe men, that they may ſee. And the Lord opened their eyes, and they ſaw themſelves to be in the midſt of Samaria.

21 And the king of Iſrael ſaid to Eliſeus, when he ſaw them: My father, ſhall I kill them?

22 And he ſaid: Thou ſhalt not kill them: for thou didſt not take them with thy ſword, or thy bow, that thou mayſt kill them: but ſet bread and water before them, that they may eat and drink, and go to their maſter.

23 And a great proviſion of meats was ſet before them, and they eat and drank, and he let them go, and they went away to their maſter, and the robbers of Syria came no more into the land of Iſrael.

24 And it came to paſs after theſe things, A. M. 3117. that Benadad king of Syria gathered together all his army, and went up, and beſieged Samaria.

25 And there was a great famine in Samaria: and ſo long did the ſiege continue, till the head of an aſs was ſold for fourſcore pieces of ſilver, and the fourth part of a cabe of pigeons dung, for five pieces of ſilver.

26 And as the king of Iſrael was paſſing by the wall, a certain woman cried out to him, ſaying: Save me, my lord O king.

27 And he ſaid: If the Lord doth not ſave thee: how can I ſave thee? out of the barn-floor, or out of the wine-preſs? And the king ſaid to her: What aileth thee? And ſhe anſwered:

28 This woman ſaid to me: Give thy ſon, that we may eat him to-day, and we will eat my ſon to-morrow.

29 So we boiled my ſon, and eat him. And I ſaid to her on the next day: Give thy ſon, that we may eat him. And ſhe hath hid her ſon.

30 When the king heard this, he rent his garments, and paſſed by upon the wall. And all the people ſaw the hair-cloth which he wore within next to his fleſh.

31 And the king ſaid: May God do ſo and ſo to me, and may he add more, if the head of Eliſeus the ſon of Saphat ſhall ſtand on him this day.

32 But Eliſeus ſat in his houſe, and the ancients ſat with him. So he ſent a man before: and before that meſſenger came, he ſaid to the ancients: Do you know that

CHAP. VI. VER. 18. Blindneſs. The blindneſs here ſpoken of was of a particular kind, which hindered them from ſeeing the objects that were really before them; and repreſented other different objects to their imagination: ſo that they no longer perceived the city of Dothan, nor were able to know the perſon of Eliſeus; but were eaſily led by him, whom they took to be another man, to Samaria. So that he truly told them, this is not the way, neither is this the city, &c. becauſe he ſpoke with relation to the way, and to the city, which was repreſented to them.

this son of a murderer hath sent to cut off my head? Look then, when the messenger shall come, shut the door, and suffer him not to come in: for behold the sound of his master's feet is behind him.

33 While he was yet speaking to them, the messenger appeared, who was coming to him. And he said: Behold, so great an evil is from the Lord: what shall I look for more from the Lord?

CHAP. VII.

Eliseus prophesieth a great plenty, which presently ensueth upon the sudden flight of the Syrians; of which four lepers bring the news to the city. The incredulous nobleman is trod to death.

A. M. 3119. AND Eliseus said: Hear ye the word of the Lord: Thus saith the Lord: Tomorrow about this time a bushel of fine flour shall be sold for a stater, and two bushels of barley for a stater, in the gate of Samaria.

2 Then one of the lords, upon whose hand the king leaned, answering the man of God, said: If the Lord should make floodgates in heaven, can that possibly be which thou sayest? And he said: Thou shalt see it with thy eyes, but shalt not eat thereof.

3 Now there were four lepers, at the entering in of the gate: and they said one to another: What mean we to stay here till we die?

4 If we will enter into the city, we shall die with the famine: and if we will remain here, we must also die: come, therefore, and let us run over to the camp of the Syrians. If they spare us, we shall live: but if they kill us, we shall but die.

5 So they arose in the evening, to go to the Syrian camp. And when they were come to the first part of the camp of the Syrians, they found no man there.

6 For the Lord had made them hear, in the camp of Syria, the noise of chariots, and of horses, and of a very great army: and they said one to another: Behold the king of Israel hath hired against us the kings of the Hethites, and of the Egyptians, and they are come upon us.

7 Wherefore they arose, and fled away in the dark, and left their tents, and their horses and asses in the camp, and fled, desiring to save their lives.

8 So when these lepers were come to the beginning of the camp, they went into one tent, and eat and drank: and they took from thence silver, and gold, and raiment, and went, and hid it: and they came again, and went into another tent, and carried from thence in like manner, and hid it.

9 Then they said one to another: We do not well: for this is a day of good tidings. If we hold our peace, and do not tell it till the morning, we shall be charged with a crime: come, let us go, and tell it in the king's court.

10 So they came to the gate of the city, and told them, saying: We went to the camp of the Syrians, and we found no man there, but horses, and asses tied, and the tents standing.

11 Then the guards of the gate went, and told it within in the king's palace.

12 And he arose in the night and said to his servants: I tell you what the Syrians have done to us: They know that we suffer great famine, and therefore they are gone out of the camp, and lie hid in the fields, saying: When they come out of the city we shall take them alive, and then we may get into the city.

13 And one of his servants answered: Let us take the five horses that are remaining in the city (because there are no more in the whole multitude of Israel, for the rest are consumed), and let us send and see.

14 They brought therefore two horses, and the king sent into the camp of the Syrians, saying: Go, and see.

15 And they went after them as far as the Jordan: and behold all the way was full of garments, and vessels, which the Syrians had cast away in their fright, and the messengers returned and told the king.

16 And the people going out pillaged the camp of the Syrians: and a bushel of fine flour was sold for a stater, and two bushels of barley for a stater, according to the word of the Lord.

17 And the king appointed that lord on whose hand he leaned, to stand at the gate: and the people trod upon him in the entrance of the gate; and he died, as the man of God had said, when the king came down to him.

18 And it came to pass according to the word of the man of God, which he spoke to the king, when he said: Two bushels of barley shall be for a stater, and a bushel of fine flour for a stater, at this very time tomorrow in the gate of Samaria.

19 When that lord answered the man of God, and said: Although the Lord should make floodgates in heaven, could this come to pass which thou sayest? And he said to him: Thou shalt see with thy eyes, and shalt not eat thereof.

20 And so it fell out to him as it was foretold, and the people trod upon him in the gate, and he died.

CHAP. VIII.

After seven years famine foretold by Eliseus, the Sunamites returning home, recovereth her lands, and revenues. Eliseus foresheweth the death of Benadad king of Syria, and the reign of Hazael. Joram's wicked reign in Juda. He dieth, and his son Ochozias succeedeth.

AND Eliseus spoke to the woman, ‖ whose son he had restored to life, saying: Arise, and go thou and thy household, and sojourn wheresoever thou canst find: for the Lord hath called a famine, and it shall come upon the land seven years. ‖ Supra 4. 37.

2 And she arose, and did according to the word of the man of God: and going with her household, she sojourned in the land of the Philistines many days.

A. M. 3120. 3 And when the seven years were ended, the woman returned out of the land of the Philistines, and she went forth to speak to the king for her house, and for her lands.

4 And the king talked with Giezi the servant of the man of God, saying: Tell me all the great things that Eliseus hath done.

5 And when he was telling the king how he had raised one dead to life, the woman appeared, whose son he had restored to life, crying to the king for her house, and her lands. And Giezi said: My lord O king, this is the woman, and this is her son, whom Eliseus raised to life.

6 And the king asked the woman: and she told him. And the king appointed her an eunuch, saying: Restore her all that is hers, and all the revenues of the lands, from the day, that she left the land, to this present.

7 Eliseus also came to Damascus, and Benadad king of Syria was sick: and they told him, saying: The man of God is come hither.

8 And the king said to Hazael: Take with thee presents, and go to meet the man of God, and consult the Lord by him, saying: Can I recover of this my illness?

9 And Hazael went to meet him, taking with him presents, and all the good things of Damascus, the burdens of forty camels. And when he stood before him, he said: Thy son Benadad the king of Syria hath sent me to thee, saying: Can I recover of this my illness?

10 And Eliseus said to him: Go tell him: Thou shalt recover: but the Lord hath shewn me that he shall surely die.

11 And he stood with him, and was troubled so far as to blush: and the man of God wept.

12 And Hazael said to him: Why doth my lord weep? And he said: Because I know the evil that thou wilt do to the children of Israel. ‖ Their strong cities thou wilt burn with fire, and their young men thou wilt kill with the sword, and thou wilt dash their children, and rip up their pregnant women. ‖ Infra 13. 7.

13 And Hazael said: But what am I thy servant a dog, that I should do this great thing? And Eliseus said: The Lord hath shewn me that thou shalt be king of Syria.

14 And when he was departed from Eliseus, he came to his master, who said to him: What said Eliseus to thee? And he answered: He told me: Thou shalt recover.

15 And on the next day, he took a blanket, and poured water on it, and spread it upon his face: and he died, and Hazael reigned in his stead.

16 In the fifth year of Joram son of Achab king of Israel, and of Josaphat king of Juda, reigned Joram son of Josaphat king of Juda.

17 ‖ He was two and thirty years old when he began to reign, and he reigned eight years in Jerusalem. ‖ 2 Par. 21. 5.

18 And he walked in the ways of the kings of Israel, as the house of Achab had walked: for the daughter of Achab was his wife: and he did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord.

19 ‖ But the Lord would not destroy Juda, for David his servant's sake, as he had promised him, to give him a light, and to his children always. ‖ 2 Kings 7. 16. ‡ Gen. 27. 40. 2 Par. 21. 8.

CHAP. VIII. VER. 10. Tell him: thou shalt recover. By these words the prophet signified that the king's disease was not mortal: and that he would recover, if no violence were used. Or he might only express himself in this manner, by way of giving Hazael to understand that he knew both what he would say and do; that he would indeed tell the king he should recover; but would be himself the instrument of his death.

being under Juda, and made themselves a king.

A. M. 3115. Ante C. 889. 21 And Joram came to Seira, and all the chariots with him: and he arose in the night, and defeated the Edomites that had surrounded him, and the captains of the chariots, but the people fled into their tents.

22 So Edom revolted from being under Juda, unto this day. Then Lobna also revolted at the same time.

23 But the rest of the acts of Joram, and all that he did, are they not written in the Book of the words of the days of the kings of Juda?

24 And Joram slept with his fathers, and was buried with them in the city of David, and Ochozias his son reigned in his stead.

¶ 2 Par. 22. 1. * A. M. 3119. 25 ¶ In the twelfth year of Joram son of Achab king of Israel, reigned * Ochozias son of Joram king of Juda.

26 Ochozias was two and twenty years old when he began to reign, and he reigned one year in Jerusalem: the name of his mother was Athalia the daughter of Amri king of Israel.

27 And he walked in the ways of the house of Achab: and he did evil before the Lord, as did the house of Achab: for he was the son-in-law of the house of Achab.

A. M. 3120. 28 He went also with Joram son of Achab, to fight against Hazael king of Syria in Ramoth Galaad, and the Syrians wounded Joram:

29 And he went back to be healed, in Jezrahel: because the Syrians had wounded him in Ramoth when he fought against Hazael king of Syria. And Ochozias the son of Joram king of Juda, went down to visit Joram the son of Achab in Jezrahel, because he was sick there.

CHAP. IX.

Jehu is anointed king of Israel, to destroy the house of Achab and Jezabel. He killeth Joram king of Israel, and Ochozias king of Juda. Jezabel is eaten by dogs.

A. M. 3120. AND Eliseus the prophet called one of the sons of the prophets, and said to him: Gird up thy loins, and take this little bottle of oil in thy hand, and go to Ramoth Galaad.

‖ 3 Kings 19. 16. 2 ‖ And when thou art come thither, thou shalt see Jehu the son of Josaphat the son of Namsi: and going in thou shalt make him rise up from amongst his brethren, and carry him into an inner chamber.

3 Then taking the little bottle of oil, thou shalt pour it on his head, and shalt say: Thus saith the Lord: I have anointed thee king over Israel. And thou shalt open the door and flee, and shalt not stay there.

4 So the young man the servant of the prophet went away to Ramoth Galaad,

5 And went in thither: and behold the captains of the army were sitting; and he said: I have a word to thee, O prince. And Jehu said: Unto whom of us all? And he said: To thee, O prince.

6 And he arose, and went into the chamber: and he poured the oil upon his head, and said: Thus saith the Lord God of Israel: I have anointed thee king over Israel, the people of the Lord.

7 And thou shalt cut off the house of Achab thy master, and I will revenge the blood of my servants the prophets, and the blood of all the servants of the Lord at the hand of Jezabel.

8 ‖ And I will destroy all the house of Achab, and I will cut off from Achab him that pisseth against the wall, and him that is shut up, and the meanest in Israel. ‖ 3 Kings 21. 21.

9 And I will make the house of Achab like ‖ the house of Jeroboam the son of Nabat, and like the house of † Baasa the son of Ahias. ‖ 3 Kings 15. 29. † 3 Kings 16. 3.

10 And the dogs shall eat Jezabel in the field of Jezrahel, and there shall be no one to bury her. And he opened the door, and fled.

11 Then Jehu went forth to the servants of his lord: and they said to him: Are all things well? why came this mad man to thee? And he said to them: You know the man, and what he said.

12 But they answered: It is false, but rather do thou tell us. And he said to them: Thus and thus did he speak to me: and he said: Thus saith the Lord: I have anointed thee king over Israel.

13 Then they made haste and taking every man his garment laid it under his feet, after the manner of a judgment-seat, and they sounded the trumpet, and said: Jehu is king.

14 So Jehu the son of Josaphat the son of Namsi conspired against Joram. ‖ Now Joram had besieged Ramoth Galaad, he and all Israel fighting with Hazael king of Syria: ‖ Supra 8. 28.

15 And was returned to be healed in Jezrahel of his wounds, for the Syrians had wounded him, when he fought with Hazael king of Syria. And Jehu said: If it please you, let no man go forth or flee out of the city, leſt he go, and tell in Jezrahel.

16 And he got up, and went into Jezrahel: for Joram was ſick there, and Ochozias king of Juda was come down to viſit Joram.

17 The watchman therefore, that ſtood upon the tower of Jezrahel, ſaw the troop of Jehu coming, and ſaid: I ſee a troop. And Joram ſaid: Take a chariot, and ſend to meet them, and let him that goeth ſay: Is all well?

18 So there went one in a chariot to meet him, and ſaid: Thus ſaith the king: Are all things peaceable? And Jehu ſaid: What haſt thou to do with peace? go behind and follow me. And the watchman told, ſaying: The meſſenger came to them, but he returneth not.

19 And he ſent a ſecond chariot of horſes: and he came to them, and ſaid: Thus ſaith the king: Is there peace? And Jehu ſaid: What haſt thou to do with peace? paſs, and follow me.

20 And the watchman told, ſaying: He came even to them, but returneth not: and the driving is like the driving of Jehu the ſon of Namſi, for he drives furiouſly.

21 And Joram ſaid: Make ready the chariot. And they made ready his chariot, and Joram king of Iſrael, and Ochozias king of Juda went out, each in his chariot, and they went out to meet Jehu, and met him in the field of Naboth the Jezrahelite.

22 And when Joram ſaw Jehu, he ſaid: Is there peace, Jehu? And he anſwered: What peace? ſo long as the fornications of Jezabel thy mother, and her many ſorceries are in their vigour.

23 And Joram turned his hand, and fleeing, ſaid to Ochozias: There is treachery, Ochozias.

24 But Jehu bent his bow with his hand, and ſhot Joram between the ſhoulders: and the arrow went out through his heart, and immediately he fell in his chariot.

25 And Jehu ſaid to Badacer his captain: Take him, and caſt him into the field of Naboth the Jezrahelite: for I remember, when I and thou ſitting in a chariot followed Achab this man's father, that the Lord laid this burden upon him, ſaying:

‖ 3 Kings 21. 24

26 ‖ If I do not requite thee in this field, ſaith the Lord, for the blood of Naboth, and for the blood of his children, which I ſaw yeſterday, ſaith the Lord. So now take him, and caſt him into the field, according to the word of the Lord.

27 But Ochozias king of Juda ſeeing this, fled by the way of the garden-houſe: and Jehu purſued him, and ſaid: Strike him alſo in his chariot. And they ſtruck him in the going up to Gaver, which is by Jeblaam: and he fled into Mageddo, and died there.

28 And his ſervants laid him upon his chariot, and carried him to Jeruſalem: and they buried him in his ſepulchre with his fathers in the city of David.

29 In the eleventh year of Joram the ſon of Achab, Ochozias reigned over Juda,

30 And Jehu came into Jezrahel. But Jezabel hearing of his coming in, painted her face with ſtibic ſtone, and adorned her head, and looked out of a window

31 At Jehu coming in at the gate, and ſaid: ‖ Can there be peace for Zambri, that hath killed his maſter? ‖ 3 Kings 16. 10.

32 And Jehu lifted up his face to the window, and ſaid: Who is this? And two or three eunuchs bowed down to him.

33 And he ſaid to them: Throw her down headlong; and they threw her down, and the wall was ſprinkled with her blood, and the hoofs of the horſes trod upon her.

34 And when he was come in, to eat, and to drink, he ſaid: Go, and ſee after that curſed woman, and bury her: becauſe ſhe is a king's daughter.

35 And when they went to bury her, they found nothing but the ſkull, and the feet, and the extremities of her hands.

36 And coming back they told him. And Jehu ſaid: ‖ It is the word of the Lord, which he ſpoke by his ſervant Elias the Theſbite, ſaying: In the field of Jezrahel the dogs ſhall eat the fleſh of Jezabel, ‖ 3 Kings 21. 23.

37 And the fleſh of Jezabel ſhall be as dung upon the face of the earth in the field of Jezrahel, ſo that they who paſs by ſhall ſay: Is this that ſame Jezabel?

CHAP. X.

Jehu deſtroyeth the houſe of Achab: aboliſheth the worſhip of Baal, and killeth the worſhippers: but ſticks to the calves of Jeroboam. Iſrael is afflicted by the Syrians.

AND Achab had ſeventy ſons in Samaria: ſo Jehu wrote letters, and ſent to Samaria, to the chief men of the city, and to the ancients, and to them that brought up Achab's children, ſaying: A. M. 3120. Ante C. 884.

2 As ſoon as you receive theſe letters, ye that have your maſter's ſons, and chariots, and horſes, and fenced cities, and armour,

3 Chooſe the beſt, and him that ſhall pleaſe you moſt of your maſter's ſons, and ſet him on his father's throne, and fight for the houſe of your maſter.

4 But they were exceedingly afraid, and ſaid: Behold two kings could not ſtand before him, and how ſhall we be able to reſiſt?

5 Therefore the overſeers of the houſe, and the rulers of the city, and the ancients, and the tutors ſent to Jehu, ſaying: We are thy ſervants, whatſoever thou ſhalt command us we will do, neither will we make us a king: do thou all that pleaſeth thee.

6 And he wrote letters the ſecond time to them, ſaying: If you be mine, and will obey me, take the heads of the ſons of your maſter, and come to me to Jezrahel by to-morrow this time. Now the king's ſons, being ſeventy men, were brought up with the chief men of the city.

7 And when the letters came to them, they took the king's ſons, and ſlew ſeventy perſons, and put their heads in baſkets, and ſent them to him to Jezrahel.

8 And a meſſenger came, and told him, ſaying: They have brought the heads of the king's ſons. And he ſaid: Lay ye them in two heaps by the entering in of the gate until the morning.

9 And when it was light, he went out, and ſtanding ſaid to all the people: You are juſt: if I conſpired againſt my maſter, and ſlew him, who hath ſlain all theſe?

‖ 3 Kings 21. 29.

10 ‖ See therefore now that there hath not fallen to the ground any of the words of the Lord, which the Lord ſpoke concerning the houſe of Achab, and the Lord hath done that which he ſpoke in the hand of his ſervant Elias.

11 So Jehu ſlew all that were left of the houſe of Achab in Jezrahel, and all his chief men, and his friends, and his prieſts, till there were no remains left of him.

12 And he aroſe, and went to Samaria: and when he was come to the ſhepherds cabin in the way,

13 He met with the brethren of Ochozias king of Juda, and he ſaid to them: Who are you? And they anſwered: We are the brethren of Ochozias, and are come down to ſalute the ſons of the king, and the ſons of the queen.

14 And he ſaid: Take them alive. And they took them alive, and killed them at the pit by the cabin, two and forty men, and he left not any of them.

15 And when he was departed thence, he found Jonadab the ſon of Rechab coming to meet him, and he bleſſed him. And he ſaid to him: Is thy heart right as my heart is with thy heart? And Jonadab ſaid: It is. If it be, ſaid he, give me thy hand. He gave him his hand. And he lifted him up to him into the chariot,

16 And ſaid to him: Come with me, and ſee my zeal for the Lord. So he made him ride in his chariot,

17 And brought him into Samaria. And he ſlew all that were left of Achab in Samaria, to a man, according to the word of the Lord which he ſpoke by Elias.

18 And Jehu gathered together all the people, and ſaid to them: ‖ Achab worſhipped Baal a little, but I will worſhip him more.

‖ 3 Kings 16. 31.

19 Now therefore call to me all the prophets of Baal, and all his ſervants, and all his prieſts: let none be wanting, for I have a great ſacrifice to offer to Baal: whoſoever ſhall be wanting ſhall not live. Now Jehu did this craftily, that he might deſtroy the worſhippers of Baal.

20 And he ſaid: Proclaim a feſtival for Baal. And he called,

21 And he ſent into all the borders of Iſrael, and all the ſervants of Baal came: there was not one left that did not come. And they went into the temple of Baal: and the houſe of Baal was filled, from one end to the other.

22 And he ſaid to them that were over the wardrobe: Bring forth garments for all the ſervants of Baal. And they brought them forth garments.

23 And Jehu and Jonadab the ſon of Rechab went to the temple of Baal, and ſaid to the worſhippers of Baal: Search, and ſee that there be not any with you of the ſervants of the Lord, but that there be the ſervants of Baal only.

24 And they went in to offer ſacrifices and burnt-offerings: but Jehu had prepared him fourſcore men without, and ſaid to them: If any of the men eſcape, whom I have brought into your hands, he that letteth him go ſhall anſwer life for life.

25 And it came to paſs, when the burnt-offering was ended, that Jehu commanded his ſoldiers and captains, ſaying: Go in, and kill them, let none eſcape. And the ſoldiers and captains ſlew them with the edge of the ſword, and caſt them out: and they went into the city of the temple of Baal,

26 And brought the ſtatue out of Baal's temple, and burnt it,

27 And broke it in pieces. They deſtroyed alſo the temple of Baal, and made a jakes in its place unto this day.

28 So Jehu deſtroyed Baal out of Iſrael,

CHAP. X. VER. 18. I will worſhip him more. Jehu ſinned in thus pretending to worſhip Baal, and cauſing ſacrifice to be offered to him: becauſe evil is not to be done, that good may come of it. Rom. iii. 8.

29 But yet he departed not from the ſins of Jeroboam the ſon of Nabat, who made Iſrael to ſin, nor did he forſake the golden calves that were in Bethel and Dan.

30 And the Lord ſaid to Jehu: Becauſe thou haſt diligently executed that which was right and pleaſing in my eyes, and haſt done to the houſe of Achab according to all ‖ Infra 15. 12. that was in my heart: ‖ thy children ſhall ſit upon the throne of Iſrael to the fourth generation.

31 But Jehu took no heed to walk in the law of the Lord the God of Iſrael with all his heart: for he departed not from the ſins of Jeroboam, who had made Iſrael to ſin.

32 In thoſe days the Lord began to be weary of Iſrael: and Hazael ravaged them in all the coaſts of Iſrael, 33 From the Jordan eaſtward, all the land of Galaad, and Gad, and Ruben, and Manaſſes, from Aroer, which is upon the torrent Arnon, and Galaad, and Baſan.

34 But the reſt of the acts of Jehu, and all that he did, and his ſtrength, are they not written in the Book of the words of the days of the kings of Iſrael?

35 And Jehu ſlept with his fathers, and they buried him in Samaria: and Joachaz his ſon reigned in his ſtead.

36 And the time that Jehu reigned over Iſrael, in Samaria, was eight and twenty years.

CHAP. XI.

Athalia's uſurpation and tyranny. Joas is made king. Athalia is ſlain.

A. M. 3120. 2 Par. 22. 10. AND Athalia the mother of Ochozias ſeeing that her ſon was dead, aroſe, and ſlew all the royal ſeed.

2 But Joſaba the daughter of king Joram, ſiſter of Ochozias, took Joas the ſon of Ochozias, and ſtole him from among the king's ſons that were ſlain, out of the bed-chamber with his nurſe: and hid him from the face of Athalia, ſo that he was not ſlain.

3 And he was with her ſix years hid in the houſe of the Lord. And Athalia reigned over the land.

‖ 2 Par. 23. 1. A. M. 3126. Ante C. 878. 4 ‖ And in the ſeventh year Joiada ſent, and taking the centurions and the ſoldiers, brought them in to him into the temple of the Lord, and made a covenant with them: and taking an oath of them in the houſe of the Lord, ſhewed them the king's ſon:

5 And he commanded them, ſaying: This is the thing that you muſt do:

6 Let a third part of you go in on the ſabbath, and keep the watch of the king's houſe. And let a third part be at the gate of Sur: and let a third part be at the gate behind the dwelling of the ſhield-bearers: and you ſhall keep the watch of the houſe of Meſſa.

7 But let two parts of you all that go forth on the ſabbath, keep the watch of the houſe of the Lord about the king.

8 And you ſhall compaſs him round about, having weapons in your hands: and if any man ſhall enter the precinct of the temple, let him be ſlain: and you ſhall be with the king coming in and going out.

9 And the centurions did according to all things that Joiada the prieſt had commanded them: and taking every one their men, that went in on the ſabbath, with them that went out in the ſabbath, came to Joiada the prieſt.

10 And he gave them the ſpears, and the arms of king David, which were in the houſe of the Lord.

11 And they ſtood, having every one their weapons in their hands, from the right ſide of the temple, unto the left ſide of the altar, and of the temple, about the king.

12 And he brought forth the king's ſon, and put the diadem upon him, and the teſtimony: and they made him king, and anointed him: and clapping their hands, they ſaid: God ſave the king.

13 And Athalia heard the noiſe of the people running: and going in to the people into the temple of the Lord,

14 She ſaw the king ſtanding upon a tribunal, as the manner was, and the ſingers, and the trumpets near him, and all the people of the land rejoicing, and ſounding the trumpets: and ſhe rent her garments, and cried: A conſpiracy, a conſpiracy.

15 But Joiada commanded the centurions that were over the army, and ſaid to them: Have her forth without the precinct of the temple, and whoſoever ſhall follow her, let him be ſlain with the ſword. For the prieſt had ſaid: Let her not be ſlain in the temple of the Lord.

16 And they laid hands on her: and thruſt her out by the way by which the horſes go in, by the palace, and ſhe was ſlain there.

17 And Joiada made a covenant between the Lord, and the king, and the people, that they ſhould be the people of the Lord, and between the king and the people.

18 And all the people of the land went into the temple of Baal, and broke down his altars, and his images they broke in pieces thoroughly: they ſlew alſo Mathan the prieſt of Baal before the altar. And the prieſt ſet guards in the houſe of the Lord.

19 And he took the centurions, and the bands of the Cerethi and the Phelethi, and all the people of the land, and they brought the king from the houſe of the Lord: and they came by the way of the gate of the ſhield-bearers into the palace, and he ſat on the throne of the kings.

20 And all the people of the land rejoiced, and the city was quiet: but Athalia was ſlain with the ſword in the king's houſe.

21 Now Joas was ſeven years old, when he began to reign.

CHAP. XII.

The temple is repaired. Hazael is bought off from attacking Jeruſalem. Joas is ſlain.

A. M. 3126. IN the ſeventh year of Jehu Joas began to reign: and he reigned forty years in Jeruſalem. The name of his mother was Sebia of Berſabee.

2 And Joas did that which was right before the Lord all the days that Joiada the prieſt taught him.

3 But yet he took not away the high places: for the people ſtill ſacrificed and burnt incenſe in the high places.

* A. M. 3147. Ante C. 857. 4 And Joas ſaid to the prieſts: * All the money of the ſanctified things, which is brought into the temple of the Lord by thoſe that paſs, which is offered for the price of a ſoul, and which of their own accord, and of their own free heart they bring into the temple of the Lord:

5 Let the prieſts take it according to their order, and repair the houſe, whereſoever they ſhall ſee any thing that wanteth repairing.

6 Now till the three and twentieth year of king Joas, the prieſts did not make the repairs of the temple.

* A. M. 3148. 7 And king * Joas called Joiada the high prieſt and the prieſts, ſaying to them: Why do you not repair the temple? Take you therefore money no more according to your order, but reſtore it for the repairing of the temple.

8 And the prieſts were forbidden to take any more money of the people, and to make the repairs of the houſe.

9 And Joiada the high prieſt took a cheſt and bored a hole in the top, and ſet it by the altar at the right hand of them that came into the houſe of the Lord, and the prieſts that kept the doors put therein all the money that was brought to the temple of the Lord.

10 And when they ſaw that there was very much money in the cheſt, the king's ſcribe, and the high prieſt came up, and poured it out, and counted the money that was found in the houſe of the Lord:

11 And they gave it out by number and meaſure into the hands of them that were over the builders of the houſe of the Lord: and they laid it out to the carpenters, and the maſons that wrought in the houſe of the Lord,

12 And made the repairs: and to them that cut ſtones, and to buy timber, and ſtones, to be hewed, that the repairs of the houſe of the Lord might be completely finiſhed, whereſoever there was need of expences to uphold the houſe.

13 But there were not made of the ſame money for the temple of the Lord, bowls or fleſh-hooks, or cenſers, or trumpets, or any veſſel of gold and ſilver, of the money that was brought into the temple of the Lord,

14 For it was given to them that did the work, that the temple of the Lord might be repaired.

15 And they reckoned not with the men that received the money to diſtribute it to the workmen, but they beſtowed it faithfully.

16 But the money for treſpaſs, and the money for ſins, they brought not into the temple of the Lord, becauſe it was for the prieſts.

* A. M. 3165. Ante C. 839. 17 * Then Hazael king of Syria went up, and fought againſt Geth, and took it and ſet his face to go up to Jeruſalem.

2 Par. 24. 23. 18 Wherefore Joas king of Juda took all the ſanctified things, which Joſaphat, and Joram, and Ochozias his fathers the kings of Juda had dedicated to holy uſes, and which he himſelf had offered: and all the ſilver that could be found in the treaſures of the temple of the Lord, and in the king's palace: and ſent it to Hazael king of Syria, and he went off from Jeruſalem.

19 And the reſt of the acts of Joas, and all that he did, are they not written in the Book of the words of the days of the kings of Juda?

21 For Josachar the son of Semaath, and Jozabad the son of Somer his servant struck him, and he died: and they buried him with his fathers in the city of David, and Amasias his son reigned in his stead.

CHAP. XIII.

The reign of Joachaz and of Joas kings of Israel. The last acts and death of Eliseus the prophet: a dead man is raised to life by the touch of his bones.

A. M. 3148. Ante C. 856. IN the three and twentieth year of Joas son of Ochozias king of Juda, Joachaz the son of Jehu reigned over Israel in Samaria, seventeen years.

2 And he did evil before the Lord, and followed the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nabat, who made Israel to sin, and he departed not from them.

3 And the wrath of the Lord was kindled against Israel, and he delivered them into the hand of Hazael the king of Syria, and into the hand of Benadad the son of Hazael all days.

4 But Joachaz besought the face of the Lord, and the Lord heard him: for he saw the distress of Israel, because the king of Syria had oppressed them:

5 And the Lord gave Israel a saviour, and they were delivered out of the hand of the king of Syria: and the children of Israel dwelt in their pavilions as yesterday and the day before.

6 But yet they departed not from the sins of Jeroboam, who made Israel to sin, but walked in them: and there still remained a grove also in Samaria.

7 And Joachaz had no more left of the people than fifty horsemen, and ten chariots, and ten thousand footmen: for the king of Syria had slain them, and had brought them low as dust by threshing in the barn floor.

8 But the rest of the acts of Joachaz, and all that he did, and his valour, are they not written in the Book of the words of the days of the kings of Israel?

* A. M. 3165. Ante C. 839. 9 And * Joachaz slept with his fathers, and they buried him in Samaria: and Joas his son reigned in his stead.

10 In the seven and thirtieth year of * Joas king of Juda, Joas the son of Joachaz reigned over Israel in Samaria sixteen years, * A. M. 3163. Ante C. 841.

11 And he did that which is evil in the sight of the Lord: he departed not from all the sins of Jeroboam the son of Nabat, who made Israel to sin, but he walked in them.

12 But the rest of the acts of Joas, and all that he did, and his valour wherewith he fought against Amasias king of Juda, are they not written in the Book of the words of the days of the kings of Israel?

13 And Joas slept with his fathers: and Jeroboam sat upon his throne. But Joas was buried in Samaria with the kings of Israel.

14 Now Eliseus was sick of the illness whereof he died: and Joas king * of Israel went down to him, and wept before him, and said: O my father, my father, the chariot of Israel and the guider thereof. * A. M. 3165.

15 And Eliseus said to him: Bring a bow and arrows. And when he had brought him a bow, and arrows,

16 He said to the king of Israel: Put thy hand upon the bow. And when he had put his hand, Eliseus put his hands over the king's hands,

17 And said: Open the window to the east. And when he had opened it, Eliseus said: Shoot an arrow. And he shot. And Eliseus said: The arrow of the Lord's deliverance, and the arrow of the deliverance from Syria: and thou shalt strike the Syrians in Aphec, till thou consume them.

18 And he said: Take the arrows. And when he had taken them, he said to him: Strike with an arrow upon the ground. And he struck three times and stood still.

19 And the man of God was angry with him, and said: If thou hadst smitten five or six or seven times, thou hadst smitten Syria even to utter destruction: but now three times shalt thou smite it.

20 And Eliseus died, and they buried him. And the rovers from Moab came into the land the same year.

21 ‖ And some that were burying a man, saw the rovers, and cast the body into the sepulchre of Eliseus. And when it had touched the bones of Eliseus, the man came to life, and stood upon his feet. ‖ Eccli. 48. 14.

22 Now Hazael king of Syria afflicted Israel all the days of Joachaz:

CHAP. XIII. VER. 6. A grove: dedicated to the worship of Idols.

VER. 19. If thou hadst smitten, &c. By this it appears that God had revealed to the prophet that the king should overcome the Syrians as many times as he should then strike on the ground; but as he had not at the same time revealed to him how often the king would strike, the prophet was concerned to see that he struck but thrice.

23 And the Lord had mercy on them, and returned to them because of his covenant, which he had made with Abraham and Isaac, and Jacob: and he would not destroy them, nor utterly cast them away, unto this present time.

24 And Hazael king of Syria died, and Benadad his son reigned in his stead.

• A. M. 3168. 25 Now Joas * the son of Joachaz, took the cities out of the hand of Benadad the son of Hazael, which he had taken out of the hand of Joachaz his father by war, three times did Joas beat him, and he restored the cities to Israel.

CHAP. XIV.

Amasias reigneth in Juda: he overcometh the Edomites: but is overcome by Joas king of Israel. Jeroboam the second reigneth in Israel.

A. M. 3165. IN the second year of Joas son of Joachaz, king of Israel, reigned Amasias son of Joas king of Juda.

‖ 2 Par. 25. 1. 2 ‖ He was five and twenty years old when he began to reign: and nine and twenty years he reigned in Jerusalem: the name of his mother was Joadan of Jerusalem.

3 And he did that which was right before the Lord, but yet not like David his father. He did according to all things that Joas his father did:

4 But this only, that he took not away the high places: for yet the people sacrificed and burnt incense in the high places.

5 And when he had possession of the kingdom, he put his servants to death that had slain the king his father:

6 But the children of the murderers he did not put to death, according to that which is written in the Book of the law of Moses, wherein the Lord commanded, saying: ‖ The fathers shall not be put to death for the children, neither shall the children be put to death for the fathers: but every man shall die for his own sins.

‖ Deut. 24. 16. Ezech. 18. 20.

* A. M. 3177. Ante C. 827. 7 He slew of Edom * in the valley of the Salt-pits ten thousand men, and took the rock by war, and called the name thereof Jectehel, unto this day.

8 Then Amasias sent messengers to Joas, son of Joachaz, son of Jehu king of Israel, saying: Come let us see one another.

9 And Joas king of Israel sent again to Amasias king of Juda, saying: A thistle of Libanus sent to a cedar-tree, which is in Libanus, saying: Give thy daughter to my son to wife. And the beasts of the forest, that are in Libanus, passed and trod down the thistle.

10 Thou hast beaten and prevailed over Edom, and thy heart hath lifteth thee up: be content with the glory, and sit at home: why provokest thou evil, that thou shouldst fall, and Juda with thee.

11 But Amasias did not rest satisfied. So Joas king of Israel went up, and he and Amasias king of Juda saw one another in Bethsames a town in Juda.

12 And Juda was put to the worse before Israel, and they fled every man to their dwellings.

13 But Joas king of Israel took Amasias king of Juda the son of Joas, the son of Ochozias, in Bethsames, and brought him into Jerusalem: and he broke down the wall of Jerusalem, from the gate of Ephraim to the gate of the corner, four hundred cubits.

14 And he took all the gold, and silver, and all the vessels, that were found in the house of the Lord, and in the king's treasures, and hostages, and returned to Samaria.

15 But the rest of the acts of Joas, which he did, and his valour, wherewith he fought against Amasias king of Juda, are they not written in the Book of the words of the days of the kings of Israel?

16 And Joas slept with his fathers, and was buried in Samaria, with the kings of Israel: and Jeroboam his son reigned in his stead.

17 And Amasias the son of Joas king of Juda lived, after the death of Joas son of Joachaz king of Israel fifteen years.

18 And the rest of the acts of Amasias, are they not written in the Book of the words of the days of the kings of Juda?

19 Now they made a conspiracy against him in Jerusalem: and he fled to Lachis. * And they sent after him to Lachis, and killed him there.

* A. M. 3194. Ante C. 810.

20 And they brought him away upon horses, and he was buried in Jerusalem with his fathers in the city of David.

‖ 2 Par. 26. 1. 21 ‖ And all the people of Juda took Azarias, who was sixteen years old, and made him king instead of his father Amasias.

26 For the Lord ſaw the affliction of Iſrael that it was exceeding bitter, and that they were conſumed even to them that were ſhut up in priſon, and the loweſt perſons, and that there was no one to help Iſrael.

27 And the Lord did not ſay that he would blot out the name of Iſrael from under heaven, but he ſaved them by the hand of Jeroboam the ſon of Joas.

The reign of Azarias, and Joatham in Juda: and of Zacharias, Sellum, Manahem Phaceia and Phacee in Iſrael.

A. M. 3194. Ante C. 810. IN the ſeven and twentieth year of Jeroboam king of Iſrael reigned Azarias ſon of Amaſias, king of Juda.

2 He was ſixteen years old, when he began to reign, and he reigned two and fifty years in Jeruſalem: the name of his mother was Jechelia of Jeruſalem.

3 And he did that which was pleaſing before the Lord, according to all that his father Amaſias had done.

4 But the high places he did not deſtroy: for the people ſacrificed and burnt incenſe in the high places.

‖ 2 Par. 26. 21. 5 ‖ And the Lord ſtruck the king, ſo that he was a leper unto the day of his death, and he dwelt in a free houſe apart: but Joatham the king's ſon governed the palace, and judged the people of the land.

18 And he did that which was evil before the Lord: he departed not from the ſins of Jeroboam the ſon of Nabat, who made Iſrael to ſin all his days.

The wicked reign of Achaz: the kings of Syria and Iſrael war againſt him: he hireth the king of the Aſſyrians to aſſiſt him: He cauſeth an altar to be made after the pattern of that of Damaſcus.

IN the ſeventeenth year of Phacee the ſon of Romelia reigned Achaz the ſon of Joatham king of Juda.

VER. 30. In the twentieth year of Joatham. That is, in the twentieth year, from the beginning of Joatham's reign. The ſacred writer chuſes rather to follow here this date, than to ſpeak of the years of Achaz; who had not yet been mentioned.

I am thy ſervant, and thy ſon: come up, and ſave me out of the hand of the king of Syria, and out of the hand of the king of Iſrael, who are riſen up together againſt me.

8 And when he had gathered together the ſilver and gold that could be found in the houſe of the Lord, and in the kings treaſures, he ſent it for a preſent to the king of the Aſſyrians.

9 And he agreed to his deſire: for the king of the Aſſyrians went up againſt Damaſcus, and laid it waſte: and he carried away the inhabitants thereof to Cyrene, but Raſin he ſlew.

10 And king Achaz went to Damaſcus to meet Theglathphalaſar king of the Aſſyrians, and when he had ſeen the altar of Damaſcus, king Achaz ſent to Urias the prieſt a pattern of it, and its likeneſs according to all the work thereof.

11 And Urias the prieſt built an altar according to all that king Achaz had commanded from Damaſcus, ſo did Urias the prieſt, until king Achaz came from Damaſcus.

12 And when the king was come from Damaſcus, he ſaw the altar and worſhipped it: and went up and offered holocauſts, and his own ſacrifice.

13 And offered libations and poured the blood of the peace-offerings, which he had offered upon the altar.

14 But the altar of braſs that was before the Lord, he removed from the face of the temple, and from the place of the altar, and from the place of the temple of the Lord: and he ſet it at the ſide of the altar toward the north.

15 And king Achaz commanded Urias the prieſt ſaying: Upon the great altar offer the morning holocauſt, and the evening ſacrifice, and the king's holocauſt, and his ſacrifice, and the holocauſt of the whole people of the land, and their ſacrifices, and their libations: and all the blood of the holocauſt, and all the blood of the victim thou ſhalt pour out upon it: but the altar of braſs ſhall be ready at my pleaſure.

16 So Urias the prieſt did according to all that king Achaz had commanded him.

17 And king Achaz took away the graven baſes, and the laver that was upon them: and he took down the ſea from the brazen oxen that held it up, and put it upon a pavement of ſtone.

18 The Muſach alſo for the ſabbath, which he had built in the temple: and the king's entry from without he turned into the temple of the Lord, becauſe of the king of the Aſſyrians.

19 Now the reſt of the acts of Achaz, which he did, are they not written in the Book of the words of the days of the kings of Juda?

cities from the tower of the watchmen to the fenced city.

10 And they made them ſtatues and groves on every high hill, and under every ſhady tree:

11 And they burnt incenſe there upon altars after the manner of the nations which the Lord had removed from their face: and they did wicked things, provoking the Lord.

12 And they worſhipped abominations, concerning which the Lord had commanded them that they ſhould not do this thing.

13 And the Lord teſtified to them in Iſrael and in Juda by the hand of all the prophets and ſeers, ſaying: || Return from your wicked ways, and keep my precepts, and ceremonies according to all the law which I commanded your fathers: and as I have ſent to you in the hand of my ſervants the prophets. || Jerem. 25. 5.

14 And they hearkened not, but hardened their necks like to the neck of their fathers, who would not obey the Lord their God.

15 And they rejected his ordinances and the covenant that he made with their fathers, and the teſtimonies which he teſtified againſt them: and they followed vanities, and acted vainly: and they followed the nations that were round about them, concerning which the Lord had commanded them that they ſhould not do as they did.

16 And they forſook all the precepts of the Lord their God: and made to themſelves two molten calves, and groves, and adored all the hoſt of heaven: and they ſerved Baal.

17 And conſecrated their ſons, and their daughters through fire: and they gave themſelves to divinations, and ſoothſayings: and they delivered themſelves up to do evil before the Lord, to provoke him.

18 And the Lord was very angry with Iſrael, and removed them from his ſight, and there remained only the tribe of Juda.

19 But neither did Juda itſelf keep the commandments of the Lord their God: but they walked in the errors of Iſrael, which they had wrought.

20 And the Lord caſt off all the ſeed of Iſrael, and afflicted them and delivered them into the hand of ſpoilers, till he caſt them away from his face:

21 || Even from that time, when Iſrael was rent from the houſe of David, and made Jeroboam ſon of Nabat their king: for Jeroboam ſeparated Iſrael from the Lord, and made them commit a great ſin. || 3 Kings 12. 9.

22 And the children of Iſrael walked in all the ſins of Jeroboam, which he had done: and they departed not from them,

23 || Till the Lord removed Iſrael from his face, as he had ſpoken in the hand of all his ſervants the prophets: and Iſrael was carried away out of their land to Aſſyria, unto this day. || Jer. 25. 9.

24 And the king of the Aſſyrians brought people from Babylon, and from Cutha, and from Avah, and from Emath, and from Sepharvaim: and placed them in the cities of Samaria inſtead of the children of Iſrael: and they poſſeſſed Samaria, and dwelt in the cities thereof.

25 And when they began to dwell there, they feared not the Lord: and the Lord ſent lions among them, which killed them.

26 And it was told the king of the Aſſyrians, and it was ſaid: The nations which thou haſt removed, and made to dwell in the cities of Samaria, know not the ordinances of the God of the land: and the Lord hath ſent lions among them: and behold they kill them, becauſe they know not the manner of the God of the land.

27 And the king of the Aſſyrians commanded, ſaying: Carry thither one of the prieſts whom you brought from thence captive, and let him go, and dwell with them: and let him teach them the ordinances of the God of the land.

28 So one of the prieſts, who had been carried away captive from Samaria, came and dwelt in Bethel, and taught them how they ſhould worſhip the Lord.

29 And every nation made gods of their own, and put them in the temples of the high places, which the Samaritans had made, every nation in their cities where they dwelt.

30 For the men of Babylon made Sochothbenoth: and the Cuthites made Nergel: and the men of Emath made Aſima.

31 And the Hevites made Nebahaz and Tharthac. And they that were of Sepharvaim burnt their children in fire, to Adramelech and Anamelech the gods of Sepharvaim, 32 And nevertheleſs they worſhipped the Lord. And they made to themſelves, of the loweſt of the people, prieſts of the high places, and they placed them in the temples of the high places.

33 And when they worſhipped the Lord, they ſerved alſo their own gods according to the cuſtom of the nations out of which they were brought to Samaria:

34 Unto this day they followed the old manner: || they fear not the Lord, neither do they keep his ceremonies, and judgments, and law, and the commandment, which the Lord commanded the children of Jacob, whom he ſurnamed Iſrael ‖ :

‖ Gen. 32. 28.

35 With whom he made a covenant, and charged them, ſaying: You ſhall not fear ſtrange gods, nor ſhall you adore them, nor worſhip them, nor ſacrifice to them.

36 But the Lord your God, who brought you out of the land of Egypt with great power, and a ſtretched out arm, him ſhall you fear, and him ſhall you adore, and to him ſhall you ſacrifice.

37 And the ceremonies, and judgments, and law, and the commandment, which he wrote for you, you ſhall obſerve to do them always: and you ſhall not fear ſtrange gods.

38 And the covenant that he made with you, you ſhall not forget: neither ſhall ye worſhip ſtrange gods,

39 But fear the Lord your God, and he ſhall deliver you out of the hand of all your enemies.

40 But they did not hearken, but did according to their old cuſtom.

41 So theſe nations feared the Lord, but nevertheleſs ſerved alſo their idols: their children alſo and grandchildren, as their fathers did, ſo do they unto this day.

7 Wherefore the Lord alſo was with him, and in all things, to which he went forth, he behaved himſelf wiſely. And he rebelled againſt the king of the Aſſyrians, and ſerved him not.

14 Then Ezechias king of Juda ſent meſſengers to the king of the Aſſyrians to Lachis, ſaying: I have offended, depart from me: and all that thou ſhalt put upon me, I will bear. And the king of the Aſſyrians put a tax upon Ezechias king of Juda, of three hundred talents of ſilver, and thirty talents of gold.

15 And Ezechias gave all the ſilver that was found in the houſe of the Lord, and in the king's treaſures.

16 At that time Ezechias broke the doors of the temple of the Lord, and the plates of gold which he had faſtened on them, and gave them to the king of the Aſſyrians.

Helcias who was over the houſe, and Sobna the ſcribe, and Joahe the ſon of Aſaph the recorder.

19 And Rabſaces ſaid to them: Speak to Ezechias: Thus ſaith the great king, the king of the Aſſyrians: What is this confidence, wherein thou truſteſt?

20 Perhaps thou haſt taken counſel, to prepare thyſelf for battle. On whom doſt thou truſt, that thou dareſt to rebel?

21 Doſt thou truſt in Egypt a ſtaff of a broken reed, upon which if a man lean, it will break and go into his hand, and pierce it? ſo is Pharao king of Egypt, to all that truſt in him.

22 But if you ſay to me: We truſt in the Lord our God: is it not he, whoſe high places and altars Ezechias hath taken away: and hath commanded Juda and Jeruſalem: You ſhall worſhip before this altar in Jeruſalem?

23 Now therefore come over to my maſter the king of the Aſſyrians, and I will give you two thouſand horſes, and ſee whether you be able to have riders for them.

24 And how can you ſtand againſt one lord of the leaſt of my maſter's ſervants? Doſt thou truſt in Egypt for chariots and for horſemen?

25 Is it without the will of the Lord that I am come up to this place to deſtroy it? The Lord ſaid to me: Go up to this land, and deſtroy it.

26 Then Eliacim the ſon of Helcias, and Sobna, and Joahe ſaid to Rabſaces: We pray thee ſpeak to us thy ſervants in Syriac: for we underſtand that tongue: and ſpeak not to us in the Jews language, in the hearing of the people that are upon the wall.

27 And Rabſaces anſwered them, ſaying: Hath my maſter ſent me to thy maſter and to thee, to ſpeak theſe words, and not rather to the men that ſit upon the wall, that they may eat their own dung, and drink their urine with you?

28 Then Rabſaces ſtood, and cried out with a loud voice in the Jews language, and ſaid: Hear the words of the great king, the king of the Aſſyrians.

29 Thus ſaith the king: Let not Ezechias deceive you: for he ſhall not be able to deliver you out of my hand.

30 Neither let him make you truſt in the Lord, ſaying: The Lord will ſurely deliver us, and this city ſhall not be given into the hand of the king of the Aſſyrians.

31 Do not hearken to Ezechias. For thus ſaith the king of the Aſſyrians: Do with me that which is for your advantage, and come out to me: and every man of you ſhall eat of his own vineyard, and of his own fig-tree: and you ſhall drink water of your own ciſterns,

32 Till I come, and take you away to a land, like to your own land, a fruitful land, and plentiful in wine, a land of bread and vineyards, a land of olives, and oil and honey, and you ſhall live, and not die. Hearken not to Ezechias, who deceiveth you, ſaying: The Lord will deliver us.

33 Have any of the gods of the nations delivered their land from the hand of the king of Aſſyria?

34 || Where is the god of Emath, and of Arphad? where is the god of Sepharvaim, of Ana, and of Ava ||? have they delivered Samaria out of my hand? || Infra 19. 13. Iſaias 10. 9. & 37. 13. || Supra 17. 24.

35 Who are they among all the gods of the nations, that have delivered their country out of my hand, that the Lord may deliver Jeruſalem out of my hand?

36 But the people held their peace, and anſwered him not a word: for they had received commandment from the king that they ſhould not anſwer him.

37 And Eliacim the ſon of Helcias, who was over the houſe, and Sobna the ſcribe, and Joahe the ſon of Aſaph the recorder came to Ezechias, with their garments rent, and told him the words of Rabſaces.

CHAP. XIX.

Ezechias is aſſured of God's help by Iſaias the prophet. The king of the Aſſyrians ſtill threateneth and blaſphemeth. Ezechias prayeth, and God promiſeth to protect Jeruſalem. An Angel deſtroyeth the army of the Aſſyrians, their king returneth to Nineve, and is ſlain by his own ſons.

AND when king Ezechias heard theſe words, he rent his garments, and covered himſelf with ſack-cloth, and went into the houſe of the Lord. Iſaias 37. 1.

2 And he ſent Eliacim, who was over the houſe, and Sobna the ſcribe, and the ancients of the prieſts covered with ſack-cloths, to Iſaias the prophet the ſon of Amos, A. M. 3294. Ante C. 710.

3 And they ſaid to him: Thus ſaith Ezechias: This day is a day of tribulation, and of rebuke, and of blaſphemy: the children are come to the birth, and the woman in travail hath not ſtrength.

4 It may be the Lord thy God will hear all the words of Rabſaces, whom the king of the Aſſyrians his maſter hath ſent to reproach the living God, and to reprove with words, which the Lord thy God hath heard: and do thou offer prayer for the remnants that are found.

5 So the ſervants of king Ezechias came to Iſaias.

6 And Iſaias ſaid to them: Thus ſhall you ſay to your maſter: Thus ſaith the Lord: Be not afraid, for the words which thou haſt heard, with which the ſervants of the king of the Aſſyrians have blaſphemed me.

7 Behold I will ſend a ſpirit upon him, and he ſhall hear a meſſage, and ſhall return into his own country, and I will make him fall by the ſword in his own country.

8 And Rabſaces returned, and found the king of the Aſſyrians beſieging Lobna: for he had heard that he was departed from Lachis.

9 And when he heard of Theraca king of Ethiopia: Behold, he is come out to fight with thee: and was going againſt him, he ſent meſſengers to Ezechias, ſaying:

10 Thus ſhall you ſay to Ezechias king of Juda: Let not thy God deceive thee, in whom thou truſteſt: and do not ſay: Jeruſalem ſhall not be delivered into the hands of the king of the Aſſyrians.

11 Behold thou haſt heard what the kings of the Aſſyrians have done to all countries, how they have laid them waſte: and canſt thou alone be delivered?

12 Have the gods of the nations delivered any of them, whom my fathers have deſtroyed, to wit, Gozan, and Haran, and Reſeph, and the children of Eden, that were in Thelaſſar?

13 Where is the king of Emath, and the king of Arphad, and the king of the city of Sepharvaim, of Ana and of Ava?

14 And when Ezechias had received the letter of the hand of the meſſengers, and had read it, he went up to the houſe of the Lord, and ſpread it before the Lord,

15 And he prayed in his ſight, ſaying: O Lord God of Iſrael, who ſitteth upon the cherubims, thou alone art the God of all the kingdoms of the earth: thou madeſt heaven and earth:

16 Incline thy ear, and hear: open, O Lord, thy eyes, and ſee: and hear all the words of Sennacherib, who hath ſent to upbraid unto us the living God.

17 Of a truth, O Lord, the kings of the Aſſyrians have deſtroyed nations, and the lands of them all.

18 And they have caſt their gods into the fire: for they were not gods, but the works of men's hands of wood and ſtone, and they deſtroyed them.

19 Now therefore, O Lord our God, ſave us from his hand, that all the kingdoms of the earth may know, that thou art the Lord the only God.

20 And Iſaias the ſon of Amos ſent to Ezechias, ſaying: Thus ſaith the Lord the God of Iſrael: I have heard the prayer thou haſt made to me concerning Sennacherib king of the Aſſyrians.

21 This is the word, that the Lord hath ſpoken of him: The virgin the daughter of Sion hath deſpiſed thee, and laughed thee to ſcorn: the daughter of Jeruſalem hath wagged her head behind thy back.

22 Whom haſt thou reproached, and whom haſt thou blaſphemed? againſt whom haſt thou exalted thy voice, and lifted up thy eyes on high? againſt the holy one of Iſrael.

23 By the hand of thy ſervants thou haſt reproached the Lord, and haſt ſaid: With the multitude of my chariots I have gone up to the height of the mountains, to the top of Libanus, and have cut down its tall cedars, and its choice fir-trees. And I have entered into the furtheſt parts thereof, and the foreſt of its Carmel

24 I have cut down, and I have drunk ſtrange waters, and have dried up with the ſoles of my feet all the ſhut up waters.

25 Haſt thou not heard what I have done from the beginning? from the days of old I have formed it, and now I have brought it to effect: that fenced cities of fighting men ſhould be turned to heaps of ruin:

26 And the inhabitants of them, were weak of hand, they trembled and were confounded, they became like the graſs of the field, and the green herb on the tops of houſes, which withered before it came to maturity.

27 Thy dwelling and thy going out, and thy coming in, and thy way I knew before, and thy rage againſt me.

28 Thou haſt been mad againſt me, and thy pride hath come up to my ears: therefore I will put a ring in thy noſe, and a bit between thy lips, and I will turn thee back by the way, by which thou cameſt.

Ezechias being ſick is told by Iſaias that he ſhall die: but praying to God he obtaineth longer life, and in confirmation thereof receiveth a ſign by the ſun's returning back. He ſheweth all his treaſures to the embaſſadors of the king of Babylon: Iſaias reproving him for it foretelleth the Babyloniſh captivity.

2 Par. 32. 24. Iſa. 38. 1. A. M. 3291. Ante C. 713.

IN thoſe days Ezechias was ſick unto death: and Iſaias the ſon of Amos the prophet, came and ſaid to him: Thus ſaith the Lord God: Give charge concerning thy houſe, for thou ſhalt die, and not live.

2 And he turned his face to the wall, and prayed to the Lord, ſaying:

3 I beſeech thee, O Lord, remember how I have walked before thee in truth, and with a perfect heart, and have done that which is pleaſing before thee. And Ezechias wept with much weeping.

4 And before Iſaias was gone out of the middle of the court, the word of the Lord came to him, ſaying:

5 Go back, and tell Ezechias the captain of my people: Thus ſaith the Lord the God of David thy father: I have heard thy prayer, and I have ſeen thy tears: and behold I have healed thee, on the third day thou ſhalt go up to the temple of the Lord.

6 And I will add to thy days fifteen years: and I will deliver thee and this city out of the hand of the king of the Aſſyrians, and I will protect this city for my own ſake, and for David my ſervant's ſake.

7 And Iſaias ſaid: Bring me a lump of figs. And when they had brought it, and laid it upon his boil, he was healed.

8 And Ezechias had ſaid to Iſaias: What ſhall be the ſign that the Lord will heal me, and that I ſhall go up to the temple of the Lord the third day?

9 And Iſaias ſaid to him: This ſhall be the ſign from the Lord, that the Lord will do the word which he hath ſpoken: Wilt thou that the ſhadow go forward ten lines, or that it go back ſo many degrees?

10 And Ezechias ſaid: It is an eaſy matter for the ſhadow to go forward ten lines: and I do not deſire that this be done, but let it return back ten degrees.

11 And Iſaias the prophet called upon the Lord, and he brought the ſhadow ten degrees backwards by the lines, by which it had already gone down in the dial of Achaz.

12 ‖ At that time Berodach Baladan, the ſon of Baladan, king of the Babylonians ſent letters and preſents to Ezechias: for he had heard that Ezechias had been ſick. ‖ Iſa. 39. 1.

There was nothing in his houſe, nor in all his dominions that Ezechias ſhewed them not.

14 And Iſaias the prophet came to king Ezechias, and ſaid to him: What ſaid theſe men? or from whence came they to thee? And Ezechias ſaid to him: From a far country they came to me out of Babylon.

15 And he ſaid: What did they ſee in thy houſe? Ezechias ſaid: They ſaw all the things that are in my houſe: there is nothing among my treaſures that I have not ſhewn them.

16 And Iſaias ſaid to Ezechias: Hear the word of the Lord.

17 Behold the days ſhall come, that all that is in thy houſe, and that thy fathers have laid up in ſtore unto this day, ſhall be carried into Babylon: nothing ſhall be left, ſaith the Lord.

18 And of thy ſons alſo that ſhall iſſue from thee, whom thou ſhalt beget, they ſhall take away, and they ſhall be eunuchs in the palace of the king of Babylon.

5 And he built altars for all the hoſt of heaven in the two courts of the temple of the Lord.

6 And he made his ſon paſs through fire: and he uſed divination, and obſerved omens, and appointed pythons, and multiplied ſoothſayers to do evil before the Lord, and to provoke him.

‖ 2 Kings 7. 26. 3 Kings 8. 16. & 9. 5. 7 He ſet alſo an idol of the grove, which he had made, in the temple of the Lord: ‖ concerning which the Lord ſaid to David, and to Solomon his ſon: In this temple, and in Jeruſalem, which I have choſen out of all the tribes of Iſrael, I will put my name for ever.

8 And I will no more make the feet of Iſrael to be moved out of the land, which I gave to their fathers: only if they will obſerve to do all that I have commanded them according to the law which my ſervant Moſes commanded them.

9 But they hearkened not: but were ſeduced by Manaſſes, to do evil more than the nations which the Lord deſtroyed before the children of Iſrael.

10 And the Lord ſpoke in the hand of his ſervants the prophets, ſaying:

‖ Jer. 15. 4. 11 ‖ Becauſe Manaſſes king of Juda hath done theſe moſt wicked abominations, beyond all that the Amorrhites did before him, and hath made Juda alſo to ſin with his filthy doings:

13 And I will ſtretch over Jeruſalem the line of Samaria, and the weight of the houſe of Achab: and I will efface Jeruſalem, as tables are wont to be effaced, and I will eraſe and turn it, and draw the pencil often over the face thereof.

14 And I will leave the remnants of my inheritance, and will deliver them into the hands of their enemies: and they ſhall become a prey, and a ſpoil to all their enemies.

15 Becauſe they have done evil before me, and have continued to provoke me, from the day that their fathers came out of Egypt, even unto this day.

‖ Infra 24. 4. 16 Moreover ‖ Manaſſes ſhed alſo very much innocent blood, till he filled Jeruſalem up to the mouth: beſides his ſins, wherewith he made Juda to ſin, to do evil before the Lord.

20 And he did evil in the ſight of the Lord, as Manaſſes his father had done.

21 And he walked in all the way in which his father had walked: and he ſerved the abominations which his father had ſerved, and he adored them.

Joſias repaireth the temple. The book of the law is found, upon which they conſult the Lord, and are told that great evils ſhall fall upon them, but not in the time of Joſias.

‖ 2 Par. 34. 1. A. M. 3363. Ante C. 641. JOSIAS was eight years old when he began to reign, he reigned one and thirty years in Jeruſalem: the name of his mother was Idida, the daughter of Hadaia, of Beſecath.

2 And he did that which was right in the ſight of the Lord, and walked in all the ways of David his father: he turned not aſide to the right hand, or to the left.

* A. M. 3380. Ante C. 624. 3 And in the eighteenth year of * king Joſias, the king ſent Saphan the ſon of Aſſia, the ſon of Meſſulam, the ſcribe of the temple of the Lord, ſaying to him:

5 And let it be given to the workmen by the overſeers of the houſe of the Lord: and let them diſtribute it to thoſe that work in the temple of the Lord, to repair the temple:

6 That is, to carpenters and maſons, and to ſuch as mend breaches: and that timber may be bought, and ſtones out of the quarries, to repair the temple of the Lord.

7 But let there be no reckoning made with them of the money which they receive, but let them have it in their power, and in their truſt.

10 And Saphan the ſcribe told the king, ſaying: Helcias the prieſt hath delivered to me a book. And when Saphan had read it before the king, 11 And the king had heard the words of the law of the Lord, he rent his garments.

12 And he commanded Helcias the prieſt, and Ahicam the ſon of Saphan, and Achobor the ſon of Micha, and Saphan the ſcribe, and Aſaia the king's ſervant, ſaying:

13 Go and conſult the Lord for me, and for the people, and for all Juda, concerning the words of this book which is found: for the great wrath of the Lord is kindled againſt us, becauſe our fathers have not hearkened to the words of this book, to do all that is written for us.

14 So Helcias the prieſt, and Ahicam, and Achobor, and Saphan, and Aſaia went to Holda the propheteſs the wife of Sellum the ſon of Thecua, the ſon of Araas keeper of the wardrobe, who dwelt in Jeruſalem in the Second: and they ſpoke to her.

15 And ſhe ſaid to them: Thus ſaith the Lord the God of Iſrael: Tell the man that ſent you to me:

Josias readeth the law before all the people: They promise to observe it. He aboliſheth all idolatry, celebrateth the Phaſe: is ſlain in battle by the king of Egypt: The ſhort reign of Joachaz, in whoſe place Joakim is made king.

2 Par. 34. 29. A. M. 3380. Ante C. 689.

AND they brought the king word again what ſhe had ſaid. And he ſent: and all the ancients of Juda and Jeruſalem were aſſembled to him.

2 And the king went up to the temple of the Lord, and all the men of Juda, and all the inhabitants of Jeruſalem with him, the prieſts and the prophets, and all the people both little and great: and in the hearing of them all he read all the words of the book of the covenant, which was found in the houſe of the Lord.

3 And the king ſtood upon the ſtep: and made a covenant with the Lord, to walk after the Lord, and to keep his commandments, and his teſtimonies and his ceremonies, with all their heart, and with all their ſoul, and to perform the words of this covenant, which were written in that book: and the people agreed to the covenant.

4 And the king commanded Helcias the high prieſt, and the prieſts of the ſecond order, and the door-keepers, ‖ to caſt out of the temple of the Lord all the veſſels that had been made for Baal, and for the grove, and for all the hoſt of heaven: and he burnt them without Jeruſalem in the valley of Cedron, and he carried the aſhes of them to Bethel.

‖ Eccli 49. 3.

5 And he deſtroyed the ſoothſayers, whom the kings of Juda had appointed to ſacrifice in the high places in the cities of Juda, and round about Jeruſalem: them alſo that burnt incenſe to Baal, and to the ſun, and to the moon, and to the twelve ſigns, and to all the hoſt of heaven.

6 And he cauſed the grove to be carried out from the houſe of the Lord without Jeruſalem to the valley of Cedron, and he burnt it there, and reduced it to duſt, and caſt the duſt upon the graves of the common people.

7 He deſtroyed alſo the pavilions of the effeminate, which were in the houſe of the Lord, for which the women wove as it were little dwellings for the grove.

8 And he gathered together all the prieſts out of the cities of Juda: and he defiled the high places, where the prieſts offered ſacrifice, from Gabaa to Berſabee: and he broke down the altars of the gates that were in the entering in of the gate of Joſue governor of the city, which was on the left hand of the gate of the city.

9 However the prieſts of the high places came not up to the altar of the Lord in Jeruſalem: but only eat of the unleavened bread among their brethren.

10 And he defiled Topheth, which is in the valley of the ſon of Ennom: that no man ſhould conſecrate there his ſon or his daughter through fire to Moloch.

11 And he took away the horſes which the kings of Juda had given to the ſun, at the entering in of the temple of the Lord, near the chamber of Nathanmelech the eunuch, who was in Pharurim: and he burnt the chariots of the ſun with fire.

12 And the altars that were upon the top of the upper chamber of Achaz, which the kings of Juda had made, and the altars which Manaſſes had made in the two courts of the temple of the Lord, the king broke down: and he ran from thence, and caſt the aſhes of them into the torrent Cedron.

13 The high places alſo that were at Jeruſalem on the right ſide of the Mount of offence, ‖ which Solomon king of Iſrael had built to Aſtaroth the idol of the Sidonians, and to Chamos the ſcandal of Moab, and to Melchom the abomination of the children of Ammon, the king defiled.

‖ 3 Kings 11. 7.

14 And he broke in pieces the ſtatues, and cut down the groves: and he filled their places with the bones of dead men.

15 ‖ Moreover the altar alſo that was at Bethel, and the high place, which Jeroboam the ſon of Nabat, who made Iſrael to ſin, had made: both the altar, and the high place he broke down and burnt, and reduced to powder, and burnt the grove.

16 And as Joſias turned himſelf, he ſaw there the ſepulchres that were in the mount: and he ſent and took the bones out of the ſepulchres, and burnt them upon the altar, and defiled it according to the word of the Lord, which the man of God ſpoke, who had foretold theſe things.

17 ‖ And he ſaid: What is that monument which I ſee? And the men of that city anſwered: It is the ſepulchre of the man of God, who came from Juda, and foretold theſe things which thou haſt done upon the altar of Bethel.

19 Moreover all the temples of the high places which were in the cities of Samaria, which the kings of Israel had made to provoke the Lord, Josias took away: and he did to them according to all the acts that he had done in Bethel.

20 And he slew all the priests of the high places, that were there, upon the altars: and he burnt men's bones upon them: and returned to Jerusalem.

‖ 2 Par. 35. 1. A. M. 3381.

21 ‖ And he commanded all the people, saying: Keep the phase to the Lord your God, according as it is written in the book of this covenant.

22 Now there was no such a phase kept from the days of the judges, who judged Israel, nor in all the days of the kings of Israel, and of the kings of Juda,

23 As was this phase that was kept to the Lord in Jerusalem, in the eighteenth year of king Josias.

24 Moreover the diviners by spirits, and soothsayers, and the figures of idols, and the uncleannesses, and the abominations, that had been in the land of Juda and Jerusalem, Josias took away: that he might perform the words of the law, that were written in the book which Helcias the priest had found in the temple of the Lord.

25 There was no king before him like unto him, that returned to the Lord with all his heart, and with all his soul, and with all his strength, according to all the law of Moses: neither after him did there arise any like him.

26 But yet the Lord turned not away from the wrath of his great indignation, wherewith his anger was kindled against Juda: because of the provocations, wherewith Manasses had provoked him.

‖ Infra 24. 2.

27 ‖ And the Lord said: I will remove Juda also from before my face, as I have removed Israel: and I will cast off this city Jerusalem, which I chose, and the house, of which I said: My name shall be there.

30 And his servants carried him dead from Mageddo: and they brought him to Jerusalem, and buried him in his own sepulchre. And the people of the land took Joachaz the son of Josias: and they anointed him, and made him king in his father's stead.

‖ 2 Par. 36. 2.

31 ‖ Joachaz was three and twenty years old when he began to reign, and he reigned three months in Jerusalem: the name of his mother was Amital, the daughter of Jeremias of Lobna.

32 And he did evil before the Lord, according to all that his fathers had done.

33 And Pharao Nechao bound him at Rebla, which is in the land of Emath, that he should not reign in Jerusalem: and he set a fine upon the land, of a hundred talents of silver, and a talent of gold.

34 And Pharao Nechao made Eliacim the son of Josias king in the room of Josias his father: and turned his name to Joakim. And he took Joachaz away and carried him into Egypt, and he died there.

35 And Joakim gave the silver and the gold to Pharao, after he had taxed the land for every man, to contribute according to the commandment of Pharao: and he exacted both the silver and the gold of the people of the land, of every man according to his ability: to give to Pharao Nechao.

Jeruſalem is beſieged and taken by Nabuchodonoſor: Sedecias is taken: the city and temple are deſtroyed. Godolias, who is left governor, is ſlain. Joachin is exalted by Evilmerodach.

2 And the city was ſhut up and beſieged till the eleventh year of king Sedecias.

3 The ninth day of the month: and a famine prevailed in the city, and there was no bread for the people of the land.

4 And a breach was made into the city: and all the men of war fled in the night between the two walls by the king's garden (now the Chaldees beſieged the city round about), and Sedecias fled by the way that leadeth to the plains of the wilderneſs.

5 And the army of the Chaldees purſued after the king, and overtook him in the plains of Jericho: and all the warriors that were with him were ſcattered, and left him:

6 So they took the king, and brought him to the king of Babylon to Reblatha, and he gave judgment upon him.

7 And he ſlew the ſons of Sedecias before his face, and he put out his eyes, and bound him with chains, and brought him to Babylon.

8 In the fifth month, the ſeventh day of the month, that is, the nineteenth year of the king of Babylon, came Nabuzardan commander of the army, a ſervant of the king of Babylon, into Jeruſalem.

15 Moreover alſo the cenſers, and the bowls, ſuch as were of gold in gold: and ſuch as were of ſilver in ſilver, the general of the army took away.

These books are called by the Greek interpreters Paralipomenon (Παραλειπομενον), that is, of things left out or omitted; because they are a kind of a supplement of such things as were passed over in the books of the kings. The Hebrews call them Dibre Hajamin, that is, The words of the days, or The Chronicles. Not that they are the books which are so often quoted in the kings under the title of the words of the days of the kings of Israel, and of the kings of Juda; for the books of Paralipomenon were written after the books of kings: But because in all probability they have been abridged from those ancient words of the days, by Esdras or some other sacred writer.

CHAP. X.

Saul is ſlain for his ſins: he is buried by the men of Jabes.

NOW the Philiſtines fought againſt Iſrael, and the men of Iſrael fled from before the Philiſtines, and fell down wounded in mount Gelboe. 1 Kings 31. 1.

2 And the Philiſtines drew near purſuing after Saul, and his ſons, and they killed Jonathan, and Abinadab, and Melchiſua the ſons of Saul. A. M. 2949. Ante C. 1055.

3 And the battle grew hard againſt Saul, and the archers reached him, and wounded him with arrows.

4 And Saul ſaid to his armour-bearer: Draw thy ſword, and kill me: leſt theſe uncircumciſed come, and mock me. But his armour-bearer would not, for he was ſtruck with fear: ſo Saul took his ſword, and fell upon it.

5 And when his armour-bearer ſaw it, to wit, that Saul was dead, he alſo fell upon his ſword, and died.

6 So Saul died, and his three ſons, and all his houſe fell together.

7 And when the men of Iſrael, that dwelt in the plains, ſaw this, they fled: and Saul and his ſons being dead, they forſook their cities, and were ſcattered up and down: and the Philiſtines came, and dwelt in them.

8 And the next day the Philiſtines taking away the ſpoils of them that were ſlain, found Saul and his ſons lying on mount Gelboe.

9 And when they had ſtripped him, and cut off his head, and taken away his armour, they sent it into their land, to be carried about, and shewn in the temples of the idols and to the people.

10 And his armour they dedicated in the temple of their god, and his head they fastened up in the temple of Dagon.

11 And when the men of Jabes Galaad had heard this, to wit, all that the Philistines had done to Saul,

12 All the valiant men of them arose, and took the bodies of Saul and of his sons, and brought them to Jabes, and buried their bones under the oak that was in Jabes, and they fasted seven days.

13 So Saul died for his iniquities, because ‖ Exod. 17. 14. he transgressed the ‖ commandment of the 1 Kings 15. 3. Lord, which he had commanded, and kept
† 1 Kings 28. 8. it not: † and moreover consulted also a witch,

14 And trusted not in the Lord: therefore he slew him, and transferred his kingdom to David the son of Isai.

CHAP. XI.

David is made king. He taketh the castle of Sion. A catalogue of his valiant men.

2 Kings 5. 6. A. M. 2957. THEN all Israel gathered themselves to David in Hebron, saying: We are thy bone, and thy flesh.

2 Yesterday also, and the day before when Saul was king, thou wast he that leadedst out and broughtest in Israel: for the Lord thy God said to thee: Thou shalt feed my people Israel, and thou shalt be ruler over them.

3 So all the ancients of Israel came to the king to Hebron, and David made a covenant with them before the Lord: and they anointed him king over Israel, according to the word of the Lord which he spoke in the hand of Samuel.

‖ 2 Kings 5. 6. A. M. 2957. Ante C. 1047. 4 And David and all Israel went to Jerusalem, ‖ which is Jebus, where the Jebusites were the inhabitants of the land.

5 And the inhabitants of Jebus said to David: Thou shalt not come in here. But David took the castle of Sion, which is the city of David.

6 And he said: Whosoever shall first strike the Jebusites, shall be the head and chief captain. And Joab the son of Sarvia went up first, and was made the general.

7 And David dwelt in the castle, and therefore it was called the City of David.

* A. M. 2958. 8 And he built the * city round about from Mello all round, and Joab built the rest of the city.

9 And David went on growing and increasing, and the Lord of hosts was with him.

10 ‖ These are the chief of the valiant men of David, who helped him to be made king over all Israel, according to the word of the Lord, which he spoke to Israel. ‖ 2 Kings 23. 8.

11 And this is the number of the heroes of David: Jesbaam the son of Hachamoni the chief among the thirty: he lifted up his spear against three hundred wounded by him at one time.

12 And after him was Eleazar his uncle's son the Ahohite, who was one of the three mighties.

13 He was with David in Phesdomim, when the Philistines were gathered to that place to battle: and the field of that country was full of barley, and the people fled from before the Philistines.

14 But these men stood in the midst of the field, and defended it: and they slew the Philistines, and the Lord gave a great deliverance to his people.

15 ‖ And three of the thirty captains went down to the rock, wherein David was, to the cave of Odallam, when the Philistines encamped in the valley of Raphaim. ‖ 2 Kings 23. 13.

16 ‖ And David was in a hold, and the garrison of the Philistines in Bethlehem. ‖ 2 Kings 23. 14.

17 And David longed, and said: O that some man would give me water of the cistern of Bethlehem, which is in the gate.

18 And these three broke through the midst of the camp of the Philistines, and drew water out of the cistern of Bethlehem, which was in the gate, and brought it to David to drink: and he would not drink of it, but rather offered it to the Lord,

19 Saying: God forbid that I should do this in the sight of my God, and should drink the blood of these men: for with the danger of their lives they have brought me the water. And therefore he would not drink. These things did the three most valiant.

20 And Abisai the brother of Joab, he was chief of three, and he lifted up his spear against three hundred whom he slew, and he was renowned among the three,

21 And illustrious among the second three, and their captain: but yet he attained not to the first three.

22 Banaias the son of Joiada, a most valiant man, of Cabseel, who had done many acts: he slew the two ariels of Moab: and he went down, and killed a lion in the midst of a pit in the time of snow.

CHAP. XI. VER. 22. Two ariels. That is, two lions, or lion-like men; for ariel in Hebrew signifies a lion.

23 And he ſlew an Egyptian, whoſe ſtature was of five cubits, and who had a ſpear like a weaver's beam: and he went down to him with a ſtaff, and plucked away the ſpear, that he held in his hand, and ſlew him with his own ſpear.

24 Theſe things did Banaias the ſon of Joiada, who was renowned among the three valiant ones,

25 And the firſt among the thirty, but yet to the three he attained not: and David made him of his counſel.

45 Jedihel the ſon of Zamri, and Joha his brother a Thoſaite,

46 Eliel a Mahumite, and Jeribai, and Joſaia the ſons of Elnaim, and Jethma a Moabite, Eliel, and Obed, and Jaſiel of Maſobia.

CHAP. XII.

Who followed David when he fled from Saul. And who came to Hebron to make him king.

NOW theſe are they that came to David to Siceleg, ‖ while he yet fled from Saul the ſon of Cis, and they were moſt valiant and excellent warriors, ‖ 1 Kings 27. 2. A. M. 2948. Ante C. 1056.

2 Bending the bow, and uſing either hand in hurling ſtones with ſlings, and ſhooting arrows: of the brethren of Saul of Benjamin.

3 The chief was Ahiezer, and Joas, the ſons of Samaa of Gabaath, and Jaziel, and Phallet the ſons of Azmoth, and Beracha, and Jehu an Anathothite.

4 And Samaias of Gabaon, the ſtouteſt amongſt the thirty and over the thirty. Jeremias, and Jeheziel, and Johanan, and Jezabad of Gaderoth.

5 And Eluzai, and Jerimuth, and Baalia, and Samaria, and Saphatia the Haruphite.

6 Elcana, and Jeſia, and Azareel, and Joezer, and Jeſbaam of Carehim:

7 And Joela, and Zabadia the ſons of Jeroham of Gedor.

8 From Gaddi alſo there went over to David, when he lay hid in the wilderneſs moſt valiant men, and excellent warriors, holding ſhield and ſpear: whoſe faces were like the faces of a lion, and they were ſwift like the roebucks on the mountains.

9 Ezer the chief, Obdias the ſecond, Eliab the third,

10 Maſmana the fourth, Jeremias the fifth,

11 Ethi the ſixth, Eliel the ſeventh,

12 Johanan the eighth, Elzebad the ninth,

13 Jerenias the tenth, Machbani the eleventh,

14 Theſe were of the ſons of Gad, captains of the army: the leaſt of them was captain over a hundred ſoldiers, and the greateſt over a thouſand.

15 Theſe are they who paſſed over the Jordan in the firſt month, when it is uſed to flow over its banks: and they put to flight all that dwelt in the vallies both toward the eaſt and toward the weſt.

16 And there came alſo of the men of Benjamin, and of Juda to the hold, in which David abode.

17 And David went out to meet them, and ſaid: If you are come peaceably to me to help me, let my heart be joined to you: but if you plot againſt me for my enemies, whereas I have no iniquity in my hands, let the God of our fathers ſee, and judge.

18 But the ſpirit came upon Amaſai the chief among thirty, and he ſaid: We are thine, O David, and for thee, O ſon of Iſai: peace, peace be to thee, and peace to thy helpers. For thy God helpeth thee. So David received them, and made them captains of the band.

19 And there were ſome of Manaſſes that went over to David, when he came with the Philiſtines againſt Saul to fight: but he did not fight with them: ‖ becauſe the lords of the Philiſtines taking counſel ſent him back, ſaying: With the danger of our heads he will return to his maſter Saul.

‖ 1 Kings 29. 4.

* A. M. 2949.

20 So when he went back to Siceleg,* there fled to him of Manaſſes, Ednas and Jozabad, and Jedihel, and Michael, and Ednas, and Jozabad, and Eliu, and Salathi, captains of thouſands in Manaſſes.

21 Theſe helped David againſt the rovers: for they were all moſt valiant men, and were made commanders in the army.

22 Moreover day by day there came ſome to David to help him, till they became a great number, like the army of God.

23 And this is the number of the chiefs of the army who came to David, when he was in Hebron, ‖ to transfer to him the kingdom of Saul, according to the word of the Lord.

‖ 2 Kings 5.

A. M. 2956.

24 The ſons of Juda bearing ſhield and ſpear, ſix thouſand eight hundred well appointed to war.

25 Of the ſons of Simeon valiant men for war, ſeven thouſand one hundred.

26 Of the ſons of Levi, four thouſand ſix hundred.

27 And Joiada prince of the race of Aaron, and with him three thouſand ſeven hundred.

28 Sadoc alſo a young man of excellent diſpoſition, and the houſe of his father, twenty-two principal men.

29 And of the ſons of Benjamin the brethren of Saul, three thouſand: for hitherto a great part of them followed the houſe of Saul.

30 And of the ſons of Ephraim twenty thouſand eight hundred, men of great valour renowned in their kindreds.

31 And of the half tribe of Manaſſes, eighteen thouſand, every one by their names, came to make David king.

32 Alſo of the ſons of Iſſachar men of underſtanding, that knew all times to order what Iſrael ſhould do, two hundred principal men: and all the reſt of the tribe followed their counſel.

33 And of Zabulon ſuch as went forth to battle, and ſtood in array well appointed with armour for war, there came fifty thouſand to his aid, with no double heart.

34 And of Nephtali, a thouſand leaders: and with them ſeven and thirty thouſand, furniſhed with ſhield and ſpear.

35 Of Dan alſo twenty eight thouſand ſix hundred prepared for battle.

36 And of Aſer forty thouſand going forth to fight, and challenging in battle.

37 And on the other ſide of the Jordan of the ſons of Ruben, and of Gad, and of the half of the tribe of Manaſſes a hundred and twenty thouſand, furniſhed with arms for war.

38 All theſe men of war well appointed to fight, came with a perfect heart to Hebron, to make David king over all Iſrael: and all the reſt alſo of Iſrael, were of one heart, to make David king.

39 And they were there with David three days eating and drinking: for their brethren had prepared for them.

40 Moreover they that were near them even as far as Iſſachar, and Zabulon, and Nephtali, brought loaves on aſſes, and on camels, and on mules, and on oxen, to eat: meal, figs, raiſins, wine, oil, and oxen, and ſheep, in abundance, for there was joy in Iſrael.

CHAP. XIII.

The ark is brought from Cariathiarim. Oza for touching it is ſtruck dead.

AND David conſulted with the captains of thouſands, and of hundreds, and with all the commanders,

2 And he ſaid to all the aſſembly of Iſrael: If it pleaſe you: and if the words which I ſpeak come from the Lord our God, let us ſend to the reſt of our brethren into all the countries of Iſrael, and to the prieſts, and the Levites, that dwell in the ſuburbs of the cities, to gather themſelves to us,

3 And let us bring again the ark of our God to us: for we ſought it not in the days of Saul.

4 And all the multitude anſwered that it ſhould be ſo: for the word pleaſed all the people.

5 So David aſſembled all Iſrael from Sihor of Egypt, even to the entering into Emath, ‖ to bring the ark of God from Cariathiarim.

‖ 2 Kings 6. 2.

6 And David went up with all the men of Iſrael to the hill of Cariathiarim which is in Juda, to bring thence the ark of the Lord God ſitting upon the Cherubims, where his name is called upon.

7 And they carried the ark of God upon a new cart, out of the houſe of Abinadab. And Oza and his brother drove the cart.

8 And David and all Iſrael played before God with all their might with hymns, and with harps and with psalteries, and timbrels, and cymbals, and trumpets,

9 And when they came to the floor of * Chidon, Oza put forth his hand, to hold up the ark: for the ox being wanton had made it lean a little on one side.

* Alias Nachon.

10 And the Lord was angry with Oza, and struck him, because he had touched the ark: and he died there before the Lord.

11 And David was troubled, because the Lord had divided Oza: and he called that place the Breach of Oza to this day.

12 And he feared God at that time, saying: How can I bring in the ark of God to me?

13 And therefore he brought it not home to himself, that is, into the city of David, but carried it aside into the house of Obededom the Gethite.

14 And the ark of God remained in the house of Obededom three months: and the Lord blessed his house, and all that he had.

CHAP. XIV.

David's house, and children: his victories over the Philistines.

2 Kings 5. 11. AND Hiram king of Tyre sent messengers to David, and cedar trees, and masons, and carpenters: to build him a house.

2 And David perceived that the Lord had confirmed him king over Israel, and that his kingdom was exalted over his people Israel.

‖ 2 Kings 5. 13. 3 ‖ And David took other wives in Jerusalem: and he begot sons, and daughters.

4 Now these are the names of them that were born to him in Jerusalem: Samua, and Sobad, Nathan, and Solomon.

5 Jebahar, and Elisua, and Eliphalet,

6 And Noga, and Napheg, and Japhia,

7 Elisama, and Baaliada, and Eliphalet.

‖ 2 Kings 5. 17. A. M. 2957. Ante C. 1047. 8 ‖ And the Philistines hearing that David was anointed king over all Israel, went all up to seek him: and David heard of it, and went out against them.

9 And the Philistines came and spread themselves in the vale of Raphaim.

10 And David consulted the Lord, saying: Shall I go up against the Philistines, and wilt thou deliver them into my hand? And the Lord said to him: Go up, and I will deliver them into thy hand.

11 And when they were come to Baalpharasim, David defeated them there, and he said: God hath divided my enemies by my hand, as waters are divided: and therefore the name of that place was called Baalpharasim.

12 And they left there their gods, and David commanded that they should be burnt.

13 Another time also the Philistines made an irruption, and spread themselves abroad in the valley.

14 And David consulted God again, and God said to him: Go not up after them, turn away from them, and come upon them over-against the pear-trees.

15 And when thou shalt hear the sound of one going in the tops of the pear-trees, then shalt thou go out to battle. For God is gone out before thee, to strike the army of the Philistines.

16 And David did as God had commanded him, and defeated the army of the Philistines, slaying them from Gabaon to Gazera.

17 And the name of David became famous in all countries, and the Lord made all nations fear him.

CHAP. XV.

The ark is brought into the city of David, with great solemnity. Michol derideth David's devotion.

HE made also houses for himself in the city of David: and built a place for the ark of God, and pitched a tabernacle for it.

2 Then David said: No one ought to carry the ark of God, but the Levites; whom the Lord hath chosen to carry it, and to minister unto himself for ever.

3 And he gathered all Israel together into Jerusalem, that the ark of God might be brought into its place, which he had prepared for it.

4 And the sons of Aaron also, and the Levites.

5 Of the children of Caath, Uriel was the chief, and his brethren a hundred and twenty.

6 Of the sons of Merari, Asaia the chief: and his brethren two hundred and twenty.

7 Of the sons of Gerson, Joel the chief: and his brethren a hundred and thirty.

8 Of the sons of Elisaphan, Semeias the chief: and his brethren two hundred.

9 Of the sons of Hebron, Eliel the chief: and his brethren eighty.

10 Of the sons of Oziel, Aminadab the chief: and his brethren a hunded and twelve.

11 And David called Sadoc, and Abiathar the priests, and the Levites, Uriel, Asaia, Joel, Semeia, Eliel, and Aminadab:

12 And he said to them: You that are the heads of the Levitical families, be sanctified with your brethren, and bring the ark of the Lord the God of Israel to the place, which is prepared for it:

|| Supra 13. 10.

13 || Lest as the Lord at first struck us, because you were not present, the same should now also come to pass, by our doing some thing against the law.

14 So the priests, and the Levites were sanctified, to carry the ark of the Lord the God of Israel.

|| Num. 4. 15.

15 || And the sons of Levi took the ark of God, as Moses had commanded, according to the word of the Lord, upon their shoulders, with the staves.

16 And David spoke to the chiefs of the Levites, to appoint some of their brethren to be singers with musical instruments, to wit, on psalteries, and harps, and cymbals, that the joyful noise might resound on high.

17 And they appointed Levites, Heman the son of Joel, and of his brethren Asaph the son of Barachias: and of the sons of Merari, their brethren: Ethan the son of Casaia.

18 And with them their brethren: in the second rank, Zacharias, and Ben, and Jaziel, and Semiramoth, and Jahiel, and Ani, and Eliab, and Banaias, and Maasias, and Mathathias, and Eliphalu, and Macenias, and Obededom, and Jehiel, the porters.

19 Now the singers, Heman, Asaph, and Ethan, sounded with cymbals of brass.

20 And Zacharias, and Oziel, and Semiramoth, and Jehiel, and Ani, and Eliab, and Maasias and Banaias, sung mysteries upon psalteries.

21 And Mathathias, and Eliphalu, and Macenias, and Obededom, and Jehiel and Ozaziu, sung a song of victory for the octave upon harps.

22 And Chonenias chief of the Levites, presided over the prophecy, to give out the tunes: for he was very skilful.

23 And Barachias, and Elcana, were door-keepers of the ark.

24 And Sebenias, and Josaphat, and Nathanael, and Amasai, and Zacharias, and Banaias, and Eliezer the priests, sounded with trumpets, before the ark of God: and Obededom and Jehias were porters of the ark.

|| 2 Kings 6. 12.

25 || So David and all the ancients of Israel, and the captains over thousands, went to bring the ark of the covenant of the Lord, out of the house of Obededom with joy.

26 And when God had helped the Levites who carried the ark of the covenant of the Lord, they offered in sacrifice seven oxen, and seven rams.

27 And David was clothed with a robe of fine linen, and all the Levites that carried the ark, and the singing men, and Chonenias the ruler of the prophecy among the singers: and David also had on him an ephod of linen.

28 And all Israel brought the ark of the covenant of the Lord with joyful shouting, and sounding with the sound of the cornet, and with trumpets, and cymbals, and psalteries, and harps.

29 And when the ark of the covenant of the Lord was come to the city of David, Michol the daughter of Saul looking out at a window, saw king David dancing and playing, and she despised him in her heart.

CHAP. XVI.

The ark is placed in the tabernacle. Sacrifice is offered. David blesseth the people, disposeth the offices of Levites, and maketh a psalm of praise to God.

SO they brought the ark of God, and set it in the midst of the tent, which David had pitched for it: and they offered holocausts, and peace-offerings before God. 2 Kings 6. 17. A. M. 2959. Ante C. 1045.

2 And when David had made an end of offering holocausts, and peace-offerings, he blessed the people in the name of the Lord.

3 And he divided to all and every one, both men and women, a loaf of bread, and a piece of roasted beef, and flour fried with oil.

4 And he appointed Levites to minister before the ark of the Lord, and to remember his works, and to glorify, and praise the Lord God of Israel:

5 Asaph the chief, and next after him Zacharias: moreover Jahiel, and Semiramoth, and Jehiel, and Mathathias, and Eliab, and Banaias, and Obededom: and Jehiel over the instruments of psaltery, and harps: and Asaph to sound with cymbals:

6 But Bananias, and Jaziel the priests, to sound the trumpet continually before the ark of the covenant of the Lord.

7 In that day David made Asaph the 15 Remember for ever his covenant: the word, which he commanded to a thouſand generations.

16 The covenant which he made with Abraham: and his oath to Iſaac.

26 For all the gods of the nations are idols: but the Lord made the heavens.

27 Praiſe and magnificence are before him: ſtrength and joy in his place.

28 Bring ye to the Lord, O ye families of the nations: bring ye to the Lord glory and empire.

29 Give to the Lord glory to his name, bring up ſacrifice, and come ye in his ſight: and adore the Lord in holy becomingneſs.

30 Let all the earth be moved at his preſence: for he hath founded the world immoveable.

31 Let the heavens rejoice, and the earth be glad: and let them ſay among the nations: The Lord hath reigned.

37 So he left there before the ark of the covenant of the Lord, Aſaph and his brethren to miniſter in the preſence of the ark continually day by day, and in their courſes.

41 And after him Heman, and Idithun, and the reſt that were choſen, every one by his name to give praiſe to the Lord: becauſe his mercy endureth for ever.

42 And Heman and Idithun ſounded the trumpet, and played on the cymbals, and all kinds of muſical inſtruments to ſing praiſes to God: and the ſons of Idithun he made porters.

43 And all the people returned to their houſes: and David to bleſs alſo his own houſe.

CHAP. XVII.

David's purpoſe to build a temple, is rewarded by moſt ample promiſes: David's thankſgiving.

2 Kings 6. 17. A. M. 2960. Ante C. 1044. NOW when David was dwelling in his houſe, he ſaid to Nathan the prophet: Behold I dwell in a houſe of cedar: and the ark of the covenant of the Lord is under ſkins.

2 And Nathan ſaid to David: Do all that is in thy heart: for God is with thee.

3 Now that night the word of God came to Nathan, ſaying:

4 Go, and ſpeak to David my ſervant: Thus ſaith the Lord: Thou ſhalt not build me a houſe to dwell in.

5 For I have not remained in a houſe from the time, that I brought up Iſrael, to this day: but I have been always changing places in a tabernacle, and in a tent

6 Abiding with all Iſrael. Did I ever ſpeak to any one, of all the judges of Iſrael, whom I charged to feed my people, ſaying: Why have you not built me a houſe of cedar?

7 Now therefore thus ſhalt thou ſay to my ſervant David: Thus ſaith the Lord of hoſts: I took thee, from the paſtures, from following the flock, that thou ſhouldſt be ruler of my people Iſrael.

8 And I have been with thee whithersoever thou haſt gone: and have ſlain all thy enemies before thee, and have made thee a name like that of one of the great ones that are renowned in the earth.

9 And I have given a place to my people Iſrael: they ſhall be planted, and ſhall dwell therein, and ſhall be moved no more, neither ſhall the children of iniquity waſte them, as at the beginning,

10 Since the days that I gave judges to my people Iſrael, and have humbled all thy enemies. And I declare to thee, that the Lord will build thee a houſe.

11 And when thou ſhalt have ended thy days to go to thy fathers, I will raiſe up thy ſeed after thee, which ſhall be of thy ſons: and I will eſtabliſh his kingdom.

12 He ſhall build me a houſe, and I will eſtabliſh his throne for ever.

13 I will be to him a father, and he ſhall be to me a ſon: and I will not take my mercy away from him, as I took it from him that was before thee.

14 But I will ſettle him in my houſe, and in my kingdom for ever: and his throne ſhall be moſt firm for ever.

15 According to all theſe words, and according to all this viſion, ſo did Nathan ſpeak to David.

16 And king David came and ſat before the Lord, and ſaid: Who am I, O Lord God, and what is my houſe, that thou ſhouldſt give ſuch things to me?

17 But even this hath ſeemed little in thy ſight, and therefore thou haſt alſo ſpoken concerning the houſe of thy ſervant for the time to come: and haſt made me remarkable above all men, O Lord God.

18 What can David add more, ſeeing thou haſt thus glorified thy ſervant, and known him?

19 O Lord, for thy ſervant's ſake, according to thy own heart, thou haſt ſhewn all this magnificence, and wouldſt have all the great things to be known.

20 O Lord, there is none like thee: and there is no other God beſide thee, of all whom we have heard of with our ears.

21 For what other nation is there upon earth like thy people Iſrael, whom God went to deliver, and make a people for himſelf, and by his greatneſs and terrors caſt out nations before their face whom he had delivered out of Egypt?

22 And thou haſt made thy people Iſrael to be thy own people for ever, and thou, O Lord, art become their God.

23 Now therefore, O Lord, let the word which thou haſt ſpoken to thy ſervant, and concerning his houſe, be eſtabliſhed for ever, and do as thou haſt ſaid.

24 And let thy name remain and be magnified for ever: and let it be ſaid: The Lord of hoſts is God of Iſrael, and the houſe of David his ſervant remaineth before him.

25 For thou, O Lord my God, haſt revealed to the ear of thy ſervant, that thou wilt build him a houſe: and therefore thy ſervant hath found confidence to pray before thee.

26 And now, O Lord, thou art God: and thou haſt promiſed to thy ſervant ſuch great benefits.

27 And thou haſt begun to bleſs the houſe of thy ſervant, that it may be always before thee: for ſeeing thou bleſſeſt it, O Lord, it ſhall be bleſſed for ever.

CHAP. XVIII.

David's victories. His chief officers.

AND it came to paſs after this, that David defeated the Philiſtines, and humbled them, and took away Geth, and her daughters out of the hand of the Philiſtines, 2 Kings 8. 1. A. M. 2960. Ante C. 1044.

2 And he defeated Moab, and the Moabites were made David's ſervants, and brought him gifts.

3 At that time David defeated alſo Adarezer king of Soba of the land of Hemath, when he went to extend his dominions as far as the river Euphrates.

4 And David took from him a thouſand chariots, and ſeven thouſand horſemen, and twenty thouſand footmen, and he houghed all the chariot-horſes, only a hundred chariots, which he reſerved for himſelf.

5 And the Syrians of Damaſcus came alſo to help Adarezer king of Soba: and David ſlew of them likewiſe two and twenty thouſand men.

6 And he put a garriſon in Damaſcus, that Syria alſo ſhould ſerve him, and bring gifts. And the Lord assisted him in all things to which he went.

7 And David took the golden quivers which the servants of Adarezer had, and he brought them to Jerusalem.

8 Likewise out of Thebath and Chun, cities of Adarezer, he brought very much brass, of which Solomon made the brazen sea, and the pillars, and the vessels of brass.

9 Now when Thou king of Hemath heard that David had defeated all the army of Adarezer king of Soba,

10 He sent Adoram his son to king David, to desire peace of him, and to congratulate him that he had defeated and overthrown Adarezer: for Thou was an enemy to Adarezer.

11 And all the vessels of gold, and silver, and brass king David consecrated to the Lord, with the silver and gold which he had taken from all the nations, as well from Edom, and from Moab, and from the sons of Ammon, as from the Philistines, and from Amelec.

12 And Abisai the son of Sarvia slew of the Edomites in the vale of the salt-pits, eighteen thousand:

13 And he put a garrison in Edom, that Edom should serve David: and the Lord preserved David in all things to which he went.

14 So David reigned over all Israel, and executed judgment and justice among all his people.

15 And Joab the son of Sarvia was over the army, and Josaphat the son of Ahilud recorder.

16 And Sadoc the son of Achitob, and Ahimelech the son of Abiathar, were the priests: and Susa, scribe.

17 And Banaias the son of Joiada was over the bands of the Cerethi, and the Phelethi: and the sons of David were chief about the king.

CHAP. XIX.

The Ammonites abuse David's embassadors: both they and their confederates are overthrown.

A. M. 2967. Ante C. 1037. 2 Kings 10. 1.

NOW it came to pass that Naas the king of the children of Ammon died, and his son reigned in his stead.

2 And David said: I will shew kindness to Hanon the son of Naas: for his father did a favour to me. And David sent messengers to comfort him upon the death of his father. But when they were come into the land of the children of Ammon, to comfort Hanon,

3 The princes of the children of Ammon said to Hanon: Thou thinkest perhaps that David to do honour to thy father hath sent comforters to thee: and thou dost not take notice, that his servants are come to thee to consider, and search, and spy out thy land.

4 Wherefore Hanon shaved the heads and beards of the servants of David, and cut away their garments from the buttocks to the feet, and sent them away.

5 And when they were gone, they sent word to David, who sent to meet them (for they had suffered a great affront) and ordered them to stay at Jericho till their beards grew and then to return.

6 And when the children of Ammon saw that they had done an injury to David, Hanon and the rest of the people sent a thousand talents of silver, to hire them chariots and horsemen out of Mesopotamia, and out of Syria Maacha, and out of Soba.

7 And they hired two and thirty thousand chariots, and the king of Maacha, with his people. And they came and camped over-against Medaba. And the children of Ammon gathered themselves together out of their cities, and came to battle.

8 And when David heard of it he sent Joab, and all the army of valiant men:

9 And the children of Ammon came out and put their army in array before the gate of the city: and the kings, that were come to their aid, stood apart in the field.

10 Wherefore Joab understanding that the battle was set against him before and behind, chose out the bravest men of all Israel, and marched against the Syrians.

11 And the rest of the people he delivered into the hand of Abisai his brother, and they went against the children of Ammon.

12 And he said: if the Syrians be too strong for me, then thou shalt help me: but if the children of Ammon be too strong for thee, I will help thee.

13 Be of good courage, and let us behave ourselves manfully for our people, and for the cities of our God: and the Lord will do that which is good in his sight.

14 So Joab and the people that were with him, went against the Syrians to the battle: and he put them to flight.

15 And the children of Ammon seeing that the Syrians were fled, they likewise fled from Abisai his brother, and went into the city: and Joab also returned to Jerusalem.

16 But the Syrians seeing that they had fallen before Israel, sent messengers, and brought to them the Syrians that were beyond the river: and Sophach, general of the army of Adarezer, was their leader.

17 And it was told David, and he gathered together all Israel, and passed the Jordan, and came upon them, and put his army in array against them, and they fought with him.

18 But the Syrian fled before Israel: and David slew of the Syrians seven thousand chariots, and forty thousand footmen, and Sophach the general of the army.

A. M. 2968. Ante C. 1036. 19 And when the servants of Adarezer saw themselves overcome by Israel, they went over to David, and served him: and Syria would not help the children of Ammon any more.

Rabba is taken: Other victories over the Philistines.

2 Kings 10. 7. & 11. 1. A. M. 2969. Ante C. 1035. AND it came to pass after the course of a year, at the time that kings go out to battle, Joab gathered together an army and the strength of the troops, and wasted the land of the children of Ammon: and went and besieged Rabba. But David staid at Jerusalem, when Joab smote Rabba, and destroyed it.

2 And David took the crown of Melchom from his head, and found in it a talent weight of gold, and most precious stones, and he made himself a diadem of it: he took also the spoils of the city which were very great.

3 And the people that were therein he brought out: and made harrows, and sleads, and chariots of iron to go over them, so that they were cut and bruised to pieces: in this manner David dealt with all the cities of the children of Ammon: and he returned with all his people to Jerusalem.

‖ 2 Kings 21. 18. A. M. 2986. Ante C. 1018. 4 ‖ After this there arose a war at Gazer against the Philistines: in which Sabachai the Husathite slew Saphai of the race of Raphaim, and humbled them.

5 Another battle also was fought against the Philistines in which Adeodatus the son of Saltus a Bethlehemite slew the brother of Goliath the Gethite, the staff of whose spear was like a weaver's beam.

6 There was another battle also in Geth, in which there was a man of great stature, whose fingers and toes were four and twenty, six on each hand and foot: who also was born of the stock of Rapha.

7 He reviled Israel: but Jonathan the son of Samaa the brother of David slew him. These were the sons of Rapha in Geth, who fell by the hand of David and his servants.

CHAP. XXI.

David's sin in numbering the people is punished by a pestilence: which ceaseth upon his offering sacrifice in the threshing-floor of Ornan.

AND Satan rose up against Israel: and moved David to number Israel. A. M. 2987. 2 Kings 24. 1. Infra 27. 24.

2 And David said to Joab, and to the rulers of the people: Go, and number Israel from Bersabee even to Dan, and bring me the number of them that I may know it.

3 And Joab answered: The Lord make his people a hundred times more than they are: but, my lord the king, are they not all thy servants: why doth my lord seek this thing, which may be imputed as a sin to Israel?

4 But the king's word rather prevailed: and Joab departed, and went through all Israel: and returned to Jerusalem.

5 And he gave David the number of them, whom he had surveyed: and all the number of Israel was found to be eleven hundred thousand men that drew the sword: and of Juda four hundred and seventy thousand fighting men.

6 But Levi and Benjamin he did not number: for Joab unwillingly executed the king's orders.

7 And God was displeased with this thing that was commanded: and he struck Israel.

8 And David said to God: I have sinned exceedingly in doing this: I beseech thee take away the iniquity of thy servant, for I have done foolishly.

9 And the Lord spoke to Gad the seer of David, saying:

10 Go, and speak to David, and tell him: Thus saith the Lord: I give thee the choice of three things: choose one which thou wilt, and I will do it to thee.

11 And when Gad was come to David, he said to him: Thus saith the Lord: Choose which thou wilt:

able to escape their sword: or three days to have the sword of the Lord, and pestilence in the land, and the Angel of the Lord destroying in all the coasts of Israel: now therefore see what I shall answer him who sent me.

13 And David said to Gad: I am on every side in a great strait: but it is better for me to fall into the hands of the Lord, for his mercies are many, than into the hands of men.

14 So the Lord sent a pestilence upon Israel. And there fell of Israel seventy thousand men.

15 And he sent an Angel to Jerusalem, to strike it: and as he was striking it, the Lord beheld, and took pity for the greatness of the evil: and said to the angel that destroyed: It is enough, now stop thy hand. And the Angel of the Lord stood by the threshing-floor of Ornan the Jebusite.

16 And David lifting up his eyes, saw the Angel of the Lord standing between heaven and earth, with a drawn sword in his hand, turned against Jerusalem: and both he and the ancients clothed in hair-cloth, fell down flat on the ground.

17 And David said to God: Am not I he that commanded the people to be numbered? It is I that have sinned: it is I that have done the evil: but as for this flock what hath it deserved? O Lord my God, let thy hand be turned, I beseech thee, upon me, and upon my father's house: and let not thy people be destroyed.

18 And the Angel of the Lord commanded Gad to tell David, to go up, and build an altar to the Lord God in the threshing-floor of Ornan the Jebusite.

19 And David went up, according to the word of Gad, which he spoke to him in the name of the Lord.

20 Now when Ornan looked up, and saw the Angel, he and his four sons hid themselves: for at that time he was threshing wheat in the floor.

21 And as David was coming to Ornan, Ornan saw him, and went out of the threshing-floor to meet him, and bowed down to him with his face to the ground.

22 And David said to him: Give me this place of thy threshing-floor, that I may build therein an altar to the Lord: but thou shalt take of me as much money as it is worth, that the plague may cease from the people.

23 And Ornan said to David: Take it, and let my lord the king do all that pleaseth him: and moreover the oxen also I give for a holocaust, and the drays for wood, and the wheat for the sacrifice: I will give it all willingly.

24 And king David said to him: It shall not be so, but I will give thee money as much as it is worth: for I must not take it from thee, and so offer to the Lord holocausts free-cost.

25 So David gave to Ornan for the place, six hundred sicles of gold of just weight.

26 ‖ And he built there an altar to the Lord: and he offered holocausts, and peace-offerings, and he called upon the Lord, and he heard him by sending fire from heaven upon the altar of the holocaust. ‖ 2 Par. 3. 1.

27 And the Lord commanded the Angel: and he put up his sword again into the sheath.

28 And David seeing that the Lord had heard him in the threshing-floor of Ornan the Jebusite, forthwith offered victims there.

29 But the tabernacle of the Lord, ‖ which Moses made in the desert, and the altar of holocausts, was at that time in the high-place of Gabaon. ‖ Exod. 36. 2.

30 And David could not go to the altar there to pray to God: for he was seized with an exceeding great fear, seeing the sword of the Angel of the Lord.

CHAP. XXII.

David having prepared all necessaries, chargeth Solomon to build the temple and the princes to assist him.

3 And David prepared in abundance iron for the nails of the gates, and for the closures and joinings: and of brass an immense weight.

6 And he called for Solomon his son: and commanded him to build a house to the Lord the God of Israel.

7 And David said to Solomon: My son, it was my desire to have built a house to the

8 But the word of the Lord came to me, saying: Thou hast shed much blood, and fought many battles, so thou canst not build a house to my name, after shedding so much blood before me:

9 The son, that shall be born to thee, shall be a most quiet man: for I will make him rest from all his enemies round about: and therefore he shall be called Peaceable: and I will give peace and quietness to Israel all his days.

¶ 2 Kings 7. 13. 3 Kings 5. 5. 2 Kings 7. 14. Heb. 1. 5.

10 ‖ He shall build a house to my name, and he shall be a son to me, and I will be a father to him: and I will establish the throne of his kingdom over Israel for ever.

11 Now then, my son, the Lord be with thee, and do thou prosper, and build the house to the Lord thy God, as he hath spoken of thee.

12 The Lord also give thee wisdom and understanding, that thou mayest be able to rule Israel, and to keep the law of the Lord thy God.

13 For then thou shalt be able to prosper, if thou keep the commandments, and judgments, which the Lord commanded Moses to teach Israel: take courage and act manfully, fear not, nor be dismayed.

14 Behold I in my poverty have prepared the charges of the house of the Lord, of gold a hundred thousand talents, and of silver a million of talents: but of brass, and of iron there is no weight, for the abundance surpasseth all account: timber also and stones I have prepared for all the charges.

15 Thou hast also workmen in abundance, hewers of stones, and masons, and carpenters, and of all trades the most skilful in their work.

16 In gold, and in silver, and in brass, and in iron, whereof there is no number. Arise then, and be doing, and the Lord will be with thee.

17 David also charged all the princes of Israel, to help Solomon his son.

18 Saying: You see, that the Lord your God is with you, and hath given you rest round about, and hath delivered all your enemies into your hands, and the land is subdued before the Lord, and before his people.

19 Give therefore your hearts and your souls, to seek the Lord your God: and arise, and build a sanctuary to the Lord God, that the ark of the covenant of the Lord, and the vessels consecrated to the Lord, may be brought into the house, which is built to the name of the Lord.

CHAP. XXIII.

David appointeth Solomon king. The distribution of the Levites and their offices.

AND David being old and full of days, made Solomon his son king over Israel. A. M. 2988.

2 And he gathered together all the princes of Israel, and the priests and Levites.

3 And the Levites were numbered from the age of thirty years, and upwards: and there were found of them thirty eight thousand men.

4 Of these twenty four thousand were chosen, and distributed unto the ministry of the house of the Lord: and six thousand were the overseers and judges.

5 Moreover four thousand were porters: and as many singers singing to the Lord with the instruments, which he had made to sing with.

6 ‖ And David distributed them into courses by the families of the sons of Levi, to wit, of Gerson, and of Caath, and of Merari. ‖ Supra 6. 1.

7 The sons of Gerson: were Leedan and Semei.

8 The sons of Leedan: the chief Jahiel, and Zethan, and Joel, three.

9 The sons of Semei: Salomith, and Hosiel, and Aran, three: these were the heads of the families of Leedan.

10 And the sons of Semei: were Leheth, and Ziza, and Jaus, and Baria: these were the sons of Semei, four.

11 And Leheth was the first, Ziza the second: but Jaus and Baria had not many children, and therefore they were counted in one family, and in one house.

12 The sons of Caath: were Amram, and Isaar, Hebron, and Oziel, four.

13 ‖ The sons of Amram, Aaron, and Moses. † And Aaron was separated to minister in the Holy of Holies, he and his sons for ever, and to burn incense before the Lord according to his ceremonies, and to bless his name for ever. ‖ Supra 6. 3. † Hebr. 5. 4.

14 The sons also of Moses, the man of God, were numbered in the tribe of Levi.

15 The sons ‖ of Moses were Gersom and Eliezer: ‖ Exod. 2. 22. & 18. 3. & 4.

16 The sons of Gersom: Subuel the first.

17 And the sons of Eliezer were: Rohobia the firſt: and Eliezer had no more ſons. But the ſons of Rohobia were multiplied exceedingly.

18 The ſons of Iſaar: Salomith the firſt.

19 The ſons of Hebron: Jeriau the firſt, Amarias the ſecond, Jahaziel the third, Jecmaam the fourth.

20 The ſons of Oziel: Micha the firſt, Jeſia the ſecond.

21 The ſons of Merari: Moholi, and Muſi. The ſons of Moholi: Eleazar and Cis.

22 And Eleazar died, and had no ſons but daughters: and the ſons of Cis their brethren took them.

23 The ſons of Muſi: Moholi, and Eder, and Jerimoth, three.

24 Theſe are the ſons of Levi in their kindreds and families, princes by their courſes, and the number of every head that did the works of the miniſtry of the houſe of the Lord from twenty years old and upward.

25 For David ſaid: The Lord the God of Iſrael hath given reſt to his people, and a habitation in Jeruſalem for ever.

26 And it ſhall not be the office of the Levites to carry any more the tabernacle, and all the veſſels for the ſervice thereof.

27 So according to the laſt precepts of David the ſons of Levi are to be numbered from twenty years old and upward.

28 And they are to be under the hand of the ſons of Aaron for the ſervice of the houſe of the Lord, in the porches, and in the chambers, and in the place of purification, and in the ſanctuary, and in all the works of the miniſtry of the temple of the Lord.

29 And the prieſts have the charge of the loaves of propoſition, and of the ſacrifice of fine flour, and of the unleavened cakes, and of the frying-pan, and of the roaſting, and of every weight and meaſure.

30 And the Levites are to ſtand in the morning to give thanks, and to ſing praiſes to the Lord: and in like manner in the evening,

31 As well in the oblation of the holocauſts of the Lord, as in the ſabbaths and in the new moons, and the reſt of the ſolemnities, according to the number, and ceremonies preſcribed for every thing, continually before the Lord.

32 And let them keep the obſervances of the tabernacle of the covenant, and the ceremonies of the ſanctuary, and the charge of the ſons of Aaron their brethren, that they may miniſter in the houſe of the Lord.

CHAP. XXIV.

The diviſions of the prieſts into four and twenty courſes, to ſerve in the temple: the chiefs of the Levites.

NOW theſe were the diviſions of the ſons of Aaron: The ſons of Aaron: Nadab, and Abiu, and Eleazar, and Ithamar.

2 || But Nadab and Abiu died before their father, and had no children: ſo Eleazar, and Ithamar did the office of the prieſthood. || Lev. 10. 2. Numb. 3. 4.

3 And David diſtributed them, that is, Sadoc of the ſons of Eleazar, and Ahimelech of the ſons of Ithamar, according to their courſes and miniſtry.

4 And there were found many more of the ſons of Eleazar among the principal men, than of the ſons of Ithamar. And he divided them ſo, that there were of the ſons of Eleazar, ſixteen chief men by their families: and of the ſons of Ithamar eight by their families and houſes.

5 And he divided both the families one with the other by lot: for there were princes of the ſanctuary, and princes of God, both of the ſons of Eleazar, and of the ſons of Ithamar.

6 And Semeias the ſon of Nathanael the ſcribe a Levite, wrote them down before the king and the princes, and Sadoc the prieſt, and Ahimelech the ſon of Abiathar, and the princes alſo of the prieſtly and Levitical families: one houſe, which was over the reſt, of Eleazar: and another houſe, which had the reſt under it, of Ithamar.

7 Now the firſt lot came forth to Joiarib, the ſecond to Jedei.

8 The third to Harim, the fourth to Seorim,

9 The fifth to Melchia, the ſixth to Maiman,

10 The ſeventh to Accos, the eighth to Abia,

16 The nineteenth to Pheteia, the twentieth to Hezechiel,

17 The one and twentieth to Jachin, the two and twentieth to Gamul,

18 The three and twentieth to Dalaiau, the four and twentieth to Maaziau.

19 These are their courses according to their ministries, to come into the house of the Lord, and according to their manner under the hand of Aaron their father: as the Lord the God of Israel had commanded.

20 Now of the rest of the sons of Levi, there was of the sons of Amram, Subael: and of the sons of Subael, Jehedeia.

21 Also of the sons of Rohobia the chief Jesias.

22 And the son of Isaar Salemoth, and the son of Salemoth Jahath:

23 And his son Jeriau the first, Amarias the second, Jahaziel the third, Jecmaan the fourth.

25 The brother of Micha, Jesia: and the son of Jesia, Zacharias.

26 The sons of Merari: Moholi and Musi: The son of Oziau: Benno.

27 The son also of Merari: Oziau, and Soam, and Zacchur, and Hebri.

28 And the son of Moholi: Eleazar, who had no sons.

29 And the sons of Cis, Jeramael.

30 The sons of Musi: Moholi, Eder, and Jerimoth. These are the sons of Levi according to the houses of their families.

31 And they also cast lots over-against their brethren the sons of Aaron before David the king, and Sadoc, and Ahimelech, and the princes of the priestly and Levitical families, both the elder and the younger. The lot divided all equally.

CHAP. XXV.

The number and divisions of the musicians.

2 Of the sons of Asaph: Zacchur, and Joseph, and Nathania, and Asarela, sons of Asaph: under the hand of Asaph prophesying near the king.

6 All these under their father's hand were distributed to sing in the temple of the Lord, with cymbals, and psalteries and harps, for the service of the house of the Lord near the king: to wit, Asaph, and Idithun, and Heman.

7 And the number of them with their brethren, that taught the song of the Lord, all the teachers, were two hundred and eighty eight.

12 Among theſe were the diviſions of the porters, ſo that the chiefs of the wards, as well as their brethren, always miniſtered in the houſe of the Lord.

13 And they caſt lots equally, both little and great, by their families for every one of the gates.

12 The ninth, for the ninth month, was Abiezer an Anathothite of the ſons of Jemini, and in his company were four and twenty thouſand.

13 The tenth, for the tenth month, was Marai, who was a Netophathite of the race of Zarai: and in his company were four and twenty thouſand.

14 The eleventh, for the eleventh month, was Banaias, a Pharathonite of the ſons of Ephraim: and in his company were four and twenty thouſand.

15 The twelfth, for the twelfth month, was Holdai a Netophathite, of the race of Gothoniel: and in his company were four and twenty thouſand.

16 Now the chiefs over the tribes of Iſrael were theſe: over the Rubenites, Eliezer the ſon of Zechri was ruler: over the Simeonites, Saphatias the ſon of Maacha:

17 Over the Levites, Haſabias the ſon of Camuel: over the Aaronites, Sadoc:

18 Over Juda, Eliu the brother of David: over Iſſachar, Amri the ſon of Michael:

19 Over the Zabulonites, Jeſmaias the ſon of Adias: over the Nephtalites, Jerimoth the ſon of Oziel:

20 Over the ſons of Ephraim, Oſee the ſon of Ozaziu: over the half tribe of Manaſſes, Joel the ſon of Phadaia:

21 And over the half tribe of Manaſſes in Galaad, Jaddo the ſon of Zacharias: and over Benjamin, Jaſiel the ſon of Abner.

22 And over Dan, Ezrihel the ſon of Jeroham: theſe were the princes of the children of Iſrael.

23 But David would not number them from twenty years old and under: becauſe the Lord had ſaid that he would multiply Iſrael like the ſtars of heaven.

24 || Joab the ſon of Sarvia began to number, but he finiſhed not: becauſe upon this there fell wrath upon Iſrael: and therefore the number of them that were numbered, was not regiſtered in the chronicles of king David. || Supra 21. 2. A. M. 2987. Ante C. 1017.

25 And over the king's treaſures was Azmoth the ſon of Adiel: and over thoſe ſtores which were in the cities, and in the villages, and in the caſtles, was Jonathan the ſon of Ozias.

26 And over the tillage, and the huſbandmen, who tilled the ground, was Ezri the ſon of Chelub:

27 And over the dreſſers of the vineyards, was Semeias a Romathite: and over the wine cellars, Zabdias an Aphonite.

28 And over the olive-yards and the fig-groves, which were in the plains, was Balanam a Gederite: and over the oil cellars, Joas.

29 And over the herds that fed in Saron, was Setrai a Saronite: and over the oxen in the valleys, Saphat the ſon of Adli:

30 And over the camels, Ubil an Iſmahelite: and over the aſſes, Jadias a Meronathite:

31 And over the ſheep Jaziz an Agarene. All theſe, were the rulers of the ſubſtance of king David.

32 And Jonathan David's uncle, a counſellor, a wiſe and learned man: he and Jahiel the ſon of Hachamoni were with the king's ſons.

33 And Achitophel was the king's counſellor, and Chuſai the Arachite, the king's friend.

34 And after Achitophel was Joiada the ſon of Banaias, and Abiathar. And the general of the king's army was Joab.

CHAP. XXVIII.

David's ſpeech, in a ſolemn aſſembly: his exhortation to Solomon. He giveth him a pattern of the temple.

A. M. 2989. Ante C. 1015. AND David aſſembled all the chief men of Iſrael, the princes of the tribes, and the captains of the companies, who waited on the king: and the captains over thouſands, and over hundreds, and them who had the charge over the ſubſtance and poſſeſſions of the king, and his ſons with the officers of the court, and the men of power, and all the braveſt of the army at Jeruſalem.

2 And the king riſing up, and ſtanding ſaid: Hear me, my brethren, and my people: I had a thought to have built a houſe, in which the ark of the Lord, and the foot-ſtool of our God might reſt: and I prepared all things for the building.

‖ 2 Kings 7. 13. 3 And God ſaid to me: ‖ Thou ſhalt not build a houſe to my name: becauſe thou art a man of war, and haſt ſhed blood.

4 But the Lord God of Iſrael choſe me of all the houſe of my father, to be king over Iſrael for ever: for of Juda he choſe the princes: and of the houſe of Juda, my father's houſe: and among the ſons of my father, it pleaſed him to chooſe me king over all Iſrael.

‖ Supra 9. 5 ‖ And among my ſons (for the Lord hath given me many ſons) he hath choſen Solomon my ſon, to ſit upon the throne of the kingdom of the Lord over Iſrael.

6 And he ſaid to me: Solomon thy ſon ſhall build my houſe, and my courts: for I have choſen him to be my ſon, and I will be a father to him.

7 And I will eſtabliſh his kingdom for ever, if he continue to keep my commandments, and my judgments, as at this day.

8 Now then before all the aſſembly of Iſrael, in the hearing of our God, keep ye, and ſeek all the commandments of the Lord our God: that you may poſſeſs the good land, and may leave it to your children after you for ever.

9 And thou my ſon Solomon, know the God of thy father, and ſerve him with a perfect heart, and a willing mind: ‖ for the Lord ſearcheth all hearts, and underſtandeth all the thoughts of minds. If thou ſeek him, thou ſhalt find him: but if thou forſake him he will caſt thee off for ever. ‖ Pſal. 7. 20.

10 Now therefore ſeeing the Lord hath choſen thee to build the houſe of the ſanctuary, take courage, and do it.

11 And David gave to Solomon his ſon a deſcription of the porch, and of the temple, and of the treaſures, and of the upper floor, and of the inner chambers, and of the houſe for the mercy-ſeat,

12 As alſo of all the courts, which he had in his thought, and of the chambers round about, for the treaſures of the houſe of the Lord, and for the treaſures of the conſecrated things,

13 And of the diviſions of the prieſts and of the Levites, for all the works of the houſe of the Lord, and for all the veſſels of the ſervice of the temple of the Lord.

14 Gold by weight for every veſſel for the miniſtry. And ſilver by weight according to the diverſity of the veſſels and uſes.

15 He gave alſo gold for the golden candleſticks, and their lamps, according to the dimenſions of every candleſtick, and the lamps thereof. In like manner alſo he gave ſilver by weight for the ſilver candleſticks, and for their lamps according to the diverſity of the dimenſions of them.

16 He gave alſo gold for the tables of propoſition, according to the diverſity of the tables: in like manner alſo ſilver for other tables of ſilver.

17 For fleſh-hooks alſo, and bowls, and cenſers of fine gold, and for little lions of gold, according to the meaſure he gave by weight, for every lion. In like manner alſo for lions of ſilver he ſet aſide a different weight of ſilver.

18 And for the altar of incenſe, he gave the pureſt gold: and to make the likeneſs of the chariot of the Cherubims ſpreading their wings, and covering the ark of the covenant of the Lord.

19 All theſe things, ſaid he, came to me written by the hand of the Lord: that I might underſtand all the works of the pattern.

20 And David ſaid to Solomon his ſon: Act like a man, and take courage, and do: fear not, and be not diſmayed: for the Lord my God will be with thee, and will not leave thee, nor forsake thee, till thou hast finished all the work for the service of the house of the Lord.

21 Behold the courses of the priests and the Levites, for every ministry of the house of the Lord, stand by thee, and are ready, and both the princes, and the people know how to execute all thy commandments.

CHAP. XXIX.

David by word and example encourageth the princes to contribute liberally to the building of the temple. His thanksgiving, prayer, and sacrifices: his death.

A.M. 2989. Ante C. 1015. AND king David said to all the assembly: Solomon my son, whom alone God hath chosen, is as yet young and tender: and the work is great, for a house is prepared not for man, but for God.

2 And I with all my ability have prepared the expences for the house of my God. Gold for vessels of gold, and silver for vessels of silver, brass for things of brass, iron for things of iron, wood for things of wood: and onyx-stones, and stones like alabaster, and of divers colours, and all manner of precious stones, and marble of Paros in great abundance:

3 Now over and above the things which I have offered into the house of my God, I give of my own proper goods, gold and silver for the temple of my God, beside what things I have prepared for the holy house.

4 Three thousand talents of gold of the gold of Ophir: and seven thousand talents of refined silver, to overlay the walls of the temple.

5 And gold for wheresoever there is need of gold: and silver for wheresoever there is need of silver, for the works to be made by the hands of the artificers: now if any man is willing to offer, let him fill his hand to-day, and offer what he pleaseth to the Lord.

6 Then the heads of the families, and the princes of the tribes of Israel, and the captains of thousands, and of hundreds, and the overseers of the king's possessions promised,

7 And they gave for the works of the house of the Lord, of gold, five thousand talents, and ten thousand solids: of silver ten thousand talents: and of brass eighteen thousand talents: and of iron a hundred thousand talents.

8 And all they that had stones, gave them to the treasures of the house of the Lord, by the hand of Jahiel the Gersonite.

9 And the people rejoiced, when they promised their offerings willingly: because they offered them to the Lord with all their heart: and David the king rejoiced also with a great joy.

10 And he blessed the Lord before all the multitude, and he said: Blessed art thou, O Lord the God of Israel, our father from eternity to eternity.

11 Thine, O Lord, is magnificence, and power, and glory, and victory: and to thee is praise: for all that is in heaven, and in earth, is thine: thine is the kingdom, O Lord, and thou art above all princes.

12 Thine are riches, and thine is glory: thou hast dominion over all, in thy hand is power and might: in thy hand greatness, and the empire of all things.

13 Now therefore our God we give thanks to thee, and we praise thy glorious name.

14 Who am I, and what is my people, that we should be able to promise thee all these things? all things are thine: and we have given thee what we received of thy hand.

15 For we are sojourners before thee, and strangers, as were all our fathers. || Our days upon earth are as a shadow, and there is no stay. || Wis. 2. 5.

16 O Lord our God, all this store that we have prepared to build thee a house for thy holy name, is from thy hand, and all things are thine.

17 I know my God that thou provest hearts, and lovest simplicity, wherefore I also in the simplicity of my heart, have joyfully offered all these things: and I have seen with great joy thy people which are here present, offer thee their offerings.

18 O Lord God of Abraham, and of Isaac, and of Israel our fathers, keep for ever this will of their heart, and let this mind remain always for the worship of thee.

19 And give to Solomon my son a perfect heart, that he may keep thy commandments, thy testimonies, and thy ceremonies, and do all things: and build the house, for which I have provided the charges.

20 And David commanded all the assembly: Bless ye the Lord our God. And all the assembly blessed the Lord the God of their fathers: and they bowed themselves, and worshipped God, and then the king.

21 And they sacrificed victims to the Lord: and they offered holocausts the next day, a thousand bullocks, a thousand rams, a thousand lambs, with their libations, and with every thing prescribed most abundantly for all Israel.

22 And they eat, and drank before the Lord that day with great joy. || And they anointed the second time Solomon the son of David. And they anointed him to the || 3 Kings 1. 34.

Lord to be prince, and Sadoc to be high prieſt.

23 And Solomon ſat on the throne of the Lord as king inſtead of David his father, and he pleaſed all: and all Iſrael obeyed him.

24 And all the princes, and men of power, and all the ſons of king David gave their hand, and were ſubject to Solomon the king.

25 And the Lord magnified Solomon over all Iſrael: and gave him the glory of a reign, ſuch as no king of Iſrael had before him.

26 So David the ſon of Iſai reigned over all Iſrael.

27 ‖ And the days, that he reigned over Iſrael, were forty years: in Hebron he reigned ſeven years, and in Jeruſalem three and thirty years. ‖ 3 Kings 2. 11.

28 And he died in a good age, full of days, and riches, and glory. And Solomon his ſon reigned in his ſtead. A. M. 2990. Ante C. 1014.

29 Now the acts of king David firſt and laſt are written in the book of Samuel the ſeer, and in the book of Nathan the prophet, and in the book of Gad the ſeer:

30 And of all his reign, and his valour, and of the times that paſſed under him, either in Iſrael, or in all the kingdoms of the countries.

THE SECOND BOOK OF PARALIPOMENON.

CHAP. I.

Solomon offereth ſacrifices at Gabaon. His choice of wiſdom which God giveth him.

A. M. 2990. Ante C. 1014. 3 Kings 3. 1. AND Solomon the ſon of David was ſtrengthened in his kingdom, and the Lord his God was with him, and magnified him to a high degree.

2 And Solomon gave orders to all Iſrael, to the captains of thouſands, and of hundreds, and to the rulers, and to the judges of all Iſrael, and the heads of the families:

3 And he went with all the multitude to the high place of Gabaon, where was the tabernacle of the covenant of the Lord, which Moſes the ſervant of God made, in the wilderneſs.

‖ 2 Kings 6. 17. 1 Par. 16. 1. 4 ‖ For David had brought the ark of God from Cariathiarim to the place, which he had prepared for it, and where he had pitched a tabernacle for it, that is, in Jeruſalem.

‖ Exod. 38. 8. 5 And the altar of braſs, ‖ which Beſeleel the ſon of Uri the ſon of Hur had made, was there before the tabernacle of the Lord: and Solomon and all the aſſembly ſought it.

6 And Solomon went up thither to the brazen altar, before the tabernacle of the covenant of the Lord, and offered up on it a thouſand victims.

7 And behold that night God appeared to him, ſaying: Aſk what thou wilt that I ſhould give thee.

8 And Solomon ſaid to God: Thou haſt ſhewn great kindneſs to my father David: and haſt made me king in his ſtead.

9 Now therefore, O Lord God, let thy word be fulfilled, which thou haſt promiſed to David my father: for thou haſt made me king over thy great people, which is as innumerable as the duſt of the earth.

10 ‖ Give me wiſdom and knowledge, that I may come in and go out before thy people: for who can worthily judge this thy people, which is ſo great? ‖ Wiſ. 9. 10.

11 And God ſaid to Solomon: Becauſe this choice hath pleaſed thy heart, and thou haſt not aſked riches, and wealth, and glory, nor the lives of them that hate thee, nor many days of life: but haſt aſked wiſdom and knowledge, to be able to judge my people, over which I have made thee king.

12 Wiſdom and knowledge are granted to thee: and I will give thee riches, and wealth, and glory, ſo that none of the kings before thee, nor after thee, ſhall be like thee.

13 Then Solomon came from the high place of Gabaon to Jeruſalem before the tabernacle of the covenant, and reigned over Iſrael.

‖ 3 Kings 10. 26. 14 ‖ And he gathered to himſelf chariots and horſemen, and he had a thouſand four hundred chariots, and twelve thouſand horſemen: and he placed them in the cities of the chariots, and with the king in Jeruſalem.

15 And the king made ſilver and gold to be in Jeruſalem as ſtones, and cedar-trees as ſycamores, which grow in the plains in great multitude.

16 And there were horſes brought him from Egypt, and from Coa by the king's merchants, who went, and bought at a price,

17 A chariot of four horſes for ſix hundred pieces of ſilver, and a horſe for a hundred and fifty: in like manner market was made in all the kingdoms of the Hethites, and of the kings of Syria.

CHAP. II.

Solomon's embaſſage to Hiram, who ſends him a ſkilful workman and timber.

AND Solomon determined to build a houſe to the name of the Lord, and a palace for himſelf.

2 And he numbered out ſeventy thouſand men to bear burdens, and eighty thouſand to hew ſtones in the mountains, and three thouſand ſix hundred to overſee them.

‖ 3 Kings 5. 2. 3 ‖ He ſent alſo to Hiram king of Tyre, ſaying: As thou didſt with David my father, and didſt ſend him cedars, to build him a houſe, in which he dwelt:

4 So do with me that I may build a houſe to the name of the Lord my God, to dedicate it to burn incenſe before him, and to perfume with aromatical ſpices, and for the continual ſetting forth of bread, and for the holocauſts, morning and evening, and on the ſabbaths, and on the new-moons, and the ſolemnities of the Lord our God for ever, which are commanded for Iſrael.

5 For the houſe which I deſire to build, is great: for our God is great above all gods.

6 Who then can be able to build him a worthy houſe? if heaven, and the heavens of heavens cannot contain him: who am I, that I ſhould be able to build him a houſe? but to this end only, that incenſe may be burnt before him.

7 Send me therefore a ſkilful man, that knoweth how to work in gold, and in ſilver, in braſs, and in iron, in purple, in ſcarlet and in blue, and that hath ſkill in engraving, with the artificers, which I have with me in Judea and Jeruſalem, whom David my father provided.

8 Send me alſo cedars, and fir-trees, and pine-trees from Libanus: for I know that thy ſervants are ſkilful in cutting timber in Libanus, and my ſervants ſhall be with thy ſervants,

9 To provide me timber in abundance. For the houſe which I deſire to build, is to be exceeding great, and glorious.

10 And I will give thy ſervants the workmen that are to cut down the trees, for their food twenty thouſand cores of wheat, and as many cores of barley, and twenty thouſand meaſures of wine, and twenty thouſand meaſures of oil.

11 And Hiram king of Tyre ſent a letter to Solomon, ſaying: Becauſe the Lord hath loved his people, therefore he hath made thee king over them.

12 And he added, ſaying: Bleſſed be the Lord the God of Iſrael, who made heaven and earth, who hath given to king David a wiſe and knowing ſon, endued with underſtanding and prudence, to build a houſe to the Lord, and a palace for himſelf.

13 I therefore have ſent thee my father Hiram, a wiſe and moſt ſkilful man,

14 The ſon of a woman of the daughters of Dan, whoſe father was a Tyrian, who knoweth how to work in gold, and in ſilver, in braſs, and in iron, and in marble, and in timber, in purple alſo, and violet, and ſilk and ſcarlet: and who knoweth to grave all ſort of graving, and to deviſe ingeniouſly all that there may be need of in the work with thy artificers, and with the artificers of my lord David thy father.

15 The wheat therefore, and the barley, and the oil, and the wine, which thou, my lord, haſt promiſed, ſend to thy ſervants.

16 And we will cut down as many trees out of Libanus, as thou ſhalt want, and will convey them in floats by ſea to Joppe: and it will be thy part to bring them thence to Jeruſalem.

17 And Solomon numbered all the proſelytes in the land of Iſrael, after the numbering which David his father had made, and they were found a hundred fifty three thouſand and ſix hundred.

18 And he ſet ſeventy thouſand of them to carry burdens on their ſhoulders, and eighty thouſand to hew ſtones in the mountains: and three thouſand and ſix hundred to be overſeers of the work of the people.

CHAP. III.

The plan and ornaments of the temple: the cherubims, the veil, and the pillars.

3 Kings 6. 1. AND Solomon began to build the houſe of the Lord in Jeruſalem, in mount Moria, which had been ſhewn to David his father, in the place which David had prepared in the ‖ threſhing-floor of Ornan the Jebuſite.

‖ 2 Kings 24. 25. 1 Par. 21. 26.

2 And he began to build in the ſecond month, in the fourth year of his reign. *

* A. M. 2992.

3 Now theſe are the foundations, which Solomon laid, to build the houſe of God, the length by the firſt meaſure ſixty cubits, the breadth twenty cubits.

4 And the porch in the front, which was extended in length according to the meaſure of the breadth of the houſe, twenty cubits: and the height was a hundred and twenty cubits: and he overlaid it within with pure gold.

5 And the greater houſe he cieled with deal boards, and overlaid them with plates of fine gold throughout: and he graved in them palm-trees, and like little chains interlaced with one another.

6 He paved alſo the floor of the temple with moſt precious marble, of great beauty.

7 And the gold of the plates with which he overlaid the houſe, and the beams thereof, and the poſts, and the walls, and the doors was of the fineſt: and he graved cherubims on the walls.

8 He made alſo the houſe of the holy of holies: the length of it according to the breadth of the temple, twenty cubits, and the breadth of it in like manner twenty cubits: and he overlaid it with plates of gold, amounting to about ſix hundred talents.

9 He made alſo nails of gold, and the weight of every nail was fifty ſicles: the upper chambers alſo he overlaid with gold.

10 He made alſo in the houſe of the holy of holies two cherubims of image-work: and he overlaid them with gold.

11 The wings of the cherubims were extended twenty cubits, ſo that one wing was five cubits long, and reached to the wall of the houſe: and the other was alſo five cubits long, and reached to the wing of the other cherub.

12 In like manner the wing of the other cherub, was five cubits long, and reached to the wall: and his other wing was five cubits long, and touched the wing of the other cherub.

13 So the wings of the two cherubims were ſpread forth, and were extended twenty cubits: and they ſtood upright on their feet, and their faces were turned toward the houſe without.

14 ‖ He made alſo a veil of violet, purple, ſcarlet, and ſilk: and wrought in it cherubims. ‖ Matt. 27. 51.

15 ‖ He made alſo before the doors of the temple two pillars, which were five and thirty cubits high: and their chapiters were five cubits. ‖ Jer. 52. 20.

16 He made alſo as it were little chains in the oracle, and he put them on the heads of the pillars: and a hundred pomegranates, which he put between the little chains.

17 Theſe pillars he put at the entrance of the temple, one on the right hand, and the other on the left: that which was on the right hand, he called Jachin: and that on the left hand, Booz.

CHAP. IV.

The altar of braſs, the molten ſea upon twelve oxen; the ten loaves; the candleſticks and other veſſels and ornaments of the temple.

HE made alſo an altar of braſs twenty cubits long, and twenty cubits broad, and ten cubits high.

2 ‖ Alſo a molten ſea of ten cubits from brim to brim, round in compaſs: it was five cubits high, and a line of thirty cubits compaſſed it round about. ‖ 3 Kings 7. 23.

3 And under it there was the likeneſs of oxen, and certain engravings on the outſide of ten cubits compaſſed the belly of the ſea, as it were with two rows.

4 And the oxen were caſt: and the ſea itſelf was ſet upon the twelve oxen, three of which looked towards the north, and other three toward the weſt: and other three toward the ſouth, and the other three that remained toward the eaſt, and the ſea ſtood upon them: and the hinder parts of the oxen were inward under the ſea.

5 Now the thickneſs of it was a hand breadth, and the brim of it was like the brim of a cup, or of a criſped lily: and it held three thouſand meaſures.

6 He made alſo ten lavers: and he ſet five on the right hand, and five on the left, to waſh in them all ſuch things as they were to offer for holocauſt: but the ſea was for the prieſts to waſh in.

7 And he made ten golden candleſticks, according to the form which they were commanded to be made by: and he ſet them in the temple, five on the right hand, and five on the left.

8 Moreover alſo ten tables: and he ſet them in the temple, five on the right ſide, and five on the left. Also a hundred bowls of gold.

9 He made also the court of the priests, and a great hall, and doors in the hall, which he covered with brass.

10 And he set the sea on the right side over-against the east toward the south.

11 And Hiram made cauldrons, and flesh-hooks, and bowls: and finished all the king's work in the house of God:

12 That is to say, the two pillars, and the pommels, and the chapiters, and the net-work, to cover the chapiters over the pommels.

13 And four hundred pomegranates, and two wreaths of net-work, so that two rows of pomegranates were joined to each wreath, to cover the pommels, and the chapiters of the pillars.

14 He made also bases, and lavers, which he set upon the bases.

15 One sea, and twelve oxen under the sea.

16 And the cauldrons, and flesh-hooks, and bowls. All the vessels did Hiram his father make for Solomon in the house of the Lord of the finest brass.

17 In the country near the Jordan did the king cast them, in a clay-ground between Sochot and Saredatha.

18 And the multitude of vessels was innumerable, so that the weight of the brass was not known.

19 And Solomon made all the vessels for the house of God, and the golden altar, and the tables, upon which were the loaves of proposition,

20 The candlesticks also of most pure gold with their lamps to give light before the oracle, according to the manner.

21 And certain flowers, and lamps, and golden tongs: all were made of the finest gold.

22 The vessels also for the perfumes and the censers, and the bowls, and the mortars, of pure gold. And he graved the doors of the inner temple, that is, for the holy of holies: and the doors of the temple without were of gold. And thus all the work was finished which Solomon made in the house of the Lord.

CHAP. V.

The ark is brought with great solemnity into the temple: the temple is filled with the glory of God.

3 Kings 8. 9. THEN Solomon brought in all the things that David his father had vowed, the silver, and the gold, and all the vessels he put among the treasures of the house of God.

2 ‖ And after this he gathered together the ancients of Israel, and all the princes of the tribes, and the heads of the families, of the children of Israel to Jerusalem, to bring the ark of the covenant of the Lord out of the city of David, which is Sion. ‖ 3 Kings 8. 1. A. M. 3001. Ante C. 1003.

3 And all the men of Israel came to the king in the solemn day of the seventh month.

4 And when all the ancients of Israel were come, the Levites took up the ark.

5 And brought it in, together with all the furniture of the tabernacle. And the priests with the Levites carried the vessels of the sanctuary, which were in the tabernacle.

6 And king Solomon, and all the assembly of Israel, and all that were gathered together before the ark, sacrificed rams, and oxen without number: so great was the multitude of the victims.

7 And the priests brought in the ark of the covenant of the Lord into its place, that is, to the oracle of the temple, into the holy of holies under the wings of the cherubims:

8 So that the cherubims spread their wings over the place, in which the ark was set, and covered the ark itself and its staves.

9 Now the ends of the staves wherewith the ark was carried, because they were something longer, were seen before the oracle: but if a man were a little outward, he could not see them. So the ark has been there unto this day.

10 And there was nothing else in the ark but the two tables which Moses put there at Horeb when the Lord gave the law to the children of Israel, at their coming out of Egypt.

11 Now when the priests were come out of the sanctuary (for all the priests that could be found there, were sanctified: and as yet at that time the courses and order of the ministries were not divided among them)

12 Both the Levites and the singing men, that is, both they that were under Asaph, and they that were under Heman, and they that were under Idithun, with their sons, and their brethren, clothed with fine linen, sounded with cymbals, and psalteries, and harps, standing on the east side of the altar, and with them a hundred and twenty priests, sounding with trumpets.

13 So when they all sounded together, both with trumpets, and voice, and cymbals, and organs, and with divers kind of musical instruments, and lifted up their voice on high: the sound was heard afar off, so that when they began to praiſe the Lord, and to ſay: Give glory to the Lord for he is good, for his mercy endureth for ever: the houſe of God was filled with a cloud.

14 Nor could the prieſts ſtand and miniſter by reaſon of the cloud. For the glory of the Lord had filled the houſe of God.

CHAP. VI.

Solomon's bleſſings and prayer.

A. M. 3001. 3 Kings 8. 15.

THEN Solomon ſaid: The Lord promiſed that he would dwell in a cloud.

2 But I have built a houſe to his name, that he might dwell there for ever.

3 And the king turned his face, and bleſſed all the multitude of Iſrael (for all the multitude ſtood attentive) and he ſaid:

4 Bleſſed be the Lord the God of Iſrael, who hath accompliſhed in deed that which he ſpoke to David my father, ſaying:

5 From the day that I brought my people out of the land of Egypt, I choſe no city among all the tribes of Iſrael, for a houſe to be built in it to my name: neither choſe I any other man, to be the ruler of my people Iſrael.

6 But I choſe Jeruſalem, that my name might be there: and I choſe David to ſet him over my people Iſrael.

7 And whereas David my father had a mind to build a houſe to the name of the Lord the God of Iſrael,

8 The Lord ſaid to him: Foraſmuch as it was thy will to build a houſe to my name, thou haſt done well indeed in having ſuch a will:

9 But thou ſhalt not build the houſe, but thy ſon, who ſhall come out of thy loins, he ſhall build a houſe to my name.

10 The Lord therefore hath accompliſhed his word which he ſpoke: and I am riſen up in the place of David my father, and ſit upon the throne of Iſrael, as the Lord promiſed: and have built a houſe to the name of the Lord God of Iſrael.

11 And I have put in it the ark, wherein is the covenant of the Lord, which he made with the children of Iſrael.

12 And he ſtood before the altar of the Lord, in preſence of all the multitude of Iſrael, and ſtretched forth his hands.

13 For Solomon had made a brazen ſcaffold, and had ſet it in the midſt of the temple, which was five cubits long, and five cubits broad, and three cubits high: and he ſtood upon it: then kneeling down in the preſence of all the multitude of Iſrael, and lifting up his hands towards heaven,

‖ 2 Mac. 2, 8.

14 ‖ He ſaid: O Lord God of Iſrael, there is no God like thee in heaven nor in earth: who keepeſt covenant and mercy with thy ſervants, that walk before thee with all their hearts:

15 Who haſt performed to thy ſervant David my father all that thou haſt promiſed him: and haſt accompliſhed in fact, what thou haſt ſpoken with the mouth, as alſo the preſent time proveth.

16 Now then, O Lord God of Iſrael, fulfil to thy ſervant David my father, whatſoever thou haſt promiſed him, ſaying: There ſhall not fail thee a man in my ſight, to ſit upon the throne of Iſrael: yet ſo that thy children take heed to their ways, and walk in my law, as thou haſt walked before me.

17 And now, Lord God of Iſrael, let thy word be eſtabliſhed which thou haſt ſpoken to thy ſervant David.

18 Is it credible then that God ſhould dwell with men on the earth? If heaven and the heavens of heavens do not contain thee, how much leſs this houſe, which I have built?

19 But to this end only it is made, that thou mayſt regard the prayer of thy ſervant, and his ſupplication, O Lord my God: and mayſt hear the prayers which thy ſervant poureth out before thee.

20 That thou mayſt open thy eyes upon this houſe day and night, upon the place wherein thou haſt promiſed that thy name ſhould be called upon,

21 And that thou wouldſt hear the prayer which thy ſervant prayeth in it: hearken then to the prayers of thy ſervant, and of thy people Iſrael. Whoſoever ſhall pray in this place, hear thou from thy dwelling-place, that is, from heaven, and ſhew mercy.

22 If any man ſin againſt his neighbour, and come to ſwear againſt him, and bind himſelf with a curſe before the altar in this houſe:

23 Then hear thou from heaven, and do juſtice to thy ſervants, ſo as to requite the wicked by making his wickedneſs fall upon his own head, and to revenge the juſt, rewarding him according to his juſtice.

24 If thy people Iſrael be overcome by their enemies, (for they will ſin againſt thee) and being converted ſhall do penance, and call upon thy name, and pray to thee in this place,

25 Then hear thou from heaven, and forgive the ſin of thy people Iſrael, and bring them back into the land, which thou gaveſt to them, and their fathers.

26 If the heavens be ſhut up, and there fall no rain by reaſon of the ſins of the people, and they ſhall pray to thee in this place, and confeſs to thy name, and be converted from their ſins, when thou doſt afflict them,

27 Then hear thou from heaven, O Lord, and forgive the ſins of thy ſervants and of thy people Iſrael, and teach them the good way, in which they may walk: and give rain to thy land which thou haſt given to thy people to poſſeſs.

|| Infra 20. 9. 28 || If a famine ariſe in the land, or a peſtilence or blaſting, or mildew, or locuſts, or caterpillars; or if their enemies waſte the country, and beſiege the cities, whatſoever ſcourge or infirmity ſhall be upon them:

29 Then if any of thy people Iſrael, knowing his own ſcourge and infirmity ſhall pray, and ſhall ſpread forth his hands in this houſe,

30 Hear thou from heaven, from thy high dwelling-place, and forgive, and render to every one according to his ways, which thou knoweſt him to have in his heart: (for thou only knoweſt the hearts of the children of men:)

31 That they may fear thee, and walk in thy ways all the days that they live upon the face of the land, which thou haſt given to our fathers.

32 If the ſtranger alſo, who is not of thy people Iſrael, come from a far country, for the ſake of thy great name, and thy ſtrong hand, and thy ſtretched out arm, and adore in this place:

33 Hear thou from heaven thy firm dwelling place, and do all that which that ſtranger ſhall call upon thee for: that all the people of the earth may know thy name, and may fear thee, as thy people Iſrael, and may know, that thy name is invoked upon this houſe, which I have built.

34 If thy people go out to war againſt their enemies, by the way that thou ſhalt ſend them, and adore thee towards the way of this city, which thou haſt choſen, and the houſe which I have built to thy name:

35 Then hear thou from heaven their prayers, and their ſupplications, and revenge them.

|| 3 Kings 8. 46. Eccl. 7. 21. 1 John 1. 8. 36 And if they ſin againſt thee (|| for there is no man that ſinneth not) and thou be angry with them, and deliver them up to their enemies, and they lead them away captive to a land either afar off, or near at hand,

37 And if they be converted in their heart in the land, to which they were led captive, and do penance, and pray to thee in the land of their captivity, ſaying: We have ſinned, we have done wickedly, we have dealt unjuſtly:

38 And return to thee with all their heart, and with all their ſoul, in the land of their captivity, to which they were led away, and adore thee towards the way of their own land which thou gaveſt their fathers, and of the city, which thou haſt choſen, and the houſe which I have built to thy name:

39 Then hear thou from heaven, that is, from thy firm dwelling place, their prayers, and do judgment, and forgive thy people, although they have ſinned:

40 For thou art my God: let thy eyes, I beſeech thee, be open, and let thy ears be attentive to the prayer, that is made in this place.

|| Pſ. 131. 8. 41 || Now therefore ariſe, O Lord God, into thy reſting place, thou and the ark of thy ſtrength: let thy prieſts, O Lord God put on ſalvation, and thy ſaints rejoice in good things.

42 O Lord God turn not away the face of thy anointed: remember the mercies of David thy ſervant.

CHAP. VII.

Fire from heaven conſumeth the ſacrifices. The ſolemnity of the dedication of the temple. God ſignifieth his having heard Solomon's prayer: yet ſo if he continue to ſerve him.

A. M. 3001. AND when Solomon had made an end of his prayer, fire came down from heaven, and conſumed the holocauſts and the victims: and the majeſty of the Lord filled the houſe.

|| 2 Mac. 2. 8. 2 || Neither could the prieſts enter into the temple of the Lord, becauſe the majeſty of the Lord had filled the temple of the Lord.

3 Moreover all the children of Iſrael ſaw the fire coming down, and the glory of the Lord upon the houſe: and falling down with their faces to the ground, upon the ſtone pavement, they adored, and praiſed the Lord: becauſe he is good, becauſe his mercy endureth for ever.

4 And the king and all the people ſacrificed victims before the Lord.

|| 3 Kings 8. 63. 5 || And king Solomon offered a ſacrifice of twenty-two thouſand oxen, and one hundred and twenty thouſand rams: and the king and all the people dedicated the houſe of God.

6 And the prieſts ſtood in their offices: and the Levites with the inſtruments of muſic of the Lord, which king David made to praiſe the Lord: becauſe his mercy endureth for ever, ſinging the hymns of David by their miniſtry: and the prieſts ſounded with trumpets before them, and all Iſrael ſtood.

7 Solomon alſo ſanctified the middle of the court before the temple of the Lord:

for he offered there the holocauſts, and the fat of the peace-offerings: becauſe the brazen altar, which he had made, could not hold the holocauſts and the ſacrifices and the fat:

8 And Solomon kept the ſolemnity at that time ſeven days, and all Iſrael with him, a very great congregation, from the entrance of Emath to the torrent of Egypt.

9 And he made on the eighth day a ſolemn aſſembly, becauſe he had kept the dedication of the altar ſeven days, and had celebrated the ſolemnity ſeven days.

10 So on the three and twentieth day of the ſeventh month he ſent away the people to their dwellings, joyful and glad for the good that the Lord had done to David, and to Solomon, and to all Iſrael his people.

‖ 3 Kings 9. 1. 11 ‖ And Solomon finiſhed the houſe of the Lord, and the king's houſe, and all that he had deſigned in his heart to do, in the houſe of the Lord, and in his own houſe, and he proſpered.

12 And the Lord appeared to him by night, and ſaid: I have heard thy prayer, and I have choſen this place to myſelf for a houſe of ſacrifice.

13 If I ſhut up heaven, and there fall no rain, or if I give orders, and command the locuſt to devour the land, or if I ſend peſtilence among my people:

14 And my people, upon whom my name is called, being converted, ſhall make ſupplication to me, and ſeek out my face, and do penance for their moſt wicked ways: then will I hear from heaven, and will forgive their ſins, and will heal their land.

15 My eyes alſo ſhall be open, and my ears attentive to the prayer of him that ſhall pray in this place.

16 For I have choſen, and have ſanctified this place, that my name may be there for ever, and my eyes and my heart may remain there perpetually.

17 And as for thee, if thou walk before me, as David thy father walked, and do according to all that I have commanded thee, and keep my juſtice and my judgments:

18 I will raiſe up the throne of thy kingdom, as I promiſed to David thy father, ſaying: There ſhall not fail thee a man of thy ſtock to be ruler in Iſrael.

19 But if you turn away, and forſake my juſtices, and my commandments which I have ſet before you, and ſhall go and ſerve ſtrange gods, and adore them,

20 I will pluck you up by the root out of my land which I have given you: and this houſe which I have ſanctified to my name, I will caſt away from before my face, and will make it a bye-word, and an example among all nations.

21 And this houſe ſhall be for a proverb to all that paſs by, and they ſhall be aſtoniſhed and ſay: Why hath the Lord done thus to this land, and to this houſe?

22 And they ſhall anſwer: Becauſe they forſook the Lord the God of their fathers, who brought them out of the land of Egypt, and laid hold on ſtrange gods, and adored them, and worſhipped them: therefore all theſe evils are come upon them.

CHAP. VIII.

Solomon's buildings and other acts.

AND at the end of twenty years after Solomon had built the houſe of the Lord and his own houſe: A. M. 3012. Ante C. 992.

2 He built the cities which Hiram had given to Solomon, and cauſed the children of Iſrael to dwell there. 3 Kings 9. 11.

3 He went alſo into Emath Suba, and poſſeſſed it.

4 And he built Palmira in the deſert, and he built other ſtrong cities in Emath.

5 And he built Bethhoron the upper, and Bethhoron the nether, walled cities with gates and bars and locks.

6 Balaath alſo and all the ſtrong cities that were Solomon's, and all the cities of the chariots, and the cities of the horſemen. All that Solomon had a mind, and deſigned, he built in Jeruſalem and in Libanus, and in all the land of his dominion.

7 All the people that were left of the Hethites, and the Amorrhites, and the Pherezites, and the Hevites, and the Jebuſites, that were not of the ſtock of Iſrael:

8 Of their children, and of the poſterity, whom the children of Iſrael had not ſlain, Solomon made to be the tributaries, unto this day.

9 But of the children of Iſrael he ſet none to ſerve in the king's works: for they were men of war, and chief captains, and rulers of his chariots and horſemen.

10 And all the chief captains of king Solomon's army were two hundred and fifty, who taught the people.

‖ 3 Kings 3. 1. 11 And he removed the daughter of Pharao from the city of ‖ David, to the houſe which he had built for her. For the king ſaid: My wife ſhall not dwell in the houſe of David king of Iſrael, for it is ſanctified: becauſe the ark of the Lord came into it.

12 Then Solomon offered holocauſts to the Lord upon the altar of the Lord, which he had built before the porch,

13 That every day an offering might be made on it according to the ordinance of Moſes, in the ſabbaths, and on the new moons, and on the feſtival days three times a year, that is to ſay, in the feaſt of unleavened bread, and in the feaſt of weeks, and in the feaſt of tabernacles.

14 And he appointed according to the order of David his father the offices of the prieſts in their miniſtries: and the Levites in their order to give praiſe, and miniſter before the prieſts according to the duty of every day: and the porters in their diviſions by gate and gate: for ſo David the man of God had commanded.

15 And the prieſts and Levites departed not from the king's commandments, as to any thing that he had commanded, and as to the keeping of the treaſures.

16 Solomon had all charges prepared, from the day that he founded the houſe of the Lord, until the day wherein he finiſhed it.

17 Then Solomon went to Aſiongaber, and to Ailath on the coaſt of the Red Sea, which is in the land of Edom.

18 And Hiram ſent him ſhips by the hands of his ſervants, and ſkilful mariners, and they went with Solomon's ſervants to Ophir, and they took thence four hundred and fifty talents of gold, and brought it to king Solomon.

CHAP. IX.

The queen of Saba admireth the wiſdom of Solomon. His riches and glory. His death.

3 Kings 10. 1. Mat. 12. 42. Luke 11. 31.

AND when the queen of Saba heard of the fame of Solomon, ſhe came to try him with hard queſtions at Jeruſalem, with great riches, and camels, which carried ſpices, and abundance of gold, and precious ſtones. And when ſhe was come to Solomon, ſhe propoſed to him all that was in her heart.

2 And Solomon explained to her all that ſhe propoſed: and there was not any thing that he did not make clear unto her.

3 And when ſhe had ſeen theſe things, to wit, the wiſdom of Solomon, and the houſe which he had built,

4 And the meats of his table, and the dwelling places of his ſervants, and the attendance of his officers, and their apparel, his cup-bearers alſo, and their garments, and the victims which he offered in the houſe of the Lord: there was no more ſpirit in her, ſhe was ſo aſtoniſhed.

5 And ſhe ſaid to the king: The word is true which I heard in my country of thy virtues and wiſdom.

6 I did not believe them that told it, until I came, and my eyes had ſeen, and I had proved that ſcarce one half of thy wiſdom had been told me: thou haſt exceeded the fame with thy virtues.

7 Happy are thy men, and happy are thy ſervants, who ſtand always before thee, and hear thy wiſdom.

8 Bleſſed be the Lord thy God, who hath been pleaſed to ſet thee on his throne, king of the Lord thy God. Becauſe God loveth Iſrael, and will preſerve them for ever: therefore hath he made thee king over them, to do judgment and juſtice.

9 And ſhe gave to the king a hundred and twenty talents of gold, and ſpices in great abundance, and moſt precious ſtones: there were no ſuch ſpices as theſe which the queen of Saba gave to king Solomon.

10 And the ſervants alſo of Hiram, with the ſervants of Solomon brought gold from Ophir, and thyine-trees, and moſt precious ſtones:

11 And the king made of the thyine-trees ſtairs in the houſe of the Lord, and in the king's houſe, and harps and pſalteries for the ſinging men: never were there ſeen ſuch trees in the land of Juda.

12 And king Solomon gave to the queen of Saba all that ſhe deſired, and that ſhe aſked, and many more things than ſhe brought to him: ſo ſhe returned, and went to her own country with her ſervants.

13 And the weight of the gold, that was brought to Solomon every year, was ſix hundred and ſixty ſix talents of gold:

14 Beſide the ſum which the deputies of divers nations, and the merchants were accuſtomed to bring, and all the kings of Arabia, and the lords of the lands, who brought gold and ſilver to Solomon.

15 And king Solomon made two hundred golden ſpears, of the ſum of ſix hundred pieces of gold which went to every ſpear:

16 And three hundred golden ſhields of three hundred pieces of gold, which went to the covering of every ſhield: and the king put them in the armoury, which was compaſſed with a wood.

17 The king alſo made a great throne of ivory, and overlaid it with pure gold.

18 And ſix ſteps to go up to the throne, and a foot-ſtool of gold, and two arms one on either ſide, and two lions ſtanding by the arms:

19 Moreover twelve other little lions ſtanding upon the ſteps on both ſides: there was not ſuch a throne in any kingdom.

20 And all the veſſels of the king's table were of gold, and the veſſels of the houſe of the foreſt of Libanus were of the pureſt gold. For no account was made of ſilver in thoſe days.

21 For the king's ſhips went to Tharſis with the ſervants of Hiram, once in three years: and they brought thence gold and ſilver, and ivory, and apes, and peacocks.

22 And Solomon was magnified above all the kings of the earth for riches and glory.

23 And all the kings of the earth deſired to ſee the face of Solomon, that they might hear the wiſdom which God had given in his heart.

24 And every year they brought him preſents, veſſels of ſilver and of gold, and garments, and armour, and ſpices, and horſes, and mules.

25 And Solomon had forty thouſand horſes in the ſtables, and twelve thouſand chariots, and horſemen, and he placed them in the cities of the chariots, and where the king was in Jeruſalem.

26 And he exerciſed authority over all the kings from the river Euphrates to the land of the Philiſtines, and to the borders of Egypt.

27 And he made ſilver as plentiful in Jeruſalem as ſtones: and cedars as common as the ſycamores, which grow in the plains.

28 And horſes were brought to him out of Egypt, and out of all countries.

29 Now the reſt of the acts of Solomon firſt and laſt are written in the words of Nathan the prophet, and in the books of Ahias the Silonite, and in the viſion of Addo the ſeer, againſt Jeroboam the ſon of Nabat.

30 And Solomon reigned in Jeruſalem over all Iſrael forty years.

* A. M. 3029. Ante C. 975. 31 And he ſlept * with his fathers: and they buried him in the city of David: and Roboam his ſon reigned in his ſtead.

CHAP. X.

Roboam anſwereth the people roughly: upon which ten tribes revolt.

3 Kings 12. 1. A. M. 3029. AND Roboam went to Sichem: for thither all Iſrael were aſſembled, to make him king.

2 And when Jeroboam the ſon of Nabat, who was in Egypt (for he was fled thither from Solomon), heard it, forthwith he returned.

3 And they ſent for him, and he came with all Iſrael, and they ſpoke to Roboam, ſaying:

4 Thy father oppreſſed us with a moſt grievous yoke, do thou govern us with a lighter hand than thy father, who laid upon us a heavy ſervitude, and eaſe ſomething of the burden, that we may ſerve thee,

5 And he ſaid to them: Come to me again after three days. And when the people were gone,

6 He took counſel with the ancients, who had ſtood before his father Solomon, while he yet lived, ſaying: What counſel give you to me, that I may anſwer the people?

7 And they ſaid to him: If thou pleaſe this people, and ſooth them with kind words, they will be thy ſervants for ever.

8 But he forſook the counſel of the ancients, and began to treat with the young men, that had been brought up with him, and were in his train.

9 And he ſaid to them: What ſeemeth good to you? or what ſhall I anſwer this people, who have ſaid to me: Eaſe the yoke which thy father laid upon us?

10 But they anſwered as young men, and brought up with him in pleaſures, and ſaid: Thus ſhalt thou ſpeak to the people, that ſaid to thee: Thy father made our yoke heavy, do thou eaſe it: thus ſhalt thou anſwer them: My little finger is thicker than the loins of my father.

11 My father laid upon you a heavy yoke, and I will add more weight to it: my father beat you with ſcourges, but I will beat you with ſcorpions.

12 So Jeroboam, and all the people came to Roboam the third day, as he commanded them.

13 And the king anſwered roughly, leaving the counſel of the ancients.

14 And he ſpoke according to the advice of the young men: My father laid upon you a heavy yoke, which I will make heavier: my father beat you with ſcourges, but I will beat you with ſcorpions.

15 And he condeſcended not to the people's requeſts: for it was the will of God, that his word might be fulfilled ‖ which he had ſpoken by the hand of Ahias the Silonite to Jeroboam the ſon of Nabat. ‖ 3 Kings 11. 29.

16 And all the people upon the king's ſpeaking roughly, ſaid thus unto him: We have no part in David, nor inheritance in the ſon of Iſai. Return to thy dwellings, O Iſrael, and do thou, O David, feed thy own houſe. And Iſrael went away to their dwellings.

17 But Roboam reigned over the children of Iſrael that dwelt in the cities of Juda.

18 And king Roboam ſent Aduram, who was over the tributes, and the children of Iſrael ſtoned him, and he died: and king Roboam made haſte to get up into his chariot, and fled into Jeruſalem.

19 And Iſrael revolted from the houſe of David unto this day.

CHAP. XI.

Roboam's reign. His kingdom is ſtrengthened.

A. M. 3030. Ante C. 974. 3 Kings 12. 21.

AND Roboam came to Jeruſalem, and called together all the houſe of Juda and of Benjamin, a hundred and fourſcore thouſand choſen men and warriors, to fight againſt Iſrael, and to bring back his kingdom to him.

2 And the word of the Lord came to Semeias the man of God, ſaying:

3 Speak to Roboam the ſon of Solomon the king of Juda, and to all Iſrael, in Juda and Benjamin:

4 Thus ſaith the Lord: You ſhall not go up, nor fight againſt your brethren: let every man return to his own houſe, for by my will this thing has been done. And when they heard the word of the Lord, they returned, and did not go againſt Jeroboam.

5 And Roboam dwelt in Jeruſalem, and built walled cities in Juda.

6 And he built Bethlehem, and Etam, and Thecue,

7 And Bethſur, and Socho, and Odollam.

8 And Geth and Mareſa, and Ziph,

9 And Aduram, and Lachis, and Azecha,

10 Saraa alſo, and Aialon, and Hebron, which are in Juda and Benjamin, well fenced cities.

11 And when he had encloſed them with walls, he put in them governors and ſtorehouſes of proviſions, that is, of oil and of wine.

12 Moreover in every city he made an armoury of ſhields and ſpears, and he fortified them with great diligence, and he reigned over Juda, and Benjamin.

13 And the prieſts and Levites, that were in all Iſrael, came to him out of all their ſeats,

14 Leaving their ſuburbs, and their poſſeſſions, and paſſing over to Juda, and Jeruſalem, becauſe Jeroboam and his ſons had caſt them off, from executing the prieſtly office to the Lord.

15 And he made to himſelf prieſts for the high places, and for the devils, and for the calves which he had made.

16 Moreover out of all the tribes of Iſrael, whoſoever gave their heart to ſeek the Lord the God of Iſrael, came into Jeruſalem to ſacrifice their victims before the Lord the God of their fathers.

17 And they ſtrengthened the kingdom of Juda, and eſtabliſhed Roboam the ſon of Solomon for three years: for they walked in the ways of David and of Solomon, only three years.

18 And Roboam took to wife Mahalath, the daughter of Jerimoth the ſon of David: and Abihail the daughter of Eliab the ſon of Iſai.

19 And they bore him ſons Jehus, and Somorias, and Zoom.

20 And after her he married Maacha the daughter of Abſalom, who bore him Abia, and Ethai, and Ziza, and Salomith.

21 And Roboam loved Maacha the daughter of Abſalom above all his wives, and concubines: for he had married eighteen wives, and threeſcore concubines: and he begot eight and twenty ſons, and threeſcore daughters.

22 But he put at the head of them Abia the ſon of Maacha to be the chief ruler over all his brethren: for he meant to make him king,

23 Becauſe he was wiſer and mightier than all his ſons, and in all the countries of Juda, and of Benjamin, and in all the walled cities: and he gave them proviſions in abundance, and he ſought many wives.

CHAP. XII.

Roboam for his ſins is delivered up into the hands of the king of Egypt: who carrieth away all the treaſures of the temple.

AND when the kingdom of Roboam was ſtrengthened and fortified, he forſook the law of the Lord, and all Iſrael with him. A. M. 3032.

2 And in the fifth year * of the reign of Roboam, Seſac king of Egypt came up againſt Jeruſalem (becauſe they had ſinned againſt the Lord) * A. M. 3033. Ante C. 971. 3 Kings 14. 25.

3 With twelve hundred chariots, and threeſcore thouſand horſemen: and the people were without number that came with him out of Egypt, to wit, Lybians, and Troglodites, and Ethiopians.

4 And he took the ſtrongeſt cities in Juda, and came to Jeruſalem.

5 And Semeias the prophet came to Roboam, and to the princes of Juda, that were gathered together in Jeruſalem, fleeing from Seſac, and he ſaid to them: Thus ſaith the Lord: You have left me, and I have left you in the hand of Seſac.

6 And the princes of Iſrael, and the king, being in a conſternation, ſaid: The Lord is juſt.

7 And when the Lord ſaw that they were humbled, the word of the Lord came to Semeias, ſaying: Becauſe they are humbled, I will not deſtroy them, and I will give them a little help, and my wrath ſhall not fall upon Jeruſalem by the hand of Seſac.

8 But yet they ſhall ſerve him, that they may know the difference between my ſervice, and the ſervice of a kingdom of the earth.

9 So Seſac king of Egypt departed from Jeruſalem, taking away the treaſures of the houſe of the Lord, and of the king's houſe, and he took all with him, and the golden ſhields that Solomon had made,

10 Inſtead of which the king made brazen ones, and delivered them to the captains of the ſhield-bearers, who guarded the entrance of the palace.

11 And when the king entered into the houſe of the Lord, the ſhield-bearers came and took them, and brought them back again to their armory.

12 But yet becauſe they were humbled, the wrath of the Lord turned away from them, and they were not utterly deſtroyed: for even in Juda there were found good works.

‖ 3 Kings 14. 21.

13 ‖ King Roboam therefore was ſtrengthened in Jeruſalem, and reigned: he was one and forty years old when he began to reign, and he reigned ſeventeen years in Jeruſalem, the city which the Lord choſe out of all the tribes of Iſrael, to eſtabliſh his name there: and the name of his mother was Naama an Ammoniteſs.

14 But he did evil, and did not prepare his heart to ſeek the Lord.

15 Now the acts of Roboam firſt and laſt are written in the books of Semeias the prophet, and of Addo the ſeer, and diligently recorded: and there was war between Roboam and Jeroboam all their days.

16 And Roboam ſlept with his fathers, and was buried in the city of David. And Abia his ſon reigned in his ſtead.

CHAP. XIII.

Abia's reign: his victory over Jeroboam.

A. M. 3046. Ante C. 958. 3 Kings 15. 2.

IN the eighteenth year of king Jeroboam, Abia reigned over Juda.

2 Three years he reigned in Jeruſalem, and his mother's name was Michaia, the daughter of Uriel of Gabaa: and there was war between Abia and Jeroboam.

1 3 Kings 15. 7. A. M. 3047.

3 ‖ And when Abia had begun battle, and had with him four hundred thouſand moſt valiant and choſen men: Jeroboam put his army in array againſt him, eight hundred thouſand men, who were alſo choſen and moſt valiant for war.

4 And Abia ſtood upon mount Semeron, which was in Ephraim, and ſaid: Hear me, O Jeroboam, and all Iſrael:

5 Do you not know that the Lord God of Iſrael gave to David the kingdom over Iſrael for ever, to him and to his ſons by a covenant of ſalt?

6 And Jeroboam the ſon of Nabat, the ſervant of Solomon the ſon of David, roſe up: ‖ and rebelled againſt his lord.

‖ 3 Kings 11. 26.

7 And there were gathered to him vain men, and children of Belial: and they prevailed againſt Roboam the ſon of Solomon: for Roboam was unexperienced, and of a fearful heart, and could not reſiſt them.

8 And now you ſay that you are able to withſtand the kingdom of the Lord, which he poſſeſſeth by the ſons of David, and you have a great multitude of people, and golden calves, which Jeroboam hath made you for gods.

‖ 3 Kings 12. 31.

9 ‖ And you have caſt out the prieſts of the Lord, the ſons of Aaron, and the Levites: and you have made you prieſts, like all the nations of the earth: whoſoever cometh and conſecrateth his hand with a bullock of the herd, and with ſeven rams, is made a prieſt of thoſe who are no gods.

10 But the Lord is our God, whom we forſake not, and the prieſts who miniſter to the Lord are the ſons of Aaron, and the Levites are in their order.

11 And they offer holocauſts to the Lord, every day morning and evening, and incenſe made according to the ordinance of the law, and the loaves are ſet forth on a moſt clean table, and there is with us the golden candleſtick, and the lamps thereof, to be lighted always in the evening: for we keep the precepts of the Lord our God, whom you have forſaken.

12 Therefore God is the leader in our army, and his prieſts who ſound with trumpets, and reſound againſt you: O children of Iſrael, fight not againſt the Lord the God of your fathers, for it is not good for you.

13 While he ſpoke theſe things, Jeroboam cauſed an ambuſhment to come about behind him. And while he ſtood facing the enemies, he encompaſſed Juda, who perceived it not, with his army.

14 And when Juda looked back, they ſaw the battle coming upon them both before and behind, and they cried to the Lord: and the prieſts began to ſound with the trumpets.

15 And all the men of Juda ſhouted: and behold when they ſhouted, God terrified Jeroboam, and all Iſrael that ſtood againſt Abia and Juda.

16 And the children of Iſrael fled before Juda, and the Lord delivered them into their hand.

17 And Abia and his people ſlew them with a great ſlaughter, and there fell wounded of Iſrael five hundred thouſand valiant men.

18 And the children of Iſrael were brought down, at that time, and the children of Juda were exceedingly ſtrengthened becauſe they had truſted in the Lord the God of their fathers.

19 And Abia purſued after Jeroboam, and took cities from him, Bethel and her daughters, and Jeſana with her daughters, Ephron alſo and her daughters.

20 And Jeroboam was not able to reſiſt any more, in the days of Abia: and the Lord ſtruck him, and he died.

21 But Abia, being ſtrengthened in his kingdom, took fourteen wives: and begot two and twenty ſons, and ſixteen daughters.

22 And the reſt of the acts of Abia, and of his ways and works, are written diligently in the book of Addo the prophet.

The reign of Aſa: his victory over the Ethiopians.

A. M. 3049. Ante C. 955. 3 Kings 15. 8. AND Abia ſlept with his fathers, and they buried him in the city of David: and Aſa his ſon reigned in his ſtead, in his days the land was quiet ten years.

2 And Aſa did that which was good and pleaſing in the ſight of his God, and he deſtroyed the altars of foreign worſhip, and the high places.

3 And broke the ſtatues, and cut down the groves.

4 And he commanded Juda to ſeek the Lord the God of their fathers, and to do the law, and all the commandments.

5 And he took away out of all the cities of Juda the altars, and temples, and reigned in peace.

6 He built alſo ſtrong cities in Juda, for he was quiet, and there had no wars riſen in his time, the Lord giving peace.

7 And he ſaid to Juda: Let us build theſe cities, and compaſs them with walls, and fortify them with towers, and gates, and bars, while all is quiet from wars, becauſe we have ſought the Lord the God of our fathers, and he hath given us peace round about. So they built, and there was no hindrance in building.

8 And Aſa had in his army of men that bore ſhields and ſpears, of Juda three hundred thouſand, and of Benjamin that bore ſhields and drew bows, two hundred and eighty thouſand, all theſe were moſt valiant men.

9 * And Zara the Ethiopian came out againſt them with his army of ten hundred thouſand men, and with three hundred chariots: and he came as far as Mareſa. * A. M. 3063. Ante C. 941.

10 And Aſa went out to meet him, and ſet his army in array for battle in the vale of Sephata, which is near Mareſa:

11 And he called upon the Lord God, and ſaid: || Lord there is no difference with thee, whether thou help with few, or with many: help us, O Lord our God: for with confidence in thee, and in thy name we are come againſt this multitude. O Lord, thou art our God, let not man prevail againſt thee. || 1 Kings 14. 6.

12 And the Lord terrified the Ethiopians before Aſa and Juda: and the Ethiopians fled.

13 And Aſa and the people that were with him, purſued them to Gerara: and the Ethiopians fell even to utter deſtruction, for the Lord ſlew them, and his army fought againſt them, and they were deſtroyed. And they took abundance of ſpoils,

14 And they took all the cities round about Gerara: for a great fear was come upon all men: and they pillaged the cities, and carried off much booty.

15 And they deſtroyed the ſheep-cotes, and took an infinite multitude of cattle, and of camels: and returned to Jeruſalem.

CHAP. XV.

The prophecy of Azarias. Aſa's covenant with God. He depoſeth his mother.

AND the Spirit of God came upon Azarias the ſon of Oded, A. M. 3063.

2 And he went out to meet Aſa, and ſaid to him: Hear ye me, Aſa, and all Juda and Benjamin: The Lord is with you, becauſe you have been with him. If you ſeek him, you ſhall find: but if you forſake him, he will forſake you.

3 And many days ſhall paſs in Iſrael without the true God, and without a prieſt a teacher, and without the law.

4 And when in their diſtreſs they ſhall return to the Lord the God of Iſrael, and ſhall ſeek him, they ſhall find him.

5 At that time there ſhall be no peace to him that goeth out and cometh in, but terrors on every ſide among all the inhabitants of the earth.

6 For nation ſhall fight againſt nation, and city againſt city, for the Lord will trouble them with all diſtreſs.

7 Do you therefore take courage, and let not your hands be weakened: for there ſhall be a reward for your work.

8 And when Aſa had heard the words, and the prophecy of Azarias the ſon of Oded the prophet, he took courage, and took away the idols out of all the land of Juda, and out of Benjamin, and out of the cities of mount Ephraim, which he had taken, and he dedicated the altar of the Lord, which was before the porch of the Lord.

9 And he gathered together all Juda and Benjamin, and the ſtrangers with them of Ephraim, and Manaſſes, and Simeon: for many were come over to him out of Iſrael, ſeeing that the Lord his God was with him.

10 And when they were come to Jeruſalem in the third month, in the fifteenth year of the reign of Aſa,

11 They ſacrificed to the Lord in that day of the ſpoils, and of the prey, that they had brought, ſeven hundred oxen, and ſeven thouſand rams.

12 And he went in to confirm as uſual the covenant, that they ſhould ſeek the Lord the God of their fathers with all their heart, and with all their ſoul.

13 And if any one, ſaid he, ſeek not the Lord the God of Iſrael, let him die, whether little or great, man or woman.

14 And they ſwore to the Lord with a loud voice with joyful ſhouting, and with ſound of trumpet, and ſound of cornets,

15 All that were in Juda with a curſe: for with all their heart they ſwore, and with all their will they ſought him, and they found him, and the Lord gave them reſt round about.

16 Moreover Maacha the mother of king Aſa he depoſed from the royal authority, becauſe ſhe had made in a grove an idol of Priapus: and he entirely deſtroyed it, and breaking it into pieces, burnt it at the torrent Cedron.

17 But high places were left in Iſrael: nevertheleſs the heart of Aſa was perfect all his days.

18 And the things which his father had vowed, and he himſelf had vowed, he brought into the houſe of the Lord, gold and ſilver, and veſſels of divers uſes.

19 And there was no war unto the five and thirtieth year of the kingdom of Aſa.

CHAP. XVI.

Aſa is reproved for ſeeking help from the Syrians: his laſt acts and death.

AND in the ſix and thirtieth year of his kingdom, * Baaſa the king of Iſrael came up againſt Juda, and built a wall about Rama, that no one might ſafely go out or come in of the kingdom of Aſa. * A. M. 3064. Ante C. 940.

2 Then Aſa brought out ſilver and gold, out of the treaſures of the houſe of the Lord, and of the king's treaſures, and ſent to Benadad king of Syria, who dwelt in Damaſcus, ſaying:

3 There is a league between me and thee, as there was between my father and thy father, wherefore I have ſent thee ſilver and gold, that thou mayſt break thy league with Baaſa king of Iſrael, and make him depart from me.

4 And when Benadad heard this, he ſent the captains of his armies againſt the cities of Iſrael: and they took Ahion, and Dan, and Abelmaim, and all the walled cities of Nephthali.

5 And when Baaſa heard of it, he left off the building of Rama, and interrupted his work.

6 Then king Aſa took all Juda, and they carried away from Rama, the ſtones, and the timber that Baaſa had prepared for the building: and he built with them Gabaa, and Maſpha.

7 At that time Hanani the prophet came to Aſa king of Juda, and ſaid to him: Becauſe thou haſt had confidence in the king of Syria, and not in the Lord thy God, therefore hath the army of the king of Syria eſcaped out of thy hand.

8 ‖ Were not the Ethiopians, and the Libyans much more numerous in chariots, and horſemen, and an exceeding great multitude: yet becauſe thou truſtedſt in the Lord, he delivered them into thy hand? ‖ Supra 14. 9.

9 For the eyes of the Lord behold all the earth, and give ſtrength to thoſe who with a perfect heart truſt in him. Wherefore thou haſt done fooliſhly, and for this cauſe from this time wars ſhall ariſe againſt thee.

10 And Aſa was angry with the ſeer, and commanded him to be put in priſon: for he was greatly enraged becauſe of this thing: and he put to death many of the people at that time.

11 But the works of Aſa the firſt and Josaphat's reign: his care for the instruction of his people: his numerous forces.

A. M. 3090. Ante C. 914. AND Josaphat his son reigned in his stead, and grew strong against Israel.

2 And he placed numbers of soldiers in all the fortified cities of Juda. And he put garrisons in the land of Juda, and in the cities of Ephraim, which Asa his father had taken.

3 And the Lord was with Josaphat, because he walked in the first ways of David his father: and trusted not in Baalim,

4 But in the God of his father, and walked in his commandments, and not according to the sins of Israel.

5 And the Lord established the kingdom in his hand, and all Juda brought presents to Josaphat: and he acquired immense riches, and much glory.

6 And when his heart had taken courage for the ways of the Lord, he took away also the high places and the groves out of Juda.

* A. M. 3092. Ante C. 912. 7 And in the third year * of his reign, he sent of his princes Benhail, and Abdias, and Zacharias, and Nathanael, and Micheas, to teach in the cities of Juda:

8 And with them the Levites, Semeias, and Nathanias, and Zabadias, and Asael, and Semiramoth, and Jonathan, and Adonias, and Tobias, and Thobadonias Levites, and with them Elisama, and Joram priests.

9 And they taught the people in Juda, having with them the book of the law of the Lord: and they went about all the cities of Juda, and instructed the people.

10 And the fear of the Lord came upon all the kingdoms of the lands that were round about Juda, and they durst not make war against Josaphat.

11 The Philistines also brought presents to Josaphat, and tribute in silver, and the Arabians brought him cattle, seven thousand seven hundred rams, and as many he-goats.

12 And Josaphat grew, and became exceeding great: and he built in Juda houses like towers, and walled cities.

13 And he prepared many works in the cities of Juda: and he had warriors, and valiant men in Jerusalem.

14 Of whom this is the number of the houses and families of every one: in Juda captains of the army, Ednas the chief, and with him three hundred thousand most valiant men.

15 After him Johanan the captain, and with him two hundred and eighty thousand.

16 And after him was Amasias the son of Zechri, consecrated to the Lord, and with him were two hundred thousand valiant men.

17 After him was Eliada valiant in battle, and with him two hundred thousand armed with bow and shield.

18 After him also was Jozabad, and with him a hundred and eighty thousand ready for war.

19 All these were at the hand of the king, beside others, whom he had put in the walled cities, in all Juda.

CHAP. XVIII.

Josaphat accompanies Achab in his expedition against Ramoth; where Achab is slain, as Micheas had foretold.

NOW Josaphat was rich and very glorious, and was joined by affinity to Achab.

2 And he went down to him after some years * to Samaria: and Achab at his coming killed sheep and oxen in abundance for him and the people that came with him: and he persuaded him to go up to Ramoth Galaad.

* A. M. 3107. Ante C. 897.

3 And Achab king of Israel said to Josaphat king of Juda: Come with me to Ramoth Galaad. And he answered him: Thou art as I am, and my people as thy people, and we will be with thee in the war.

4 And Josaphat said to the king of Israel: Enquire, I beseech thee, at present the word of the Lord.

5 So the king of Israel gathered together of the prophets four hundred men, and he said to them: Shall we go to Ramoth Galaad to fight, or shall we forbear? But they said: Go up, and God will deliver it into the king's hand.

6 And Josaphat said: Is there not here a prophet of the Lord, that we may enquire also of him?

7 And the king of Israel said to Josaphat: There is one man, of whom we may ask the will of the Lord: but I hate him, for he never prophesieth good to me, but always evil: and it is Micheas the son of Jemla. And Josaphat said: Speak not thus, O king.

8 And the king of Israel called one of the eunuchs, and said to him: Call quickly Micheas the son of Jemla.

9 Now the king of Israel, and Josaphat king of Juda, both sat on their thrones, clothed in royal robes, and they sat in the open court by the gate of Samaria, and all the prophets prophesied before them.

10 And Sedecias the son of Chanaana made him horns of iron, and said: Thus saith the Lord: With these shalt thou push Syria, till thou destroy it.

11 And all the prophets prophesied in like manner, and said: Go up to Ramoth Galaad, and thou shalt prosper, and the Lord will deliver them into the king's hand.

12 And the messenger that went to call Micheas, said to him: Behold the words of all the prophets with one mouth declare good to the king: I beseech thee therefore let not thy word disagree with them, and speak thou also good success.

13 And Micheas answered him: As the Lord liveth, whatsoever my God shall say to me, that will I speak.

14 So he came to the king: and the king said to him: Micheas, shall we go to Ramoth Galaad to fight, or forbear? And he answered him: Go up for all shall succeed prosperously, and the enemies shall be delivered into your hands.

15 And the king said: I adjure thee again and again to say nothing but the truth to me, in the name of the Lord.

16 Then he said: I saw all Israel scattered in the mountains, like sheep without a shepherd: and the Lord said: These have no masters: let every man return to his own house in peace.

17 And the king of Israel said to Josaphat: Did I not tell thee that this man would not prophesy me any good, but evil?

18 Then he said: Hear ye therefore the word of the Lord: I saw the Lord sitting on his throne, and all the army of heaven standing by him on the right hand and on the left.

19 And the Lord said: Who shall deceive Achab king of Israel, that he may go up and fall in Ramoth Galaad? And when one spoke in this manner, and another otherwise:

20 There came forth a spirit, and stood before the Lord, and said: I will deceive him. And the Lord said to him? By what means wilt thou deceive him?

21 And he answered: I will go out, and be a lying spirit in the mouth of all his prophets. And the Lord said: Thou shalt deceive, and shalt prevail: go out, and do so.

22 Now therefore behold the Lord hath put a spirit of lying in the mouth of all thy prophets, and the Lord hath spoken evil against thee.

23 And Sedecias the son of Chanaana came, and struck Micheas on the cheek and said: Which way went the spirit of the Lord from me, to speak to thee?

24 And Micheas said: Thou thyself shalt see in that day, when thou shalt go in from chamber to chamber, to hide thyself.

25 And the king of Israel commanded, saying: Take Micheas, and carry him to Amon the governor of the city, and to Joas the son of Amelech.

26 And say: Thus saith the king: Put this fellow in prison, and give him bread, and water in a small quantity till I return in peace.

27 And Micheas said: If thou return in peace, the Lord hath not spoken by me. And he said: Hear, all ye people.

28 So the king of Israel and Josaphat king of Juda went up to Ramoth Galaad.

29 And the king of Israel said to Josaphat: I will change my dress, and so I will go to the battle, but put thou on thy own garments. And the king of Israel having changed his dress went to the battle.

30 Now the king of Syria had commanded the captains of his cavalry saying: Fight ye not with small, or great, but with the king of Israel only.

31 So when the captains of the cavalry saw Josaphat, they said: This is the king of Israel. And they surrounded him to attack him: but he cried to the Lord, and he helped him, and turned them away from him.

32 For when the captains of the cavalry saw, that he was not the king of Israel, they left him.

33 And it happened that one of the people shot an arrow at a venture, and struck the king of Israel between the neck and the shoulders, and he said to his chariot-man: Turn thy hand, and carry me out of the battle, for I am wounded.

34 And the fight was ended that day: but the king of Israel stood in his chariot against the Syrians until the evening, and died at the sunset.

Josaphat's charge to the Judges and to the Levites.

A. M. 3107. AND Josaphat king of Juda returned to his house in peace to Jerusalem.

2 And Jehu the son of Hanani the seer met him, and said to him: Thou helpest the ungodly, and thou art joined in friendship with them that hate the Lord, and therefore thou didst deserve indeed the wrath of the Lord:

3 But good works are found in thee, because thou hast taken away the groves out of the land of Juda, and hast prepared thy heart to seek the Lord the God of thy fathers.

4 And Josaphat dwelt at Jerusalem: and he went out again to the people from Bersabee to mount Ephraim, and brought them back to the Lord the God of their fathers.

5 And he set judges of the land in all the fenced cities of Juda, in every place.

6 And charging the judges, he said: Take heed what you do: for you exercise not the judgment of man, but of the Lord: and whatsoever you judge, it shall redound to you.

7 Let the fear of the Lord be with you, and do all things with diligence: for there

8 In Jerusalem also Josaphat appointed Levites, and priests and chiefs of the families of Israel, to judge the judgment and the cause of the Lord for the inhabitants thereof.

9 And he charged them, saying: Thus shall you do in the fear of the Lord faithfully, and with a perfect heart.

10 Every cause that shall come to you of your brethren, that dwell in their cities, between kindred and kindred, wheresoever there is question concerning the law, the commandment, the ceremonies, the justifications: shew it them, that they may not sin against the Lord, and that wrath may not come upon you and your brethren: and so doing you shall not sin.

11 And Amarias the priest your high priest shall be chief in the things which regard God: and Zabadias the son of Ismahel, who is ruler in the house of Juda, shall be over those matters which belong to the king's office: and you have before you the Levites for masters, take courage and do diligently, and the Lord will be with you in good things.

CHAP. XX.

The Ammonites, Moabites, and Syrians combine against Josaphat, he seeketh God's help by public prayer and fasting. A prophet foretelleth that God will fight for his people: the enemies destroy one another. Josaphat with his men gather the spoils. He reigneth in peace, but his navy perisheth, for his society with wicked Ochozias.

A. M. 3108. Ante C. 896. AFTER this the children of Moab, and the children of Ammon, and with them of the Ammonites, were gathered together to fight against Josaphat.

2 And there came messengers, and told Josaphat, saying: There cometh a great multitude against thee from beyond the sea, and out of Syria, and behold they are in Asasonthamar, which is Engaddi.

3 And Josaphat being seized with fear betook himself wholly to pray to the Lord, and he proclaimed a fast for all Juda.

4 And Juda gathered themselves together to pray to the Lord: and all came out of their cities to make supplication to him.

5 And Josaphat stood in the midst of the assembly of Juda, and Jerusalem, in the house of the Lord before the new court.

6 And said: O Lord God of our fathers, thou art God in heaven, and rulest over all the kingdoms and nations, in thy hand is strength and power, and no one can resist thee.

7 Didst not thou our God kill all the inhabitants of this land before thy people Israel, and gavest it to the seed of Abraham thy friend for ever?

8 And they dwelt in it, and built in it a sanctuary to thy name, saying:

9 If evils fall upon us, the sword of judgment, or pestilence, or famine, we will stand in thy presence before this house, in which thy name is called upon: and we will cry to thee in our afflictions, and thou wilt hear, and save us.

10 || Now therefore behold the children || Deut. 2. 1. of Ammon, and of Moab, and mount Seir, through whose lands thou didst not allow Israel to pass, when they came out of Egypt, but they turned aside from them, and slew them not:

11 Do the contrary, and endeavour to caſt us out of the poſſeſſion which thou haſt delivered to us.

12 O our God, wilt not thou then judge them? as for us we have not ſtrength enough, to be able to reſiſt this multitude, which cometh violently upon us. But as we know not what to do, we can only turn our eyes to thee.

13 And all Juda ſtood before the Lord with their little ones, and their wives, and their children.

14 And Jahaziel the ſon of Zacharias, the ſon of Banaias, the ſon of Jehiel, the ſon of Mathanias, a Levite of the ſons of Aſaph, was there, upon whom the Spirit of the Lord came in the midſt of the multitude,

15 And he ſaid: Attend ye all Juda, and you that dwell in Jeruſalem, and thou king Joſaphat: Thus ſaith the Lord to you: Fear ye not, and be not diſmayed at this multitude: for the battle is not yours, but God's.

16 To-morrow you ſhall go down againſt them: for they will come up by the aſcent named Sis, and you ſhall find them at the head of the torrent, which is over-againſt the wilderneſs of Jeruel.

17 It ſhall not be you that ſhall fight, but only ſtand with confidence, and you ſhall ſee the help of the Lord over you, O Juda, and Jeruſalem: fear ye not, nor be you diſmayed: to-morrow you ſhall go out againſt them, and the Lord will be with you.

18 Then Joſaphat, and Juda, and all the inhabitants of Jeruſalem fell flat on the ground before the Lord, and adored him.

19 And the Levites of the ſons of Caath, and of the ſons of Core praiſed the Lord the God of Iſrael with a loud voice, on high.

20 And they roſe early in the morning, and went out through the deſert of Thecua: and as they were marching, Joſaphat ſtanding in the midſt of them, ſaid: Hear me, ye men of Juda, and all the inhabitants of Jeruſalem: believe in the Lord your God, and you ſhall be ſecure: believe his prophets, and all things ſhall ſucceed well.

21 And he gave counſel to the people, and appointed the ſinging men of the Lord, to praiſe him by their companies, and to go before the army, and with one voice

22 And when they began to ſing praiſes, the Lord turned their ambuſhments upon themſelves, that is to ſay, of the children of Ammon, and of Moab, and of mount Seir, who were come out to fight againſt Juda, and they were ſlain.

23 For the children of Ammon, and of Moab, roſe up againſt the inhabitants of mount Seir, to kill and deſtroy them: and when they had made an end of them, they turned alſo againſt one another, and deſtroyed one another.

24 And when Juda came to the watch tower, that looketh toward the deſert, they ſaw afar off all the country, for a great ſpace, full of dead bodies, and that no one was left that could eſcape death.

25 Then Joſaphat came, and all the people with him to take away the ſpoils of the dead, and they found among the dead bodies, ſtuff of various kinds, and garments, and moſt precious veſſels: and they took them for themſelves, inſomuch that they could not carry all, nor in three days take away the ſpoils, the booty was ſo great.

26 And on the fourth day they were aſſembled in the valley of Bleſſing: for there they bleſſed the Lord, and therefore they called that place the valley of Bleſſing until this day.

27 And every man of Juda, and the inhabitants of Jeruſalem returned, and Joſaphat at their head, into Jeruſalem with great joy, becauſe the Lord had made them rejoice over their enemies.

28 And they came into Jeruſalem with pſalteries, and harps, and trumpets into the houſe of the Lord.

29 And the fear of the Lord fell upon all the kingdoms of the lands when they heard that the Lord had fought againſt the enemies of Iſrael.

30 And the kingdom of Joſaphat was quiet, and God gave him peace round about.

31 And Joſaphat reigned over Juda, and he was five and thirty years old when he began to reign: and he reigned five and twenty years in Jeruſalem: and the name of his mother was Azuba the daughter of Selahi. 3 Kings 22. 41.

32 And he walked in the way of his father Aſa, and departed not from it, doing the things that were pleaſing before the Lord.

33 But yet he took not away the high places, and the people had not yet turned their heart to the Lord the God of their fathers.

CHAP. XXI.

Joram's wicked reign: his puniſhment and death.

A. M. 3115. Ante C. 889. 3 Kings 22. 45.

AND Joſaphat ſlept with his fathers, and was buried with them in the city of David: and Joram his ſon reigned in his ſtead.

2 And he had brethren the ſons of Joſaphat, Azarias, and Jahiel, and Zacharias, and Azaria, and Michael, and Saphatias, all theſe were the ſons of Joſaphat king of Juda.

3 And their father gave them great gifts of ſilver, and of gold, and penſions, with ſtrong cities in Juda: but the kingdom he gave to Joram, becauſe he was the eldeſt.

4 So Joram roſe up over the kingdom of his father: and when he had eſtabliſhed himſelf, he ſlew all his brethren with the ſword, and ſome of the princes of Iſrael.

5 Joram was two and thirty years old when he began to reign: and he reigned eight years in Jeruſalem.

‖ 4 Kings 8. 26. 6 ‖ And he walked in the ways of the kings of Iſrael, as the houſe of Achab had done: for his wife was a daughter of Achab, and he did evil in the ſight of the Lord.

7 But the Lord would not deſtroy the houſe of David: becauſe of the covenant which he had made with him: and becauſe he had promiſed to give a lamp to him, and to his ſons for ever.

‖ Gen. 27. 40. 8 In thoſe days Edom revolted, ‖ from being ſubject to Juda, and made themſelves a king.

9 And Joram went over with his princes, and all his cavalry with him, and roſe in the night, and defeated the Edomites who had ſurrounded him, and all the captains of his cavalry.

10 However Edom revolted, from being under the dominion of Juda unto this day: at that time Lobna alſo revolted, from being under his hand. For he had forſaken the Lord the God of his fathers:

11 Moreover he built alſo high places in the cities of Juda, and he made the inhabitants of Jeruſalem to commit fornication, and Juda to tranſgreſs.

12 And there was a letter brought him from Elias the prophet, in which it was written: Thus ſaith the Lord the God of David thy father: Becauſe thou haſt not walked in the ways of Joſaphat thy father, nor in the ways of Aſa king of Juda,

13 But haſt walked in the ways of the kings of Iſrael, and haſt made Juda and the inhabitants of Jeruſalem to commit fornication, imitating the fornication of the houſe of Achab, moreover alſo thou haſt killed thy brethren, the houſe of thy father, better men than thyſelf.

14 Behold the Lord will ſtrike thee with a great plague, with all thy people, and thy children, and thy wives, and all thy ſubſtance.

15 And thou ſhalt be ſick of a very grievous diſeaſe of thy bowels, till thy vital parts come out by little and little every day.

16 And the Lord ſtirred up againſt Joram the ſpirit of the Philiſtines, and of the Arabians, who border on the Ethiopians.

17 And they came up into the land of Juda, and waſted it, and they carried away all the ſubſtance that was found in the king's houſe, his ſons alſo, and his wives: ſo that there was no ſon left him but Joachaz, who was the youngeſt.

18 And beſides all this the Lord ſtruck him with an incurable diſeaſe in his bowels.

19 And as day came after day, and time rolled on, two whole years paſſed: then after being waſted with a long conſumption, ſo as to void his very bowels, his diſeaſe ended with his life. * And he died of a moſt wretched illneſs, and the people did not make a funeral for him according to the manner of burning, as they had done for his anceſtors. * A. M. 3119. Ant. C. 885.

20 He was two and thirty years old when he began his reign, and he reigned eight years in Jeruſalem. And he walked not rightly, and they buried him in the city of David: but not in the ſepulchres of the kings.

CHAP. XXII.

The reign and death of Ochozias. The tyranny of Athalia.

AND the inhabitants of Jeruſalem made Ochozias his youngeſt ſon king in his place: for the rovers of the Arabians, who had broke in upon the camp, had killed all A. M. 3119. 4 Kings 8. 24.

Joachaz, alias Ochozias.

that were his elder brothers. So Ochozias the ſon of Joram king of Juda reigned.

2 Ochozias was forty two years old when he began to reign, and he reigned one year in Jeruſalem, and the name of his mother was Athalia the daughter of Amri.

3 He alſo walked in the ways of the houſe of Achab: for his mother puſhed him on to do wickedly.

4 So he did evil in the ſight of the Lord, as the houſe of Achab did: for they were his counſellors after the death of his father, to his deſtruction.

5 And he walked after their counſels. And he went with Joram the ſon of Achab king of Iſrael, to fight againſt Hazael king of Syria, at Ramoth Galaad: and the Syrians wounded Joram.

6 And he returned to be healed in Jezrahel: for he received many wounds in the foreſaid battle. * And Ochozias the ſon of Joram king of Juda, went down to viſit Joram the ſon of Achab in Jezrahel where he lay ſick.

* A. M. 3120. Ante C. 884.

7 For it was the will of God againſt Ochozias that he ſhould come to Joram: and when he was come ſhould go out alſo againſt Jehu the ſon of Namſi, whom the Lord had anointed to deſtroy the houſe of Achab.

8 So when Jehu was rooting out the houſe of Achab, he found the princes of Juda, and the ſons of the brethren of Ochozias, who ſerved him, and he ſlew them.

9 And he ſought for Ochozias himſelf, and took him lying hid in Samaria: and when he was brought to him, he killed him, and they buried him: becauſe he was the ſon of Joſaphat, who had ſought the Lord with all his heart. And there was no more hope that any one ſhould reign of the race of Ochozias.

‖ 4 Kings 11. 1.

10 ‖ For Athalia his mother, ſeeing that her ſon was dead, roſe up, and killed all the royal family of the houſe of Joram.

11 But Joſabeth the king's daughter took Joas the ſon of Ochozias, and ſtole him from among the king's ſons, that were ſlain. And ſhe hid him with his nurſe in a bed-chamber: now Joſabeth that hid him, was daughter of king Joram, wife of Joiada the high prieſt, and ſiſter of Ochozias, and therefore Athalia did not kill him.

12 And he was with them hid in the houſe of God ſix years, during which Athalia reigned over the land.

CHAP. XXII. VER. 2. Forty two, &c. Divers Greek bibles read twenty two, agreeably to 4 Kings, viii. 18.

CHAP. XXIII.

Joiada the high prieſt cauſeth Joas to be made king: Athalia to be ſlain, and idolatry to be deſtroyed.

AND in the ſeventh year Joiada being encouraged, took the captains of hundreds, to wit, Azarias the ſon of Jeroham, and Iſmahel the ſon of Johanan, and Azarias the ſon of Obed, and Maaſias the ſon of Adaias, and Eliſaphat the ſon of Zechri: and made a covenant with them.

A. M. 3126. Ante C. 879. 4 Kings 11. 4.

2 And they went about Juda, and gathered together the Levites out of all the cities of Juda, and the chiefs of the families of Iſrael, and they came to Jeruſalem.

3 And all the multitude made a covenant with the king in the houſe of God: and Joiada ſaid to them: Behold the king's ſon ſhall reign, as the Lord hath ſaid of the ſons of David.

4 And this is the thing that you ſhall do:

5 A third part of you that come to the ſabbath, of the prieſts, and of the Levites, and of the porters ſhall be at the gates: and a third part at the king's houſe: and a third at the gate that is called the Foundation: but let all the reſt of the people be in the courts of the houſe of the Lord.

6 And let no one come into the houſe of the Lord, but the prieſts, and they that miniſter of the Levites: let them only come in, becauſe they are ſanctified: and let all the reſt of the people keep the watches of the Lord.

7 And let the Levites be round about the king, every man with his arms: (and if any other come into the temple, let him be ſlain) and let them be with the king both coming in, and going out.

8 So the Levites, and all Juda did according to all that Joiada the high prieſt had commanded: and they took every one his men that were under him, and that came in by the courſe of the ſabbath, with thoſe who had fulfilled the ſabbath, and were to go out. For Joiada the high prieſt permitted not the companies to depart, which were accuſtomed to ſucceed one another every week.

9 And Joiada the prieſt gave to the captains the ſpears, and the ſhields, and targets of king David, which he had dedicated in the houſe of the Lord.

10 And he ſet all the people with ſwords

CHAP. XXIII. VER. 5. To the ſabbath. That is, to perform in your weeks the functions of your office, or the weekly watches.

in their hands from the right side of the temple, to the left side of the temple, before the altar, and the temple, round about the king.

11 And they brought out the king's son, and put the crown upon him, and the testimony, and gave him the law to hold in his hand, and they made him king: and Joiada the high priest and his sons anointed him: and they prayed for him, and said: God save the king.

12 Now when Athalia heard the noise of the people running and praising the king, she came in to the people, into the temple of the Lord.

13 And when she saw the king standing upon the step in the entrance, and the princes, and the companies about him, and all the people of the land rejoicing, and sounding with trumpets, and playing on instruments of divers kinds, and the voice of those that praised, she rent her garments, and said: Treason, treason.

14 And Joiada the high priest going out to the captains, and the chiefs of the army, said to them: Take her forth without the precinct of the temple, and when she is without let her be killed with the sword. For the priest commanded that she should not be killed in the house of the Lord.

15 And they laid hold on her by the neck: and when she was come within the horse gate of the palace, they killed her there.

16 And Joiada made a covenant between himself and all the people, and the king, that they should be the people of the Lord.

17 And all the people went into the house of Baal, and destroyed it: and they broke down his altars and his idols: and they slew Mathan the priest of Baal before the altars.

18 And Joiada appointed overseers in the house of the Lord, under the hands of the priests, and the Levites, whom David had distributed in the house of the Lord: to offer holocausts to the Lord, as it is written in the law of Moses, with joy and singing, according to the disposition of David.

19 He appointed also porters in the gates of the house of the Lord, that none who was unclean in any thing should enter in.

20 And he took the captains of hundreds, and the most valiant men, and the chiefs of the people, and all the people of the land, and they brought down the king from the house of the Lord, and brought him through the upper gate into the king's house, and set him on the royal throne.

21 And all the people of the land rejoiced, and the city was quiet: but Athalia was slain with the sword.

CHAP. XXIV.

Joas reigneth well all the days of Joiada: afterwards falleth into idolatry and causeth Zacharias to be slain. He is slain himself by his servants.

JOAS was seven years old when he began to reign: and he reigned forty years in Jerusalem: the name of his mother was Sebia of Bersabee. 4 Kings 11. 21. 12. 1.

2 And he did that which is good before the Lord all the days of Joiada the priest.

3 And Joiada took for him two wives, by whom he had sons and daughters.

4 After this Joas had a mind to repair the house of the Lord.

5 * And he assembled the priests, and the Levites, and said to them: Go out to the cities of Juda, and gather of all Israel money to repair the temple of your God, from year to year, and do this with speed: but the Levites were negligent. * A. M. 3147. Ante C. 857.

6 And the king called Joiada the chief, and said to him: Why hast thou not taken care to oblige the Levites to bring in out of Juda and Jerusalem the money that was appointed by Moses the servant of the Lord for all the multitude of Israel to bring into the tabernacle of the testimony?

7 For that wicked woman Athalia, and her children have destroyed the house of God, and adorned the temple of Baal with all the things that had been dedicated in the temple of the Lord.

8 And the king commanded, and they made a chest: and set it by the gate of the house of the Lord on the outside.

9 And they made a proclamation in Juda and Jerusalem, that every man should bring to the Lord, ‖ the money which Moses the servant of God appointed for all Israel, in the desert. ‖ Exod. 30. 12.

10 And all the princes, and all the people rejoiced: and going in they contributed and cast so much into the chest of the Lord, that it was filled.

11 And when it was time to bring the chest before the king by the hands of the Levites (for they saw there was much money), the king's scribe, and he whom the high priest had appointed went in: and they poured out the money that was in the chest: and they carried back the chest to its place: and thus they did from day to day, and there was gathered an immense sum of money.

12 And the king and Joiada gave it to those who were over the works of the house of the Lord: but they hired with it stone-cutters, and artificers of every kind of work to repair the house of the Lord: and such as wrought in iron and braſs, to uphold what began to be falling.

13 And the workmen were diligent, and the breach of the walls was cloſed up by their hands, and they ſet up the houſe of the Lord in its former ſtate, and made it ſtand firm.

14 And when they had finiſhed all the works, they brought the reſt of the money before the king and Joiada: and with it were made veſſels for the temple for the miniſtry, and for holocauſts and bowls, and other veſſels of gold and ſilver: and holocauſts were offered in the houſe of the Lord continually all the days of Joiada.

15 But Joiada grew old and was full of days, and died when he was a hundred and thirty years old.

16 And they buried him in the city of David among the kings, becauſe he had done good to Iſrael, and to his houſe.

17 And after the death of Joiada, the princes of Juda went in, and worſhipped the king: and he was ſoothed by their ſervices and hearkened to them.

18 And they forſook the temple of the Lord the God of their fathers, and ſerved groves and idols, and wrath came upon Juda, and Jeruſalem for this ſin.

19 And he ſent prophets to them to bring them back to the Lord, and they would not give ear when they teſtified againſt them.

20 The ſpirit of God then came upon
* A. M. 3164. Ante C. 840. Zacharias the ſon of Joiada the prieſt, * and he ſtood in the ſight of the people, and ſaid to them: Thus ſaith the Lord God: Why tranſgreſs you the commandment of the Lord which will not be for your good, and have forſaken the Lord, to make him forſake you?

21 And they gathered themſelves together againſt him, and ſtoned him at the king's commandment in the court of the houſe of the Lord.

22 And king Joas did not remember the kindneſs that Joiada his father had done to ‖ Mat. 23. 35. him, ‖ but killed his ſon. And when he died, he ſaid: The Lord ſee, and require it.

23 ‖ And when a year * was come about
‡ 3 Kings 12. 17. the army of Syria came up againſt him: and they came to Juda and Jeruſalem, and killed all the princes of the people, and they ſent all the ſpoils to the king to Damaſcus.
* A. M. 3165.

24 And whereas there came a very ſmall number of the Syrians, the Lord delivered into their hands an infinite multitude, becauſe they had forſaken the Lord the God of their fathers: and on Joas they executed ſhameful judgments.

25 And departing they left him in great diſeaſes: and his ſervants roſe up againſt him, for revenge of the blood of the ſon of Joiada the prieſt, and they ſlew him in his bed, and he died: and they buried him in the city of David, but not in the ſepulchres of the kings.

26 Now the men that conſpired againſt him were Zabad the ſon of Semmaath an Ammoniteſs, and Jozabad the ſon of Semarith a Moabiteſs.

27 And concerning his ſons, and the ſum of money, which was gathered under him, and the repairing the houſe of God, they are written more diligently in the book of kings: and Amaſias his ſon reigned in his ſtead.

CHAP. XXV.

Amaſias's reign: he beginneth well, but endeth ill: he is overthrown by Joas, and ſlain by his own people.

AMASIAS was five and twenty years old when he began to reign, and he reigned nine and twenty years in Jeruſalem: the name of his mother was Joadan of Jeruſalem. A. M. 3165. Ante C. 839. 4 Kings 14. 2.

2 And he did what was good in the ſight of the Lord: but yet not with a perfect heart.

3 And when he ſaw himſelf ſtrengthened in his kingdom, he put to death the ſervants that had ſlain the king his father.

4 But he ſlew not their children, as it is written in the book of the law of Moſes, where the Lord commanded, ſaying: ‖ The fathers ſhall not be ſlain for the children, nor the children for their fathers, but every man ſhall die for his own ſin. ‖ Deut. 24. 16. 4 Kings 14. 6. Ezec. 18. 20.

5 Amaſias therefore gathered Juda together, and appointed them by families, and captains of thouſands and of hundreds in all Juda, and Benjamin: and he numbered them from twenty years old and upwards, and found three hundred thouſand young men that could go out to battle, and could hold the ſpear and ſhield.

6 He hired alſo of Iſrael a hundred thouſand valiant men, for a hundred talents of ſilver.

7 But a man of God came to him, and ſaid: O king, let not the army of Iſrael go out with thee, for the Lord is not with Iſrael, and all the children of Ephraim:

8 And if thou think that battles conſiſt in the ſtrength of the army, God will make thee to be overcome by the enemies: for it belongeth to God both to help, and to put to flight.

9 And Amaſias ſaid to the man of God: What will then become of the hundred talents which I have given to the ſoldiers of Iſrael? and the man of God anſwered him:

The Lord is rich enough to be able to give thee much more than this.

10 Then Amaſias ſeparated the army, that came to him out of Ephraim, to go home again: but they being much enraged againſt Juda, returned to their own country.

11 And Amaſias taking courage led forth his people, and went to the vale of ſalt pits, and ſlew of the children of Seir, ten thouſand.

12 And other ten thouſand men the ſons of Juda took, and brought to the ſteep of a certain rock, and caſt them down headlong from the top, and they all were broken to pieces.

13 But that army which Amaſias had ſent back, that they ſhould not go with him to battle, ſpread themſelves among the cities of Juda, from Samaria to Bethhoron, and having killed three thouſand took away much ſpoil.

14 But Amaſias after he had ſlain the Edomites, ſet up the gods of the children of Seir, which he had brought thence, to be his gods, and adored them, and burnt incenſe to them.

15 Wherefore the Lord being angry againſt Amaſias, ſent a prophet to him, to ſay to him: Why haſt thou adored gods that have not delivered their own people out of thy hand?

16 And when he ſpoke theſe things, he anſwered him: Art thou the king's counſellor? be quiet, leſt I kill thee. And the prophet departing, ſaid: I know that God is minded to kill thee, becauſe thou haſt done this evil, and moreover haſt not hearkened to my counſel.

17 Then Amaſias king of Juda taking very bad counſel, ſent to Joas the ſon of Joachaz the ſon of Jehu, king of Iſrael, ſaying: Come, let us ſee one another.

18 But he ſent back the meſſengers, ſaying: The thiſtle that is in Libanus ſent to the cedar in Libanus, ſaying: Give thy daughter to my ſon to wife: and behold the beaſts that were in the wood of Libanus paſſed by, and trod down the thiſtle.

19 Thou haſt ſaid: I have overthrown Edom, and therefore thy heart is lifted up with pride: ſtay at home, why doſt thou provoke evil againſt thee, that both thou ſhouldſt fall and Juda with thee.

20 Amaſias would not hearken to him, becauſe it was the Lord's will that he ſhould be delivered into the hands of enemies, becauſe of the gods of Edom.

21 So Joas king of Iſrael went up, and they preſented themſelves to be ſeen by one another: and Amaſias king of Juda was in Bethſames of Juda:

22 And Juda fell before Iſrael, and they fled to their dwellings.

23 And Joas king of Iſrael took Amaſias king of Juda, the ſon of Joas, the ſon of Joachaz, in Bethſames, and brought him to Jeruſalem: and broke down the walls thereof from the gate of Ephraim, to the gate of the corner, four hundred cubits.

24 And he took all the gold, and ſilver, and all the veſſels, that he found in the houſe of God, and with Obededom, and in the treaſures of the king's houſe, moreover alſo the ſons of the hoſtages, he brought back to Samaria.

25 And Amaſias the ſon of Joas king of Juda lived, after the death of Joas the ſon of Joachaz king of Iſrael, fifteen years.

26 Now the reſt of the acts of Amaſias the firſt and laſt are written in the Book of the kings of Juda and Iſrael.

27 And after he revolted from the Lord, they made a conſpiracy againſt him in Jeruſalem. * And he fled into Lachis, and they ſent, and killed him there. * A. M. 3194. Ante C. 810.

28 And they brought him back upon horſes, and buried him with his fathers in the city of David.

CHAP. XXVI.

Ozias reigneth proſperouſly, till he invadeth the prieſts office, upon which he is ſtruck with a leproſy.

AND all the people of Juda took his ſon Ozias, who was ſixteen years old, and made him king in the room of Amaſias his father. A. M. 3194. 4 Kings 14. 21.

2 He built Aïlath, and reſtored it to the dominion of Juda, after that the king ſlept with his fathers.

3 Ozias was ſixteen years old when he began to reign, and he reigned two and fifty years in Jeruſalem: the name of his mother was Jechelia of Jeruſalem.

4 And he did that which was right in the eyes of the Lord, according to all that Amaſias his father had done.

5 And he ſought the Lord in the days of Zacharias that underſtood and ſaw God: and as long as he ſought the Lord, he directed him in all things.

6 Moreover he went forth, and fought againſt the Philiſtines, and broke down the wall of Geth, and the wall of Jabnia, and the wall of Azotus: and he built towns in Azotus, and among the Philiſtines.

7 And God helped him againſt the Philiſtines, and againſt the Arabians, that dwelt in Gurbaal, and againſt the Ammonites.

8 And the Ammonites gave gifts to Ozias: and his name was ſpread abroad even to the entrance of Egypt for his frequent victories.

9 And Ozias built towers in Jeruſalem over the gate of the corner, and over the gate of the valley, and the reſt, in the ſame ſide of the wall, and fortified them.

10 And he built towers in the wilderneſs, and dug many ciſterns, for he had much cattle both in the plains, and in the waſte of the deſert: he had alſo vineyards and dreſſers of vines in the mountains, and in Carmel: for he was a man that loved huſbandry.

11 And the army of his fighting men, that went out to war, was under the hand of Jehiel the ſcribe, and Maaſias the doctor, and under the hand of Hananias, who was one of the king's captains.

12 And the whole number of the chiefs by the families of valiant men, were two thouſand ſix hundred.

13 And the whole army under them three hundred and ſeven thouſand five hundred: who were fit for war, and fought for the king againſt the enemy.

14 And Ozias prepared for them, that is, for the whole army, ſhields, and ſpears, and helmets, and coats of mail, and bows, and ſlings to caſt ſtones.

15 And he made in Jeruſalem engines of diverſe kinds, which he placed in the towers, and in the corners of the walls, to ſhoot arrows, and great ſtones: and his name went forth far abroad, for the Lord helped him, and had ſtrengthened him.

16 But when he was made ſtrong, his heart was lifted up to his deſtruction, and he neglected the Lord his God: and going into the temple of the Lord, he had a mind to burn incenſe upon the altar of incenſe.

17 And immediately Azarias the prieſt going in after him, and with him fourſcore prieſts of the Lord, moſt valiant men,

18 Withſtood the king and ſaid: It doth not belong to thee, Ozias, to burn incenſe to the Lord, but to the prieſts, that is, to ‖ Exod. 30. 7. & ſeq. the ſons of Aaron, ‖ who are conſecrated for this miniſtry: go out of the ſanctuary, do not deſpiſe: for this thing ſhall not be accounted to thy glory by the Lord God.

19 And Ozias was angry, and holding in his hand the cenſer to burn incenſe, threatened the prieſts. And preſently there roſe a leproſy in his forehead before the prieſts, in the houſe of the Lord at the altar of incenſe.

20 And Azarias the high prieſt, and all the reſt of the prieſts looked upon him, and ſaw the leproſy in his forehead, and they made haſte to thruſt him out. Yea himſelf alſo being frightened, haſted to go out, becauſe he had quickly felt the ſtroke of the Lord.

21 ‖ And Ozias the king was a leper unto the day of his death, and he dwelt in a houſe apart being full of the leproſy, for which he had been caſt out of the houſe of the Lord. And Joatham his ſon governed the king's houſe, and judged the people of the land. ‖ 4 Kings 15. 5.

22 But the reſt of the acts of Ozias firſt and laſt were written by Iſaias the ſon of Amos, the prophet.

23 And Ozias ſlept with his fathers, and they buried him in the field of the royal ſepulchres, becauſe he was a leper: and Joatham his ſon reigned in his ſtead.

CHAP. XXVII.

Joatham's good reign.

JOATHAM was five and twenty years old when he began to reign, and he reigned ſixteen years in Jeruſalem: the name of his mother was Jeruſa the daughter of Sadoc. A. M. 3246. Ante C. 758. 4 Kings 15. 33.

2 And he did that which was right before the Lord, according to all that Ozias his father had done, only that he entered not into the temple of the Lord, and the people ſtill tranſgreſſed.

3 He built the high gate of the houſe of the Lord, and on the wall of Ophel he built much.

4 Moreover he built cities in the mountains of Juda, and caſtles and towers in the foreſts.

5 He fought againſt the king of the children of Ammon, and overcame them, and the children of Ammon gave him at that time a hundred talents of ſilver, and ten thouſand meaſures of wheat, and as many meaſures of barley: ſo much did the children of Ammon give him in the ſecond and third year.

6 And Joatham was ſtrengthened, becauſe he had his way directed before the Lord his God.

7 Now the reſt of the acts of Joatham, and all his wars, and his works, are written in the Book of the kings of Iſrael and Juda.

8 He was five and twenty years old when he began to reign, and he reigned ſixteen years in Jeruſalem.

9 And Joatham ſlept with his fathers, and they buried him in the city of David: and Achaz his ſon reigned in his ſtead.

CHAP. XXVIII.

The wicked and unhappy reign of Achaz.

A. M. 3262. Ante C. 742. 4 Kings 16. 2.

ACHAZ was twenty years old when he began to reign, and he reigned sixteen years in Jerusalem: he did not that which was right in the sight of the Lord as David his father had done.

2 But walked in the ways of the kings of Israel, moreover also he cast statues for Baalim.

3 It was he that burnt incense in the valley of Benennom, and consecrated his sons in the fire according to the manner of the nations, which the Lord slew at the coming of the children of Israel.

4 He sacrificed also, and burnt incense in the high places, and on the hills, and under every green tree.

* A. M. 3263.

5 * And the Lord his God delivered him into the hands of the king of Syria, who defeated him, and took a great booty out of his kingdom, and carried it to Damascus: he was also delivered into the hands of the king of Israel, who overthrew him with a great slaughter.

6 For Phacee the son of Romelia slew of Juda a hundred and twenty thousand in one day, all valiant men: because they had forsaken the Lord the God of their fathers.

7 At the same time Zechri a powerful man of Ephraim, slew Maasias the king's son, and Ezricam the governor of his house, and Elcana who was next to the king.

8 And the children of Israel carried away of their brethren two hundred thousand women, boys, and girls, and an immense booty: and they brought it to Samaria.

9 At that time there was a prophet of the Lord there, whose name was Oded: and he went out to meet the army that came to Samaria, and said to them: Behold the Lord the God of your fathers being angry with Juda, hath delivered them into your hands, and you have butchered them cruelly, so that your cruelty hath reached up to heaven.

10 Moreover you have a mind to keep under the children of Juda and Jerusalem for your bond-men and bond-women, which ought not to be done: for you have sinned in this against the Lord your God.

11 But hear ye my counsel, and release the captives, that you have brought of your brethren, because a great indignation of the Lord hangeth over you.

12 Then some of the chief men of the sons of Ephraim, Azarias the son of Johanan, Barachias the son of Mosollamoth, Ezechias the son of Sellum, and Amasa the son of Adali, stood up against them that came from the war.

13 And they said to them: You shall not bring in the captives hither, lest we sin against the Lord. Why will you add to our sins, and heap up upon our former offences? for the sin is great, and the fierce anger of the Lord hangeth over Israel.

14 So the soldiers left the spoils, and all that they had taken, before the princes and all the multitude.

15 And the men, whom we mentioned above, rose up and took the captives, and with the spoils clothed all them that were naked: and when they had clothed and shod them, and refreshed them with meat and drink, and anointed them because of their labour, and had taken care of them: they set such of them as could not walk, and were feeble, upon beasts, and brought them to Jericho the city of palm-trees to their brethren, and they returned to Samaria.

16 At that time king Achaz sent to the king of the Assyrians asking help.

* A. M. 3264. Ante C. 740.

17 * And the Edomites came and slew many of Juda, and took a great booty.

18 The Philistines also spread themselves among the cities of the plains, and to the south of Juda: and they took Bethsames, and Aialon, and Gaderoth, and Socho, and Thamnan, and Gamzo, with their villages, and they dwelt in them.

19 For the Lord had humbled Juda because of Achaz the king of Juda, for he had stripped it of help, and had contemned the Lord.

‖ 4 Kings 16. 10.

20 And he brought against him Thelgathphalnasar ‖ king of the Assyrians, who also afflicted him, and plundered him without any resistance.

21 And Achaz stripped the house of the Lord, and the house of the kings, and of the princes, and gave gifts to the king of the Assyrians, and yet it availed him nothing.

22 Moreover also in the time of his distress he increased contempt against the Lord, king Achaz himself by himself,

23 Sacrificed victims to the gods of Damascus that struck him, and he said: The gods of the kings of Syria help them, and I will appease them with victims, and they will help me; whereas on the contrary they were the ruin of him, and of all Israel.

24 Then Achaz having taken away all the vessels of the house of God, and broken them, shut up the doors of the temple of God, and made himself altars in all the corners of Jerusalem.

25 And in all the cities of Juda he built altars to burn frankincense, and he provoked the Lord the God of his fathers to wrath.

26 But the rest of his acts, and all his works first and last are written in the Book of the kings of Juda and Israel.

27 And Achaz slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the city of Jerusalem: for they received him not into the sepulchres of the kings of Israel. And Ezechias his son reigned in his stead.

CHAP. XXIX.

Ezechias purifieth the temple, and restoreth religion.

A. M. 3278. Ante C. 726. 4 Kings 18. 1.

NOW Ezechias began to reign, when he was five and twenty years old, and he reigned nine and twenty years in Jerusalem: the name of his mother was Abia, the daughter of Zacharias.

2 And he did that which was pleasing in the sight of the Lord, according to all that David his father had done.

3 In the first year and month of his reign he opened the doors of the house of the Lord, and repaired them.

4 And he brought the priests and the Levites, and assembled them in the east-street.

5 And he said to them: Hear me, ye Levites, and be sanctified, purify the house of the Lord the God of your fathers, and take away all filth out of the sanctuary.

6 Our fathers have sinned and done evil in the sight of the Lord God, forsaking him: they have turned away their faces from the tabernacle of the Lord, and turned their backs.

7 They have shut up the doors that were in the porch, and put out the lamps, and have not burnt incense, nor offered holocausts in the sanctuary of the God of Israel.

8 Therefore the wrath of the Lord hath been stirred up against Juda and Jerusalem, and he hath delivered them to trouble, and to destruction, and to be hissed at, as you see with your eyes.

9 Behold, our fathers are fallen by the sword, our sons, and our daughters, and wives are led away captives for this wickedness.

10 Now therefore I have a mind that we make a covenant with the Lord the God of Israel, and he will turn away the wrath of his indignation from us.

11 My sons be not negligent: the Lord hath chosen you to stand before him, and to minister to him, and to worship him, and to burn incense to him.

12 Then the Levites arose: Mahath the son of Amasai, and Joel the son of Azarias, of the sons of Caath: and of the sons of Merari, Cis the son of Abdi, and Azarias the son of Jalaleel. And of the sons of Gerson, Joah the son of Zemma, and Eden the son of Joah.

13 And of the sons of Elisaphan, Samri, and Jahiel. Also of the sons of Asaph, Zacharias, and Mathanias.

14 And of the sons of Heman, Jahiel, and Semei: and of the sons of Idithun, Semeias, and Oziel.

15 And they gathered together their brethren, and sanctified themselves, and went in according to the commandment of the king, and the precept of the Lord, to purify the house of God.

16 And the priests went into the temple of the Lord to sanctify it, and brought out all the uncleanness, that they found within to the entrance of the house of the Lord, and the Levites took it away, and carried it out abroad to the torrent Cedron.

17 And they began to cleanse on the first day of the first month, and on the eighth day of the same month they came into the porch of the temple of the Lord, and they purified the temple in eight days, and on the sixteenth day of the same month they finished what they had begun.

18 And they went in to king Ezechias, and said to him: We have sanctified all the house of the Lord, and the altar of holocaust, and the vessels thereof, and the table of proposition with all its vessels,

19 And all the furniture of the temple, which king Achaz in his reign had defiled, after his transgression; and behold they are all set forth before the altar of the Lord.

20 And king Ezechias rising early, assembled all the rulers of the city, and went up into the house of the Lord:

21 And they offered together seven bullocks, and seven rams, and seven lambs, and seven he-goats for sin, for the kingdom, for the sanctuary, for Juda: and he spoke to the priests the sons of Aaron, to offer them upon the altar of the Lord.

22 Therefore they killed the bullocks, and the priests took the blood, and poured it upon the altar, they killed also the rams, and their blood they poured also upon the altar, and they killed the lambs, and poured the blood upon the altar.

23 And they brought the he-goats for sin

before the king, and the whole multitude, and they laid their hands upon them:

24 And the priests immolated them, and sprinkled their blood before the altar for an expiation of all Israel: for the king had commanded that the holocaust and the sin-offering should be made for all Israel.

25 And he set the Levites in the house of the Lord with cymbals, and psalteries, and harps according to the regulation of David the king, and of Gad the seer, and of Nathan the prophet: for it was the commandment of the Lord by the hand of his prophets.

26 And the Levites stood, with the instruments of David, and the priests with trumpets.

27 And Ezechias commanded that they should offer holocausts upon the altar: and when the holocausts were offered, they began to sing praises to the Lord, and to sound with trumpets, and divers instruments which David the king of Israel had prepared.

28 And all the multitude adored, and the singers, and the trumpeters, were in their office, till the holocaust was finished.

29 And when the oblation was ended, the king, and all that were with him bowed down, and adored.

30 And Ezechias, and the princes commanded the Levites to praise the Lord with the words of David, and Asaph the seer: and they praised him with great joy, and bowing the knee adored.

31 And Ezechias added, and said: You have filled your hands to the Lord, come and offer victims, and praises in the house of the Lord. And all the multitude offered victims, and praises, and holocausts with a devout mind.

32 And the number of the holocausts which the multitude offered, was seventy bullocks, a hundred rams, and two hundred lambs.

33 And they consecrated to the Lord six hundred oxen, and three thousand sheep.

34 But the priests were few, and were not enough to flay the holocausts: wherefore the Levites their brethren helped them, till the work was ended, and priests were sanctified, for the Levites are sanctified with an easier rite than the priests.

35 So there were many holocausts, and the fat of peace-offerings, and the libations of holocausts: and the service of the house of the Lord was completed.

36 And Ezechias, and all the people rejoiced because the ministry of the Lord was accomplished. For the resolution of doing this thing was taken suddenly.

CHAP. XXX.

Ezechias inviteth all Israel to celebrate the pasch: the solemnity is kept fourteen days.

AND Ezechias sent to all Israel and Juda: and he wrote letters to Ephraim and Manasses, that they should come to the house of the Lord in Jerusalem, and keep the phase to the Lord the God of Israel. A. M. 3278.

2 For the king taking counsel and the princes, and all the assembly of Jerusalem, decreed to keep the phase the second month.

3 For they could not keep it in its time: because there were not priests enough sanctified, and the people was not as yet gathered together to Jerusalem.

4 And the thing pleased the king, and all the people.

5 And they decreed to send messengers to all Israel from Bersabee even to Dan, that they should come, and keep the phase to the Lord the God of Israel in Jerusalem: for many had not kept it as it is prescribed by the law.

6 And the posts went with letters by commandment of the king, and his princes, to all Israel and Juda, proclaiming according to the king's orders: Ye children of Israel, turn again to the Lord the God of Abraham, and of Isaac, and of Israel: and he will return to the remnant of you that have escaped the hand of the king of the Assyrians.

7 Be not like your fathers, and brethren, who departed from the Lord the God of their fathers, and he hath given them up to destruction, as you see.

8 Harden not your necks, as your fathers did: yield yourselves to the Lord, and come to his sanctuary, which he hath sanctified for ever: serve the Lord the God of your fathers, and the wrath of his indignation shall be turned away from you.

9 For if you turn again to the Lord: your brethren, and children shall find mercy before their masters, that have led them away captive, and they shall return into this land: for the Lord your God is merciful, and will not turn away his face from you, if you return to him.

10 So the posts went speedily from city to city, through the land of Ephraim, and of Manasses, even to Zabulon, whilst they laughed at them and mocked them.

11 Nevertheless some men of Aser, and of Manasses, and of Zabulon, yielding to the counsel, came to Jerusalem.

12 But the hand of God was in Juda, to give them one heart to do the word of the Lord, according to the commandment of the king, and of the princes.

13 And much people were assembled to Jerusalem to celebrate the solemnity of the unleavened bread in the second month:

14 And they arose and destroyed the altars that were in Jerusalem, and took away all things in which incense was burnt to idols, and cast them into the torrent Cedron.

15 And they immolated the phase on the fourteenth day of the second month. And the priests and the Levites being at length sanctified offered holocausts in the house of the Lord.

16 And they stood in their order according to the disposition, and law of Moses the man of God: but the priests received the blood which was to be poured out, from the hands of the Levites,

17 Because a great number was not sanctified: and therefore the Levites immolated the phase for them that came not in time to be sanctified to the Lord.

18 For a great part of the people from Ephraim, and Manasses, and Issachar, and Zabulon, that had not been sanctified, eat the phase, otherwise than it is written: and Ezechias prayed for them, saying: The Lord who is good will shew mercy,

19 To all them, who with their whole heart seek the Lord the God of their fathers: and will not impute it to them that they are not sanctified.

20 And the Lord heard him, and was merciful to the people.

21 And the children of Israel, that were found at Jerusalem, kept the feast of unleavened bread seven days with great joy, praising the Lord every day. The Levites also and the priests with instruments, that agreed to their office.

22 And Ezechias spoke to the heart of all the Levites, that had good understanding concerning the Lord: and they eat during the seven days of the solemnity, immolating victims of peace-offerings, and praising the Lord the God of their fathers.

23 And it pleased the whole multitude to keep other seven days: which they did with great joy.

24 For Ezechias the king of Juda had given to the multitude a thousand bullocks, and seven thousand sheep: and the princes had given the people a thousand bullocks, and ten thousand sheep: and a great number of priests was sanctified.

25 And all the multitude of Juda with the priests and Levites, and all the assembly, that came out of Israel; and the proselytes of the land of Israel, and that dwelt in Juda were full of joy.

26 And there was a great solemnity in Jerusalem, such as had not been in that city since the time of Solomon the son of David king of Israel.

27 And the priests and the Levites rose up and blessed the people: and their voice was heard: and their prayer came to the holy dwelling place of heaven.

CHAP. XXXI.

Idolatry is abolished; and provisions made for the ministers.

AND when these things had been duly celebrated, all Israel that were found in the cities of Juda, went out, and they broke the idols, and cut down the groves, demolished the high places, and destroyed the altars, not only out of all Juda and Benjamin, but out of Ephraim also and Manasses, till they had utterly destroyed them: then all the children of Israel returned to their possessions and cities. A. M. 3278.

2 And Ezechias appointed companies of the priests, and the Levites, by their courses, every man in his own office, to wit, both of the priests, and of the Levites, for holocausts, and for peace-offerings, to minister, and to praise, and to sing in the gates of the camp of the Lord.

3 And the king's part was, that of his proper substance the holocaust should be offered always morning and evening, and on the sabbaths, and the new moons and the other solemnities, as it is written in the law of Moses.

4 He commanded also the people that dwelt in Jerusalem, to give to the priests, and the Levites their portion, that they might attend to the law of the Lord.

5 Which when it was noised abroad in the ears of the people, the children of Israel offered in abundance the first-fruits of corn, wine, and oil, and honey: and brought the tithe of all things which the ground bringeth forth.

6 Moreover the children of Israel and Juda, that dwelt in the cities of Juda, brought in the tithes of oxen, and sheep, and the tithes of holy things, which they had vowed to the Lord their God: and carrying them all, made many heaps.

7 In the third month they began to lay the foundations of the heaps, and in the seventh month they finished them.

8 And when Ezechias and his princes came in, they saw the heaps, and they blessed the Lord and the people of Israel.

9 And Ezechias asked the priests and the Levites, why the heaps lay so.

10 Azarias the chief priest of the race of Sadoc answered him, saying: Since the first-fruits began to be offered in the house of the Lord, we have eaten, and have been filled, and abundance is left, because the Lord hath blessed his people: and of that which is left is this great store which thou seest.

11 Then Ezechias commanded to prepare store houses in the house of the Lord. And when they had done so,

12 They brought in faithfully both the first-fruits, and the tithes, and all they had vowed. And the overseer of them was Chonenias the Levite, and Semei his brother was the second,

13 And after him Jehiel, and Azarias, and Nahath, and Asael, and Jerimoth, and Jozabad, and Eliel, and Jesmachias, and Mahath, and Banaias, overseers under the hand of Chonenias, and Semei his brother, by the commandment of Ezechias the king, and Azarias the high priest of the house of God, to whom all things appertained.

14 But Core the son of Jemna the Levite, the porter of the east-gate, was overseer of the things which were freely offered to the Lord, and of the first-fruits and the things dedicated for the holies of holies.

15 And under his charge were Eden, and Benjamin, Jesue, and Semeias, and Amarias, and Sechenias, in the cities of the priests, to distribute faithfully portions to their brethren, both little and great:

16 Besides the males from three years old and upward, to all that went into the temple of the Lord, and whatsoever there was need of in the ministry, and their offices according to their courses, day by day.

17 To the priests by their families, and to the Levites from the twentieth year and upward, by their classes and companies.

18 And to all the multitude, both to their wives, and to their children of both sexes, victuals were given faithfully out of the things that had been sanctified.

19 Also of the sons of Aaron who were in the fields and in the suburbs of each city, there were men appointed, to distribute portions to all the males, among the priests and the Levites.

20 So Ezechias did all things which we have said in all Juda: and wrought that which was good and right and truth before the Lord his God.

21 In all the service of the ministry of the house of the Lord according to the law and the ceremonies, desiring to seek his God with all his heart, and he did it and prospered.

CHAP. XXXII.

Sennacherib invadeth Juda: his army is destroyed by an Angel. Ezechias recovereth from his sickness: his other acts.

AFTER these things, and this truth, Sennacherib king of the Assyrians came and entered into Juda, and besieged the fenced cities, desiring to take them. A. M. 3291. Ante C. 713. 4 Kings 18. 13. Eccli. 48. 20. Isai. 36. 1.

2 And when Ezechias saw that Sennacherib was come, and that the whole force of the war was turning against Jerusalem,

3 He took counsel with the princes, and the most valiant men, to stop up the heads of the springs, that were without the city: and as they were all of this mind,

4 He gathered together a very great multitude, and they stopped up all the springs, and the brook, that ran through the midst of the land, saying: Lest the kings of the Assyrians should come, and find abundance of water.

5 He built up also with great diligence all the wall that had been broken down, and built towers upon it, and another wall without: and he repaired Mello in the city of David, and made all sort of arms and shields:

6 And he appointed captains of the soldiers of the army: and he called them all together in the street of the gate of the city, and spoke to their heart, saying:

7 Behave like men, and take courage: be not afraid nor dismayed for the king of the Assyrians, nor for all the multitude that is with him: for there are many more with us than with him.

8 For with him is an arm of flesh: with us the Lord our God, who is our helper, and fighteth for us. And the people were encouraged with these words of Ezechias king of Juda.

9 After this, Sennacherib king of the Assyrians sent his servants to Jerusalem (for he with all his army was besieging Lachis), to Ezechias king of Juda, and to all the people that were in the city, saying:

10 Thus saith Sennacherib king of the Assyrians: In whom do you trust, that you sit still besieged in Jerusalem.

11 Doth not Ezechias deceive you, to give you up to die by hunger and thirst, affirming that the Lord your God shall deliver you from the hand of the king of the Assyrians?

12 Is it not this same Ezechias, that hath destroyed his high places, and his altars, and commanded Juda and Jerusalem, saying: You shall worship before one altar, and upon it you shall burn incense?

13 Know you not what I and my fathers have done to all the people of the lands? have the gods of any nations and lands been able to deliver their country out of my hand?

14 Who is there among all the gods of the nations, which my fathers have deſtroyed, that could deliver his people out of my hand, that your God ſhould be able to deliver you out of this hand?

15 Therefore let not Ezechias deceive you, nor delude you with a vain perſuaſion, and do not believe him. For if no god of all the nations and kingdoms, could deliver his people out of my hand, and out of the hand of my fathers, conſequently neither ſhall your God be able to deliver you out of my hand.

16 And many other things did his ſervants ſpeak againſt the Lord God, and againſt Ezechias his ſervant.

17 He wrote alſo letters full of blaſphemy againſt the Lord the God of Iſrael, and he ſpoke againſt him: As the gods of other nations could not deliver their people out of my hand, ſo neither can the God of Ezechias deliver his people out of this hand.

18 Moreover he cried out with a loud voice, in the Jews tongue, to the people that ſat on the walls of Jeruſalem, that he might frighten them, and take the city.

19 And he ſpoke againſt the God of Jeruſalem, as againſt the gods of the people of the earth, the works of the hands of men.

20 And Ezechias the king, and Iſaias the prophet the ſon of Amos, prayed againſt this blaſphemy, and cried out to heaven.

‖ Tobias 1. 21. 21 ‖ And the Lord ſent an Angel, who cut off all the ſtout men and the warriors, and the captains of the army of the king of the Aſſyrians: and he returned with diſgrace into his own country. And when he was come into the houſe of his god, his ſons that came out of his bowels, ſlew him with the ſword.

22 And the Lord ſaved Ezechias and the inhabitants of Jeruſalem, out of the hand of Sennacherib king of the Aſſyrians, and out of the hand of all, and gave them treaſures on every ſide.

23 Many alſo brought victims, and ſacrifices to the Lord to Jeruſalem, and preſents to Ezechias king of Juda: and he was magnified thenceforth in the ſight of all nations.

‖ 4 Kings 21. 1. Iſai. 38. 1. A. M. 3291. Ante C. 713. 24 ‖ In thoſe days Ezechias was ſick even to death, and he prayed to the Lord: and he heard him, and gave him a ſign.

25 But he did not render again according to the benefits which he had received, for his heart was lifted up: and wrath was enkindled againſt him, and againſt Juda and Jeruſalem.

26 And he humbled himſelf afterwards, becauſe his heart had been lifted up, both he and the inhabitants of Jeruſalem: and therefore the wrath of the Lord came not upon them in the days of Ezechias.

27 And Ezechias was rich, and very glorious, and he gathered himſelf great treaſures of ſilver and of gold, and of precious ſtones, of ſpices, and of arms of all kinds, and of veſſels of great price.

28 Storehouſes alſo of corn, of wine, and of oil, and ſtalls for all beaſts, and folds for cattle.

29 And he built himſelf cities: for he had flocks of ſheep, and herds without number, for the Lord had given him very much ſubſtance.

30 This ſame Ezechias was he that ſtopped the upper ſource of the waters of Gihon, and turned them away underneath toward the weſt of the city of David: in all his works he did proſperouſly what he would.

31 But yet in the embaſſy of the princes of Babylon, that were ſent to him, to enquire of the wonder that had happened upon the earth, God left him that he might be tempted, and all things might be made known that were in his heart.

32 Now the reſt of the acts of Ezechias, and of his mercies are written in the Book of the kings of Juda and Iſrael.

33 And Ezechias ſlept with his fathers,* and they buried him above the ſepulchres of the ſons of David: and all Juda, and all the inhabitants of Jeruſalem celebrated his funeral: and Manaſſes his ſon reigned in his ſtead. * A. M. 3306. Ante C. 698.

CHAP. XXXIII.

Manaſſes for his manifold wickedneſs is led captive to Babylon: he repenteth, and is reſtored to his kingdom, and deſtroyeth idolatry: his ſucceſſor Amon is ſlain by his ſervants.

MANASSES was twelve years old when he began to reign, and he reigned fifty five years in Jeruſalem. A. M. 3306. 4 Kings 22. 1.

2 And he did evil before the Lord, according to all the abominations of the nations, which the Lord caſt out before the children of Iſrael:

3 And he turned, and built again the high places which Ezechias his father had deſtroy-

ed: and he built altars to Baalim, and made groves, and he adored all the hoſt of heaven, and worſhipped them.

4 He built alſo altars in the houſe of the 2 Kings 21. 7. Lord, whereof the Lord had ſaid: ‖ In Jeruſalem ſhall my name be for ever.

5 And he built them for all the hoſt of heaven in the two courts of the houſe of the Lord.

6 And he made his ſons to paſs through the fire, in the valley of Benennom: he obſerved dreams, followed divinations, gave himſelf up to magic arts, had with him magicians, and inchanters: and he wrought many evils before the Lord, to provoke him to anger.

‖ 3 Kings 8. 17. 7 ‖ He ſet alſo a graven, and a molten ſtatue in the houſe of God, of which God had ſaid to David, and to Solomon his ſon: In this houſe, and in Jeruſalem, which I have choſen out of all the tribes of Iſrael, will I put my name for ever.

8 And I will not make the foot of Iſrael to be removed out of the land which I have delivered to their fathers: yet ſo if they will take heed to do what I have commanded them, and all the law, and the ceremonies, and judgments by the hand of Moſes.

9 So Manaſſes ſeduced Juda, and the inhabitants of Jeruſalem, to do evil beyond all the nations, which the Lord had deſtroyed before the face of the children of Iſrael.

10 And the Lord ſpoke to him, and to his people, and they would not hearken.

11 Therefore he brought upon them the captains of the army of the king of the Aſſyrians: and they took Manaſſes, and carried him bound with chains, and fetters to Babylon.

12 And after that he was in diſtreſs, he prayed to the Lord his God: and did penance exceedingly before the God of his fathers.

13 And he entreated him, and beſought him earneſtly: and he heard his prayer, and brought him again to Jeruſalem into his kingdom, and Manaſſes knew that the Lord was God.

14 After this he built a wall without the city of David, on the weſt ſide of Gihon in the valley, from the entering in of the fiſh gate round about to Ophel, and raiſed it up to a great height: and he appointed captains of the army in all the fenced cities of Juda:

15 And he took away the ſtrange gods, and the idol out of the houſe of the Lord: the altars alſo which he had made in the mount of the houſe of the Lord, and in Jeruſalem, and he caſt them all out of the city.

16 And he repaired the altar of the Lord, and ſacrificed upon it victims, and peace-offerings, and praiſe: and he commanded Juda to ſerve the Lord the God of Iſrael.

17 Nevertheleſs the people ſtill ſacrificed in the high places to the Lord their God.

18 But the reſt of the acts of Manaſſes: and his prayer to his God: and the words of the ſeers that ſpoke to him in the name of the Lord the God of Iſrael, are contained in the words of the kings of Iſrael.

19 His prayer alſo, and his being heard, and all his ſins, and contempt, and places wherein he built high places, and ſet up groves, and ſtatues before he did penance, are written in the words of Hozai.

20 And Manaſſes ſlept * with his fathers, and they buried him in his houſe: and his ſon Amon reigned in his ſtead. * A. M. 3361. Ante C. 643.

21 Amon was two and twenty years old when he began to reign, and he reigned two years in Jeruſalem.

22 And he did evil in the ſight of the Lord, as Manaſſes his father had done: and he ſacrificed to all the idols which Manaſſes his father had made, and ſerved them.

23 And he did not humble himſelf before the Lord, as Manaſſes his father had humbled himſelf, but committed far greater ſins.

24 And his ſervants conſpired againſt him, and ſlew him in his own houſe.

25 But the reſt of the multitude of the people ſlew them that had killed Amon, and made Joſias his ſon king in his ſtead.

CHAP. XXXIV.

Joſias deſtroyeth idolatry, repaireth the temple, and reneweth the covenant between God and the people.

JOSIAS was eight years old when he began to reign, * and he reigned one and thirty years in Jeruſalem. 4 Kings 22. 1. * A. M. 3365. Ante C. 641.

2 And he did that which was right in the ſight of the Lord, and walked in the ways of David his father: he declined not neither to the right hand, nor to the left.

3 And in the eighth year of his reign, when he was yet a boy, he began to ſeek the God of his father David: and in the twelfth year after he began to reign, he cleanſed Juda and Jeruſalem from the high places, and the groves, and the idols, and the graven things.

CHAP. XXXIII. VER. 3. The hoſt of heaven. The ſun, moon, and ſtars.

4 And they broke down before him the altars of Baalim, and demoliſhed the idols that had been ſet upon them: and he cut down the groves and the graven things, and broke them in pieces: and ſtrewed the fragments upon the graves of them that had ſacrificed to them.

5 And he burnt the bones of the prieſts on the altars of the idols, and he cleanſed Juda and Jeruſalem.

6 And in the cities of Manaſſes, and of Ephraim, and of Simeon, even to Nephthali he demoliſhed all.

7 And when he had deſtroyed the altars, and the groves, and had broken the idols in pieces, and had demoliſhed all profane temples throughout all the land of Iſrael, he returned to Jeruſalem.

* A. M. 3380. Ante C. 624. 8 Now in the eighteenth year * of his reign, when he had cleanſed the land, and the temple of the Lord, he ſent Saphan the ſon of Eſelias, and Maaſias the governor of the city, Joha the ſon of Joachaz the recorder, to repair the houſe of the Lord his God.

9 And they came to Helcias the high prieſt: and received of him the money which had been brought into the houſe of the Lord, and which the Levites and porters had gathered together from Manaſſes, and Ephraim, and all the remnant of Iſrael, and from all Juda, and Benjamin, and the inhabitants of Jeruſalem,

10 Which they delivered into the hands of them that were over the workmen in the houſe of the Lord, to repair the temple, and mend all that was weak.

11 But they gave it to the artificers, and to the maſons, to buy ſtones out of the quarries, and timber for the couplings of the building, and to rafter the houſes, which the kings of Juda had deſtroyed.

12 And they did all faithfully. Now the overſeers of the workmen were Jahath and Abdias of the ſons of Merari, Zacharias and Moſollam of the ſons of Caath, who haſtened the work: all Levites ſkilful to play on inſtruments.

13 But over them that carried burdens for divers uſes, were ſcribes, and maſters of the number of the Levites, and porters.

14 Now when they carried out the money that had been brought into the temple of the Lord, Helcias the prieſt found the book of the law of the Lord, by the hand of Moſes.

15 And he ſaid to Saphan the ſcribe: I have found the book of the law in the houſe of the Lord: and he delivered it to him.

16 But he carried the book to the king, and told him, ſaying: Lo, all that thou haſt committed to thy ſervants, is accompliſhed.

17 They have gathered together the ſilver that was found in the houſe of the Lord: and it is given to the overſeers of the artificers, and of the workmen, for divers works.

18 Moreover Helcias the prieſt gave me this book. And he read it before the king,

19 And when he had heard the words of the law, he rent his garments:

20 And he commanded Helcias, and Ahicam the ſon of Saphan, and Abdon the ſon of Micha, and Saphan the ſcribe, and Aſaa the king's ſervant, ſaying:

21 Go, and pray to the Lord for me, and for the remnant of Iſrael, and Juda, concerning all the words of this book which is found: for the great wrath of the Lord hath fallen upon us, becauſe our fathers have not kept the words of the Lord, to do all things that are written in this book.

22 And Helcias and they that were ſent with him by the king, went to Olda the propheteſs, the wife of Sellum the ſon of Thecuath, the ſon of Haſra keeper of the wardrobe: who dwelt in Jeruſalem in the Second part: and they ſpoke to her the words abovementioned.

23 And ſhe anſwered them: Thus ſaith the Lord the God of Iſrael: Tell the man that ſent you to me:

24 Thus ſaith the Lord: Behold I will bring evils upon this place, and upon the inhabitants thereof, and all the curſes that are written in this book which they read before the king of Juda.

25 Becauſe they have forſaken me, and have ſacrificed to ſtrange gods, to provoke me to wrath with all the works of their hands, therefore my wrath ſhall fall upon this place, and ſhall not be quenched.

26 But as to the king of Juda that ſent you to beſeech the Lord, thus ſhall you ſay to him: Thus ſaith the Lord the God of Iſrael: Becauſe thou haſt heard the words of this book,

27 And thy heart was ſoftened, and thou haſt humbled thyſelf in the ſight of God for the things that are ſpoken againſt this place, and the inhabitants of Jeruſalem, and reverencing my face, haſt rent thy garments, and wept before me: I alſo have heard thee, ſaith the Lord.

28 For now I will gather thee to thy fathers, and thou ſhalt be brought to thy tomb in peace: and thy eyes ſhall not ſee all the evil that I will bring upon this place, and the inhabitants thereof. ‖ They therefore reported to the king all that she had said.

‖ 4 Kings 23. 1.

29 And he called together all the ancients of Juda and Jerusalem,

30 And went up to the house of the Lord, and all the men of Juda, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem, the priests and the Levites, and all the people from the least to the greatest. And the king read in their hearing in the house of the Lord, all the words of the book.

31 And standing up in his tribunal, he made a covenant before the Lord to walk after him, and keep his commandments, and testimonies, and justifications with all his heart, and with all his soul, and to do the things that were written in that book which he had read.

32 And he adjured all that were found in Jerusalem, and Benjamin to do the same: and the inhabitants of Jerusalem did according to the covenant of the Lord the God of their fathers.

33 And Josias took away all the abominations out of all the countries of the children of Israel: and made all that were left in Israel, to serve the Lord their God. As long as he lived they departed not from the Lord the God of their fathers.

CHAP. XXXV.

Josias celebrateth a most solemn pasch. He is slain by the king of Egypt.

A. M. 3381. 4 Kings 23. 21.

AND Josias kept a phase to the Lord in Jerusalem, and it was sacrificed on the fourteenth day of the first month.

2 And he set the priests in their offices, and exhorted them to minister in the house of the Lord.

3 And he spoke to the Levites, by whose instruction all Israel was sanctified to the Lord, saying: Put the ark in the sanctuary of the temple, which Solomon the son of David king of Israel built: for you shall carry it no more: but minister now to the Lord your God, and to his people Israel.

4 And prepare yourselves by your houses, and families according to your courses, as David king of Israel commanded, and Solomon his son hath written.

5 And serve ye in the sanctuary by the families and companies of Levi,

6 And being sanctified kill the phase, and prepare your brethren, that they may do according to the words which the Lord spoke by the hand of Moses.

7 And Josias gave to all the people that were found there in the solemnity of the phase, of lambs and of kids of the flocks, and of other small cattle thirty thousand, and of oxen three thousand, all these were of the king's substance.

8 And his princes willingly offered what they had vowed, both to the people, and to the priests and the Levites. Moreover Helcias, and Zacharias, and Jahiel rulers of the house of the Lord, gave to the priests to keep the phase, two thousand six hundred small cattle, and three hundred oxen.

9 And Chonenias, and Semeias and Nathanael, his brethren, and Hasabias, and Jehiel, and Jozabad princes of the Levites, gave to the rest of the Levites to celebrate the phase five thousand small cattle, and five hundred oxen.

10 And the ministry was prepared, and the priests stood in their office: the Levites also in their companies, according to the king's commandment.

11 And the phase was immolated: and the priests sprinkled the blood with their hand, and the Levites flayed the holocausts:

12 And they separated them to give them by the houses and families of every one, and to be offered to the Lord, as it is written in the book of Moses, and with the oxen they did in like manner.

13 And they roasted the phase with fire, according to that which is written in the law: but the victims of peace-offerings they boiled in cauldrons, and kettles, and pots, and they distributed them speedily among all the people.

14 And afterwards they made ready for themselves, and for the priests: for the priests were busied in offering of holocausts and the fat until night: wherefore the Levites prepared for themselves, and for the priests the sons of Aaron last.

15 And the singers the sons of Asaph stood in their order, according to the commandment of David, and Asaph, and Heman, and Idithun the prophets of the king: and the porters kept guard at every gate, so as not to depart one moment from their service: and therefore their brethren the Levites prepared meats for them.

16 So all the service of the Lord was duly accomplished that day, both in keeping the phase, and offering holocausts upon the altar of the Lord, according to the commandment of king Josias.

17 And the children of Israel that were found there, kept the phase at that time, and the feast of unleavened bread seven days.

18 There was no phase like to this in Israel, from the days of Samuel the prophet: neither did any of all the kings of Israel keep such a phase as Josias kept, with the priests, and the Levites, and all Juda, and Israel that were found, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

19 In the eighteenth year of the reign of Josias was this phase celebrated.

‖ 4 Kings 23. 29. A. M. 3394. Ante C. 610.

20 ‖ After that Josias had repaired the temple, Nechao king of Egypt came up to fight in Charcamis by the Euphrates: and Josias went out to meet him.

21 But he sent messengers to him, saying: What have I to do with thee, O king of Juda? I come not against thee this day, but I fight against another house, to which God hath commanded me to go in haste: forbear to do against God, who is with me, lest he kill thee.

22 Josias would not return, but prepared to fight against him, and hearkened not to the words of Nechao from the mouth of God, ‖ but went to fight in the field of Mageddo.

‖ Zach. 12. 11.

23 And there he was wounded by the archers, and he said to his servants: Carry me out of the battle, for I am grievously wounded.

24 And they removed him from the chariot into another, that followed him after the manner of kings, and they carried him away to Jerusalem, and he died, and was buried in the monument of his fathers, and all Juda and Jerusalem mourned for him.

25 Particularly Jeremias: whose lamentations for Josias all the singing men and singing women repeat unto this day, and it became like a law in Israel: Behold it is found written in the Lamentations.

26 Now the rest of the acts of Josias and of his mercies, according to what was commanded by the law of the Lord:

27 And his works first and last, are written in the Book of the kings of Juda and Israel.

The reigns of Joachaz, Joakim, Joachin and Sedecias: the captivity of Babylon released at length by Cyrus.

A. M. 3394. Ante C. 610. ‖ 4 Kings 23. 30.

THEN the people of the land took Joachaz the son of Josias, and made him king instead of his father in Jerusalem.

2 Joachaz was three and twenty years old, when he began to reign, and he reigned three months in Jerusalem.

3 And the king of Egypt came to Jerusalem, and deposed him, and condemned the land in a hundred talents of silver, and a talent of gold.

4 And he made ‖ Eliakim his brother king in his stead, over Juda and Jerusalem: and he turned his name to Joakim: but he took Joachaz with him, and carried him away into Egypt.

‖ Mat. 1. 11.

5 Joakim was five and twenty years old when he began to reign, and he reigned eleven years in Jerusalem: and he did evil before the Lord his God.

6 Against him came up Nabuchodonosor king of the Chaldeans, and led him bound in chains into Babylon.

7 And he carried also thither the vessels of the Lord, and put them in his temple.

8 But the rest of the acts of Joakim, and his abominations, which he wrought, and the things that were found in him, are contained in the Book of the kings of Juda and Israel. And Joachin his son reigned in his stead.

9 Joachin was eight years old when he began to reign, and he reigned three months and ten days in Jerusalem, and he did evil in the sight of the Lord.

10 And at the return of the year, king Nabuchodonosor sent, and brought him to Babylon, carrying away at the same time the most precious vessels of the house of the Lord: ‖ and he made Sedecias his uncle king over Juda and Jerusalem.

‖ 4 Kings 24. 1. Jer. 37. 1.

11 Sedecias was one and twenty years old when he began to reign: and he reigned eleven years in Jerusalem.

12 And he did evil in the eyes of the Lord his God, and did not reverence the face of Jeremias the prophet speaking to him from the mouth of the Lord.

13 He also revolted from king Nabuchodonosor, * who had made him swear by God: and he hardened his neck and his heart, from returning to the Lord the God of Israel.

* A. M. 3405. Ante C. 599.

14 Moreover all the chief of the priests, and the people wickedly transgressed according to all the abominations of the Gentiles: and they defiled the house of the Lord, which he had sanctified to himself in Jerusalem.

15 And the Lord the God of their fathers sent to them, by the hand of his messengers, rising early, and daily admonishing them: because he spared his people and his dwelling place.

16 But they mocked the messengers of God, and despised his words, and misused the prophets, until the wrath of the Lord

17 For he brought upon them the king of the Chaldeans, and he slew their young men with the sword in the house of his sanctuary, he had no compassion on young man, or maiden, old man, or even him that stooped for age, but he delivered them all into his hands.

18 And all the vessels of the house of the Lord, great and small, and the treasures of the temple, and of the king, and of the princes he carried away to Babylon.

19 And the enemies set fire to the house of God, and broke down the wall of Jerusalem, burnt all the towers, and whatsoever was precious they destroyed.

Cyrus king of Persia releaseth God's people from their captivity, with license to return and build the temple in Jerusalem: and restoreth the holy vessels which Nabuchodonosor had taken from thence.

* A. M. 3468. Ante C. 536. 2 Par. 36. 22. Jerem. 25. 12. & 29. 10. Isai. 46. 28. & 45. 13.

IN the first year * of Cyrus king of the Persians, that the word of the Lord by the mouth of Jeremias might be fulfilled, the Lord stirred up the spirit of Cyrus king of the Persians: and he made a proclamation throughout all his kingdom, and in writing also, saying:

2 Thus saith Cyrus king of the Persians: The Lord the God of heaven hath given to me all the kingdoms of the earth, and he hath charged me to build him a house in Jerusalem, which is in Judea.

3 Who is there among you of all his people? His God be with him. Let him go up to Jerusalem, which is in Judea, and build the house of the Lord the God of Israel, he is the God that is in Jerusalem.

4 And let all the rest in all places wheresoever they dwell, help him every man from his place, with silver and gold, and goods, and cattle, besides that which they offer freely to the temple of God, which is in Jerusalem.

5 Then roſe up the chief of the fathers of Juda and Benjamin, and the prieſts, and Levites, and every one whoſe ſpirit God hath raiſed up, to go up to build the temple of the Lord, which was in Jeruſalem.

6 And all they that were round about, helped their hands with veſſels of ſilver, and gold, with goods, and with beaſts, and with furniture, beſides what they had offered on their own accord.

7 And king Cyrus brought forth the veſſels of the temple of the Lord, which Nabuchodonoſor had taken from Jeruſalem, and had put them in the temple of his god.

8 Now Cyrus king of Perſia brought them forth by the hand of Mithridates the ſon of Gazabar, and numbered them to * Saſſabaſar the prince of Juda.

* Alias Zorobabel.

9 And this is the number of them: thirty bowls of gold, a thouſand bowls of ſilver, nine and twenty knives, thirty cups of gold,

10 Silver cups of a ſecond ſort, four hundred and ten: other veſſels a thouſand.

11 All the veſſels of gold and ſilver, five thouſand four hundred: all theſe Saſſabaſar brought with them that came up from the captivity of Babylon to Jeruſalem.

6 From the firſt day of the ſeventh month they began to offer holocauſts to the Lord: but the temple of God was not yet founded.

7 And they gave money to hewers of ſtones and to maſons: and meat and drink, and oil to the Sidonians and Tyrians, to bring cedar-trees from Libanus to the ſea of Joppe, according to the orders which Cyrus king of the Perſians had given them.

A. M. 3469. 8 And in the ſecond year of their coming to the temple of God in Jeruſalem, the ſecond month, Zorobabel the ſon of Salathiel, and Joſue the ſon of Joſedec, and the reſt of their brethren the prieſts, and the Levites, and all that were come from the captivity to Jeruſalem began, and they appointed Levites from twenty years old and upward, to haſten forward the work of the Lord.

The Samaritans by their letter to the king hinder the building.

NOW the enemies of Juda and Benjamin heard that the children of the captivity were building a temple to the Lord the God of Iſrael. A. M. 3469.

2 And they came to Zorobabel, and the chief of the fathers, and ſaid to them: Let us build with you, for we ſeek your God as ye do: behold we have ſacrificed to him, ſince the days of Aſor Haddan king of Aſſyria, who brought us hither.

3 But Zorobabel, and Joſue, and the reſt of the chief of the fathers of Iſrael ſaid to them: You have nothing to do with us to build a houſe to our God, but we ourſelves alone will build to the Lord our God, as Cyrus king of the Perſians hath commanded us.

4 Then the people of the land hindered the hands of the people of Juda, and troubled them in building.

5 And they hired counſellors againſt them, to fruſtrate their deſign all the days of Cyrus king of Perſia, even until the reign of Darius king of the Perſians.

6 And in the reign of Aſſuerus, in the beginning of his reign, they wrote an accuſation againſt the inhabitants of Juda and Jeruſalem.

7 And in the days of Artaxerxes, Beſelam, Mithridates, and Thabeel, and the reſt that were in the council wrote to Artaxerxes king of the Perſians: and the letter of accuſation was written in Syriac, and was read in the Syrian tongue.

8 Reum Beelteem, and Samſai the ſcribe wrote a letter from Jeruſalem to king Artaxerxes, in this manner:

9 Reum Beelteem, and Samſai the ſcribe, and the reſt of their counſellors, the Dinites, and the Apharſathacites, the Therphalites, the Apharſites, the Erchuites, the Babylonians, the Suſanechites, the Dievites, and the Elamites,

10 And the reſt of the nations, whom the great and glorious Aſenaphar brought over: and made to dwell in the cities of Samaria and in the reſt of the countries on this ſide of the river in peace.

13 And now be it known to the king, that if this city be built up, and the walls thereof repaired, they will not pay tribute nor toll, or yearly revenues, and this loſs will fall upon the kings.

14 But we remembering the ſalt that we have eaten in the palace, and becauſe we count it a crime to ſee the king wronged, have therefore ſent and certified the king,

15 That ſearch may be made in the books of the hiſtories of thy fathers, and thou ſhalt find written in the records: and ſhalt know that this city is a rebellious city, and hurtful to the kings and provinces, and that wars were raiſed therein of old time: for which cauſe alſo the city was deſtroyed.

16 We certify the king, that if this city be built, and the walls thereof repaired, thou ſhalt have no poſſeſſion on this ſide of the river.

17 The king ſent word to Reum Beelteem, and Samſai the ſcribe, and to the reſt that were in their council inhabitants of Samaria, and to the reſt beyond the river, ſending greeting and peace.

18 The accuſation, which you have ſent to us, hath been plainly read before me, 19 And I commanded: and ſearch hath been made, and it is found, that this city of old time hath rebelled againſt kings, and ſeditions and wars have been raiſed therein.

20 For there have been powerful kings in Jeruſalem, who have had dominion over all the country that is beyond the river: and have received tribute, and toll, and revenues.

21 Now therefore hear the ſentence: Hinder thoſe men, that this city be not built, till further orders be given by me.

22 See that you be not negligent in executing this, leſt by little and little the evil grow to the hurt of the kings.

23 Now the copy of the edict of king Artaxerxes was read before Reum Beelteem, and Samſai the ſcribe, and their counſellors: and they went up in haſte to Jeruſalem to the Jews, and hindered them with arm and power.

24 Then the work of the houſe of the Lord in Jeruſalem was interrupted, and ceaſed till the ſecond year of the reign of Darius king of the Perſians.

CHAP. V.

By the exhortation of Aggeus, and Zacharias, the people proceed in building the temple. Which their enemies ſtrive in vain to hinder.

NOW Aggeus the prophet, and Zacharias the ſon of Addo, propheſied to the Jews, that were in Judea and Jeruſalem, in the name of the God of Iſrael. A. M. 3485.

2 Then roſe up Zorobabel the ſon of Salathiel, and Joſue the ſon of Joſedec, and began to build the temple of God in Jeruſalem, and with them were the prophets of God helping them.

3 And at the ſame time came to them Thathanai, who was governor beyond the river, and Stharbuzanai, and their counſellors: and ſaid thus to them: Who hath given you counſel to build this houſe, and to repair the walls thereof?

4 In anſwer to which we gave them the names of the men who were the promoters of that building.

5 But the eye of their God was upon the ancients of the Jews, and they could not hinder them. And it was agreed that the matter ſhould be referred to Darius, and then they ſhould give ſatisfaction concerning that accuſation.

6 The copy of the letter that Thathanai governor of the country beyond the river, and Stharbuzanai, and his counſellors the Arphaſachites, who dwelt beyond the river, ſent to Darius the king.

7 The letter which they ſent him, was written thus: To Darius the king all peace.

8 Be it known to the king, that we went to the province of Judea, to the houſe of the great God, which they are building with unpoliſhed ſtones and timber is laid in the walls: and this work is carried on diligently, and advanceth in their hands.

9 And we aſked thoſe ancients, and ſaid to them thus: Who hath given you authority to build this houſe, and to repair theſe walls?

10 We aſked alſo of them their names, that we might give thee notice: and we have written the names of the men that are the chief among them.

11 And they anſwered us in theſe words, ſaying: We are the ſervants of the God of heaven and earth, and we are building a temple that was built theſe many years ago, and which a great king of Iſrael built and ſet up.

12 But after that our fathers had provoked the God of heaven to wrath, he delivered them into the hands of Nabuchodonoſor the king of Babylon the Chaldean: and he deſtroyed this houſe, and carried away the people to Babylon.

13 But in the firſt year of Cyrus the king of Babylon, king Cyrus ſet forth a decree, that this houſe of God ſhould be built.

14 And the veſſels alſo of gold and ſilver of the temple of God, which Nabuchodonoſor had taken out of the temple, that was in Jeruſalem, and had brought them to the temple of Babylon, king Cyrus brought out of the temple of Babylon, and they were delivered to one Saſſabaſar, whom alſo he appointed governor,

15 And ſaid to him: Take theſe veſſels, and go, and put them in the temple that is in Jeruſalem, and let the houſe of God be built in its place.

16 Then came this ſame Saſſabaſar, and laid the foundations of the temple of God in Jeruſalem, and from that time until now it is in building, and is not yet finiſhed.

17 Now therefore if it ſeem good to the king, let him ſearch in the king's library, which is in Babylon, whether it hath been decreed by Cyrus the king, that the houſe of God in Jeruſalem ſhould be built, and let the king ſend his pleaſure to us concerning this matter.

CHAP. VI.

King Darius favoureth the building and contributeth to it.

A. M. 3485. Ante C. 519. THEN king Darius gave orders, and they ſearched in the library of the books that were laid up in Babylon,

2 And there was found in Ecbatana, which is a caſtle in the province of Media, a book in which this record was written.

3 In the firſt year of Cyrus the king: Cyrus the king decreed, that the houſe of God ſhould be built, which is in Jeruſalem, in the place where they may offer ſacrifices, and that they lay the foundations that may ſupport the height of threeſcore cubits, and the breadth of threeſcore cubits,

4 Three rows of unpoliſhed ſtones, and ſo rows of new timber: and the charges ſhall be given out of the king's houſe.

5 And alſo let the golden and ſilver veſſels of the temple of God, which Nabuchodonoſor took out of the temple of Jeruſalem, and brought to Babylon, be reſtored, and carried back to the temple of Jeruſalem to their place, which alſo were placed in the temple of God.

6 Now therefore Thathanai governor of the country, beyond the river, Stharbuzanai, and your counſellors the Apharſachites, who are beyond the river, depart far from them,

7 And let that temple of God be built by the governor of the Jews, and by their ancients, that they may build that houſe of God in its place.

8 I alſo have commanded what muſt be done by thoſe ancients of the Jews, that the houſe of God may be built, to wit, that of the king's cheſt, that is, of the tribute that is paid out of the country beyond the river, the charges be diligently given to thoſe men, leſt the work be hindered.

9 And if it ſhall be neceſſary, let calves alſo, and lambs, and kids, for holocauſts to the God of heaven, wheat, ſalt, wine, and oil, according to the cuſtom of the prieſts that are in Jeruſalem, be given them day by day, that there be no complaint in any thing.

10 And let them offer oblations to the God of heaven, and pray for the life of the king, and of his children.

11 And I have made a decree: That if any whoſoever, ſhall alter this commandment, a beam be taken from his houſe, and ſet up, and he be nailed upon it, and his houſe be confiſcated.

12 And may the God, that hath cauſed his name to dwell there, deſtroy all kingdoms, and the people that ſhall put out their hand to reſiſt, and to deſtroy the houſe of God, that is in Jeruſalem. I Darius have made the decree, which I will have diligently complied with.

13 So then Thathanai governor of the country beyond the river, and Stharbuzanai, and his counſellors diligently executed what Darius the king had commanded.

14 And the ancients of the Jews built, and proſpered according to the prophecy of Aggeus the prophet, and of Zacharias the ſon of Addo: and they built and finiſhed, by the commandment of the God of Iſrael, and by the commandment of Cyrus, and Darius, and Artaxerxes kings of the Perſians.

15 And they were finiſhing this houſe of God, until the third day of the month of Adar, which was in the ſixth year of the reign of king Darius.

16 And the children of Iſrael, the prieſts and the Levites, and the reſt of the children of the captivity kept the dedication of the houſe of God with joy.

17 And they offered at the dedication of the houſe of God, a hundred calves, two hundred rams, four hundred lambs, and for a ſin-offering for all Iſrael twelve he-goats, according to the number of the tribes of Iſrael.

18 And they ſet the prieſts in their diviſions, and the Levites in their courſes over

19 And the children of Iſrael of the cap-

20 For all the prieſts and the Levites were purified as one man: all were clean to kill the phaſe for all the children of the captivity, and for their brethren the prieſts, and themſelves.

21 And the children of Iſrael that were returned from captivity, and all that had ſeparated themſelves from the filthineſs of the nations of the earth to them, to ſeek the Lord the God of Iſrael did eat.

22 And they kept the feaſt of unleavened bread ſeven days with joy, for the Lord had made them joyful, and had turned the heart of the king of Aſſyria to them, that he ſhould help their hands in the work of the houſe of the Lord the God of Iſrael.

CHAP. VII.

Eſdras goeth up to Jeruſalem to teach, and aſſiſt the people, with a gracious decree of Artaxerxes.

A. M. 3531. NOW after theſe things in the reign of Artaxerxes king of the Perſians, Eſdras the ſon of Saraias, the ſon of Azarias, the ſon of Helcias,

2 The ſon of Sellum, the ſon of Sadoc, the ſon of Achitob,

3 The ſon of Amarias, the ſon of Azarias, the ſon of Maraioth,

4 The ſon of Zarahias, the ſon of Ozi, the ſon of Bocci,

5 The ſon of Abiſue, the ſon of Phinees, the ſon of Eleazar the ſon of Aaron the prieſt from the beginning.

6 This Eſdras went up from Babylon, and he was a ready ſcribe in the law of Moſes, which the Lord God had given to Iſrael: and the king granted him all his requeſt, according to the hand of the Lord his God upon him.

7 And there went up ſome of the children of Iſrael, and of the children of the prieſts, and of the children of the Levites, and of the ſinging men, and of the porters, and of the Nathinites to Jeruſalem in the ſeventh
* A. M. 3537. year * of Artaxerxes the king.

8 And they came to Jeruſalem in the fifth month, in the ſeventh year of the king.

9 For upon the firſt day of the firſt month he began to go up from Babylon, and on the firſt day of the fifth month he came to Jeruſalem according to the good hand of his God upon him.
